shall disregard and mark "not sufficient" any name appearing on such paper or papers which does not appear in the same handwriting on an affidavit of registration in his office made on or before the date when such name was signed, or which, except in the case of nomination papers of candidates for judicial, school, county, township or municipal offices, the signers of which may be registered as of any or of no party, does not appear on said affidavit as intending to affiliate with the party named in such nomination papers. Such officer shall, within five days after any nomination papers are filed with him or left for examination, examine the same as herein provided, and affix thereto, a certificate reciting that he has examined the same and stating the number of names signed thereto which have not been marked "not sufficient" as hereinabove provided. All nomination papers which by this act are required to be filed in the office of the secretary of state, shall be left with the county clerk or registrar of voters for examination, as above provided, at least forty days prior to the August primary election or the May presidential primary election, and shall, with such certificate of examination attached, within five days after being so left, be forwarded by such county clerk or registrar of voters to the secretary of state, who shall receive and file the same. All nomination papers which by this act are required to be filed in the office of the city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of any city or municipality shall be left with the county clerk or registrar of voters for examination, as above provided, at least twenty-five days prior to the primary election at which such nominations are to be made, and shall, with such certificate of examination attached, within five days after being so left be forwarded by such county clerk or registrar of voters to the city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of such city or municipality who shall receive and file the same. The verification of signatures to nomination papers shall not be made by the candidate, nor by any county clerk, or registrar of voters, nor by any of the deputies in the office of such county clerk or registrar of voters, nor within one hundred feet of any election booth, polling place, or any place where registration of electors is being conducted. Each candidate on or before the thirty-fifth day prior to the August primary election or the May presidential primary election, or on or before the twenty-fifth day prior to any other primary election, shall file in the place where his nomination paper is required to be filed, as provided in section 6 of this act, his affidavit, stating his residence, with street and number, if any; his election precinct; that he is a qualified elector in the election precinct in which he resides; the name of the office for which he is a candidate; that he will not before said primary election withdraw as a candidate for nomination and that if nominated he will accept such nomination and not withdraw, and that he will qualify as such officer if nominated and elected; and he shall also make the statement required in subdivision 5 of section 6 of this act. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to limit the rights of any person to become the candidate of more than one political party for the same office upon complying with the requirements of this act, but no person shall be entitled to become a candidate for more than one office at the same election. No more than one affidavit need be filed by any candidate, even though he is the candidate for nomination by more than one political party. In no case shall the secretary of state, county clerk, or city clerk, place the name of any candidate on this ballot or certify any such name to be placed thereon unless the requisite affidavit has first been filed as herein provided.

5. Number of signatures required. Except in the case of a candidate for nomination to a judicial office, school office, county office, or township office, nomination papers shall be signed as follows: If the candidate is the candidate for an office to be voted on throughout the state, by not less than one-half of one per centum and not more than two per centum of the vote constituting the basis of percentage as defined in subdivision 6 of this section, of the party of the candidate seeking nomination, within the state; if the candidate is the candidate for an office to be voted on in some political subdivision of the state, but not throughout the state, by not less than one per centum nor more than two per centum of the vote constituting the basis of percentage, as defined in subdivision 6 of this section, of the party of the candidate seeking nomination within said political subdivision in which such candidate seeks nomination.

6. Basis of percentage. Except in case of a candidate for nomination to a judicial, school, county, township or municipal office, the basis of percentage in each political party shall be the vote polled for such party's candidate for governor, at the last preceding November election at which a governor was elected, in the state or in that political subdivision for which the candidate is proposed for nomination. Such party's candidate for governor may have been the candidate, either of the party alone, or of the party in conjunction with one or more other parties. But if such political party did not have any candidate for governor at such last preceding November election at which a governor was elected, the nomination paper must be signed by not less than one-half of one per centum nor more than two per centum of the total vote polled for all the candidates for governor, at such last preceding November election in the state or political subdivision for which the candidate is proposed for nomination.

7. In case of change of political subdivision. Whenever by rearrangement of political subdivisions of the state by any legislature, board of supervisors or other legislative body, the boundaries of such political subdivisions are changed, the vote polled for governor at the last preceding gubernatorial election by each party in each of the new political subdivisions shall be determined as follows: If the change occurs wholly within any county or city and county, the county clerk or registrar of voters of such county or city and county shall determine as nearly as possible such vote of each party in the new political subdivision by adding together for each party the vote for such party's candidate for governor in each of the former precincts which now are combined to make up such new political subdivision. If the change occurs outside the limits of any county or city and county, the secretary of state shall determine such vote of each party in such new political subdivision by adding together for each party the vote for such party's candidate for governor in the counties which now are combined to make up such new political subdivision. In the same way that the highest vote for each party in each new political subdivision is ascertained, shall also be ascertained the total vote at such election as is required to be determined by the provisions of subdivision eight of this section. Every political party qualified to participate in the primary election by the provisions of subdivision nine of section one of this act, for nomination by which party there shall have been filed nomination papers for one or more candidates containing a sufficient number of signatures, shall be entitled to a separate party ticket at the primary election; but all such party tickets must be alike in the designation of candidates for judicial, school, county, and township offices.

8. In case of judicial office, etc. In the case of a candidate for nomination to a judicial school, county, township or municipal office, nomination papers shall be signed by not less than one-half of one per centum, nor more than two per centum of the total vote cast at the last general election in the state or political subdivision thereof in which such candidate for judicial or school, county, or township office seeks nomination.

9. Independent candidates. Nothing herein shall be construed as prohibiting the independent nomination of candidates as provided by section 1188 of the Political Code, as said section reads at the time of said nomination; except that a candidate for whom a nomination paper has been filed as one of the candidates for nomination to any office on the ballots of any political party at a primary election held under the provisions of this act, and who is defeated for such party nomination at such primary election, shall be ineligible for nomination as an independent candidate for the same office at the ensuing general election; and no person shall be permitted to file nomination papers for a party nomination and an independent nomination for the same office, or for more than one office at the same election. Nor shall any person whose name has been written in upon any ballot or ballots for any office at any primary election, have his name placed upon the ballot as a candidate for such office at the ensuing general election, except under the provisions of said section 1188 of the Political Code, unless at such primary election he shall have received for such office votes equal in number to the minimum number of signatures to the nomination paper which would have been required to be filed to have placed his name on the primary ballot as a candidate for nomination to such office.

10. Record of papers filed. The officer with whom nomination papers are filed shall keep a record in which he shall enter the names of every person presenting the same for filing, the name of the candidate, the title of the office, the party, if any, and the time of filing. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1345.]

§ 6. Office in which papers must be filed. All nomination papers provided for by this act shall be filed as follows:

1. For state officers, United States senators, representatives in congress, members of the state senate and assembly, delegates to state conventions from "hold-over senatorial districts" and all officers voted for in districts comprising more than one county, in the office of the secretary of state.

2. For officers to be voted for wholly within one county or city and county, except representatives in congress, delegates to state conventions from "holdover senatorial districts" and members of the state senate and assembly, in the office of the county clerk of such county or in the office of the registrar of voters in such city and county.

3. For city officers, in the office of the city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of such city or municipality.

4. When a nomination paper or sections thereof shall have been received which contain a number of signatures equal to two per centum of the votes constituting the basis of percentage as provided in subdivisions 5, 6 and 9 of section 5 of this act, the officer with whom such papers are required to be filed shall not receive or file further sections of the nomination paper for the candidate named therein.

5. No more signatures shall be secured for any candidate than a number equal to three per centum of the vote constituting the basis of percentage as provided in subdivisions 5, 6, and 9 of section 5 of this act: provided, that if, through miscalculation or otherwise, more signatures are secured than the said three per centum, all sections of the nomination paper containing signatures in excess of said three per centum must be sent to the candidate; and before any nomination paper is filed as provided in this section, the candidate must notify each signer of such excess sections that his name has not been used; and in the affidavit required to be filed in subdivision 4 of section 5 of this act, affiant must state whether he has complied with the provisions contained in subdivision 5 of section 6 of this act.

§ 7. Filing fees. 1. A filing fee of fifty dollars shall be paid to the secretary of state by each candidate for state office or for the United State senate, except as otherwise provided in this section.

2. A filing fee of twenty-five dollars shall be paid to the secretary of state by each candidate for representative in congress or for any office, except member of state senate and assembly, to be voted for in any district comprising more than one county.

3. A filing fee of ten dollars shall be paid to the secretary of state by each candidate for the state senate or assembly.

4. A filing fee of ten dollars shall be paid to the county clerk or registrar of voters in any city and county when the nomination paper or papers and affidavit of any candidate to be voted for wholly within one county or city and county are filed with such county clerk or registrar of voters.

5. A filing fee of ten dollars shall be paid to the city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of any municipality when the nomination paper or papers and affidavit of any candidate for a city office are filed with such clerk or secretary of such legislative body.

6. No filing fee shall be required from any person to be voted for at the May presidential primary election, or from any candidate for an office to the holder of which no fixed compensation is required to be paid, or for township or municipal offices the compensation to the holder of which does not exceed the sum of six hundred dollars per annum.

7. In no case shall the secretary of state, county clerk, registrar of voters, or city clerk, receive any nomination papers for filing until the requisite fee for such filing, as prescribed in this section, has first been paid to him.

8. When a person for whom a nomination paper has not been filed is nominated for an office by having his name written on a primary election ballot, he must pay the same filing fee that would have been required if his nomination paper had been filed; otherwise his name must not be printed on the ballot at the ensuing general election.

9. When a candidate for nomination to office is proposed for nomination by more than one political party, he must pay a separate filing fee for each party in which he is proposed for nomination; or if, having filed a nomination paper for one party, he is nominated by another party by having his name written on a primary election ballot, he must pay the same filing fee for such other party nomination that would have been required if his nomination paper for such other party had been filed; otherwise his name shall not be printed on the general election ballot as the nominee of such other party. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1354.]

§ 8. Clerk to pay fees to treasurer. The county clerk shall immediately pay to the county treasurer and the registrar of voters in any city and county shall immediately pay to the city and county treasurer all fees received from candidates. The city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of any municipality shall immediately pay to the city treasurer all fees received from candidates. Within ten days after the primary election the secretary of state shall pay to the state treasurer all fees received from candidates and shall apportion the fees paid to him by each candidate equally among the counties within which such candidate is to be voted for, and certify such apportionment to the state controller, who shall issue warrants on the state treasurer for the amount due each county and the state treasurer shall pay the same.

§ 9. Expense of primary. The expense of providing all ballots, blanks and other supplies to be used at any primary election provided for by this act and all expenses necessarily incurred in the preparation for or the conduct of such primary election shall be paid out of the treasury of the city, city and county, county or state, as the case may be, in the same manner, with like effect and by the same officers as in the case of general elections.

§ 10. Secretary of state to transmit list of nominees. Publication by clerk. At least thirty days before any August primary election preceding a November election or before any May presidential primary election the secretary of state shall transmit to each county clerk or registrar of voters in any city and county a certified list containing the name and postoffice address of each person for whom nomination papers have been filed in the office of such secretary of state, including the candidate for delegate to a state convention, if any, from a "hold-over senatorial district" and who is entitled to be voted for in such county at such primary election, together with a designation of the office for which such person is a candidate and except in the case of a judicial office, or a school office of the party or principle he represents. Such county clerk or registrar of voters shall forthwith, upon receipt thereof, publish under the proper party designation the title of each office (except a judicial office or a school office) which appears upon the certified list transmitted by the secretary of state as hereinbefore provided, together with the names and addresses of all persons for whom nomination papers have been filed for each of said offices in the office of the secretary of state, and also the names of all candidates for the county central committee, filed in the office of the county clerk or registrar of voters. He shall also publish the title of each judicial office, school office, county office, and township office, together with the names and addresses of all persons for whom nomination papers have been filed for each of said offices, either in the office of the secretary of state or in the office of the county clerk or registrar of voters, and shall state that candidates for said judicial, school, county, and township offices may be voted for at the primary election, by any registered, qualified elector of the county, whether registered as intending to affiliate with any political party or not. He shall also publish the date of the primary election, the hours during which the polls will be open, and that the primary election will be held at the legally designated polling places in each precinct, which shall be particularly designated. It shall be the duty of the county clerk or registrar of voters in any city and county to cause such publication to be made once each week for two successive weeks prior to said primary election.

§ 11. Newspapers in which publication shall be made. Every publication required by this act shall be made in not more than two newspapers of general circulation published in such county or city and county, and one of such newspapers shall represent the political party that cast at the last preceding general election the highest number of votes in such county or city and county, and one of such newspapers, if any, shall represent the party which cast the next highest number of votes at such election. In any case where the publication of the notices provided for by this act cannot be made as hereinbefore provided it shall be made in any newspaper having a general circulation in the city or county in which the notice is required to be published.

§ 12. Ballots. Nonpartisan ballot. 1. All voting at primary elections within the meaning of this act shall be by ballot. A separate official ballot for each political party shall be printed and provided for use at each voting precinct; but all such party ballots must be alike in the designation of candidates for judicial, school, county, and township offices. The ballots must have a different tint or color for each of the political parties participating in the primary election. There shall also be printed and provided a nonpartisan ballot of a different tint and color from all the others (or white, if all the others are colored), which shall contain only, but in like manner, all the candidates for judicial, school, county, and township offices to be voted for at the primary election; and one of the nonpartisan ballots shall, at the primary election, be furnished to each registered qualified elector who is not registered as intending to affiliate with any one of the political parties participating in said primary election; but to any elector registered as intending to affiliate with any political party participating in the primary there shall be furnished, not a nonpartisan ballot, but a ballot of the political party with which said elector is registered as intending to affiliate.

It shall be the duty of the county clerk of each county or of the registrar of voters in any city and county to provide such printed official ballots to be used at any August primary election for the nomination of candidates to be voted for in such county or city and county at the ensuing November election and at any May presidential primary election. It shall be the duty of the city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of any municipality to provide such printed official ballots for any primary election other than the August primary election or the May presidential primary election. Such official ballots to be used at any primary election shall be printed on official paper, furnished by the secretary of state, in the manner provided by section 1196 of the Political Code, and in the form hereinafter provided. The names of all candidates for the respective offices for whom the prescribed nomination papers have been duly filed shall be printed thereon.

2. Size. Official primary election ballots used at any primary election for the nomination of candidates to be voted for at any presidential or general state election, except as provided in subdivision 5 of this section, shall be as long as the herein prescribed captions, headings, party designations, directions to voters and lists of names of candidates, properly subdivided according to the several offices to be nominated for, may require; and no official primary election ballot shall be less than six and one-half inches wide.

3. How printed. Across the top of the ballot shall be printed in heavy-faced gothic capital type, not smaller than forty-eight point, the words: "Official Primary Election Ballot"; providing, that on a nonpartisan ballot said words may be printed in gothic capital type not smaller than twenty-four point. Beneath this heading shall be printed in heavy-faced gothic capital type, not smaller than twenty-four point, the party designation if it be a party ballot; or, in the case of a ballot containing the names of no candidates except candidates for a judicial, school, county, or township office, the words, "Nonpartisan Ballot." The instructions to voters shall be printed in ten point gothic type. In the case of official primary election ballots to be used at any primary election held for the nomination of candidates other than those to be voted for at a presidential or a general state election, and on which, in accordance with the provisions of this act, the names of candidates may be printed in a single column or in two parallel columns, as the case may be, the words "Official Primary Election Ballot" shall be printed thereon in heavy-faced gothic capital type, not smaller than twenty-four point. The party or nonpartisan designation shall be printed in heavy-faced gothic capital type, not smaller than eighteen point. The instructions to voters shall be printed in ten point gothic type.

4. Instructions to voters. At least three-eighths of an inch below the assembly district designation and the date of the primary election shall be printed in ten point gothic type, double leaded, the following instructions to voters: "To vote for a person whose name occurs on the ballot, stamp a (X) in the square at the right of the name of the person for whom you desire to vote. To vote for a person whose name is not printed on the ballot, write his name in the blank space provided for that purpose."

5. Instructions. Candidates in parallel columns. Precedence. Tally sheets. The instructions to voters shall be separated from the lists of candidates and the designations of the several offices to be nominated for by one light and one heavy line or rule. The names of the candidates and the respective offices shall, except as may be hereinafter otherwise provided, be printed on the ballot in four or more parallel columns, each two and one-half inches wide. The number of such parallel columns shall be exactly divisible by two, and such parallel columns shall be equally divided on the ballot for party and nonpartisan tickets by a solid black line, extending down from the printed lines separating the instructions to voters from the lists of names of candidates to the bottom margin of the ballot. In the case of a primary election for the nomination of candidates to be voted for at a presidential or general state election, the order of precedence shall be as follows, that is to say: In the column to the left, under the heading STATE shall be printed the groups of names of candidates for state offices, except judicial and school offices, and for members of the state board of equalization. In the second column, under the heading CONGRESSIONAL shall be printed the group of names for United States senator in congress, if any, and for representatives in congress. Next under the heading LEGISLATIVE shall be printed the groups of names for state senator, if any, for member of assembly, and for election as delegate to the state convention from a "hold over senatorial district," if any. Finally under the heading COUNTY COMMITTEE, shall be printed the names of the candidates for election to membership in the county central committee of the party. In the case of primary elections where state officers are not to be nominated, at the left of the solid black dividing line there may be only one column. In the parallel columns to the right of the solid black dividing line shall be printed the groups of names of candidates for nomination to judicial, school, county, and township offices in the following order: Under the heading JUDICIAL shall be printed all the names of candidates for judicial offices, in the order of chief justice supreme court, associate justices supreme court, judge of district court of appeal, judge of superior court and justice of the peace. Next, under the heading SCHOOL shall be printed all the names of candidates for school offices in the order of state superintendent of instruction, superintendent of schools, and school district officers, if any. Next, under the heading COUNTY AND TOWNSHIP shall be printed the groups of candidates for all county and township offices except judicial or school offices. In the case of primary elections where county officers are not to be nominated, at the right of the solid black dividing line there may be only one column. The nonpartisan ballot provided for in subdivision 1 of this section shall be identical as to offices and names of candidates with that portion of the party ballot which is printed to the right of the solid black dividing line hereinabove described. The tally sheets furnished to election officers shall have the names of offices and candidates arranged in the order in which said names of offices and candidates are printed on the ballots according to the provisions of this section and subdivision. In the case of primary elections for the nomination of candidates for city, city and county or municipal offices only, the groups of names of candidates may be printed in two parallel columns and the order of precedence shall be determined by the legislative body of such city or municipality or by the board of election commissioners of any such city and county.

6. Candidates for judicial offices, etc. The group of candidates for nomination to any judicial office, school office, county office, or township office shall include all the names receiving the requisite number of signatures on a nomination paper for such office, and shall be identical for each such office on the primary election ballots of each political party participating at the primary election; but the groups of names of candidates for all other offices on the ballots of each political party shall comprise only the names of the candidates for nomination by such party.

7. Order of lists of candidates. The order in which the list of candidates for any office shall appear upon the primary election ballot shall be determined as follows:

(a) If the office is an office the candidates for which are to be voted on throughout the entire state, including United States senator in congress, the secretary of state shall arrange the names of all candidates for such office in alphabetical order for the first assembly district; and thereafter for each succeeding assembly district, the name appearing first for each office in the last preceding district shall be placed last, the order of the other names remaining unchanged. If the office is that of representative in congress, or is an office the candidates for nomination to which are to be voted on in more than one county or city and county, but not throughout the entire state, except the office of state senator or assemblyman, the secretary of state shall arrange the names of all candidates for such office in alphabetical order for that assembly district which is lowest in numerical order of any assembly district in which such candidates are to be voted on; and thereafter for such succeeding assembly district in which such candidates are to be voted on, the name appearing first for such office in the last preceding district shall be placed last, the order of the other names remaining unchanged. In transmitting to each county clerk or registrar of voters the certified list of names as required in section 10 of this act, the secretary of state shall certify and transmit the list of candidates for nomination to each office according to assembly districts, in the order of arrangement as determined by the above provisions; and in the case of each county or city and county containing more than one assembly district, he shall transmit separate lists for each assembly district. Except for the office of state senator or assemblyman, the order in which the names filed with the secretary of state shall appear upon the ballot, shall be for each assembly district the order as determined by the secretary of state in accordance with the above provisions, and as certified and transmitted by him to each county clerk or registrar of voters.

(b) If the office is an office to be voted on throughout, but wholly within, one county or city and county, except the office of representative in congress or state senator or assemblyman, the county clerk of such county or the registrar of voters of such city and county, shall arrange the names of all candidates for such office in alphabetical order for the first supervisorial district; and thereafter for each supervisorial district, the name appearing first for each such office in the last preceding supervisorial district shall be placed last, the order of the other names remaining unchanged; provided, there are no more than five assembly districts in such county, or city and county. If there are more than five assembly districts in such county, or city and county, the county clerk or registrar of voters shall so arrange on the ballot the order of names of all candidates for such office that they shall appear in alphabetical order for that assembly district in such county, or city and county, which is lowest in numerical order, and thereafter for each succeeding assembly district in such county, or city and county, the name appearing first for each office in the last preceding assembly district shall be placed last, the order of the other names remaining unchanged.

(c) If the office is that of state senator or assemblyman, or delegate to the state convention from a "hold-over senatorial district," or member of a county central committee, or any office except the office of representative in congress to be voted on wholly within any county or city and county but not throughout such county or city or county, the names of all candidates for such office shall be placed upon the ballot in alphabetical order.

(d) If the office is a municipal office in any city or town whose charter does not provide for the order in which names shall appear on the ballot, the names of candidates for such office shall be placed upon the ballot in alphabetical order.

8. Order of publication of names and addresses. In publishing the names and addresses of all candidates for whom nomination papers have been filed, as required in section 10 of this act, the county clerk or registrar of voters shall publish the names in the order in which they will appear upon the ballot; provided, that in counties or cities and counties containing more than one assembly district the order of names of candidates shall be that of the assembly district in such county or city and county which is lowest in numerical order.

9. Designation of office. Each group of candidates to be voted on shall be preceded by the designation of the office for which the candidates seek nomination, and the words "Vote for One" or Vote for Two" or more according to the number to be elected to such office at the ensuing election. Such designation of the office to be nominated for and of the number of candidates to be nominated shall be printed in heavy-faced gothic type, not smaller than ten point. The word or words designating the office shall be printed flush with the left-hand margin and the words "Vote for One" or "Vote for Two" or more, as the case may be, shall extend to the extreme right of the column and over the voting square. The designation of the office and the direction for voting shall be separated from the names of the candidates by a light line.

10. Printing names of candidates. Printing on back of ballot. Perforated line. Number. Form. The names of the candidates shall be printed on the ballot without indentation, in roman capital type not smaller than eight point, between light lines or rules three-eighths of an inch apart. Under each group of names of candidates shall be printed as many blank spaces, defined by light lines or rules, three-eighths of an inch apart, as there are to be candidates nominated for such office. To the right of the names of the candidates shall be printed a light line or rule so as to form a voting square three-eighths of an inch square. Each group of names of candidates shall be separated from the succeeding group by one light and one heavy line or rule. Each series of groups shall be headed by the word "State," "Congressional," "Legislative,"

"County and Township" or "Municipal" or other proper general classification, as the case may be, printed in heavy-faced gothic capital type, not smaller than twelve point. All official primary election ballots shall have printed on the back and immediately below the center thereof, in eighteen point gothic capital type, the words "Official Primary Election Ballot," and underneath these words the respective numbers of the congressional, senatorial and assembly districts in which each ballot is to be voted. In the case of a primary election for the nomination of candidates for city or city and county offices only, the designations on the back of the ballot in addition to the words "official Primary Election Ballot," shall be the official designation of the respective ward and voting precinct in any such city or municipality, or the number of the assembly district and of the voting precinct in any such city and county in which each ballot is to be voted. The ballot shall be printed on the same leaf with a stub and separated therefrom by a perforated line across the top of the ballot. On each ballot a perforated line shall extend from top to bottom one-half inch from the right-hand side of such ballot, and upon the half-inch strip thus formed there shall be no printing except the number of the ballot which shall be on the back of each strip, in such position that it shall appear on the outside when the ballot is folded. The number on each ballot shall be the same as that on the corresponding stub, and the ballots and stubs shall be numbered consecutively in each county; provided, that the sequence of numbers on such official ballots and stubs for each party shall begin with the number one. The official ballots of each political party shall be made up in stub books, each book to contain ten, or some multiple of ten, ballots, in the manner provided by law for official election ballots, and except as to the order of the names of candidates shall be printed in substantially the following form:

OFFICIAL PRIMARY ELECTION BALLOT

§ 13. Sample ballots. Mailed to voters. Printing of official ballot. In cities. At least twenty days before the August primary election or before the May presidential primary election each county clerk or registrar of voters in any city and county shall prepare separate sample ballots for each political party, and a separate sample nonpartisan ballot, placing thereon in each case in the order provided in subdivision 7 of section 12 of this act, and under the appropriate title of each office, the names of all candidates for whom nomination papers have been duly filed with him, or have been certified to him by the secretary of state, to be voted for at the primary election in his county or city and county. Such sample ballots shall be printed on paper of a different texture from the paper to be used on the official ballot, and one sample ballot of the party to which the voter belongs as evidenced by his registration shall be mailed to each such voter entitled to vote at such August primary election or May presidential primary election, as the case may be, not more than ten nor less than five days before the election. Not more than ten nor less than five days before the August primary election a nonpartisan sample ballot printed on paper of a different texture from the paper to be used on the official ballot shall be mailed to each registered qualified elector who is not registered as intending to affiliate with any of the parties participating in said primary election. Such clerk or registrar of voters shall forthwith submit the ticket of each political party to the chairman of the county committee of such party and shall mail a copy to each candidate for whom nomination papers have been filed with him or whose name has been certified to him by the secretary of state, to the postoffice address as given in such nomination paper or certification, and he shall post a copy of each sample ballot in a conspicuous place in his office. Before such primary election the county clerk or registrar of voters in any city and county shall cause the official ballot to be printed as provided by section 12 of this act, and distributed in the same manner and in the same quantities as provided in sections 1198, 1199 and 1201 of the Political Code for the distribution of ballots for elections; provided, that the number of party ballots to be furnished to any precinct shall be computed from the number of voters registered in such precinct as intending to affiliate with such party, and the number of nonpartisan ballots to be furnished to any precinct shall be computed from the number of voters registered in such precinct without statement of intention to affiliate with any of the parties participating in the primary election. In the case of primary elections for the nomination of candidates for city offices it shall be the duty of the city clerk, secretary of the legislative body of such city or municipality, or such other officer charged by law with the duty of preparing and distributing the official ballots used at elections in such city or municipality, to prepare and mail the sample ballot and to prepare and distribute the official primary election ballots, and so far as applicable and not otherwise provided herein the provisions of this act shall apply to the nomination of all candidates for city offices.

§ 14. Polls open 6 A. M. to 7 P. M. The polls must be open at 6 o'clock of the morning of the day of primary election and must be kept open until 7 o'clock in the afternoon of the same day, when the polls shall be closed; provided, however, that if at the hour of closing there are any voters in the polling place, or in line at the door, who are qualified to vote and have not been able to do so since appearing, the polls shall be kept open a sufficient time to enable them to vote. But no one who shall arrive at the polling place after 7 o'clock in the afternoon shall be entitled to vote, although the polls may be open when he arrives. No adjournment or intermission shall be taken except as provided in the case of general elections.

§ 15. Election officers. The officers for primary elections shall be the same, and shall be appointed in the same manner, as provided by law for general elections, and such officers shall receive the same compensation for their services at primary elections as provided by law for general elections.

It shall be the duty of the proper officers to furnish the original affidavits of registration and indexes for use at primary elections, which shall show the names of all voters entitled to vote at such primary elections, and shall be numbered, for purposes of the primary election, in like manner as provided in section 1113 of the Political Code. And all the provisions of section 1096 of the Political Code, as far as they are consistent with the provisions of this act, are hereby made applicable to primary elections within the meaning of this act.

§ 16. Challenge of voter. Any elector offering to vote at a primary election may be challenged by any elector of the city, city and county or county, upon either or all of the grounds specified in section 1230 of the Political Code, but his right to vote the primary election ticket of the political party designated in his affidavit of registration, as provided in section 1096 of the Political Code, or his right to vote the nonpartisan primary ticket providing no such party is so designated, shall not be challenged on any ground or subjected to any tests other than those provided by the constitution and section 1230 of the Political Code of this state.

§ 17. Qualified electors may vote. Any elector qualified to take part in any primary election, who has, at least thirty days before the day of such primary election, qualified by registration, as provided by section 1096 of the Political Code, shall be entitled to vote at such primary election, such right to vote being subject to challenge only as hereinbefore provided; and shall, on writing his name or having it written for him on the roster, as provided by law for general elections in this state, receive the official primary election ballot of the political party designated in his affidavit of registration; (or the nonpartisan ballot, providing no such party was so designated), and no other; provided, however, that no one shall be entitled to vote at any primary election who has not been a resident of the state one year, and of the county ninety days, preceding the day upon which such primary election is held. He shall be instructed by a member of the board as to the proper method of marking and folding his ballot, and he shall then retire to an unoccupied booth and without undue delay stamp the same with the rubber stamp there found. If he shall spoil or deface the ballot he shall at once return the same to the ballot clerk and receive another.

§ 18. Designating choice. The voter shall designate his choice on the ballot by stamping a cross (×) in the small square opposite the name of each candidate for whom he wishes to vote. If he shall stamp more names than there are candidates to be nominated for any office, or if for any reason it be impossible to determine his choice for any office, his ballot shall not be counted for such office, but the rest of his ballot, if properly stamped, shall be counted. No ballot shall be rejected for any technical error which does not render it impossible to determine the voter's choice, nor even though such ballot be somewhat soiled or defaced.

§ 19. Folding ballot. When a voter has stamped his ballot he shall fold it so that its face shall be concealed and only the printed designation on the back thereof shall be visible, and hand the same to the member of the board in charge of the ballot-box. Such folded ballot shall be voted as ballots are voted at general elections, and the name of the voter checked upon the affidavit of registration as having voted as is required at such general elections. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1354.]

§ 20. No intermission between closing of polls and counting of votes. No adjournment or intermission whatever shall take place until the polls shall be closed and until all the votes cast at such polls shall be counted and the result publicly announced, but this shall not be deemed to prevent any temporary recess while taking meals or for the purpose of other necessary delay; provided, that no more than one member of the board shall at any time be absent from the polling place.

§ 21. Canvass of votes. As soon as the polls are finally closed the judges must immediately proceed to canvass the votes cast at such primary election. The canvass must be public, in the presence of bystanders, and must be continued without adjournment until completed and the result thereof declared. Except as hereinafter provided, the canvass shall be conducted, completed and returned as provided by sections 1253, 1254, 1255, 1256, 1257, 1258, 1259, 1260, 1261, 1262, 1263, 1264, 1264*a*, 1265, 1266, 1267, 1268 of the Political Code of this state; provided, however, that the ballots of each party must be sealed and returned in separate envelopes, and the nonpartisan ballots must be sealed and returned in another separate envelope. The number of ballots agreeing or being made to agree with the number of names on the lists, as provided by section 1255 of the Political Code, the board must take the ballots from the box, count those cast by each party, and string them separately; count all the votes cast for each party candidate for the several offices and record the same on the tally lists; and count all the votes on all the ballots, both party and nonpartisan, for the candidates for judicial, school, county, township, and municipal offices, and record the same on the tally lists. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1354.]

supervisors of each county, the board of election commissioners in any city and county, or, in the case of a city or municipal primary election, the officers charged by law with the duty of canvassing the vote at any city or municipal election in such political subdivision, shall meet at the usual place of such meeting, or at any other place permitted by law, at one o'clock in the afternoon of the first Thursday after each primary election to canvass the returns, or as soon thereafter as all the returns are in. When begun the canvass shall be continued until completed, which shall not be later than six o'clock in the afternoon of the sixteenth day following such primary election. The clerk of the board must, as soon as the result is declared, enter upon the records of such board a statement of such result, which statement shall contain the whole number of votes cast for each candidate of each political party, for each candidate for each judicial, school, county, township, or municipal office, for each candidate for delegate, if any, to a state convention from a hold-over senatorial district, and for each candidate for membership in the county central committee; provided, however, that in entering the statement of such result, the provisions of subdivision six of section 1282 of the Political Code shall apply, and a duplicate as to each political party shall be delivered to the county, city and county or city chairman of such political party, as the case may be. The clerk shall also make an additional duplicate statement in the same form showing the votes cast for each candidate not voted for wholly within the limits of such county or city and county. The county clerk or registrar of voters in any city and county shall forthwith send to the secretary of state by registered mail or by express one complete copy of all returns as to such candidates, and as to all candidates voted for wholly within one county for the following offices: State assembly, state senate, representatives in congress, members of the state board of equalization, judicial officers, except justices of the peace, and delegate, if any, to a state convention from a hold-over senatorial district; and as to all persons voted for at the May presidential primary election. The secretary of state shall, not later than the twenty-fifth day after any primary election, compile the returns for all candidates voted for in more than one county, and for all candidates for the assembly, state senate, representatives in congress, member of the state board of equalization, and judicial offices (except justices of the peace), delegate, if any, to a state convention from a hold-over senatorial district, and for all persons voted for at the May presidential primary election, and shall make out and file in his office a statement thereof. He shall compile the returns for the May presidential primary election not later than the twenty-first day after such election, and shall compile said returns in such a manner as to show, for each candidate, both the total of the votes received and the votes received in each congressional district of the state. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1355.]

§ 23. Names which go on ballot for final election. In case of judicial office, etc. Certificates of nomination. List of persons entitled to receive votes. Except in the case of a candidate for nomination to a judicial, school, county, township, or municipal office, the person receiving the highest number of votes, at a primary election as the candidate for the nomination of a political party for an office shall be the candidate of that party for such office, and his name as such candidate shall be placed on the official ballot voted at the ensuing election; provided, he has paid the filing fee as required by section seven of this act; and provided, further, that no candidate for a nomination for other than a judicial, school, county, township or municipal office who fails to receive the highest number of votes for the nomination of the political party with which he was affiliated thirty-five days before the date of the primary election, as ascertained by the secretary of state from the affidavit of registration of such candidate in the office of the county clerk of the county in which such candidate resides, shall be entitled to be the candidate of any other political party.

In the case of a judicial, school, county, township, or municipal office, the candidates equal in number to twice the number to be elected to such office, or less, if the total number of candidates is less than twice the number of offices to be filled, who receive the highest number of votes cast on all the ballots of all the voters participating in the primary election for nomination to such office, shall be the candidates for such office at the ensuing election, and their names as such candidates shall be placed on the official ballot voted at the ensuing election; provided, however, that in case there is but one person to be elected at the November election to any judicial, school, county, or township office, any candidate who receives at the August primary election a majority of the total number of votes cast for all the candidates for such office shall be the only candidate for such office whose name shall be printed on the ballot at the ensuing election; and provided, further, that in case there are two or more persons to be elected at the November election to any judicial, school, county, or township office, and in case any candidate for such office receive at the August primary election the votes of a majority of all the voters participating in the primary election in the state or political subdivision in which said office is voted upon, such candidates being herein designated as "majority candidates," said "majority candidates" shall, if their number is not less than the number of persons to be elected to such office, be the only candidates for such office whose names shall be printed on the ballot at the ensuing November election; and if the number of such "majority candidates" falls short of the number of persons to be elected to such office, the names of said "majority candidates" shall be printed on the ballot at the ensuing November election, together with such number of additional names only of such other candidates receiving the next highest number of votes for nomination to such office as may make the number of such additional names equal to twice the difference between the number of such "majority candidates" and the number to be elected, or a smaller number, if the list of said other candidates is exhausted. Of the candidates for election to membership in the county central committee, the candidates equal in number to the number to be elected receiving the highest number of votes in their supervisorial district or assembly district, as the case may be in accordance with the provisions of subdivision four of section twenty-four of this act, shall be declared elected as the representatives of their district to membership in such committee. It shall be the duty of the officers charged with the canvass of the returns of any primary election in any county, city and county or municipality to cause to be issued official certificates of nomination to such party candidates (other than congressional and legislative candidates, candidates for the state board of equalization, and delegates to the state convention from a hold-over senatorial district), as have received the highest number of votes as the candidates for the nomination of such party for any offices to be voted for wholly within such county, city and county, or municipality, and cause to be issued to each member of a county central committee a certificate of his election; and to cause to be issued official certificates of nomination to such candidates for judicial, school, county, township or municipal offices voted for wholly within one county as may be entitled to nomination under the provisions of this section. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to issue official certificates of nomination to candidates nominated under the provisions of this act for representatives in congress, members of the state senate and assembly, members of the state board of equalization, and officers voted for in more than one county; and to issue a certificate of election to each delegate elected to the state convention from a hold-over senatorial district; and to issue certificates of election to all persons elected at the May presidential primary election as delegates to their respective national party conventions.

Not less than thirty days before the November election the secretary of state shall certify to the county clerks or registrars of voters of each county and city and county within the state, the name of every person entitled to receive votes within such county or city and county at said November election who has received the nomination as a candidate for public office under and pursuant to the provisions of this act, and whose nomination is evidenced by the compilation and statement required to be made by said secretary of state and filed in his office, as provided in section 22 of this act. Such certificates shall in addition to the names of such nominees respectively, also show separately and respectively for each nominee the name of the political party or organization which has nominated such person if any and the designation of the public office for which he is so nominated. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1356.]

§ 24. Party conventions. 1. Party conventions of delegates chosen as hereinafter provided may be held in this state, for the purpose of promulgating platforms and transacting such other business of the party as is not inconsistent with the provisions of this act.

2. State conventions. Platforms. State central committee. Presidential electors. Members must have been on primary ballot. In district represented by hold-over senator. Filling vacancies. The candidates of each political party for congressional offices and for state offices, if any, except judicial and school offices, and such candidates for senate and assembly as have been nominated by such political party at the primary election, and in whose behalf nomination papers have been filed, together with the hold-over senators affiliated with and nominated by such political party at the election at which said hold-over senators were elected and one delegate chosen by such political party from each senatorial district not represented by a hold-over senator affiliated with and nominated by such political party at the election at which the hold-over senator was elected, shall meet in a state convention at the state capitol at two o'clock in the afternoon of the third Tuesday in September after the date on which any primary election is held preliminary to the general November election. They shall forthwith formulate the state platforms of their party, which said state platform of each political party shall be framed at such time that it shall be made public not later than six o'clock in the afternoon of the following day. They shall also proceed to elect a state central committee to consist of at least three (3) members from each congressional district, who shall hold office until a new state central committee shall have been selected. In each year of the general November election at which electors of President and Vice-president of the United States are to be chosen, they shall also nominate as the candidates of their party as many electors of President and Vice-president of the United States as the state is then entitled to, and it shall be the duty of the secretary of state to issue certificates of nomination to the electors so nominated, and to cause the names of such candidates for elector to be placed upon the ballots at the ensuing November election.

Membership in the state convention shall not be granted to a party nominee for a congressional office, state office, or office of senator or assemblyman who has become such by reason of his name having been written on a ballot, and who has not had his name printed on the primary ballot by having had a nomination paper filed in his behalf, as provided in section 5 of this act; nor shall membership in such convention be granted to the nominee of any party if such nominee has not stated his affiliation with such party in his affidavit of registration used at such primary election; and, in every such case, a vacancy in the membership of such convention shall be deemed to exist; and any such vacancy thereby existing, or existing because no nomination for such office has been made, or for any other cause, shall be filled as hereinafter provided. Each candidate who has received the nomination of more than one party for a congressional, state, or legislative office shall procure from the county clerk of the county in which he resides, a certificate stating the party with which such candidate was affiliated thirty-five days before the date of the primary election, as shown by the affidavit of registration of such candidate in the office of such county clerk; and this certificate shall be in credentials of such candidate to membership in the convention of his party.

In any senatorial district represented by a hold-over senator there shall be chosen at such primary election by the electors of each political party, other than the party which the hold-over senator was affiliated with and nominated by, one delegate to the state convention, who shall have nomination papers circulated in his behalf, shall have his name placed upon the ballot, and shall be chosen in the same manner as a state senator is nominated from any senatorial district; but no such delegate shall be disqualified by reason of holding any office, nor shall any filing fee be required in order to have his name placed upon the ballot. The term "hold-over senator" as herein used shall apply to a state senator whose term of office extends beyond the first Monday in January of the year next ensuing after the primary election, and the term "hold-over senatorial district" shall apply to the district represented by such hold-over senator.

In the event that there shall not have been filed any nomination paper for a candidate for any congressional or state office or office of senator or assemblyman or delegate from a hold-over senatorial district by the electors of any political party, or in the event that the nominee of any party for such office has not declared his affiliation with such party, as herein provided, or in the event of the death of the candidate prior to the convention, the vacancy thus created in the state convention of such party shall be filled as follows:

(a) If the vacancy occurs in a senatorial or assembly district situated wholly within the limits of a single county or city and county, by appointment by the newly elected county central committee of such party in such county or city and county.

(b) If the vacancy occurs in a senatorial or assembly district comprising two or more counties, by appointment by the newly selected chairmen of the several newly elected county central committees of such party in such counties.

(c) If the vacancy occurs in a congressional or state office, by appointment by the state central committee of such party.

Such delegate so appointed shall present to the convention credentials signed by the chairman and the secretary of the appointing committee, or by the appointing chairmen of the several committees, as the case may be.

3. Executive committee. Each state central committee may select an executive committee, to which executive committee it may grant all or any portion of its powers and duties. It shall choose its officers by ballot and each committee and its officers shall have the power usually exercised by such committees and the officers thereof in so far as may be consistent with this act. The various officers and committees now in existence shall exercise the powers and perform the duties herein prescribed until their successors are chosen in accordance with the provisions of this act.

4. County central committee. Meetings. At each August primary election there shall be elected in each county or city and county a county central committee for each political party, which shall have charge of the party campaign under general direction of the state central committee or of the executive committee selected by such state central committee. In any city and county containing more than ten assembly districts the county central committee of such party shall be elected by each assembly district and shall consist of five members from each assembly district in such city and county. In all counties containing five or more assembly districts the county central committee of such party shall be elected by assembly districts and shall consist of one member for each seven hundred votes or fraction thereof in each such assembly district cast for such party's candidate for governor at the last general election at which a governor was elected. In all counties containing less than five assembly districts the county central committee shall be elected by supervisor districts, and the number to be elected from any supervisor district shall be determined as follows: the number of votes cast in such supervisor district for such party's candidate for governor at the last general election at which such governor was elected shall be divided by one-twentieth of the number of votes cast for such governor in such county; and the integer next larger than the quotient obtained by such division shall constitute the number of members of the county central committee to be elected by such party in said supervisor district. The county clerk or registrar of voters in each county or city and county shall, between the first Monday and the second Monday of June next preceding the primary election, compute the number of members of the county central committee allotted to each assembly district or supervisor district, as the case may be, by the provisions of this subdivision. Each candidate for member of a county central committee shall appear upon the ballot upon the filing of a nomination paper according to the provisions of section five of this act, signed in his behalf by the electors of the political subdivision in which he is a candidate, as above provided; and the number of candidates to which each party is entitled, as hereinbefore provided, in each political subdivision, receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. Each county central committee shall meet in the court house at its county seat on the second Tuesday in September following the August primary election, and shall organize by selecting a chairman, a secretary and such other officers and committees as it shall deem necessary for carrying on the campaign of the party. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1358.]

§ 25. Withdrawing as candidate. Filing vacancies. Name printed on ballot. No candidate whose nomination papers have been filed for any primary election can withdraw as a candidate at such primary election. No candidate nominated at any primary election can withdraw as a candidate at the ensuing general election except such as are permitted to withdraw by this section. In case as a result of any primary election a person has received a nomination to any office without first having nomination papers filed, and having his name printed on the primary election ballot, he may at least thirty-one days before the day of election cause his name to be withdrawn from nomination by filing in the office where he would have filed his nomination papers had he been a candidate for nomination, his request therefor in writing, signed by him and acknowledged before the county clerk of the county in which he resides; and no name so withdrawn shall be printed on the election ballot for the ensuing general election. The vacancy created by the withdrawal of such person as aforesaid, or on account of the ineligibility of such person to qualify as a candidate because of the inhibitions of subdivision 9 of section 5 of this act or of section 23 of this act, or by reason of the failure of a party to nominate any candidate for the office at the primary election, or for any other cause except the death of the candidate occurring after the primary election, shall not be filled. A vacancy by reason of the death of any candidate occurring after the holding of any primary election may be filled by the party committee of the city, county, city and county, or state, as the case may be, unless such vacancy occurs among candidates chosen at the primary election to go on the ballot for the succeeding general election for a judicial, school, county, township, or municipal office according to the provisions of section 23 of this act, in which case that candidate receiving at said primary election the highest vote among all the candidates for said office who have failed to receive a sufficient number of votes to get upon said ballot according to the provisions of said section 23, shall go upon said ballot to fill said vacancy; provided, however, that if the vacancy occurs in a case where, by reason of having received a majority vote at the primary election, only one person is entitled to have his name printed upon the ballot at the ensuing November election, the names of the two candidates receiving the next highest vote at the primary election, if there were such number, shall be placed upon the ballot for the November election; and provided, further, that a vacancy authorized to be filled by the provisions of this section shall only be so filled if such person has died and such vacancy has been filled and certified to the officer charged with the duty of printing the ballots twenty-five days before the day of election.

Whenever a nomination paper containing a sufficient number of signatures has been filed for any person as a candidate to be voted for at a primary election, the name of such person must be printed upon the ballot or ballots of such primary election as hereinbefore provided in section 12 of this act, unless such person has died and such fact has been ascertained, by the officer charged with the duty of printing the ballot, at least twenty-five days before the day of election.

Whenever a candidate has been nominated at any primary election after having nomination papers filed, the name of such candidate must be printed upon the ballot at the ensuing general election unless such candidate has died and such fact has been ascertained, by the officer charged with the duty of printing the ballots, at least twenty-five days before the day of election.

Whenever, upon the death of any candidate, the vacancy thereby created is filled by a party committee, a certificate to that effect shall be filed with the officer with whom a nomination paper for such office of such nomination paper. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1361.]

§ 26. Tie vote. In case of a tie vote, if for an office to be voted for wholly within one county or city and county, the county, city and county or city board, as the case may be, shall forthwith summon the candidates who have received such tie votes to appear before such board, and such board in the presence of such candidates shall determine the tie by lot. In the case of a tie vote for an office to be voted for in more than one county, such tie shall be determined by lot by the secretary of state in the presence of the candidates or their legally appointed representatives. Such summons must in every case be mailed to the address of the candidate as it appears upon his affidavit of registration.

§ 27. Correction of errors or omission. Whenever it shall be made to appear by affidavit to the supreme court or district courts of appeal or superior court of the proper county that an error or omission has occurred or is about to occur in the placing of any name on an official primary election ballot, that any error has been or is about to be committed in printing such ballot, or that any wrongful act has been or is about to be done by any judge or clerk of a primary election, county clerk, registrar of voters in any city and county, canvassing board or any member thereof, or other person charged with any duty concerning the primary election, or that any neglect of duty has occurred or is about to occur, such court shall order the officer or person charged with such error, wrong or neglect to forthwith correct the error, desist from the wrongful act or perform the duty, or forthwith show cause why he should not do so. Any person who shall fail to obey the order of such court shall be cited forthwith to show cause why he shall not be adjudged in contempt of court.

§ 28. Contest of nomination. Copy of affidavit mailed to contestee. Precincts considered. Hearing. No demurrer. Additional judges. Recount of votes. Decision. No appeal. Any candidate at a primary election, desiring to contest a nomination of another candidate for the same office, may, within five days after the completion of the official canvass, file an affidavit in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county in which he desires to contest the vote returned from any precinct or precincts in such county, and thereupon have a recount of the ballots cast in any such precinct or precincts, in accordance with the provisions of this section. Such affidavit must specify separately each precinct in which a recount is demanded, and the nature of the mistake, error, misconduct, or other cause why it is claimed that the returns from such precinct do not correctly state the vote as cast in such precinct, for the contestant and the contestee. The contestee must be made a party respondent, and so named in the affidavit. No personal service or other service than as herein provided need be made upon the contestee. Upon the filing of such affidavit the county clerk shall forthwith post in a conspicuous place in his office a copy of the affidavit. Upon the filing of such affidavit and the posting of the same, the superior court of the county shall have jurisdiction of the subject matter and of the parties to such contest, and all candidates at any such primary election are permitted to be candidates under this act, only upon the condition that such jurisdiction for the purposes of the proceeding authorized by this section shall exist in the manner and under the conditions provided for by this section. The contestant on the date of filing such affidavit, must send by registered mail a copy thereof to the contestee in a sealed envelope, with postage prepaid, addressed to the contestee at the place of residence named in the affidavit of registration of such contestee, and shall make an affidavit of such mailing and file the same with the county clerk to become a part of the records of the contest. At any time within three days after the filing of the affidavit of the contestant to the effect that he has sent by registered mail a copy of the affidavit to the contestee, such contestee may file with the county clerk an affidavit in his own behalf, setting up his desire to have the votes counted in any precincts, designating them, in addition to the precincts designated in the affidavit of the contestant, and setting up his grounds therefor. On the trial of the contest all of the precincts named in the affidavits of the contestant and the contestee shall be considered, and a recount had with reference to all of said precincts; and the contestant shall have the same right to answer the affidavit of the contestee as is given to the contestee herein with reference to the affidavit of the contestant except that such answer must be filed not later than the first day of the trial of said contest. On the eighth day after the completion of the official canvass the county clerk shall present the affidavits of the contestant and the contestee and proof of posting, as aforesaid, to the judge of the superior court of the county, or any judge acting in his place, or the presiding judge of the superior court of a county or city and county, or anyone acting in his stead, which judge shall, upon such presentation, forthwith designate the time and place where such contest shall proceed, and in counties or cities and counties where there is more than one superior judge, assign all the cases to one department by the order of such court. Such order must so assign such case or cases, and fix such time and place for hearing, which time must not be less than one nor more than three days from the presentation of the matter to the court by the county clerk as herein provided. It shall be the duty of the contestee to appear either in person or by attorney, at the time and place so fixed, and to take notice of the order fixing such time and place from the records of the court, without service. No special appearance of the contestee for any purpose except as herein provided shall be permitted, and any appearance whatever of the contestee or any request of the court by the contestee or his attorney, shall be entered as a general apparance in the contest. No demurrer or objection can be taken by the parties in any other manner than by answer, and all the objections must be contained in the answer. The court if the contestee shall appear, must require the answer to be made within three days from the time and place as above provided, and if the contestee shall not appear shall note his default, and shall proceed to hear and determine the contest with all convenient speed. If the number of votes which are sought to be recounted, or the number of contests are such that the judge shall be of opinion that it will require additional judges to enable the contest or contests to be determined in time to print the ballots for the election, if there be only one judge for such county, he may obtain the service of any other superior judge, and the proceedings shall be the same as herein provided in counties where there is more than one superior court judge. If the proceeding is in a county or city and county where there is more than one superior court judge, the judge to whom the case or cases shall be assigned, shall notify the presiding judge forthwith, of the number of judges which he deems necessary to participate, in order to finish the contest or contests in time to print the ballots for the final election, and the said presiding judge shall forthwith designate as many judges as are necessary to such completion of such contest, by order in writing, and thereupon all of the judges so designated shall participate in the recount of such ballots and the giving of judgment in such contest or contests in the manner herein specified. The said judges so designated by said last-mentioned order, including the judge to whom said contests were originally assigned, shall convene upon notice from the judge to whom such contest or contests were originally assigned, and agree upon the precincts which each one of such judges will recount, sitting separately, and thereupon such recount shall proceed before each such judge sitting separately, as to the precincts so arranged, in such manner that the recount shall be made in such precincts before each such judge as to all the contests pending, so that the ballots opened before one judge need not be opened before another judge or department, and the proceedings before such judge in making such recount as to the appointment of the clerk and persons necessary to be assistants of the court in making the same, shall be the same as in contested elections, and the judge shall fix the pay or compensation for such persons, and require the payment each day in advance of the amount thereof, by the person who is proceeding with and requiring the recount of the precinct being recounted. When the recount shall have been completed in the manner herein required, if more than one judge has taken part therein, all the judges who took part shall assemble and make the decision of court, and if there be any differences of opinion, a majority of such judges shall finally determine all such questions, and give the decision or judgment of the court in such contest or contests, separately. Such decision or judgment of the court shall be final in every respect, and no appeal can be had therefrom. The judgment shall be served upon the county clerk or registrar of voters by delivery of a certified copy thereof, and may be enforced summarily in the manner provided in section twenty-seven of this act, and if the contest proceeds in more than one county, and the nominee is to be certified by the secretary of state from the compilation of election returns in his office, then the judgment in each county in which a contest may be had shall show what, if any changes in the returns in the office of the secretary of state relating to such county or city and county, ought to be made, and all such judgments shall be served upon the secretary of state, by the delivery of a certified copy, and he shall make such changes in the record in his office as such judgment or judgments require, and conform his compilation and his certificate of nomination in accordance therewith. If the office contested is one to be voted upon in more than one county, the time within which such contest may be brought in any county involved shall begin to run at the time of the declaration of the official canvass by the board of supervisors of the county last making such declaration. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1363.]

§ 29. Campaign expenses. No candidate for nomination to any elective office, including that of United States senator in congress, shall directly or indirectly pay, expend or contribute any money or other valuable thing, or promise so to do, except for lawful expenses. Lawful expenses as used in this section are limited to expenses for the following purposes only:

1. For the candidate's official filing fee.

2. For the preparing, printing, circulating, and verifying of nomination papers.

3. For the candidate's personal traveling expenses.

4. For rent and necessary furnishing of halls or rooms, during such candidacy, for public meetings or for committee headquarters.

5. For payment of speakers and musicians at public meetings and their necessary traveling expenses.

6. For printing and distribution of pamphlets, circulars, newspapers, cards, handbills, posters and announcements relative to candidates or political issues or principles.

7. For his share of the reasonable compensation of challengers at the polls.

8. For making canvassers of voters.

9. For clerk hire.

10. For conveying infirm or disabled voters to and from the polls.

11. For postage, expressage, telegraphing, and telephoning, relative to candidacy.

§ 30. Campaign expenses. Every person who shall be a candidate for nomination to any elective office shall make in duplicate, within fifteen days after the primary election, a verified statement, setting forth each and every sum of money contributed, disbursed, expended or promised by him, and, to the best of his knowledge and belief, by any and every other person or association of persons in his behalf wholly or partly in endeavoring to secure his nomination. This statement must show in detail all moneys paid, loaned, contributed, or otherwise furnished to him directly or indirectly in aid of his nomination, together with the name of the person or persons from whom such moneys were received; and must also show in detail, under each of the subdivisions of section 29 of this act, all moneys contributed, loaned, or expended by him directly or indirectly by himself or through any other person, in aid of his nomination, together with the name of the person or persons to whom such moneys were paid, or disbursed. Such statement must set forth that the affiant has used all reasonable diligence in its preparation, and that he same is true and is as full and explicit as he is able to make it. Within the time aforesaid the candidate shall file one copy of said statement with the officer with whom his nomination papers were filed, and the other with the recorder of the county or city and county in which he resides, who shall record the same in a book to be kept for that purpose, and to be open to public inspection. No officer shall issue any certificate of nomination to any person until such statement as herein provided has been filed and no other statement of expenses shall be required except that provided herein, and no fee or charge whatsoever shall be made or collected by any officer for the verifying, filing, or recording of such statements or a copy thereof. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1365.]

§ 31. Penalty. Any person violating any of the provisions of section 29 or section 30 of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon trial and conviction thereof, in addition to the sentence imposed by the court, he shall forfeit all right to the office for which he was a candidate at the time of violating the provisions aforesaid.

§ 32. Bribes. Penalty. 1. Any person who shall offer, or with knowledge of the same permit any person to offer for his benefit, any bribe to a voter to induce such voter to sign any nomination paper, and any person who shall accept such bribe or any promise of gain of any kind in the nature of a bribe as consideration for signing any nomination paper, whether such bribe or promise of gain in the nature of a bribe be offered or accepted before or after signing, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon trial and conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than three hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ten days nor more than one hundred and twenty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

2. Failure to file nomination papers. Any person who, being in possession of any nomination paper or papers and affidavits entitled to be filed under the provisions of this act, shall wrongfully either suppress, neglect or fail to cause the same to be filed at the proper time and in the proper place shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon trial and conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty days nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

3. Other offenses. Any act or omission declared to be an offense by the general laws of this state concerning primaries and elections shall also in like case be an offense concerning primary elections as provided for by this act, and shall be punished in the same manner and form as therein provided, and all the penalties and provisions of the law governing elections, except as herein otherwise provided, shall apply in equal force to primary elections as provided for by this act.

§ 33. Preparation of forms. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state and the attorney general to prepare on or before September 1, 1917, all forms necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, which forms shall be substantially followed in all primary elections held in pursuance hereof. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1366.]

§ 34. Title of act. This act shall be known as the direct primary law.

§ 35. Constitutionality of act. If any section, subdivision, sentence, clause, or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subdivision, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subdivisions, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

§ 36. Repeal. The act approved April 7, 1911, known as the direct primary law, and also the act approved December 24, 1911, amending sections 1, 3, 5, 7, 10, 12, 13, 22, 23, and 24 of the said direct primary law, are hereby repealed; and all other acts or parts of acts, inconsistent with or in conflict with the provisions of this act, are also hereby repealed.

ACT 1010a.

An act making an appropriation to pay the expenses of electors of President and Vice-President of the United States of America.

[Approved January 18, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1. In effect immediately.]

The act appropriated $900 for the purpose indicated.

TITLE 163.

ELECTRICITY.

ACT 1025.

An act to regulate the construction and maintenance of subways, manholes, and underground rooms, chambers, and excavations, used to contain, encase, cover, or conduct wires, cables, or appliances to conduct, carry, or handle electricity, and providing the punishment for the violation thereof.

Amended 1917, p. 801.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Regulation of. No commission, officer, agent, or employee of the state of California or of any city and county or city or county or other political subdivision thereof, and no other person, firm or corporation, shall build or rebuild or cause to be built or rebuilt within the state of California:

(a) Dimensions of electric wire subways. Any subway, manhole, chamber, or underground room used or to be used to contain, encase, cover or conduct any wire, cable, or appliance, to conduct, carry or handle electricity, unless such subway, manhole, chamber or underground room shall have an inside measurement of not less than four feet at the maximum points between the side walls thereof, and between the end walls thereof, and not less than five feet at all points between the floor thereof, and the top or ceiling thereof, or if circular in shape, at least four feet diameter inside measurement, and not less than five feet at all points between the floor and ceiling thereof; provided, however, that this paragraph shall not be held to apply to any such subway, manhole, chamber or underground room, within which it is not intended or required that any human being perform work or labor or be employed; further provided, that the provisions of this paragraph (a) shall not be held to apply where satisfactory proof shall be submitted to the railroad commission of the state of California, that it is impracticable or physically impossible to comply with this law within the space or location so designated by the proper municipal authorities.

(b) Opening to outer air. In any subway, manhole, chamber or underground room used or to be used to contain, encase, cover or conduct any wire, cable or appliance to conduct, carry or handle electricity, any opening to outer air which is less than twenty-six inches if circular in shape, or less than twenty-four inches by twenty-six inches clear measurement if rectangular in shape.

(c) Openings to be not less than three feet from street-car track. In any subway, manhole, chamber or underground room, used or to be used to contain, encase, cover or conduct any wire, cable or appliance to conduct, carry or handle electricity, any opening which is at the surface of the ground, within the distance of three feet at any point from the rail of any railway or street-car track; provided, that the provisions of this paragraph (c) shall not be held to apply where satisfactory proof shall be submitted to the railroad commission of the state of California, that it is impracticable or physically impossible to comply with this law in the space or location so designated by the proper municipal authorities.

(d) Floor of subway to be of concrete, etc. Any subway, manhole, chamber or underground room, used or to be used to contain, encase, cover or conduct any wire, cable, or appliance to conduct, carry, or handle electricity, unless the floor of such subway, manhole, chamber or underground room is made of stone, concrete brick or other similar material not subject to decomposition; provided, that this paragraph (d) shall not be held to apply to any such subway, manhole, chamber or underground room within which it is not intended or required that any human being perform work or labor or be employed.

(e) Subways to be kept free from seepage. Or maintain any subway, manhole, chamber or underground room used, or to be used, to contain, encase, cover or conduct any wire, cable or appliance to conduct, carry or handle electricity, unless such subway, manhole, chamber or underground room is kept at all times in a sanitary condition, and free from stagnant water, or seepage, or other drainage, or any offensive matter dangerous to health, either by sewer connection or otherwise; provided, that this paragraph (e) shall not be held to apply to any such subway, manhole, chamber or underground room, within which it is not intended or required that any human being perform work or labor, or be employed. [Amendment approved May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 801.]

§ 2. Penalty for violation. Any violation of any provision of this act shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and shall be punishable upon conviction by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. [Amendment approved May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 802.]

§ 5. Power of railroad commission. The railroad commission of the state of California is hereby vested with authority and power to inspect all work which is included in the provisions of this act, and to make such further additions or changes as said commission may deem necessary for the purpose of safety to employees and the general public, and the said railroad commission is hereby charged with the duty of seeing that all the provisions of this act are properly enforced. [New section added May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 802.]

TITLE 164.

ELEVATORS.

ACT 1025b.

An act to provide for the periodical inspection of elevators operated in places of employment in this state; to require a permit for such operation; to make it a misdemeanor to operate such elevator without such permit; and to provide for an injunction against such operation if dangerous to the life or safety of employees; to vest in the industrial accident commission the power to make such inspections and determine the competency of inspectors and require reports of inspections and to issue such permits and prescribe maximum fees therefor.

§ 1. Permit to operate elevator. Injunction to restrain operation without permit. No power elevator or hand-power elevator, unless exempted in the following section, shall be operated in any place of employment in this state unless a permit, as hereinafter provided, for the operation thereof, shall have been issued by the industrial accident commission, and unless such permit shall remain in full force and effect. The operation of such elevator by any person owning or having the custody, management or operation of such elevator without such permit shall constitute a misdemeanor, and each day of operation of such elevator without such permit shall constitute a separate offense; provided, that no prosecution shall be maintained where the issuance or renewal of such permit shall have been requested and shall remain unacted upon. Whenever any elevator in any place of employment is being operated without the permit herein required, and is in such condition that its use is dangerous to the life or safety of any employee, the industrial accident commission, a commissioner or any safety inspector thereof, or any person affected thereby may apply to the superior court of the county in which such elevator is located for an injunction restraining the operation of such elevator until such condition shall be corrected. Proof by certification of the said commission that such permit has not been issued, together with the affidavit of any safety inspector of the commission that the operation of such elevator is dangerous to the life or safety of any employee, shall be sufficient ground for the immediate granting of a temporary restraining order.

§ 2. Exemptions. Elevators under the jurisdiction of the United States government, and all elevators operated by employers not subject to the safety provisions of the workmen's compensation, insurance and safety act of 1917 and acts amendatory thereof, are exempted from the provisions of this act.

§ 3. Inspection of elevators. Order for repairs. Temporary permit to operate. The industrial accident commission shall cause power elevators to be inspected, not less frequently than twice each year and hand-power elevators not less frequently than once each year. If such elevators shall be found upon such inspection to be in a safe condition for operation, a permit shall be issued by said commission for their operation for not longer than six months for a power elevator or longer than one year for a hand-power elevator, which shall be the permit referred to in section one. If such inspection shall show such elevator to be in an unsafe condition, the commission, or a commissioner, may issue a preliminary order requiring such repairs or alterations to be made to such elevator as may be necessary to render it safe, and may order the use of such elevator discontinued until such repairs or alterations are made or such unsafe conditions are removed. Unless such preliminary order be complied with, a hearing before the commission, a commissioner or referee of such commission shall be allowed, upon request, at which the owner, operator or other person in charge of such elevator shall have opportunity to appear and show cause why he should not comply with said order. If it shall thereafter appear to the commission that such elevator is unsafe and that the requirements contained in said preliminary order should be complied with, or that other things should be done to make such elevator safe, the commission may order or confirm the withholding of the permit to operate such elevator and may make such requirements as it deems proper for its repair or alteration or for the correction of such unsafe condition. Such order may thereafter be reheard by the commission or reviewed by the courts in the manner specified by the workmen's compensation, insurance and safety act of 1917 for safety orders, and not otherwise. If the operation of such elevator during the making of repairs or alterations is not immediately dangerous to the safety of employees, the commission may, in its discretion, issue a temporary permit for the operation of such elevator for not to exceed thirty days during the making of such repairs or alterations. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed as a limitation upon the authority of the commission to prescribe or enforce general or special safety orders.

§ 4. Inspectors. Certificate of competency. The commission may, in its discretion, cause the inspection herein provided for to be made either by its safety inspectors or by any qualified elevator inspector employed by an insurance company, or may issue its permit, based upon a certificate of inspection issued by qualified elevator inspectors of any municipality, upon proof to its satisfaction that the safety requirements of such municipality are equal to the minimum safety requirements for elevators adopted by the commission; provided, that such persons making inspections shall first secure from the commission a certificate of competency to make such inspections. The commission is hereby vested with full power and authority to determine the competency of any applicant for such certificate, either by examination or by other satisfactory proof of qualifications. The commission may rescind at any time, upon good cause being shown therefor, any certificate of competency issued by it to an elevator inspector, or may at any time, upon good cause being shown therefore, and after notice and an opportunity to be heard, revoke any permit to operate such elevator. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to limit the authority of the commission to prescribe or enforce general or special safety orders.

§ 5. Fees for inspection. The commission may fix and collect such fees for the inspection of elevators as it may deem necessary, not to exceed two dollars for each inspection or four dollars per year for each elevator. Such fees must be paid before the issuance of any permit to operate such elevator. No fee shall be charged by the commission where an inspection has been made by an inspector of any insurance company or municipality, if such inspector holds a certificate of competency from said commission. All fees collected by the commission under this act shall be paid into the accident prevention fund.

§ 6. Report of inspections. Every inspector so certified shall forward to the commission, on the forms provided by it, within twenty-one days after such inspection is made, a report of such inspection, in default of which his certificate of competency may be canceled.

TITLE 174.

EUREKA.

Charter of Eureka. [Stats. 1895, p. 356.]

Amended 1907, p. 1172; 1911, p. 2036; 1913, p. 1544; 1917, p. 1742.

EXPLOSIVES.

ACT 1092.

An act relating to explosives and prescribing regulations for the transporation, storage and selling of explosives, and providing penalties for the violation of this act.

[Became a law under constitutional provision without governor's approval, March 21, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 391.]

Amended 1917, p. 695.

§ 3. Magazines. Magazines in which explosives may lawfully be stored or kept shall be two classes, as follows:

(a) First class. Magazines of the first class shall consist of those containing explosives exceeding one hundred pounds, and shall be constructed wholly of brick, wood covered with iron, or other fireproof material, and must be fireproof, and, except magazines where gunpowder or black blasting powder only is stored must be bullet proof, and shall have no openings except for ventilation and entrance. The doors of such magazine must be fireproof and bullet proof, and at all times kept closed and locked, except when necessarily opened for the purpose of storing or removing explosives therein or therefrom, by persons lawfully entitled to enter the same. Every such magazine shall have sufficient openings for ventilation thereof, which must be screened in such manner as to prevent the entrance of sparks or fire through the same. Upon each side of such magazine there shall at all times be kept conspicuously posted a sign, with the words, "magazine," "explosives," "dangerous," legibly printed thereon in letters not less than six inches high. No matches, fire or lighting device of any kind except electric light shall at any time be permitted in any such magazine. No package of explosives shall at any time be opened in any magazine. No blasting caps, or other detonating or fulminating caps, or detonators, or electric fuzees, shall be kept or stored in any magazine in which explosives are kept or stored, but such caps, detonators or fuzees may be kept or stored in a magazine constructed as above provided which must be located at least one hundred feet from any magazine in which explosives are kept or stored. Magazines in which explosives are kept or stored must be detached and must be located at least one hundred feet from any other structure.

(b) Quantity depends on distance. On and after January 1, 1919, the quantity of explosives that may be lawfully had, kept or stored in any magazine shall depend upon the distance that such magazine is situated from buildings, highways, or railroads, and upon the protection afforded by natural or efficient artificial barricades to such buildings, highways or railroads. Whenever any of the quantities given in column one of the quantity and distance table hereinafter set forth is had, kept or stored in any magazine in this state, the distance that any quantity given in column one of said table may be lawfully had, kept or stored from buildings is the distance set opposite said quantity in column two of said table, and the distance that any quantity in column one of said table, may be lawfully had, kept or stored from railroads is the distance set opposite said quantity in column three of said table, and the distance that any quantity given in column one of said table may be lawfully had, kept or stored from highways is the distance set opposite said quantity in column four of said table. The quantity and distance table governing the keeping or storing of explosives is as follows:

QUANTITY AND DISTANCE TABLE.

Whenever the building, railroad or highway to be protected is effectually screened from the magazine, where explosives are had, kept or stored, either by natural features of the ground or by an efficient artificial barricade of such height that any straight line drawn from the top or any side wall of the magazine to any part of the building to be protected, will pass through such intervening natural or efficient artificial barricade, and any straight line drawn from the top of any side wall of the magazine to any point twelve feet above the center of the railroad or highway to be protected will pass through such intervening natural or efficient artificial barricade, the applicable distances given in column two, three and four of the quantity and distance table may be reduced one-half.

If at any time the distances from a magazine to a building, highway or railroad be decreased through the construction of a new building, highway or railroad or by any other means, then the amounts of explosives which may be lawfully had, kept or stored in said magazine must be reduced to correspond with the quantity and distance table.

"Building." "Highway." "Railroad." "Efficient artificial barricade." The term "building" when used in the foregoing table shall be held to mean and include only any building regularly occupied in whole or in part as a habitation for human beings, and any store, church, schoolhouse, railway station or other public place of assembly.

The term "highway" when used in the foregoing table shall be held to mean public streets or public road, and shall not include roads constructed and maintained by private persons.

The term "railroad" which used in the foregoing table shall be held to mean and include any steam, electric or other railroad that carries passengers or articles of commerce for hire.

The term "efficient artificial barricade" when used in the foregoing shall be held to mean an artificial mound or properly revetted wall of earth of a thickness of not less than three feet. The provisions of this subsection (b) shall not apply to mining or quarrying operations. Nothing contained in this subsection (b) shall be held to prohibit the keeping or storing of explosives at any explosive manufacturing plant which was actually used in manufacturing explosives prior to the fifteenth day of April, nineteen hundred seventeen.

(c) Second class. Storage in tunnels. Magazines of the second class shall consist of a stout box, and not more than one hundred pounds of explosives shall at any time be kept or stored therein, and, except when necessarily opened for use by authorized persons, shall at all times be kept securely locked. Upon each such magazine there shall at all times be kept conspicuously posted a sign with the words, "magazine," "explosives," "dangerous," legibly printed thereon.

Nothing in this section contained shall be held to prohibit the keeping or storing of explosives in any tunnel, where no person or persons are employed; provided, always, that any tunnel so used for the storage of explosives shall have fireproof doors, which must at all times be kept closed and locked, except when necessarily opened for the purpose of storing or removing explosives therein or therefrom, by persons lawfully entitled to enter the same. The door of such tunnel magazine shall at all times have legibly printed thereon the words, "magazine," "explosives," "dangerous." [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 695.]

§ 11. Explosives in mines. [Repealed May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 698.]

TITLE 176.

EXPOSITIONS.

ACT 1093a.

An act giving and granting to the board of park commissioners of the city of San Diego the right to use and the right to authorize the use of Balboa Park in said city for exposition purposes.

Amended 1916, Stats. 1916 (Extra Session), p. 43; 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 1.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Use of San Diego park for exposition. The board of park commissioners of the city of San Diego, California, is hereby authorized and empowered to use, or authorize any exposition company to use, any part or portion of the lands set aside as a public park by resolution of the board of trustees of the city of San Diego and approved and ratified by an act of the legislature of the state of California, approved February 4, 1870, for the purpose of giving an exposition in the year 1917 to celebrate the completion of the Panama canal. [Amendment approved January 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1. Section 1 was also amended at the Extra Session of 1916; Stats. 1916 (Extra Session), p. 43.]

§ 2. Emergency measure. This act is hereby declared to be an emergency measure within the meaning of section one, article four, of the constitution of the state of California, and shall take effect immediately.

The facts constituting such emergency are as follows: The directors of the Panama-California International Exposition and the members of the board of park commissioners of the city of San Diego are desirous of continuing the Panama-California International Exposition, situated in the city park of San Diego, for a further period of time, not to exceed one year. A large amount of money has been expended in the permanent improvement of the exposition site in the park, and many of the buildings contain exhibits that cannot be removed for some time. Therefore, it is necessary for legislative action immediately, in order to authorize the maintenance of such an exposition for the further period of time—the authorization of the state of California for the maintenance of said exposition having expired on the first day of January, 1917.

FEES.

ACT 1119.

To regulate fees and salaries of certain officers.

Amended 1869–70, pp. 677, 680; 1871–72, pp. 140, 178, 188, 219, 910; 1873–74, pp. 102, 204, 212, 885; 1877–78, pp. 134, 738; 1917, p. 788.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 28. Fees of grand and trial jurors. Grand and trial jurors shall receive the fees as established by law. No juror who shall be excused from attendance upon his own motion, on the first day of his appearance, in obedience to the venire, shall receive per diem, but mileage only In civil actions tried by a jury the party or parties to the action who shall announce that a trial by jury is required shall pay the trial jury their per diem fees as jurors but shall recover the fees so paid, except in actions to recover the possession of personal property where the value of the property recovered amounts to less than three hundred dollars and in actions for the recovery of money or damages where the recovery is less than three hundred dollars, as costs from the party or parties against whom the verdict is rendered. For that purpose the party or parties to the action who shall announce that a trial by jury is required shall be required during the trial to deposit daily with the clerk of the court, at or before the time the case each day is called for trial, the amount of money necessary to pay in full the trial jury fees, for such day. Out of the total sum of money so deposited the clerk shall pay daily to each trial juror the fees to which he shall be entitled as provided by law. Clerks of courts of record shall keep an account of all moneys received for trials by each juror during the term, and if the sum so received by such juror shall not amount to the jury fees provided by law per day, he shall deliver to such juror a certificate of the time for which he is entitled to receive pay, which shall be paid out of the county treasury as other county dues. If in any trial in a civil case the jury be for any cause discharged without finding a verdict, the fees of the jury shall be paid by the party who shall have announced that a trial by jury is required, but may be recovered as costs if he afterwards obtain judgment; and until they are paid no further proceedings shall be allowed in the action. On the first day of each regular meeting of the board of supervisors the clerks of courts of record shall file with the clerk of the board of supervisors of their respective counties a detailed statement, containing a list of the jurors, and the amount of fees earned by each juror and paid out of the county treasury. No allowances shall be made to any clerk for any service performed by him, until the statement required by this section shall have been filed as aforesaid.

The amendatory act of 1917 contained the following provision:

§ 2. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed. [Amendment approved May 21, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 788.]

TITLE 182.

FELTON.

An act to incorporate the town of Felton in the county of Santa Cruz, state of California. [Approved March 8, 1878. Stats. 1877–78, p. 185.]

Repealed by act approved April 20, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 151.

TITLE 188.

FIRE.

ACT 1171.

An act to provide for the fighting of forest fires in the San Dimas canyon in the San Gabriel mountains, California, and to make an appropriation therefor.

§ 1. Appropriation: prevention of forest fires in San Dimas canyon. Out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, there is hereby appropriated annually the sum of eight hundred dollars, during the sixty-ninth and seventieth fiscal years, which money shall be used and expended for the purpose of preventing and extinguishing forest fires and the constructing and maintaining of fire trails and firebreaks in the San Dimas canyon in the San Gabriel mountains, California, and the canyons adjacent thereto.

§ 2. Contract with San Dimas Fruit Exchange. The state board of control is hereby authorized and empowered to enter into a contract or contracts with the San Dimas Fruit Exchange, a corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the state of California, for the purpose of protecting said San Dimas canyon from devastation by fire; provided, however, that the expenditures for such purposes shall not be in excess of the amount or amounts expended by the said San Dimas Fruit Exchange; and provided, further, that in the event that the said San Dimas Fruit Exchange, the San Antonio Water Company and the county of Los Angeles do not contribute an amount equal to the appropriation hereby made for the purposes hereinbefore specified, the state board of control shall not have power to enter into such contract or contracts with the said San Dimas Fruit Exchange for the expenditure of the said money.

An act to provide for the prevention of forest fires in the San Antonio canyon in the San Gabriel mountains, California, and to make an appropriation therefor. [Approved May 14, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 526. In effect July 27, 1917.]

TITLE 189.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

ACT 1173.

An act to create a firemen's relief, health, and life insurance and pension fund in the several counties, cities and counties, cities, and towns of the state.

Amended 1913, p. 690; 1917, p. 119.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 12. Moneys to be paid into firemen's pension fund. The board of supervisors, or other governing authority, of any county, city and county, city or town, shall, for the purposes of said "firemen's relief and pension fund," hereinbefore mentioned, direct the payment annually, and when the tax levy is made, into said fund, of the following moneys:

First—All rewards given or paid to members of such firemen's force.

Second—All fines imposed upon members of such fire department in keeping with rules and regulations of the department.

Third—An amount equal to two per cent of the salaries paid to the firemen of such county, city and county, city or town during the preceding year, payable from the funds of such municipal corporation.

Fourth—One-half of all fines imposed and collected for violation of laws pertaining to precaution against fire. [Amendment approved April 14, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 119.]

TITLE 190.

FIRE DISTRICTS.

ACT 1185.

An act to provide for the formation, government, operation and dissolution of Tamalpais forest fire district, to prevent and extinguish forest, brush and grass fires therein, and protect persons and property from injury, loss or damage resulting from any such fires; and to provide for the assesment, levy, collection and disbursement of taxes and revenues therein, and the contribution or payment of public funds therefor.

§ 1. "Tamalpais forest fire district" organized. There is hereby organized, created, established and incorporated a forest fire district within the county of Marin, to be known as "Tamalpais forest fire district," the boundaries of which are hereby established, described and determined as follows, to wit: Commencing at the point where the electric pole line of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company running from the Alto power-house to Bolinas first joins the state highway between the town of Mill Valley and Alto; running thence along the line of said pole line, southerly, southwesterly, and westerly across the Rancho Saucelito and the Rancho Las Baulinas until the said pole line crosses the county road along the easterly side of Bolinas inner bay or lagoon; running thence northwesterly along said county road to its intersection with the lower county road leading from Bolinas to Olema; running thence northwesterly along said Bolinas and Olema county road to its intersection with the Tocaloma road at the village of Olema; running thence easterly along said county road leading to Tocaloma to its intersection with the county road running along the easterly bank of Paper Mill creek; running thence northerly and easterly along said county road running along the easterly bank of Paper Mill creek to the mouth of Nicasio creek; running thence up the county road running up Nicasio creek, in an easterly and southerly direction, through the village of Nicasio to the intersection of the Nicasio and San Geronimo county road with the Lucas Valley county road; thence easterly along said Lucas Valley county road to its intersection with the state highway at Las Gallinas; thence southerly along the state highway as at present laid out to the northerly corporate limits of the city of San Rafael; thence westerly along said northerly corporate limits of said city of San Rafael to the easterly corporate limits of the town of San Anselmo; thence southerly along the easterly corporate limits of the town of San Anselmo to the easterly corporate limits of the town of Ross; thence southerly along the easterly corporate limits of the town of Ross and westerly along the southerly corporate limits of the town of Ross to the intersection thereof with the state highway; thence southerly along the state highway to the northwesterly corporate limits of the town of Larkspur; thence northerly, easterly and southerly, along the corporate limits of the town of Larkspur to their intersection with the northerly corporate limits of the town of Corte Madera; thence easterly, southerly and westerly along the corporate limits of the town of Corte Madera to their intersection with the state highway; and thence southerly along the state highway to the point of beginning.

§ 2. Appointment of board of trustees. Term. Within thirty days after this act shall go into effect, a governing board of trustees for said district shall be appointed. Said board shall consist of one trustee to be appointed from said district at large by the board of supervisors of said county of Marin, and of one trustee to be appointed from each municipality lying wholly or partially within said district by the governing board of such municipality. The governing board of such district shall be called "the board of trustees of Tamalpais forest fire district." Each trustee appointed by a municipal board shall be an elector of the municipality from which he is appointed, and each appointee of the board of supervisors shall be an elector of the district. All such trustees shall hold office for the term of two years from and after the second day of the calendar year succeeding their appointment; provided, however, that the first board of trustees appointed under the provisions of this act shall, at their first meeting, so classify themselves by lot that one-half of their number, if the total membership is an even number, and if uneven then that a majority of their number, shall go out of office at the expiration of one year and the remainder at the expiration of two years, from the second day of the calendar year succeeding their appointment.

of the board shall serve without compensation provided that the necessary expenses of each member for actual traveling expenses on meetings or business connected with said board shall be allowed and paid. In event of the resignation, death or disability of any member, his successor shall be appointed by the board of supervisors, if such board originally made such appointment, or by the governing board of the appropriate municipality, if such appointment were originally made by the board of a municipality. The board of trustees shall provide for the time and place of holding its regular meetings, and the manner of calling the same, and shall establish rules for its proceedings. Special meetings may be called by three trustees and notice of the holding thereof shall be given to each member at least three hours before the meeting. All sessions, whether regular or special, shall be open to the public and a majority of the members of the board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

§ 4. Powers of board of trustees. The board of trustees of such district shall have power to take all necessary or proper steps for the prevention or extinguishing of forest, brush or grass fires within the district, and for the protection of persons or property from any injury, loss or damage resulting from any such fire or fires; to purchase such supplies and materials and to employ such labor or skilled services as may be necessary or proper in furtherance of the objects of this act, and if necessary or proper in the furtherance of the same to build, construct and thereafter to keep clear and maintain necessary fire roads or fire trails, hydrants or other fire-fighting apparatus upon the lands within the district or adjacent thereto, and to acquire by purchase, condemnation, license or other lawful means, in the name of the district, all necessary lands, rights of way, easements or property or material requisite or necessary for any of such purposes; to make contracts, to indemnify or compensate any owner of land or other property for any injury or damage necessarily caused by the exercise of the powers by this act conferred, or arising out of the use, taking or damage of such property for any such purposes, and generally to do any and all things necessary or incident to the powers hereby granted and to carry out the objects specified herein.

§ 5. Estimate of money needed. "Tamalpais forest fire district tax." Levy and collection. The board of trustees of said district shall at least fifteen days before the first day of the month in which the board of supervisors of Marin county is required by law to levy the amount of taxes required for county purposes, furnish to said board of supervisors and to the county auditor of said county, respectively, an estimate in writing of the amount of money necessary for all purposes required under the provisions of this act during the next ensuing fiscal year. The board of supervisors of such county shall thereafter at the time and in the manner of levying other county taxes levy upon all of the taxable property within the district and cause to be collected a tax, to be known as the "Tamalpais forest fire district tax," the maximum rate of which must not be greater than sufficient to raise the amount estimated to be raised by the said board of trustees of the district, nor in any event shall such tax exceed ten cents on each one hundred dollars of taxable property in such district.

All taxes levied under the provisions of this section shall be computed and entered on the county assessment-roll of said county by the county auditor thereof, and collected at the same time and in the same manner as state and county taxes, and when collected shall be paid into the county treasury of said county for the use of said district.

The funds shall be withdrawn from said county treasury upon the warrant of the board of trustees of such district signed by the president or acting president of the board, and countersigned by its secretary.

§ 6. Proposal of amount to be paid toward expenses by state, etc. Governing board authorized to make proposal. The board of trustees of such forest fire district prior to its estimate of the amount of money necessary for all purposes of the district for the ensuing fiscal year, as hereinabove provided, may request from the governing board or body having jurisdiction and control over any forest, brush or grass lands within such district owned or held for any purpose whatsoever by the state of California, or any county, city, township, municipal corporation, public corporation, or other political corporation or subdivision of the state, a proposal or promise as to what amount, if any, the state of California, or any county, city, township, municipal corporation, public corporation or other political corporation or subdivision of the state owning or holding such lands, will agree to pay to such district towards its necessary expenses for the next ensuing fiscal year, or such proposal may be for the next two ensuing fiscal years in the event that such lands shall be under the control of the state of California, in consideration of said district taking over the supervision and concurrent control, as hereinafter set forth, of such lands so owned or held, only, however, in so far as is necessary or proper to prevent or extinguish forest, brush or grass fires thereon or within such district, or to protect persons or property from any injury, loss or damage resulting from any such fire, and said governing body having jurisdiction and control over such lands is hereby authorized and empowered, for the consideration aforesaid, to propose or promise, as aforesaid, and so obligate the state of California or any county, city, township, municipal corporation, public corporation or other political corporation or subdivision of the state owning or holding such lands respectively, to such district upon its board of trustees accepting such proposal for such purpose, whereupon such agreement shall be duly executed in the form of a contract, and such district shall thereupon take over the supervision and control of the prevention and extinguishing of forest, brush or grass fires upon such lands in the manner aforesaid for the next ensuing fiscal year, or for the life of such contract.

§ 7. Annexation of territory. Petition. Proposition submitted to electors. If majority vote favors. Territory deemed added when. Exclusion of land. Petition. Hearing. Notice. Deemed excluded when. Any territory, incorporated or unincorporated, lying adjacent and contiguous to said forest fire district, and within the same county therewith, may be added and annexed to such district, at any time, upon proceedings being had and taken as in this act provided; and any territory, incorporated or unincorporated, lying within said district, may be withdrawn and excluded therefrom upon proceedings being had and taken as in this act provided. The board of trustees of such district upon receiving a written petition containing a description of the new territory sought to be annexed to such district, signed by the owners comprising more than one-half of the assessed value of such territory as shown by the last county assessment-roll, must thereupon submit to the electors of the district and also to the electors residing in the territory sought to be annexed, the proposition of whether such proposed territory shall be annexed and added to such district. The proposition to be submitted to the electors at such election, both within said district and within said territory so proposed to be annexed, shall be as follows: "for annexation," or "against annexation," or words equivalent thereto. Such election must be called and held, and notice thereof shall be published for at least four weeks prior to such election in a newspaper printed and published in such district, and also in a newspaper, if any, printed and published in such territory so proposed to be annexed. The board of trustees, shall canvass, separately, the votes cast within said district, and the votes cast within said territory so proposed to be annexed, and if it shall appear from such canvass that a majority of all the ballots cast in such district and a majority of all the ballots cast in such territory so proposed to be annexed are in favor of annexation, the board of trustees shall certify such fact to the secretary of state describing said property proposed to be annexed and upon receipt of such last mentioned certificate, the secretary of state shall thereupon issue his certificate reciting that the territory (describing the same) has been annexed and added to the Tamalpais forest fire district and a copy of such certificate of the secretary of state shall be transmitted to and filed with the county clerk of said county in which such forest fire district is situated. From and after the date of such certificate the territory named therein shall be deemed added and annexed to and form a part of said forest fire district, with all the rights, privileges and powers set forth in this act and necessarily incident thereto. If the property so proposed to be annexed is included within a municipality, consent to such annexation shall first be obtained from the governing board of such municipality, and an authenticated copy of the resolution or order of such board so consenting to such annexation, shall be attached to the petition, and be made a part thereof. At any time after the organization of said forest fire district, and the appointment of the board of trustees thereof, the owner or owners of the record title to any land or lands within said district may file a petition with the board of supervisors of the county praying that his or their lands be excluded from the district; provided, that no petition shall be presented or received for the exclusion of lands which, either by themselves, or together with other lands included in the same petition, do not lie adjacent to the exterior boundaries of said forest fire district. At its first regular meeting after the filing of such petition the board of supervisors shall, by its order, set said petition for hearing, which hearing shall not be more than forty days nor less than ten days from the date of its said order. Notice of such hearing shall be mailed to the petitioners, and to the members of the board of trustees of the forest fire district at least one week before the hearing. At such hearing, or at any continuation thereof, the board of supervisors shall hear and determine the facts urged for or against said petition, and shall make a finding determining whether or not the said lands petitioned to be withdrawn, or any part thereof, shall be withdrawn from the district. In case such finding shall be in favor of excluding such lands, or any portion thereof from the district, the board of supervisors shall make its order certifying such fact to the secretary of state, describing said property proposed to be excluded by said findings, and upon receipt of such last mentioned certificate, the secretary of state shall issue his certificate reciting that the territory (describing the same) has been excluded from the Tamalpais forest fire district, and a copy of such certificate of the secretary of state shall be transmitted to and filed with the county clerk of the county of Marin. From and after the date of such certificate, the territory described therein shall be deemed excluded from said forest fire district.

§ 8. Dissolution of district. The district may at any time be dissolved upon the vote of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof, upon an election called either by its board of trustees or by petition signed by twenty-five per cent of the registered voters within the district upon the question of dissolution, and the proposition which shall be submitted to the electors at such election shall be as follows: "Shall the district be dissolved?" Such election must be called and held; and notice thereof shall be published for at least four weeks prior to such election in a newspaper printed and published in such district. If two-thirds of the votes at such election shall be in favor of the dissolution of the district, the board of trustees shall certify such fact to the secretary of state, and upon receipt of such last mentioned certificate, the secretary of state shall thereupon issue his certificate reciting that said forest fire district has been dissolved, and a copy of such certificate of the secretary of state shall be transmitted to and filed with the county clerk of said county in which such forest fire district is situated. From and after the date of such certificate the district named therein shall be deemed dissolved, and the property of the district shall thereupon vest in the county wherein said district is situate, if the district at the time of its dissolution comprises unincorporated territory alone, and if it comprises incorporated territory alone, or partly incorporated and partly unincorporated territory, then in such event its property shall be ratably apportioned amongst the several municipalities and the county in proportion to the assessed value of the property included within said district as shown upon the last county assessment-roll; provided, however, that any real property, easements or rights of way belonging to said district shall in such event remain the property of the municipality wherein the same is situate, if situated within incorporated territory, otherwise the same shall remain the property of the county.

§ 9. Publication of notices. Words defined. Every notice herein required to be published may be published in a daily or weekly or semi-weekly newspaper; and if there is no daily, or weekly or semi-weekly newspaper published within the district or within a subdivision thereof or other territory wherein the same is required to be published, then such notice shall be posted for the length of time herein required for the publication of the same in three public places of such district or such subdivision thereof or such other territory as the case may be. The term "municipality," as used in this act, shall include a city or town, and shall be understood and so construed as to include, and is hereby declared to include, all corporations heretofore organized and now existing, and those hereafter organized, for municipal purposes. The words "district" shall apply, unless otherwise expressed or used, to said forest fire district formed under the provisions of this act, and the word "trustees," and the words "board of trustees," shall apply to the trustees and to the board of trustees of such district.

§ 10. Provision optional and permissive. The provision herein contained for the entering into proposals and contracts with said forest fire district by the state of California, or any county, city, township, municipal corporation, public corporation or other political corporation or subdivision of this state, is hereby declared to be optional and permissive and no further authority of law shall be required for such proposals or contracts than that herein contained, and no further authority of law shall be required than that contained in this act for the levy of taxes by boards of supervisors for the purposes herein specified, and no further authority shall be required by law for the bringing of actions in eminent domain, for the acquiring by said forest fire district of rights of way for fire roads or trails, and easements to cut timber, brush or grass thereon, and to maintain the same, than the authority contained in this act.

§ 11. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portion of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

FOODS.

ACT 1206.

An act providing for the inspection of animals slaughtered for human food, providing for the inspection of the meat and meat food products of such animals, providing for the collection of fees to defray the expenses incurred by maintaining such inspection, providing for the appointment and duties of officials to carry into effect the provisions of this act, providing for the marking of carcasses and parts thereof, and providing a penalty for violation thereof.

§ 1. Inspection of slaughtering establishments by state veterinarian. Any person, firm or corporation in the state of California, engaged in the slaughtering of cattle, sheep, swine, or goats, desiring to have the healthfulness of the meat and meat food products of such animals certified to, may make application for the inauguration of an inspection service in such establishment. Said application shall be in writing addressed to the state veterinarian of California, and shall be made on blanks which will be furnished by said state veterinarian. In such application such applicant for inspection shall agree to comply with the provisions of this act and to maintain said establishment in a clean and sanitary manner. Upon receipt of said application the state veterinarian shall make an inspection of said establishment and if found clean and sanitary, and properly equipped to conduct its business in a clean and sanitary manner, he shall inaugurate an inspection service therein, and shall give to such establishment an official number, and this number shall be used to mark the meat and meat food products of the establishment as hereinafter provided. Such an establishment shall thereafter be known as "Official Establishment No. ——."

§ 2. Fees. The cost of such inspection service shall be borne by the establishment where it is maintained and shall be paid for in the following manner: When, in the opinion of the state veterinarian, the volume of business is sufficient to occupy the continuous services of one inspector, such establishment shall pay a fee of one hundred fifty dollars per month. When, in the opinion of the state veterinarian, the services of more than one inspector are required to properly carry on the work, the fee in such cases shall be one hundred fifty dollars per month for the first inspector, and one hundred twenty-five dollars per month for each additional inspector. When, in the opinion of the state veterinarian, the inspection work in two or more neighboring establishments can be properly supervised by one inspector, said state veterinarian may, in such cases, probate the fees among such establishments, but in no instance where only one inspector is employed to supervise the work in more than one establishment shall the aggregate fees be less than one hundred fifty dollars per month, and in no such instance shall the individual fees be less than fifty dollars per month. All such fees shall be paid during the first week of January, April, July and October of each year and they shall be paid in advance for the ensuing three months. Such fees shall be paid to the state veterinarian, who shall at least as often as once each month and oftener if required to do so, report to the state controller the total amount of fees collected, and at the same time he shall pay into the state treasury the entire amount of said receipts. All such receipts shall be credited to the meat hygiene fund, which fund is hereby created, out of which shall be paid the salaries of inspectors who are appointed in accordance with the provisions of this act, as well as other expenses that may be incurred incidental thereto. In no instance, however, shall any of the fees collected as provided herein be refunded. The state veterinarian is hereby authorizd to appoint such inspectors as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

§ 3. Hours for slaughtering. All slaughtering in each official establishment shall be conducted between the hours of seven o'clock A. M. and seven o'clock P. M. of any one week day, unless a special permit in writing or by telegram, authorizing slaughtering at any other time, is granted by the state veterinarian. The manager or other person in charge of such establishment shall inform the inspector when work has been concluded for the day, and of the day and hour when work will be resumed. Where one inspector is detailed to conduct the work at two or more establishments where few animals are slaughtered, the inspector may designate the hours for work.

§ 4. Ante-mortem examination of animals. In each official establishment an ante-mortem examination shall be made of all cattle, sheep, swine and goats about to be slaughtered, and satisfactory facilities shall be provided for conducting such examinations, and for separating and holding apart from passed animals those that are unfit for immediate slaughter.

§ 5. Parts inspected. Mark. In each official establishment a careful inspection shall be made of all animals at the time of slaughter. The head and tongue, tail, thymus gland, and all viscera, and all parts and blood used in the preparation of meat food and medicinal products shall be retained in such a manner as to preserve their identity until after the post-mortem examination has been completed. Carcasses and parts thereof found to be sound, healthful, wholesome and fit for human food shall be passed and marked in the following manner: Upon all passed carcasses and parts thereof slaughtered in an official establishment the inspector shall place a mark bearing the words "Cal. Inspected and Passed." This mark shall also contain the official number of the establishment. The number of such marks that shall be affixed and their location on the carcasses and parts thereof shall be determined by the state veterinarian. Each carcass or part thereof, which is found on post-mortem inspection to be unsound, unhealthful, unwholesome or otherwise unfit for human food shall be marked conspicuously by the inspector at the time of inspection with the words "Cal. Inspected and Condemned," and such carcass or part thereof shall, under the supervision of the inspector, be rendered unfit for human consumption in some manner approved by the state veterinarian.

§ 6. Rules and regulations. The state veterinarian shall, from time to time, make such rules and regulations as are necessary for the efficient execution of the provisions of this act, and all inspections and examinations made under this act shall be such and made in such manner as described in the rules and regulations precribed by said state veterinarian not inconsistent with the provisions of this act; provided, however, that in making such rules and regulations said state veterinarian shall be guided by the regulations governing meat inspection of the United States department of agriculture.

§ 7. Violation. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation except the inspector as herein provided, to have in possession, keep or use any mark, stamp or brand provided or used for marking, stamping or branding any article herein required to be marked, stamped or branded. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to have in possession, keep, make or use any mark, stamp or brand having thereon a device or words similar in character or import to the marks, stamps or brands provided or used for marking, stamping or branding such articles, and any violation hereof shall be deemed a misdemeanor.

TITLE 198.

FORESTRY.

ACT 1222.

An act to fix the salaries of the state forester, deputy forester and assistant forester.

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 439.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Salaries of state forester and assistants. The salary of the state forester shall be three thousand dollars per annum. The state forester shall have authority to appoint a deputy forester at a salary of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum and an assistant forester at a salary of one thousand six hundred dollars per annum. The deputy forester shall exercise all the powers and duties of the state forester during the latter's absence. All the salaries mentioned herein are to be paid in the same manner as the salaries of other state officers are paid.

§ 2. Repealed. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

ACT 1223.

An act to provide for the reforestation, the cutting of fire lanes and fire trails on the Angeles national forest, and to make an appropriation therefor. [Approved May 15, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 532. In effect July 27, 1917.]

The act appropriated $5,000 for the purpose indicated.

ACT 1224.

An act providing for the establishment and maintenance of a state nursery under the jurisdiction and management of the state forester for the growing of stock for reforestation and the planting of trees along highways and in public places, and making an appropriation therefor.

§ 1. State nursery established. There is hereby established a state nursery under the jurisdiction and management of the state forester for the growing of stock for reforestation of public lands, the planting of trees along public streets and highways and for the beautifying of parks and school grounds. The state nursery shall be located by the state forester upon lands now owned by the state or donated to the state for that purpose.

§ 2. Duty of state forester. The state forester shall construct and maintain such buildings, improvements and equipment, and shall employ and fix the compensation of such employees as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act. He may also purchase nursery stock and seed and distribute the same at cost for public planting or reforestation.

§ 3. Governor to receive deeds, etc. The governor, on behalf of the state, is hereby authorized to receive all such deeds, conveyances, assurances or donations of real or personal property as may be necessary in law to vest in the people of the state of California the title to any site or sites for said nursery and any equipment and supplies therefor that may be donated to the state and accepted by the governor.

§ 4. Appropriation. Out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated there is hereby appropriated the sum of fourteen thousand dollars for the purposes of this act.

TITLE 200.

FRANCHISES.

ACT 1235.

An act providing for the resettlement of franchise rights of and the granting of a resettlement franchise to any person, firm or corporation actually engaged in operating a street, suburban or interurban railroad in cities or cities and counties having at the effective date of this act a freeholders' charter adopted under the provisions of section eight of article eleven of the constitution of the state of California, which charter provides for the resettlement of franchise rights of and the granting of resettlement franchises to any person, firm or corporation engaged in operating a public utility in such a municipality, and providing conditions for the granting of such franchises by legislative or other governing bodies of such city or city and county.

§ 1. Power of board of supervisors, etc., to provide for resettlement of franchise rights. The board of supervisors, the board of trustees or common council, or other governing or legislative body of any city or city and county having at the effective date of this act a freeholders' charter adopted under the provisions of section eight of article eleven of the constitution of the state of California, and which charter provides for the resettlement of and the granting of a resettlement franchise to any person, firm or corporation engaged in operating a public utility in such city or city and county, is hereby empowered to provide for a general resettlement of the franchise rights and to grant a resettlement franchise to any person, firm or corporation actually engaged in operating a street, suburban or interurban railroad in said city or city and county, upon written application therefor, and upon such terms and conditions as are in this act provided, and may, in such resettlement of any such franchise impose other and additional terms and conditions not in conflict herewith.

§ 2. Franchise submitted to vote of electors. Every such resettlement franchise which is granted shall be granted after such publication and upon such notice as the governing or legislative body shall by resolution determine, or failing such determination after such publication and upon such notice as is or shall be prescribed by law for the enactment of ordinances by such governing or legislative body. After the final passage of such franchise, the same shall be referred and submitted to the vote of the electors of the city or city and county at the general or special election next ensuing not less than twenty days after the final passage of such ordinance, or if no general or special election is to be held in the city or city and county within a period of not less than twenty days and not more than ninety days after such final passage, the said governing or legislative body may call a special election for the purpose of submitting said ordinance to the electors as aforesaid, said special election to be held not less than thirty days and not more than sixty days after such final passage. No such resettlement franchise shall go into effect until it shall have been so submitted to the electors of the city or city and county and receive the approval of a majority of the electors voting thereon; and provided, further, that such resettlement franchise shall not be effective unless accepted in writing by the grantee of such resettlement franchise.

§ 3. Rights conferred by franchise. Every such resettlement franchise, permit or privilege shall confer upon the grantee thereof the right to occupy the roads, streets, highways, avenues, boulevards, lanes, alleys, courts, places and pathways of the city or city and county, particularly set out in the terms and conditons of such franchise, permit or privilege, for the purpose of conducting, operating and maintaining thereon a street, suburban or interurban railroad, subject always to the right of the city or city and county to acquire and possess the property of said grantee; provided, however, that said grantee shall pay to the city or city and county such a percentage of the net revenue annually collected from any and all sources under and by virtue of such franchise, permit or privilege, as shall be fixed in such franchise. What constitutes such annual net revenue shall be provided in such franchise.

§ 4. New franchise may be part of resettlement franchise. The legislative or governing body may in such resettlement franchise provide that any new franchise granted to the holder of such resettlement franchise shall be considered as part of such resettlement franchise.

§ 5. Extension of franchise to annexed territory. The legislative or governing body may in such resettlement franchise provide that in case of consolidation or annexation to the city or city and county of any territory not now included in said city or city and county at the date said resettlement franchise is granted, any franchise to operate such street, suburban or interurban railroad, or any part thereof, held or claimed by the holder of such resettlement franchise in or for any portion of such consolidated or annexed territory shall thereupon be surrendered to the city or city and county, and that the rights and obligations of such resettlement franchise shall thereupon automatically extend to such additional territory, and that a valuation for the purpose of public acquisition of the properties used and useful, or, in the discretion of the city or city and county, prospectively useful, in the operation of such street, suburban or interurban railroad in the area so consolidated or annexed, and not included in the capital valuation already fixed in such resettlement franchise shall be added to the capital account of such resettlement franchise grantee at a valuation for the purpose of public acquisition fixed by the railroad commission of the state of California, or its successors in interest, and otherwise determined as provided in this act.

§ 6. Grantee to surrender franchises owned. Every resettlement franchise shall provide that the grantee thereof shall surrender the franchises or rights, owned or claimed by the grantee, to occupy such portion of the roads, streets, highways, avenues, boulevards, lanes, alleys, courts, places and pathways as it is proposed such street, suburban or interurban railroad shall thereafter occupy under the provisions of such resettlement franchise, and that the grantee shall accept in lieu thereof the rights and privileges granted by such resettlement franchise as a franchise for the continued operation of such street, suburban or interurban railroad within the limits of the city or city and county or such portion thereof as had theretofore been operated under the franchise or franchises surrendered.

§ 7. Granted for indeterminate period. Purchase by city. Valuation by railroad commission. Every such resettlement franchise, permit or privilege shall be granted for an indeterminate period, subject always to the right of the city or city and county to acquire and possess the property of the grantee. Every resettlement franchise shall be granted upon the express condition that the city or city and county may, at a valuation for the purpose of public acquisition, fixed and determined as hereinafter provided, either assume ownership by purchase, take over and possess the property used and useful, or, in the discretion of the city or city and county prospectively useful, of the franchise grantee, his or its successors or assigns, upon giving said grantee written notice of its intention to purchase and take over said property, which written notice shall be given only when authorized by ordinance of the legislative or governing body of the city or city and county. The valuation for the purpose of public acquisition of such property used and useful, or, in the discretion of the city or city and county, prospectively useful, and owned by the grantee at the time application is made for such resettlement franchise, permit or privilege, shall be fixed by the railroad commission of the state of California, or its successors in interest. The valuation of such property, as fixed by the railroad commission of the state of California, may be set forth in said resettlement franchise, permit or privilege, in which case a readjustment from time to time of this valuation by the addition of the cost of extensions and betterments and by the deduction of the value of property sold or abandoned, and of the amount of depreciation sustained by the property used or useful, or prospectively useful, of the franchise grantee shall be made in such manner as may in said resettlement franchise be provided. All expenses of such valuation by the railroad commission of the state of California, or its successors in interest shall be paid by the city or city and county to the railroad commission of the state of California, or its successors in interest.

§ 8. Value in excess of amount paid not to be claimed. Said resettlement franchise shall provide that the grantee thereof, its successors or assigns, shall never claim before any court or other public authority in any proceeding of any character any value for said resettlement franchise, permit or privilege in excess of the amount originally paid for the same by the grantee thereof to the public authority granting the same.

§ 9. Amendment. Any resettlement franchise may be amended from time to time by ordinance passed by the governing or legislative body of the city or city and county and ratified by the electors of the city or city and county in the manner herein prescribed for the passage of such resettlement franchise in the first instance, and not otherwise; provided, that no such amendment shall be effective unless accepted in writing by the grantee of such resettlement franchise.

§ 10. Exercise of police power. Right of city to acquire property by right of eminent domain. The legislature hereby declares that this act is passed subject to the continued power of the state of California in the exercise of its police power or otherwise through the instrumentality of the railroad commission of the state of California or other agency to provide at any and all times for the supervision and regulation of public utilities notwithstanding any franchise, permit or privilege or any provision thereof granted under this act, or any part thereof.

Nothing herein contained, nor any provision of any franchise granted hereunder shall be deemed to prevent a city or city and county from acquiring at any time the property of any public utility through the exercise of the right of eminent domain under the then constitution and laws, and the legislature hereby declares it to be against the policy of the state for any city or county to contract away, either for a term or in perpetuity, the right to exercise the right of eminent domain in respect to any public utility.

§ 11. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of the act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

FREE LIBRARIES.

Act 1248a.

An act to provide for the establishment and maintenance of county free libraries in the state of California, and repealing "An act entitled 'An act to provide county library systems,' approved April 12, 1909, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act."

[Approved February 25, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 80.]

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1610.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 9gg. Salary of county librarian. In counties of the thirty-third class the salary of the county librarian shall be eighteen hundred dollars per annum. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1610.

TITLE 204.

FRESNO COUNTY.

ACT 1264a.

An act to increase the number of judges of the superior court of the county of Fresno, and to provide for the appointment of an additional judge.

§ 1. Fresno county judges. The number of judges of the superior court Fresno county is hereby increased from two to three.

§ 2. Appointment of one additional judge. Election. Within ninety days after the taking effect of this act, the governor shall appoint one additional judge of the superior court of the county of Fresno, state of California, who shall hold office until the first Monday after the first day of January, A. D., one thousand, nine hundred nineteen. At the general election to be held in November, 1918, a judge of the superior court of said county shall be elected in said county, who shall be the successor of the judge appointed hereunder, to hold office for the term prescribed by the constitution and by law.

§ 3. Salary. The salary of said additional judge shall be the same in amount, and shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner as the salary of the other two judges of the superior court of said county now authorized by law.

TITLE 205.

FRUIT.

ACT 1275.

An act to establish a standard for the packing and marketing of apples, fixing penalties for the violation of its provisions, and providing for its enforcement and making an appropriation to carry into effect the provisions hereof.

Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 285. See next Act.

An act to establish standards for the packing and marketing of apples, forbidding the sale of certain infected and diseased apples, providing for its enforcement, fixing penalties for its violation, and making an appropriation to carry into effect the provisions thereof, and repealing an act entitled "An act to establish a standard for the packing and marketing of apples, fixing penalties for the violation of its provisions, and providing for its enforcement and making an appropriation to carry into effect the provisions hereof," approved June 10, 1915.

§ 1. Title. This act shall be known, and for any and all purposes may be designated and referred to, as "The standard apple act of 1917."

§ 2. Standard grades established. The following standard grades are hereby established for apples, packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, in the state of California, when contained inclosed packages:

(a) "California Fancy." The "California Fancy" grade shall consist of apples of well-grown, properly matured specimens of one variety, hand-picked, with stems retained therein, well colored for the variety, uniform in size, well packed, and shall be free from insect pests, diseases, visible rot, visible dry rot, visible Baldwin spot, insect bites, bruises and other defects, except such bruises and defects as are necessarily caused in the operation of packing, and virtually free from dirt; provided, however, that a variation from the said standard, as to insect pests, diseases, dry rot, Baldwin spot, insect bites, bruises and other defects, shall be allowed, not to exceed ten per cent total of such defects in any one package, nor to exceed three per cent of any one such defect; and provided, further, that a variation in size of the apples shall be allowed, not to exceed three-eighths of one inch, as the same may be measured by the smallest diameter therof.

(b) "B grade." The "B grade" shall consist of apples of well-grown, properly matured specimens of one variety, hand-picked, uniform in size, well packed, free from insect pects, diseases, visible rot, visible dry rot, visible Baldwin spot, insect bites, sun scald and frost bite more than skin deep, and bruises resulting in the breaking of the skin and virtually free from dirt; provided, however, that insect bites which have healed in the process of maturity of the apple, and slightly misshapen apples shall be permitted in this grade; that a variation in size of the apples shall be allowed, not to exceed three-eighths of one inch, as the same may be measured by the smallest diameter therof, and that a variation from the said standard, as to insect pests, diseases, dry rot, Baldwin spots, bruises and other defects, shall be allowed, not to exceed ten per cent total of such defects in any one package, nor to exceed three per cent of any one such defect.

(c) "C grade." The "C grade" shall consist of apples of properly matured specimens of one variety, free from insect pests, visible rot, visible dry rot, visible Baldwin spots and diseases; provided, however, that a variation from said standard as to insect pests, dry rot, Baldwin spots and diseases, shall be allowed, not to exceed ten per cent total of such defects in any one package, nor to exceed three per cent of any one such defect.

§ 3. Labeling of closed packages. Every closed package in which any apples are packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, in the state of California, shall bear upon the outside thereof, and on the labeled or branded end, in plain words or figures and in the English language, the following: The grade of the apples therein contained, as herein defined, the designation of grade, when the stamps hereinafter provided for are not used, being stated in letters not smaller than thirty-six point type, that is, not less than one-half inch in height: the number of apples contained in the package or the net weight of the apples contained therein; the variety of the apples contained in the package, unless the variety be unknown to the packer, in which case the variety shall be stated as unknown; the name and business address of the person, firm, company, organization or corporation, who first packed or caused the same to be packed, and, if repacked, the name and address of the person, firm, company, organization or corporation who repacked the same or caused them to be repacked; the date when such apples were first packed, or if repacked, the date of repacking; provided, however, that a variation of five apples, more or less, than the number stated, shall be allowed.

§ 4. Labeled apples must conform to standard. No person, firm, company, organization or corporation, shall sell or offer for sale, within the state of California, any apples labeled, designated, invoiced or represented to be, of "California Fancy" or "B" or "C" grade, whether contained in closed packages or otherwise, unless the same shall conform to the standard for such grade herein established; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the grading of Gravenstein apples as "California Fancy," though the stems be not retained therein.

§ 5. Importation of infected apples forbidden. No person, firm, company, organization or corporation, shall import into this state, or sell, barter, offer for sale or have in his possession for sale, any apples infected with any insect pest or the pupae or larvae thereof or any disease; provided, however, that this section shall not be construed to prevent a grower of fruit so infected in the state of California from selling the same, as a part of his crop, in bulk, to a packer, or to prevent a grower or packer from manufacturing the same into an apple by-product, or from selling the same to the operator of a by-product factory for the purpose of such manufacture; and, provided, further, that the provisions of this section shall be construed to be limited by the variations allowed by the terms of section two of this act.

§ 6. False statements, etc. No statement, figure, design or device, appearing upon any container in which apples are sold, bartered, or offered for sale, or in which apples are packed for sale or shipment, or upon the brand or lining of any such container, or upon the wrapper of any apple therein contained, or upon any sign or placard used in connection therewith and having reference to the apples contained, shall be false or misleading, in any particular. The word "Fancy" shall not be used with reference to any apples the grade of which does not conform to the standard for "California Fancy" as in this act defined.

§ 7. Powers of state commissioner of horticulture. The state commissioner of horticulture of California shall be charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act, and for that purpose shall have power:

(a) To enter and to inspect every place within the state of California where apples are produced, packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, and to inspect such places and all apples and apple containers and equipment found in any such place.

(b) To design, and cause to be printed or lithographed, suitable uniform stamps to be used on packages containing apples of the various grades, standards for which are established by the terms of this act, to sell the same as hereinafter provided, and to prescribe the method of canceling the same.

(c) In accordance with the provisions of the civil service law of this state, to appoint, superintend, control and discharge such chief inspectors and subordinate inspectors as in his discretion may be deemed to be necessary, for the special purpose of enforcing the terms of this act, to prescribe their duties, and, in conjunction with the board of control, to fix their compensation, provided that no chief inspector shall be paid more than seven dollars per day and no subordinate inspector more than five dollars per day.

(d) Personally, or through any deputy or any such inspector, to seize and retain possession of, any apples or apple boxes packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, in violation of any of the provisions of this act.

(e) In the name of the people of the state of California to cause to be instituted and to prosecute, in the superior court of any county or city and county of the state of California, in which apples packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, in violation of any of the provisions of this act, may be found, an action or actions for the condemnation of apples as provided in section thirteen of this act.

§ 8. Sale of stamps. The stamps designed and provided by the state commissioner of horticulture of California, as provided by section seven of this act, by him shall be placed on sale and sold to any person who may apply therefor, at the price of one-half cent each. All moneys received by him from the sale of such stamps shall be paid over to the treasurer of the state of California, who shall deposit the same to the credit of a fund to be used exclusively for the payment of the expenses of enforcing the provisions of this act, and to be paid out only upon claims approved by the state commissioner of horticulture of California and by the board of control.

§ 9. Qualifications of inspectors. Powers. Assignment of inspectors. The inspectors appointed by the state commissioner of horticulture of California, as in section seven hereof provided, shall be citizens of the United States, and of the state of California, not less than twenty-one years of age, shall be skilled in the inspection of apples, and have a thorough knowledge of insect pests and diseases commonly preying upon such fruits; they shall have power to enter and to inspect every place within the state of California where apples are produced, packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, and to inspect all such places and apples and apple containers, found in any such place; and shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed by the state commissioner of horticulture of California, or by law.

The said commissioner shall assign such inspectors to such territory, within the state, as he may see fit; provided, that when the stamps purchased for any year by packers in any town, city or district, shall yield a sum of money sufficient to pay the expense thereof, such commissioner shall assign one inspector or more for special duty in such town, city or district, during the packing season of that year, or for a longer period, if deemed to be necessary; and provided, further, that in the discretion of said horticultural commissioner, he may refuse to permit inspection of fruit at the place where same is being packed if packed by any person, firm, company, organization or corporation who shall not make use of the stamps hereinabove provided for upon the packages of "California Fancy," "B" and "C" grade apples packed by him or it.

§ 10. Repacking. No container to or on which is attached any such stamp or on which shall appear the designation of grade as "California Fancy," "B" grade or "C" grade, shall be used as the container of any apples, other than those originally packed therein, until such stamp or grade designation has been removed; provided, that when apples are repacked, without the addition of new stock, other than stock of the same grade and from the same lot of which the package or packages repacked is or are a part, the same containers may be used without removing the stamps or grade designations.

§ 11. Refusal to permit inspectors to enter. No person, firm, company, organization or corporation, shall refuse to permit the state commissioner of horticulture of California, or any of his duly appointed deputies, or any inspector duly appointed by said commissioner under the provisions of this act, to enter or to inspect any place within the state of California where apples are produced, packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, or to inspect such places, or any apples or apple containers or any equipment found there.

§ 12. Penalty. Any person, firm, company, organization or corporation, who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be punishable by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

§ 13. Apples packed, shipped, etc., in violation of law, nuisance. Any apples packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, in violation of any of the provisions of this act, and the containers in which they may be, shall be deemed to be a public nuisance, may be seized by said commissioner of horticulture, or his deputy, or by any inspector appointed under the provisions of this act, or by any county horticultural commissioner or his deputy, and by order of the superior court of the county or city and county within which the same may be found, shall be condemned and destroyed or released upon such conditions as the court in its discretion may impose to insure that they will not be packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold in violation of any of the provisions of this act.

§ 14. Guaranty. Form of guaranty. No person, firm, company, organization or corporation, shall be convicted of a violation of any provision of this act, if he shall establish a guaranty, signed by the person, firm, company, organization, or corporation, residing or lawfully engaged in business in the state of California, by or for whom the apples in question were originally packed, or repacked, to the effect that the apples, container, brand and label in question comply in all respects with the provisions of this act, and in addition, shall establish that the same are in substantially the same condition, in every respect, as they were when they were delivered out of the possession of such packer, and that the accused was not aware that such apples, container, brand or label, were or was in any respect in violation of any provision of this act. The signature to such guaranty may be printed, when done by the authority of the signer. To afford protection, such guaranty, in form and substance, must be substantially as follows:

"The undersigned guarantees that (this box or other package of apples or the boxes or other packages of apples mentioned in this, or the attached invoice, are all boxes or other packages of apples packed or repacked by the undersigned), comply, in all respects with the standard apple act of 1917. (Signature of the packer, with statement as to whether packer is firm, company, organization or corporation and business address.)"

Where the guaranty is used on each separate box, it may consist of the legend, "guaranteed by the packer, under the standard apple act of 1917," printed, stamped or written on the labeled or branded end of the package.

§ 15. Duty of district attorney. It shall be the duty of the district attorney of the county, or city and county, in which any violation of this act may occur, to prosecute the person, firm, company, organization or corporation accused of such violation, and also, at the request of the state commissioner of horticulture, or any one of his deputies, to institute and prosecute such actions for condemnation as may be authorized under the provisions of this act.

§ 16. Effect on foods and liquors act. No act which is made unlawful by any provision of an act of the legislature of the state of California, entitled, "An act for preventing the manufacture, sale or transportation of adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded foods and liquors and regulating the traffic therein, providing penalties, establishing a state laboratory for foods, liquors and drugs and making an appropriation therefor," approved March 11, 1907, or any amendment thereto, shall be deemed lawful by reason of any provision of this act; nor shall this act be construed in any respect to limit the powers of the state board of health.

§ 17. Appropriation. The sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000) is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated for the payment of the cost of printing, lithographing, stationery, stamps, clerical assistance, traveling expenses and salaries of inspectors and office rentals, incurred by the state commissioner of horticulture in the enforcement of this act during the fiscal years commencing July 1, 1917, and July 1, 1918, respectively. The state controller is hereby authorized to draw his warrants for the sum herein appropriated in favor of said commissioner and the state treasurer is hereby directed to pay the same.

§ 18. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

§ 19. Stats. 1915, p. 1386, repealed. An act entitled "An act to establish a standard for the packing and marketing of apples, fixing penalties for the violation of its provisions, and providing for its enforcement and making an appropriation to carry into effect the provisions hereof," approved June 10, 1915, is hereby repealed.

An act to promote the development of the California fresh fruit industry in state and interstate markets, and to protect the state's reputation in these markets by establishing a standard for the packing of certain fresh fruits specified therein, and to prevent deception in the packing, prescribing penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof, and repealing all acts inconsistent herewith.

§ 1. Standard for packing fresh fruits. To promote the development of the California fresh fruit industry and to prevent deception in packing for state or interstate shipment, there is hereby created and established a "standard" for the packing of fresh fruits of the kinds specified in this act.

§ 2. Application. Unless specifically excepted in this act, all of its provisions shall be applicable to all fresh fruits specified herein when packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold in any container or subcontainer.

§ 3. Free from diseases. All fresh fruits of the kinds specified in this act when packed shall be practically free from insects and fungous diseases.

§ 4. Fruits exempt. All fresh fruits of the kind specified in this act, except citrus fruits, which shall be sold in bulk or loose in the box or in any other manner, excepting in standarized packs as provided in this act (excepting grapes, which must conform to the sugar standards provided in section eight a hereof), shall be exempt from the provisions of this act.

§ 5. Words defined. When used in this act the words herein mentioned shall be defined as follows: "Pack, packing or packed," shall mean the regular compact arrangement of all or part of the fruit in any container or subcontainer used for the purpose of sale or transportation for sale. The words "in bulk or loose in the box without packing" shall mean the indiscrimirate placing without any thought of regular arrangement of any of the kinds of fresh fruit mentioned in this act into a box, wagon or other receptacle used for the purpose of sale or transportation for sale.

The words "fresh fruit" shall mean the fresh product of any tree, vine or plant mentioned in this act.

The word "maturity" shall mean a degree of ripeness fit for shipment.

The word "county" includes a consolidated "city and county."

The word "container" shall mean any box, crate or other package used to hold or contain packed fresh fruit.

The word "subcontainer" shall mean any basket or other receptacle used within a container of packed fresh fruit.

§ 6. Cherries. All cherries packed in containers or subcontainers shall contain cherries well colored, of practically uniform size, quality, and maturity and one variety only, excepting that such containers may contain more than one variety if such fact be plainly stamped on the outside thereof with the words "mixed varieties" with letters not less than one-half inch high. Each container or subcontainer shall be stamped on the outside with the mimimum weight of contents and the container shall have the name of variety or varieties stamped thereon.

§ 7. Peaches, apricots, pears, etc. Peaches, apricots, pears, quinces, tomatoes, plums and prunes when packed shall be of practically uniform size, quality and maturity. When packed in containers made up of two or more subcontainers having sloping sides, for the purpose of ventilation of the fresh fruit therein, the contents shall not vary in size more than ten per cent in each layer, and not more than twenty per cent in the whole subcontainer, and no layer below the top shall contain a greater numerical count than the top layer. Each container or subcontainer shall be stamped upon the outside with the minimum weight of its contents. Each container shall bear in plain letters the name of the variety contained therein. When packed in a container having perpendicular sides and ends, each shall contain approximately the same numerical count in each layer; provided, that when peaches are packed in containers having perpendicular sides the container shall also be marked upon the outside of the end thereof in plain figures with the approixmate number of peaches in the box, which shall be within four peaches of the true count.

When the fresh fruits mentioned in this section are packed in containers known to the trade as "lug" boxes, the provisions of this section appertaining to variety, numerical count and marking shall not apply.

§ 8a. Table grapes. Table grapes, when packed, shall be of practically uniform quality and shall be well matured and show a sugar content of not less than seventeen per cent Balling scale, except Emperor,

Gros Coleman and Cornichon, which shall show not less than sixteen per cent Balling scale. Each crate or package except subcontainers shall be stamped in plain letters with the name of the variety of grapes therein. Each container, or subcontainer, shall be stamped in plain figures and letters upon one end with a minimum net weight, and no container or subcontainer shall contain less than the mimimum stamped thereon. Irregular containers in addition thereto, shall be plainly marked "irregular" and have the actual gross weight stamped thereon.

§ 8b. Standard containers for table grapes. "Irregular containers." The standard containers for table grapes when packed shall be:

1. Standard crate, which after packing when measured at the end, shall not exceed five inches between the top and bottom and when measured in the center shall not exceed five and three-fourths inches between the top and bottom and containing a minimum net weight of not less than twenty-four pounds.
2. Double crates containing a minimum net weight of not less than forty-eight pounds.
3. One-half crates containing a minimum net weight of not less than twelve pounds.
4. Thirty pound lugs containing a minimum net weight of not less than twenty pounds.
5. Forty pound lugs containing a minimum net weight of not less than thirty-two pounds.
6. Fifty pound lugs containing a minimum net weight of not less than forty-two pounds.
7. Williams lugs containing a minimum net weight of not less than twenty-four pounds.
8. Kegs or drums packed with sawdust or other preserving material, containing a minimum net weight of not less than twenty-nine pounds and a maximum net weight of not more than thirty-five pounds.
9. All other containers of table grapes shall be "irregular" containers.

§ 9. Standard container for berries. The standard container for berries shall be: Dry quart containing an interior capacity of sixty-seven and two-tenths cubic inches, or dry pint containing an interior capacity of thirty-three and six-tenths cubic inches, or dry one-half pint containing an interior capacity of sixteen and eight-tenths cubic inches, or baskets four and one-half by four and one-half by two and one-fourth in depth, or baskets four and one-half by four and one-half by two in depth, or baskets four and one-half by four and one-half by one and three-eighths in depth; all measurements are in inches or fractions thereof. All other sizes shall be marked "irregular." When packed, the berries in any container or subcontainer shall be practically uniform throughout the container, or subcontainer, in quality, color and maturity. Irregular containers shall be marked "irregular."

§ 10. Cantaloupes. Cantaloupes packed in containers as follows shall be known as standard packed:

Standard crates twelve by twelve by twenty-two and one-half inches containing forty-five or thirty-six cantaloupes;

Pony crates eleven by eleven by twenty-two and one-half inches containing forty-five or fifty-four cantaloupes;

Jumbo crates thirteen by thirteen by twenty-two and one-half inches containing thirty-six or forty-five cantaloupes;

Standard flats four by twelve by twenty-two and one-half inches containing twelve or fifteen cantaloupes;

Jumbo flats four and one-half by thirteen and one-half by twenty-two and one-half inches containing twelve or fifteen cantaloupes.

All measurements herein to be inside measurements without distention.

All other sizes of containers when packed shall be marked "irregular." All standard packs shall be marked "standard." All containers when packed shall have the number of cantaloupes contained therein stamped in plain figures on the label end of the crates with figures not less than one-half inch high. All cantaloupes when packed shall be fully netted of uniform size, firm and mature, free from bruises and practically free from aphis honey dew and other defects.

§ 11a. Sale of immature or frozen citrus fruits. It shall be unlawful for anyone to sell, offer for sale, ship or deliver for shipment any citrus fruits, which are immature or frozen to the extent of injuring the reputation of the citrus industry of the state of California if shipped, and for anyone to receive any such citrus fruits under a contract of sale, or for the purpose of sale, or for shipment, or for delivery for shipment; provided, however, that nothing in this section contained shall be construed to prevent the sale or shipment for sale of frozen or otherwise defective fruit to a by-product factory, or the manufacture thereof into citrus by-products; nor shall this section apply to the sale, or contract for sale, of citrus fruits on the trees, nor shall it apply to common carriers or their agents who are not interested in such fruits and are merely receiving the same for transportation.

§ 11b. Matured oranges. An orange shall be deemed properly matured for sale, or to be offered for sale, for shipment or to be offered for shipment, under the provisions of this act, either when the juice contains soluble solids equal to, or in excess of, eight parts to every part of acid contained in the juice, the acidity of the juice to be calculated as citric acid without water of crystallization, or when the orange is substantially colored on the tree. The foregoing provisions shall not apply to shipments of oranges to foreign countries other than the Dominion of Canada, during any season, provided such shipments are made after the first day of November.

§ 12. Name marked on containers. All containers of fruit of a kind specified in this act, except subcontainers, when packed and offered for sale, shall bear upon them in plain sight and in plain letters on the outside thereof, the name of the orchard where the same was produced, with the postoffice address thereof, or the name and postoffice address of the person, firm, company or corporation, or organization who shall have first packed or authorized the packing of the same, or the name under which such packer shall be engaged in business, together with the postoffice address of such packer.

§ 13. Office of "inspector of fresh fruits" created. "Inspectors in chief of fresh fruits." The office of "inspector of fresh fruits" is hereby created for each and every county in the state. The horticultural commissioner of each county, and all deputy horticultural commissioners shall be ex-officio inspectors of fresh fruits thereof, and the district inspectors under each county horticultural commissioner are ex-officio "deputy inspectors of fresh fruits" in their respective districts. The board of supervisors shall appoint as many deputy "inspectors of fresh fruits" as are necessary to carry out the provisions of this act. Their term of office shall be for such time as is deemed necessary by said board of supervisors. For the purpose of creating and securing unity in inspection, the offices of "inspectors in chief of fresh fruits" are hereby created, and the state commissioner of horticulture and his chief deputy, for the purposes of this act, are hereby made ex-officio such inspectors in chief and shall, where there is a dispute or difference between the inspectors of fresh fruits of two or more counties, or where the interpretation of inspection standards between two or more counties differs materially, have the power and authority to settle the dispute between the inspectors of fresh fruit of such counties and to fix reasonable standards between such counties where they materially differ.

§ 14. Appointment when no commissioner of horticulture. If in any county or city and county of this state, there is no commissioner of horticulture, it shall be the duty of the board of supervisors thereof to appoint an inspector of fresh fruits and such deputy inspectors of fresh fruits as the said board of supervisors shall deem necessary. Such inspectors and deputy inspectors of fresh fruits shall be appointed to serve for such time during each year as fresh fruits are being packed or shipped in said county or city and county. The salary of an ispector of fresh fruits shall be five dollars per day and necessary traveling expenses. The salary of a deputy inspector of fresh fruits shall be three dollars and fifty cents per day and necessary traveling expenses.

§ 15. Deputy state commissioner of horticulture assigned, when. In case the board of supervisors of any county, or city and county, shall fail or neglect, for thirty days after receipt of a written request from the state commissioner of horticulture, to appoint an inspector of fresh fruits, or necessary deputy inspectors of fresh fruits for such county, or city and county, then the said state commissioner of horticulture shall forthwith assign to said county, or city and county, one or more deputy state commissioners of horticulture, as he shall deem necessary, and such deputy or deputies shall perform all of the duties, within the said county or city and county to which assigned, as is provided in this act to be performed by an inspector of fresh fruits. The actual cost of services rendered by an inspector or deputy inspector, as the case may be, of fresh fruits, assigned to any county in pursuance hereof, together with his necessary traveling expenses shall be a county charge and shall be paid in the same manner in which other claims against the county are paid.

§ 16. Removal. Vacancy. The board of supervisors shall remove any inspector of fresh fruits and the inspector of fresh fruits shall remove any deputy upon proper showing of neglect of duty, malfeasance in office, or general unfitness for office. Whenever a vacancy in the office of inspector of fresh fruits or depupty inspector of fresh fruits occurs, the vacancy shall immediately be filled by the appointing power.

§ 17a. Power of inspector. Every inspector of fresh fruits and every deputy inspector of fresh fruits shall have power to enter and to inspect every place within the county for which he has been appointed where any fruit mentioned in this act is produced, packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, and to inspect such places and all such fruits and the containers thereof and the equipment found in any such places.

§ 17b. Duty of inspector. It shall be the duty of the inspectors or deputy inspectors of fresh fruit in their respective districts to enforce the provisions of this act and to cause the prosecution of any person, firm, corporation or organization, whom they know or have reason to believe is guilty of the violation of its provisions.

§ 17c. Inspectors have powers of peace officers. An inspector or deputy inspector of fresh fruits in the performance of their duties shall have the same powers as are possessed by peace officers of the city, county or state and shall have the right while exercising such police powers to seize and hold as evidence such amount of any pack, load, consignment or shipment of fresh fruit packed in violation of this act, as may in his judgment be necessary to secure the conviction of the party he knows or believes has violated or is violating this act.

§ 17d. Duty of district attorney. It shall be the duty of the district attorney of each and every county in the state to prosecute all persons charged with any violation of this act.

§ 18. Lawful to refuse shipments in violation of act. It shall be lawful for any fresh fruit forwarding person, firm, corporation or organization and for any common carrier to decline to accept for shipment or transportation and to decline to ship or transport any fresh fruits which upon inspection are found to be packed in violation of the provisions of this act, and any such fruit forwarder or common carrier may reserve the right in any receipt, bill of lading or other writing given to the consignor, thereof, to reject for shipment and to return to such consignor or hold at the expense and risk of the latter, all fresh fruits which upon inspection are found to be packed in violation of the provisions of this act.

§ 19. Penalty for violation. No person, firm, corporation, company or organization shall pack or cause to be packed for sale, or shipment, or shall ship or sell or offer for sale fruit which, or the container or subcontainer in which, the same shall be contained, shall in any respect fail to comply with the requirements of this act.

Any person, firm, corporation, company or organization who shall violate the provisions of this act shall be deemed to be guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 20. Conflicting laws. All laws in conflict with this act or any part thereof are hereby repealed only in so far as they may conflict with any of the provisions of this act.

§ 21. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

An act to further divide the state into fish and game districts by establishing a district specially suited for propagation of game, and to provide for the management and protection thereof.

§ 1. "Mount Tamalpais game refuge," created. Boundaries. For the protection, conservation and propagation of game animals, except fish, there is hereby set apart and established a district to be known as "Mount Tamalpais game refuge," the boundaries of which are hereby determined to be as follows, to wit: All that certain territory within the county of Marin, bounded and described as follows, to wit:

Beginning at the intersection of the easterly shore of inner Bolinas bay with the northwesterly boundary line, extended, of the Stinson ranch conveyed to A. H. Stinson et al., by decree of distribution dated the twenty-eighth day of July, 1911, and recorded in the office of the county recorder of Marin county in book one hundred thirty-seven of deeds at page one hundred two; thence northeasterly along the said northwesterly boundary line to the southwesterly boundary line of the lands of the Marin municipal water district on the top of Bolinas ridge, thence along the exterior boundary of the lands of said district in such a way as to include the same, to a point in the abandoned portion of the Fairfax and Bolinas county road; thence northerly along the said road and along the Fairfax and Bolinas county road, to a point in the southwesterly line of the right of way of the Northwestern Pacific railroad company near Fairfax station; thence along the said last mentioned line in a southerly direction past the railroad stations at San Anselmo, Kentfield and Corte Madera, to its intersection with Humboldt street on the westerly boundary of the lands of the Sausalito land and ferry company, as said street is laid down and delineated on the official map of said lands filed in the office of the county recorder of Marin county in rack number one, pull number nine; thence southerly along the westerly line of said Humboldt street and the westerly line of Tennessee avenue of the same tract, to the corner common to ranches E, F, and A as said ranches are delineated on the Tamalpais land and water company's map number three, filed in said recorder's office in map book number one, page one hundred four; thence southwesterly along the southeasterly boundary lines of ranches E, L, and K, as shown on said last mentioned map, to the shore of the Pacific ocean; thence northwesterly along the shore of the Pacific ocean and across the easterly end of the Bolinas sandspit, and along the easterly shore of inner Bolinas bay, to the point of beginning, excepting from the area of said Mount Tamalpais game refuge all lands lying within the exterior boundaries of any incorporated town.

§ 2. No open season. The provisions of law for the protection of fish in the second fish and game district of this state shall be enforced within said Mount Tamalpais game refuge and there shall be no open season therein for any game animals except fish.

§ 3. Unlawful to kill game birds or animals. Firearms, etc. Game animals defined. It shall be unlawful within said territory at any time:

(a) to hunt, pursue, take, kill or destroy any game birds or animals, except to capture the same to be set at liberty elsewhere, as hereinafter specially provided;

(b) To hunt, pursue, take, kill, or destroy any other wild birds or animals except as hereinafter provided;

(c) For any person to have in his possession any firearms, trap or other contrivance designed to be used to kill, destroy or capture game animals except fish, without first having obtained a permit so to do from the fish and game commission of this state; provided, that nothing in this act contained shall prohibit the lawful occupant of any privately owned lands within said district, or his employees at the direction of said occupant, from killing ground squirrels, gophers, owls, hawks, blue jays, skunks and other destructive animals which are not game animals as herein after defined that may be on the land of said occupant; and provided, further, that nothing in this subdivision "c" contained shall apply to persons traveling upon any public highways within said territory, nor to members of the organized militia while on the state rifle range, nor to members of any high school militia while on the grounds of the high school at which time they may be enrolled. The term game animals used herein is intended to include all birds and animals which are protected or fostered by any of the laws of this state.

§ 4. Power of fish and game commission. The fish and game commission of the state of California shall have power:

(a) To exercise control over all game animals on all lands within the boundaries of said game refuge.

(b) To accept, on behalf of the state, donations of ownership or leasehold interest of any lands within the boundaries of said game refuge, to be used for the furtherance of the objects of protecting, feeding, or propagating game.

(c) To accept, on behalf of the state, donations of game birds and animals, and of money given or appropriated for protection, feeding, or propagation of game in said district, and to use the same for the said purposes, and as nearly as may be, for any particular purpose indicated by the donor.

(d) To make additional rules and regulations, not in conflict with this act or other statutes of the state, for the protection and propagation of game in said district.

(e) To issue in their discretion, and under such restrictions as they may deem best, permits for carrying, using, or having in possession within said district, firearms, traps, or other instruments or means for killing or taking birds or animals; but no such permits shall allow any person to hunt, kill, destroy or take any game birds or animals; and, no hunting, killing or destruction of wild birds or animals, other than game birds or animals, within said Mount Tamalpais game refuge shall be allowed, by game wardens or by persons holding special permits for the purpose; and persons holding such special permits shall be allowed so to hunt, kill, or destroy only when accompanied by a member of the fish and game commission, or by an authorized deputy thereof, or by the sheriff or a deputy sheriff of Marin county, except the lawful occupants of said lands and their employees shall not be required to obtain permits for the purpose of killing ground squirrels, gophers, owls, hawks, blue jays, skunks or other destructive animals which are not game animals as in this act defined.

§ 5. Penalty. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

§ 6. Duty of officers. It shall be the duty of the fish and game commission of the state of California and of its deputies, and also of the district attorney, and of the sheriff, and of all other peace officers of Marin county to enforce all the provisions of this act, and to institute and assist in prosecutions for violations thereof.

§ 7. County appropriation. Any county may, in the discretion of its board of supervisors, appropriate and pay to the fish and game commission of the state of California, funds to be used by them, as provided in subdivision "c" of section 4 hereof.

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, pp. 40, 663.

The amendments of 1917 follow:

§ 1. Who may issue hunting and fishing licenses. Licenses granting the privilege to take, catch, hunt or kill fishes, wild mammals or wild birds shall be issued and delivered, upon application in writing, by the county clerk of any of the counties of the state, or by the state board of fish and game commissioners, or by the persons duly appointed and authorized by any such county clerk or the board of fish and game commissioners. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 663.]

§ 2. Compensation for sale of licenses. For each license sold, registered and accounted for by any person, except by a fish and game commissioner or a deputy or assistant fish and game commissioner paid a salary in full for his services to the state, he shall be allowed as compensation, for his own use, out of the fish and game preservation fund, ten per cent of the amount or amounts accounted for by him. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 663.]

§ 3. Bond. Every person authorized to issue and sell licenses under the provisions of this act shall, when required by said board of fish and game commissioners, execute to the fish and game commission a good and sufficient bond in a sum equal to the value of such licenses so delivered to such person to be sold as herein provided, to secure the faithful accounting and payment to the fish and game commission of the funds collected from the sale of such licenses and the faithful performance of the duties imposed upon him by this act, and said board of fish and game commissioners is hereby authorized and empowered to pay the premium on such bond out of the fish and game preservation fund. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 663.]

The act of 1915 relating to issuance of licenses for resale to hunters and licenses was also amended in 1917 as follows:

§ 1. Who may issue hunting and fishing licenses. Licenses granting the privilege to take, catch, hunt or kill fishes, wild mammals or wild birds shall be issued and delivered, upon application in writing, by the county clerk of any of the counties of the state, or by the state board of fish and game commissioners, or by the persons duly appointed and authorized by the said county clerks or the board of fish and game commisioners. [Amendment approved April 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 40.]

§ 2. Compensation for sale of licenses. For each hunting or angler's license sold, registered and accounted for by any person, except by a fish and game commissioner or a deputy or assistant fish and game commissioner paid a salary in full for his services to the state, he shall be allowed as compensation, for his own use, out of the fish and game preservation fund, ten per cent of the amount or amounts accounted for by him, and for each market fisherman's license hereunder fifty cents. [Amendment approved April 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 40.]

An act to regulate the vocation of fishing, and to provide therefrom revenue for the propagation, restoration and preservation of fish in the waters of the state of California.

Amended 1913, p. 985; 1917, p. 686.

Entirely amended in 1917 to read as follows:

§ 1. License required. Every person who uses or operates or assists in using or operating, any boat, net, trap, line or other appliance in the state for the purpose of catching or taking fish, mollusks or crustaceans for profit, and every person using or operating, or assisting in using or operating any boat, net, trap, line or other appliance for taking or catching fish, mollusks or crustaceans, or who brings or causes said fish, mollusks or crustaceans to be brought ashore at any point in the state for the purpose of selling the same as fresh fish, without first procuring a commercial fishing license, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 2. Licenses prepared by controller. Duty of president of commission. The controller of state shall prepare suitable licenses, of the classes designated by the fish and game commissioners, which shall license the holder of such license to catch or take fish, mollusks or crustaceans or to assist in catching or taking fish, mollusks or crustaceans, as provided in section one of this act, for the term of one year from the first day of April of one year to the first day of April of the year following. The licenses shall be numbered consecutively, beginning with number one, and contain blanks for the insertion of the name of the holder, his resident address, and his description, by age, height, nationality and color of eyes and hair, which description shall be furnished by the applicant to the board of fish and game commissioners. The controller shall sign all licenses and deliver the same to the fish and game commissioners, on demand, who shall be charged for the same by the controller. Each license, before delivery to the applicant for a license, must be countersigned by the president of the board of fish and game commissioners, and the president of the board of fish and game commissioners shall execute a bond to the people of the state of California, in the sum of two thousand dollars, for the faithful performance of the duties imposed upon him by this act.

§ 3. Fee. Forfeiture of license. Licenses shall be issued and delivered upon application to the state board of fish and game commissioners, or their deputies. The license fee shall be ten dollars for each person. Not more than one license shall be issued to any one person for the same year, except upon affidavit by the applicant that the one issued has been lost or destroyed, and no license issued as herein provided shall be transferable or used by any other person than the one to whom it was issued. Every person having a license as provided herein, who refuses to exhibit such license upon demand of any officer authorized to enforce the fish and game laws of this state, or any peace officer of this state, or who transfers or disposes of the same to another person to be used as a fisherman's license, or who fails to have his license with him where it may be readily examined by any officer authorized to enforce the fish and game laws, at the time he is using or operating or assisting in using or operating any net, trap, line or other appliance, or who uses or assists in using any net, trap, line or other appliance by modes or methods in violation of any law, for the preservation of fish and game shall forfeit this license.

§ 4. Fees paid to whom. The said license fees must be paid to the fish and game commissioners, or to someone designated by them for that purpose.

§ 5. Credited to preservation fund. The money collected from such licenses shall be paid by the commissioners into the state treasury, to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

§ 6. Penalty. The violation of any provisions of this act is hereby declared a misdemeanor, and every person violating any of its provisions, shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined in a sum not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term of not less than ten nor more than one hundred days, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and all fines collected for any violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be paid into the state treasury, to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

An act to regulate and license the taking and catching of game fishes and to define game fish and to provide revenue therefrom, for fish preservation and restoration.

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 37.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 3. Fees for game fish licenses. Licenses as herein provided for shall be issued as follows:

First—To any citizen of the United States, over the age of eighteen years, who is a bona fide resident of the state of California, upon the payment of one dollar; provided, that licenses shall be issued to veterans of the Civil War free of charge.

Second—To any citizen of the United States, over the age of eighteen years, not a bona fide resident of the state of California, upon the payment of three dollars.

Third—To any person, not a citizen of the United States and over the age of eighteen years, upon the payment of three dollars.

An act to authorize and regulate the possession, use, transportation and sale of trout or other fish, by persons engaged in the business of propagating and rearing such fish, and by persons who transport such fish, and by persons who purchase fish so reared.

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 940.

§ 2. Application for license. Every citizen desiring to propagate and raise domesticated trout or other domesticated fish in any artificial body of water or private hatchery shall file with the fish and game commission a written application for a license so to do. Said application shall state the name, residence and place of business of the applicant and shall set forth the exact description of the land upon which said artificial body of water or private hatchery is to be located and the applicant's title to said land and the kind and number of fish desired to be kept therein. Said application shall be accompanied by a fee of five dollars, which, if such application be granted, shall be paid into the state treasury by the state fish and game commission to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 941.]

§ 3. No outlet or inlet. All artificial bodies of water or private hatcheries in which domesticated trout or other domesticated fish may be propagated and raised under the provisions of this act shall be entirely within the exterior boundaries of the land owned or leased by the applicant for said license and there shall be no natural inlet or outlet for the waters contained therein. All artificial inlets and outlets of said artificial bodies of water or private hatcheries must be screened to prevent the ingress or egress of fish to or from any natural body of water. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 941.]

§ 4. Granting of license. Permit to import domesticated fish. Upon the receipt of said application the state board of fish and game commissioners shall make an examination of the land and waters described in the said application. All the expenses of the said examination shall be borne by the applicant. If it shall appear that the aforesaid artificial body of water or private hatchery has been constructed and screened according to the provisions of this act and the application is in other respects proper and reasonable, the said fish and game commission shall grant to such applicant a license to propagate and raise domesticated trout or other domesticated fish mentioned in the application and to possess said domesticated trout or other domesticated fish during the entire calendar year. The license shall be posted or displayed in a conspicuous place on the land described in the application and shall expire on the last day of December in each year at midnight.

Upon obtaining a permit from the fish and game commission domesticated trout or other domesticated fish raised in a regularly licensed hatchery under the laws of any other state may be imported into this state, transported, sold or offered for sale during the entire calendar year upon the payment of a fee of five dollars per year; provided, that such imported domesticated trout or other domesticated fish shall be duly tagged in accordance with the rules and regulations to be prescribed by the fish and game commission. The permit issued under the provisions of this act shall be posted in a conspicuous place in the principal place of business of the person importing such fish and shall expire on the last day of December in each year at midnight. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 941.]

§ 5. Domesticated fish may be sold during year. Domesticated trout or other domesticated fish propagated and raised in this state under the license granted in accordance with the provisions of this act may be transported, sold or offered for sale during the entire calendar year when duly tagged according to the rules and regulations to be prescribed by the fish and game commission. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 942.]

§ 6. Tags. The fish and game commission will furnish to each person to whom a license or a permit has been issued under the provisions of this act metallic tags inscribed with the letters "C. F. & G. C." Each applicant shall pay to the fish and game commission for such tags the actual cost of said tags. One of each of said tags shall be affixed to each domesticated trout or other domesticated fish raised under the provisions of this act and transported, sold or offered for sale and said tag shall remain so affixed until said domesticated trout or other domesticated fish has been prepared for consumption. The possession of any domesticated trout or other domesticated fish without such tag affixed thereto shall be a violation of this act. Only tags so furnished shall be used; no tag shall be used more than once. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 942.]

§ 7. Live trout transported. Live trout, for propagation purposes only, may be transported when accompanied by a permit issued by the fish and game commission, and not otherwise. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 942.]

§ 8. Marking of package. Before any domesticated trout, or other domesticated fish named in the aforesaid license or permit, are shipped or transported, the package in which the same are contained must have affixed thereto a tag on which shall be plainly marked the number of pounds and kind of fish contained therein, together with the name and address of the consignee and the consignor, the initial point of billing and the point of destination. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 942.]

§ 9. Sale of domesticated fish. Any person may buy, sell or have in possession for sale for use as food at any season of the year any trout, or other domesticated fish, artificially propagated and kept; and provided, also, that the same is tagged as hereinbefore provided. The tag shall be removed only by the consumer, and when removed shall be destroyed. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 942.]

§ 10. Report to fish and game commission. Every person receiving a license, as aforesaid, to propagate and raise trout, or other domesticated fish, shall make a written report to the fish and game commission on or before December thirty-first of each year, stating the number and variety of trout, or other fish named in the permit, sold or exchanged, or given away, for use as food, or for propagation or exhibition during the preceding year.

§ 11. Public nuisance. Any lake, pond, or any body of water maintained in violation of this act shall be deemed a continuing public nuisance, and may be abated as provided by law for the abatement of public nuisances, and each day the same is maintained in violation thereof shall be deemed a separate offense. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 943.]

§ 12. Penalty for violation. License revoked. The violation of any of the provisions of this act is hereby declared a misdemeanor and every person violating any of its provisions shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined in a sum not less than twenty-five dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term of not less than twenty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and all fines collected for any violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be paid into the state treasury, to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

If any person to whom such license or permit shall have been issued, under the provisions of this act, shall be convicted of a violation of any of the fish and game laws of this state, the state board of fish and game commissioners may revoke the license or permit of such person and thereafter no similar license or permit shall be issued to such person. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 943.]

An act to provide for the protection of fur-bearing mammals, defining fur-bearing mammals, providing for a license for hunting or trapping such fur-bearing mammals and requiring reports to be filed with the fish and game commission.

§ 1. Killing fur-bearing mammals. Every person who, between the first day of March and the first day of November of any year, traps, hunts, takes or kills any fur-bearing mammal is guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 2. Killing other than by trap or gun. Every person who at any time takes, hunts or kills any fur-bearing mammal in any manner other than by trap or gun, or who shall at any time take or kill any skunk by digging or driving them from dens or by use of chemicals is guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 3. Unlawful to use poison. It shall be unlawful for any person to use poison of any kind in the taking or killing of any fur-bearing mammal; provided, however, that the fish and game commission may in its discretion issue to any person a permit to use poison in the taking or killing of any such mammal upon an application therefor, which application shall contain detailed information concerning the kind of poison desired to be used and when and where it is desired to use the same; provided, further, that such fur-bearing mammals injuring any property may be taken or killed at any time in any manner.

§ 4. Trapping without license. Every person in the state of California who traps for profit any fur-bearing mammals without first procuring a license therefor as provided by this act is guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 5. Licenses to trap for profit. Licenses granting the privilege to trap for profit any fur-bearing mammals shall be issued by the state board of fish and game commissioners, who shall prepare suitable licenses of convenient size and form and have printed thereon the words, "trapping license No. ——, state of California. Expires June 30, 19—," with registration number and appropriate year printed or stamped thereon, which said license shall be prepared by the state board of fish and game commissioners, which board shall account for same to the controller of the state.

§ 6. Fees. Licenses herein provided for shall be issued as follows: (1) To any citizen of the United States upon payment of one dollar; (2) To any person not a citizen of the United States upon payment of two dollars; provided, however, that every person eighteen years of age or under by applying to the state board of fish and game commissioners and complying with the provisions of section four of this act, may obtain a license without the payment of any fee.

§ 7. Name, address, etc. furnished. Every person applying for and procuring a license as herein provided shall furnish to the state board of fish and game commissioners his name and resident address. Such applicant shall also furnish to the board of fish and game commissioners a written description of himself by age, height, nationality, color of eyes and hair and shall also give information relative to the sections of the state in which he intends to trap.

§ 8. Term. All licenses issued as herein provided shall be valid and shall authorize the person to whom issued to trap fur-bearing mammals for profit on and from the first day of July of the year in which said license is issued until the date of expiration written or stamped thereon, but no license shall continue in force for a longer period than one year.

§ 9. Statement of mammals taken. Every person to whom a license is issued, under the provisions of this act, must, before the first day of July following the date issued, send to the fish and game commission a sworn statement showing the number of each kind of fur-bearing mammals taken together with the name and address of the firm or person to whom they were shipped or sold. A new license cannot be granted unless this provision is complied with; provided, however, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to persons eighteen years of age or under.

§ 10. What are fur-bearing mammals. For the purpose of this act, the following shall be considered fur-bearing mammals: Black and brown bear, ring-tailed cat, coon, pine martin, fisher, wolverine, mink, skunk, river otter, grey, cross, silver and red fox.

§ 11. Moneys credited to game preservation fund. All moneys collected from licenses as provided herein and all fines collected for violations of the provisions hereof shall be paid into the state treasury and credited to the game preservation fund.

§ 12. No more than one license. Not more than one license shall be issued to any one person for the same fiscal year, except upon an affidavit by the applicant that the one issued has been lost or destroyed and no license issued as herein provided shall be transferable or used by any other person than the one to whom it was issued.

§ 13. Disturbing traps. Every person who shall disturb or remove the traps of any licensed trapper while trapping on the public domain or on lands where he has permission to trap is guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 14. Refusal to exhibit license. Every person having a license as provided herein who refuses to exhibit such license or any furs that may be in his possession or control upon the demand of any officer authorized to enforce the game and fish laws of this state or any peace officer of the state shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and every person lawfully having such license who transfers or disposes of same to another person to be used as a trapping license or who violates any of the laws for the protection of game shall forfeit the same.

§ 15. Penalty. Every person violating any of the provisions of this act shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars or more than one hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term of not less than ten or more than one hundred days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

An act empowering the state board of health to examine sources from which shellfish are taken; making it unlawful to take shellfish from contaminated sources if determined by said board to be a menace to health; making violations of this act misdemeanors and providing for the punishment of same.

§ 1. Taking of oysters, etc., unlawful, when. It shall be unlawful to take oysters, clams, quahaugs, mussels or other shellfish used or intended to be used for human consumption from any tidal waters, flats, areas or sources from which the taking of such shellfish shall be determined to be a menace to health as hereinafter provided.

§ 2. Examination of tidal waters, etc., by state board of health. Posting of notices. The state board of health may and is hereby empowered to examine any tide waters, flats, areas or sources from which oysters, clams, quahaugs, mussels or other shellfish may be taken, and to determine whether such waters, flats, areas or sources are subject to sewage contamination, and to determine whether the taking of such shellfish from such waters, flats, areas or sources does or may constitute a menace to the lives and health of human beings. Upon the determination by said state board of health that such waters, flats, areas or sources are or may be subject to sewage contamination and that the taking of shellfish therefrom does or may constitute a menace to the lives and health of human beings, said board shall ascertain as accurately as may be the bounds of such contamination, and shall cause the posting of notices prohibiting the taking of shellfish from such sources and describing the bounds of the tidal flats, waters, areas or sources from which the taking of shellfish shall be unlawful. The fact of the posting of such notices shall be published once a week for four successive weeks in some newspaper of general circulation, published in the county in which such waters, flats, areas or sources are situated, if there be one, and if there be none, then in a newspaper published in an adjoining county.

§ 3. Enforcement. It shall be the duty of the state board of health to enforce the provisions of this act and its inspectors and employees are hereby empowered to enter upon public or private property upon which shellfish may be located at all times for the purposes of this act.

§ 4. Penalty. Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment for a term of not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, but such penalties shall not be incurred until the fact of such prohibition shall have been published for four successive weeks, as above provided. Each day's violation shall constitute a separate and distinct offense.

An act to license canners, curers, preservers and packers of fish and handlers of crustaceans and mollusks, and providing a revenue therefrom for the conservation, propagation and restoration of fish in the state of California, and providing for a record of fish caught or received, and providing penalties for the violations of the provisions thereof, and repealing all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

§ 1. Unlawful to can, etc., fish without license. Any person in this state, who engages in the business of canning, curing, preserving or packing fish, which are taken in the waters of this state or are brought into this state in a fresh condition; or of manufacturing fish scrap, fish meal, fish oil, chicken feed or fertilizer from fish or fish offal; or of dealing in mollusks or crustaceans by wholesale, without first procuring a license for each plant or place of business is guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 2. Licenses prepared by controller. The controller of state shall prepare suitable licenses, of the classes designated by the fish and game commissioners, which shall license the holder of such license to can, cure, preserve or pack fish, to manufacture fish meal, fish oil and other products from fish, and to deal in mollusks and crustaceans by wholesale in this state, (subject to the restrictions provided by law) as provided in section 1 of this act, for the term of one year from the first, day of July of one year to the thirtieth day of June of the year following. All licenses shall be numbered consecutively, beginning with number one and contain blanks for the insection of the name of the holder, his residence, and place of business, which information shall be furnished by the applicant to the board of fish and game commissioners. The controller shall sign all licenses and deliver the same to the fish and game commissioners, on demand, who shall be charged for the same by the controller. Each license, before delivery to the applicant for a license, must be countersigned by the president of the board of fish and game commissioners and the president of the board of fish and game commissioners shall execute a bond to the people of the state of California in the sum of two thousand dollars for the faithful performance of the duties imposed upon him by this act.

§ 3. Issued to whom. Licenses shall be issued and delivered upon application to the state board of fish and game commissioners or their deputies. The licenses herein provided for shall be issued as follows: To any citizen of the United States and to any person who has duly made his declaration of intention to become a citizen of the United States as provided by law, upon the payment of five dollars; to any person not a citizen of the United States, upon the payment of twenty dollars. In case a license is lost or destroyed, a duplicate may be issued to any licensee by the fish and game commission, upon an affidavit by him that the one issued has been lost or destroyed. Every person having a license as provided herein, who refuses to exhibit such license upon demand of any officer authorized to enforce the fish and game laws of this state, or any peace officer of this state, or who transfers or disposes of the same to another person to be used as a license, shall forfeit this license.

§ 4. Payment of fees. The said license fees must be paid to the fish and game commissioners or to some one designated by them for that purpose.

§ 5. Record of fish purchased. Monthly statement to fish and game commission. Every person operating under a license as provided in section one of this act, and every person dealing in fresh fish shall keep a book or books in which shall be entered a full and correct record, in the English language, of all fresh fish purchased or received by them from fishermen or taken by themselves, giving the names of the different species, and the number of pounds so received or caught of each different species, and the name and address of the person or persons from whom such fish were received. Said book or books are to be open at all times for the inspection of members of the fish and game commission or persons duly authorized by them. They shall also render to the fish and game commission, on or before the tenth day of each month on blanks to be furnished by the said fish and game commission, a true and correct statement showing the amount of each species of fresh fish, stated separately, so purchased, received or caught during the previous month, together with the name and address of the person or persons from whom such fish were received or purchased. Said monthly statetments are to be accompanied by an affidavit to the effect that the said report is a true and correct statement of all the fish received from fishermen or caught by themselves during the time covered by the report.

§ 6. Receipts to fishermen. Every person operating under a license as provided in section 1 of this act, and every person dealing in fish who receives fish from fishermen shall issue receipts to the fishermen from whom fish are received and shall give in such receipt the date of issuance, the name of the fisherman or fishermen to whom issued, the weight in pounds of each variety of fish received, the price per pound paid to the fishermen, and the signature of the dealer who issued the receipt. A duplicate manifold copy of this receipt shall be kept on file by the dealer issuing the same, for a period of six months and the said duplicate copy shall be available for inspection at any time within six months, upon demand of the fish and game commissioner, or any duly authorized assistant thereof.

§ 7. Privilege tax. Quarterly report of fresh fish purchased. Affidavit. Forfeiture of license. Every person operating under a license, as provided in section one of this act, shall, in addition to the license fee, pay a privilege tax of two and one-half cents for each one hundred pounds, or fraction thereof, of fish purchased or received by them, or fish caught or taken by themselves, with their own equipment; provided, that any fish, excepting mollusks and crustaceans, so taken or received, which are utilized for human consumption in its fresh state, shall not be subject to such tax; and provided, further, that herring and buck shad shall also be exempt from the tax provided herein; and such person shall, in addition to making a monthly report as provided in section five of this act, make a quarterly report to the fish and game commission, showing the total amount of fresh fish, in pounds, purchased, caught or received by them (for purposes other than human consumption in its fresh state), and of mollusks and crustaceans purchased or received by them from fishermen, or caught by themselves, whether they be used fresh or otherwise, during the three months next preceding March thirty-first, June thirtieth, September thirtieth, and December thirty-first of each year. Blanks for this report shall be furnished by the fish and game commission, and such report shall be rendeded to the fish and game commission, not later than the fifteenth day of the month following the months of March, June, September and December of each year. Said reports shall be accompanied by an affidavit by the person or firm purchasing, taking, catching or receiving such fish, to the effect that said report is a true and correct record of all fish caught or received by them (for purposes other than human consumption in its fresh state); and of all mollusks and crustaceans purchased or received from fishermen, or caught by themselves, during the quarterly period covered by the report. Upon the failure of any person operating under a license, as provided in section one of this act, to pay the privilege tax provided herein, said person shall forfeit his license for a period of one year. Said privilege tax shall be paid to the fish and game commission, or some one authorized by them, within thirty days after the close of each quarterly period.

§ 8. Moneys used for conservation work. All moneys collected from the sale of licenses and from the privilege tax on fish, as herein provided, shall be paid to the fish and game commissioners, or some one designated by them for that purpose and all money so collected shall be paid by the fish and game commissioners into the state treasury, to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund, and shall be expended on conservation work for the benefit of the commercial fishing industries within the districts from which the revenues are derived.

§ 9. Penalty for violation. The violation of any of the provisions of this act is hereby declared a misdemeanor, and every person violating any of its provisions, shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined in a sum not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term of not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and all fines collected for any violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be paid into the state treasury, to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

An act to authorize the board of state harbor commissioners of San Francisco harbor to pay the claim of the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland. [Approved May 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1514. In effect July 30, 1917.]

This act authorized the harbor commissioners to pay the claim of the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland for the sum of $1,218.92.

TITLE 229.

HIGHWAYS.

An act authorizing any county to permit the construction and maintenance of a highway or boulevard over highways within its limits connecting with main public highways of an adjoining county by the board of supervisors or highway commissioners of such adjoining county, permitting boards of supervisors of such adjoining counties to construct and maintain such bridge or bridges on such highways or boulevards as they may deem necessary, permitting such boards of supervisors to macadamize or pave or gutter such highways or boulevards, providing the manner in which the cost and expense thereof shall be paid, and prescribing the procedure whereby the use, control, maintenance and jurisdiction of any highway or boulevard constructed under the provisions of this act may be retransferred to the county originally granting the use thereof.

§ 1. Counties permitted to maintain highways connecting with those of another county. Any county in this state is hereby authorizezd and empowered to permit, by and through an ordinance of its board of supervisors, the use of any of its public highways connecting with any main public highway of an adjoining county by the board of supervisors or highway commissioners of such adjoining county, for the purpose of constructing and maintaining thereon a highway or boulevard serving the needs of residents of both counties; and the board of supervisors of any such adjoining county, if it accepts the provisions of the ordinance adopted by the board of supervisors of the county granting the use, shall have the power to construct and maintain any such highway or boulevard, or to construct or maintain such bridge or bridges on such highway or boulevard as it may deem necessary, or to macadamize, pave, curb or gutter such highway or boulevard in such manner as it may determine, and the cost or expense thereof shall be paid out of the general fund of the county treasury, or such other fund as the board of supervisors may designate, or which shall otherwise be provided, of the county to which the use is granted. The boards of supervisors of any counties proceeding under the provisions of this act may by mutual consent, expressed through ordinances of the respective boards, retransfer the use, control, maintenance and jurisdiction of any highway or boulevard constructed under the provisions hereof to the county originally granting the use.

An act making an appropriation to pay any assessment that may be imposed against the state of California under the provisions of an act entitled "An act providing for the creation, organization and government of joint highway districts composed of two or more counties of the state of California," approved April 5, 1917; to pay the share of the state of California under any agreement or agreements with the United States government for co-operative work in the construction, improvement or maintenance of highways useful for military purposes and authorizing the state department of engineering to enter into any such agreements; and to pay the cost of making surveys and preparing plans and estimates for the following highways: An extension of the Trinity-Humboldt state road, from its westerly end, in a westerly direction, and to the town of Bridgeville, in Humboldt county; a highway beginning at or near Oxnard in Ventura county, California, and extending to a point near San Juan in Orange county, California; a highway from Jackson's ranch near Pescadero in San Mateo county, California, to Governor's Camp in the California Redwood Park, Santa Cruz county, California; a highway beginning at Carmel in Monterey county, California, and running thence in a southerly direction to San Simeon in San Luis Obispo county, California, and a lateral highway from a point most feasible thereon to a point at or near Jolon in said Monterey county; a bridge to span San Francisco bay at or near Dumbarton Point; and a highway from the western boundary line of Kern county, California, to the state highway near the city of Santa Maria, Santa Barbara county, California. [Approved June 1, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1519. In effect July 31, 1917.]

The act appropriated $250,000 for the purpose indicated.

An act providing for the laying out, constructing, straightening, improvement and repair of main public highways in any county, providing for the voting, issuing, and selling of county bonds and the acceptance of donations to pay for such work and improvements, providing for a highway commission to have charge of such work and improvements, and authorizing cities and towns to improve the portions of such highways within their corporate limits and to issue and sell bonds therefor.

Amended 1909, p. 151; 1911, pp. 505, 589; 1911 (Ex Sess.), p. 65; 1913, p. 324; 1917, p. 154.

§ 10. Improvements must be durable. Highway shall not be used by railroad. Use of highway by railroad in incorporated city. All improvements constructed under this act shall be of a durable and lasting character; provided, that said commission shall have the power to determine how said highways shall be improved and constructed, and the character of the materials to be used in the improvement and construction thereof. If said commission shall determine that said highways, or any of them, shall be macadamized or paved, then the macadamized or paved portion of the roadbed constructed or any highway portion thereof improved under this act, shall not exceed eighteen feet in width, unless donations are made to the highway commission for that purpose, in which case such donations may be used to defray the increased cost of constructing such macadamized or paved roadbed more than eighteen feet wide on any part of such highway specified by the donors; but no part of the proceeds of any bond issue shall be expended for such purpose. No railroad, electric road, or street railroad shall be constructed along or upon any highway, or any portion thereof, improved under the provision of this act, except for crossings duly authorized by the board of supervisors, nor shall any board of supervisors have power to grant any franchise for the construction of any railroad, electric road, or street railroad along or upon any such highway or portion thereof, except for crossings; provided, that when any such highway or portion thereof shall, after the improvement of the same under the provisions of this act, be included within the boundaries of any incorporated city, city and county or town the foregoing provisions of this section shall not prohibit the granting of any such franchise by the proper municipal authorities along, upon or across any such highway, or portion thereof so included within the boundaries of any such incorporated city, city and county, or town. Any such franchise shall be granted only upon the express condition that the grantee thereof will pay to the county for the benefit of the general fund thereof an amount equal to the cost of the improvement or construction of such portion of the roadbed or highway constructed or improved under the provisions of this act as shall be occupied by the track or tracks of such railroad, electric road or street railroad. [Amendment approved April 20, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 154.]

An act to legalize the organization of permanent road divisions and validate all proceedings for the issuance of bonds of said divisions where authority for issuance of said bonds has already been given by a vote of at least two-thirds of the electors of any permanent road division.

§ 1. Organization of permanent road divisions validated. Time for instituting suit. In all cases where the board of supervisors of any county of this state, purporting to act under and by virtue of the proceedings of the Political Code applicable thereto, has organized a permanent road division, all proceedings for the organization of any such road division and the organization thereof are hereby validated and declared legal and no proceedings to test the validity of any such road division shall be maintained unless instituted within ninety days from the effective date of this act. Whenever the board of supervisors of any county has ordered the issuance of bonds of any such road division, after an election of the qualified electors thereof has been held to determine whether such indebtedness shall be incurred, at which election not less than two-thirds of all the qualified electors voting at such election have voted in favor of incurring such indebtedness, all the proceedings preceding and including the issuance and the proposed issuance of such bonds are hereby validated, ratified and confirmed; and all such bonds sold or to be sold for not less than par and accrued interest are hereby declared to be valid and legal obligations of such road divisions in accordance with their terms, and no suit shall be maintained to prevent the issuance, sale or delivery of any such bonds or to prevent the payment of principal or of the interest accruing thereon when such principal and interest, respectively, become due in accordance with the terms of such bonds, unless such suit is instituted within ninety days from the effective date of this act.

An act to provide for the formation and establishment of boulevard districts; the construction, acquisition, maintenance, control and use of boulevards; defining the term boulevard; providing for the voting, issuing and selling of bonds, and the levying of taxes to pay for the acquisition, construction, maintenance and repair of such boulevard; providing for a boulevard commission to have charge of the affairs of boulevard districts, and the construction, maintenance and repair of boulevards, within such districts; providing for the election of such commission, their terms of office, and of elections to be held in such districts; and repealing an act entitled "An act to provide for the formation of boulevard districts, and the construction, maintenance, and use of boulevards, and defining the term boulevard," approved March 22, 1905, and the act amendatory thereof, approved April 15, 1909.

Amended Ex. Sess. 1911, p. 223; 1913, p. 394; 1917, p. 1299.

§ 1. Boulevard district formed. Any portion of a county not contained in a boulevard district under the provisions of this act, may be formed into a boulevard district, and when so formed shall be known and designated by the name and style of —— boulevard district (using the name of the district) of —— county (using the name of the county in which said district is located), and shall have the rights herein enumerated, and such as may hereafter be conferred by law.

§ 2. Petition to board of supervisors. Bond filed. A petition for the formation of such boulevard district (naming it) may be presented to the board of supervisors of the county wherein the district is proposed to be formed, which said petition shall be signed by not less than ten freeholders, owning land within the proposed district and shall contain:

(1) The boundaries of the proposed district and an estimate of the number of inhabitants residing therein;

(2) An estimate of the number of acres contained therein and the assessed value thereof and of the improvements thereon;

(3) A request that an election be called within said district for the purpose of determining the question of the formation of said boulevard district, for the construction and maintenance of a boulevard or boulevards therein under the provisions of this act.

There shall be filed with said board of supervisors at the time of the filing of the petition for the organization of said boulevard district with said board, a bond in the sum of not more than three hundred dollars, with two sufficient sureties, to be approved by said board, who shall each qualify in double the amount of said bond, conditioned that they will pay the expense and cost of said election in an amount not exceeding the amount mentioned in said bond, in case the proposition to organize said district shall be defeated at said election.

§ 3. Hearing on petition. Such petition must be presented at a regular meeting of said board of supervisors and they shall thereupon fix a time for hearing said petition, not less than twenty, nor more than sixty days after the date of presentation thereof, and shall publish a notice of the fact that such petition has been filed (referring to the same on file with the clerk of the board of supervisors for further particulars) and giving the time and place at which said petition will be heard, and directing all parties interested to appear at said time and place, and show cause, if any they have, why said petition should not be granted, which said notice shall be published at least once a week for two consecutive weeks in some newspaper published and circulated in said proposed district; provided, that if no newspaper be so published in said district, then said notice shall be so published in some newspaper published and circulated at the county seat of the county in which said proposed district is located.

§ 4. Land excluded. Lands included. Upon the day named for the hearing of said petition, the board of supervisors shall hear the same and any objections thereto and may adjourn such hearing from time to time, not more than sixty days in all. If the board find that lands have been improperly included, it may in fixing the final boundaries exclude from such district any lands which may have been so included, or the board may, as it deems for the best interests of such district, include any adjacent lands outside the boundaries described in said petition, either on petition of the owners of such lands. or upon notice of its intention to include such adjacent lands by publication once a week for two successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published either in said district or at the county seat, which notice shall refer to the petition for the formation of the district on file with the board of supervisors, shall describe the adjacent territory intended to be included within the proposed boundaries of said proposed district and shall direct all persons interested therein to appear at a specified time and place and show cause if any there be why said adjacent lands should not be so included. Upon the petition and evidence produced at such hearings the board shall determine and fix the boundaries of such district and must thereupon, by order, define and establish such boundaries.

§ 5. Election. Notice. The board of supervisors thereupon, and not later than thirty days after the establishment of said boundaries, as hereinbefore provided, shall by order, call an election to be held in such proposed boulevard district for the purpose of determining whether such district shall be formed. The order must fix the day of such election, which must be within sixty days from the date of the order, and must show the boundaries of the proposed district, and must state that at such election one member of the boulevard commission will be voted for. This order shall be entered in the minutes of the board, and shall be conclusive evidence of the due presentation of a proper petition, and of the fact that each of the petitioners was, at the time of the signing and presentation of such petition, a freeholder owning land within the proposed district and that all other steps and actions requisite to and pertaining to the making of said order, including the hearing of said petition and establishment of the boundaries of said district, have been properly taken; notice of such election shall be given by posting a copy of such order for three successive weeks prior to the election, in three public places within the proposed district, and by publication of a copy of such order at least once a week for three successive weeks prior to the election in some newspaper published in the proposed district, if there be one, and if not, in some newspaper published at the county seat.

§ 6. Polling places. Election officers. Ballots. Election of member of boulevard district. Canvass of returns. The board of supervisors, at least fifteen days prior to the election, shall select one, and may select two, polling places within the proposed district, and make all suitable arrangements for the holding of such election. They must select and appoint, from among the qualified electors of the proposed boulevard district, one inspector and two judges of election in each polling place, who shall constitute the officers of said election and the election board; if none are so appointed or if any officer appointed does not attend at the opening of the polls on the morning of election, the electors present may appoint substitutes to fill the election board. The ballot shall contain the words "boulevard district—yes," and "boulevard district—no," and shall also make provision for voting for one member of the boulevard commission of said district. At such election there shall be elected one member of the boulevard commission, whose term of office shall be for four years and until the election, or appointment, and qualification of his successor. Such election, and all subsequent, or other, elections in said district shall, except as herein otherwise expressly provided, be conducted as nearly as practicable in accordance with the general election laws of the state, except that the provisions of said laws as to the form of ballots and the making of nominations and the selection or appointment of officers of election, shall not apply, and that no irregularity or informality in conducting any election under this act, not substantially affecting adversely the legal rights of any elector, as herein defined, shall invalidate or affect such election. At each election pursuant to this act, every qualified elector, resident within the district as proposed or established, and who would be entitled on the date of the respective election to vote in said district at a general election, shall be entitled to vote at such election. The said officers of election must make return of the election to the board of supervisors of said county, which shall canvass said returns as by law provided, and if a majority of the votes cast at such election shall be in favor of a boulevard district the board of supervisors shall make and cause to be entered in the minutes of said board an order that the boulevard district of the name, and with the boundaries theretofore established by said board (setting forth such boundaries), has been duly established, and shall declare the person receiving the highest number of votes for member of the boulevard commission, duly elected as such commissioner; and said order shall be conclusive evidence of the fact and regularity of all prior proceedings of every kind and nature provided for by this act or by law, and of the existence and validity of the boulevard district. If a majority of the votes cast shall be against a boulevard district, the board shall by order entered in its minutes so declare, and no other proceeding shall be taken in relation thereto until the expiration of one year from the date of the presentation of the petition to said board.

Sections 7 to 23, inclusive, of the original were repealed by the amendatory act of 1917 and the following new sections were added:

§ 7. Officers. Vacancy. Appointment of member by state highway commission. Term. Bond. No compensation. The officers of the district shall be three members of the boulevard commission, who shall be designated as commissioners, and shall be, except as hereinafter provided, the chairman of the board of supervisors and the county surveyor, or the county engineer, as the case may be, of the county in which the district is situated, who shall be ex-officio commissioners, and a third commissioner elected as herein provided who must have been a bona fide resident and freeholder within the boundaries of the district for at least one year prior to his election. Any vacancy in the office of commissioner shall, except as hereinafter provided, be filled by appointment for the unexpired term by the board of supervisors from among the bona fide resident freeholders within said district who shall have been such resident freeholders for at least one year prior to such appointment, but no member of the said board of supervisors, except the chairman thereof, shall be eligible to hold office on said commission or to hold any position in connection therewith. At any time, upon petition in writing signed by at least twenty-five per cent in number of the number of qualified electors, residing within the district and named upon the great register of the county in which the district is situated, and presented to the state highway commission, the said state highway commission shall, and it is hereby empowered to, declare the office of boulevard commissioner theretofore held by the said county surveyor, or county engineer, as the case may be, vacant, and nominate and appoint as commissioner to fill such vacancy a person who shall be a civil engineer, qualified in the opinion of the state highway commission to act as such commissioner. The commissioner so appointed shall hold office for the term of four years from and after his appointment, and until the appointment and qualification of his successor, and all appointments to fill any vacancy in the office of such commissioner either during or at the expiration of his term of office shall be made by the state highway commission upon the receipt of written notice from the boulevard commission of such vacancy or expiration, but no petition shall be necessary therefor. Each commissioner shall give a bond to the boulevard district for the faithful performance of his duties in the sum of five thousand dollars, to be approved by a judge of the superior court of the county in which the district is located. The commissioners shall receive no compensation whatever either for general or special services. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1604.]

§ 8. Election every fourth year. Notice. Polling places and election officers. Canvass of returns. An election shall be held in each boulevard district on the first Monday after the first Tuesday in March in the fourth year after the formation of the district, and in every fourth year thereafter, at which shall be elected a commissioner in place of the elected commissioner whose term shall expire during such year. Not less than twenty days before the day of each such election the boulevard commission must give notice of said election by posting notice thereof in three public places in the boulevard district, which notice must specify the time and place of election, the hours during which the polls will be kept open, and the officer to be elected. They shall select one, and may select two polling places within the district; shall appoint one inspector and two judges of election in each polling place, and make all necessary and proper arrangements for holding the election. Said election officers shall constitute the election board. If no election officers are so appointed, or if any of those appointed are not present at the time of the opening of the polls, the electors present may appoint all, or any, of them so absent or not appointed and they shall conduct the election as if so appointed by said commission and present. The officers of the election must publicly canvass the votes immediately after the closing of the polls, and must make return of the election within twenty-four hours after the closing of the polls to the board of supervisors. Said board of supervisors at its first meeting after receiving said returns shall canvass the same and shall make, sign and deliver a certificate of election to the person elected. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1304.]

§ 9. President and secretary. The boulevard commission shall be the governing body of the district, and shall exercise all the powers thereof. At its first meeting or as soon thereafter as may be practicable, the commission shall choose one of its members as president, and another of its members as secretary. All contracts, deeds, warrants, releases, receipts and documents of every kind shall be signed in the name of the district by its president, and shall be countersigned by its secretary. The commission may hold such meetings, either in the day or in the evening, as may be convenient, all such meetings of the commission must be held in the district at an appointed place. In case of the absence or inability to act of the president or secretary, the commission shall, by order entered upon its minutes, choose from its members a president pro tempore, or secretary pro tempore, as the case may be. A majority of the members of the commission is a sufficient number to form a commission for the transaction of business, and every decision of a majority of the members forming such commission made when duly assembled, is valid as an act of said commission. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1305.]

quire by purchase, gift, devise, condemnation proceedings or otherwise real and personal property and rights of way within the district, and to pay for and hold the same; provided, however, that if any boulevard or boulevards are constructed with moneys raised by taxation and not from the sale of bonds as herein provided, such boulevard or boulevards shall be constructed only after an election to be had in the manner herein provided for elections in said district, for the purpose of determining whether such boulevard or boulevards shall be constructed and at which election a majority of the votes cast are in favor of the construction of such boulevard or boulevards; to make and accept any and all contracts, deeds, releases and documents of any kind which shall be necessary or proper to the exercise of any of the powers of the district, and to direct the payment of all lawful claims and demands against it; to issue bonds as hereinafter provided, and to provide for the payment of the same and the interest thereon; and to cause to be levied taxes sufficient when directed by a vote of the people of the district for the construction, maintenance or repair of said boulevard, or boulevards, and all indebtedness of such district, and the running expenses of the district; to employ all necessary engineers, surveyors, agents and workmen to do the work on or in connection with the boulevard or boulevards in said district; and generally to do and perform any and all acts necessary or proper to the complete exercise and effect of any of its powers or the purposes for which it was formed. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1305.]

§ 11. "Boulevard." By the term "boulevard" as used herein is meant a highway not less than thirty and not more than one hundred feet in width, and upon, along, and over the portion or portions of which where the same is less than sixty feet in width no railroad, electric road, or street railroad shall, except upon a permit granted therefor by the board or body in control of such boulevard evidence by an order entered in its minutes, be constructed or operated; and any easements granted or condemned for the building of said boulevard shall be so granted or condemned; provided, that nothing herein shall be deemed to apply to or as preventing or limiting the use of vehicles across said boulevard. Any boulevard constructed under this act may be constructed, in whole or in part, over, along, or upon any county road or public highway, or any part thereof, and the moneys belonging to such boulevard district may be expended in the improvement of such road or highway to conform to the width and general character of the balance of the boulevard, and for the purposes of this act the boulevard district is hereby expressly authorized and empowered to take over, control, operate, and use in whole or in part any such county road or public highway. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1306.]

§ 12. Survey, etc., of proposed boulevard. The boulevard commission shall, before the construction of any boulevard and before the calling of any election for the issuance of bonds, employ an engineer or engineers who shall make all necessary surveys, prepare a map or maps showing the location of the said proposed boulevard or boulevards, also showing a cross-section and profile of said proposed boulevard or boulevards, together with specifications for the construction thereof and estimates of the cost of acquiring rights of way therefor and of the cost of the construction thereof, which said surveys, maps, specifications and estimates, shall, upon the approval of the same by said commissioner, by order entered upon its minutes, be formally adopted by said commission and filed with its secretary and constitute the plan of said district for such proposed boulevard or boulevards; provided, that the said boulevard commission may, at its option, and it is hereby empowered to, direct the county surveyor, or county engineer, as the case may be, to do any or all of said work herein provided to be done by an engineer or engineers. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1307.]

§ 13. Bond election. Notice. At any time, and from time to time, after the adoption of a plan for a boulevard or boulevards, the boulevard commission may, by order entered in its minutes call an election for the purpose of determining whether bonds shall be issued for the acquisition of rights of way for, and the construction of, such boulevard or boulevards. Such order shall fix the day of the election and shall specify the amount of such bond issue, and shall state in general terms the purposes for which the money to be raised from the sale of such bonds shall be used, which purposes shall be confined to the acquisition of rights of way for, and the construction of, a boulevard or boulevards in said district; provided, however, that any moneys so raised which shall remain on hand after such acquisition of rights of way and construction have been completed, may and shall be expended in the betterment and maintenance of such boulevard or boulevards. Notice of such election shall be given by posting a copy of such order for three successive weeks prior to the election in at least three public places within the district, and by publication of a copy thereof for at least once a week for three successive weeks prior to the election in some newspaper published within the district, if there be one, and if not, in some newspaper published at the county seat of the county in which such district is located. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1307.]

§ 14. Polling places and election officers. Canvass of returns. At any time prior to the day fixed for the election the commission shall select one, and may select two, polling places within the district, and select and appoint from among the qualified electors within the district, one inspector, and two judges for each polling place to conduct the same, and shall make all necessary and proper arrangements for holding the election. The ballots shall contain the words "bonds, yes" and "bonds, no." After the votes shall have been counted and the result announced by the election officers the ballots shall be sealed up and delivered to the secretary of the boulevard commission with the election returns, and said commission shall, at its first meeting thereafter, canvass said returns and shall enter the result upon its minutes. Such entry shall be conclusive evidence of the fact and regularity of all prior proceedings of every kind and nature provided by this act or by law, and of the facts stated in such entry. If, at such election, not less than two-thirds of the votes cast be in favor of the issuance of bonds, the said commission shall have full power and authority to issue and sell said bonds as proposed in the order calling the election and as hereinafter provided. If the result of the election be against the issuance of bonds no other election upon the question shall be called or held for one year after such election. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1307.]

§ 15. Denomination. Payment. Sale. All bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be of such denomination as the boulevard commission may determine, except that no bonds shall be of less denomination than one hundred dollars nor of a greater denomination than one thousand dollars. Said bonds shall be payable in gold coin of the United States at the office of the county treasurer of the county wherein said district is situated, and shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding six per centum per annum; which interest shall be payable semi-annually in like gold coin. Not less than one-thirtieth part of the total issue of bonds shall be payable each year, commencing not more than five years after the date of said bonds. Each bond shall be signed by the president and countersigned by the secretary of the boulevard commission, and said bonds shall be numbered consecutively, in the order of their maturity, and shall have coupons for interest attached, attested by the facsimile signature of the secretary of said commission. The bonds may be sold by the boulevard commission in such manner and in such quantities as it may determine, but no bond may be sold for less than its face value. The proceeds of such sale shall be deposited with the county treasurer and shall be by him placed in the fund to be called the boulevard fund of —— boulevard district (naming it); the money in such fund shall be used for the purposes indicated in the order calling the election upon the question of the issuance of bonds. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1308.]

§ 16. Estimate of amount needed. The commission must at or before the first meeting of the board of supervisors in September of each year, furnish the supervisors and the auditor of the county wherein the district is situated, an estimate in writing of the amount of money needed for the purposes of the district for the ensuing fiscal year The amount must be sufficient to pay all interest and principal of outstanding bonds of the district maturing during the ensuing fiscal year, and to pay the estimated cost of repairs and maintenance of the boulevard, or boulevards, and the running expenses of the district. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1308.]

§ 17. Levy of tax. Collection. Moneys from general fund. Constitutionality. The board of supervisors of any county wherein is situated a boulevard district, must annually at the time of levying county taxes levy a tax to be known as the "—— (name of district) boulevard district tax," sufficient to raise the amount reported to them as herein, in section sixteen hereof, provided by the boulevard commission. The supervisors must determine the rate of such tax by deducting fifteen per cent for anticipated delinquencies from the total assessed value of the real property of the district within the county, as it appears on the assessment-roll of the county, and dividing the sum reported by the boulevard commission as required to be raised by the remainder of such total assessed value. The tax so levied shall be computed and entered on the assessment-roll by the county auditor, and if the supervisors fail to levy the tax as provided in the preceding section, then the auditor must do so. Such tax shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner as county taxes, and when collected shall be paid into the county treasury for the use of said district, and the purposes herein specified. The provisions of the Political Code of this state prescribing the manner of levying and collecting taxes and the duties of the several county officers with respect thereto are, so far as they are applicable and not in conflict with the specific provisions of this act, hereby adopted and made a part hereof. Such officers shall be liable upon their several official bonds for the faithful discharge of the duties imposed upon them by this act. All moneys raised by taxation as herein provided shall belong to said district. Anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding the board of supervisors shall set apart and turn over to the boulevard commission out of the general fund of the county twenty-five per cent of the cost of acquisition of rights of way for, and of construction of, said boulevard or boulevards and also twenty-five per cent of the cost of maintenance and repair of said boulevard or boulevards, all such moneys to be used by the boulevard commission for such purposes respectively, and the board of supervisors shall set apart and use for road work in the boulevard district all moneys raised in such district by the county for road purposes; provided, however, that if for any reason the provisions, or any thereof, of this sentence are unconstitutional or affect the constitutionality of this act or any of the provisions thereof, then this sentence, or such provisions thereof, only, shall be void and the remainder of this act shall stand as if this sentence, or such provisions thereof, as the case may be, had not been included in this act, the same being hereby declared to be separable. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1309.]

§ 18. Funds kept by county treasurer. The treasury of the county wherein the district is situated shall be the repository of all the funds of the district. The treasurer of the county shall receive and receipt for the same, and shall place the same to the credit of the boulevard district. He shall be responsible upon his official bond for their safekeeping and disbursement in the manner herein provided. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1310.]

§ 19. Funds established. The following funds are hereby established to which the money belonging to the district, and raised by taxation as herein provided, shall be apportioned by the treasurer, to wit: bond fund, construction and maintenance fund, and district expense fund. The treasurer shall pay out the same only upon warrants of the boulevard commission, signed by the president and attested by the secretary, except that all bonds and coupons shall be paid on presentation by the county treasurer out of the bond fund without such warrant. The treasurer shall report in writing to the commissioners whenever requested by them or the secretary the amount of money in the various funds, the amounts of receipts since his last report and the amounts paid out. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1310.]

entered in its minutes, advertise for bids for the construction of such boulevard or boulevards, either as a whole or in such sections as it may see fit, in accordance with the plan theretofore adopted and filed, as hereinbefore provided by said commission, by publishing a notice calling for such bids, at least once a week for two successive weeks in a weekly newspaper published within the boulevard district if such newspaper is published therein, otherwise in a newspaper published at the county seat of the county in which such district is located. Such notice shall refer to said order and said plan for further particulars. If the commission shall elect to receive separate bids for the construction of sections of said boulevard or boulevards, the said order shall describe the separate sections for which such separate bids are desired. The commission may also in its discretion advertise at the same time and in the same notice both for bids for the construction of such boulevard or boulevards as a whole and for bids for the construction of separate sections thereof. Every contract for doing any part of said work shall be let, after advertisement as herein provided, to the lowest responsible bidder, who shall, before the making of said contract, give a bond to the boulevard district for the faithful performance of his contract, with sureties satisfactory to said commission in an amount equal to at least fifty per cent of the amount of the contract price; provided, however, that the commission may make contracts, without advertisement, for any construction work on said boulevard the cost of which does not exceed one thousand dollars; and provided, further, that the commission may reject any or all bids and may thereupon readvertise for bids for doing any part or the whole of said work; or may do said work without letting any contract therefor when the amount of the work is less than one thousand dollars. Said commission may hire all necessary engineers, inspectors and superintendents to supervise the performance of contracts entered into by said commission, or to have charge of the doing of all work done without contract.

Any order of said commission directing the advertisement or readvertisement for bids, as hereinabove provided, may alter the said plan for such boulevard or boulevards including the route of any portion or portions of any such boulevard or boulevards; provided, that no such change shall involve any material increase in the cost of construction of the portion or portions so altered or the cost of acquiring the rights of way therefor and any and all boulevard commissions are hereby given power and authority to make any such change or changes in any such plan or plans.

The commission may do any or all work of maintenance or repair upon such boulevard, or boulevards, either with or without contract therefor, and with or without advertising for bids for contracts for such work of maintenance and repair, at its discretion; provided, however, that if the cost of any such work of maintenance or repair shall exceed the sum of one thousand dollars, then such work shall be done under contract pursuant to bids for such work after advertising in the same manner herein provided for advertising for bids and letting contracts for construction work. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1310.]

§ 21. Application to state department of engineering for exercise of powers. Anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding, the boulevard commission shall have and is hereby given power and authority, at its option, to make application to the department of engineering of the state of California, or to the proper subdivision of said department, for the exercise by said department, or proper subdivision thereof, as the case may be, of any or all powers, duties or authority which said department or proper subdivision thereof, as the case may be, may now, or at any time hereafter, exercise or enjoy with respect to the ownership construction, maintenance or improvement of any boulevard or boulevards or proposed boulevard or boulevards, constructed or to be constructed pursuant to the provisions of this act, including the preparation of plans, specifications and estimates for, and the handling and expenditure of boulevard district moneys for, such construction, maintenance or improvement; any such application to said department of engineering, or subdivision thereof, shall be made in accordance with the provisions of the law as it now is or may hereafter exist defining the powers, duties or privileges of such department of engineering or subdivision thereof in relation to such matters, and upon the granting of any such application by said department of engineering or subdivision thereof, the boulevard commission shall have full power to carry out the terms of such application on its part. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1311.]

22. Transfer boulevard to county. Anything in this act to the contrary, notwithstanding, the boulevard commission shall have, and it is hereby given, full power and authority at its option to transfer and convey all the right, title and interest of the boulevard district in and to any boulevard or boulevards in such district after complete construction thereof, to the county within which such district is situated, provided that the board of supervisors of such county consent to and accept such transfer and conveyance and agree thereafter to maintain such boulevard or boulevards as boulevards and as part of the county highway system of such county, any and all such boulevards so transferred and conveyed to be thereafter held and owned by such county as county boulevards without any further liability or responsibility therefor on the part of such district. But no such transfer or conveyance shall affect any bond or bonds theretofore issued by such district or the liability of such district thereunder. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1312.]

§ 23. Dissolution of district. The district may at any time be dissolved upon the vote of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof at an election called by the boulevard commission upon the question of dissolution. Whenever it shall deem it advisable, the boulevard commission shall, by resolution, order that an election be held in the said district upon the question of dissolution of the district. Such election shall be called and conducted in the same manner as other elections of the district. Upon such dissolution, any property which may have been acquired by such boulevard district shall vest in the county, except that any such property lying within the boundaries of an incorporated city shall vest in such city; provided, however, that if at the time of the election to dissolve such district there be any outstanding bonded indebtedness of such district, then, in such event, the vote to dissolve such district shall dissolve the same for all purposes excepting only the levy and collection of taxes for the payment of such outstanding indebtedness of such district; and from the time such district is thus dissolved until such bonded indebtedness with interest thereon is fully paid, satisfied and discharged, the board of supervisors of the county shall constitute ex officio the boulevard commission of such district. And it is hereby made obligatory upon such board to levy such taxes and perform such other acts as may be necessary in order to raise money for the payment of such indebtedness, and the interest thereon, as herein provided. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1312.]

§ 25. Established districts validated. Any and all boulevard districts heretofore established by order entered by any county board of supervisors under this act, and all amendments thereof or of any section or sections thereof, are hereby declared to be legally organized and existing and all the proceedings on the organization and formation of any and all such boulevard districts are hereby approved and in all respects declared valid, and all boulevard districts are subject to the provisions of this act so far as applicable. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1313.]

§ 26. Proceeding to determine legality of district. Any district formed hereunder, in order to determine the legality of its existence, may institute a proceeding therefor in the superior court of the county in which it was organized by filing with the clerk of said county a complaint setting forth the name of the district, its exterior boundaries, the date of its organization and a prayer that it be adjudged a legal boulevard district formed under the provisions of this act. The summons in such proceeding shall be addressed generally to all persons interested in said district or in any of the lands therein contained, and shall be served by publishing a copy thereof once a week for four weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the said county. Within thirty days after the last publication thereof any person interested may appear and answer said complaint, in which case said answer shall set forth the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of the district. If no answer shall be filed within said time the court must render judgment as prayed for in the complaint. If an answer be filed the court shall proceed as in other civil cases. Said proceeding is hereby declared to be a proceeding in rem and the judgment rendered therein shall be conclusive against all persons whomsoever and against the State of California.

The act appropriated $60,000 for the purpose indicated.

An act providing for the creation, organization and government of joint highway districts composed of two or more counties of the state of California.

§ 1. Joint highway district may be created. A joint highway district, to be composed of two or more counties may be created, organized and governed for the purpose of constructing public highways therein as in this act provided. The word "county" as used in this act shall include any "city and county," but such city and county is herein regarded solely as a political subdivision of the state, and not as a municipality.

§ 2. Resolution initiating proceedings. The board of supervisors of any county may initiate proceedings for the creation of a joint highway district to be composed of two or more counties of the state by the adoption of a resolution reciting:

(a) That the public interest requires the construction of a public highway, stating generally the location and course thereof, and naming the counties in or through which such highway will pass.

(b) The names of the counties interested in and which will be benefitted by such highway construction.

(c) That it is proposed to create a joint highway district composed of the counties so named.

When adopted, certified copies of the same shall be transmitted to the advisory board of the state engineering department of the state of California, and to the clerks of the boards of supervisors of the counties named in the resolution.

§ 3. Notice and hearing. Immediately upon receipt of a copy of the resolution adopted as aforesaid, the said advisory board, either at a regular or special meeting, shall fix a time and place in the county adopting the resolution at which the matter of the creation of a joint highway district will be heard and determined. Notice of such hearing shall be published five days in one daily newspaper published in each of the counties named in said resolution, or two times in a newspaper published less than six days a week or if no newspaper be published in any county then such notice shall be posted in three public places in such county for a period of ten days. The time fixed for such hearing shall be not less than thirty nor more than forty days from the date of meeting at which the said advisory board caused such notice to be given.

§ 4. Proof of publication. Proof of the publication shall be made by the affidavit of the publisher, manager or principal clerk of the newspaper making such publication, or person posting the notice, and such notice, the publication, or posting thereof and proof thereof shall be sufficient to vest said advisory board of the state engineering department with jurisdiction and power to hear, determine and order the creation of the proposed joint highway district. A copy of such notice shall be mailed to the clerk of the board of supervisors of each of the counties named in the initiatory resolution.

§ 5. Board of directors named. Upon the receipt of such notice it shall be the duty of each of the boards of supervisors to name and appoint either one of its members or some other suitable person and each of the persons so appointed shall constitute a member of the board of directors of the joint highway district when created. It shall be the duty of each of the persons so appointed to attend the hearing fixed by the said advisory board. The said directors so appointed, may meet from time to time in advance of the time fixed for said hearing and may make and enter into an agreement limiting the amount to be assessed upon each of the counties to comprise the district when formed, and such limitation so agreed upon shall not thereafter be changed except by the unanimous vote of all the directors.

§ 6. Objections to creating district. At the time and place fixed for said hearing any person may appear and offer objections to the creation of the joint highway district, and the said advisory board shall hear such objections and may continue such hearing from time to time and all parties shall be deemed to have notice of any such continuance.

§ 7. Order creating district. At the conclusion of such hearing the said advisory board shall determine all matters relating to the creation of such joint highway district and may sustain or overrule any objection offered. The objections offered need not be specifically set forth, but may be sustained or overruled in general terms. An objection made by any person appointed a member of the proposed board of directors shall prevent the creation of the district. If no objections are made or if all objections shall be overruled, then the said advisory board shall make and enter in its minutes an order creating such joint highway district. The order shall contain the names of the several counties composing the district and the names of the persons constituting its board of directors. Districts shall be numbered in the order of their creation. A certified copy of such order shall be filed with the secretary of state and transmitted to the clerks of the several boards of supervisors of the counties composing the district. Upon the filing of the said order with the secretary of state said joint highway district shall be deemed created and organized, and shall exercise all of the powers granted by this act, and shall be a public corporation under the designation of "joint highway district No. —— of the state of California."

§ 8. Purpose of districts. The purpose for which the joint districts may be created is to provide the necessary authority and means to construct and maintain the highway described in the initiatory resolution in and through the several counties constituting the district; such highway to be continuous and afford adequate intercommunication for vehicular traffic. This act shall be so construed as to facilitate the accomplishment of this purpose.

§ 9. Board of directors to manage district. Said joint highway districts shall be managed, and the powers herein conferred thereon, shall be exercised by a board of directors. Said directors shall be chosen and appointed as follows: One by the board of supervisors of each of the counties composing said district either from its members or other suitable person. Said directors shall serve during the pleasure of the appointing power. They shall receive no compensation for their services, but may be allowed actual expenses incurred by them in connection with the discharge of their duties under this act.

§ 10. Place of business. Secretary. President. Vice-president. Said board shall fix a place within the district for the transaction of its business, but may hold its meetings from time to time in any place in said district that will best serve the convenience of the public A majority of the members shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business It may make all rules necessary to the orderly transaction of such business. It shall appoint a secretary; may employ such additional clerical, or legal or engineering service as may be required from time to time and fix the compensation to be paid therefor. Said board shall organize within thirty days from the date of the creation of the district and the time and place of meeting for purposes of organization shall be fixed by the director chosen by the supervisors of the county adopting the initiatory resolution. It shall choose one of its members as president of the board, who shall preside at its meetings. A vice-president shall be appointed who shall act in the absence or disability of the president. The president shall perform such duties as the board may designate.

§ 11. Powers. Said joint highway district through its board of directors shall have power—

To lay out, construct and maintain a highway as specified in section three of this act.

To accept in the name of the district all gifts, donations or contributions from any source whatsoever made to further the purpose of this act, and the counties composing the district may convey such public highways as may be utilized as a part of the highway herein authorized to be constructed.

To acquire necessary lands, or rights of way for purposes of such highway.

To exercise the right of eminent domain necessary to acquire lands or rights of way for highway purposes.

To acquire and use such personal property as may be necessary in the exercise of the powers herein granted.

To employ such labor and service as may be necessary.

To arrange for the safekeeping of all funds belonging to the district and to this end may appoint a treasurer or depositary, and exact from him such bonds or other security as may be proper.

To sue and be sued.

To adopt a seal.

§ 12. Contingent fund. For the purpose of providing a contingent fund for the district and to meet the incidental expenses thereof, the boards of supervisors of the several counties comprising the district are hereby authorized and directed to appropriate from any money received by such counties under the provisions of the "vehicle act," in effect January 1, 1916, or any act in continuance thereof or supplemental thereto, such percentage thereof as may be determined by the board of directors of the joint district by a resolution adopted by a vote of all of its members. Such sums so appropriated shall be paid by a warrant drawn in the name of the joint highway district, and shall be deposited with the treasurer or depositary of the district.

§ 13. Survey of highway. Report by engineer. As soon as practicable after the organization of the board of directors of the district, said board shall cause to be surveyed and located the highway authorized by this act to be constructed or such portion thereof as may be deemed expedient, and for that purpose may employ an engineer and necessary assistants. Upon the completion of such survey the engineer shall file a report thereof with the board of directors together with all necessary maps, drawings and plans of construction, other than detailed drawings and specifications, also an estimate covering the cost of the completion of said highway, including rights of way therefor and interest to be paid during construction.

§ 14. Hearing on report. Assessment covering estimated cost. Upon filing said report the board of directors shall fix a time and place for considering the same. The hearing thereon may be continued from time to time or from place to place in the different counties, if so desired.

Upon such hearing being had said board of directors shall make an assessment covering such estimated cost, upon the state of California, and the several counties comprising the district according to the benefits that may result from the construction of such highway to said state and counties and the people residing therein, or may assess not to exceed one-fourth of such estimated cost upon such land in private ownership as may be benefited thereby in the manner provided by this act.

§ 15. Order determining benefits. Upon the conclusion of such hearing such board of directors shall make an order determining the amount of the benefits to accrue to the state and to each county comprising the district and to the people residing therein and shall make an assessment against the state and said counties in proportion to the benefits so to accrue, in a sum equal to said estimated cost, or as much thereof as may be necessary, but said estimated cost if deemed excessive may be reduced to such an amount as the board of directors shall seem proper. The amount of such assessment shall be certified to and transmitted to the state board of control and to the boards of supervisors of the counties constituting the district.

§ 16. Appeal to advisory board. In case the state board of control or the board of supervisors deem that the assessment imposed upon the state or such county be excessive or that it has been inequitably treated, the state board of control or such board of supervisors, within forty days from the receipt of the certificate referred to in the preceding section, may appeal from the order of the board of directors of the district to the advisory board of the state engineering department. Such appeal shall be in writing and set forth the nature of the objection and a copy thereof shall be filed with the board of directors of the district, with the advisory board of the state engineering department and with the boards of supervisors of the counties constituting the district.

§ 17. Hearing. Judgment. Upon filing such appeal, the said advisory board shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine the same. It may take testimony and hear all parties interested It may change or modify any of the plans of the engineer, and may reduce the estimate of cost or change or modify any assessment or make a new assessment. Its judgment shall be final and conclusive, and a copy thereof shall be filed with the state board of control and with the boards of supervisors of the counties composing the district.

§ 18. Assessment charge on state and counties. Installments. Time for payment of first installment. The amount of the assessment imposed by the board of directors of the district, or by the said advisory board, shall be a charge, respectively, upon the state and the counties composing the district to the amount determined as herein provided, and shall be payable in five annual installments; provided, that should any installment exceed a sum equal to that which could be raised by a tax of five cents upon each one hundred dollars of assessed valuation as the same appears upon the assessment-roll of a county, then in the case of such county the number of annual installments may be increased to such a number that the amount of each installment will be less than that which would result from the levy of such tax. The first installment shall be payable on or before the first day of January following the filing of the assessment with the state board of control and boards of supervisors; provided, said assessment shall have been so filed prior to the first day of September preceding; otherwise it shall be payable on the first day of the second January succeeding such filing. The remaining installments shall be payable on the same day in each succeeding year.

§ 19. Payment of installments. On or before the time fixed by law for levying taxes for county purposes, the boards of supervisors of each county composing the district shall make provision for the payment of the amount of the installment of the assessment, either by the payment of the same from the moneys received from the state as herein stated or from a tax levied for that purpose, which tax shall be in addition to all taxes levied for county purposes. The amount assessed against the state in the discretion of the state board of control, may be paid in one installment and from any fund now available, or which may hereafter be made available for the purpose, or out of special appropriations for the purpose made by the legislature. Moneys shall be paid by the state treasurer upon warrants duly drawn by the controller of the state, upon demands made by the state engineering department and audited by the state board of control.

§ 20. "Construction fund." All moneys received by the joint highway district, unless otherwise provided herein, shall be kept in a fund to be named "construction fund" and shall be paid out upon the order of the board of directors only for the construction of the highway herein provided.

§ 21. "Revenue bonds." Maturity. Board of directors determine form, etc. Interest rate. Purchase by state board of control. At any time after the assessment, either against the state, the several counties or the land within an assessment district has been made, the board of directors of the district may anticipate the payment thereof and may issue "revenue bonds" against the fund into which shall be paid all sums paid on account of the assessments imposed. The maturity of any bonds issued shall be subsequent to the date upon which any installment of assessment is due and the amount to become due shall not exceed the amount of such installment of assessment available to pay the same. The intent of the foregoing provision is that there shall be available for the payment of the principal and interest of all bonds issued a sum sufficient to pay the same at the time such interest and principal become due, and it shall be the duty of the board of directors to make provision for the payment of all bonds issued and interest thereon prior to their sale and delivery.

The bonds shall be issued at such times and in such amounts as may be required to meet the payment of the demands of the district, as may be determined by the board of directors. The form, denomination, rate of interest, time, place and manner of payment and all matters relating to such issuance shall be determined by the board of directors of the district; provided, that the rate of interest shall not exceed five per centum per annum.

The bonds so issued shall be sold in such amounts as the board of directors may determine. The state board of control is hereby authorized to purchase such bonds and pay for them out of any surplus money in the state treasury which, in its judgment, shall not be required for governmental purposes prior to the maturity of such bonds. The boards of supervisors of the several counties shall likewise have authority to purchase such bonds with any surplus funds under their control.

§ 22. Highway assessment district. Whenever it shall appear to the satisfaction of the board of directors that any land under private ownership will be benefited by the construction of the highway herein provided for, said board of directors, after the receipt of the report and estimates of costs herein required to be made and filed, may adopt a resolution of intention substantially in the following form:

RESOLUTION OF INTENTION.

Whereas, it appears to the satisfaction of the board of directors of joint highway district number —— of the state of California, that land under private ownership will be benefited by the construction of a highway provided for in an act entitled: "An act providing for the creation, organization and government of joint highway districts composed of two or more counties of the state of California," therefore be it

Resolved, That it is the intention of the board of directors of said joint highway district to create a highway assessment district to comprise all the land under private ownership within the following boundaries to wit: (Here set forth the boundaries of the proposed district.)

Further resolved, That it is the intention to assess the sum of $——, being a —— part of the estimated cost of said highway construction as appears upon the report of the district engineer filed in the office of the board of directors of said district, upon the land within the boundaries of said proposed district as herein described in the manner provided in said act.

Further resolved, That —— the —— day of —— 19—, at the hour of —— at (meeting place of the board of directors) is hereby fixed as the time and place for hearing all objections that may be made to the creation of said district or the amount of benefits to be assessed as aforesaid; also to hear and determine all claims for damages that may result from the construction of the highway aforesaid.

Reference to the aforesaid report of the district engineer for further particulars is here made.

Adopted by the board of directors of joint highway district number —— of the state of California, this —— day of ——, 19—.

Directors.

Attest: —— ——,
Secretary.

Time for hearing. The time of hearing shall be not less than thirty nor more than forty days from the date of the adoption of the above resolution.

§ 23. Notice of resolution. Proof of publication. Posting of notices. The board of directors shall cause a notice of the passage of such resolution including a copy of the same to be published five times in a daily newspaper of general circulation published in each of the counties composing the district or two times in a newspaper published less than six days a week, or if no newspaper be published in any county then such notice shall be posted in three public places in such county for a period of ten days. The first publication in each of said counties shall be within five days after the adoption of said resolution of intention. Such notice shall be headed by the words "notice of intention to create highway assessment district." Proof of the publication of such notice shall be made by affidavit filed in the office of the secretary of the board of directors and such publication and proof shall be held sufficient to vest jurisdiction in the board of directors to hear and determine all matters authorized by this act to be so heard at the time and place of hearing fixed by the said resolution of intention.

The board of directors shall also cause to be conspicuously posted within fifty feet of all points where the highway proposed to be constructed shall intersect existing public highways two copies of the notice herein required to be published. Said notice shall be headed as herein specified and the words of said heading shall be in type at least two inches in height and the body of said notice shall be set in what is known as twelve-point or pica type. Said notices shall be posted within ten days from the date of the adoption of the resolution of intention.

§ 24. District engineer to prepare map. The district engineer shall be directed to prepare a map showing the exterior boundaries of the proposed district, the line of the proposed highway, intersecting highways, boundary lines of the counties, the separate parcels of land within the district and names of the owners thereof as nearly as the same may be ascertained from the records of the assessors' office in the several counties. Said map shall be completed before the date set for the hearing.

§ 25. Objections. Any person who may be affected by the creation of the proposed assessment district may make objection thereto. Objections shall be in writing signed by the objector or his agent and filed prior to the day fixed for the hearing. Objections may be made to the boundaries of the district or to the amount of the assessment proposed to be imposed. Claims for damages to result from the construction of the highway or the grade thereof as delineated upon the map or profile drawings of the district made by district engineer shall also be presented prior to the day of hearing and a failure to present such claims shall be deemed to be an express waiver thereof.

§ 26. Hearing of objections. At the time fixed in the resolution of intention for hearing objections, or at such time as such hearing may be continued, and all parties shall be deemed to have notice of such continuance, the board of directors shall hear and determine all objections that may be made and it shall be competent for said board to hear and determine any or all objections of every kind or nature even though such objections shall not be expressly authorized by this act, and also may pass upon, compromise or determine any claim for damages presented as herein provided.

§ 27. Changing boundaries, etc. Claims for damages. Order by board of directors. At the conclusion of the hearing the board of directors may change the boundaries of the proposed district, but may not include any territory outside thereof, may reduce the total amount of the assessment proposed to be imposed, change or modify any grades of a proposed highway and may sustain or overrule any other objections or generally overrule all objections that may have been made. It may also reject or approve in whole or in part any claim for damages. The total amount of all claims for damages that may be allowed shall be added to the estimate of the cost of the proposed highway and one-fourth of such amount of claims may be added to the amount of assessment proposed to be imposed unless such estimate shall already have provided for such damages.

All matters pertaining to the hearing having been heard and determined, the board of directors shall cause an order to be entered in its minutes ordering the construction of the proposed highway, creating a highway assessment district for the purposes of this act and describing the boundaries of the highway assessment district in accordance with this determination, declare the amount of the assessment to be imposed and assessing the same upon the land within the district, which shall be deemed to be the benefits thereto accruing from such proposed highway construction, and the same to be distributed to and imposed upon the several parcels of land within the district and to be paid as in this act provided, and fix the number of annual installments in which such assessment may be paid. All objections not specifically set forth in said order shall be deemed to have been disallowed and overruled. The order shall also approve the map of the district made as herein provided.

§ 28. Order sent to assessors and recorders. Copies of said order and the map so approved shall be forthwith transmitted to the assessor and recorder of the several counties comprising the joint highway district. The recorder shall record said order and map as provided by law without charge therefor. The assessor shall preserve said map and in making any assessment-roll shall cause all parcels of land within the assessment district to be separately valued so that the value of all the land therein shall be definitely ascertained.

§ 29. Statement of total assessed value. On or before the fifteenth day of August in each year the auditor of each of the counties composing the district shall certify and transmit to the secretary of the joint highway district a statement showing the total assessed value of the land within his county included in the assessment district created as herein provided.

§ 30. Secretary to determine amount of installment. Immediately upon receipt of the statements required by the preceding section, the secretary of said joint highway district shall ascertain the amount of the installment of the assessment due and to be paid within the year thereafter. The sum so ascertained shall be the amount to be raised by taxation upon all the property within the assessment district. He shall apportion the said amount to the several counties composing the district according to the assessed value of the land therein as certified and shall transmit to the clerk of the board of supervisors of each of said counties a statement showing the total assessed value of the land within these counties included in the assessment district and the amount of money required to be raised by a tax imposed thereon.

§ 31. Levy of special tax in district. At the time and in the manner provided by law for the levying of taxes by board of supervisors, the board of supervisors in each of the counties composing the joint highway district shall levy a special tax upon all the land within the highway assessment district and within the county, sufficient to raise the sum of money required by this act and as certified by the secretary of the joint highway district.

§ 32. Collected at time of county tax. The tax so levied shall be computed and collected in the time and manner required by law for the computation and collection of taxes for county purposes and the land subject to such tax shall be subject to the same penalties for delinquencies, and the same provisions of law relating to the sale and redemption of land for nonpayment of county taxes, shall apply to the tax herein authorized.

§ 33. Moneys paid to treasurer. All money collected as the proceeds of a tax levied as herein provided shall be paid by the tax collector to the treasurer of the joint highway district and placed to the credit of the funds of the district as herein provided.

§ 34. Additional reports. It is hereby expressly provided that the entire highway originally described need not be provided for in the report of the engineer made as provided in section thirteen of this act. Additional reports may be made from time to time as the same shall be deemed expedient and provide for the construction of other sections of such highway. The cost of such additional portions shall be provided for in the same manner as herein provided for in the case of the first report and additional assessments may be made in like manner. Additional assessments may be imposed in case the cost of construction exceeds the estimate made or in case any assessment shall be held invalid for any reason.

§ 35. Contract let to lowest bidder. Construction by board of directors. Eight-hour day. The work of construction shall be done by contract let to the lowest responsible bidder after advertisement for bids therefor shall have been made by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published within the district for a period of ten days prior to the receipt of such bids. Bonds for the faithful performance of the contract and for the payment of claims for labor and material shall be required of the successful bidder. However, if it should appear to the satisfaction of the board of directors that the bids were excessive or that collusion existed among bidders so as to prevent proper competition then the board of directors are authorized to purchase the necessary material, machinery and equipment and employ labor to perform the work of construction. The board of directors may acquire rock quarries or deposits of road material or if it is to the advantage of the district may purchase material and furnish the same to contractors. A maximum of eight hours shall constitute a day's labor and three dollars shall be the minimum charge paid for such day's labor performed upon the work of construction.

§ 36. Advisory board to control expenditure of state funds. In case it shall be determined that any sum of money authorized to be expended from the state treasury shall be expended as required by section twenty-two of article four of the constitution, then the advisory board of the state engineering department shall have the exclusive management and control of such expenditure, but such advisory board may, in its discretion, delegate its powers to the board of directors of the joint highway district and said joint highway district is hereby declared to be a state institution within the meaning of said constitution. The board of directors of the district may vest in the state engineering department authority to supervise the work of construction.

§ 37. Necessary repairs. Until the completion of said highway, all necessary repairs thereto shall be held to be a necessary part of the construction thereof and may be made either by contract or by the board of directors and the cost thereof paid from the construction fund.

§ 38. Negotiations with United States. In case the governmental authorities of the United States should desire to include such highway in any scheme of national defense and use or assume the use of the same for military or other purposes, the board of directors of the joint highway district either directly or through the state engineering department may enter into negotiations respecting the same and enter into such agreements as may be mutually satisfactory.

§ 39. Regulations by board of directors. The board of directors may make such regulations respecting the use of such highway as shall not conflict with general laws and may exclude from such highway such class of the vehicular traffic as may be dangerous to public safety or which may result in a permanent injury to the roadway. All laws regulating state highways and inflicting penalties for a violation thereof shall apply to the highways constructed under the provisions of this act.

§ 40. Certificate of completion. Interest and rights of way conveyed. Upon the completion of the highway or any section thereof, the fact of such completion shall be certified to the advisory board of the state engineering department and such advisory board shall cause inspection to be made of such highway. If such advisory board shall find that the same has been properly constructed and is in good repair throughout, it shall issue a certificate of completion. Thereupon said advisory board shall, after due hearing, apportion said highway to the several counties constituting the district, or may accept the whole or any portion thereof as a state highway. The decree of distribution shall be transmitted to the board of directors of the joint highway district. Thereupon the said board of directors shall convey to the several counties composing the district, or to the state as the case may be, all interest and rights of way that the district may have in and to the highway so constructed and accepted in accordance with the terms of said decree of distribution. The highway or portions conveyed shall become a part of the system of county roads, or state highway as the case may be, and shall be maintained by said counties from the general or district road funds or by the state as provided by law.

§ 41. Employees discharged. Upon the receipt of the decree of distribution of the entire highway all employees of the board of directors shall be forthwith discharged excepting the secretary who shall continue to perform the duties required of him by this act.

§ 42. District dissolved, when. When all the bonds that may have been issued in pursuance with the provisions of this act shall have been paid, all property of the district shall be converted into money and all such moneys shall be distributed to the counties composing the district in proportion to the amount contributed by them under the provisions of this act. Thereupon, all books, documents, maps and other records shall be deposited with the state engineering department and thereupon said point highway district shall be dissolved.

An act to provide for work upon public roads, streets, avenues, boulevards, lanes and alleys not within the territory of incorporated cities or towns; for the incidental establishment of grades thereof; for the construction therein or thereon of sidewalks, sewers, manholes, bridges, cesspools, gutters, tunnels, curbing and crosswalks; for the issue of bonds representing the costs and expenses thereof; for a special fund derived in part from the county road fund and in part by special assessment upon a district, and for the establishment of such districts.

Amended 1911, p. 506; 1915, p. 1394; 1917, p. 1369.

§ 1. Powers of boards of supervisors to do road work. Prohibited work. Power is hereby vested in the board of supervisors of every county in this state, by and under the procedure prescribed in this act, to grade or regrade to the official grade, plank or replank, pave or repave, macadamize or remacadamize, gravel or regravel, pile or repile, cap or recap, oil or reoil the whole or any portion of roads, streets, avenues, boulevards, lanes or alleys so far as not within the territory of any incorporated city or town, and so far as by dedication or otherwise, public and open to public use, and to do so for any length or width of the same, one of the same or any number of the same in combination, and to construct therein or thereon sidewalks, sewers, manholes, culverts, bridges, cesspools, gutters, tunnels, curbing and crosswalks, and to do the aforesaid things singly or in any combination of the same, and the various items of the said work and constructions need not be conterminous; and to issue bonds representing the costs and expenses of any said work or constructions as in this act hereafter provided; and to constitute a fund for the payment of such bonds as in this act hereafter provided; and to constitute a special fund for the payment of such bonds as in this act hereafter provided; and to levy special assessment taxes upon a district as in this act hereafter provided; and to establish said district and determine its boundaries as in this act hereafter provided; and, as incidental to the exercise of the powers aforesaid, to establish official grades within said district and such districts; and to transfer from county road funds to such special funds as in this act hereafter provided; and to purchase material and funish the same to be used in the doing of any of the works above named.

But said board of supervisors are hereby prohibited from doing, under the provisions of this act, any work, except sewer or drain work, within the roadway of any railroad or within any area which by law is required to be kept in order or repair by any person or company having railroad tracks thereon, and this prohibition shall have the effect of excepting the prohibited work from that described in any resolution of intention in any proceeding under this act, and of charging all persons with notice of such exception or exclusion, and such exception of said prohibited work need not be made in any such resolution of intention. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1370.]

§ 3. Resolution of intention. Form of resolution. Before ordering any work to be done under this act, the board of supervisors shall pass a resolution of intention so to do. Such resolution may, in form, and shall, in substance, be (filling all blanks) as indicated following, to wit:

In the matter of road district improvement No. ——. Resolution of intention No. —— (the same number for both blanks.)

Resolved, That it is the intention of the board of supervisors of the county of ——, state of California, proceeding under and by virtue of the road district improvement act of 1907, and in the matter of road improvement district No. ——, on the —— day of ——, 19—, at the hour of — M. of that day or as soon thereafter as the matter can be heard, at the chambers of said board, to order work to be done, as follows: (Here insert a description of the work, stating the territorial extent thereof with all reasonable exactness, and in other particulars generally, yet so as to indicate fairly and approximately its probable cost), the said work to be done in accordance with the specifications therefor filed with the clerk of said board on the —— day of ——, 19—, except as the boundaries of the district and grades therein specified may be changed at the hearing of the matter hereinafter mentioned, which specifications are made part hereof, and to which all persons are referred for further particulars as to said work. For the costs and expenses of the work and the proceeding bonds will be issued to the amount of the same, bearing interest at the rate of —— per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, and one —— part of the principal annually, all in gold coin and the aggregate principal of said bonds shall be paid and discharged within "——" years from the issue thereof.

A special fund for the payment of said bonds is to be constituted by the levy of special assessment taxes upon all land within a district to be known as "road improvement district No. —— of the county of——," (and it may be added, "and partly by transfer of moneys from county road funds").

Such district (as proposed) being all that territory in the county of ——, state of California, within exterior boundaries as follows, to wit: —— (the blank to be filled with a careful statement of the exterior boundaries of the district).

Notice is hereby given that at the time specified hereinbefore for ordering the work, the matter of said road district improvement No. —— will come up for hearing, and all objections, which are, under the provisions of said road district improvement act of 1907, entitled to be heard or determined, will then be heard and determined, and the boundaries of said district and grades therein be finally determined and established.

The —— (here insert name and character of newspaper), is hereby designated as the newspaper for making publication of this resolution and for making all other publications in the proceeding.

——, a competent person, is hereby appointed superintendent of work with compensation at the rate of —— dollars per diem for days actually spent in the performance of duty under this appointment, (or, in lieu of the paragraph last preceding, it may appear, "——, a county officer is hereby appointed superintendent of work without compensation").

The foregoing resolution was, on the —— day of ——, 19—, passed by the board of supervisors of the county of ——, state of California.

Attest —— ——,
Clerk of the board of supervisors of said county of ——,
By —— ——,
Deputy Clerk.

The principal and interest of the bonds representing the cost of work done under the provisions of this act, shall be payable in gold coin of the United States of America, and the board of supervisors is authorized to determine the time, not to exceed twenty years, in which bonds issued to represent the cost of the work shall be paid, and to determine the rate, not to exceed seven per cent per annum, of the interest to be paid thereon, which interest shall be payable semi-annually, and to make such bonds in all respects as indicated by the form therefor, in this act hereafter provided. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1370.]

§ 4. Publication of resolution. Copies posted. Power to proceed. Evidence of facts. Such resolution of intention shall be filed, and be published by at least two insertions in the newspaper therein designated, which shall be a newspaper published and circulated in the county, or, if there be no such newspaper, then in any newspaper designated by said board of supervisors in such resolution. Printed copies of such resolution, headed, "notice of road district improvement," such heading to be in letters not less than one inch in length, shall be, by the superintendent of work, or by some person appointed by him for the purpose, posted along the line of work described in said resolution, at not more than one hundred feet in distance apart, but not less than three in all.

Affidavits in proof of such publication and posting shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors. When, before the day of the hearing specified in the resolution of intention, twenty days have elapsed since the posting and the first publication (they need not be simultaneous) of the resolution of intention, the board of supervisors shall have acquired power to proceed with such hearing and to take all other action in the proceeding as is in this act authorized.

The determination of the board of supervisors to proceed with such hearing, whether evidenced by an express declaration or by its proceedings to make other determinations at such hearing, shall be presumptive evidence, at least, of the existence of all of the facts upon which the power of the board to proceed depends, except such as are required to appear of the record in the proceeding, and except, also, in so far as such presumption is rebutted by the record in the proceeding.

§ 7. Publication of notice inviting bids. Consideration of bids. Notice of award to be published. Bonds accompanying bids. Successful bidder to pay for advertising. The notice inviting sealed proposals or bids shall be published by at least two insertions in the newspaper designated in the resolution of intention and, not necessarily simultaneously, a copy or copies of the same be posted and kept posted for five days, at or near the chamber door of the board of supervisors. All proposals or bids shall be accompanied by a check, payable to the order of the presiding officer of the board of supervisors, certified by a responsible bank for an amount not less than ten per cent of the aggregate of the proposal or bid, or by a bond for said amount running to the presiding officer of the board of supervisors, signed by the bidder, with two sureties qualifying each in said amount over and above all statutory exemptions before an officer competent to administer an oath.

Said proposals or bids shall be delivered to the clerk of said board, and said board shall, in open session, examine and declare the same, but no proposal or bid shall be considered unless accompanied by said check or such bond in terms satisfactory to the board. The board may reject any and all proposals or bids should it deem this for the public good, and shall reject all proposals or bids other than the lowest regular proposal or bid of any responsible bidder, and may award the contract for said work to the lowest responsible bidder at the price named in his bid.

A notice of such award, attested by the clerk of the board of supervisors, shall be published two days and posted for five days in the same manner as hereinbefore provided with respect to the notice inviting proposals or bids.

The check or bonds accompanying such accepted proposals or bids shall be kept by the clerk of said board until the contract for doing said work, as hereinafter provided, has been entered into. If said bidder fails, neglects or refuses to enter into the contract for said work, as hereinafter provided, then the certified check accompanying his bid, and the amount therein mentioned, shall be declared forfeited to the county, and may be collected by it and paid into its road fund, and any bond forfeited may be prosecuted, and the amount thereof collected and paid into said fund.

Before being entitled to a contract the bidder to whom the award thereof has been made must advance and pay to the clerk of the board of supervisors, for payment by him the costs and expenses of publishing and posting resolutions, notices and orders required under this act to be made, which have been made, given, posted or published in the proceeding. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1373.]

§ 9a. If contractor fails to carry out contract. Action to recover on bond. If the contractor shall fail to begin in good faith the work provided for in said contract within the time in said contract set forth, or shall fail thereafter to prosecute said work in a workmanlike and diligent manner, or shall fail in any other respect to carry out the terms of said contract, then the board of supervisors shall cause written notice to be served upon said contractor, specifying the particular in which he fails to fulfill the requirements of said contract and if for a period of three days thereafter said contractor shall fail to remedy the defects set forth in said notice, and to prosecute said work thereafter with diligence and in a workmanlike manner, then the board of supervisors shall either take over said contract and complete said work, or shall relet said contract, without the necessity of advertising for bids, and cause the work to be completed, and shall declare the bond given by said contractor forfeited and order suit brought thereon, and all moneys collected therefrom shall be paid into the general road fund of the county.

If the contractor shall fail to pay for any labor or material furnished for or in the doing of said work by any person, such person may within ninety days after the making of the final order hereinafter referred to, file with the county treasurer a verified statement of such fact, and such person may thereafter within six months after the filing of such statement bring an action on said bond in his own name, or if he has assigned his claim, the action may be brought in the name of the assignee; provided, however, that the right of the county to recover on said bond shall be superior to the rights of any such person to recover thereon; provided, moreover, that if such statement shall be filed before the expiration of twenty days from the making of such final order, then the county treasurer shall be authorized to withhold from the contractor sufficient of the bonds, issued as hereafter provided, to satisfy said claim, and costs which can reasonably be anticipated. [New section added May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1373.]

§ 13a. Materials furnished to contractor. The board of supervisors, by a four-fifths vote, may adopt a resolution setting forth that the improvement to be made is of more than local importance, and that all or a portion of the materials needed for the improvement are to be purchased and furnished to the contractor and paid for out of the general road fund or out of the fund of the road district in which the improvement lies, or if it lies in two or more road districts, out of the funds of such districts in a proportion to be determined by the board of supervisors, and may thereupon purchase and furnish to the contractor such materials, and pay for the same in the manner set forth in said resolution; provided, however, that no material shall be furnished the contractor unless the specifications contain a statement of the kind and amount of the material to be furnished, and only in the amount and of the kind set forth in said specifications. [New section added May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1374.]

1. To appoint, at any stage of the proceeding before calling for proposals or bids, any competent engineer, to be designated "engineer of work," for the purpose of doing and furnishing all the civil engineering work or services, surveying and similar work and services necessary to the proper doing of the work. His compensation or at least the rate or some basis for computing the same shall be fixed and stated in the order of his appointment, which said order shall be entered in the minutes of the board; provided, any county officer may be appointed as such engineer without compensation.

2. Superintendent of work. To appoint, in and as a part of the resolution of intention, any competent person to be designated "superintendent of work," whose duty it shall be to perform the services for him in this act prescribed or indicated, and to have the general actual supervision of the work. His compensation shall be fixed at the time and in the resolution of his appointment at a per diem not to exceed five dollars for all time actually devoted to the work; provided, any county officer may be appointed as such superintendent without compensation.

3. Specifications. To designate any competent person for the purpose of preparing and furnishing the specifications required by section two of this act, and with such designation to fix his compensation, or some basis for computing the same, or to appoint any county officer of the county without compensation.

4. Appointees. Not charge against county. Supervisors ineligible. To appoint and designate other competent persons in the places respectively of the persons so originally appointed, with compensation, so far as practicable, proportionately the same as fixed for the original appointee, and to appoint such additional persons as may be needed to carry on said work; and to fix their compensation which shall be a charge against the district.

No part of such or any compensation for said officers or employees, or for services rendered by any of them shall be a charge against the county or any officer thereof; except that for furnishing specifications and posting the resolution of intention the county shall be liable in case the proceedings cease or are abandoned, before the award of the contract; provided, however, that whenever any county officer is appointed to any of the positions hereinabove mentioned without compensation, the actual and necessary expenses incurred under his supervision, including the compensation of other persons, made necessary by the duties of such positions shall be a charge against the county but shall be repaid to the county by the contractor as in the following section provided.

No member of the board of supervisors shall be eligible to appointment to any office, position or employment under this act, except as county officer without pay. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1375.]

§ 15. Costs paid by contractor. All the costs and expenses of the proceeding, inclusive especially of the compensation of the person appointed to furnish the specifications, of the superintendent of work, of the engineer of work, of the cost of all publications under this act required to be made, shall be chargeable to and paid by the contractor, and they shall have been paid before delivery of the bonds shall be made by the county treasurer; provided, however, that if said costs and expenses are not paid within ten days after the notice given that said bonds, excepting such number thereof as may be withheld to satisfy claims filed as hereinabove provided are ready for delivery, a sufficient number of said bonds may be sold at not less than ninety-five per cent of their face value to fully satisfy said costs and expenses, any surplus over said costs and expenses obtained by such sale to be paid to said contractor; provided, further, that the county treasurer may make delivery of such bonds, if there be deposited with him, subject to the order of the board of supervisors, money to the amount of the costs and expenses chargeable to the contractor as the same is stated in the attested order of the board of supervisors, provided for in section twelve of this act. The contractor and all persons claiming under him any interest in said bonds, whether of ownership, lien or otherwise, shall be deemed to have notice of the contents of this section. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1376.]

An act to allow unincorporated towns and villages to establish, equip and maintain systems of street lights on public highways; to provide for the formation, government and operation of highway lighting districts; the calling and holding of elections in such districts; the assessment, collection, custody and disbursement of taxes therein; and the creation of ex-officio boards of supervisors.

Amended 1911, p. 439; 1913, p. 447; 1915, p. 943; 1917, p. 1521.

§ 16. Disposition of funds. Remainder transferred to city treasurer. The revenue derived from said tax, together with all other moneys acquired in any manner whatsoever by the lighting district shall be paid into the county treasury to the credit of the lighting fund of the district wherein said tax was collected, subject only to the order of the board of supervisors of said district, and to be by them expended only for and on behalf of the district wherein such money was collected; provided, however, that any funds arising from assessments made under the provisions of this act, and remaining in said county treasury after the payment of all outstanding legal obligations incurred by the district, shall be ordered transferred, by the board of supervisors of the county in which such district is situated, to the city treasurer of the city, if any there be, that has been incorporated since the formation of said district, and which includes within its corporate limits such district or any considerable portion thereof. If such incorporation has not taken place, then said funds so remaining in said county treasury shall be transferred to a separate fund and, upon the order of the board of supervisors of the county, shall be repaid pro rata to the persons by whom the assessments were originally paid. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1521.]

§ 18a. Annexation of territory. Petition. Notice. Hearing. Order granting petition. The boundaries of any such highway lighting district may be altered and outlying contiguous territory in the same county in which a lighting district is situated annexed thereto in the following manner: A petition signed by the owners representing at least one-fourth in number of the total owners of real property, and at least one-fourth of the assessed valuation, as shown by the last equalized assessment-book of the county in which such lighting district is situated, of the real property, in such contiguous territory proposed to be annexed, designating the boundaries of such contiguous territory proposed to be annexed and the number of owners of real property in such territory and the assessed valuation thereof, as shown by said last equalized assessment-book, and stating that such proposed territory is not within the limits of any other lighting district, and asking that such territory be annexed to said lighting district, shall be presented to the board of supervisors of the county in which said lighting district is situated.

At their first regular meeting after the presentation of said petition, said board of supervisors shall cause notice of said petition to be published in a newspaper published and circulated in the county in which said lighting district is situated, if there be such a newspaper, otherwise by posting copies of said notice in three of the most conspicuous places in said territory proposed to be annexed, for three weeks prior to the date to be fixed by said board of supervisors for hearing said petition. Upon the date fixed for said hearing, or to which it may be continued, said board of supervisors shall take up and consider said petition, and any objections thereto which may be filed or to the inclusion of any property in said district.

Said board of supervisors shall have the power, by order entered on its minutes, to grant said petition either in whole or in part, and by order entered on its minutes to alter the boundaries of said lighting district, and annex thereto all, or such portion of said contiguous territory, described in said petition, as will be benefited by inclusion in said lighting district. No territory which will not be so benefited, or which is not contiguous to said lighting district, or which is not described in said petition shall be included in said district.

Such order shall be conclusive evidence of the validity of all prior proceedings leading to the annexation or recited in said order, and from and after the making of said order, such territory shall become and be a part of such lighting district and shall be taxed, together with the remainder of said district, for all taxes to be thereafter levied by said board of supervisors, for the maintenance of said lighting district. [New section added June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1522.]

§ 18b. If district annexed to city. If part of district annexed. Upon the annexation of all or of any portion of the territory embraced in any such lighting district to an incorporated city or city and county, all funds paid into the county treasury to the credit of the lighting fund of such district, if the whole of such district shall be annexed, shall be turned over by the board of supervisors of such district to the treasurer of said incorporated city, or city and county, and administered by the legislative body of said incorporated city, or city and county; said legislative body shall have all of the powers and perform all of the duties granted to or imposed upon the board of supervisors of the county in which such district is located and of the board of supervisors of said district, and shall carry out the provisions of this act as to such district to the same purpose and extent as if originally constituted, under the provisions of this act, the governing body thereof. Upon the expenditure of the funds and the discharge of the obligations and liabilities of any such lighting district, the whole of which has been annexed to an incorporated city, or city and county, such district shall ipso facto be dissolved with the same force and effect as if dissolved under the provisions of section eighteen of this act. In the event of the annexation of a portion of the territory embraced in any such lighting district to an incorporated city, or city and county, such proportionate part of the funds collected for the benefit of such district and remaining unexpended as the area of the territory so annexed bears to the total area of said district, shall be paid over to the treasurer of such incorporated city, or city and county, in the manner hereinabove provided, and administered by the legislative body of such city, or city and county, until the same are expended, for the benefit of the portion of such district so annexed. Upon the expenditure of such funds in the manner required in this act the territory of such district so annexed shall be deemed to be withdrawn from said lighting district and thereafter the remaining territory embraced in said district and not so annexed shall, upon a resolution adopted by the board of supervisors of the county in which such territory is located, be and become a lighting district within the meaning of this act and so remain until dissolved as provided in this act. [New section added June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1523.]

An act expressing assent of the state of California to the provisions of the act of congress approved July 11, 1916, entitled "An act to provide that the United States shall aid the states in the construction of rural post roads, and for other purposes."

[Approved March 21, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 20. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Assent to act of congress approved July 11, 1916. The state of California hereby assents to the provisions of the act of congress approved July 11, 1916, entitled "An act to provide that the United States shall aid the states in the construction of rural post roads, and for other purposes."

TITLE 230.

HISTORIC PROPERTY.

ACT 1468d.

An act to create a commission for the purpose of making a survey of local historical material in the state of California; defining the power and duties of said commission; and making an appropriation therefor.

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 572.

The amendment of 1915 follows:

§ 4. Purpose of commission. Models of mission buildings. Notice. The purpose of this commission shall be to make a survey of the material on local history within the state of California by investigating documents in local depositories and in the possession of private individuals and other sources of original information on the early history of the state of California and to compile, keep and publish a record of such sources of information; and to investigate and acquire information as to the physical characteristics of the several missions which were maintained in the state of California under the charge of the Franciscan fathers prior to the time of the secularization thereof, and to cause to be made a record thereof, and to be created models of the several mission buildings and outbuildings connected therewith, which shall be accurate representations of the mission buildings and outbuildings connected with the same as they were at the time when the Franciscan fathers were in charge, and the same shall be known respectively as the California model of each particular mission in question, and the said commission shall cause to be prepared plans and specifications sufficient in detail to enable any of said buildings and outbuildings to be restored, and the commission shall have authority to pass upon and determine the relative accuracy of information to be obtained and to establish for the state the models and plans and specifications thereof; provided, however, that no model shall thus be established as the correct model of any mission unless the said commission shall first have published for a period of at least sixty days a notice to the public fixing a time and place at which any person interested in the said respective mission, or having information as to the condition of said mission buildings, or any part thereof, may present to the commission facts, papers, documents, records or other information substantiating the said person's ideas as to the condition of said mission buildings at the time in question, which notice must be published in one newspaper in the city of San Francisco, one newspaper in the city of Sacramento, one newspaper in the city of Los Angeles, and one newspaper in the county in which said mission building was situated.

HOTELS.

ACT 1530.

An act to regulate the building and occupancy of hotels and lodging-houses in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof. [Approved June 16, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 1429.]

An act to regulate the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration, maintenance, use and occupancy of hotels, and the maintenance, use and occupancy of the premises and land on which hotels are erected or located, in all parts of the state of California, including incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof; and repealing an act act entitled "An act to regulate the building and occupancy of hotels and lodging-houses in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof," approved June 16, 1913, Statutes of California of 1913, page 1429.

§ 1. Title. This act shall be known as the "state hotel and lodging-house act," and its provisions shall apply to all parts of the state of California, including incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties.

§ 2. Duty of building department. Duty of housing department. In case no such departments. Enforcement. Power of commission of immigration and housing. It shall be the duty of the "building department" of every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, to enforce all the provisions of this act pertaining to the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, conversion, alteration and arrangement of hotels and to issue the certificate of "final completion" hereinafter provided.

It shall be the duty of the "housing department" and if there is no housing department the health department of every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county to enforce all of the provisions of this act pertaining to the maintenance, sanitation, ventilation, use and occupancy of hotels after said hotels have been erected, constructed or altered, as the case may be, and the certificate of "final completion" has been issued by the building department and to issue the "permit of occupancy" as hereinafter provided.

In the event that there is no building department or no housing department or health department in an incorporated town, incorporated city or incorporated city and county, it shall be the duty of the officer or officers who are charged with the enforcement of ordinances and laws regulating the erection, construction or alteration of buildings, or the maintenance, sanitation, ventilation or occupancy of buildings, or of the police, fire or health regulations in said incorporated town, incorporated city or incorporated city and county to enforce all of the provisions of this act.

In every county it shall be the duty of the officer or officers who are charged with the enforcement of ordinances or laws regulating the erection, construction or alteration of buildings, or of the maintenance, sanitation, occupancy and ventilation of buildings, or of the police, fire or health regulations in said county, to enforce all of the provisions of this act outside of the limits of any incorporated town or incorporated city.

Every incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county in the state of California shall have authority, and it is hereby empowered and given authority, to designate and charge by ordinance any other department or officer than the department or officers mentioned herein, with the enforcement of this act, or any portion thereof.

The commission of immigration and housing of California shall have, and it is hereby empowered and given authority to enforce the provisions of this act, which do not pertain to the actual erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, conversion, alteration and arrangement of hotels in all parts of the state of California, including all incorporated towns, incorporated cities, incorporated cities and counties, in the state of California, whenever said commission finds or discovers a violation or violations of the provisions of this act and notifies the local department or officer, or departments or officers who are charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act, in writing, of such violation or violations, and the said local department or officer, or departments or officers, fail, neglect or refuse to enforce the provisions of the said act within thirty days thereafter; provided, however, that the said commission of immigration and housing of California shall enforce the provisions of this act only in the instances specified in said written notice.

§ 3. Unlawful to construct hotel contrary to act. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, whether as owner, agent, contractor, builder, architect, engineer, superintendent, foreman, plumber, tenant, lessee, lessor, occupant, or in any other capacity whatsoever, to erect, construct, reconstruct, alter, build upon, move, convert, use, occupy or maintain, or to cause, permit or suffer to be erected, constructed, reconstructed, altered, built upon, moved, converted, used, occupied or maintained any hotel or any portion thereof contrary to the provisions of this act, or to commit or maintain or cause or permit to be committed or maintained any nuisance in or upon any hotel or any portion thereof, or any of the premises, yards or courts which are a part thereof, or which are required by the provisions of this act; or to do or cause to be done, or to use or cause to be used, any privy, sewer, cesspool, plumbing or house drainage affecting the sanitary condition of any hotel or any portion thereof, or of the premises thereof, contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

§ 4. Alterations. It shall be unlawful for any person to make any alterations or changes or reconstruction work of any kind whatsoever, to any hotel erected prior to the passage of this act, or to any hotel hereafter erected, or to increase the height, in any manner which would be inconsistent with any of the provisions of this act, or in violation of the said provisions of this act; or in any manner to diminish the size of the yards, courts or shafts or the size of windows or skylights, or to remove any stairway or fire-escape, or to obstruct the egress from such building or from the hallways or stairways, or to do anything that would affect the ventilation and sanitation of the building, contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

§ 5. Building converted to use as hotel. Building moved. Building reconstructed. A building not erected for, or which is not used as a hotel at the time of the passage of this act, if hereafter converted to or altered for such use, shall thereupon become subject to all of the provisions of this act affecting hotels hereafter erected.

A building used as a hotel at the time of the passage of this act, if moved, shall be made to conform to all of the provisions of this act affecting hotels hereafter erected, in so far as they pertain to the percentage of lot occupied and the size of outer courts, inner courts bounded by a lot line, and yards.

It shall be unlawful to reconstruct any hotel which is hereafter damaged by fire or the elements to an extent in excess of fifty-one per cent of its physical proportions, unless the said building is made to conform to all the provisions of this act affecting hotels hereafter erected.

§ 6. Penalty for violation. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and in addition to the penalty therefor, shall be liable for all costs, expense and disbursements paid or incurred by the department, by any of the officers thereof, or by any agent, employee or contractor of same, in the prosecution of such violation. The costs, expense and disbursements by this section provided shall be fixed by the court having jurisdiction of the matter.

Procedure. Except as herein otherwise specified, the procedure for the prevention of violations of this act, for the vacation of hotels or premises unlawfully occupied, or for the abatement of a nuisance in connection with a hotel, or the premises thereof, shall be as set forth in the charter and ordinances of the municipality in which the procedure is instituted.

§ 7. Permit to erect hotel. Application for permit. Affidavit. Permit issued. Revocation. Plans kept on premises. Permit for nominal alterations. Expiration of permit. In every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, it shall be unlawful to commence or to proceed with the erection, construction, reconstruction, conversion or alteration of a hotel, or to move or to build upon a hotel, or to convert a building or any portion thereof into use as a hotel without first obtaining a permit in writing so to do from the department charged with the enforcement of this act. Any person, firm or corporation desiring such a permit shall file an application therefor with the department charged with the enforcement of this act. Said application shall give a detailed statement in writing, verified under oath by the person making the same, of the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, conversion, or alteration, as the case may be, upon blanks or forms to be furnished by the said department. The said application must be accompanied with a full, true and complete set of the plans of the hotel, or alteration, or work proposed, as the case may be, together with a set of specifications describing the materials proposed to enter into the construction of the proposed work, also a plan of the lot on which such building is proposed to be erected, constructed, reconstructed, converted, altered or moved, as the case may be. Such statement shall give in full the name and address by street and number of the owner or owners, also the name and address of the architect and of the contractor, if there be such an architect or contractor; also shall give such other data and information as in the judgment of the department charged with the enforcement of this act is deemed necessary.

The affidavit to said application shall allege that the plans and specifications are true and contain a correct description of the proposed hotel, lot and proposed work. If any person other than the owner makes such affidavit, such person shall not be recognized except that he allege in his affidavit that he is authorized and empowered by the said owner to act for him and to sign the required affidavit. Said department charged with the enforcement of this act shall cause all such plans, specifications and statements to be examined, and if it appears that they conform to the provisions of this act, shall then issue a permit to the person submitting the same. Said department may, from time to time, approve changes in any plans, specifications or statements previously approved by it; provided, that all changes when so made shall be in conformity with the provisions of this act. Said department shall have the power to revoke or cancel any permit or approval that it has previously issued in case of any refusal, failure or neglect of the person to whom such permit or approval has been issued to comply with any of the provisions of this act, or in case any false statement or misrepresentation is made in any of the said plans, specifications or statements submitted or filed for such permit or approval. The erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration or conversion of any such hotel, as the case may be, shall be made in accordance with the plans, specifications and statements submitted or filed, and for which the permit is issued.

A true copy of the plans, specifications and other information submitted or filed, upon which a permit is issued, with the approval of the department with which they are filed, stamped or written thereon, shall be kept upon the premises of the hotel or work for which the said permit is issued, from the commencement of the said building or work to the final completion of same, and shall be subject to inspection at all times by proper authorities.

The department charged with the enforcement of this act may, at its discretion, issue a permit in case of nominal alterations or repairs, when application is made therefore, in writing, by the owner or his agent, when the making of said nominal alterations and repairs do not affect any structural feature or the sanitation or the ventilation of the hotel, without requiring the filing of plans or specifications.

The issuance or granting of a permit or approval by the department charged with the enforcement of this act under the authority of this section shall not be deemed or construed to be a permit or an approval of the violation of any of the provisions of this act.

Every permit or approval which is issued by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, but under which no work has been done within ninety days from the date of issuance, or where work has been suspended for a period of ninety days, shall expire by limitation and a new permit shall be obtained before the work may be done.

§ 8. "Certificate of final completion" and "permit of occupancy." Renewal of permit of occupancy. Certificate issued. Permit issued. Hotel occupied without certificate or permit deemed nuisance. In every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, it shall be unlawful to occupy or to permit to be occupied, any hotel hereafter erected, constructed, reconstructed, altered, converted or moved, as the case may be, or any portion thereof, for human habitation until the issuance of a "certificate of final completion" and a "permit of occupancy" by the department or departments charged with the enforcement of this act.

It shall also be unlawful to occupy any existing hotel until a permit of occupancy has been issued by the department designated to issue such permit.

Every permit of occupancy shall be renewed each calendar year by the department designated to issue the said permit; provided, that no structural alteration, or changes have occurred since the issuance of the certificate of final completion; and provided, that all other provisions of this act have been complied with.

cause an inspection to be made of the said hotel or portion thereof, or work described in the said notice, within ten days after written application therefor, and shall issue a "certificate of final completion" if it is found that all the provisions of this act, regulating the erection, construction, alteration or moving, as the case may be, have been complied with.

The department charged with the enforcement of this act and designated to issue the permit of occupancy, shall issue the said "permit of occupancy" upon application, in writing, therefor by the owner or his agent, and upon the filing by the owner or his agent of such statements or records required by the department, after the "certificate of final completion" has been issued; provided, that no violations have occurred since the issuance of the certificate of final completion, or, in the case of a hotel erected prior to the passage of this act, and for which no certificate of final completion has been issued, then after the said department has caused an inspection to have been made of the said hotel and has found that all of the provisions of this act applying to such hotel have been complied with.

All permits and certificates shall be made in duplicate and a copy shall remain on file in the department issuing them.

Any hotel hereafter erected, altered, converted or moved, which is occupied, or any portion thereof which is occupied for human habitation, prior to a "certificate of final completion" or a "permit of occupancy" being issued, shall be deemed a nuisance and the department or departments charged with the enforcement of this act may cause it to be vacated, until the said certificate of completion and permit of occupancy have been obtained in accordance with the provisions of this act.

§ 9. Power to enter hotel. The department or departments charged with the enforcement of this act in any incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, or county, and the authorized officers, agents or employees of such department or departments, may, whenever necessary, enter hotels or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, within the corporate limits of such towns, cities, cities and counties, or counties, for the purpose of inspecting such buildings, in order to secure compliance with the provisions of this act and to prevent violations thereof.

The members of the commission of immigration and housing of California and the agents, officers or employees of said commission may, whenever necessary, enter hotels or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, for the purpose of inspecting such buildings in order to secure compliance with the provisions of this act and to prevent violations thereof.

The owner or his authorized agent may, whenever necessary, enter hotels or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, owned by him, to carry out any instructions or to perform any work required to be done by the provisions of this act.

§ 10. Definitions. For the purpose of this act, certain words and phrases are defined as follows, unless it shall be apparent from their context that they have a different meaning:

Words used in the singular include the plural, and the plural, the singular.

Words used in the present tense include the future.

Words used in the masculine gender include the feminine, and the feminine, the masculine.

Words "building departments," "health department," "housing department," "department charged with the enforcement of this act," "fire commissioner," shall be construed as if followed by the words, "of the incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county," as the case may be, in which the hotel is situated.

"Approved" means whatever material, appliance, appurtenance, or other matter meets the requirements and approval of the department charged with the enforcement of this act, or which is approved by local ordinance of the municipality in which the building is situated, or any appliance, appurtenance, or other matter which conforms to the requirements of, and bears the approval of the "national board of fire underwriters"; provided, however, that no such material, appliance, appurtenance or other matter shall be deemed "approved" for use where, or in such a manner as would be inconsistent with the intent, or specific provisions of this act.

"Basement" is any story or portion thereof partly below the level of the curb or the actual adjoining ground level, the ceiling of which in no part is less than seven feet above the curb level or actual adjoining ground levels. If the adjoining ground is excavated to or below the curb level, or to or below the adjoining natural ground level, such excavated space shall have not less than the minimum width and length required in this act for outer courts. Every basement is a story.

"Building" is a hotel.

"Building department" means the commissioner of buildings, superintendent of buildings, chief inspector of buildings, or any officer or department charged with the enforcement of ordinances and laws regulating the construction and alteration of buildings or structures.

"Cellar" is any story or portion thereof, the ceiling of which in any part is less than seven feet above the curb level and actual adjoining ground levels.

"Court" is an open, unoccupied space other than a yard on the lot on which is situated a hotel. A court, one entire side or end of which is bounded by a front yard, a rear yard or a side yard, or by the front of lot, or by a street or a public alley, is an "outer court." Every court which is not an "outer court" is an "inner court."

Every court shall be open and unobstructed to the sky from a point not more than two feet above the floor line of the lowest story in the building in which there are windows from rooms abutting the said court, except that a cornice on the building may extend into an "outer court" two inches for each one foot in width of such court, and a cornice may extend into an "inner court" one inch for each one foot in width of such court.

"Curb level" is the curb level opposite the center of the "front of lot."

Wherever the word "department" is used it means the building department, the housing department, the health department or such other department or officer, or departments or officers, who are charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act.

"Dormitory" is a room in which more than two persons are "guests" and are not living together, and shall, for the purpose of computing the number of rooms, be deemed a separate guest room for each one hundred square feet of superficial floor area therein.

"Fireproof hotel" is a building wherein all the exterior and interior loads or strains are transmitted to the foundation by means of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone or by means of a skeleton framework of steel or iron; the exterior walls, inner court walls and roof constructed of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone or hollow terra cotta tile; where all the structural steel or iron is thoroughly fireproofed by concrete, cement plaster, tile, brick or sandstone, not less than two inches thick; where all the interior partitions are constructed of either hollow terra cotta tile blocks, gypsum blocks, brick, concrete, reinforced concrete, or of metal studs lathed with metal lath and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath, or of metal studs lathed with approved plaster board and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the plaster board, or constructed of wire glass not less than one-fourth inch thick, set in metal frames and sash, and all other materials used in the said building are of approved incombustible material except that the glass in windows, transoms, or doors may be of plain glass, and except that doors, frames, sash and the usuall trim of rooms, hallways, corridors, and passage-ways may be of wood, and except that wood floors may be placed on top of the floors constructed of incombustible materials, except in the public hallways.

"Guest" is any person hiring and occupying a room for sleeping purposes, and shall include both boarders and lodgers.

"Guest room" is a room which is occupied, or is intended, arranged or designed to be occupied for sleeping purposes by one or more guests, but shall not be deemed to include dormitories used for sleeping purposes.

"Hotel" is any house or building, or portion thereof, containing six or more guest rooms which are let or hired out to be occupied, or which are occupied by six or more guests, whether the compensation for hire be paid directly or indirectly in money, goods, wares, merchandise, labor or otherwise, and shall include Turkish baths, bachelor hotels, studio hotels, public and private clubs and any building of any nature whatsoever so designed or occupied, except hospitals where persons temporarily reside and where each such person receives regular bona fide medical attendance on the premises, and jails, detention buildings and similar buildings where human beings are housed and detained under restraint.

"Housing department" is any department or commission charged with the enforcement of ordinances or laws regulating the occupancy and maintenance of hotel, lodging-house or dwelling-house buildings; and where no such department is maintained, shall be deemed to be the health commissioner, the department of health, health officer, or similar department charged with the enforcement of laws and ordinances relating to the protection of the public health.

"Lot" is a parcel or area of land on which is situated a hotel, together with the land, yards, courts and unoccupied spaces for such a hotel as required by this act; all of which land shall be owned by or be under the absolute lawful control and in the lawful possession of the hotel.

A lot situated at the junction of two or more intersecting streets, with a boundary line thereof bordering on each of the two streets, is a "corner lot." All parts of the width of such corner lot which are distant more than seventy-five feet from the junction point of the two or more intersecting streets, shall be deemed to be an "interior lot." The owner or his authorized agent may designate either street frontage as being the front of such corner lot for the purpose of determining the width thereof.

A lot which has only one boundary line bordering on a public street is an "interior lot."

"Rear lot" is a parcel or area of land having no boundary line bordering on a street, or having less than one-half of its width as a boundary line bordering on a street.

"Front of lot" is the boundary line of lot bordering on the street. In case of a corner lot, either of the boundary lines may be the "front of lot."

"Rear of lot" is the boundary line thereof opposite the "font of lot."

"Depth of lot" is the mean distance from the "front of lot" to the "rear of lot."

"Nuisance" embraces public nuisance as known at common law or in equity jurisprudence, and whatever is dangerous to human life or detrimental to health; and shall also embrace the overcrowding with occupants of any room, insufficient ventilation, or illumination, or inadequate or insanitary sewerage or plumbing facilities, or uncleanliness, and whatever renders air, food or drink unwholesome or detrimental to the health of human beings.

"Person" is a natural person, his heirs, executors, administrators or assigns; also includes a firm, partnership, or corporation, its or their successors or assigns.

"Public hallway" is a hallway, corridor, passageway or vestibule not within a suite, and includes stairways, landings and platforms.

"Rear hotel" is a hotel on a "rear lot."

"Semi-fireproof hotel" is a building with all exterior walls and walls of inner and outer courts constructed of brick, stone, concrete, reinforced concrete or hollow terra cotta tile, except that the walls of an inner court, which court is surrounded on four sides by the same building, may be constructed as provided in this act for such inner courts; interior partitions and floors constructed of approved incombustible materials or of wood, with all ceilings, partitions, soffits of stairways, and outside stringers of open stairways and stair-wells metal lathed and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath, or lathed with approved plaster board, plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the plaster board; in which all finished floors, frames, doors and the usual trim of rooms and hallways may be built of wood, and the roof of which shall be covered with at least a composition fire-retardant material.

"Shall." Whenever this word is used it shall be mandatory.

"Street" is any public street, alley, thoroughfare or park having a minimum width of sixteen feet, measured from the "front of lot" to the opposite "front of lot" and which shall have been dedicated or deeded to the public for public use.

"Turkish bath" is a dormitory or a combination of guest rooms, accommodating six (6) or more guests, in connection with which any form of bath or massage is given by the attendants to the guests.

"Wooden hotel" is a building which does not fully comply with the requirements for a fireproof or a semi-fireproof hotel as defined in this act, and shall include all frame and all veneered buildings. In every such building all ceilings and walls and partitions of public hallways, soffits of interior stairways and the outside stringers of open stairways and stair-wells shall be metal lathed and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath, or lathed with an approved plaster board and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the plaster board.

"Yard" is an open unoccupied space other than a court on the lot on which is situated a hotel, open and unobstructed to the sky from a point not more than two feet above the floor line of the lowest story in the building in which there are windows from rooms abutting the said yard; except that outside stairways, platforms and balconies, constructed of open metal work and fire-escapes may extend not more than four feet into a yard, providing they do not in any manner obstruct the light or ventilation of rooms. If such yard is between the front line of the building and the front boundary line of the lot, it is a "front yard." If it is between the extreme rear line of the building and the rear of the lot, it is a "rear yard." If it extends from the rear yard to the front yard, or front of lot, it is a "side yard."

Such front yard shall not be in any part less in width than fifty (50) per cent of the actual width of the rear hotel.

§ 12. Height. No fireproof hotel hereafter erected shall exceed one hundred fifty feet in height, nor more than one and one-half times the width of the widest street to which the lot on which it is situated abuts.

No semi-fireproof hotel building hereafter erected shall exceed six stories at any point, nor more than sixty-five feet in height (except as hereinafter provided), nor more than one and one-half times the width of the widest street to which the lot on which it is situated abuts.

No wooden hotel hereafter erected shall exceed three stories at any point, nor more than thirty-six feet in height (except as hereinafter provided), nor more than one and one-half times the width of the widest street to which the lot on which it is situated abuts.

The width of the street, for this purpose, shall be measured from the extreme front of the building to the "front of lot" opposite, across the street.

For the purpose of this section, a basement is a story.

The height of a fireproof hotel is the perpendicular distance from the curb level or adjoining ground levels to the highest point of the roof. The height of a semi-fireproof or of a wooden hotel is the perpendicular distance from the curb level or adjoining ground levels to the lowest point of the finished ceiling of the top story; provided, that in the case of a semi-fireproof hotel situated on a lot with the ground sloping downward from the facade at which the measurement is taken the height of the building shall not at any point exceed sixty-five feet above the curb level measured on the facade facing the street, nor shall the height of the building at any point of the grade exceed seventy-five above the adjoining curb in case of a corner lot, or above the level of the ground in the case of an interior lot, and in the case of a wooden hotel situated on a lot with the ground sloping downward from the facade at which the measurement is taken the height of the building shall not at any point exceed thirty-six feet above the curb line measured on the facade facing the street, nor shall the height of the building at any point of the grade exceed forty-six feet above the adjoining curb in the case of a corner lot or above the level of the ground in the case of an interior lot.

§ 13. Yard serving two hotels. Distance between buildings. In no event shall any yard or court be made to serve the purpose of two hotels hereafter erected, or of an existing hotel and a hotel hereafter erected, unless such yard or court, as the case may be, is of the full size required for two hotels, and then only in the event that such yard or court, as the case may be, is located on the same lot and owned by or in the absolute lawful control and in the lawful possession of the hotel it proposes to serve.

Where a hotel, now or hereafter erected, stands upon a lot, no other building shall hereafter be placed upon the front or rear of that lot, unless the minimum distance between such buildings shall be at least ten feet and two additional feet shall be added to such minimum distance of ten feet for every story more than one in height of the highest building on such lot.

§ 15. Minimum size of rear yard. The minimum size of every rear yard for a hotel hereafter erected shall be not less in width and in area than an inner court, except that if such rear yard is bounded on its entire one end or side by an outer court, or by a side yard or by a street, or by a public alley or park, then such rear yard shall be not less in width or exceed the maximum length of an outer court; provided, however, that if the lot extends through from one street to another street or public alley, one-half of the narrowest street or public alley, to which said lot abuts may be considered as a part of the lot in computing the rear yard required.

§ 16. Passageway to street. Every rear yard not bordering on a street or public alley and without direct access thereto shall have access to a street or public alley by means of an unobstructed passageway not less than three feet six inches in clear width, nor less than seven feet in clear height; and if such passageway or any portion thereof passes through a building, such portion thereof shall be built of approved incombustible materials, or shall be lathed with metal lath or approved plaster board and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or plaster board, or shall be lined with not less than number twenty-six (gauge) galvanized iron, and shall be drained and lighted.

§ 18. Width of side yard. The width of every side yard shall be not less than the width required for an outer court, except that the provisions of this act regarding the maximum lengths of an outer court shall not apply to a side yard; provided, that if there is a side yard on both sides of the building connected one with the other across the rear of the building by the rear yard, then the width of the side yards may be reduced twelve inches.

§ 19. Minimum size of outer court. The minimum size of every outer court for a hotel hereafter erected shall be as follows:

Height of building based on the full number of stories in the building measured upward from and including the lowest story in which there is a guest room or guest rooms, or a dormitory or dormitories	Minimum width of court	Maximum length of court
1 story	4 ft. 0 in.	16 ft. 0 in.
2 stories	4 ft. 0 in.	16 ft. 0 in.
3 stories	4 ft. 6 in.	25 ft. 0 in.
4 stories	5 ft. 6 in.	30 ft. 0 in.
5 stories	6 ft. 0 in.	35 ft. 0 in.
6 stories	8 ft. 0 in.	35 ft. 0 in.
7 stories	10 ft. 0 in.	40 ft. 0 in.
8 stories	12 ft. 0 in.	40 ft. 0 in.
9 stories	13 ft. 0 in.	40 ft. 0 in.
10 or more stories	14 ft. 0 in.	40 ft. 0 in.

There shall be added to the minimum width of each such outer court six inches for each five feet or fractional art thereof in excess of the maximum length; provided, however, that the maximum lengths herein provided shall not apply when the outer court is bounded on one side for its entire length by a lot line; provided, further, that if an outer court is bounded by a public alley or public park, the width of such public alley or public park may be considered a part of the lot in determining the required width of the outer court.

§ 20. Minimum size of inner court. The minimum size of every inner court for a hotel hereafter erected shall be as follows:

Height of building based on the full number of stories in the building measured upward from and including the lowest story in which there is a guest room, or guest rooms, or a dormitory or dormitories	Minimum width of court	Minimum area of court in square feet
1 story	6 ft. 0 in.	75 square feet
2 stories	6 ft. 0 in.	75 square feet
3 stories	7 ft. 0 in.	120 square feet
4 stories	8 ft. 0 in.	160 square feet
5 stories	12 ft. 0 in.	250 square feet
6 stories	16 ft. 0 in.	400 square feet
7 stories	20 ft. 0 in.	625 square feet
8 stories and more	24 ft. 0 in.	840 square feet

provided, however, that the minimum size of every inner court which is bounded on one side for its entire length by a lot line may be as follows:

Height of building based on the full number of stories in the building measured upward from and including the lowest story in which there is a guest room, or guest rooms, or a dormitory or dormitories	Minimum width of court	Minimum area of court
1 story	5 ft. 0 in.	75 square feet
2 stories	5 ft. 0 in.	75 square feet
3 stories	6 ft. 0 in.	120 square feet
4 stories	7 ft. 0 in.	160 square feet
5 stories	9 ft. 0 in.	250 square feet
6 stories	16 ft. 0 in.	400 square feet
8 stories and more	24 ft. 0 in.	840 square feet

Every inner court hereafter constructed and every inner court or vent shaft now in any hotel or lodging-house shall be provided with a door or window at or near the bottom thereof, giving sufficient access to such court or vent shaft as to enable it to be properly cleaned out.

§ 21. Recess. Every recess from a court, yard or street in a hotel hereafter erected shall unless it conforms to the requirements of this act for an inner court, or an outer court, be not less in width than its depth. Every such recess shall be open and unobstructed from a point not more than two feet above the floor line of the lowest story in the building in which there are rooms the said recess proposes to serve.

§ 22. Intakes for inner court. Construction. Every inner court in a hotel of two or more stories in height hereafter erected shall be provided with one or more horizontal intakes at the bottom of the court, as follows:

Inner court areas	Minimum number of intakes	Net aggregate area of intakes
Each not exceeding 300 square feet	One	19½ square feet
Each not exceeding 800 square feet	Two	40 square feet
Each exceeding 800 square feet	Two	60 square feet

Every such intake shall always extend directly to the front of lot or front yard, or rear yard, or to a side yard, or to a street, or to a public alley or park. Whenever more than one intake is required, one such intake shall extend to the font of lot or front yard, and one to the rear yard, public alley, public park, or to the other street, and the court ends of the air intakes shall be as far apart as possible.

Each such intake shall consist of an unobstructed duct or passageway having a minimum width of three feet in all its parts and a minimum height of six feet six inches.

Every such intake shall be constructed of approved incombustible materials, or shall be lined with at least number twenty-six (gauge) galvanized iron on the inside thereof. Such air intakes may be closed at each end with a gate or grill having not less than seventy-five per cent of open work.

In case the inner court does not extend below the second floor level, then each such air intake may consist of an unobstructed open duct, constructed of approved incombustible materials or lined with at least number twenty-six (gauge) galvanized iron on the inside thereof, having an interior area of not less than nineteen and one-half square feet, and in no dimension less than twelve inches, and covered at each end with a wire screen of not less than one inch mesh.

Every air intake shall be drained and so constructed and arranged as to be readily cleaned out.

§ 23. Cellars. In no hotel shall any room in the cellar be constructed, altered, converted or occupied for sleeping purposes.

Every cellar shall be illuminated and ventilated. The walls and floor of every cellar hereafter constructed, which are below the ground level, shall be made waterproof and dampproof, and whenever deemed necessary and so ordered by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, the walls and ceilings thereof shall be plastered.

§ 24. Basements. In no hotel shall any room in the basement be constructed, altered, converted or occupied for sleeping purposes, unless such room conforms to all of the requirements of this act for rooms in other parts of the building, and that ceiling of each such room be in all parts not less than seven feet above the adjoining ground level.

Every basement shall be illuminated and ventilated. The walls and floors of every basement hereafter constructed, which are below the ground level, shall be made waterproof and dampproof, and whenever deemed necessary and so ordered by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, the walls and ceilings thereof shall be plastered.

§ 25. Ventilation beneath floor. In every hotel hereafter erected, the lowest floor thereof shall be at least eighteen inches above the surface soil adjoining and under the floor, and the entire space under such floor shall be kept dry, drained, clean and free from any accumulation of rubbish, debris or filth.

Such space under the floor shall be enclosed and provided with a sufficient number of openings with removable screens or similar provisions of a size to insure ample ventilation; provided, however, that in any such building the lowest floor thereof may be less than eighteen inches above the surface soil but in no case less than six inches (except where masonry floors are laid directly on the soil) if the said floor is made impervious to the ingress of rats or other vermin, as follows:

(a) Floor made impervious to rats. Foundation walls shall be constructed of concrete or of brick or stone or other masonry laid in a good mortar or constructed of some other equally as rat-proof material.

(b) The said foundation walls shall be not less than six inches in thickness at the top nor less than twelve inches in thickness at the bottom, nor extend less than twelve inches below the surface soil, and except where masonry floors are laid directly on the soil, shall extend not less than six inches above the surface soil.

(c) Every opening in the foundation walls, for ventilation or for other purposes, shall be made rat proof with suitable metal screens or with some other similar rat-proof material. Door or window openings in such walls shall have tight-fitting doors or windows.

(d) The said lowest floor or differing levels thereof, forming a complete floor between the outside walls of the building, shall be constructed either of masonry, or covered with concrete not less than one and one-half inches thick, or constructed of two layers of flooring with a layer of galvanized iron or galvanized iron wire cloth or other approved equally as rat-proof material placed between the two layers of flooring. Or in lieu of the floor being constructed as herein prescribed, the entire ground area under the floor shall be covered with concrete not less than two inches thick, except where the surface of the soil is composed of rock. The rat-proofing material shall always extend under the plates of the exterior walls and supporting partitions.

(e) All openings throughout the said floor for chimneys, plumbing, water pipes or for any other purpose shall be closed up tight in the same manner and with the same kind of materials as required under the plates of the exterior walls and supporting partitions, and if the rat-profing material used for the closing of openings is other than masonry, it shall extend beyond and underlap the flooring all around the opening, not less than two inches.

§ 26. Floor area of guest room. Width and height. Curtains. In every hotel hereafter erected, every guest room shall contain not less than ninety square feet of superficial floor area. Every such room shall at every point be not less than seven feet in width, nor less than nine feet in height, measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling; except that attic rooms and rooms where sloping ceilings occur need be nine feet in height in but one-half the area of the room.

Every water-closet compartment shall be not less than thirty-six inches in clear width, and every such water-closet compartment, bath or slop-sink compartment, or closet or recess from a room, or dressing-room shall have a height of not less than seven feet six inches, measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling.

Every closet, recess from a room, or dressing-room which contains more than twenty-five square feet of superficial floor area (built-in dressers, clothes-presses and similar features which are a substantial part of the structure shall not be deemed to be part of the floor erea of a closet, recess from a room, or dressing-room), shall conform to all of the provisions of this act as to guest rooms, and shall contain not less than ninety square feet of superficial floor area.

No part of any room in any hotel shall hereafter be enclosed or subdivided wholly or in part, by a curtain, portiere, fixed or movable partition, or other contrivance or device, for any purpose, contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

Entertainment, amusement or reception rooms, or public dining-rooms, hereafter constructed, altered or converted in any hotel shall conform to the provisions of section thirty of this act.

Dormitories hereafter constructed, altered or converted in any hotel shall conform to the provisions of section sixty-two of this act.

§ 27. Windows. Opening into vent shaft. Opening through porch. Ventilation by exhaust system. In every hotel hereafter erected, every guest room, dormitory, kitchen, scullery, pantry or other room in which food is stored or prepared, public dining-room, laundry, barber shop,

Turkish baths, general amusement, entertainment or reception-room, water-closet or shower compartment, bath, toilet or slop-sink room and general utility room shall have at least one window, of the area hereinafter required, opening directly upon a street, or upon a yard or court of the dimensions specified in this act and located on the same lot.

All windows required by this act shall be located so as to properly light all portions of the room and shall be made so as to open in all parts and be so arranged that at least one-half of the window may be opened unobstructed.

The windows required by this section in a water-closet or shower compartment, bath, toilet or slop-sink room may open directly into a vent shaft in lieu of a street, yard or court. Such vent shaft to be not less than of the minimum size, and constructed of the materials and in the manner prescribed by section fifty-seven of this act, or such rooms or compartments, in lieu of being provided with windows may be ventilated by an exhaust system of ventilation installed, constructed and maintained as prescribed by section sixty-one hereof.

The windows required by this section to open onto a street, yard, or an outer court, except windows from kitchens, may open through porches, provided that said porches do not exceed seven feet in depth, measured at right angles to the windows and that at least seventy-five per cent of the entire side of the porch, bounded by the street, yard, or outer court, is left open except that the open space may be inclosed with mosquito screens.

Kitchens, sculleries, pantries or other rooms used for cooking, storing or preparing of food, public dining-rooms, laundries, barber-shop, Turkish baths, general amusement or reception-rooms and general utility rooms, in lieu of windows may be ventilated by an exhaust system of ventilation installed, constructed and maintained as prescribed by section sixty-one hereof.

§ 28. Window area. In every hotel hereafter erected, the total window area in each guest room, kitchen, scullery, pantry or other room in which food is stored or prepared, laundry, barber-shop, Turkish bath, or general utility room, shall be at least one-eighth of the superficial floor area of the room.

The aggregate window area in each room shall be not less than twelve square feet and no single window shall be less than six square feet in area.

All measurements for window area shall be taken to the outside of the sash.

The window area required for dormitories, entertainment, amusement, reception or dining rooms shall be as hereinafter provided.

§ 29. Window area. In every hotel hereafter erected each window in a water-closet compartment, bath, toilet or slop-sink room, or shower-room, shall be not less than three square feet in area. The aggregate area of windows for each such compartment or room shall be not less than six square feet. In each such compartment or room containing more than one water-closet, bath, urinal or slop-sink, the aggregate window area shall be equivalent to three square feet for each water-closet, bath, urinal or slop-sink therein; except that at no time need the aggregate window area exceed one-fourth of the superficial floor area of such compartment or room.

§ 30. Total window area in dining-room, etc. Height of rooms. In every hotel hereafter erected the total window area in each room used for the purpose of entertainment, amusement, reception or dining-room, which room has a superficial floor area not exceeding one hundred eighty square feet, shall be at least one-eighth of the superficial floor area of such room.

Every such room which has a superficial floor area exceeding one hundred eighty square feet shall have an aggregate window area not less than that required for a room of one hundred eighty square feet of superficial floor area.

Every such entertainment, amusement, reception or dining room shall have a minimum height between the finished floor and the finished ceiling of not less than nine feet. No such room or part thereof shall be used for sleeping purposes, except that said room or part thereof complies with all of the other provisions of this act for guest roooms.

§ 31. Windows in public hallway. Skylights. French windows. In every hotel hereafter erected every public hallway, on any floor where there are more than five guest rooms, shall have at least one window, opening directly upon a street, or upon a yard or a court, of the dimensions specified in this act and located on the same lot; such windows shall be at the end of the public hallway and placed so as to secure the maximum light into the hallway; provided, however, that in hotels not exceeding two stories in height the public hallway may, in lieu of such windows, be lighted and ventilated by one or more skylights constructed in accordance with the provisions of this act.

Every window required by this act in a public hallway shall be not less than twenty-nine inches in clear width, nor less than fifty-eight inches in height, and the finished sill of same shall be not more than thirty inches above the adjoining finished floor.

Every window shall be made so as to open, and so arranged that at least one-half of the window may be opened unobstructed.

Every skylight provided for in this section shall have an effective horizontal area of glass of not less than fifteen square feet, and shall have ridge ventilators or fixed or movable louvres so as to provide a ventilating area of not less than five hundred square inches. Such skylights shall be so located that no portion of the hallway be distant more than twenty feet, measured from a vertical line, from a skylight opening.

Any part of a public hallway which is offset, recessed, or cut off from any other part of a hallway where such offset or recess is more in length than one and one-half times the width of the public hallway from which it offsets or recesses, shall be deemed a separate public hallway within the meaning of this section.

French windows or doors, if arranged to open and glazed to give the areas of opening and glass required by this act for winodws in public hallways, may be used in lieu of windows therein.

§ 32. Ventilating syklight. In every hotel two or more stories in height hereafter erected, where there are more than five guest rooms on any one floor, there shall be provided at the roof over each stairway a ventilating skylight, placed directly as practicable over same, having a minimum effective horizontal area of glass at least twenty square feet in area for buildings two stories in height, and the area of glass in such skylight shall be increased at the ratio of six square feet for each additional story in height. In every such skylight the ventilating area shall be not less than five hundred square inches.

Every such skylight, ventilating openings, shutters and closing and opening devices for the ventilating openings, shall be made of approved incombustible materials, and so arranged that the entire ventilating area may be readily opened from at least the topmost and first story levels; except that in hotels not exceeding four stories in height the ventilators may be arranged so as to open from at least the first story, or may be fixed permanetly in an open position.

Skylights as in this section prescribed may be omitted in case that windows are provided of the size fixed by section thirty-one hereof, and located adjoining the stairways, and that each window adjoining the stairway be provided with an open louvre or ventilator providing a ventilating area of not less than one hundred square inches or such louvre or ventilator may be placed in the roof over the stairway in which event the ventilating area shall be not less than five hundred square inches.

Whenever a skylight is required, as in this section provided, there shall be constructed a stair well, the clear open area of which shall be at each floor equal to one-third of the area of the glass in the skylight.

§ 33. Water-closets. Waterproof floor. In every hotel hereafter erected there shall be installed not less than one water-closet in a separate compartment, located on the public hallway, for each sex on such floor. One of such water-closets shall be distinctly marked "for men," and one of the water-closets distinctly marked "for women"; and there shall be installed not less than one water-closet in a separate compartment, located on the public hallway, for every ten guest rooms, or fractional part thereof, on such floor, which are not provided with private water-closets. Each of the said water-closets shall be accessible from each of the guest rooms through the public hallway, and not more than one hundred feet distant from the entrance door of each of the guest rooms the said water-closet proposes to serve.

In every hotel hereafter erected there shall be installed not less than one water-closet for every twenty employees of each sex in said building.

No door or other opening in a water-closet or urinal compartment shall open from or into any room in which food is prepared or stored.

The walls enclosing a water-closet compartment shall be well plastered, or constructed of some nonabsorbent material, except that the ordinary wood trim for openings may be used in such a compartment. Every water-closet compartment shall be provided and equipped with a full door, properly hung, and provided with a lock or bolt to lock same.

The floor of every water-closet compartment hereafter constructed shall be made waterproof with asphalt, tile, marble, terrazzo, cement or some other similar nonabsorbent material, and such waterproofing shall extend not less than six inches on the vertical walls of the compartment.

§ 34. In hotel already erected. Sewer connection required. In every hotel erected prior to the passage of this act there shall be installed not less than one water-closet in a separate compartment, located on the public hallway for each sex; one of such water-closets shall be distinctly marked "for men," and one of the water-closets shall be distinctly marked "for women"; and there shall be installed not less than one water-closet in a separate compartment, located on the public hallway, for every twelve guest rooms, or fractional part thereof, on such floor, which are not provided with water-closets; provided, however, that the housing department charged with the enforcement of this act may exempt any hotel existing at the time of the passage of this act from fully complying with the provisions of this paragraph when, in its discretion, such deviation will not be detrimental to the health of the occupants thereof, or to the sanitation of the said hotel or premises; provided, further, that no such exemption shall apply to any addition or extension to a hotel.

Every water-closet hereafter placed in a hotel erected prior to the passage of this act shall comply with every provision of this act relative to water-closets installed in hotels hereafter erected, except that if a water-closet is installed in the top story of any such building, the compartment in which it is installed may be ventilated by a skylight with fixed louvres in lieu of a window; provided, however, that a new water-closet may be installed to replace a defective or antiquated fixture in the same location. No door or other opening in a water-closet, privy, or urinal compartment shall open from or into a room in which food is prepared or stored.

Every hotel erected prior to the passage of this act or hereafter erected, where a connection with the sewer is possible, shall discontinue the use of any school sink, privy vault or any similar receptacle used to receive fecal matter, urine or sewage, and every such receptacle shall be completely removed and the place where it was located be properly disinfected. All such receptacles shall be replaced by individual water-closets of durable nonabsorbent material, properly connected, trapped, vented and provided with flush tanks, the same as is required, by the provisions of this act, in hotels hereafter erected.

§ 35. Bathtub or shower. In every hotel hereafter erected there shall be installed not less than one bathtub or shower, in a separate compartment, located on the public hallway, for every ten guest rooms, or fractional part thereof, not provided with private baths; provided, that the said bathtub or shower is on the same floor and is accessible from each guest room through the public hallway. There shall also be installed not less than one slop-sink on each floor.

The walls and floors to every bath, shower or slop-sink room hereafter constructed shall be waterproofed and shall be provided with doors in the same manner as required for the construction of water-closet compartments in hotels hereafter erected.

§ 36. In hotel already erected. In every hotel erected prior to the passage of this act there shall be installed not less than one bathtub or shower, in a separate compartment, located in the public hallway, for every twenty guest rooms, or fractional part thereof, which are not provided with private baths; provided, that the said bathtub or shower is located on the same floor and is accessible from each guest room through the public hallway.

There shall also be installed not less than one slop-sink on each floor; provided, however, that the housing department charged with the enforcement of this act may exempt any hotel existing at the time of the passage of this act from fully complying with the provisions of this section when, in its discretion, such deviation will not be detrimental to the health of the occupants thereof, or to the sanitation of the said hotel or premises; provided, further, that no such exemption shall apply to any addition or extension to a hotel.

§ 37. Running water. Sewer. In every hotel hereafter erected every plumbing fixture shall be provided with running water, and there shall be provided faucets, with running water, sufficient in number so that all of the yards, courts and passageways may be washed. Faucets shall be of the hose bibb type, not less than three-quarter inch size.

Every plumbing fixture affecting the sanitary drainage system in any hotel hereafter erected, shall be properly connected with the street sewer, if a street sewer exists in the street abutting the lot on which the building is located and is ready to receive connections. When it is impracticable to connect such plumbing fixtures with a street sewer, then the plumbing fixtures shall be connected and drained into a cesspool constructed satisfactorily to the department charged with the enforcement of this act; or some other means of sewage disposal satisfactory to the department charged with the enforcement of this act may be made until such time as it may become practicable and possible to connect with the street sewer.

§ 38. In hotel already erected. In every hotel erected prior to the passage of this act, every plumbing fixture shall be provided with running water, and there shall be provided faucets, with running water, sufficient in number so that all of the yards, courts and passageways may be washed. Faucets shall be of the hose bibb type, not less than three-quarter inch size.

§ 39. In case no running water. Privy. Water-closets, baths, showers, sinks, slop-sinks, faucets and other plumbing fixtures required by this act need not be installed in the event that the hotel hereafter erected or an existing hotel, as the case may be, is situated where there is no running water and where there is no practical means of sewage disposal, until such time as it becomes practicable and possible to obtain running water and means of sewage disposal; provided, in every such case the department charged with the enforcement of this act shall decide whether or not it is practicable and possible to provide running water and proper means of sewage disposal. A special permit in writing shall be obtained in every such case from the department charged with the enforcement of this act, which permit shall be made in duplicate, and a copy thereof shall remain on file in the department issuing it; provided, further, that proper, separate toilet facilities for each sex shall be provided for the use of the occupants of such building. Such facilities shall be made sanitary. A privy, or toilet other than a water-closet, erected under the authority of this section shall consist of a pit at least three feet deep, with suitable shelter over the same to afford privacy, and protection from the elements. The openings of the shelter and pit shall be enclosed by mosquito screening, and the door to the shelter shall be made to close automatically by means of a spring or other device. No privy pit shall be allowed to become filled with excreta to nearer than one foot from the surface of the ground, and the excreta in the pit shall be covered with earth, ashes, lime or similar substances at regular intervals.

All drainage water shall be conveyed from the premises by means of a covered drain to a covered cesspool.

§ 40. Plumbing fixtures made sanitary. In every hotel erected prior to the passage of this act all plumbing fixtures affecting the sanitary drainage system shall be properly trapped and vented and made sanitary in every particular. In any hotel hereafter erected, and in any hotel erected prior to the passage of this act no plumbing fixtures shall be inclosed with woodwork, but the space under and around same must be left entirely open. All woodwork inclosing a water-closet, sink, slop-sink, wash-tray or lavatory shall be removed and the floor and wall surfaces beneath and around such water-closet, sink, slop-sink, wash-tray or lavatory shall be maintained in good repair, and if of wood, well painted with a light-colored paint of sufficient body to make it nonabsorbent. All wooden seats, attached to water-closet bowls, shall be varnished or enameled, or by some other method made nonabsorbent.

In every hotel hereafter erected water-closets shall have earthenware bowls and shall have earthenware seats integral with the bowls, or wooden seats, varnished or enameled so as to be nonabsorbent, or seats made of some nonabsorbent material attached directly to the bowls. No wooden wash-trays or wooden kitchen sinks shall be permitted in such buildings. All plumbing connections hereafter made in buildings shall be of standard lead, iron, steel or brass; and every gas and water service connection hereafter made shall be of steel or iron, and shall be equipped with cut-off valves placed outside of the building, and such cut-off valves shall be readily accessible.

Whenever any plumbing fixture becomes insanitary the department charged with the enforcement of this act is hereby empowered to order the same removed and to order that it be replaced by a fixture conforming to the provisions of this act.

§ 41. Two means of egress. Every hotel hereafter erected, three or more stories in height and in which there are more than five guest rooms on any one floor, shall be so designed and constructed that every guest room in such building shall have not less than two means of egress, either by stairways or fire-escapes, constructed in accordance with the provisions of this act. Such means of egress shall be accessible from every guest room, either directly or through a public hallway, and so located that should one egress be or become blocked, the other egress shall be available.

§ 42. Stairways. Every hotel two or more stories in height, hereafter erected shall have not less than two stairways.

Every fireproof hotel two or more stories in height hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway, not less than three feet six inches wide, for each six thousand square feet, or fractional part thereof, of floor area in any one floor above the first floor thereof.

Every semi-fireproof hotel two or more stories in height hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway, not less than three feet six inches wide, for each four thousand square feet, or fractional part thereof, of floor area in any one floor above the first floor thereof.

Every wooden hotel two or more stories in height hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway, not less than three feet six inches wide, for each three thousand square feet, or fractional part thereof, of floor area in any one floor above the first floor thereof.

Every hotel hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway leading from the outside to every basement or cellar thereof.

§ 43. Computing number of stairways required. The largest floor area above the ground floor shall be used as the basis for computing the number of stairways required in a hotel hereafter erected; provided, that if all floors above the largest floor area of the building are diminished in area, the stairway or stairways from that portion of the building containing a smaller area may be computed on the basis of the largest floor area in that portion of the building.

§ 44. Location of stairways. All stairways hereafter constructed shall be located so as to furnish the best means of egress from the building, shall be as far removed from each other as is practicable, and shall be as follows:

Access to stairways shall be provided at every floor by means of a public hallway, corridor, or passageway, and the public hallway, corridor, passageway and stairway from the ground exit level to the top story or roof shall be accessible at all times.

No stairway shall abut on more than one side of an elevator shaft, except on the entrance and topmost stories; provided, that the stairway is so located that it can be approached from the street entrance without passing by or in front of the open side of the said elevator shaft.

No stairway shall be located over a steam boiler, gas meter or gas heater or furnace, unless such boiler, gas meter, gas heater or furnace be located in a room, the walls and ceiling of which are constructed as required for a boiler-room by section fifty-nine of this act. No stairway leading from any other portion of the building shall terminate in or pass through a boiler-room.

§ 45. Construction of stairways. Every stairway hereafter constructed shall be as follows: Have a rise of not more than eight inches and a run of not less than nine inches, without change in the run or rise between floors; and shall be provided with head room of not less than six feet six inches, measured from the nearest nosing of the stairway to the nearest soffit.

The depth of every landing in a stairway shall be not less than the width of the stairway, and all treads shall be of equal width for every run of stairs, and shall not vary in width in the width of the stairs.

Every stairway required by this act shall be continuous from the ground level to the top story, i. e., the flights of such stairway shall be constructed one directly above the other, or shall be constructed so that each flight shall be in plain view of each succeeding flight; provided, however, that half of the stairways from the upper floors may terminate at the second floor, in the event that the stairways from the first to the second floor be increased in width not less than fifty per cent.

Every stairway shall have at least one handrail and if the stairway be five feet or more in width, shall have a handrail on each side thereof.

The under side and soffits of wooden stairways and the outside stringers of open stairways, except outside stairways in semi-fireproof and wooden hotels shall be metal lathed and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath, or lathed with approved plaster board and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the plaster board.

The width of stairways shall be measured in the clear of all projections except the baseboards, and except that handrails and newel posts may project not more than four inches.

§ 46. Space under stairway. No closet of any kind shall be constructed in any hotel under any wooden stairway, but such space shall be kept entirely open, and be kept clean and free from all encumbrance; or such space shall be effectually closed with walls of studs, lathed and plastered, with no door or opening of any kind therein; provided, however, that the provisions of this section as to a closet under a stairway shall not apply to any hotel not more than two stories in height, in which there are not more than five guest rooms above the first floor thereof.

§ 47. Stairway to roof. In hotel already erected. In every hotel hereafter erected more than two stories in height, the stairway nearest to the main entrance of the building shall be carried to the roof level and shall give egress to the roof through a penthouse or roof structure. In every such building not exceeding two stories in height there shall be constructed a scuttle, in the public hallway, near the stairway. Such scuttle shall be not less than two feet by three feet in area, and shall be cut through the ceiling and roof.

Penthouses over stairways shall be built either of fireproof materials or of wood studs, lathed with metal lath or approved plaster board and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or plaster board on the inside and outside thereof; or such penthouses may be covered in the same manner and with the same kind of materials as required by this act for the doors from such penthouses.

The door to the roof from a penthouse or roof structure shall be self-closing and shall open outward to the roof and shall be covered on both sides and edges with tin or other metal.

The frames and trim of such door opening shall be similarly constructed and all glass in such door shall be wired glass not less than one-fourth inch thick.

Every hotel of more than two stories in height, erected prior to the passage of this act, shall have in the roof a penthouse or a scuttle, which scuttle shall be not less than two feet by three feet in area, located in the ceiling of a public hallway. There shall be provided a stairway or a stationary ladder leading from the top floor of such hotel to the roof thereof. Such stairway or stationary ladder shall be made readily accessible to all tenants of the building. No scuttle or penthouse door shall at any time be locked with a key, but may be fastened on the inside by a movable bolt or lock.

§ 48. Hallways, etc., from stairways. Public hallways, landings, and corridors from stairways shall be of the same width and measured in the same manner as the stairways, as provided in section forty-six hereof.

§ 49. Fire-escapes. On every hotel hereafter erected more than two stories in height, there shall be provided at least one fire-escape. If such hotel exceeds three thousand square feet of floor area on any one floor above the second floor thereof, such building shall be provided with one additional fire-escape for each four thousand square feet of floor area or fractional part thereof.

Fire-escapes required by this act shall be of one of the following types:

Type 1. Types of fire-escapes. Metallic throughout and fastened securely to the exterior walls of the building, with a balcony at each story above the first story thereof, with inclined stairways connecting all balconies and a goose-neck ladder connecting the topmost balcony to the roof. The lowest balcony of such fire-escape to be not more than fourteen feet above the street or ground level directly under same.

All metallic balconies shall be not less than forty-four inches in width nor less than thirty-three square feet in area. The stairway openings therein shall be not less than twenty-one inches wide and forty inches in length. The balcony balustrade shall be not less than thirty-four inches high, with no opening in such balustrade greater than eight inches in horizontal dimension.

There shall be no opening greater than one inch in width in a fire-escape balcony platform, except the stair-well opening.

There shall be no opening greater than one inch in width in the lowest fire-escape balcony platform, except that there be attached a counter-balanced or permanent ladder reaching to the street or ground below.

Every balcony platform shall be fastened to the outside walls of the building by building in and anchoring to such walls the balcony platform and the balustrade framing, or by securely bolting same thereto. Every balcony shall be supported by brackets, braces, or struts fastened to or built in and anchored to the walls.

The inclined stairways shall be not less than eighteen inches in width and placed in no part nearer than twenty-one inches from the face of the wall. Such inclined stairways shall have an inclination of not less than four inches and not more than six horizontally to each twelve inches of vertical height. The treads shall be not less than four inches wide, placed not more than twelve inches apart. Each side of such stairways shall be provided with a handrail not less than one inch in diameter fastened to the stair stringers and continued around the well hole openings of balcony platform.

The goose-neck ladder shall be not less than fifteen inches wide and extend vertically from the topmost balcony to three feet above the fire wall or roof above, and then be brought down and fastened to the inside face of the fire wall or to the roof. The rungs of the goose-neck ladder shall be not less than five-eighths inch round iron or steel, placed not more than fourteen inches apart. The goose-neck ladder shall be securely braced and fastened to the outside wall, and in no case shall such ladder pass in front of any opening in the wall to the interior of the building. The cornice opening for the passage of such ladder shall be not less than twenty-four inches in width and twenty-four inches in the clear outside of the ladder.

Such fire-escape shall be framed and riveted or bolted together in a solid, substantial manner and properly supported, braced and fastened to the outside walls so as to be rigid, durable and secure and carry the loads imposed.

All metallic fire-escapes shall be painted with not less than two coats of good, durable paint; or such fire-escapes may be galvanized.

Type 2. Metallic ladders and stairways conforming to the provisions set forth for type one and with reinforced concrete or iron or steel fireproofed balconies, with fastenings of similar materials. Such balconies to measure the full size inside of balustrades. Floor openings and well holes provided and protected similarly to the requirements for metallic balconies.

Type 3. Any type of a inclosed approved metallic spiral fire escape which consists of a rigid form of an inclined chute or chutes constructed entirely of incombustible material; securely attached to the outside walls of the building; provided with proper means of ingress thereto from the building and egress therefrom at the bottom; having means enabling firemen to reach the roof thereby from the ground; equipped with standpipes; painted the same as provided for metallic fire-escapes; and satisfactory to the department charged with the enforcement of this act as being as solid, substantial and durable and as fireproof in construction, and providing at least as safe and efficient means of escape from the building for the occupants thereof, and furnishing all the protection and utility of the metallic fire-escape described as "type one" in this act.

Type 4. Fire and smoke towers, consisting of a fire-escape stairway not less than twenty inches in width, constructed of reinforced concrete, iron or steel, or a combination of these materials; and in all other details as required in this act for metallic fire-escape stairways; said stairways being continuous the full height of the building from the first floor exist level to the roof, and with handrails on each side thereof the full length of same. Such stairways to be constructed at a point adjoining the exterior walls of the building and be entirely enclosed with walls of brick, terra cotta tile, concrete or reinforced concrete not less than twelve inches thick; such walls to be continuous from the basement up to and extending three feet above the roof of the building, with no covering of any kind over same, and with no openings in the walls of such tower into the building. The inclosing walls of such tower not to be used to carry or support any floor joist, beam, girder or other structural feature of the building, nor to be chased for any pipe, conduit or other purpose; to have an exit from the inclosure at the first floor line opening directly to a street or yard, and having an entrance by means of an outside balcony at each floor, such balconies to have a solid floor and in all other details and kind of materials to be as in this act required for metallic fire-escape balconies. The balconies to be located and arranged to connect with a door opening from a public hallway in the interior of the building and with a door opening leading from the balcony to the tower, such door opening from the building to the balcony and from the balcony to the tower to be not less than thirty inches wide by seventy-two inches high and be equipped with metal-lined doors and with a frame and threshold of such door openings constructed of fireproof materials.

Type 5. A fire and smoke tower in every way similar to "type four" of this section, except that instead of the outside balcony there be built a vestibule with inclosing walls continuous with and of the same kind of materials and of the same thickness as the inclosing walls of the fire tower; that the vestibule opening be direct from a public hallway and be equipped with metal-lined doors. The vestibule floor to be of masonry construction. The inclosure to have an opening at each floor through the exterior wall of the building, such opening to extend from the floor to the ceiling and be not less in width than three-fourths of the width of the tower, said opening to be protected with an open metallic balustrade similar to that specified for metallic fire-escape balconies.

§ 50. Stairway and fire-escape combined. In any hotel hereafter erected in which there is constructed a fire-escape of "type four" or "type five," as prescribed in this act, such fire-escape may be used and construed as a stairway and a fire-escape combined; provided, that there is at least one other stairway or one other fire-escape constructed in accordance with the provisions of this act, in the said building.

§ 51. Location of fire-escapes. Every fire-escape required by this act shall be located on the building so as to furnish the best means of escape therefrom for the occupants, and at least one such fire-escape shall be located on a street front. Every such fire-escape shall have egress thereto from a public hallway or passageway not less than three feet wide, or such fire-escapes, in lieu of being located on a public hallway, shall be so located that each guest room has direct egress thereto without passing through another room. If a public parlor, public lobby, or similar room is connected directly with the public hall, corridor or passageway through a clear and unobstructed opening, without doors, then egress may be had thereby to a fire-escape. Signs both pointing towards and marking the locations of fire-escapes shall be placed on each floor.

§ 52. Computing number of fire-escapes required. The largest floor area above the second floor shall be used as a basis for computing the number of fire-escapes required by this act; provided, that if all floors above the largest floor area are diminished in size, the number of fire-escapes from that portion of the building containing the smaller area may be computed on the basis of the largest floor area in that portion of the building.

§ 53. Strength of platform, etc. Strength of fastenings, etc. All parts of each balcony platform of a fire-escape shall be designed to carry, in addition to the dead load thereof, a live load of one hundred pounds per square foot over the entire area thereof, using outside dimensions, and the live and dead loads from the ladders or stairs supported thereon.

Each ladder shall be designed to withstand a horizontal pressure of one hundred pounds per square foot.

Each stairway shall be designed to carry, in addition to the dead load thereof, a live load of one hundred fifty pounds per square foot of horizontal projection.

Top rails of balcony balustrades shall be designed to withstand a horizontal pressure of one hundred pounds per lineal foot of railing.

Each balcony shall be independently supported.

All fastenings of fire-escape balconies to the building shall be designed to carry twenty-five per cent greater load than the total dead and live loads carried by the balconies. The balcony anchorage shall be direct to the structural steel or iron members of the balustrades and platforms extended into the walls and anchored into the structural work of the building.

The level of the inside sill of the door or window giving access to a fire-escape balcony or the balcony floor shall be not more than thirty inches above the adjoining floor in the building. Every such door or window opening shall be not less than twenty-nine inches in clear width nor less than fifty-eight inches in height.

Where double-hung windows are used in such openings, the lower sash shall be at least the size of the upper sash and shall slide to the top of such opening. Any lock used on any such window shall be of a type which can be readily opened from the interior of the building without the use of a key or other tool.

§ 54. Readily accessible. Every fire-escape in or on a hotel hereafter erected, or in or on a hotel erected prior to the passage of this act, shall at all times be maintained in good order and repair, well painted and clear and unobstructed at all times, and be readily accessible.

§ 55. Standpipes. On every hotel hereafter erected four or more stories in height, there shall be provided one or more metallic standpipes. Each such standpipe shall be not less than four inches in internal diameter, and shall have a Siamese inlet valve near the sidewalk or ground directly under the same, and an outlet valve at each story above the first story and on the roof.

One such standpipe shall be placed on or in the exterior walls of the building at one fire-escape on each street frontage, and the outlet valves shall be readily accessible from the balconies of the fire-escapes.

The inlet and outlet valves on every standpipe shall be threaded and brought to a size which will meet the standard connections of the local fire department of the municipality in which such hotel or lodging house is being erected.

The standpipes required by this section need not be installed in any hotel which is situated where there is no running water and where it is not practicable or possible to obtain water for efficient use of such standpipes in case of fire, until such time as it is practicable and possible to obtain running water; and the department charged with the enforcement of this act shall decide whether or not it is possible or practicable to obtain running water.

§ 56. Elevator shaft inclosed. In every fireproof hotel hereafter erected, every elevator shaft, dumb-waiter shaft or other interior shaft shall be inclosed in walls constructed of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, terra cotta tile or other similar hard, incombustible materials, or shall be constructed of metal studs lathed either with metal lath or an approved plaster board and plastered on both sides so as to make a solid partition not less than two inches thick.

In every semi-fireproof or wooden hotel hereafter erected, every such shaft shall be inclosed by walls constructed as provided by this act for fireproof hotels, or such walls shall be constructed with wood studs, with wood firestops the same size as the studs, cut in between the studs at each floor and halfway between each floor, lathed on both sides with metal lath or an approved plaster board and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or plaster board.

Every opening from any shaft into the building shall be equipped with a metal door and with door frame and trim entirely of metal; or such door and door frame shall be constructed of wood covered with metal on the shaft side thereof, and if there is any glass therein, such glass shall be wired glass not less than one-fourth inch thick Every door or window therein shall be made to close tight, and every door except elevator doors therein shall be self-closing.

Every window in such shaft shall be of wired glass, not less than one-fourth inch thick, set in a metal sash or a sash metal-covered on the shaft side thereof.

At the roof over every elevator shaft there shall be constructed a ventilating skylight or a ventilator with open louvres.

§ 57. Vent shafts inclosed. In every hotel hereafter erected every vent shaft shall be inclosed by walls constructed the same as required by this act for elevator shafts in the same class of building. Such vent shafts may, in a semi-fireproof or wooden hotel, be lined on the outside thereof (weather side) with metal in lieu of metal lath and plaster; also that portion of such shaft extending from the ceiling joists to the top thereof may be lined with metal in the same manner as is required for the weather side of such vent shaft.

Every opening from any vent shaft into the building or any window therein shall be equipped in the same manner as required by this act for elevator shafts in the same class of building.

Plaster on the weather side of any such shaft shall be cement plaster.

Every vent shaft required by this act shall be not less than four feet in any direction and be at least sixteen square feet in area. If such vent shaft exceeds fifty feet in height, measured from the bottom to the top of the walls of such shaft, then such vent shaft shall throughout its entire height be increased in area three square feet for each additional ten feet or fractional part thereof above fifty feet.

Every such vent shaft shall be provided with an air intake or duct at or near the bottom thereof, communicating with the street or yard or a court. Such intake shall be not less than three square feet in total area, and may be divided into not more than three separate ducts running between the joists or otherwise, and shall in all cases be placed as nearly horizontal as possible. Every such intake or duct shall be constructed of approved fireproof material or shall be of metal or metal-lined, and be provided with a wire screen of not less than one inch mesh at each end. Plumbing, gas, steam or other similar pipes may be placed in such a vent shaft.

Every vent shaft shall have a door or a window at or near the bottom of the shaft, so arranged as to permit of its being readily cleaned out.

§ 58. Walls of inner court. The walls of every inner court in a fireproof hotel hereafter erected shall be constructed of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, terra cotta tile or other similar hard, incombustible material. In a semi-fireproof or in a wooden hotel such inner court walls, if surrounded on four sides by the walls of the same building, shall be constructed as provided for fireproof hotels, or may be of wood studs with wood firestops the same size as the studs, cut in between the studs at each floor and halfway between each floor, lathed on both sides with metal lath, or with an approved plaster board and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or plaster board. Plaster on the weather side of such inner court walls shall be cement plaster, or such inner court walls may be lined on the weather side with not less than number twenty-six (gauge) metal, in lieu of metal lath and plaster

§ 59. Boiler-room. Doors in boiler-room. In every hotel hereafter erected, every boiler used for the purpose of heating the building, using fuel other than gas, and every heating furnace or water-heating apparatus, using oil for fuel, shall be installed in a room, the walls of which room shall be built of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone or terra cotta tile, not less than six inches thick, and such walls shall extend from the floor of the boiler-room to the ceiling over same. The entire ceiling of such room shall be built of similar materials as the walls, or shall be built with a double ceiling, with a space of not less than seven-eighths inch between the two ceilings, each ceiling shall be metal lathed or lathed with an approved plaster board and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or plaster board. The floor of a boiler-room shall be of concrete not less than two inches thick.

Any door in the wall of such room shall be a fire-resisting door, constructed of three thicknesses of seven-eighths inch by not more than six inches, tongued and grooved, matched, redwood boards entirely covered on the sides and edges with lock-jointed tin; every such door shall be self-closing, so hung as to overlap the walls of the room at least three inches, and any glass in any such door or any glass in any window or opening in the walls of a boiler-room shall be wired glass, not less than one-fourth inch thick, set in a metal or metal-covered sash.

All such doors shall have hinges, hangers, latches and other hardware of wrought iron, bolted to the doors, and shall have steel tracks, when sliding doors are used, with wrought-iron stops and binders bolted through the wall. Swinging doors shall have wall eyes of wrought-iron, built into or bolted through the wall.

Every such boiler-room shall have a sill across each door not less than four inches high. Such sills shall be of masonry, and the doors shall overlap same at least three inches, or in lieu of a masonry sill a steel or iron sill may be used, in which case the door shall close tight on top of same.

Where oil or other fluid fuel is burned, the oil or other fluid fuel shall not be fed by a gravity flow.

§ 60. Garage. In every hotel hereafter erected any portion of such building in which there is kept or stored any automobile or automobiles shall be a room inclosed in partitions which shall be built of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone or terra cotta tile, not less than six inches thick. Such inclosing partitions shall extend from the floor of the room to the ceiling of the same. The entire ceiling of such room shall be built of material similar to that in the construction of its walls or shall be either metal lathed or be lathed with an approved plaster board and be well plastered, and if any portion of the building is used as a public automobile garage, or automobile repair-shop, or machine-shop the ceiling thereof shall be constructed either of masonry, or of a double ceiling metal lathed or lathed with an approved plaster board and be well plastered, there shall be left a space between the ceilings of not less than six inches measured vertically. The lower ceiling shall be suspended with iron or steel channels. In each case each of the ceilings shall be plastered not less than three-quarters of an inch thick including the lath or the plaster board. The floor of such room shall be of concrete not less than two inches thick. Every door, window or other opening in the walls of such room opening to the interior of the building shall be protected in the same manner required by section fifty-nine hereof for doors, windows and other openings in a boiler-room.

§ 61. Fan exhaust system of ventilation. Penalty for failure to maintain. In every hotel hereafter erected the water-closet compartments, bath, toilet or slop-sink rooms, kitchens, sculleries, pantries or other rooms in which food is stored or prepared, public dining-rooms, laundries, barber-shops, Turkish baths, general amusement, entertainment or reception-rooms, and rooms used for similar purposes and general utility rooms, in lieu of being provided with windows, as in this act prescribed, may be provided with a fan exhaust system of ventilation. Such fan exhaust system of ventilation shall consist of independent inlet ducts extending from the outer air to each such room or compartment and exhaust ducts extending from each such room or compartment to the outer air above the highest roof of the building.

All of the inlet ducts and exhaust ducts shall be constructed of galvanized iron or other smooth surfaced, nonabsorbent material and so arranged that they may be readily cleaned out.

The exhaust ducts shall always be connected to an exhaust fan mechanically operated, so designated and operated as to provide a complete change of air in not to exceed fifteen minutes for each room used for the following purposes: kitchens; pantries or other rooms used for cooking, storing or preparing of food; barber-shops; Turkish baths, laundries.

General amusement, entertainment, reception or dining rooms, or rooms used for similar purposes; general utility rooms; and the said fan exhaust system of ventilation shall be so designed and operated as to provide a complete change of air in not to exceed five minutes for each room used for the following purposes: water-closets; shower compartments; bath, toilet or slop-sink rooms or sculleries.

Any person in charge of a building in which a system of fan exhaust ventilation, as in this section is required, who fails, neglects or refuses to operate and maintain the said system of ventilation in good order and repair so that the ventilation (complete change of air) herein specified is provided in each of the rooms or compartments at all times, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to all of the penalties fixed by this act.

§ 62. Dormitory. Every dormitory hereafter constructed, altered, or converted in any hotel shall be as follows:

(a) In no one dormitory shall there be provided sleeping accommodations for more than twenty adult persons, nor shall the superficial floor space for each person be less than required by section sixty-five hereof.

(b) The ceiling height, measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling, shall in no case be less than nine feet in the clear, and in no case shall there be permitted in such dormitory more than one tier of beds; provided, however, that in a dormitory in which the clear ceiling height is not less than eighteen feet measured between the finished floor to the finished ceiling thereof, a double tier of beds may be permitted, i. e., one tier above the other; provided, that in no event shall there be less than three feet of clear vertical space between the beds, nor less than three feet in any horizontal direction between any of the beds, nor less than one foot of clear space between the floor of the room and the under side of the first tier of beds.

(c) In every dormitory there shall be provided windows opening on to a street, or on to a yard or court of the dimensions specified in this act and located on the same lot. The window area shall in no case be less than one-eighth of the superficial floor area in the dormitory, and in the event that a double tier of beds are provided, the said window area shall be doubled.

(d) The frames of beds in every dormitory shall be made of steel or iron or of some similar hard, smooth, incombustible and nonabsorbent material.

(e) In every dormitory there shall be provided not less than one water-closet in a separate compartment, not less than one urinal in a separate compartment, and not less than one shower in a separate compartment, and not less than one wash-sink, for each twenty persons or fractional part thereof occupying the said dormitory.

(f) Every dormitory in a hotel erected prior to the passage of this act shall be made to conform to the provisions of subsection "(a)" of this section.

§ 63. Hotels erected prior to passage of act. In any hotel erected prior to the passage of this act, every additional room or hallway that is hereafter constructed or created may be of the same height as the other rooms or hallways on the same story of such hotel.

§ 64. Windows, courts, etc., in hotels already erected. Every room in a hotel erected prior to the passage of this act shall, if the said room be hereafter occupied for living or sleeping purposes, have a window of an area not less than eight square feet, opening directly upon a street, a yard, a court or upon a vent shaft not less than twenty-five square feet in area, which vent shaft shall in no part be less than four feet wide and open and obstructed, without roof or skylight over same; except that if such room be located on the top floor of the building, such room may be ventilated by a skylight with fixed louvres directly to the outer air, or may have a window opening upon a vent shaft not less than ten square feet in area, if such window from the room be not more than three feet below the top of the wall of such vent shaft.

Every public hallway in every hotel erected prior to the passage of this act, which does not conform to the provisions for public hallways in buildings hereafter erected, shall be provided with light and ventilation to the outer air. Such light and ventilation shall be provided by the placing of windows or skylights, or by making such alterations as in the judgment of the housing department may be deemed necessary to accomplish the result.

§ 65. Kitchen. Sleeping in cellar, etc. Floor space for each occupant. Food shall not be cooked or prepared in any room except in a kitchen designed for that purpose. Floors of kitchens and rooms in which food is stored shall be made impervious to rats by a layer of concrete not less than one and one-half inches thick or by a layer of sheet tin or iron or similar material.

It shall be unlawful for any person to live or sleep, or permit or suffer any person to live or sleep, in any cellar, bath, shower or slop-sink room, water-closet compartment, hallway, closet, kitchen, recess from a room, or dressing-room, except when such recess from a room, or dressing room has at least ninety square feet of superficial floor area and complies with every requirement of this act for rooms, or in any other place in such building, which in the judgment of the department charged with the enforcement of this act, would be dangerous or prejudicial to life or health by reason of want of light, windows, ventilation, drainage or on account of dampness, offensive, obnoxious or poisonous odors, or in any room that shall be so overcrowded as to afford less than the following floor space for each occupant, in accordance with the age of said occupant:

Number of persons over 12 years of age	Number of persons under 12 years of age	Superficial floor area required
1 or	2	60 square feet
2 or	4	120 square feet
3 or	6	180 square feet
4 or	8	240 square feet
5 or	10	300 square feet
6 or	12	360 square feet

Additional floor area in the same ratio shall be provided for additional persons.

§ 66. Lighting of hallway, etc. In every hotel there shall be installed and kept burning from sunrise to sunset throughout the year artificial light sufficient in volume to properly illuminate every public hallway, stairway, fire-escape egress, elevator, passageway, public water-closet compartment, or toilet-room, whenever there is insufficient natural light to permit a person to read in any part thereof.

In every hotel there shall be installed and kept burning from sunset to sunrise throughout the year artificial light sufficient in volume to properly illuminate every public hallway, stairway, fire-escape egress, elevator, public water-closet compartment, or toilet-room and exterior passageway on the lot.

§ 67. Light-colored material on walls. The walls and ceilings of every sleeping-room in every hotel shall, except when there is sufficient natural light to permit a person to read in any part thereof during daytime, be calcimined or painted or papered with a light-colored material, and such calcimine, paint or paper, as the case may be, shall be renewed as often as is necessary to maintain the same of a light color and clean and free from vermin.

The walls of courts and shafts, unless built of light-colored materials, shall be painted of a light color or whitewashed, and such painting or whitewashing shall be renewed as often as is necessary to maintain the same of a light color.

§ 68. Repapering. No wall, partition or ceiling of any room in any hotel shall be repapered, calcimined, or have any other covering placed thereupon unless the old wall paper or other covering shall have first been removed therefrom, and the said wall, partition or ceiling cleaned, disinfected and freed from bugs, insects or vermin.

§ 69. Repairs. Every hotel shall be maintained in good repair. The roofs shall be kept waterproof and all storm or casual water properly drained and conveyed therefrom to the street sewer, storm drain or street gutter.

All portions of the lot about such hotel, including the yards, courts, areaways, vent shafts and passageways, shall be properly graded and drained; and whenever the department charged with the enforcement of this act deems it necessary for the protection of the health of the occupants of such building, or for the proper sanitation of the premises, it may require that the said lot, yards, courts, areaways, vent shafts and passageways be graveled or properly paved and surfaced with concrete, asphalt or similar materials.

§ 70. Metal mosquito screening. There shall be provided, whenever it is deemed necessary for the health of the occupants of any hotel or for the proper sanitation or cleanliness of any such building, metal mosquito screening of at least sixteen mesh, set in tight-fitting removable sash, for each exterior door, window or other opening in the exterior walls of the building.

§ 71. Garbage cans. In every hotel there shall be provided such number of tight metal receptacles with close-fitting metal covers for garbage, refuse, ashes and rubbish as may be deemed necessary by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, or in lieu of such metal receptacles there may be constructed a garbage chute or shaft approved by the housing department. Each of said receptacles, chutes or shafts shall be kept in a clean condition by the person in charge or in control of the building.

§ 72. Rooms, etc., to be kept clean. Swill, etc., not to be deposited in plumbing fixtures. Every room, hallway, passageway, stairway, wall, partition, ceiling, floor, skylight, glass window, door, carpet, rug, matting, window curtain, water-closet compartment or room, toilet-room, bath-room, slop-sink or washroom, plumbing fixture, drain, roof, closet, cellar, or basement in any hotel or on the lot, yard, court or any of the premises thereof, shall be kept in every part clean and sanitary and free from all accumulation of debris, filth, rubbish, garbage or other offensive matter.

No person shall, or cause or permit any person to deposit any swill, garbage, bottles, ashes, cans or other improper substance in any water-closet, sink, slop-hopper, bath-tub, shower, catch-basin, or in any plumbing fixture connection or drain therefrom; or otherwise to obstruct the same; or to place or cause to permit to be placed any filth, urine or other foul matter in any place other than the place provided for same; or to keep or cause or permit to be kept any urine or filth or foul matter in any room in any hotel, or in or about the said building or premises thereof, for such length of time as to create a nuisance.

§ 73. Beds kept clean. In every hotel, every part of every bed, including the mattress, sheets, blankets and bedding, shall be kept in a clean, dry and sanitary condition, free from filth, urine or other foul matter, in or upon the same; and free from the infection of lice, bedbugs or other insects. No roller or public towels shall be permitted. Bed linen shall be changed at least as often as a new guest occupies the bed.

§ 74. Dangerous articles not to be kept. In no hotel, or any part thereof, or in the lot, yard, court or any portion thereof, shall there be kept, stored or handled any article dangerous or detrimental to life or to the health of the occupants thereof; nor shall there be stored, kept or handled any feed, hay, straw, excelsior, cotton, paper stock, rags or junk, except upon a written permit so to do, obtained from the fire commissioner or other department authorized to issue such permit. Every such permit shall be deemed to be a public record, made in duplicate and a copy thereof shall remain on file in the office of the fire commissioner or department issuing same.

§ 75. Animals not to be kept. No horse, cow, calf, swine, sheep, goat, rabbit, mule or other animal, chicken, pigeon, goose, duck or other poultry shall be kept in a hotel, or any part thereof; nor shall any such animal or poultry, nor shall any stable be kept or maintained in the same lot, yard, court or premises of a hotel, or within twenty feet of any window or door of such building.

No hotel shall be connected with or have any door, window or transom opening to any part of a building wherein paint or oil are stored or kept for the purpose of sale or otherwise.

§ 76. Housekeeper in charge. In every hotel in which there are eight or more guest rooms and in which the owner does not live, there shall be a janitor, housekeeper or other responsible person, who shall reside in such hotel or on the same lot or premises thereof and have charge of same.

§ 77. Action to abate nuisance. Authority to execute order. In case any hotel, or any part thereof, is constructed, altered, converted or maintained in violation of any provisions of this act or of any order or notice of the department charged with its enforcement, or in case a nuisance exists in any such hotel or building or structure or upon the lot on which it is situated, said department may institute any appropriate action or proceeding to prevent such unlawful construction, alteration, conversion or maintenance, to restrain, correct or abate such violation or nuisance, to prevent the occupation of said hotel, building or structure, to prevent any illegal act, conduct of business in or about such hotel or lot. In any such action or proceeding said department may, by affidavit setting forth the facts, apply to the superior court, or to any judge thereof, for an order granting the relief for which said action or proceeding is brought, or for an order enjoining all persons from doing or permitting to be done any work in or about such hotel, building, structure or lot, or from occupying or using the same for any purpose, until the entry of final judgment or order. In case any notice or order issued by said department is not complied with, said department may apply to the superior court, or to any judge thereof, for an order authorizing said department to execute and carry out the provisions of said notice or order, to remove any violation specified in said order or notice, or to abate any nuisance in or about such hotel, building or structure, or the lot upon which it is situated. The court, or any judge thereof, is hereby authorized to make any order specified in this section. In no case shall the said department or any officer thereof or the municipal corporation be liable for costs in any action or proceeding that may be commenced in pursuance of this act.

§ 78. Fine a lien. Every fine imposed by judgment under section six of this act upon a hotel owner shall be a lien upon the house in relation to which the fine is imposed, from the time of the filing of a certified copy of said judgment in the office of the recorder of the county in which said hotel is situated, subject only to taxes and assessments and water rates, and to such mortgage and mechanics' liens as may exist thereon prior to such filing; and it shall be the duty of the department charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act, upon the entry of such judgment, to file forthwith the copy as aforesaid, and such copy upon filing shall be forthwith indexed by the recorder in the index of mechanics' liens.

act, the plaintiff or petitioner may file, in the county recorder's office of the county where the property affected by such action or proceeding is situated, a notice of the pendency of such action or proceeding. Said notice may be filed at the time of the commencement of the action or proceeding, or at any time afterwards before final judgment or order, or at any time after the service of any notice or order issued by said department. Such notice shall have the same force and effect as the notice of pendency of action provided for in the Code of Civil Procedure. Each county recorder with whom such notice is filed shall record it and shall index it in the name of each person specified in a direction subscribed by an officer of the department instituting such action or proceeding. Any such notice may be vacated upon the order of a judge of the court in which such action or proceeding was instituted or is pending. The recorder of the county where such notice is filed is hereby directed to mark such notice and any record or docket thereof as canceled of record, upon the presentation and filing of a certified copy of such order.

§ 80. Name of owner, etc., filed. Every owner of a hotel and every lessee or other person having control of a hotel, shall file in the housing department a notice, containing his name and address, and also a description of the property, by street and number and otherwise, as the case may be, in such manner as will enable the department charged with the enforcement of this act easily to find the same; and also the number of rooms in the building. In case of a transfer of any hotel, it shall be the duty of the grantee of said hotel to file in the housing department a notice of such transfer, stating the name of the new owner, within thirty days after such transfer. In case of the devolution of the said property by will, it shall be the duty of the executor and the devisee, if more than twenty-one years of age, and in case of devolution of such property by inheritance without a will, it shall be the duty of the heirs, or in case all the heirs are under age, it shall be the duty of the administrator of the deceased owner of said property, to file in said department a notice, stating the death of said owner and the names of those who have succeeded to his interests, within thirty days after the death of the decedent, in case he died intestate, and within thirty days after the probate of his will if he died testate.

§ 81. Name of agent filed. Every owner, agent or lessee of a hotel shall file in the housing department a notice containing the name and address of such agent of such house, for the purpose of receiving service of process, and also a description of the property, by street and number or otherwise, as the case may be, in such manner as will enable the department charged with the enforcement of this act easily to find the same. The name of the owner or lessee may be filed as agent for this purpose.

§ 82. Index of names. The names and addresses filed in accordance with sections seventy-nine and eighty shall be indexed by the housing department in such a manner that all of those filed in relation to each hotel shall be together and readily ascertainable. Said indices shall be public records, open to public inspection during business hours.

§ 83. Time of service. Every notice or order in relation to a hotel shall be served five days before the time for doing the thing in relation to which it shall have been issued.

§ 84. Manner of service. In any action brought by any department charged with the enforcement of this act in relation to a hotel for injunction, vacation of the premises or other abatement of nuisance, or to establish a lien thereon, it shall be sufficient service of summons to serve the same as notices and orders are served under the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure.

§ 85. Minimum requirements. Supplementary. Repealed. Powers of cities not abrogated. The provisions of this act shall be held to be the minimum requirements adopted for the protection, the health and the safety of the community, and for the protection, the health and the safety of the occupants of hotels. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as prohibiting the local legislative body of any incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county, from enacting from time to time, supplementary ordinances or laws imposing further restrictions, or providing for fees to be charged for permits, certificates or other papers required by this act; but no ordinance, law, regulation or ruling of any municipal department, authority, officer or officers, shall repeal, amend, modify or dispense with any of the provisions of this act.

All statutes of the state and all ordinances of incorporated towns, incorporated cities, incorporated cities and counties, and counties, as far as inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed; provided, that nothing in this act contained shall be construed as repealing or abrogating any present ordinance or law of any incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county, in the state which further restricts the percentage of the lot to be covered by a hotel, the number of stories or height of such hotel or number of rooms therein, the occupation thereof, the materials to be used in its construction, or increasing the size of the yards or courts, the floor space to each person occupying a room, the requirements as to sanitation, ventilation, light and protection against fire.

Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as abrogating diminishing, minimizing or denying the power of any incorporated town in corporated city, incorporated city and county, or county, by ordinance or law, to further restrict the percentage of the lot to be covered by a hotel within said municipality, the number of stories or height of such hotel or number of rooms therein, the occupation thereof, the materials to be used in its construction, or increasing the size of the yards or courts, the floor space to each person occupying a room, the requirements as to sanitation, ventilation, light and protection against fire.

§ 86. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

§ 87. In effect when. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after September 1, 1917.

§ 88. Repealed. "An act to regulate the building and occupancy of hotels and lodging-houses in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof," approved June 16, 1913, Statutes of California of 1913, page 1429, and all acts amending said act, are hereby repealed.

ACT 1531.

An act relating to hotels, defining the same, providing regulations in connection therewith, providing for the sanitation of the rooms of such hotels, providing for the sanitary method and manner of keeping, handling and using bedclothes or bedcovering in such hotels, repealing all acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act, providing for its enforcement by the state board of health and providing a penalty for the violation of any of its provisions. [Approved April 26, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 213.]

Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 432. See next Act.

An act relating to hotels, defining the same, providing regulations in connection therewith, providing for the sanitation of the rooms of such hotels, providing for the sanitary method and manner of keeping, handling and using bedclothes or bedcovering in such hotels, providing for its enforcement by the state board of health and local health officers, prescribing a penalty for the violation of the provisions hereof; and repealing an act entitled "An act relating to hotels, defining the same, providing regulations in connection therewith, providing for the sanitation of the rooms of such hotels, providing for the sanitary method and manner of keeping, handling and using bedclothes or bedcovering in such hotels, repealing all acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act, providing for its enforcement by the state board of health, and providing a penalty for the violation of any of its provisions," approved April 26, 1915.

§ 1. Hotel defined. Every building or structure, kept as, used as, maintained as, or advertised as, or held out to the public to be, a place where sleeping or rooming accommodations are furnished to the public, or any part of the public, whether with or without meals, shall, for the purpose of this act, be deemed to be a hotel, and whenever the word "hotel" shall occur in this act, it shall be deemed to include lodging-house and rooming-house.

§ 2. Clean bedding, etc. All bedding, bedclothes, or bedcovering, including mattresses, quilts, blankets, sheets, pillows or comforters, used in any hotel in this state must be kept clean and free from all filth or dirt; provided, that no bedding, bedclothes or bedcovering, including mattresses, quilts, blankets, sheets, pillows or comforters, shall be used which is worn out or unfit for use by human beings according to the true intent and meaning of this act.

§ 3. Infected rooms fumigated. Any room in any hotel in this state which is or shall be infected with vermin or bedbugs or similar things, shall be thoroughly fumigated, disinfected and renovated until such vermin or bedbugs or other similar things are entirely exterminated.

§ 4. Clean rooms. Every room in any hotel in this state used for sleeping purposes, must be kept free from any and every kind of dirt or filth of whatsoever nature, and the walls, floors, ceilings and doors of every such room shall be kept free from dirt.

§ 5. Ventilation devices. Every room in any hotel, used for sleeping purposes, shall have devices, such as a window or transom, so constructed as to allow for proper and a sufficient amount of ventilation in each such room.

§ 6. Size of sheets. Every bed, for the accommodation of any person or persons or guests, kept or used in any hotel in this state, must be provided with a sufficient supply of clean bedding and must be provided with sheets at least eighty-one inches wide and ninety-eight inches long; provided, however, that on every single bed there shall be sheets at least fifty inches wide and ninety-eight inches long. Every bed shall be supplied with clean sheets and pillow slips as often as assigned to a different person.

§ 7. Individual towels. Every hotel, within this state, having a public washstand or washbowl, where different persons gather to wash themselves, must keep a sufficient supply of clean individual towels for the use of such persons within easy access of or to such persons and in plain sight and view.

§ 8. Penalty for violation. Every owner, manager, lessee or other person in charge of any hotel in this state who shall fail to comply with this act whether through the acts of his agents or employees, or otherwise, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not more than two hundred dollars or shall be imprisoned for not more than three months; and every day that any hotel shall be kept in violation of any of the provisions of this act such keeping shall constitute a separate offense.

§ 9. Enforcement. It shall be the duty of the state board of health and local health officers to enforce the provisions of this act.

§ 10. Other than hotels. Nothing in this act shall be construed to include cots or bunks where the same are used in places other than in hotels.

§ 11. Stats. 1915, p. 213, repealed. An act of the legislature entitled "An act relating to hotels, defining the same, providing regulations in connection therewith, providing for the sanitation of the rooms of such hotels, providing for the sanitary method and manner of keeping, handling and using bedclothes or bedcovering in such hotels, repealing all acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act, providing for its enforcement by the state board of health, and providing a penalty for the violation of any of its provisions," approved April 26, 1915, is hereby repealed.

TITLE 242.

HOURS OF LABOR.

ACT 1537.

An act limiting the hours of labor of females employed in any manufacturing, mechanical or mercantile establishment, laundry, hotel, or restaurant, or telegraph or telephone establishment or office, or by any express or transportation company; compelling each employer in any manufacturing, mechanical, or mercantile establishment, laundry, hotel or restaurant, or other establishment employing any female to provide suitable seats for all female employees and to permit them to use such seats when they are not engaged in the active duties of their employment; and providing a penalty for failure, neglect, or refusal of the employer to comply with the provisions of this act, and for permitting or suffering any overseer, superintendent, foreman or other agent of any such employer to violate the provisions or this act.

Amended 1913, p. 713; 1917, p. 828.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Females not to work more than eight hours per day. Not applicable to nurses, fruit-canning, etc. No female shall be employed in any manufacturing, mechanical or mercantile establishment, laundry, hotel, public lodging-house, apartment house, hopital, place of amusement, or restaurant or telegraph or telephone establishment or office, or by any express or transportation company in this state more than eight hours during any one day or more than forty-eight hours in one week. The hours of work may be so arranged as to permit the employment of females at any time so that they shall not work more than eight hours during the twenty-four hours of one day, or forty-eight hours during any one week; provided, however, that the provisions of this section in relation to hours of employment shall not apply to or affect graduate nurses in hospitals, nor the harvesting, curing, canning or drying of any variety of perishable fruit, fish or vegetable during such periods as may be necessary to harvest, cure, can or dry said fruit, fish or vegetable in order to save the same from spoiling. [Amendment approved May 23, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 828.]

TITLE 249.

IMMIGRATION.

ACT 1589.

An act relating to immigrants and immigration, creating a commission of immigration and housing, providing for the employment by said commission of a secretary, agents and other employees, authorizing said commission to fix their compensation, prescribing the duties of said commission, providing for the investigation by said commission of all things affecting immigrants, and for the care, protection and welfare of immigrants, and making an appropriation for the purpose of carrying out the provisions hereof.

Amended 1915, p. 848; 1917, p. 1514.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 15. Immigration and housing commission to promote city planning. The commission may make investigations of the housing of immigrants and working people and of city planning in California and elsewhere, may encourage the creation of local city planning commissions and may furnish information as to the progress of other cities for the use of such commissions. It may investigate and report upon defective housing and the evils resulting therefrom and the work being done to remedy the same in California and elsewhere. It may make studies of the operation and enforcement of building and tenement house laws, of housing finances and taxes, of zoning and districting regulations and may promote the formation of organizations intended to increase the supply of wholesome homes for the people, and aid in the enforcement of any laws enacted to promote the purposes for which the commission is established. [New section added May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1514.]

§ 16. Annual report of city planning commissions. Conference. City planners. It shall be the duty of each and every city-planning commission or housing commission of any incorporated city or town in the state of California to file on the first day of June of each year with the secretary of the commission of immigration and housing of California a complete report of its transactions and recommendations to any municipal organization or private person or corporation during the previous year, and particularly to report any conflict in authority, lack of co-operation with local municipal authorities or with adjoining cities, with recommendations for needed legislation to properly carry on the development of their housing and city-planning work. The commission may annually, or oftener, call a conference of representatives of these commissions, of local health officers, housing inspectors, building inspectors or such other municipal officers as it shall deem advisable to carry out the purposes of this act. The commission may employ city planners and other persons whose salaries, wages and other necessary expenses of the commission will be provided for out of the funds at the disposal of the commission. [New section added May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1515.]

§ 17. Annual report. Information furnished. The commission may make an annual report on housing and city planning to the governor, which the state printer shall cause to be printed as a public document, and copies of this report shall be filed with each and every local housing and city-planning commission in the state of California. The commission is further authorized to furnish information and suggestions from time to time to city governments, housing and city planning commissions and other public, semi-public or private bodies such as may, in its judgment, tend to promote the purposes for which the commission is established. [New section added May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1515.]

TITLE 254.

INFANTS.

ACT 1611.

An act regulating the employment and hours of labor of children—prohibiting the employment of minors under certain ages—prohibiting the employment of certain illiterate minors—providing for the enforcement hereof by the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics and providing penalties for the violation hereof.

[Approved February 20, 1905. Stats. 1905, p. 11.]

Amended 1907, pp. 598, 978; 1909, pp. 211, 387; 1911, pp. 282, 910; 1913, p. 364; 1915, p. 1201; 1917, p. 826.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 14. Agricultural, etc., labor. Theatrical employment. Consent of labor commissioner. Nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit the employment of minors sixteen years of age or over at agricultural, horticultural, or viticultural, or domestic labor. Nor shall anything in this act be construed to prohibit the employment of minors at agricultural, horticultural, or viticultural, or domestic labor, during the time the public schools are not in session, or during other than school hours. For the purpose of this act, horticultural shall be understood to include the curing and drying, but not the canning of all varieties of fruit. Nor shall anything in this act be construed to prohibit any minor between the ages of fifteen and eighteen years, who is by any statute or statutes of the state of California, now or hereafter in force, permitted to be employed as an actor, or actress, or performer in a theater, or other place of amusement, previous to the hour of ten o'clock P. M., in the presentation of a performance, play or drama, continuing from an earlier hour till after the hour of ten o'clock P. M. from performing his or her part in such presentation as such employee between the hours of ten and twelve o'clock P. M.; provided, the written consent of the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics is first obtained. Nor shall anything in this act prevent, or be construed to prohibit, the employment of any minor, whether resident or nonresident, in the presentation of a drama, play, performance, concert or entertainment, with the written consent of the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics, but no such consent shall be given unless the officer giving it is satisfied that the environment in which the drama, play, performance, concert or entertainment is to be produced is a proper environment for the minor, and that the conditions of such employment are not detrimental to the health of such minor, and that the minor's education will not be neglected or hampered by its participation in such drama, play, performance, concert or entertainment, and the commissioner may require the person charged with the issuance of age and schooling certificates to make the necessary investigation into such conditions; and every such written consent shall specify the name and age of the minor together with such other facts as may be necessary for the proper identification of such minor, and the dates when, and the theaters or other places of amusement in which such drama, play, performance, concert or entertainment is to be produced, and shall specify the drama, play, performance, concert or entertainment in which the minor is permitted to participate, and every such consent shall be revocable at the will of the officer giving it. Dramas and plays shall include the production of motion picture plays. [Amendment approved May 22, 1917; State, 1917, p. 826.]

TITLE 255.

INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM.

ACT 1624.

An act to provide for direct legislation by cities and towns, including initiative and referendum.

[Approved January 2, 1912. Stats. Ex. Sess. 1911, p. 131.]

Amended 1915, p. 319; 1917, p. 655.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 2. Not applicable to street proceedings. This act is not intended to apply to those cities having a freeholders' charter adopted and ratified under the provisions of section eight of article eleven of the constitution and having in such charter provision for the direct initiation of ordinances by the electors; nor to proceedings had for the improvement of streets in or rights of way owned by municipalities, the opening or closing of streets, the changing of grades or the doing of other work, the cost of which or any portion of which is to be borne by special assessments upon real property. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 655.]

TITLE 256.

INSANE.

ACT 1635b.

An act providing for the removal of bodies from the cemetery at the Stockton State Hospital and the disposition thereof, and making an appropriation therefor.

§ 1. Appropriation: Removal of bodies Stockton State Hospital. Out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated the sum of five thousand dollars is hereby appropriated, to be expended in accordance with law in the removal of bodies from the cemetery at the Stockton State Hospital and in the disposition thereof incident to such removal.

ACT 1648.

An act to establish an institution for the care, confinement and instruction of feeble-minded and epileptic persons; to provide for the government and maintenance thereof, and for the study of mental deficiency and related problems; to provide for admission and commitment to such institution, and to prescribe penalties for unlawfully or improperly contriving to have persons adjudged feeble-minded under this act; to provide for the sterilization of inmates of such institutions; to prescribe penalties for procuring the escape, or aiding or advising in the escape, of inmates, or concealing inmates thereof; to provide a contingent fund for the use of such institution and to make an appropriation therefor.

§ 1. Pacific Colony created. There is hereby created an institution to be known as the Pacific Colony and which is hereby declared to be a corporation.

§ 2. Board of trustees. The said institution shall be under the control of a board of three trustees, to be appointed by the governor, one for one year, one for two years, and one for three years, and thereafter for terms of four years each, to hold office until their successors are respectively appointed and qualified. The governor shall fill vacancies occurring from any cause in the membership of such board, and the first board shall be appointed within thirty days after this act takes effect.

§ 3. Chairman. The said trustees shall annually elect from their own number a chairman and a vice-chairman, whose terms of office shall be one year and until their successors shall be duly appointed and qualified.

§ 4. By-laws. The board of trustees may, from time to time, establish such by-laws, rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the laws of the state, as they may deem expedient for the efficient management and government of the said institution, for the transaction of its business and the holding of its meetings.

§ 5. Vacancy. If any trustee fail, for three months, to attend the regular meetings of the board, unless he is ill or absent from the state, his office shall become vacant, if the board, by resolution, so declare. A copy of any such resolution, certified by the secretary of the board, must thereupon be forthwith transmitted to the governor.

§ 6. Compensation. The trustees shall be entitled to receive as compensation for their services, while in the actual discharge of their duties as such trustees, ten dollars per day each; provided, that the total thereof shall not exceed two hundred forty dollars in any one year for any trustee; and provided, that if such services be performed on two or more consecutive days, there shall in such case be remuneration paid for one day only; and provided, also, that the trustees shall be entitled to receive, in addition to such compensation, all of their necessary expenses while attending to the business of the institution.

§ 7. Superintendent. Secretary. The board of trustees shall appoint a superintendent, not of their own number, who shall be a resident of the institution and shall have charge, management and control of the same and of its property, and shall have the charge, control, discipline and training of its inmates, subject to the direction of the board of trustees; and he shall give a bond to the state in such sum and with such sureties as will be satisfactory to the state board of control, for the faithful performance of his duties. The board of trustees shall appoint a secretary who shall perform such duties as the board may direct. The superintendent may be appointed to that position.

§ 8. Treasurer. The superintendent shall, subject to the approval of the board of trustees, employ, with power to discharge, a treasurer and such other officers and employees as he may consider proper and necessary for the efficient carrying into effect of the design of the said institution, determine their titles, and prescribe their duties.

§ 9. Duty of treasurer. The treasurer shall receive and disburse all moneys and keep account of the same, under the direction of the board of trustees, but subject to such supervision or control as is vested by law in the state board of control, and he shall give a bond to the state in such sum and with such sureties as will be satisfactory to the state board of control for the faithful performance of his duties.

§ 10. Compensation of officers. The board of trustees shall fix the compensation of the superintendent, whose salary shall be not less than three hundred dollars per month, and the superintendent shall fix the compensation of the other officers and employees, subject to the approval of the board of trustees.

§ 11. Purchase of site. The board of trustees, together with the superintendent, are hereby empowered and instructed to purchase on behalf of the state, in the territory covered by and included within the counties of Santa Barbara, Ventura, Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Orange, Riverside and San Diego, for the use of the said institution, such a site as they may deem most advantageous, of preferably not less than eight hundred acres, subject to the approval of the state board of control as to the purchase price, and subject to such approval, the said board of trustees and superintendent may, if they consider it advisable, purchase water rights or make provision for the development of water for the use of said lands. The state department of engineering shall, at the request of the board of trustees, and with the approval of the state board of control, examine into the matter of water, light, power and sanitation, and the engineering problems involved, in connection with any site or sites the board may investigate with a view to purchasing, and shall report thereon to the board of trustees, with special regard to the suitableness of such site or sites for the purposes of the institution.

The University of California shall, on the approval of the state board of control, render to the board of trustees such reasonable assistance as the board may desire, in determining the quality and character of the soil of such site or sites for agricultural, horticultural and other purposes, and its suitability for the purposes of the institution.

The said trustees and superintendent, the said state department of engineering, and the said university, shall be entitled to receive their necessary expenses in connection with said investigations and the selection and purchase of said site.

§ 12. Buildings. The board of trustees shall erect the buildings for said institution, subject to such supervision or control as is by law vested in the state department of engineering.

§ 13. Equipment, etc. The board of trustees is authorized and required to purchase such equipment, furniture, supplies and materials, as it may deem suitable for the proper completion and furnishing of the said buildings, and for the operation and maintenance of the said institution, subject to such supervision or control as is by law vested in the state board of control and the state purchasing agent.

§ 14. Donations and bequests. The said institution may take and hold in trust for the state any grant or devise of land, or any donation or bequest of money or other personal property, heretofore or hereafter granted, devised, donated, or bequeathed to the use of the institution, and shall dispose of the same in accordance with the wishes of the donor, or testator, if expressed, and if no condition be attached thereto, or in so far as any wishes expressed do not prevent, then to invest and reinvest the same, or to change the investment thereof, as to the board of trustees may seem best, and to use the income arising therefrom for the best interests of the institution.

§ 15. Forms for admission of inmates. The board of trustees shall prescribe and publish instructions and form, in relation to the commitment and admission of inmates, and may include in them such interrogatories to be answered as it may deem necessary or useful; which instructions and forms shall be furnished to anyone applying therefor, and shall also be sent in sufficient numbers to the county clerks of the several counties of the state.

§ 16. Who are "feeble-minded." The following persons, if not insane, shall be held to be "feeble-minded" within the meaning of this act:

(a) Those who are so mentally deficient that they are incapable of managing themselves and their affairs independently, with ordinary prudence, or of being taught to do so, and who require supervision, control, and care, for their own welfare, or for the welfare of others, or for the welfare of the community; or

(b) Those whose intelligence in the judgment of one or more psychologists, when they have been examined by such psychologist or psychologists making use of standardized psychological tests and whatever supplementary material may be available, will not develop beyond the level of the average child of twelve years.

§ 17. Petition to superior court for order admitting person. Whenever any parent, guardian or other person charged with the support of a supposedly feeble-minded person who is not insane, or an epileptic under twenty-one years of age, desires such person to be admitted into the said institution, he may petition the superior court of the county in which such person resides for an order admitting such person thereto; the petition shall disclose his reasons for supposing such person to be eligible for admission thereto, and shall be verified by the affidavit of the petitioner. Or whenever any peace officer desires any such supposedly feeble-minded or epileptic person to be so admitted, he may petition the said court as aforesaid for an order therefor; provided, he shall have given two days previous written notice of the date of the presentation of the petition, personally or by United States mail, to such parent, guardian or other person charged with such support, if known to him, and if not so known, then to some other relative or friend, if any known to him, residing in the said county, an affidavit whereof, together with the names, addresses and relationship of the parties so notified, and the facts of his said knowledge or want of knowledge, shall be filed with the petition.

§ 18. Warrant for arrest. The court may cause a warrant to issue for the arrest and delivery to the court of such supposedly feeble-minded or epileptic person, whenever considered advisable or necessary, and have the same executed by any peace officer.

§ 19. Examination of person. Order of commitment. The judge of the said court must inquire into the condition or status of such supposedly feeble-minded or epileptic person, for which purpose he may by subpoena require the attendance before him of a clinical psychologist and a reputable physician, or one of each, or two of either, to examine such person and testify as to his or her mentality. Such physicians must have made a special study of mental deficiency and be qualified to act as "medical examiners." The said judge may also by subpoena require the attendance of such other persons to give evidence as he may deem advisable, and if the judge find such person to be a feeble-minded person, as defined by section sixteen of this act, or an epileptic person under twenty-one years of age, and that such person has been a resident of the state for at least one year next preceding the presentation of the petition, such judge may make an order of commitment to said institution, and on the presentation of such order the superintendent must receive such person therein; provided, that, in the opinion of the board of trustees, the condition of such person, the accommodation at the said institution, and the state of its finances, be such as to justify the receiving of such person. Pending the said investigation the said supposedly feeble-minded or epileptic person may be left in charge of the parent, guardian or other suitable person or in a detention home.

§ 20. Order to pay expenses. The judge shall attach to the order of commitment his findings and conclusions, together with all the social and other data he may have bearing upon the case, and the same shall be delivered to the said institution with such order. The judge must inquire into the financial condition of the parent, guardian or other person charged with the support of any such person, and if he find him able to do so, in whole or in part, he must make a further order, requiring him or her to pay, to the extent the judge may consider him or her able to pay, the expenses of the proceedings in connection with the investigation, detention and commitment of such person, and the expenses of the delivery thereof to the institution, and to pay to the institution, at stated periods, such sums as, in the opinion of the judge, are proper, during such time as the person may remain in the institution. This order may be enforced by such further orders as the judge deems necessary, and may be varied, altered or revoked in his discretion.

§ 21. Petitioner to pay, when. In case of the dismissal of the said petitioner, the judge may, if he considers the petition to have been filed with malicious intent, order the petitioner to pay the expenses in connection therewith, and may enforce the same by such further orders as he may deem necessary.

§ 23. Feeble-minded boy or girl before juvenile court. When a boy or girl is brought before a juvenile court under the juvenile court law, if it appear to the court, either before or after adjudication, that such person is feeble-minded within the meaning of this act; or if on the conviction of any person of crime by any court it appear to the court that such person is feeble-minded as aforesaid, the court may adjourn the proceedings or suspend the sentence, as the case may be, and direct some suitable person to take proceedings under this act against the person before the court, and the court may order that, pending the preparation, filing, and hearing of the petition, the person before the court be detained in a place of safety, or be placed under the guardianship of some suitable person, on his entering into a recognizance for the appearance of the person upon trial or under conviction when required. If upon the hearing of the petition, or upon a subsequent hearing under this act, the person upon trial or under conviction be not found to be feeble-minded, the court may proceed with the trial or impose sentence, as the case may be.

§ 24. Persons admitted for observation. The superintendent may admit to the Pacific Colony temporarily, without commitment, under such rules and regulations as the board of trustees may prescribe, for purposes of observation and testing, such persons, as are suspected of being feeble-minded, to acertain whether or not they are actually mentally defective, and proper cases for care, treatment and training in an institution for the feeble-minded, and if such is found to be the case, application may be made to the superior court for an order of commitment of such persons to such an institution. On presentation of an affidavit or affidavits of the facts upon which such opinion is based, the judge of the said court may make such order.

§ 25. Witness fees. Each psychologist and physician shall be entitled to receive for each attendance mentioned in section nineteen the sum of five dollars for each person examined, together with his necessary actual expenses occasioned thereby, and other witnesses shall be entitled to receive for such attendance such fees and expenses as the court in its discretion may allow, if any, not exceeding the fees and expenses allowed by law in other cases in the said courts.

§ 26. Payment by county treasurer. Any fees or traveling expenses payable to a psychologist, physician, or witness as aforesaid, and all expenses connected with the execution of any process under this act, which may not be paid by the parent, guardian or person charged with the support of the said supposed feeble-minded or epileptic person, shall be paid by the county treasurer of the county in which such person resides, upon the presentation to the treasurer of a certificate of the said judge that the party is entitled thereto.

§ 27. Transfer to or from state hospital for insane. The said board of trustee, when it shall deem desirable, owing to the mental condition of an inmate of the Pacific Colony, may, with the approval of the state commission in lunacy, transfer such inmate to a state hospital for the insane, provided that on due investigation by such commission, the commission shall consider such inmate a fit subject therefor. And the said commission, whenever on due observation and investigation it shall consider a patient in any state hospital for the insane eligible for commitment to the Pacific Colony may with the approval of the said board of trustees, transfer such patient thereto, for care and treatment therein.

§ 28. Transfer to or from Sonoma State Home. Inmates of the Sonoma State Home may be transferred to the Pacific Colony, and inmates of the Pacific Colony may be transferred to the Sonoma State Home, at any time and from time to time as may be agreed upon by the boards of trustees of the two institutions, upon the application of the parent, guardian or other persons charged with the support of such inmate, provided he pay the expenses thereof, and may, with the approval of the state board of control, be so transferred without such application and without such payment, in which latter case the expenses thereof shall be paid by either or both of such institutions as may be determined by the state board of control.

§ 29. Liability for support unchanged. In the event of the transfer of any inmate or patient as provided in sections twenty-seven and twenty-eight of this act the liability of any estate, person or county for the care, support and maintenance of such person, shall be the same to the institution to which the person is transferred as it was to the institution from which the transfer is made.

§ 30. Execution of writ of commitment. It shall be the duty of the sheriff of any county wherein an order is made by the judge of the superior court committing any person to the Pacific Colony, or of any other person designated by the said judge, to execute the writ of commitment, and to receive as compensation therefor such fees as are now or may hereafter be provided by law for the transportation of prisoners to the state prison; provided, that in all cases the parent, guardian or other person charged with the support of such person may, at his option, with the approval of the said judge, and in all cases where he is able or the estate of such person is sufficient, shall, if the said judge approve, without expense to the county or state, execute said writ, after being duly sworn therefor, with like effect and with like powers as the sheriff would have; but no such person, being a female, shall be taken to the said colony by any male person not her husband, father, brother or son, without the attendance of some woman of good character and mature age, chosen for the purpose by the judge, which woman shall, if the judge see fit, be paid therefor such reasonable remuneration as he may allow.

§ 31. Payments by county. For each person committed to the Pacific Colony there shall be paid by the county from which he is committed, to the state treasurer, the sum of fifteen dollars monthly, for and during each month or part of month such person so committed remains an inmate of the institution, in case the payments herein provided to be made by the parent, guardian or other person charged with the support of any such person should not be made, and to the extent they are not made, not exceeding fifteen dollars per month.

§ 32. Statement by county auditor. Each county auditor must include in his state settlement report, rendered to the controller in the months of May and December, the amount due under this act, by reason of commitment to the Pacific Colony, and the county treasurer, at the time of the settlement with the state in such months, must pay to the state treasurer, upon the order of the controller, the amounts found to be due by reason of the commitments herein referred to.

§ 33. When others may be admitted. Whenever the accommodations of the Pacific Colony permit, and if such action does not conflict with the interest or welfare of committed cases, the board of trustees, without judicial commitment, and upon such terms as may appear to said board to be to the best interests of the state, may admit to said institution epileptics, of any age, and also such other persons as are, under the provisions of this act, eligible for admission to said institution.

§ 34. Transfer from state schools. Any boy who has been or may hereafter be committed to the Preston School of Industry, or the Whittier State School, or any girl who has been or may hereafter be committed to the California School for Girls at Ventura, or to any similar institution now or hereafter created, who comes within the provisions of this act, may, on application to a judge of the superior court of the county in which such person may be located, by the superintendent of the institution to which he or she has been committed, be discharged from such last mentioned institution, and be recommitted, for an indeterminate period, to the Pacific Colony to the Sonoma State Home or to any similar institution hereafter created; provided, the findings of the judge and the opinion of the board of trustees of the institution to which such boy or girl is sought to be committed are the same as on the commitment to and receiving into the Pacific Colony of other persons as aforesaid; and provided, that there shall have been served upon such relatives of said boy or girl, or upon such other persons and in such manner as the said judge may deem necessary or proper, such notice of the application as he shall consider sufficient, in order to enable them to be heard on the application.

§ 35. Object of colony. The object aimed at in the Pacific Colony shall be such care and training of its inmates as to render them more useful and happy, and tend to make them as nearly self-supporting as their level of intelligence may permit.

§ 36. Manufacture of furniture, etc. The Pacific Colony may manufacture or raise for sale, such articles of furniture, supplies or produce as may be used in the said or any other state institution, subject to the approval and under the control of the state board of control.

§ 37. Disposition of funds. All moneys received from the sale of articles of furniture, supplies or produce as provided in section thirty-six of this act shall be paid to the state treasurer, to be placed in the contingent fund to the credit of the said colony and for its use.

§ 38. Department for clinical diagnois. The Pacific Colony shall have a department for the clinical diagnosis of inmates, and their subsequent classification and observation, with a view to their proper segregation and treatment.

§ 39. Examination of inmate before discharge. The superintendent shall, at least two weeks before the discharge of any inmate, have made, by a trained clinical psychologist, an examination of the mental condition of such inmate, and a permanent record thereof shall be kept in the office of the superintendent; which record shall be open to the inspection of all state boards or commissioners authorized by law to investigate or inspect the institution.

§ 40. Biennial report of superintendent. The superintendent shall issue, at the end of each period of two years, a report of the work done during that period, giving the number of inmates received within that time, their sex, nativity, residence, date of reception, level of intelligence determined as aforesaid, and the results of the investigations that may have been made; such report shall also give the number of inmates discharged during that period, with the date and reason therefor, and the names of all paying inmates, the amounts charged for them, and the amounts received therefrom, together with such other information or suggestions as shall be required by the board of trustees or the state board of control, or to the superintendent may seem desirable; which report shall be kept on file in the office of the superintendent, but shall not be printed. A copy of such report shall be sent to the governor, along with the biennial report of the board of trustees, and may be printed for the use of the legislature or for distribution; provided, the names of the inmates are not given or their identity made evident.

§ 41. Discharge of inmates. The board of trustees may discharge, or the superintendent may grant a temporary leave of absence to, any inmate at any time.

§ 42. Sterilization before discharge. Before any inmate who has been committed to the Pacific Colony, and who is feeble-minded or is afflicted with incurable chronic mania or dementia, shall be released or discharged therefrom, the board of trustees on the recommendation of the superintendent approved by a clinical psychologist holding the degree of Ph.D. and a physician qualified to serve under section nineteen of this act, after they shall have made a careful investigation of all the circumstances of the case, may cause such person to be sterilized; and such sterilization, whether with or without the consent of the inmate, shall be lawful, and shall not render the said commission, or its members, or any person participating in the operation, the said trustees, the said colony, or any of its officers or employees, liable civilly or criminally.

§ 43. Action against trustees, etc. No civil action shall be brought against the trustees, the superintendent, or any other officer or employee of the said colony, because of any act done or failure to perform any act while discharging his official duties, without leave of the controller first had or obtained. Any just claim for damages against such trustee, superintendent, officer or employee, for which the state would be legally or equitably liable, may be paid out of any moneys appropriated for the said institution.

§ 44. Penalty for bringing drugs or liquor. Any person, not authorized by law, who brings into the said colony, or within the grounds adjoining or adjacent thereto, any opium, morphine, cocaine, or other narcotic, or any intoxicating liquor of any kind whatever, except for medicinal or mechanical purposes, or any firearms, weapons or explosives of any kind, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 45. Penalty for aiding escape. If any person procure the escape of any male inmate of the said colony, or advise, connive at, aid or assist in such escape, or conceal any such inmate after such escape, or if any person advise or connive at the escape of any female inmate of the said colony, he or she is guilty of a misdemeanor; and if any person procure the escape of any female inmate of the said colony, or aid or assist in such escape, or conceal such female inmate after such escape, he or she is guilty of a felony.

§ 46. Trustees, etc., not to be interested in contracts. No trustee or employee of the said colony shall be personally, directly or indirectly, interested in any contract, purchase or sale made, or any business carried on, in behalf of or for said institution. All contracts, purchases or sales made in violation of this section shall be held and declared null and void, and all moneys paid to such trustee, employee, or any other person, for his benefit, in whole or in part, in consideration of such purchases, contracts or sales made, may be recovered by civil suit, to be instituted in the name of the state of California against such trustee, employee or person acting in his behalf; and in addition, it is hereby made the duty of the governor or the board of trustees, as the case may be, upon satisfactory proof of the fact of such interest, to immediately remove the trustee or employee delinquent as aforesaid, and to report the facts to the attorney general, who shall take such legal steps in the premises as he shall deem expedient.

§ 47. Exempt from control of state commission in lunacy. The Pacific Colony, its inmates, officers, employees and property are hereby declared to be exempt from the operation of chapter one, title five, part three of the Political Code, and free from the supervision, inspection or control of the state commission in lunacy.

§ 48. Appropriation. There is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) for the purposes of this act.

§ 49. Payment. The controller of the state is hereby directed on requisition of the board of trustees, duly audited by the state board of control, to draw his warrant on the state treasurer in favor of the board of trustees for any moneys duly appropriated, to pay for the expenditures in the establishment and maintenance of the said colony, and the said treasurer is directed to pay the same from the appropriations provided therefor.

§ 50. Validity. The invalidity of any part of this act shall not be construed to affect the validity of any other part capable of having practical operation and effect without the invalid part.

ACT 1648a.

An act to authorize and empower the board of managers of the Agnews State Hospital to grant, under the conditions herein provided, to the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, a corporation, a right of way and easement for the purpose of constructing, maintaining and operating an industrial spur track over, along and upon a strip of land situate in the county of Santa Clara and belonging to the state of California.

§ 1. Board of managers of Agnews State Hospital may grant right of way. The board of managers of the Agnews State Hospital is hereby authorized and empowered, in its discretion, under the conditions herein provided, to grant to the Southern Pacific Railway Company, a corporation, a right of way and easement for the purpose of constructing, maintaining and operating an industrial spur track to the adjacent property of Western Grain and Sugar Products Company, a corporation, over, along and upon a strip of land not to exceed thirty feet in width, situate along the northerly and easterly boundaries of the land owned by the state of California whereon said Agnews State Hospital is located, in the county of Santa Clara, in said state, together with the right to connect such spur track with its existing line of railroad along and upon the arc of a curve having a radius no greater than that of the spur track mentioned in section two hereof.

§ 2. Conditions. Such grant shall be made only upon the happening of the following conditions precedent, namely: The said Southern Pacific Railway Company shall agree and bind itself, so soon as said spur track shall be completed and in condition to operate, to take up and remove from the strip of land known as Scott lane, and also sometimes called the Old Lick Mills road, all of the ties, rails and roadbed of the existing spur track thereon, situate northerly and easterly of the point where the spur track running to said state hospital departs from said Scott lane, and to remove the embankment whereon said portion of said spur track to be removed is now constructed. Said company shall further agree and bind itself so to construct such proposed new spur track as to provide ample facilities thereunder for the free and unimpeded flow and drainage of the storm waters usually and ordinarily cast upon said lands of the state in times of heavy and prolonged rainfall.

TITLE 257.
INSECTS.

ACT 1651.

An act to prevent the importation into or transportation through the state of California of insects injurious to cultivated crops, providing exemption for specific scientific purposes, fixing the authority to grant such exemption and providing a penalty for a violation of the terms of this act.

§ 1. Importation of injurious insects forbidden. No person, firm or corporation shall bring into the state of California, nor shall any railroad, steamship, express or other transportation company knowingly transport into the state of California from any state, territory or district in the United States, or from any foreign country, or from one point or place in the state of California to another point or place therein, any cotton boll weevil, gypsy moth, or any insect in a live state which is injurious to cultivated crops, or the eggs, larvae of pupae of any insect injurious as aforesaid, except when brought for scientific purposes under the regulations hereinafter provided for; nor shall any person bring into the state of California from any state, territory or district in the United States, or from any foreign country, or from any point or place in the state of California to another point or place therein, except for scientific purposes under the regulations as hereinafter provided for, any insect in a live state which is injurious to cultivated crops, or the eggs, larvae or pupae of any insect injurious as aforesaid.

§ 2. Insects for scientific purposes exempted. No provision in this act shall apply to the transportation or moving into or through the state of California, of live insects for scientific purposes under the rules and regulations promulgated by the United States department of agriculture, or by the state commissioner of horticulture of California.

§ 3. Penalty. Any person, firm or organization who shall violate the provisions of section one of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

TITLE 259.
INSURANCE.

ACT 1667.

To provide for the organization and management of county fire insurance companies.

Amended 1907, p. 941; 1909, p. 912; 1911, p. 1339; 1917, pp. 163, 943.

§ 7. Qualifications for members. Any person owning insurable property in the county in which any such company is formed or any person owning insurable property in any county adjoining the county wherein such company is formed as hereinafter provided, may become a member by insuring therein, and shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges appertaining thereto; but no person not residing in the county in which a company is formed shall become a director of such a company.

§ 8. What may be insured. Limitation. Pro rata share of expense and loss. Such company may issue policies on detached dwellings, schoolhouses, churches, and farm buildings (except hotels and public barns or garages); and such property as may be contained therein; also, on property owned by the assured on the premises or stored in public or private warehouses outside the corporate limits of any city or town; provided, that insurance upon personal property owned by the insured including automobiles and livestock permitted under this act, shall continue in full force and effect during the use or transportation thereof in the ordinary course of business of the insured wherever the same may be located at the time of loss; all for any time not exceeding five years and not to extend beyond the time limited for the existence of the charter; provided, however, that if an amount in excess of four thousand five hundred dollars subject to one risk or hazard be written, then all in excess of this amount must be immediately placed with or reinsured in some other company; provided, also, that no company that has been organized more than six months shall write insurance subject to one fire in amount exceeding three per cent of the total amount of risks or hazards upon the books of any such company. All persons, whose property is so insured, shall give their obligations to the company binding themselves, their heirs and assigns to pay their pro rata share to the company of the necessary expense and loss by fire which may be sustained by any member thereof during the time for which their respective policies are written; and they shall also at the time of effecting the insurance pay such percentage in cash and such other charges as may be required by law or by the rules and by-laws of the company. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 944.]

§ 10. Insuring outside county and in municipalities. Definition of terms. No such company shall insure any property beyond the limits of the county wherein the said company is organized, excepting that the company may insure in any county next adjoining the county wherein such company is organized. No such company shall issue policies covering on property in excess of four thousand five hundred dollars on any one risk or hazard under one or more policies, without immediately reinsuring the excess amount in some other company. Nor shall any such company assume a risk or risks on property situated in the limits of any city or town, or within any closely built up district, within any one block, without immediately reinsuring all in excess of four thousand five hundred dollars. Any such company may reinsure or accept reinsurance in any company operating under the provisions of this act, and not otherwise, but in no case shall the reinsurance taken by any one company exceed the amount of the risk written by the company originating the business. The location, character of, and number of risks reinsured shall not vary from that permitted in the case of original insurance. Where the amount of insurance covered by policies already written exceeds four thousand five hundred dollars, no additional insurance shall be written by such company on farm property, within a radius of one hundred feet and such radius shall continue at not less than seventy-five feet during the life of the policy, nor shall any risk be taken on any building closer than one hundred feet to any business property, nor shall any insurance be written by any such company on city or country property in excess of seventy-five per cent of its actual cash value and no additional insurance shall be allowed.

For the purpose of this act "a city or town block" shall be construed to be an area having at least one frontage in a closely built up district fronting on a used public street or highway, surrounded on all sides by a clear space at least equal in width to the clear space of such public street or highway and containing an area of not more than one hundred sixty thousand square feet.

"Closely built up district" shall mean territory on the line of a public highway or street or block or blocks where for not less than a quarter of a mile the dwelling-houses and business structures average less than one hundred feet apart.

"One risk" means one hazard under one or more policies, subject to one fire and relates to the amount named in the policy or policies.

"Clear space" means space free from combustible material likely to communicate fire. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 945.]

§ 12. Assessments for deficiency. Loans to meet losses not over certain amount. When the amount of any loss shall have been ascertained, which exceeds in amount the cash funds of the company, the president shall convene the directors of said company, who shall make an assessment upon all of the property to the amount for which each several piece of property is insured, taken in connection with the rate of premium under which it may be classified; except when the amount of such loss or losses does not exceed one-eighth of one per cent of the total amount of insurance in force in any county fire insurance company, then and in such event the directors of said company may, by resolution in writing, signed by two-thirds of said directors in meeting assembled, borrow in the name of said company and give said company's note or other evidence of indebtedness therefor, in an amount or amounts whose total shall not exceed one-eighth of one per cent of the total amount of insurance in force in said company. The term of said loan or loans shall not be for a greater period than twelve months nor shall the date of maturity be in excess of thirty days beyond the date of the annual meeting of said company; provided, further, that the board of directors may at their annual meeting levy an assessment not to exceed twenty-five cents on the one hundred dollars on first class insurance and a pro-rata amount on other classes, and said sum so raised shall constitute a reserve fund to be used in emergency cases only and another assessment for this fund shall not be made while this reserve fund remains intact. [Amendment approved April 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 163.]

§ 16. Withdrawals. Any member of such company may withdraw therefrom by surrendering his policy for cancellation at any time while the organization continues the business for which it was organized, by giving notice in writing to the secretary thereof, and paying his share of all claims that may exist against such company; provided, that the company shall have power to cancel or terminate any policy by giving the insured five days' written notice to that effect, and returning to him any excess of premium he may have paid during the term of the policy over the cost of his insurance as measured by the rules or methods of standard fire insurance companies doing business in this state. [Amendment approved April 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 164.]

§ 18½. Form of county fire insurance policy. The following is adopted as a standard form of county fire insurance company's policy for the state of California:

CALIFORNIA STANDARD FORM COUNTY FIRE INSURANCE POLICY.

No. —— Amount $—— Rate ——

No other insurance permitted except by agreement indorsed hereon or added hereto.

(Here insert name of company, and place of its main office in California, and name of the county in which incorporated or organized.)

By this policy of insurance the —— of —— county, in consideration of —— dollars, and the obligation as described herein and in application, does accept as a member and insures —— against loss or damage by fire during a term of —— years, commencing at noon on the —— day of ——, one thousand nine hundred and ——, and terminating at noon on the —— day of ——, one thousand nine hundred and ——, to the amount of —— dollars.

On the following property, to wit:

For a more particular description, and as forming a part of this policy, reference is had to application No. —— on file in the office of this company.

This company will not be liable beyond the actual cash value of the interest of the insured in the property at the time of loss or damage nor exceeding what it would then cost the insured to repair or replace the same with material of like kind and quality; said cash value to be estimated without allowance for any increased cost of repair or reconstruction by reason of any ordinance or law regulating repair or reconstruction of buildings, and without compensation for loss resulting from interruption of business or manufacture.

This policy is made and accepted subject to the foregoing stipulations and conditions and those hereinafter stated, which are hereby specifically referred to and made a part of this policy, together with such other provisions, agreements or conditions as may be indorsed hereon or added hereto, and no officer, agent, or other representative of this company shall have power to waive any provision or condition of this policy except by writing indorsed hereon or added hereto, and no person unless duly authorized in writing shall be deemed the agent of this company.

The charter and by-laws of this company are to be resorted to and used to explain the rights and obligations of the parties hereto in all cases not herein otherwise especially provided for, and are hereby made a part of this policy. This policy is made and accepted upon the above expressed condition.

This policy shall not be valid until countersigned by the duly authorized secretary of the company at ——, California.

In witness whereof, this company has executed and attested these presents (here insert name of company) by

—— ——,
President.

Countersigned at ——, California, this —— day of ——, one thousand nine hundred and ——.

—— ——,
Secretary.

STIPULATIONS AND CONDITIONS SPECIALLY REFERRED TO.

Stipulations and conditions. Property not covered. (a) this company shall not be liable for loss to accounts, bills, currency, evidence of debt or ownership of other documents, money, notes, or securities; nor (b) unless liability is specifically assumed hereon, for the loss of bullion, casts, curiosities, drawings, dies, jewels, manuscripts, medals, models, patterns, pictures, scientific apparatus, business or store or office furniture or fixtures, sculptures, frescoes and decorations, or property held on storage or for repair.

Hazards not covered. This company shall not be liable for loss by (a) theft, or (b) neglect of the insured to use all reasonable means to save and preserve the property at and after a fire, or when the property is endangered by fire; or (c) (unless fire ensues, and in that event the damage by fire only,) by explosion of any kind or lightning; or (d) by invasion, insurrection, riot, civil war, or commotion, or, (except as hereinafter provided,) by military or usurped power, or order of any civil authority, but the company will be liable, unless otherwise provided by indorsement hereon or added hereto, if the property is lost or damaged, by fire or otherwise, by civil authority or military or usurped power exercised to prevent the spread of fire not originating from a cause excepted hereunder and which fire otherwise probably would have caused the loss of or damage to the insured property.

Matters avoiding policy. This entire policy shall be void, (a) if the insured has concealed or misrepresented any material fact or circumstances concerning this insurance or the subject thereof; or (b) in case of any fraud or false swearing by the insured touching any matter relating to this insurance or the subject thereof, whether before or after a loss.

Unless otherwise provided by agreement indorsed hereon or added hereto this entire policy shall be void, (a) if the insured now has or shall procure any other insurance, whether valid or not, on property covered in whole or in part by this policy, or (b) if the interest of the insured be other than unconditional and sole ownership, or (c) if the subject of insurance be a building on ground not owned by the insured in fee simple, or (d) if with the knowledge of the insured foreclosure proceedings be commenced or notice given of sale of any property covered by this policy by virtue of any mortgage or trust deed, or (e) if this policy be assigned before a loss.

Matters suspending insurance. Unless otherwise provided by agreement indorsed hereon or added hereto this company shall not be liable for loss or damage occurring (a) while the hazard be materially increased by any means within the control of the insured; or (b) if the subject of insurance be a manufacturing establishment, while it is operated in whole or in part at night later than ten o'clock or while it ceases to be operated beyond the period of ten consecutive days; or (c) while mechanics or artisans are employed in building or altering or repairing the described premises for more than fifteen days at any one time; or (d) while illuminating gas or vapor be generated in the described building (or adjacent thereto) for use therein; or (e) while there be kept, used or allowed on the described premises (any usage or custom of trade or manufacture to the contrary notwithstanding), calcium carbide, phosphorus, dynamite, nitroglycerine, fireworks or other explosive; or exceeding one quart each of benzine, gasoline, naphtha or ether; or more than twenty-five pounds of gunpowder; or (f) while a building herein described whether intended for occupation by owner or tenant is vacant or unoccupied beyond the period of ten (10) consecutive days; (g) while the interest in, title to or possession of the subject of insurance is changed excepting; (1) by death of the insured; (2) change of occupancy of building without material increase of hazard; and (3) transfer by one or more several copartners or co-owners to the others.

Such suspension shall not extend beyond the term of this policy nor create any right for refund of the whole or any portion of premium, nor affect the respective rights of cancellation.

Chattel mortgage. Unless otherwise provided by agreement in writing indorsed hereon or added hereto this company shall not be liable for loss or damage to any property insured hereunder while encumbered by a chattel mortgage, but the liability of the company upon other property hereby insured shall not be affected by such chattel mortgage.

Fallen building clause. Unless otherwise provided by agreement indorsed hereon or added hereto, if a building or any material part thereof fall, except as the result of fire, all insurance by this policy on such building or its contents shall immediately cease.

Removal when endangered by fire. Should any of said property be necessarily removed because of danger from fire, and there is no other insurance thereon, that part of this policy in excess of the value of the insured property remaining in the original location, or, if there is other insurance thereon, that part of this policy in excess of its proportion of the value of the insured property remaining in the original location, shall, for the ensuing five days only, cover the said removed property in its new location or locations.

Cancellation. This policy may be canceled and the insured as a member of this company may withdraw therefrom by the insured surrendering his policy for cancellation at any time while the company continues the business for which it was organized, by giving notice in writing to the secretary thereof and paying his share of all claims that may exist against this company; provided, that this company shall have power to cancel or terminate any policy by giving the insured five days written notice to that effect and returning to him any excess of premium he may have paid during the term of the policy, over the cost of his insurance as measured by the rate of standard fire insurance companies doing business in this state.

Adjustment of losses—Arbitration. The insured who may sustain loss or damage by fire shall immediately notify the president, or in his absence, the secretary of this company, stating the amount of damage or loss sustained or claimed and if not more than one thousand five hundred dollars then the president and secretary shall proceed to ascertain the amount of such loss or damage and adjust the same. If the claim for damage or loss be for an amount greater than one thousand five hundred dollars, then the president of this company, or in his absence, the vice-president, or in the absence of both the secretary thereof, shall forthwith convene the board of directors of said company, whose duty it shall be when convened, to appoint a committee of not less than three disinterested members of this company, to ascertain the amount of such damage or loss. If in either case there is a failure of the parties to agree upon the amount of such damage or loss they may submit the question of the amount of such loss to arbitration, and in that event the president of the company shall appoint one disinterested person to act as an arbitrator, and the claimant or insured shall appoint another, and if such two arbitrators fail to agree upon the amount of such loss, then they shall select a third disinterested person to act with them and such arbitrators so appointed shall have full authority to examine witnesses and to do all other things necessary to the proper determination of the amount of loss sustained by the claimant, and shall make their award in writing to the president of the company and to the insured, and such award, so as aforesaid made, shall be final as to the amount of loss sustained. The pay of said committee shall be three dollars per day for each day's services so rendered and five cents for each mile necessarily traveled in the discharge of their duties, which shall be paid by the claimant unless the award of such committee shall exceed the sum offered by the company in liquidation of such loss or damage, in which case such expense shall be paid by the company.

Option of company in case of loss. This company may, at its option, take all or any part of the property for which insurance hereunder is claimed at its ascertained or appraised value, and may also, at its option, in satisfaction of its liability hereunder, repair, rebuild, or replace any building or structure or machine or machinery used therein, with other of like kind and quality, within a reasonable time, upon giving notice within twenty days of its intention so to do after the receipt by it of the preliminary proof of loss, or, if verified amendments have been requested, within twenty days after their receipt, or, within twenty days after the receipt of an affidavit that the insured is unable to furnish such amendments. There can be no abandonment to this company of any property.

Apportionment of loss. This company shall not be liable under this policy for a greater proportion of any loss on the described property, or for loss by, and expense of, removal from the premises endangered by fire, than the amount hereby insured bears to the entire insurance covering such property whether valid or not, or by solvent or insolvent insurers.

Assessment for deficiency. When the amount of any loss shall have been ascertained, which exceeds in amount the cash funds of the company, the president shall convene the directors of this company, who shall proceed in the manner as provided in section twelve of this act.

Notice of assessment. It shall be the duty of the secretary, whenever assessment shall have been made, to immediately notify every person holding a risk in this company, personally, by an agent, or by letter directed to his usual postoffice address, of the amount of such loss, and the sum due from him, as his share thereof, and of the time and to whom such payment is to be made; but such time shall not be less than thirty days, nor more than ninety days from date of such notice.

Action for neglect or refusal to pay assessments. An action may be brought against the member whose property is insured herein and this policy is automatically suspended if the insured shall not have paid, before it is delinquent, his portion of any assessment levied or other liability due this company for a period in excess of ninety days. The directors of this company who shall willfully refuse or neglect to perform the duties imposed upon them by law or the by-laws of the company, shall be liable in their individual capacity to the person sustaining such loss. An action may also be brought and maintained against this company by members thereof for losses sustained if payment is withheld after the amount of such losses have been determined and is due by the terms of the policy.

Nonwaiver by appraisal or examination. This company shall not be held to have waived any provision or condition of this policy of any forfeiture thereof, by assenting to the amount of the loss or damage or by any requirement, act or proceeding on its part relating to the appraisal or to any examination herein provided for.

Subrogation. If this company shall claim that the fire was caused by the act of any person or corporation, this company shall, upon payment of the loss be subrogated to the extent of such payment to all right of recovery by the insured for the loss resulting therefrom, and such right shall be assigned to this company by the insured on receiving such payment.

Time for commencement of action. No suit or action on this policy for the recovery of any claim shall be sustained, until after full compliance by the insured with all of the foregoing requirements, nor unless begun within fifteen months next after the commencement of the fire.

Definitions. Wherever in this policy the word "insured" occurs, it shall be held to include the legal representatives of the insured in case of death, and wherever the word "loss" occurs, it shall be deemed the equivalent of "loss or damage," and wherever the words "the time of loss or damage" are used they shall be deemed the equivalent of "the time of the commencement of the fire."

There shall be printed on the outside fold of said policy in type not smaller than small pica the following words in this form:

READ THIS POLICY.

Insurance company is liable only for actual cash value.

Policy is void in case of any fraud, false swearing, misrepresentation or concealment about material facts.

Policy is void, unless otherwise agreed in writing, if—

1. It is assigned before loss;
2. Insured has or shall procure other insurance;
3. Any change occurs in location of property;
4. Insured building is on ground not owned in fee simple by the insured;
5. Insured is not sole and unconditional owner.

Policy is suspended unless otherwise agreed in writing, if—

6. Described building becomes vacant or unoccupied for ten days;
7. Mechanics are employed more than fifteen days in repairing same;
8. Property is or becomes encumbered by chattel mortgage;
9. Illuminating gas or vapor is generated in or adjacent to described building;
10. Explosives or prohibited quantities of gasoline, etc., (except the gasoline contained in automobiles and gas engine tanks), as are kept on premises; and provided, also, that the insurance on livestock and automobiles shall cover wherever located at the time of the fire.

[PASTER.]

Insurance ceases if described building or any material part falls except as result of fire.

Policy does not cover certain enumerated personal property.

Note particularly duty of insured in case of loss; also provisions avoiding or suspending policy, including changes of ownership or possession.

DWELLING-HOUSE AND CONTENTS POLICY FORM.

$—— on the —— dwelling-house and all its additions, foundations, porches, verandas and screens, including all permanent wall and ceiling decorations, frescoes, gas, steam, water, heating and lighting fixtures and connections, and all other permanent fixtures attached to and forming a part of the building, situate ——, California.

$—— on household furniture, useful and ornamental, family wearing apparel, family stores and supplies, and all other personal effects of every kind and description (except accounts, bills, currency, evidences of debt or ownership, or other documents, money, notes, securities, bullion, drawings, dies, manuscripts, medals, models and patterns) including casts, curiosities, pictures, scientific apparatus and sculptures, the property of the insured or of any member of the insured's household, unless specifically insured, all contained in the above-described dwelling-house.

Loss, on building, if any, payable to ——.

Claim for loss on any one picture, piece of statuary, curiosity, or work of art, shall not exceed the cost of same, and unless specifically insured, shall not exceed one hundred dollars.

The privilege for the within described dwelling to remain vacant or unoccupied is hereby increased to thirty (30) consecutive days.

Permission is granted for mechanics or artisans to make alterations or repairs to the within described building for more than fifteen (15) days at any one time, and to build additions, this policy to cover on and in same under the respective items hereof.

Permission is hereby granted (when not prohibited by local ordinance) for the use of gasoline stoves or lamps, it being warranted by the insured that the reservoir attached to each stove or lamp be filled during daylight only, and then only when the stove or lamp is not in use, and that no artificial light be permitted in the room when the reservoir is being filled, and that no gasoline, except that contained in the reservoir, shall be kept within the building. A breach of this warranty renders this permit null and void.

Attached to policy No. —— of the ——.

Dated ——, 19—.

—— ——,
Secretary.

[PASTER.]

By special agreement indorsed on the policy or added thereto, the provisions regarding appraisement or apportionment of loss may be waived and the valuations of all or any of the insured property in case of total loss may be agreed upon in advance of loss.

Said standard form of policy shall be plainly printed and no portion thereof shall be in type smaller than small pica and subheads shall be in type larger than pica, and the lines of the policy shall be numbered consecutively.

All mutual fire insurance policies on property in California shall be on said standard form, and except as herein provided, shall not contain additions thereto. No part of the standard form shall be omitted therefrom.

The blanks in said standard form shall be appropriately filled. The company may add to the standard form any matter relating to its financial condition, directors, officers, stockholders and history, and the address of its home office, and principal office in the state; also in red ink any provisions respecting any limitations of liability of the company, its stockholders or members which it is required or permitted by the law of the state or county of its organization to insert in its policies.

Clauses may be added to the standard form providing for and defining the rights, duties and obligations of mortgagees, assignees and other parties who have acquired or may acquire an interest in, right to or lien upon the insured property.

No clause shall be inserted or rider attached affecting the standard form liability of the insurer for loss or damage by fire occasioned either directly or indirectly by earthquake, hurricane, volcanic action or other disturbance of nature, unless the same shall be printed in red ink in type larger than small pica and at the head of the policy there shall be printed in red ink in large bold-faced type the words "This policy contains limitations of liability not permitted in the California standard form."

Clauses may be added to the standard form (a) covering property and risks not otherwise covered; (b) assuming greater liability than is otherwise imposed on the insurer; (c) granting insured permits and privileges not otherwise provided; (d) waivers of any of the matters, voiding the policy or suspending the insurance; (e) waivers of any of the requirements imposed on the insured after loss.

Except as herein otherwise provided clauses may be attached to the standard form by separate riders in type larger than pica imposing specified duties and obligations upon the insured and limiting the liability of the insurer.

Any insurer, or the agent countersigning or issuing a fire insurance policy covering in whole or in part property in California varying from the California standard form of policy except as herein provided is guilty of a misdemeanor but any policy so issued shall notwithstanding be binding upon the company issuing the same. [New section added May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 945.]

§ 19. Repealed. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 953.]

ACT 1670a.

An act to incorporate standard provisions in policies of accident and health insurance, to prevent discriminations in connection therewith, and to prescribe penalties for violations of the provisions hereof.

[Approved May 26, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 957. In effect January 1, 1918.]

§ 1. Accident and health insurance policies approved by insurance commissioner. On and after the first day of January, 1918, no policy of insurance against loss or damage from the sickness, or the bodily injury or death of the insured by accident shall be issued or delivered to any person in this state until a copy of the form thereof and of the classification of risks, if more than one class of risks is written and the premium rates pertaining thereto have been filed with the commissioner of insurance; nor shall it be so issued or delivered until the expiration of thirty days after it has been so filed unless the said commissioner shall sooner give his written approval thereto. If the said commissioner shall notify, in writing, the company, corporation, association, society or other insurer which has filed such form that it does not comply with the requirements of law, specifying the reasons for his opinion, it shall be unlawful thereafter for any such insurer to issue any policy in such form. The action of the said commissioner in this regard shall be subject to review by any court of competent jurisdiction; provided, however, that nothing in this act shall be so construed as to give jurisdiction to any court not already having jurisdiction.

§ 2. What policy must contain. Contents of policy. Accident and Health insurance. No such policy shall be issued or delivered (1) unless the entire money and other considerations therefor are expressed in the policy; nor (2) unless the time at which the insurance thereunder takes effect and terminates is stated in a portion of the policy preceding its execution by the insurer; nor (3) if the policy purports to insure more than one person; nor (4) unless every printed portion thereof and of any indorsements or attached papers shall be plainly printed in type of which the face shall be not smaller than ten-point; nor (5) unless a brief description thereof be printed on its first page and on its filing back in type of which the face shall be not smaller than fourteen point; nor (6) unless the exceptions of the policy be printed with the same prominence as the benefits to which they apply; provided, however, that any portion of such policy which purports, by reason of the circumstances under which a loss is incurred, to reduce any indemnity promised therein to an amount less than that provided for the same loss occurring under ordinary circumstances, shall be printed in bold-face type and with greater prominence than any other portion of the text of the policy.

§ 3. Standard provisions. Every such policy so issued shall contain certain standard provisions, which shall be in the words and in the order hereinafter set forth and be preceded in every policy by the caption, "Standard provisions." In each such standard provision wherever the word "insurer" is used, there shall be substituted therefor "company" or "corporation" or "association" or "society" or such other word as will properly designate the insurer. Said standard provisions shall be:

(1) Contract. A standard provision relative to the contract which may be in either of the following two forms: form (A) to be used in policies which do not provide for reduction of indemnity on account of change of occupation, and form (B) to be used in policies which do so provide. If form (B) is used and the policy provides indemnity against loss from sickness, the words "or contracts sickness" may be inserted therein immediately after the words "in the event that the insured is injured."

(A) Form (A). 1. This policy includes the indorsements and attached papers, if any, and contains the entire contract of insurance. No reduction shall be made in any indemnity herein provided by reason of change in the occupation of the insured or by reason of his doing any act or thing pertaining to any other occupation.

(B) Form (B). 1. This policy includes the indorsements and attached papers, if any, and contains the entire contract of insurance except as it may be modified by the insurer's classification of risks and premium rates in the event that the insured is injured after having changed his occupation to one classified by the insurer as more hazardous than that stated in the policy, or while he is doing any act of thing pertaining to any occupation so classified, except ordinary duties about his residence or while engaged in recreation, in which event the insurer will pay only such portion of the indemnities provided in the policy as the premium paid would have purchased at the rate but within the limits so fixed by the insurer for such more hazardous occupation.

If the law of the state in which the insured resides at the time this policy is issued requires that prior to its issue a statement of the premium rates and classification of risks pertaining to it shall be filed with the state official having supervision of insurance in such state then the premium rates and classification of risks mentioned in this policy shall mean only such as have been last filed by the insurer in accordance with such law, but if such filing is not required by such law then they shall mean the insurer's premium rates and classsification of risks last made effective by it in such state prior to the occurrence of the loss for which the insurer is liable.

(2) Changes in contract. A standard provision relative to changes in the contract, which shall be in the following form:

2. No statement made by the applicant for insurance not included herein shall avoid the policy or be used in any legal proceeding hereunder. No agent has authority to change this policy or to waive any of its provisions. No change in this policy shall be valid unless approved by an executive officer of the insurer and such approval be indorsed hereon.

(3) Reinstatement of policy. A standard provision relative to reinstatement of policy after lapse which may be in either of the three following forms: form (A) to be used in policies which insure only against loss from accident; form (B) to be used in policies which insure only against loss from sickness; and form (C) to be used in policies which insure against loss from both accident and sickness.

(A) 3. If default be made in the payment of the agreed premium for this policy, the subsequent acceptance of a premium by the the insurer or by any of its duly authorized agents shall reinstate the policy, but only to cover loss resulting from accidental injury thereafter sustained.

(B) 3. If default be made in the payment of the agreed premium for this policy, the subsequent acceptance of a premium by the insurer or by any of its authorized agents shall reinstate the policy but only to cover such sickness as may begin more than ten days after the date of such acceptance.

(C) 3. If default be made in the payment of the agreed premium for this policy, the subsequent acceptance of a premium by the insurer or by any of its duly authorized agents shall reinstate the policy but only to cover accidental injury thereafter sustained and such sickness as may begin more than ten days after the date of such acceptance.

(4) Time of notice of claim. A standard provision relative to time of notice of claim which may be in either of the three following forms: form (A) to be used in policies which insure only against loss from accident; form (B) to be used in policies which insure only against loss from sickness, and form (C) to be used in policies which insure against loss from both accident and sickness. If form (A) or form (C) is used the insurer may at its option add thereto the following sentence: "In event of accidental death immediate notice thereof must be given to the insurer."

(A) 4. Written notice of injury on which claim may be based must be given to the insurer within twenty days after the date of the accident causing such injury.

(B) 4. Written notice of sickness on which claim may be based must be given to the insurer within ten days after the commencement of the disability from such sickness.

(C) 4. Written notice of injury or of sickness on which claim may be based must be given to the insurer within twenty days after the date of the accident causing such injury or within ten days after the commencement of disability from such sickness.

(5) Sufficiency of notice of claim. A standard provision relative to sufficiency of notice of claim which shall be in the following form and in which the insurer shall insert in the blank space such office and its location as it may desire to designate for such purpose of notice:

5. Such notice given by or in behalf of the insured or beneficiary, as the case may be, to the insurer at —— or to any authorized agent of the insurer, with particulars sufficient to identify the insured, shall be deemed to be notice to the insurer. Failure to give notice within the time provided in this policy shall not invalidate any claim if it shall be shown not to have been reasonably possible to give such notice and that notice was given as soon as was reasonably possible.

(6) Forms for filing proof of loss. A standard provision relative to furnishing forms for the convenience of the insured in submitting proof of loss as follows:

6. The insurer upon receipt of such notice, will furnish to the claimant such forms as are usually furnished by it for filing proofs of loss. If such forms are not so furnished within fifteen days after the receipt of such notice, the claimant shall be deemed to have complied with the requirements of this policy as to proof of loss upon submitting within the time fixed in the policy for filing proofs of loss, written proof covering the occurrence, character and extent of the loss for which claim is made.

(7) Filing proof of loss. A standard provision relative to filing proof of loss which shall be in such one of the following forms as may be appropriate to the indemnities provided:

(A) 7. Affirmative proof of loss must be furnished to the insurer at its said office within ninety days after the date of the loss for which claim is made.

(B) 7. Affirmative proof of loss must be furnished to the insurer at its said office within ninety days after the termination of the period of disability for which the company is liable.

(C) 7. Affirmative proof of loss must be furnished to the insurer at its said office in case of claim for loss of time from disability within ninety days after the termination of the period for which the insurer is liable, and in case of claim for any other loss, within ninety days after the date of such loss.

(8) Examination of person insured. A standard provision relative to examination of the person of the insured and relative to autopsy which shall be in the following form:

8. The insurer shall have the right and opportunity to examine the person of the insured when and so often as it may reasonably require during the pendency of claim hereunder, and also the right and opportunity to make an autopsy in case of death where it is not forbidden by law.

(9) Time within which payments made. A standard provision relative the time within which payments other than those for loss of time on account of disability shall be made, which provision may be in either of the following two forms and which may be omitted from any policy providing only indemnity for loss of time on account of disability. The insurer shall insert in the blank space either the word "immediately" or appropriate language to designate such period of time, not more than sixty days, as it may desire; form (A) to be used in policies which do not provide indemnity for loss of time on account of disability and form (B) to be used in policies which do so provide.

(A) 9. All indemnities provided in this policy will be paid —— after receipt of due proof.

(B) 9. All indemnities provided in this policy for loss other than that of time on account of disability will be paid —— after receipt of due proof.

(10) Periodical payments of indemnity. A standard provision relative to periodical payments of indemnity for loss of time on account of disability, which provision shall be in the following form, and which may be omitted from any policy not providing for such indemnity. The insurer shall insert in the first blank space of the form, appropriate language to designate the proportion of accrued indemnity it may desire to pay, which proportion may be all or any part not less than one-half, and in the second blank space shall insert any period of time not exceeding sixty days:

10. Upon request of the insured and subject to due proof of loss —— accrued indemnity for loss of time on account of disability will be paid at the expiration of each —— during the continuance of the period for which the insurer is liable, and any balance remaining unpaid at the termination of such period will be paid immediately upon receipt of due proof.

(11) Indemnity payments. A standard provision relative to indemnity payments which may be in either of the two following forms: form (A) to be used in policies which designate a beneficiary and form (B) to be used in policies which do not designate any beneficiary other than the insured:

(A) 11. Indemnity for loss of life of the insured is payable to the beneficiary if surviving the insured, and otherwise to the estate of the insured. All other indemnities of this policy are payable to the insured.

(B) 11. All the indemnities of this policy are payable to the insured.

(12) Cancellation of policy. A standard provision for cancellation of the policy at the instance of the insured which shall be in the following form:

12. If the insured shall at any time change his occupation to one classified by the insurer as less hazardous than that stated in the policy, the insurer, upon written request of the insured, and surrender of the policy, will cancel the same and will return to the insured the unearned premium.

(13) Rights of beneficiary. A standard provision relative to the rights of the beneficiary under the policy which shall be in the following form and which may be omitted from any policy not designating a beneficiary:

13. Consent of the beneficiary shall not be requisite to surrender or assignment of this policy, or to change of beneficiary, or to any other changes in the policy.

(14) Time within which suit may be brought. A standard provision limiting the time within which suit may be brought upon the policy as follows:

14. No action at law or in equity shall be brought to recover on this policy prior to the expiration of sixty days after proof of loss has been filed in accordance with the requirements of this policy, nor shall such action be brought at all unless brought within two years from the expiration of the time within which proof of loss is required by the policy.

(15) Time limitations. A standard provision relative to time limitations of the policy as follows:

15. If any time limitation of this policy with respect to giving notice of claim or furnishing proof of loss is less than that permited by the law of the state in which the insured resides at the time this policy is issued, such limitation is hereby extended to agree with the minimum period permitted by such law.

§ 4. Optional standard provisions. No such policy shall be so issued or delivered which contains any provision (1) relative to cancellation at the instance of the insurer; or (2) limiting the amount of indemnity to a sum less than the amount stated in the policy and for which the premium has been paid; or, (3) providing for the deduction of any premium from the amount paid in settlement of claim; or, (4) relative to other insurance by the same insurer; or, (5) relative to the age limits of the policy; unless such provisions which are hereby designated as optional standard provisions, shall be in the words and in the order in which they are hereafter set forth, but the insurer may at its option omit from the policy any such optional standard provision. Such optional standard provisions if inserted in the policy shall immediately succeed the standard provisions named in section three of this act.

(1) Cancellation of policy. An optional standard provision relative to cancellation of the policy at the instance of the insurer as follows:

16. The insurer may cancel this policy at any time by writen notice delivered to the insured or mailed to his last address, as shown by the records of the insurer, together with cash or the insurer's check for the unearned portion of the premiums actually paid by the insured, and such cancellation shall be without prejudice to any claim originating prior thereto.

(2) Reduction of amount of indemnity. An optional standard provision relative to reduction of the amount of indemnity to a sum less than that stated in the policy as follows:

17. If the insured shall carry with another company, corporation, association or society other insurance covering the same loss giving written notice to the insurer, then in that case the insurer shall be liable only for such portion of the indemnity promised as the said indemnity bears to the total amount of like indemnity in all policies covering such loss, and for the return of such part of the premium paid as shall exceed the pro rata for the indemnity thus determined.

(3) Deduction of premium. An optional standard provision relative to deduction of premium upon settlement of claim as follows:

18. Upon the payment of claim hereunder any premium then due and unpaid or covered by any note or written order may be deducted therefrom.

(4) Other insurance. An optional standard provision relative to other insurance by the same insurer which shall be in such one of the following forms as may be appropriate to the indemnities provided, and in the blank spaces of which the insurer shall insert such upward limits of indemnity as are specified by the insurer's classification of risks, filed as required by this act.

(A) 19. If a like policy or policies, previously issued by the insurer to the insured be in force concurrently herewith, making the aggregate indemnity in excess of $——, the excess insurance shall be void and all premiums paid for such excess shall be returned to the insured.

(B) 19. If a like policy or policies, previously issued by the insurer to the insured be in force concurrently herewith, making the aggregate indemnity for loss of time on account of disability in excess of $—— weekly, the excess insurance shall be void and all premiums paid for such excess shall be returned to the insured.

(C) 19. If a like policy or policies, previously issued by the insurer to the insured be in force concurrently herewith making the aggregate indemnity for loss other than that of time on account of disability in excess of $——, or the aggregate indemnity for loss of time on account of disability in excess of $—— weekly the excess insurance of either kind shall be void and all premiums paid for such excess shall be returned to the insured.

(5) Age limits. An optional standard provision relative to the age limits of the policy which shall be in the following form and in the blank spaces of which the insurer shall insert such number of years as it may elect:

20. The insurance under this policy shall not cover any person under the age of —— years nor over the age of —— years. Any premium paid to the insurer for any period not covered by this policy will be returned unon request.

§ 5. Contradictory provisions. No such policy shall be so issued or delivered if it contains any provision contradictory, in whole or part, of any of the provisions hereinbefore in this act designated as "Standard provisions" or as "Optional standard provisions"; nor shall any indorsements or attached papers vary, alter, extend, be used as a substitute for, or in any way conflict with any of the said "Standard provisions" or the said "Optional standard provisions"; nor shall such policy be so issued or delivered if it contains any provisions purporting to make any portion of the charter, constitution or by-laws of the insurer a part of the policy unless such portion of the charter, constitution or by-laws shall be set forth in full in the policy, but this prohibition shall not be deemed to apply to any statement of rates or classification of risks filed with the commissioner of insurance in accordance with the provisions of this act.

§ 6. False statement. The falsity of any statement in the application for any policy covered by this act shall not bar the right to recovery thereunder unless such false statement was made with actual intent to deceive or unless it materially affected either the acceptance of the risk or the hazard assumed by the insurer.

§ 7. Rights of insurer in defense of claim. The acknowledgment by any insurer of the receipt of notice given under any policy covered by this act, or the furnishing of forms for filing proofs of loss, or the acceptance of such proofs, or the investigation of any claim thereunder shall not operate as a waiver of any of the rights of the insurer in defense of any claim arising under such policy.

§ 8. Alteration of application. No alteration of any written application for insurance by erasure, insertion or otherwise, shall be made by any person other than the applicant without his written consent, and the making of any such alteration without the consent of the applicant shall be a misdemeanor. If such alteration shall be made by any officer of the insurer, or by any employee of the insurer with the insurer's knowledge or consent, then such act shall be deemed to have been performed by the insurer thereafter issuing the policy upon such altered application.

§ 9. Policy in violation of act. A policy issued in violation of this act shall be held valid but shall be construed as provided in this act and when any provision in such a policy is in conflict with any provision of this act the rights, duties and obligations of the insurer, the policyholder and the beneficiary shall be governed by the provisions of this act.

§ 10. Policies issued by insurer not organized under laws of state. The policies of insurance against accidental bodily injury or sickness issued by an insurer not organized under the laws of this state may contain, when issued in this state, any provision which the law of the state, territory or district of the United States under which the insurer is organized, prescribes for insertion in such policies, and the policies of insurance against accidental bodily injury or sickness issued by an insurer organized under the laws of this state may contain, when issued or delivered in any other state, territory, district or country, any provision required by the laws of the state, territory, district or country in which the same are issued, anything in this section to the contrary notwithstanding.

§ 11. Not applicable to workmen's compensation insurance, etc. (1) Nothing in this act, however, shall apply to or affect any policy or liability of workmen's compensation insurance or any general or blanket policy of insurance issued to any municipal corporation or department thereof or to any corporation, copartnership, association or individual employer, police or fire department, underwriters' corps, salvage bureau, or like associations or organizations, where the officers, members or employees or classes or departments thereof are insured for their individual benefit against specified accidental bodily injuries or sickness while exposed to the hazards of the occupation or otherwise in consideration of a premium intended to cover the risks of all the persons insured under such policy.

(2) Supplemental contracts. Nothing in this act shall apply to or in any way affect contracts providing additional benefits for accidental death supplemental to contracts of life or endowment insurance nor where such supplemental contracts contain provisions which operate to safeguard such insurance against lapse or to provide a special surrender value therefor in the event that the insured shall be totally and permanently disabled by reason of accidental bodily injury or by sickness; provided, that no such supplemental contract shall be issued or delivered to any person in this state unless and until a copy of the form thereof has been submitted to and approved by the commissioner of insurance, under such reasonable rules and regulations as he shall make concerning the provisions in such contracts and their submission to and approval by him.

(3) Fraternal societies. Nothing in this act shall apply to or in any way affect fraternal benefit societies.

(4) Railroad ticket policies. The provisions of this act contained in clause (five) of section two and clauses two, three, eight and twelve of section three may be omitted from railroad ticket policies sold only at railroad stations, or at railroad ticket offices, by railroad employees.

§ 12. Penalty. Any company, corporation, association, society or other insurer or any officer or agent thereof, which or who issues or delivers to any person in this state any policy in willful violation of the provisions of this act shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars for each offense and the commissioner of insurance may revoke the license of any company, corporation, association, society or other insurer of another state or country, or of the agent thereof, which or who willfully violates any provision of this act.

§ 14. Penalty for discrimination. No insurance corporation authorized in this state to issue or deliver insurance against loss or damage from sickness, or bodily injury or death by accident, nor any agent of such corporation, shall make or permit any discrimination between individuals of the same class in the amount of premiums, policy fees, or rates charged for any policy of accident or health insurance, or in the benefits payable thereunder or in any of the terms or conditions of such insurance contract, or in any other manner whatsoever. Any person or corporation violating any provision of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 15. In effect, when. This act shall take effect on the first day of January, 1918. Any policy covered by this act the form of which has received the approval of the commissioner of insurance may be issued or delivered in this state on and after the said date.

An act defining certain classes of contracts for the exchange of indemnity, prescribing regulations therefor and fixing a license fee. [Approved December 24, 1911. Stats. Ex. Sess. 1911, p. 111.]

Repealed May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1170. See Act 1672k.

ACT 1672k.

An act providing for reciprocal and interexchanges of indemnities, prescribing regulations therefor and fixing a license fee, and repealing an act entitled "An act defining certain classes of contracts for the exchange of indemnity, prescribing regulations therefor and fixing a license fee," approved December 24, 1911.

§ 1. Exchange of reciprocal or interinsurance contracts. Individuals, partnerships and corporations of this state, hereby designated subscribers, are hereby authorized to exchange reciprocal or interinsurance contracts with each other, or with individuals, partnerships and corporations of other states, territories, districts and countries, providing insurance among themselves from any loss which may be insured against under other provisions of law, except life insurance.

§ 2. Execution of contracts. Such contracts may be executed by an attorney, agent or other representative herein designated as attorney, duly authorized and acting for such subscribers under powers of attorney, and such attorney may be a corporation. The principal office of such attorney shall be maintained at such place as is designated by the subscribers in the power of attorney. The power of attorney may further provide for the right of substitution and revocation and impose such restrictions upon the exercise of the power granted as may be agreed upon by the subscribers, and may further provide for the exercise of any right reserved to the subscribers, directly or through a board or other body to be selected under such rules or regulations as the subscribers may adopt.

§ 3. Declaration filed with insurance commissioner. Such subscribers so contracting among themselves shall through their attorney, file with the insurance commissioner a declaration verified by the oath of such attorney, or where such attorney is a corporation, by the oath of the duly authorized officers thereof, setting forth:

(a) The name of the attorney and the name or designation under which such contracts are issued, which name or designation shall not be so similar to any name or designation adopted by any attorney or by any insurance organization in the United States writing the same class of insurance, prior to the adoption of such name or designation by the attorney, as to confuse or deceive.

(b) The location of the principal office.

(c) The kind or kinds of insurance to be effected.

(d) A copy of each form of policy, contract or agreement under or by which insurance is to be effected.

(e) A copy of the form of power of attorney under which such insurance is to be effected.

(f) That applications have been made for insurance upon at least one hundred separate risks aggregating not less than one million dollars represented by executed contracts or bona fide applications to become concurrently effective; or in case of employer's liability or workmen's compensation insurance, covering a total pay roll of not less than one million dollars.

(g) That there is in the possession of such attorney and available for the payment of losses, assets conforming to the requirements of section six hereof.

(h) A financial statement under oath in form hereinafter prescribed for the annual statement.

(i) The instrument authorizing service of process as provided for in this act.

(j) Certificate showing deposits of funds or securities.

§ 4. Instrument and bond filed by attorney. Concurrently with the filing of the declaration provided for the terms of section three of this act, the attorney shall file with the insurance commissioner:

(a) An instrument in writing executed by him for said subscribers, conditioned that upon the issuance of certificate of authority provided for in this act, action may be brought in the county in which the property or person insured thereunder is located and service of process may be had upon the insurance commissioner in all suits in this state arising out of such policies, contracts or agreements, which service shall be valid and binding upon all subscribers exchanging at any time reciprocal or interinsurance contracts through such attorney. Three copies of such process shall be served and the insurance commissioner shall file one copy, forward one copy to said attorney by registered mail addressed to the attorney at the principal office as fixed in the certificate filed, and shall return one copy with his admission of service. A judgment rendered in any such case where service of process has been so made shall be valid and binding against any and all such subscribers as their interests appear and such judgment may be satisfied out of the funds in the possession of the attorney belonging to such subscribers or otherwise.

(b) Bond. A bond in favor of the people of the state of California, executed by the said attorney, with two sureties to be approved by the insurance commissioner, in the penal sum of ten thousand dollars, conditioned that the attorney will faithfully perform the duties imposed upon him under the said powers of attorney and faithfully account for moneys handled by him thereunder; such bond may be sued upon by any subscriber suffering loss through violation of the conditions thereof and liability thereunder may be enforced by any individual subscribers or any number of subscribers, in one and the same action; provided, however, that where the power of attorney executed by the subscribers or the rules and regulations adopted by the association for the conduct of its business thereunder, provide for the bonding of the attorney, a certified copy of the bond executed in accordance with such powers of attorney or rules and regulations, shall be filed with the insurance commissioner in lieu of any other bond required under this act.

§ 5. Statement of indemnity. There shall be filed with the insurance commissioner by such attorney whenever the insurance commissioner shall so require, a statement under oath of such attorney showing the maximum amount of indemnity upon a single risk, and, except as to workmen's compensation insurance, no subscriber shall assume on any single risk an amount greater than ten per cent of the net worth of such subscriber where the liability assumed exceeds the amount of one premium deposit.

§ 6. Assets to be maintained. If deficiency in assets. Reserves of independent groups. There shall at all times be maintained as assets, a sum in cash or securities of the kind designated by the laws of the state where the principal office is located for the investment of funds of insurance companies, equal to one hundred per cent of the net unearned premiums or deposits collected and accredited to the accounts of subscribers, or assets equal to fifty per cent of the net annual deposits collected and credited to the accounts of subscribers on policies having one year or less to run and pro rata on those for longer periods, in addition to which there shall be maintained as a reserve in cash or such securities, assets sufficient to discharge all liabilities on all outstanding losses arising under policies issued, the same to be calculated on the basis of net premiums or deposits as in this section defined, unless otherwise provided by law, and in accordance with the laws of the state relating to similar reserves for companies insuring similar risks.

For the purpose of computing said reserves and assets, net deposits shall be construed to mean the advance payments of subscribers after deducting therefrom the amount specifically provided in the subscribers' agreement for expense. If at any time the assets so held in cash or such securities, exclusive of loss reserves herein provided for, shall be less than required above, or be less than twenty-five thousand dollars, the subscribers, or their attorney for them shall make up the deficiency within thirty days after notice from the insurance commissioner so to do.

Where the subscribers are grouped, by industries or otherwise, under any rule or agreement which exempts the funds of one group from liability, in whole or in part, for the payment of losses or expenses chargeable against another group, each independent group must maintain the reserve herein specified and comply with the requirements of subdivision (f) of section three hereof, relative to the number and amount of risks to be assumed.

§ 7. Report of financial condition. Examination by insurance commissioner. Such attorney shall, within the time limited for filing the annual statement by insurance companies transacting the same kind of business, make a report, under oath, to the insurance commissioner for each calendar year, showing the financial condition of affairs at the office where such contracts are issued, and shall at any time furnish such additional information and reports as may be required; provided, however, that the attorney shall not be required to furnish the names and addresses of any subscribers except in case of an unpaid final judgment. The assets, business affairs and records of such organization, shall be subject to examination by the insurance commissioner at any reasonable time, and such examination shall be at the expense of the organization examined. The right of examination herein granted shall include the right to examine the records containing the names and addresses of the subscribers, but any information obtained therefrom shall be regarded as confidential and the disclosure thereof, except under order of court, shall constitute a breach of official duty. Where the principal office of the attorney is located in another state, the insurance commissioner may, in lieu of the examination provided for in this section, accept a certified copy of the report of examination made by the insurance department of the state where the principal office is located, or by the insurance department of any other state.

§ 8. Right of corporation to enter into insurance contracts. Any corporation now or hereafter organized under the laws of the state shall, in addition to the rights, powers and franchises specified in its articles of incorporation, have full power and authority to enter into insurance contracts of the kind and character herein mentioned. The right to enter into such contracts is hereby declared to be incidental to the purposes for which such corporations are organized and as fully granted as the rights and powers expressly conferred.

§ 9. Certificate of authority. Upon compliance with the requirements of this act, the insurance commissioner shall issue a certificate of authority or a license to the attorney authorizing him to make such contracts of insurance, which license shall specify the kind or kinds of insurance to be effected and shall contain the name of the attorney, the location of the principal office and the name of the designation under which such contracts of insurance are issued. Such license shall be renewed annually upon a showing that the standard of solvency required herein has been maintained and all fees and taxes required have been paid.

§ 10. Penalty. Any attorney who shall exchange any contracts of insurance of the kind and character specified in this act, or any attorney or representative of such attorney, who shall solicit or negotiate any applications for same without the attorney first complying with the foregoing provisions, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. For the purpose of organization, and upon issuance of permit by the insurance commissioner, powers of attorney and applications for such contracts may be solicited without compliance with the provisions of this act, but no attorney, agent or other person shall make any such contracts of insurance until all of the provisions of this act shall have been complied with.

§ 11. Revocation of certificate. In addition to the foregoing penalties and where not otherwise provided, the penalty for failure or refusal to comply with any or all of the terms and provisions of this act, upon the part of the attorney, shall be the refusal, suspension or revocation of certificate of authority on license by the insurance commissioner after due notice and opportunity for hearing has been given such attorney so that he may appear and show cause why such action should not be taken.

§ 12. Fees. Tax upon gross premiums. In lieu of all other taxes, licenses or fees whatever, state or local, such attorney shall pay annually on account of the transaction of such business in this state, the same fees as are paid by mutual companies transacting the same kind of business, and an annual tax upon the gross premiums or deposits, collected from subscribers in this state during the preceding calendar year, after deducting therefrom deposit returns or cancellations, consideration for reinsurance and all amounts returned to subscribers or credited to their accounts as savings; such tax to be computed at the same rate as fixed by law for the taxation of mutual companies transacting the same kind of business.

§ 13. Provisions inserted not inconistent with law. The attorney may insert in any form of policy prescribed by the laws of this state any provisions or conditions required by the plan of reciprocal or interinsurance; provided, that same shall not be inconsistent with or in conflict with any law of this state. Such policy in lieu of conforming to the language and form prescribed by such law shall be held to conform thereto in substance if such policy includes a provision or indorsement reciting that the policy shall be construed as if in the language and form prescribed by such law. Any such indorsement shall first be filed with the insurance commissioner.

§ 14. Not subject to insurance laws. Right of insurance commissioner. Except as herein provided, the making of contracts as herein provided for and such other matters as are incident thereto shall not be subject to the laws of this state relating to insurance unless they are therein specifically mentioned. This section shall not be construed however, as depriving the insurance department of the state of examination of and supervision over reciprocal or interinsurance exchanges, their agents and brokers, of the right to hold and conduct hearings in the manner and under the same procedure as provided by law in the case of mutual or other insurance companies but such right is hereby expressly recognized and confirmed.

An act authorizing the governor to appoint a commission to investigate and advise the legislature concerning the adoption of a system of social insurance, and to make a report to the forty-third session of the legislature and making an appropriation therefor.

§ 1. Commission to investigate social insurance. The governor of the state of California is hereby authorized and requested to appoint a commission of seven persons, citizens of this state, to investigate and advise the legislature concerning the adoption of a system of social insurance. The commission shall report to the forty-third session of the legislature the details of any or all branches of a social insurance system it may deem advisable, and may recommend for adoption any measure or measures it deems expedient.

§ 2. Powers. The commission shall have power to subpoena witnesses and to enforce their attendance at any public hearings that may be held for the purpose of obtaining evidence of conditions bearing upon the establishment of any system of social insurance.

§ 3. Duty of persons, etc., to supply information. It shall be the duty of every person, firm or corporation employing labor in this state to supply the commission, at its request, with any and all information from the books, reports, contracts, pay-rolls, documents or papers of such person, firm or corporation which the commission may require to carry out the purposes of this act.

§ 4. Traveling expenses. Secretary. The members of the commission shall serve without pay but shall be reimbursed for traveling expenses incurred in connection with the work of the commission. The commission shall have power to employ an executive secretary and expert, clerical and other assistants.

§ 5. Appropriation. Revolving fund. There is hereby appropriated out of the general fund, not otherwise appropriated, the sum of twenty-two thousand five hundred dollars, or any portion thereof, as may in the judgment of the commission be required for the purposes of this act. The sum of five hundred dollars of said money may be drawn from the state treasury upon approval of the state board of control without the submission of receipts, vouchers or itemized statements to be used by the commission as a cash revolving fund to facilitate its work.

An act to provide for the establishment and maintenance by fire insurance corporations of guaranty surplus funds and special reserve funds and thereby limiting liability and to provide for the waiver by policy-holders of recourse against stockholders of such corporations.

§ 1. Guaranty surplus fund and special reserve fund may be created. Limitation on amount of dividend. Sum deducted in estimating profits. Every domestic corporation having a capital stock issuing fire insurance policies may at its option create a guaranty surplus fund and a special reserve fund by the adoption of a resolution by its board of directors at a regular meeting, and by filing with the insurance commissioner a copy thereof, declaring their desire and intention to create such funds and to do business under this and the two following sections. The insurance commissioner shall thereupon make or cause to be made a certificate of the result thereof, which shall particularly set forth the amount of surplus funds held by it at the date of the examination, and the same may be equally divided between and set apart to constitute guaranty surplus and special reserve funds to the extent necessary to constitute such two funds. Said certificate shall be recorded in the office of the insurance commissioner. Thereafter all policies and renewals of policies issued by such corporation shall contain a provision that they are issued under and in pursuance of this act, referring to the same by the title of this act, and all such policies and renewals shall be subject to the provisions of this act, and a policy-holder, by accepting the policy, becomes bound thereby. After the passage and filing of such resolution, the corporation shall not make, declare or pay in any form any dividend upon its capital stock exceeding seven per centum per annum thereon, and upon the surplus funds to be formed thereunder, until after its guaranty surplus fund and its special reserve fund shall have together accumulated to an amount equal to its capital stock; and until such funds shall together amount to a sum equal to its capital stock, the entire surplus profits of the corporation above such annual dividend of seven per centum shall be equally divided between and be set apart to constitute such guaranty surplus and special reserve funds, which funds shall be held and used as hereinafter provided and not otherwise. Any such corporation which shall declare or pay any dividend contrary to the provisions herein contained, shall be deemed to have forfeited its charter. In estimating the profits of any such corporation for the purpose of making a division thereof between the guaranty surplus fund and the special reserve fund, until such funds shall together amount to a sum equal to its capital stock, there shall be deducted from the gross assets of the corporation, including for the purpose the amount of the guaranty surplus fund and the special reserve fund, the sum of the following items:

1. The amount of all outstanding claims.

2. An amount sufficient to meet the liability of the corporation for the unearned premiums upon its unexpired policies, which shall be at least equal to the unearned premiums on policies having one year or less to run, and a pro rata proportion of the premiums received on the policies having more than one year to run, and shall be known as the reinsurance liability.

3. The amount of its guaranty surplus fund and its special reserve fund.

4. The amount of its capital.

5. Interest at the rate of seven per centum per annum upon the amount of its capital and of such funds for whatever time shall have elapsed since the last preceding cash dividend. The balance shall constitute the net surplus of the corporation subject to the equal division between the funds as herein provided. When the corporation shall notify the insurance commissioner that it has fulfilled the requirements of this section, and that its guaranty surplus fund and its special reserve fund, taken together, equal its capital stock, he shall make an examination of the corporation and make a certificate of the result thereof; and thereafter such corporation may continue, out of any subsequent profits of its business, to add to such funds, either the whole or only a part thereof, but when any addition is made to the special reserve fund, an equal sum shall be carried to the guaranty surplus fund.

§ 2. Investment of funds. Waiver of recourse against stockholders. Such guaranty surplus fund shall be held and invested by such corporation in the same manner as its capital stock and surplus accumulations, and shall be liable and appplicable in the same manner as the capital of the corporation to the payment generally of its losses. Such special reserve fund, until it shall amount to a sum equal to one-half of the capital stock, shall be invested in the same manner as the capital of the corporation, and any additional sum added to such fund shall be invested by the corportion in any securities in which the corporation is by law authorized to invest its capital or its surplus accumulations, and shall be deposited from time to time, as the same shall accumulate and be invested, with the insurance commissioner. Such special reserve fund shall be deemed a fund to protect such corporation and its policy-holders other than claimants for losses already existing or then occurred in case of any extraordinary conflagration or conflagrations as hereafter mentioned, and shall not be regarded as any part or portion of the assets of the corporation so as to be liable for any claim for loss by fire or otherwise, except as herein provided.

No corporation, after it has declared its desire and intention, as provided in section one hereof, to create a guaranty surplus fund and a special reserve fund, shall have the right thereafter to insert in its policy a provision to the effect that the insured, by accepting the policy, waives recourse against the stockholders of the corporation, until such corporation has created, as herein provided, a guaranty surplus fund and a special reserve fund each in amount equal to one-half of the par value of its capital stock; but, when it has so done, then it may thereafter insert in any policy it may thereafter issue a provision in red ink to the effect that the insured, by accepting the policy, waives any recourse to its stockholders and agrees, in case of making any claim thereunder, to look solely to the assets and property of the corporation as and to the extent herein provided.

§ 3. In case of extensive conflagration. Corporation discharged from liability. Transfer of securities in special reserve fund. If guaranty surplus fund reduced. If capital impaired. When any extensive conflagration or conflagrations shall occur whereby the claims upon the corporation shall exceed the amount of its capital stock and of the guaranty surplus fund hereinbefore provided, the corporation shall notify the insurance commissioner of the fact, who shall then make or cause to be made, an examination of the corporation, and shall issue his certificate in duplicate of the result, showing the amounts of capital, of guaranty surplus fund, of special reserve fund, of reinsurance liability, and all other assets. One of such certificates shall be given the corporation, and the other shall be recorded in the office of the insurance commissioner. Such special reserve fund shall be immediately held to protect all policy-holders of the corporation other than such as are claimants upon it at the time, or such as become claimants in consequence of such conflagration or conflagrations. The amount of such special reserve fund, and an amount equal to the unearned premiums of such corporation, to be ascertained as hereinbefore provided, shall constitute the capital and assets of such corporation for the protection of policy-holders other than such claimants, and for the further conduct of its business. Such certificate of the insurance commissioner shall be binding and conclusive upon all parties interested in the corporation, whether stockholders, creditors or policy-holders. Upon the payment to the claimants for losses or otherwise, existing at the time of or caused by such general conflagration or conflagrations, of an amount to which they are respectively entitled in proportion to their several claims, of the full sum of the capital of the corporation and of its guaranty surplus fund, and of its assets, except only such special reserve fund and an amount of its assets equal to the liability of the corporation for unearned premiums, as certified by the insurance commissioner, such corporation shall be forever discharged from any and all further liability to such claimants and to each of them on any policy of insurance issued after the creation as above provided of the special reserve fund in amount equal to one-half of its capital stock. The insurance commissioner shall, after issuing such certificate, upon the demand of the corporation, transfer to it all such securities as shall have been deposited with him by it as such special reserve fund. If the amount of such special reserve fund shall be less than fifty per centum of the full amount of the capital of the corporation, a requisition shall be issued by the insurance commissioner upon the stockholders to make up the capital to that proportion of its full amount. Any capital so impaired shall be so made up to at least the sum of two hundred thousand dollars. If the corporation, after such requisition, shall fail to make up its capital to at least such amount as herein directed such special reserve fund shall be held as security and liable for all losses occurring upon policies of such corporation after such conflagration or conflagrations. If any amount greater than a sum equal to one-half of its capital stock shall by such corporation, under the provisions of the two preceding sections, have been deposited, as aforesaid, with the insurance commissioner, he shall retain of such securities a sum equal to one-half of the amount he shall so hold thereof in excess of such one-half of the capital stock, and transfer the balance thereof to the corporation as herein provided. The amount so transferred to the corporation shall, from the time of such transfer, if not less than two hundred thousand dollars, constitute the capital stock of the corporation for the further conduct of its business as hereinbefore provided. The sum so retained by the insurance commissioner shall thenceforth constitute the special reserve fund of the corporation, to which additions may be made as herein provided, and shall be held in the same manner, for the same purposes and under the same conditions as the original special reserve fund of the corporation was held. The corporation shall in an annual statement to the insurance commissioner set forth the amount of such special reserve fund and of its guaranty surplus fund. If in consequence of the payment of losses by fires, or of the expenses of the business, or of the interest payable under the provisions hereof to stockholders, or from any cause, the guaranty surplus fund shall be reduced in amount below the amount of the special reserve fund, the directors of the corporation shall have the right, at their option, at the time of making any division of the net profits as herein provided, to carry a larger sum to the guaranty surplus fund than to the special reserve fund; but this privilege shall cease when the two funds are made equal in amount. The policy registers, insurance maps, books of record and other books in actual use by the corporation in its business, are not to be considered as assets, but shall be held by it for its use in the protection of its policy-holders not claimants for losses at the time of such general conflagration. If after the accumulation of such special reserve fund, it shall appear upon examination by the insurance commissioner that the capital of the corporation has, in the absence of any such extensive conflagration, become impaired, he shall order a call upon the stockholders to make up such impairment, and the board of directors may either comply with such order and require the necessary payments of the stockholders, or, at their option, they may apply for that purpose so much of such special reserve fund as will make such impairment good. No corporation doing business under this and the two preceding sections shall insure any larger amount upon any single risk than is permitted by law to a corporation possessing the same amount of capital irrespective of the funds hereinbefore provided for.

TITLE 264.

INVESTMENT COMPANIES.

ACT 1700.

An act providing for the regulation and supervision of companies, brokers, agents, and sales of securities as the same are therein defined, and to prevent fraud in the sale of securities; providing for the enforcement of said act and penalties for the violation thereof; and creating a state corporation department and the office of commissioner of corporations.

§ 1. Title. This act shall be known as the "corporate securities act."

§ 2. Words defined. Words used in this act in the present tense include the future as well as the present; words used in the masculine gender include the feminine and neuter, and in the neuter, the masculine and feminine; the singular number includes the plural, and the plural, the singular; "writing" includes "printing" and "typewriting"; "oath" includes "affirmation"; the word "county" includes "city and county"; and "territory" includes "district." The following words have in this act the signification attached to them in this section, unless otherwise apparent from the context:

1. The word "department" means the "state corporation department" created by this act.

2. The word "commissioner" means the "commissioner of corporations."

3. Company. The word "company" includes all domestic and foreign, private corporations, associations, joint stock companies, and partnerships, of every kind, and also trustees, as hereinafter defined; excepting therefrom:

(a) All national banking associations and other corporations organized and existing under and by virtue of the acts of the congress of the United States;

(b) All public utilities subject to the jurisdiction, control, and regulation of the railroad commission of this state and to the public utilities act;

(c) All corporations transacting a banking or insurance business within this state;

(d) All corporations, associations, or societies transacting business under the supervision, examination, and license of the bureau of building and loan supervision; and

(e) Every corporation organized under the laws of this state exclusively for the purposes provided in any of the following titles, to wit: XIa, XII, XIIa, XIV, XXI, XXII, of Part IV, Division First, of the Civil Code, and in accordance with the provisions of such titles.

4. "Trust." The word "trust" as used in this act includes all voluntary trusts, as the same are defined in the Civil Code, expressly created by or declared in an instrument in writing, other than a will or a judicial writ, order, decree, or judgment, to carry on any business or to secure the payment or repayment of money.

5. The word "trustee," except as hereinafter used in subdivision nine of this section, includes only persons or companies executing trusts as hereinbefore defined.

6. "Security." The word "security" includes:

(a) All shares or other interests or rights into which the capital, capital stock, or property of companies or rights of stockholders or members thereof are divided, including all treasury shares and shares of their own capital stock purchased or otherwise acquired by companies upon delinquent assessments sales or in any other lawful manner, and all certificates and other instruments issued by them or their authority, evidencing or representing such shares, interests, or rights;

(b) All bonds, debentures, and evidences of indebtedness issued by any company; and

(c) Any instrument issued or offered to the public by any company, evidencing or representing any right to participate or share in the profits or earnings or the distribution of assets of any business carried on for profit; excepting therefrom the following:

1. Bills of exchange and promissory notes not offered to the public by the drawer, maker, or underwriter thereof, and all mortgages and deeds of trust of property situated in this state, executed to secure the payment thereof; and

2. Any security listed in any standard manual of information, as to which the commissioner shall first make and file his written finding to the effect that such security is fully and accurately described in such manual and that a sale thereof will not, in his opinion, work a fraud upon the purchaser thereof; provided, that if such finding shall thereafter be vacated or set aside, such security shall not thereafter be deemed to be included within this exception.

7. "Sale." A "sale" within the meaning of this act, includes every contract by which, for a pecuniary consideration, called a price, one transfers to another an interest in property, and also an exchange, a pledge, a hypothecation, and any transfer in trust or otherwise as security for the performance of an obligation, and also any issue of any security by a company; and the word "sell," as used in this act, includes every act by which such sale is made.

8. "Agent." The word "agent" as used in this act means and includes every person or company employed or appointed by a company or a broker who shall, within this state, either as an employee or otherwise, for a compensation, sell, offer for sale, negotiate for the sale of, or take subscriptions for any security of any company of its own issue offered for sale by it.

9. "Broker." The word "broker" as used in this act includes every person or company, other than an agent, who shall, in this state, engage, either wholly or in part, in the business of selling, offering for sale, negotiating for the sale of, or otherwise dealing in any security or securities issued by others, or of underwriting any issue of securities or of purchasing such securities with the purpose of reselling them or of offering them for sale to the public for a commission or at a profit; excepting therefrom the following:

(a) Any owner of any security who is not the issuer or an underwriter thereof, who sells or exchanges the same for his own account; provided, that such sale or exchange is not made in the course of repeated and successive transactions of like or similar character by him;

(b) Any trustee, who, in such capacity, lawfully disposes of any property;

(c) Any company transacting a banking or insurance business in this state, selling a security for an owner thereof or a broker, other than an underwriter thereof, at a commission of not more than two per cent of the par or face value thereof; provided, such sale is not made in the course of repeated and successive transactions of like or similar character by such company;

(d) One, not the issuer, who disposes of securities to a broker or to a purchaser who, as a part of his regular business, purchases such securities;

(e) Any pledge-holder selling, in good faith and not for the purpose of avoiding the provisions of this act, and in the ordinary course of business, a security pledged with him as security for a bona fide debt.

10. "Actual fraud." The words "actual fraud," as used in this act, are defined in section one thousand five hundred seventy-two of the Civil Code.

§ 3. Permit to sell securities. Application. Commissioner appointed attorney. No company shall sell, except upon a sale for a delinquent assessment made in accordance with the provisions of Article II of Chapter II of Title I of Part IV of Division First of the Civil Code; or offer for sale, negotiate for the sale of, or take subscriptions for any security of its own issue until it shall have first applied for and secured from the commissioner a permit authorizing it so to do. Such application shall be in writing, shall be verified as provided in the Code of Civil Procedure for the verification of pleadings, and shall be filed in the office of the commissioner. In such application the applicant shall set forth the names and addresses of its officers, the location of its office, an itemized account of its financial condition, the amount and character of its assets and liabilities, a detailed statement of the plan upon which it proposes to transact business, a copy of any security it proposes to issue, a copy of any contract it proposes to make concerning the same, a copy of any prospectus or advertisement, or other description of such securities, then prepared by or for it for distribution or publication, and such additional information concerning the company, its condition and affairs as the commissioner may require. If the applicant is a partnership or an unincorporated association or joint stock company, it shall file with its application a copy of its articles of partnership or association, and all other papers pertaining to its organization. If the applicant is a trustee, it shall file with its application a copy of all instruments by which the trust is created and in which it is accepted, acknowledged, or declared. If the applicant is a corporation, it shall file with its application a copy of all minutes of any proceedings of its directors or stockholders or members relating to or affecting the issue of such securities, and also a copy of its articles of incorporation and of its by-laws and of any amendments thereto. If the applicant is a corporation or association organized under the laws of any other state, territory, or government, it shall also file with its application a certificate, executed by the proper officer of such state, territory, or government not more than thirty daws before the filing of such application, showing that such applicant is authorized to transact business in such state, territory, or government; and also, in such form as the commissioner may prescribe, its written instrument, irrevocably appointing the commissioner and his successor in office its true and lawful attorney upon whom all process in any action or proceeding against it may be served, with the same effect as if said corporation or association were organized or created under the laws of this state and had been lawfully served with process therein.

§ 4. Examination of application. Permit issued. Permit to sell security. Upon the filing of such application, it shall be the duty of the commissioner to examine it and the other papers and documents filed therewith, and he may, if he deems it advisable, make or have made a detailed examination, audit, and investigation of the applicant and its affairs. If he finds that the proposed plan of business of the applicant is not unfair, unjust, or inequitable, that it intends to fairly and honestly transact its business, and that the securities that it proposes to issue and the methods to be used by it in issuing or dispoing of them are not such as, in his opinion, will work a fraud upon the purchaser thereof, the commissioner shall issue to the applicant a permit authorizing it to issue and dispose of securities, as therein provided, in this state, in such amounts and for such considerations and upon such terms and conditions as the commissioner may in said permit provide. Otherwise, he shall deny the application and refuse such permit and notify the applicant in writing of his decision. Every permit shall recite in bold type that the issuance thereof is permissive only and does not constitute a recommendation or indorsement of the securities permitted to be issued. The commissioner may impose such conditions as he may deem necessary to the issue of such securities, and shall have the power to establish such rules and regulations as may be reasonable or necessary to insure the disposition of the proceeds of such securities in the manner and for the purposes provided in such permit, and may, from time to time for cause, amend, alter, or revoke any permit issued by him, or temporarily suspend the rights of the applicant under such permit.

§ 5. Certificate of agent or broker. Fee. No person or company shall act as agent or broker until such person or company shall have first applied for and secured from the commissioner a certificate, then in effect, authorizing such person or company so to do. Every such certificate shall expire on the thirty-first day of December next after its issuance, unless sooner revoked. To secure such certificate, the applicant shall make and file in the office of the commissioner an application therefor in writing, verified by or in behalf of the applicant. In such application, the applicant shall set forth, in addition to such other information as may be required by the commissioner:

1. The name and address of the applicant, and, if it be a corporation, association, or joint stock company, the name and address of each of its managing officers and agents, and, if it be a partnership, the name and address of each of the partners;

2. A succinct statement of facts showing that the applicant, and its managing officers and agents, if it be a corporation, or members, if it be a partnership, have a good business reputation;

3. If the applicant is a broker, the general plan and character of the business of the applicant.

For filing such application, the applicant shall pay a fee as hereinafter provided. If the applicant is a corporation or association organized under the laws of any other state, territory, or government, it shall file with its application a copy of its articles of incorporation or association, together with a certificate executed by the proper officer of such state, territory, or government not more than thirty days before the filing of such application, showing that such applicant is authorizd to transact business in such state, territory, or government, and also, in such form as the commissioner may prescribe, its written instrument, irrevocably appointing the commissioner and his successor in office its true and lawful attorney upon whom all process in any action or proceeding against it, arising out of or founded upon the actual fraud of such applicant in the sale of securities within this state, may be served, with the same effect as if said corporation or association were organized or created under the laws of this state and had been lawfully served with process therein.

§ 6. Certificate issued. The commissioner shall examine such application, and shall make such further investigation of the applicant and its affairs as he shall deem advisable. If, from such examination, the commissioner shall be satisfied of the good business reputation of the applicant and of its officers or members, if any, he shall issue such certificate. Otherwise, he shall refuse the same and deny the application and notify the applicant of his decision. The commissioner may at any time revoke any broker's or agent's certificate issued by him if he shall find that the holder thereof is of bad business repute, or has violated any provisions of this act, or has engaged, or is about to engage in any fraudulent transaction.

§ 7. Advertisements submitted to commissioner. No person, partnership, association, or corporation, other than a broker holding a broker's certificate, then in effect, shall issue, circulate, or publish any advertisement, pamphlet, prospectus, or circular concerning any security, to be issued by any company, that such person, partnership, association, or corporation desires or proposes to sell, until the company proposing to issue such security shall have first secured from the commissioner a permit authorizing it to issue or sell such security; nor shall any company, broker, or agent, or any other person, issue, circulate, or publish any advertisement, pamphlet, prospectus, or circular concerning any security sold or offered for sale by it, unless the name of the company, broker, agent, or person issuing, circulating, or publishing the same shall be subscribed thereto, and a true copy thereof shall have been first filed in the office of the commissioner, or deposited in a United States postoffice, properly inclosed in a sealed envelope, addressed to the commissioner at Sacramento, California, with the postage duly prepaid thereon; nor shall any company, broker, or agent, or any other person, issue, circulate, or publish any such advertisement, pamphlet, prospectus, or circular after notice in writing given to it by the commissioner that, in his opinion, the same contains any statement that is false or misleading or otherwise likely to deceive a reader thereof.

§ 8. Report by company on sale of securities. Every company authorized by the commissioner to sell securities shall thereafter, at such times as it may be required by the commissioner, make and file in the office of the commissioner a report, setting forth, in such form as the commissioner may prescribe, the securities sold by it under the authority of any permit issued by him, the proceeds derived therefrom, the disposition of such proceeds, and such other information concerning its property, officers, or affairs, relating to or affecting the value of such securities, as the commissioner may require.

§ 9. Statement by broker on sale of securities. Every broker shall, at such times as it may be required by the commissioner, make and file in the office of the commissioner a true and correct statement concerning any security sold or offered for sale by such broker, showing the name and location of the principal office of the issuer of such security; the names of its managing officers, if it is a corporation, or of its members, if it is a partnership; its assets, liabilities, and issued capital stock, at the close of its fiscal year then last ended, or at a later date; its gross income, expenses, and fixed charges for the year next preceding such date, or for such time as such issuer of such security has transacted business, if for less than one year, and the approximate price at which such broker has sold or proposes to sell such security, together with such other information, of which the broker may have knowledge, as the commissioner may require.

§ 10. Papers open to public inspection. All papers, documents, reports, and other instruments in writing filed with the commissioner under this act shall be open to public inspection; provided, that if, in his judgment, the public welfare or the welfare of any company, broker, or agent demands that any portion of such information be not made public, he may, in his discretion, withhold such information from public inspection for such time as in his judgment is necessary. The commissioner may at any time give, issue, or make public any information concerning any company or any contracts, stocks, bonds, or other securities sold or offered for sale within this state, if in his judgment the giving, issuing, or publishing of the same will be of public interest or advantage or will tend to prevent the fraudulent sale of such securities.

§ 11. Review of orders, etc., of commissioner. Every order, decision, permit or other official act of the commissioner shall be subject to review, in accordance with the provisions of Chapter I of Title I of Part III of the Code of Civil Procedure; and any party aggrieved by any such order, decision, or permit of the commissioner may appeal therefrom to the superior court of the county of Sacramento, by serving upon the commissioner a notice of such appeal, a demand in writing for a certified transcript of all the papers on file in his office affecting or relating to such decision, and the payment of the fee therefor, within sixty days after the making of any such order, permit, or decision. Thereupon, the commissioner shall, within ten days, make and certify such transcript, and the appellant shall, within five days thereafter, file the same and the notice of appeal with the clerk of said court. Upon the hearing of such appeal, the burden of proof shall lie upon the appellant, and the court shall receive and consider any pertinent evidence, whether oral or documentary, concerning the action of the commissioner from which the appeal is taken, but shall be limited to a consideration and determination of the question whether there has been an abuse of discretion on the part of the commissioner in making such order, decision, or permit.

§ 12. Securities void. Every security issued by any company, without a permit of the commissioner authorizing the same then in effect, shall be void, and every security issued by any company, with the authorization of the commissioner but not conforming in its provisions to the provisions, if any, which it is required by the permit of the commissioner to contain, shall be void.

§ 13. Penalty for company violating act. Every company which shall directly or indirectly issue or cause to be issued any security contrary to the provisions of this act, or of the constitution of this state, or in nonconformity with a permit of the commissioner authorizing the same, or which applies the proceeds from the sale thereof, or any part thereof, to any purpose other than the purpose or purposes, if any, specified in such permit, or to any purpose specified in such permit in excess of any amount limited in such permit to be used for such purpose, shall be guilty of a public offense and shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars.

§ 14. Penalty for officers, etc. Every officer, agent, or employee of any company, and every other person, who knowingly authorizes, directs, or aids in the issue or sale of, or issues or executes, or sells, or causes or assists in causing to be issued, executed, or sold, any security, in nonconformity with a permit of the commissioner then in effect authorizing such issue, or contrary to the provisions of this act, or of the constitution of this state, or who, in any application to the commissioner, or in any proceeding before him, or in any examination, audit, or investigation made by him or his authority, knowingly makes any false statement or representation, or who, with knowledge of its falsity, files or causes to be filed in the office of the commissioner any false statement or representation concerning such company or the property which it then holds or proposes to acquire, or concerning its officers or its financial condition or other affairs, or concerning its proposed plan of business, or who, with knowledge of the falsity of any such statement or representation, issues, executes, or sells, or causes to be issued, executed, or sold, any security, without first informing the commissioner of the falsity of such statement in writing, or who, directly or indirectly, knowingly applies, or causes or assists in causing to be applied, the proceeds, or any part thereof, from the sale of any security to any purpose contrary to the provisions of the permit authorizing the issue of such security, or to any purpose specified in such permit in excess of any amount limited in such permit to be used for such purpose, or who, with knowledge that any security has been issued or executed in violation of any of the provisions of this act, sells or offers the same for sale, or who, with knowledge that any advertisement, pamphlet, prospectus, or circular concerning any security contains any statement that is false or misleading, or otherwise likely to deceive a reader thereof issues, circulates, or publishes the same, or shall cause the same to be issued, circulated, or published, or who, in any other respect, willfully violates or fails to comply with any of the provisions of this act, or who, in any other respect, willfully violates or fails, omits, or neglects to obey, observe, or comply with any order, permit, decision, demand, or requirement, or any part or provision thereof, of the commissioner under the provisions of this act, is guilty of a public offense and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding five years, or in a county jail not exceeding two years, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

§ 15. State corporation department created. There is hereby created a state corporation department. The chief officer of such department shall be the commissioner of corporations. He shall be appointed by the governor and hold office at the pleasure of the governor. He shall receive an annual salary of five thousand dollars, to be paid monthly out of the state treasury upon a warrant of the controller. He shall within fifteen days from the time of notice of his appointment take and subscribe to the constitutional oath of office and file the same in the office of the secretary of state and execute to the people of the state a bond in the penal sum of ten thousand dollars with corporate security or two or more sureties, to be approved by the governor of the state, for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office.

§ 16. Clerks and deputies. Duty of attorney general. The commissioner shall employ such clerks and deputies as he may need to discharge in proper manner the duties imposed upon him by law. The attorney general shall render to the commissioner opinions upon all questions of law, relating to the construction or interpretation of this act or arising in the administration thereof, that may be submitted to him by the commissioner, and shall act as the attorney for the commissioner in all actions and proceedings brought by or against him under or pursuant to any of the provisions of this act. Neither the commissioner nor any of his clerks or deputies shall be interested in any company which shall have applied for or secured a permit to sell securities, or in any broker, or agent as a director, stockholders, officer, member, agent, or employee. Such clerks and deputies shall perform such duties as the commissioner shall assign to them. He shall fix the compensation of such clerks and deputies, which compensation shall be paid monthly, on the certificate of the commissioner and on the warrant of the controller, out of the state treasury. Each deputy shall, within fifteen days after his appointment, take and subscribe to the constitutional oath of office, and file the same in the office of the secretary of state.

§ 17. Powers of commissioner. The commissioner shall at all times have the power to administer oaths and to make an examination or investigation of the books, records, accounts, and other papers, and of the business of any company, broker, or agent permitted or authorized by him to sell securities, to make dividends, to create debts, to divide, withdraw, or pay to the stockholders, or any of them, any part of its capital stock, or to increase or reduce its capital stock. In any examination, audit, or investigation made or hearing conducted by him, he shall have the power to take the testimony of any witness and to issue subpoenas requiring the attendance upon such examination, audit, investigation, or hearing in any part of the state of witnesses and the production of books, documents, and other things under their control, and in any such case to take or cause to be taken the deposition of any witness residing within or without the state. All of the provisions of Chapter II of Title III of Part IV of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to the means of production of evidence out of court, shall be applicable to any examination, investigation, or hearing under this act. No person shall be excused from testifying or from producing any book, document, or other thing under his control upon any such examination, audit, investigation, or hearing upon the ground that his testimony, or the book, document, or other thing required of him, may tend to incriminate him, or may have a tendency to subject him to punishment for a felony, or to a penalty or forfeiture; but no person shall be prosecuted, punished, or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any act, transaction, matter, or thing concerning which he shall have been so compelled to testify under oath, or to produce such documentary or other evidence; provided, that no person so testifying shall be exempt from prosecution or punishment for perjury if committed by him in his testimony. The authority to make or conduct any such examination, audit, investigation, or hearing, including the authority to administer oaths, and to subpoena witnesses and take their testimony, may be delegated by the commissioner to any deputy or examiner appointed by him for that purpose. Such appointment shall be made by an instrument in writing, signed by the commissioner under his official seal, and upon such examination, audit, investigation, or hearing, the same shall be produced by such deputy or examiner at any time upon demand therefor.

§ 18. Service of process. In any action or proceeding commenced or prosecuted in this state against any corporation or association which shall have appointed the commissioner its attorney, as provided in section three of this act, and in any action or proceeding commenced or prosecuted in this state, arising out of or founded upon the actual fraud of any corporation or association which shall have appointed the commissioner its attorney, as provided in section five of this act, service of process may be made upon the commissioner. In any such case, the commissioner shall forthwith forward by mail, postage prepaid, to the person designated by such corporation or association by an instrument in writing duly executed by it and filed with the commissioner, at the address stated in such instrument, or, if no such designation has been made, to the secretary of such corporation or association at its last known post-office address, a copy of such process; whereupon, and upon the payment of the fee herein provided for, service of such process upon such company shall be deemed to be complete and to be personal service upon such corporation or association, with the same effect as if said corporation or association were organized or incorporated under the laws of this state and had been lawfully served with process therein. The certificate of the commissioner, under his official seal, of such service, shall be competent and sufficient proof thereof.

§ 19. Offices. The commissioner shall have his principal office in the city of Sacramento, and may establish branch offices in the city and county of San Francisco, and in the city of Los Angeles, and he shall from time to time obtain the necessary furniture, stationery, fuel, light, and other proper conveniences for the transaction of the business of the department; the expenses of which shall be paid out of the state treasury on the certificate of the commissioner and the warrant of the controller.

§ 20. Fees. "Corporation commission fund." The commissioner shall charge and collect the following fees:

1. For filing any application for a permit to issue securities, ten dollars, plus—

One twentieth of one per cent of the amount of any excess of the aggregate value of the securities sought to be issued over twenty thousand dollars and not exceeding fifty thousand dollars;

One twenty-fifth of one per cent of such amount in excess of fifty thousand dollars and not exceeding one hundred thousand dollars;

One fiftieth of one per cent of such amount in excess of one hundred thousand dollars and not exceeding five hundred thousand dollars; and

One one-hundredth of one per cent of such amount in excess of five hundred thousand dollars.

The value of such securities shall be deemed to be their par or face value, if they have a par or face value; otherwise, the price at which the company proposes to sell or issue the same, or the value, as alleged in the application, of the consideration (if other than money) to be received in exchange therefor.

2. For filing any application for a permit or other authority to make dividends, create debts, or to divide, withdraw, increase, reduce or pay to the stockholders or any of them the capital stock, or any part thereof, the same amount that would otherwise be chargeable or collectible if such application were for a permit to issue securities; provided, that in any such case the value shall be determined by the amount of dividends made, debts created, or capital stock divided, withdrawn, increased, reduced, or paid.

3. For filing any application for a broker's certificate, five dollars.

4. For filing application for an agent's certificate, one dollar.

5. For any examination, audit, or investigation, ten dollars per day or fraction thereof, if made by the commissioner, or the actual amount of the salary or other compensation, not exceeding ten dollars per day, paid to any deputy or other employee of the commissioner, if made by a deputy or other employee, for each day or fraction thereof that such commissioner, deputy, or other employee shall necessarily be absent from his office for the purpose of making such examination, audit, or investigation, plus the actual amount of traveling expenses reasonably incurred in the performance of such work.

6. For copies of papers and records not required to be certified or otherwise authenticated by the commissioner, ten cents for each folio.

7. For certified copies of official documents, orders, and other papers filed in his office; for making and mailing copies of process served upon him under the provisions of section eighteen of this act, and for transcripts on appeal, fifteen cents for each folio and one dollar for each certificate under seal affixed thereto.

8. For certificate of service and mailing of process served upon the commissioner under the provisions of sections eighteen of this act, two dollars.

No fees shall be charged or collected for copies of papers, records, or official documents furnished to public officers for use in their official capacity or for the reports of the commissioner in the ordinary course of distribution; but the commissioner may fix a reasonable charge for publications issued under his authority.

All fees charged and collected under this section shall be paid at least once each week, accompanied by a detailed statement thereof, into the treasury of the state to the credit of a fund to be known as the "corporation commission fund," which fund is hereby created.

§ 21. Appropriated for use of commissioner. Revolving fund. All moneys which shall be paid into the state treasury and credited to the "corporation commission fund" are hereby appropriated to be used by the commissioner in carrying out the provisions of this act; and the controller shall draw his warrant on said fund from time to time in favor of the commissioner for the amounts expended under his direction, and the treasurer shall pay the same. The commissioner may, with the consent of the board of control, withdraw from said fund a sum not exceeding one thousand dollars, to be used as a revolving fund where cash advances are necessary. The commissioner must account for the sum withdrawn for said revolving fund at any time upon demand of the board of control.

§ 22. Seal. The commissioner shall adopt a seal bearing the following inscription: "Commissioner of Corporations State of California." The seal shall be affixed to all writs, orders, permits, and certificates issued by him, and to such other instruments as he shall direct. All courts shall take judicial notice of said seal.

§ 23. Copies of orders, etc. The commissioner may execute in duplicate any order, finding, or permit issued by him, and each of such parts shall be deemed to be an original. An original of every such order, finding, or permit shall be retained and preserved by him in his office. Copies of all documents, orders, and permits made, executed, or issued by the commissioner, and of all papers filed in his office, when certified by the commissioner under his official seal, shall be received in evidence in all cases in like manner and with the same effect as the originals. Any order or permit issued by the commissioner, or a copy thereof certified by the commissioner under his official seal, to be a true copy of the original order or permit, may be recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which is located the principal place of business of the company affected thereby or in which is situated any property of such company, and such record shall impart notice of such order or permit, and of all its provisions, to all persons. A certificate under the seal of the commissioner that any such order or permit has not been amended, altered, revoked, or suspended may also be recorded in the same offices and with like effect.

§ 24. Official reports prima facie evidence. Every official report made by the commissioner, and every report, duly verified, made to him by any deputy, clerk, or other person employed by him, of any examination, audit, or investigation made by him or under his direction, and copies of such reports, certified by the commissioner, shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated for all purposes in any action or proceeding wherein any company, broker, agent, or the commissioner is a party.

§ 25. Subscription for shares prior to incorporation. Election of officers prior to issuing shares. Neither this act nor any provision hereof shall be deemed to prohibit subscriptions for shares of a corporation made prior to the incorporation thereof and set forth in its articles of incorporation; but such subscriptions shall be deemed to have been made and accepted upon the condition that such corporation, when incorporated, shall with reasonable diligence apply for and secure from the commissioner a permit authorizing the issue of the shares so subscribed for, in accordance with such subscriptions. The directors or trustees named in the articles of incorporation may, prior to the issue of any shares, organize by the election of a president, who must be one of their number, a secretary and a treasurer; and such directors, or a majority of them, or such president and secretary may, in the name of and in behalf of the corporation, present an application to the commissioner as herein provided.

"An act to define investment companies, investment brokers, and agents; to provide for the regulation, supervision and licensing thereof; to provide penalties for the violation thereof; to create the office of commissioner of corporations, and making an appropriation therefor," approved May 28, 1913, as amended by an act entitled "An act to amend section three of an act entitled 'An act to define investment companies, investment brokers, and agents; to provide for the regulation, supervision and licensing thereof; to provide penalties for the violation thereof; to create the office of commissioner of corporations, and making an appropriation therefor,' approved May 28, 1913," approved June 3, 1915, shall be construed as a continuation thereof.

All decisions, orders, rules, findings, certificates, or permits heretofore made or issued, and acts done by the commissioner, shall continue in force and have the same effect as if they had been lawfully made, issued, or done under the provisions of this act.

This act shall not affect any appeal pending from any decision of the commissioner, or any proceeding to which he, in his official capacity, is a party; but the same may be prosecuted or defended with the same effect as if this act had not been passed. Any examination, audit, or investigation undertaken, commenced, or prosecuted prior to the taking effect of this act may be conducted to a final determination in the same manner and with the same effect as if it had been undertaken, commenced, or prosecuted under the provisions of this act, and in the manner herein provided. No action or proceeding, either civil or criminal, or cause of action arising under any law of this state shall abate by reason of the passage of this act, but actions or proceedings may be commenced and prosecuted upon such causes in the same manner and with the same effect as if this act had not been passed.

§ 27. Foreign and interstate commerce. Neither this act nor any provision hereof shall apply to or be construed as a regulation of commerce with foreign nations or among the several states, except in so far as the same may be permitted under the provisions of the constitution and the acts of the congress of the United States.

§ 28. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

§ 29. Repealed. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

TITLE 266.

IRRIGATION.

ACT 1723j.

An act to authorize irrigation districts to co-operate and contract with the United States under the provisions of the federal reclamation laws for a water supply, or the construction, operation or maintenance of works, including drainage works, or for the assumption by the district of indebtedness to the United States on account of district lands; and to provide the manner and method of payments to the United States under such contract, and for the apportionment of assessments, and levy thereof, upon the lands of the district to secure revenue for such payments, and to provide for the judicial review and determination of the validity of the proceedings in connection with such contract.

§ 1. Irrigation districts may co-operate with the United States. In addition to the powers with which irrigation districts have been vested under the act approved March 31, 1897, and acts amendatory thereof or supplementary thereto and acts of or to which said act is amendatory or supplementary, irrigation districts heretofore or hereafter organized under said acts shall have the following powers: To co-operate and contract with the United States under the federal reclamation act of June 17, 1902, and all acts amendatory thereof or supplementary thereto, or any other act of congress heretofore or hereafter enacted authorizing or permitting such co-operation, for purposes of construction of works, whether for irrigation or drainage, or both, or for the acquisition, purchase, extension, operation or maintenance of constructed works, or for a water supply, or for the assumption as principal or guarantor of indebtedness to the United States on account of district lands.

§ 2. Power of board of directors. Transfer of books. Appointment as fiscal agent. The board of directors shall generally perform all such acts as shall be necessary to carry out the enlarged powers in this act enumerated. Said board may enter into any obligation or contract with the United States for the aforesaid purposes, and may provide therein for the delivery and distribution of water for the lands of such district under the aforesaid acts of congress and the rules and regulations established thereunder. The contract may provide for the conveyance to the United States as partial consideration for the privileges obtained by the district under said contract, of water rights or other property of the district; and in case contract has been or may hereafter be made with the United States as herein provided, bonds of the district may be transferred to, or deposited with the United States, if so provided by said contract and authorized as hereinafter set forth, at not less than ninety-five per cent of their par value, to the amount to be paid by the district to United States or any part thereof; the interets, or principal, or both, on said bonds to be raised by assessment and levy as hereinafter prescribed, and to be regularly paid to the United States and applied as provided in said contract. Bonds transferred to or deposited with the United States may call for the payment of such interest not exceeding six per cent per annum, may be of such denomination, and may call for the repayment of the principal at such times as may be agreed upon between the board and the secretary of the interior. The contract with the United States may likewise call for the payment of the amount or amounts to be paid by the district to the United States or any part thereof at such times and in such installments and with such interest charges not exceeding the aforesaid rate as may be agreed upon, and for assessment and levy therefor as hereinafter provided. Moreover the board may accept on behalf of the district, appointment of the district as fiscal agent of the United States, or authorization of the district by the United States to make collection of moneys for or on behalf of the United States in connection with any federal reclamation project, whereupon the district shall be authorized so to act and to assume the duties and liabilities incident to such action, and the said board shall have full power to do any and all things required by the federal statutes now or hereafter enacted in connection therewith, and all things required by the rules and regulations now or that may hereafter be established by any department of the federal government in regard thereto. Districts co-operating with the United States may rent or lease water to private lands, entrymen, or municipalities in the neighborhood of the district, in pursuance of contract with the United States.

§ 3. Election on proposal to enter contract. Notice. Ballots. Any proposal to enter into a contract with the United States for the repayment of construction moneys, the cost of a water supply or the acquisition of property, and to issue bonds, if any be proposed, shall be voted upon at an election wherein proceedings shall be had in so far as applicable in the manner provided in the case of the ordinary issuance of district bonds. Said proposal, with such plans and estimates of cost as have been made in connection therewith, shall be submitted to the state engineer for his examination and report, and the proceedings in that regard shall be in accord with section thirty of the act approved March 31, 1897, as amended, in so far as the same may be applicable. Notice of the election herein provided for shall contain in addition to the information required in the case of ordinary bond election a statement of the maximum amount of money to be payable to the United States for construction purposes, cost of water supply and acquisition of property, exclusive of penalties and interest, together with a general statement of the property, if any, to be conveyed by the district as hereinabove provided. The ballots at such election shall contain a brief statement of the general purpose of said contract and the amount of the obligation to be assumed, as aforesaid, with the words "Contract—Yes" and "Contract—No," or "Contract and bonds—Yes" and "Contracts and Bonds—No," as the case may be. The board of directors may submit any such contract or proposed contract and bond issue if any, to the superior court of the county wherein is located the office of said board to determine the validity thereof and the authority of the board to enter into such contract, and the authority for and validity of the issuance and deposit or transfer of said bonds; whereupon the same proceedings shall be had as in the ordinary case of the judicial determination of the validity of bonds and with like effect.

§ 4. Distribution of water. All water, the right to the use of which is acquired by the district under any contract with the United States shall be distributed and apportioned by the district in accordance with the acts of congress applicable thereto, the rules and regulations of the secretary of the interior thereunder, and the provisions of said contract, and provision may be made in the contract between the district and the United States for the refusal of water service to any or all lands which may become delinquent in the payment of any assessment levied for the purpose of carrying out any contract between the district and the United States.

§ 5. Rights of way conveyed. Any rights of way or other property owned or acquired by the district may be conveyed by the board to the United States in so far as the same may be needed for the construction, operation and maintenance of works by the United States for the benefit of the district under any contract that mey be entered into with the United States pursuant to this act.

§ 6. Payments by annual assessments. All payments due or to become due to the United States under any contract between the district and the United States, including such payments of interest and principal on bonds as may be required in connection with a deposit or transfer thereof to the United States, shall be paid, unless otherwise provided by contract, by revenue derived from annual assessments, apportioned as hereinafter prescribed, and levies thereof, upon such real property within the district as may be assessable for district purposes under the laws of the state, and such real property shall be and remain liable to be assessed and levied upon for such payments as herein provided. It shall be the duty of the board of directors annually to levy an assessment sufficient to raise the money necessary to meet all payments when due as provided in the contract. All money collected in pursuance of such contract by assessments and levies, or otherwise, shall be paid into the district treasury and held in a fund to be known as the "United States contract fund," to be used for payments due to the United States under any such contract. Public lands of the United States within any district shall be subject to assessment for all purposes of this act to the extent provided for by the act of congress approved August 11, 1916, entitled "An act to promote reclamation of arid lands," or any other law which may hereafter be enacted by congress in the same relation, upon full compliance therewith by the district. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to relieve the district from obligation to pay as a district in case of default of any land, unless so provided by the said contract between the district and the United States.

§ 7. Apportionment of assessment. The assessment required in any year to meet the payment due to the United States for all purposes under the contract as in this act provided may be apportioned in accordance with the benefits, and in the ascertainment of such benefits there shall be taken into account the provisions of the contract between the United States and the district, the federal laws applicable thereto, and the notices and regulations issued in pursuance of said laws, and in case such contract is for the assumption by the district as principal or guarantor of indebtedness to the United States theretofore existing on account of district lands, there shall be further taken into account the provisions of existing contracts carrying such indebtedness and the amounts of such liens as may be released in pursuance of the contract between the United States and the district.

§ 8. Change in boundaries. Where contract shall have been entered into between the United States and any irrigation district the district shall not be dissolved, nor shall the boundaries be changed, except upon written consent of the secretary of the interior filed with the official records of the district. If such consent be given and lands be excluded, the areas excluded shall be free from all liens and charges for payments to become due to the United States.

§ 9. Acts in force. The provisions of the general irrigation district act, approved March 31, 1897, and acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto, shall be and remain in force as regards irrigation districts in this act referred to except in so far as herein modified expressly or by necessary implication; and nothing in this act shall be so construed as to affect irrigation district operations not related to co-operation with the United States. However, the provisions of section fifty-three of said act, approved March 31, 1897, shall not apply in case of any contract between an irrigation district and the United States.

An act to recognize and declare valid all proceedings in Carmichael irrigation district.

[Approved March 20, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 12. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Carmichael irrigation district validated. Carmichael irrigation district as formed by the board of supervisors of the county of Sacramento, state of California, and as now existing, is hereby recognized and declared valid and all proceedings on organization and formation are hereby approved and declared valid.

ACT 1725f.

Amended 1901, p. 815; 1905, p. 27; 1909, pp. 12, 46, 429, 461, 998, 1062, 1075; 1911, pp. 509, 1111; 1911 (Extra Session), pp. 135, 139, 248; 1913, pp. 59, 781, 993; 1915, pp. 836, 1291, 1326, 1367; 1917, pp. 751, 915.

The amendments of 1917 follow:

§ 1. Majority of owners may organize irrigation district. Evidence of title. A majority in number of the holders of title, or evidences of title, including the holders of possessory rights under receipts or other evidence of the rights of entrymen or purchasers under any law of the United States or of this state, to lands susceptible of irrigation from a common source and by the same system of works, including pumping from subsurface or other waters, such holders of title, or evidence of title and of possessory rights, representing a majority in value of said lands, according to the equalized county assessment roll or rolls for the year last preceding, may propose the organization of an irrigation district, under the provisions of this act; or the organization of an irrigation district of land susceptible of irrigation from a common source and by the same system of works, including pumping from subsurface or other waters, under the provisions of this act, may be proposed by written petition signed by not less than five hundred petitioners, each petitioner to be an adult person residing in the proposed district, or to be some person, corporation, association or partnership, the holder of title to lands in said proposed irrigation district, or evidence of title to land in said proposed irrigation district, includng the holders of possessory rights under receipts or other evidence of the rights of entrymen or purchasers under any law of the United States or of this state, the said petitioners signing said petition shall include the owners of not less than twenty per cent in value of the land within said proposed irrigation district according to the equalized county assessment roll or rolls for the year last preceding. Such lands proposed to be organized into an irrigation district need not consist of contiguous parcels.

Said equalized assessment roll or rolls shall be sufficient evidence of title and of such possessory rights, for the purposes of this act, except that where property is assessed to unknown owners or the assessment-roll does not purport to give the true name or gives the names of a portion only of the owners of any parcel, the actual owners of said property shall be considered the owners for all the purposes of this act, and owners of undivided interests may sign for such interest and each such owner shall be considered as one assessment payer; and provided, further, that guardians, executors, administrators or other persons holding property in a trust capacity under appointment of court may sign any petition provided for in this act, when authorized by an order of court, which order may be made without notice. A certificate of acknowledgment taken before a notary public or justice of the peace of any state, or an affidavit by any person in the presence of whom such petition was signed, shall be sufficient evidence of the genuineness of such signature and of the fact of place of residence of any petitioner and any fact going to the qualifications of petitioners under this act. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 751.]

§ 2. Petition to organize irrigation district. Publication. Hearing. Investigation of state engineer. Report that project is not feasible. Final hearing. Change of boundaries. In order to propose the organization of an irrigation district, a petition shall be presented to the board of supervisors of the county in which the lands within the proposed district, or the greater portion thereof, are situated, signed by the required number of holders of title, or evidence of title, including such aforesaid possessory rights to lands within such proposed district, and representing the requisite majority in value of said land, or a petition shall be presented to said board of supervisors signed by not less than five hundred petitioners, each petitioner to the number of at least five hundred to be an elector in the proposed district, or to be some person, corporation, association or partnership, the holder of title to lands in said proposed irrigation district, or evidence of title to lands in said proposed irrigation district, including the holders of possessory rights under receipts or other evidence of the rights of entrymen or purchasers under any laws of the United States or of this state, the said petitioners signing said petition shall include the owners of not less than twenty per cent in value of the land within said proposed irrigation district according to the equalized county assessment roll or rolls for the year last preceding, which petition shall set forth generally the boundaries of the proposed district and also shall state generally the source or sources (which may be in the alternative) from which said lands are proposed to be irrigated, and shall pray that the territory embraced within the boundaries of the proposed district may be organized as an irrigation district under the provisions of this act. The petition may consist of any number of separate instruments, and must be accompanied with a good and sufficient undertaking, to be approved by the board of supervisors, in double the amount of the probable cost of organizing such district, conditioned that the sureties shall pay all of said costs in case said organization shall not be affected. Said petition shall be presented at a regular meeting of said board and shall be published for at least two weeks before the time at which the same is to be presented in some newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the county where said petition is presented together with a notice stating the time of the meeting at which the same will be presented; and if any portion of the lands within said proposed district lie within another county or counties, then said petition and notice shall be published, as above provided, in a newspaper published in each of said counties. When contained upon more than one instrument, one copy only of such petition need be published, but the names attached to all of said instruments must appear in such publication. On or before the day on which said petition is presented to said board of supervisors, a copy of said petition shall be filed in the office of the state engineer. When said petition is presented, said board of supervisors shall hear the same and shall proceed to determine whether or not said petition complies with the requirements hereinbefore set forth and whether or not the notice required herein has been published as required, and must hear all competent and relevant testimony offered in support of or in opposition thereto. Said hearing may be adjourned from time to time for the determination of said facts, not exceeding two weeks in all. No defect in the contents of the petition or in the title to or form of the notice or signatures, or lack of signatures thereto, shall vitiate any proceedings thereon; provided, such petition or petitions have a sufficient number of qualified signatures attached thereto. The determination of the board shall be expressed by resolution. If it shall determine that any of the requirements hereinbefore set forth have not been complied with, the matter shall be dismissed, but without prejudice to the right of the proper number of persons to present a new petition covering the same matter or to present the same petition with additional signatures, if such additional signatures are necessary to comply with the requirements of this act. If the board of supervisors shall determine that the petitioners have complied with the requirements hereinbefore set forth, it shall cause a copy of the resolution so declaring to be forwarded to the state engineer and shall postpone further hearing of said petition until a report shall be received from the state engineer. Upon receiving a copy of said resolution, the state engineer shall make or cause to be made such preliminary investigation as may be practicable, with a view to determining the feasibility of the project proposed to be undertaken. He shall report as soon as practicable, but at all events within ninety days, in writing, on the matter to the board of supervisors from which the copy of said resolution was received, and such board of supervisors at their next regular meeting following the receipt of said report shall set a time for the consideration of said report; provided, that such time shall not be less than one week from such regular meeting of said board of supervisors; and provided, further, that notice of such time shall be given by registered mail to such party as shall have been designated for that purpose by the petitioners or by publication for at least three days in one daily newspaper published in the county in which the lands within the proposed district, or the greater portion thereof, are situated. A failure to give such last mentioned notice, however, shall not affect the validity of subsequent proceedings. If the state engineer shall report that the supply of water available for the use of the proposed district, or that may be acquired by any practicable means, including the condemnation of existing rights, is not sufficient or that the project is not feasible for any other reasons or reason and if such report shall be filed with the said board of supervisors before the expiration of ninety days from and after the date of the adoption of the aforesaid resolution, the hearing of the petition shall again be continued for not more than two months and shall then be dismissed, unless the board of supervisors shall be petitioned in writing by three-fourths in number of the holders of title or evidence of title including possessory rights, to land within said proposed district to grant the same; provided, that if such petition is not received the board of supervisors may modify the plans for the proposed district in accordance with recommendations by the state engineer. If the report of the state engineer shall not compel the continuance of the matter as aforesaid, or if no report is received or if the state engineer makes a written statement that he has been unable to make such report, or if no report is made at the first regular meeting after the expiration of said ninety days, the board of supervisors shall, at the meeting at which said report shall have been set for hearing, proceed to a final hearing of the petition. If said board shall, after receiving an adverse report from the state engineer, as aforesaid, decide to modify the plan as set forth in said petition or shall be requested in writing by three-fourths in number of the holders of title or evidence of title, including possessory rights, to the lands within said proposed district to grant said petition, said board shall then proceed at the time set to a final hearing of the matter. On a final hearing herein provided for, the board may adjourn from day to day, but not for a longer time, until a determination of the matter is reached. On said final hearing said board shall make such changes in the proposed boundaries as it may deem advisable and shall define and establish such boundaries, but said board shall not modify said boundaries so as to exclude from such proposed district any territory which is susceptible of irrigation from any of the sources proposed, unless said board shall decide to modify the plan for such proposed district, as herein provided, nor shall any lands which will not, in the judgment of said board, be benefited by irrigation by means of any said systems or works be included within such proposed district. Lands already irrigated and riparian lands may be included in the district if in the judgment of the board of supervisors such land will be benefited, or if the water used thereon or the rights to the use of water thereon should in the judgment of the board of supervisors, be taken or acquired for the district. Any person whose lands are susceptible of irrigation from any of the proposed sources may, upon his application, in the discretion of said board, have such lands included within said proposed district. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 752.]

ing shall deem it in the public interest that preliminary surveys and field investigations of proposed irrigation district projects shall be made at the expense of the state, the state engineer shall make such surveys and field investigations of such proposed irrigation district projects, and, pending the completion of such surveys and investigation, the state water commission shall have authority to withhold from appropriation any unappropriated waters likely to be needed therefor. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 755.]

§ 14. Board of directors, monthly meetings. Special meetings. Quorum. The board of directors shall hold a regular meeting on the first Tuesday of each month at the place selected as the office of the board; provided, that the board may, by resolution duly entered upon its minutes, fix any other time as the time for its regular monthly meeting, but no change in the time of holding regular meetings of the board shall be made until after the resolution proposing such change has been published once a week for two successive weeks in a newspaper published in the county in which the office of the district is kept. Such special meetings of the board of directors may be held as may be required for the proper transaction of the business of the district, but a special meeting must be ordered by a majority of the board. The order must be entered of record, and five days' notice thereof must by the secretary be given to each director not joining in the order. The order must specify the business to be transacted, and no other business than that specified in the order may be transacted at such special meeting, unless all the members are present and consent to the consideration of any business not specified in said order. All meetings of the board must be public and three members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business; provided, however, that when the board consists of three members only, then in such case two shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, but on all questions requiring a vote, except a motion to adjourn or a motion to adjourn to a stated time, there shall be a concurrence of at least the number constituting a quorum. A smaller number of directors than a quorum may adjourn from day to day. All records of the board shall be open to public inspection during business hours. Whenever any act is required to be done or proceeding taken by this act, or by an act supplemental or amendatory thereto, on the first Tuesday in any month, such act may be done or proceeding had upon the day specified in the resolution hereinbefore referred to as the time for the regular meeting of the board of directors; provided, also, that when a day other than the first Tuesday in the month shall have been specified as the time for the regular meeting of the board of directors, thereafter the newly elected officers of the district shall take office at noon on the day fixed for the regular monthly meeting of said board in March and said board shall meet for reorganization and the transaction of any other business of the district in the afternoon of said day. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 755.]

§ 14a. Publication of financial condition. The board of directors at their regular monthly meeting in January of each year shall render and immediately thereafter cause to be published a verified statement of the financial condition of the district, showing particularly the receipts and disbursements of the last preceding year, together with the source of such receipts and purpose of such disbursements. Said publication shall be made at least once a week for two weeks, in some newspaper, published in the county where the office of the board of directors of such district is situated. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 756.]

§ 15. Powers of directors. The board of directors shall have the power and it shall be their duty to manage and conduct the business and affairs of the district; make and execute all necessary contracts; employ and appoint such agents, officers, and employees as may be required, and prescribe their duties. The board and its agents and employees shall have the right to enter upon any land to make surveys, and may locate the necessary irrigation works and the line for canal or canals, and the necessary branches for the same on any lands which may be deemed best for such location. Said board shall also have the right to acquire, by purchase, lease, contract, condemnation, or other legal means, all lands, and waters, and water rights, and other property necessary for the construction, use, supply, maintenance, repair and improvements of said canal, or canals, and works, whether in this or in other states or in a foreign nation, including canals, and works constructed and being constructed by private owners, lands for reservoirs for the storage of needful waters, and all necessary appurtenances, and also where necessary or convenient to said ends to acquire and hold the stock of other corporations domestic or foreign owning waters, canals, waterworks, franchises, concessions or rights. Said board may also acquire, own and manage such canals, reservoirs and other works jointly with other irrigation districts and irrigation corporations and may acquire the right to carry water through the canals of other irrigation districts and corporations, and may likewise grant the right to carry water through canals owned by it to other irrigation districts and irrigation corporations in this or adjoining states. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 756.]

§ 15a. Limit on purchase. Petition of owners. No purchase or lease of any waters, or water rights, or canals, or reservoirs, or reservoir sites, or irrigation works, or other property of any nature or kind, or stock in any other corporation, for any price, aggregate rental or consideration, or exchange of bonds at par, in excess of ten thousand dollars, in any district whose area does not exceed fifty thousand acres, or in excess of fifty thousand dollars in any district whose area is over fifty thousand acres, and not more than two hundred thousand acres, nor in excess of one hundred thousand acres, shall be final or binding on the district, nor shall the purchase price, rental or consideration or any part thereof, be paid or rendered until a petition of a majority of the holders of title, or evidence of title, and of possessory rights as aforesaid to lands within the district, such holders of title, or evidence of title, and of possessory rights representing a majority in value of said land, according to the last equalized assessment-roll of the district, if such has theretofore been made, and if such has not been made, then according to the equalized county assessment-roll covering lands of such district, shall have been filed with the board and an order of the board made thereon confirming such purchase, or until a petition shall be presented to said board of directors, signed by not less than five hundred petitioners, each petitioner to be an elector in the district or to be some person, corporation, association or partnership, holder of title to lands in said district or evidence of title to land in said district, including the holders of possessory rights under receipts or other evidence of the rights of entrymen or purchasers under any law of the United States or of this state, said petitioners to include the owners of not less than twenty per cent in value of the land within said district according to the equalized county assessment-roll or rolls for the year last preceding, and an order of the board made thereon confirming said purchase; provided, that such petition shall not be required where the property to be purchased or the lease was specified in the plans approved by the irrigation district bond commission and adopted by the board of directors as provided in section thirty of this act, or was among the purposes specified for any bond issue authorized by vote of the electors of said district. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 757.

§ 15b. Dams. Conveyances. The board of directors of any irrigation district may also construct the necessary dams, reservoirs, and works for the collection of water for said district, and do any and every lawful act necessary to be done, that sufficient water may be furnished to each land owner in said district for irrigation and domestic purposes; provided, that where, within irrigation districts mutual water companies have been organized to furnish water to certain specified lands within said districts, the board of directors of such districts are hereby authorized and empowered to contract for the delivery of water for such lands as lie within the boundary of said water companies, through said mutual water companies only. The said board is hereby authorized and empowered to take conveyances, leases, contracts or other assurances for all property acquired by it under the provisions of this act, in the name of such irrigation district, to and for the uses and purposes herein expressed, and to institute and maintain any and all actions and proceedings, suits at law and in equity necessary or proper in order to fully carry out the provisions of this act, or to enforce, maintain, protect or preserve any and all rights, privileges and immunities created by this act, or acquired in pursuance thereof. And in all courts, actions, suits or proceedings, the said board may sue, appear and defend in person or by attorneys, and in the name of such irrigation district. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 758.]

§ 15c. Rules for use of water. It shall be the duty of the board of directors of any irrigation district to establish equitable by-laws, rules and regulations for the distribution and use of water among the owners of said lands, which must be printed in convenient form for distribution in the district. Said board shall have power generally to perform all such acts as shall be necessary to fully carry out the purposes of this act. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 758.]

and the convenience of the electors thereof, may at any time, but not less than sixty days before an election to be held in the district, change the boundaries of the divisions or election precincts of the district or of both; provided, such changes shall be made to keep each division as nearly equal in area and population as may be practicable. Such change of boundaries of the divisions and precincts must be shown on the minutes of the board. The board of directors of any irrigation district now or that may hereafter be organized in the state, shall also have the power, and such board is hereby vested with the authority, to lease the system of canals and works in the district, or any part thereof, whenever such leasing may be for the benefit of the district; provided, that when the directors of any irrigation district contemplate the leasing of the canals and works of such district, they shall give notice of such contemplation by publishing the same in some newspaper published in the county in which such irrigation district lies, at least three weeks prior to the making of the lease, and such lease shall be made to the highest bidder. But such board shall have the right to reject any and all bids. Such lease shall in no way interfere with any rights that may have been established by law, at the time such lease is made; and, further provided, that the board of directors shall require a good and sufficient bond to secure faithful performance of the lease by the lessees.

NOTE.—Section 15½ of the act was renumbered as § 15d and amended May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 758.

§ 15½. [See § 15d and note.]

§ 16. Condemnation proceedings. In case of condemnation proceedings the board shall proceed, in the name of the district, under the provisions of title seven, part three of the Code of Civil Procedure of the state of California, and all pleadings, proceedings, and process in said title provided shall be applicable to the condemnation proceedings hereunder. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 759.]

§ 19. Irrigation district officers to be elected. An election, which shall be known as the general irrigation district election, shall be held in each irrigation district on the first Wednesday in February in each odd-numbered year, at which a successor shall be chosen to each officer whose term shall expire in March next thereafter. The person receiving the highest number of votes for each office to be filled at such election shall be elected thereto. The elective officers of an irrigation district shall be as many directors as there are divisions in the district, and an assessor, a collector and a treasurer; provided, that if any two or more offices shall have been consolidated as provided in section seven or section twenty-seven hereof, only one person shall be elected to fill such consolidated offices. The term of office of each elective officer of an irrigation district elected at or after the general irrigation district election in one thousand nine hundred nineteen shall be four years, or until his successor is elected and has qualified. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 759.]

subscribe the official oath, and file the same in the office of the board of directors, and execute the bond hereinafter provided for. The assessor shall execute an official bond in the sum of five thousand dollars, and the collector an official bond in the sum of twenty thousand dollars, and the district treasurer an official bond in the sum of fifty thousand dollars; each of said bonds to be approved by the board of directors; provided, that the board of directors may, if it shall be deemed advisable, fix the bonds of the treasurer and collector, respectively, to suit the conditions of the district, the maximum amount of the treasurer's bond not to exceed fifty thousand dollars, and the minumum amount thereof not to be less than ten thousand dollars; and the maximum amount of the collector's bond not to exceed twenty thousand dollars, and the minimum amount of the collector's bond not to be less than five thousand dollars. Each member of said board of directors shall execute an official bond in the sum of five thousand dollars, which said bonds shall be approved by the judge of the superior court of said county where such organization was effected, and shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder thereof, and filed with the secretary of said board. All official bonds herein provided for shall be in the form prescribed by law for the official bonds of county officers and the premiums thereon may be paid by the district; provided, that in case any district organized under this title is appointed fiscal agent of the United States or by the United States in connection with any federal reclamation project, each of said officers shall execute a further and additional official bond in such sum as the secretary of the interior may require, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office and the faithful discharge by the district of its duties as fiscal or other agent of the United States under any such appointment or authorization, and any such bond may be sued upon by the United States or any person injured by the failure of such officer or the district to fully, promptly and completely perform their respective duties. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats 1917, p. 760.]

§ 19b. If election be not held. If an election is not held as herein provided, then upon the filing of a petition with the secretary of the board of directors of such district, signed by ten per cent of the electors residing within the boundaries of any such irrigation district, requesting that a special election be called for the election of such officers, the directors of such district shall thereupon call a special election thereof for the election of such officers, such election to be held within not less than fifteen, nor more than thirty days after the filing of such petition. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 760.]

§ 20. Beginning of term. Organization. At noon of the first Tuesday in March next following their election, except as provided in section fourteen of this act, the officers who shall have been elected at the preceding general irrigation district election shall enter upon the duties of their respective offices. On the first Tuesday in March next following each election, the directors shall meet and organize as a board, elect a president and appoint a secretary, who shall each hold office during the pleasure of the board. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 761.]

§ 26. Qualification of director. A director shall be a resident and freeholder of the irrigation district and a resident of the division which he is elected to represent. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 761.]

§ 28. Number of directors. In any district the board of directors thereof must upon a presentation of the petition therefor, by a majority of the holders of title, or evidence of title, of said district, evidenced as above provided, order that on and after the next ensuing general election for the district, there shall be either three or five directors. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 761.]

§ 30. Estimate of money needed for improvements. For the purpose of constructing or purchasing necessary irrigation canals and works, and acquiring the necessary property and rights therefor, and for the purpose of acquiring waters, water rights, reservoirs, reservoir sites, and other property necessary for the purposes of said district, and otherwise carrying out the provisions of this act, the board of directors of any such district must, as soon after such district has been organized as may be practicable, and also whenever thereafter the board of directors shall find that the construction fund raised by the last previous bond issue is insufficient, or that the construction fund has been exhausted by expenditures herein authorized therefrom and it is necessary to raise additional money for said purposes, estimate and determine the amount of money necessary to be raised. For the purpose of ascertaining the amount of money necessary to be raised for such purposes, or any of them, said board shall cause such surveys, examinations, drawings and plans to be made as shall furnish the proper basis for the said estimate. All such surveys, examinations, drawings and plans, and the estimate of cost based thereon shall be made under the direction of a competent irrigation engineer and shall be certified by him. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 761.]

§ 30a. Report submitted to commission. The board of directors shall then submit a copy of the said engineer's report to the commission authorized by law to approve bonds of irrigation districts for certification as legal investments for savings banks and for the other purposes specified in the act creating said commission. Said commission shall forthwith examine said report and any data in its possession or in the possession of said district and shall make such additional surveys and examinations at the expense of the district as it may deem proper or practicable, and as soon as practicable thereafter shall make to the board of directors of said district a report which shall contain such matters as, in the judgment of the said commission, may be desirable; provided, that it may state generally the conclusions of said commission regarding the supply of water available for the project, the nature of the soil proposed to be irrigated as to its fertility and susceptibility to irrigation, the probable amount of water needed for its irrigation and the probable need of drainage, the cost of works, water rights and other property necessary for a complete and satisfactory project, and whether in its opinion it is advisable to proceed with the proposed bond issue. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 762.]

§ 30b. Report to board of directors. Order of amount of bonds. If after such examination and investigation the said commission shall deem it advisable that the said plans be modified or that the amount of the bonds proposed to be issued be changed, or that under such conditions as the said commission shall prescribe such project or plan or works seems likely to prove feasible, or that in its opinion it is not advisable to proceed with the proposed bond issue, it shall so report to the board of directors of the district in writing. After receiving the said report, said board of directors, if it shall determine and shall declare by resolution that the proposed plan of works is satisfactory and that the said project is feasible, shall make an order determining the amount of bonds that should be issued in order to raise the money necessary therefor; and provided, further, that if any district shall issue bonds to carry out any plans approved by said irrigation district bond commission as herein provided it shall be unlawful for said district to make any material change in said plans thereafter without the consent of said commission. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 762.]

§ 30c. Special election. Thereafter said board when petitioned by a majority of the holders of title, or evidence of title, and of possessory rights to lands within the district, such holders of title, or evidence of title, and of such possessory rights representing a majority in value of said lands according to the equalized assessment-roll of the district, if such has theretofore been made, and, if such has not been made, then according to the equalized county assessment-roll covering the lands in such district, or when petitioned by not less than five hundred petitioners, each petition to the number of at least five hundred to be an elector in the district, or to be some person, corporation, association or partnership, the holder of title to land in the district or of evidence of title to land in said district, and which said petitioners signing said petition shall include the owners of not less than twenty per cent in value of the land within the irrigation district, according to the equalized county assessment-roll or rolls for the year last preceding, shall immediately call a special election, at which shall be submitted to the electors of such district possessing the qualifications prescribed by this act, the question whether or not the bonds of said district in the amount as set forth in said petition shall be issued. [New section added May, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 762.]

§ 30d. Notice. Notice of such election must be given by posting notices in three public places in each election precinct in said district for at least twenty days and also by publication of such notice in some newspaper published in the county where the office of the board of directors of such district is required to be kept, once a week for at least three successive weeks. Such notices must specify the time of holding the election, the amount of bonds proposed to be issued; and said election must be held and the result thereof determined and declared in all respects as nearly as practicable in conformity with the provisions of this act governing the election of officers; provided, that no informalities in conducting such an election shall invalidate the same if the election shall have been otherwise fairly conducted. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 762.]

§ 30e. Questions on ballot. Ballots. At said election questions as to the issuance of bonds may be submitted separately on the same ballot if estimates of the cost of the respective projects have been made and the irrigation district bond commission has reported thereon and the aforesaid petition has requested that said questions be so submitted and the respective propositions have been stated in the notices of the election. At such election the ballots shall contain a general statement of the proposition or propositions to be voted on, including the amount of bonds proposed to be issued for each purpose, but no informality in such statement shall vitiate the election. Each proposition shall be followed by the words "Yes" and "No," on separate lines, with a small inclosed space after each of said words. The electors shall vote for or against any proposition by stamping a cross (×) in the voting space after the word "Yes" or "No" respectively. On the ballot shall be printed the following under the heading "Instructions to voters": "To vote for a proposition, stamp a cross (×) in the voting space after the word 'Yes' following the proposition. To vote against a proposition, stamp a cross (×) in the voting space after the word 'No' following the proposition." If a majority of the votes cast for and against any proposition are for "Yes," the board of directors shall cause bonds in the amount specified in such proposition to be issued; if a majority of the votes cast for and against any proposition are for "No," the result of the vote on such proposition shall be so declared and entered of record. Whenever thereafter a petition of the character hereinbefore provided for in this section is presented to the board, it shall so declare of record in its minutes and shall thereupon submit such questions to said electors in the same manner and with like effect as at such previous election. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 763.]

§ 32a. Date payable. When bonds are issued bearing date other than January first or July first, it shall be lawful to make such bonds payable upon the first day of January or first day of July nearest the date when the same would be payable under the provisions of section thirty-one of this act, or to make the last interest coupon payable upon the date when the principal of said bond is payable. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 764.]

§ 33. Paid by annual assessment. Said bonds and the interest thereon shall be paid from revenue derived from an annual assessment upon the land within the district; and all the land within the district shall be and remain liable to be assessed for such payments as hereinafter provided, [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 764.]

§ 35. Duty of assessor. The assessor must, between the first Monday in March and the first Monday in June, in each year, assess all real estate in the district, to the persons who own, claim or have possession or control thereof, at its full cash value, as follows: He must prepare an assessment-book, with appropriate headings, in which must be listed all such property within the district, in which must be specified, in separate columns, under the appropriate head: (1) the name of the person to whom the property is assessed, if the name is not known to the assessor, the property shall be assessed to "unknown owners"; (2) land by township, range, section or fractional section, and when such land is not congressional division or subdivision, by metes and bounds, or other description sufficient to identify it, giving an estimate of the number of acres and locality; (3) city and town lots, naming the city or town and the number and block, according to the system of numbering in such city or town; (4) the cash value of real estate, other than city or town lots; (5) the cash value of city and town lots; (6) the total value of all property assessed; (7) the total value of all property after equalization by the board of directors; (8) such other things as the board of directors may require. Improvements on any lands or town lots within such districts shall be exempt from taxation for any of the purposes mentioned in this act. Any property which may have escaped the payment of any assessment for any year, shall, in addition to the assessment for the then current year, be assessed for such year with the same effect and with the same penalties as are provided for in such current year. The term improvements as used in this section includes trees, vines, alfalfa and all growing crops and all buildings and structures of whatever class or description erected or being erected upon said lands or city or town lots. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 764.]

§ 39. Assessment for interest. The board of directors shall then, within fifteen days after the close of its session as a board of equalization, levy an assessment upon the lands within the district in an amount sufficient to raise the interest due or that will become due on all outstanding bonds of the district on the first day of the next ensuing January and the first day of the next ensuing July, or that the board of directors believes will become due on either or both of said dates, on bonds authorized but not sold; also sufficient to pay the principal of all bonds of the district that have matured or that will mature before the close of the next ensuing calendar year; also sufficient to pay in full all sums due or that will become due from the district before the time for levying the next annual assessment, on account of rentals, or charges for lands, water rights acquired by said district under lease or contract; also sufficient to pay in full the amount of all unpaid warrants of the district issued in accordance with this act and the amount of any other contracts or obligation of the district which shall have been reduced to judgment; also sufficient to raise such amount not exceeding two per centum of the aggregate value of the lands within the district according to the latest duly equalized assessment-roll thereof, as the board of directors shall determine may be needed to be raised by assessment for the general expenses of the district during the next ensuing calendar year. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 765.]

§ 39a. Duty of secretary. The secretary of the board must compute and enter in a separate column of the assessment-book the respective sums in dollars and cents to be paid as an assessment on the property therein enumerated. When collected, the assessment shall be paid into the district treasury and be apportioned to the several proper funds. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 765.]

assessment and levies to be made as in this act provided, then the duly equalized assessment made by the county assessor of the county or each of the respective counties in which the district is situated shall be the basis of assessment for the district, and the board of supervisors of the county in which the office of the board of directors of said district is situated shall cause an assessment-roll of said district to be prepared, and shall make the levy required by this act, in the same manner and with like effect as if the same had been made by said board of directors and all expenses incident thereto shall be borne by such district and may be collected by suit at law, which shall be commenced by the district attorney of the county whose board of supervisors caused said assessment-roll to be prepared, unless the amount of such expenses shall be paid within sixty days from the time when proper demand shall have been made therefor. In case of the neglect or refusal of the collector or treasurer of any irrigation district to perform the duties imposed by law, then the tax collector and the treasurer of the county in which the office of the board of directors of such district is situated must respectively perform such duties and shall be accountable therefor upon their official bonds; but, in case any county tax collector shall collect any assessment for any irrigation district, he shall pay the same to the county treasurer, who shall place such money in special fund to the credit of the district and shall disburse the same to the proper persons for the purposes for which such assessments have been levied and shall not pay any part thereof to the treasurer of said district until said county treasurer shall be satisfied that all of the valid obligations for which such assessments were levied and for which payment has been demanded have been paid. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 765.]

§ 39c. Duty of district attorney. It shall be the duty of the district attorney of each county in which the office of any irrigation district is located to ascertain each year whether the duties relating to the levying and collection of assessments, as in this act provided, have been performed, and if he shall learn that the board of directors or any official of any such irrigation district has neglected or refused to perform any such duty, said district attorney shall so notify the board of supervisors or the county official required by this act to perform such duty in such case, and, unless such board of supervisors or such county official shall proceed to the performance of such duty within thirty days after the receipt of such notice the district attorney shall take such action in court as may be necessary to compel the performance of such duty, and said district attorney shall give such notice to other officials, and shall take such action, as may be necessary to secure the performance in their proper sequence of the other duties relating to the levying and collection of assessments, as in this act provided, that for the enforcement of the levying and collection of any assessment hereafter required to be levied and collected for the payment of any debt hereafter incurred, in case complaint shall be made to the attorney general of the state of California that the district attorney of any county has not performed any duty devolving upon him by the provisions of this section, or that he is not proceeding with due diligence or in the proper manner in the performance of any such duty, the attorney general shall make an investigation, and if it shall be found that such charge or charges are true, said attorney general shall take such measures as may be necessary to enforce the performance of the duties relating to the levying and collection of assessments, as in this act provided. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 766.]

§ 39d. Extension of time. If as the result of the neglect or refusal of any official or officials to perform any duty relating to the levying and collection of assessments, as in this act provided, it shall be impossible for such duty to be performed within the time required and such duty shall subsequently be performed, then the time within which all duties consequent upon the performance of such duty shall be performed shall be extended so as to allow the elapsing of the intervals required by this act to elapse between the performance of such duties, and the assessments herein provided for shall not become delinquent for at least thirty days after the first publication of the notice that such assessments are due and payable, as provided in section forty-one of this act. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 767.]

§ 39e. Assessment of land omitted. In the event any land within said district subject to assessment for the purposes of the district has not been assessed by the county assessor or does not appear upon the county assessment-roll adopted by said board of supervisors as the basis of assessment for the district, the land so omitted belonging to any person, association, corporation, or municipality shall be forthwith assessed by the county assessor upon an order of the board of supervisors and a description of the property so omitted shall be written in the roll prepared for the purpose of district assessments. In such case, before any assessment is levied, the board of supervisors must meet and equalize said assessment with that of the assessment of other lands in said district. The same notice shall be given by the board of supervisors of such meeting for the purpose of equalizing the assessment to be made as herein directed as is provided in this act to be given by the board of directors of an irrigation district when the said board is to meet for the purpose of equalizing assessments. All the powers and duties respecting the collection of all assessment on possession of, claim to, or right to the possession of land now provided in sections three thousand eight hundred twenty, three thousand eight hundred twenty-one, three thousand eight hundred twenty-two, three thousand eight hundred twenty-three, three thousand eight hundred twenty-four, three thousand eight hundred twenty-five and three thousand eight hundred twenty-nine of the Political Code, as regards county assessors shall apply, so far as applicable to irrigation district assessors. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 767.]

§ 39f. Unpaid tolls part of assessment. Whenever any tolls and charges for the use of water have been fixed by the board of directors, it shall be lawful to make the same payable in advance, and in case any such tolls or charges remain unpaid at the time hereinbefore specified for levying the annual assessment the amount due for such tolls and charges may be added to and become a part of the assessment levied upon the land upon which the water for which such tolls or charges are unpaid was used. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 768.]

§ 40. Assessment lien, when. The assessment upon land is a lien against the property assessed from and after the first Monday in March for any year. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 768.]

§ 53a. Investigations by state engineer. During the construction of any irrigation works to be paid for out of the proceeds of any bond issue which has been certified by the state irrigation district bond commission as provided in the act creating said commission, the state engineer shall have access to all plans, specifications, and records of such construction, and shall from time to time make such investigations and such reports to the board of directors of the district as he shall deem to be in the interest of the public or of the district. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 768.]

§ 59. Directors may call election on question of special assessment. The board of directors may, at any time, when in their judgment it may be deemed advisable, call a special election and submit to the qualified electors of the district the question whether or not a special assessment shall be levied for the purpose of raising money to be applied to any of the purposes provided in this act. Such election must be called upon the notice prescribed, and the same shall be held and the result thereof determined and declared in all respects in conformity with the provisions of section thirty d of this act. The notice must specify the amount of money proposed to be raised and the purpose for which it is intended to be used. At such elections the ballots shall contain the words "Assessment—Yes" or "Assessment—No." If two-thirds or more of the votes cast are "Assessment—Yes," the board shall, at the time of the annual levy hereunder, levy an assessment sufficient to raise the amount voted; provided, however, that in case of an unexpected emergency by which the flow of water in the canal or other supply is interrupted, the amount of the indebtedness, incurred in the repair of the works of said district, caused by such interruption, not to exceed in any one year forty thousand (40,000) dollars, may also, in addition to the assessments hereinbefore provided for, be levied by the adoption of a resolution by at least four-fifths of the members of the board of directors, at the time of the levying of the annual assessment provided for in this act, without the submission of the question of such levy to a vote, as in this section hereinbefore provided. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 768.]

§ 61b. Directors may purchase irrigation works. The board of directors of irrigation districts may acquire, by purchase or condemnation, the irrigation system, canals and works through which lands in such districts have been or may be supplied with water for irrigation, and may exchange bonds of such irrigation district for such system or canals or works or for any portion thereof, or for any interest therein or for the capital stock of any corporation owning such system or any portion thereof, upon such terms and conditions as the said board of directors may deem best. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 769.]

§ 67a. Unexpended money. Whenever an object for which money has been specifically provided by assessment or by bond issue has been accomplished and any money provided therefor remains unexpended, the same shall in the discretion of the board of directors be transferred to the general fund and thereafter be available for any of the purposes of this act. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 769.]

§ 112. Title. "Irrigation district." This act may be referred to in any action, proceeding or legislative enactment as "the California irrigation district act" and whenever the words "irrigation district" are or have been used in any action or proceeding in any court or in any act or resolution of the legislature such words shall be construed to mean an irrigation district organized or existing under the provisions of an act of the legislature entitled "An act to provide for the organization and government of irrigation districts, and to provide for the acquisition or construction thereby of works for the irrigation of the lands embraced within such districts and also to provide for the distribution of water for irrigation purposes," approved March 31, 1897, or of the acts of which it is supplemental or amendatory or of the acts supplemental or amendatory thereof. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917; p. 769.]

An act relating to bonds of irrigation districts, providing under what circumstances such bonds shall be legal investments for funds of banks, insurance companies and trust companies, trust funds, state school funds and any money or funds which may now or hereafter be invested in bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, school districts or municipalities, and providing under what circumstances the use of bonds of irrigation districts as security for the performance of any act may be authorized.

Amended 1915, p. 692; 1917, p. 582.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 3a. Provisions directory. The provisions of section two of this act as to the points upon which said commission shall report are directory merely and the board may authorize such certification when in their opinion, subject to the provisions otherwise contained in this act, their findings justify such action. [New section added May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 583.]

§ 3b. No expenditures without consent of commission. Whenever the bonds of any irrigation district have been certified, as provided in this act, no expenditure of any kind shall be made from the construction fund of such district without the consent of the commission provided for in this act and no obligation shall be incurred chargeable against such fund without previous authorization of the commission nor shall any expense of any kind be incurred in excess of money actually provided by levy of assessment or otherwise. [New section added May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 583.]

ACT 1732i.

An act to be known as "the California irrigation act" providing for co-operation between the state of California and the United States and independent proceedings in the storage and diversion of water, the distribution thereof for irrigation, the manufacture of power and for domestic purposes; creating an irrigation board to form water districts, make contracts, construct reservoirs, divert and distribute water, generate, lease and sell electric current, lease water power, levy assessments, issue bonds of water districts; providing for the management, control and supervision of such water districts and of the works constructed pursuant to this act; directing the state department of engineering relative to such works; authorizing irrigation districts to reorganize under this act and generally providing a policy relating to storage, diversion and use of water, and adopting a plan for providing revenues therefor.

Amended 1917, p. 1068.

The entire act was amended in 1917 to read as follows:

§ 1. Title. The title of an act entitled, "An act to be known as 'the California irrigation act,' providing for co-operation between the state of California and the United States and independent proceedings in the storage and diversion of water, the distribution thereof for irrigation, the manufacture of power and for domestic purposes; creating an irrigation board to form water districts, make contracts, construct reservoirs, divert and distribute water, generate, lease and sell electric current, lease water-power, levy assessments, issue bonds of water districts; providing for the management, control and supervision of such water districts and of the works constructed pursuant to this act; directing the state department of engineering relative to such works; authorizing irrigation districts to reorganize under this act and generally providing a policy relating to storage, diversion and use of water, and adopting a plan for providing revenues therefor," approved June 4, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Title. An act to be known as "the California irrigation act" providing for co-operation between the state of California and the United States, and independent proceedings, in the storage and diversion of water, the distribution thereof for irrigation and other beneficial uses and purposes, the generation and manufacture of electric power; creating an irrigation board, and providing for the formation of irrigation districts and conservation districts, and the conversion of irrigation districts, reclamation districts, drainage districts and other political subdivisions of the state organized for the purpose of promoting irrigation, reclamation and drainage, into irrigation districts under this act; and empowering said irrigation board to make and approve contracts and agreements, to construct reservoirs and other works, divert, distribute and sell water and lease and sell water rights and generate, lease and sell electric power, to apportion to the constituent units of conservation districts the water and electric power to be produced and generated by conservation district works, to levy assessments, and issue bonds of irrigation districts and conservation districts; providing for the management, control and supervision of such irrigation districts and conservation districts and of the works constructed pursuant to this act; directing the state department of engineering relative to such works; and generally providing a policy relating to the storage, diversion and use of water and the manufacture or generation of electric power, and adopting a plan for providing revenues therefor.

§ 1. Irrigation board created. Office. Officers. Compensation. Amounts paid by conservation district. There is created a board to be known as the "irrigation board," which shall consist of three members, and shall constitute a body corporate and politic for the purpose of exercising the powers and performing the acts herein mentioned, and which shall have the power to sue and to be sued. Within thirty days of the date upon which this act takes effect the governor shall appoint the members of said board and the members so appointed shall serve for four years and until their successors have been appointed; provided, that the members of said board heretofore appointed under this section shall serve out the terms for which they were appointed. Their successors shall be appointed, and all vacancies shall be filled by appointment in like manner. The office of the irrigation board shall be at the city of Sacramento; a branch office may be maintained in the city and county of San Francisco.

The irrigation board shall elect one of its members as president, and shall employ a secretary and such attorneys, engineers, superintendents, inspectors and other assistants as it may require, and shall fix the terms of their employment and compensation. Each member of the irrigation board shall receive as compensation the sum of ten dollars per day for each day employed by such member in the performance of duties under this act, and shall receive actual traveling expenses while engaged in such duties. All such salaries, compensation and expenses shall be payable out of any funds under the control of the irrigation board applicable to such payments. Where a conservation district has been formed, as hereinafter provided, the irrigation board shall apportion and certify to each district therein or component unit thereof, and to each private corporation, mutual ditch company and mutual water company admitted to the benefits of such conservation district, an amount for its share of the general cost and expense of the maintenance and operation of the irrigation board in connection with such district, or component unit, or private corporation or mutual ditch company, or mutual water company, for the ensuing or previous year, and also such additional amounts as are necessary for the purpose of defraying the cost of all administrative, engineering and other legal expenses necessary for laying out the plans therefor, and such amounts shall be paid by each of such districts, or component units, to the state treasurer, and shall be deposited in a fund to be held and paid out for the account of said conservation district in the same manner as hereinafter provided for the funds of said conservation district.

§ 2. Interest of state in water storage paramount. It is hereby declared that the state of California has a paramount interest in the storage and diversion of water, the irrigation of land and the production of electric power; that such storage, irrigation and production of electric power will make productive vast quantities of land that are comparatively unproductive and will increase production, property valuations and population in the state, make profitable the cultivation of small tracts and promote subdivision of larger tracts, and will promote the welfare and prosperity of all the people. The powers herein conferred upon the irrigation board are hereby declared to be police and regulatory powers and are necessary to the accomplishment of a purpose that is indispensable to the public interests.

§ 3. Powers. The irrigation board shall have power to make, or cause to be made, examinations and surveys, to make or adopt plans, and estimate, or cause to be estimated, the cost of all projects for the storage or diversion of water within the state of California, the distribution of said water, and the generation of electric power in connection with such storage, and the sale and distribution of such power, and to make and enter into contracts for the construction and maintenance of works for such projects and the supervision and administration thereof. The irrigation board shall also have power to confer and make agreements with any authorized department, board or officer of the United States government, or with any irrigation district, reclamation district, or drainage district, or other political subdivision of the state organized to promote irrigation, reclamation or drainage, or with any water, power, irrigation or other company, or corporation, or association, or person, or persons, with reference to such projects and concerning examinations, surveys, works and plans in connection therewith. Any plan finally approved by the irrigation board (and when in any case the approval of any authorized department, board or officer of the United States government is necessary, it is also approved by such authorized department, board or officer) shall be the official plan approved by the state of California and authorized by it for the project involved therein, but such plan may be modified or changed from time to time thereafter in like manner as originally adopted or approved.

§ 4. State engineering department to make surveys. The state department of engineering, or such engineer or engineers as may be appointed by the irrigation board, shall make such surveys, examinations, reports, plans and estimates as may be required by the board, either with or without the co-operation of the United States or any department thereof, whenever said board has under its control money available with which to pay the expenses in connection therewith. All such work and all supervision of construction shall be performed under such contracts and regulations as may be made or approved by the irrigation board or agreed upon between said board and the United States.

§ 5. Petition to organize irrigation district. Notice. Hearing. Order creating district. Approval of state engineer. Board of directors. Pro- ceedings to determine validity of district. "Water development districts." Whenever the holders of title, or evidence of title, representing one-half or more of any body of land susceptible of irrigation (excepting lands embraced within the limits of incorporated cities or towns) desire to form an irrigation district under the provisions of this act, for the irrigation of said land, they may present to the irrigation board a petition signed by them, or their authorized agents, which petition shall set forth generally the boundaries of the proposed district, a description of the lands by legal subdivisions or other boundaries, the county in which they are situated, the number of acres in the proposed district, and in each tract with the names (if known) of the owners thereof, and designating as unsold any lands not reduced to private ownership; and also shall state generally the source or sources from which said lands are proposed to be irrigated, and the proposed name of the district, and shall pray that the territory within the boundaries of the proposed district may be organized as an irrigation district under the provisions of this act. The petition may consist of any number of separate instruments; and guardians, executors, administrators or other persons holding property in a trust capacity under appointment of court may sign any petition provided for in this act, when authorized by an order of court, which order may be made without notice. A certificate of acknowledgment taken before a notary public or justice of the peace of any state, or an affidavit by any person in the presence of whom such petition was signed, shall be sufficient evidence of the genuineness of such signature.

The petition must be verified by the affidavit of one of the petitioners, and a notice setting forth the exterior boundaries of said proposed district must be published once a week for four successive weeks prior to the hearing of said petition, in a newspaper of general circulation, published in each of the counties in which any of the lands intended to be embraced within such proposed irrigation district are situated, which said notice shall also designate the time and place when and where said petition will be presented to the irrigation board. Said notice shall be signed by not less than three of said petitioners, and affidavits of publication must be filed with the petition.

At the time and place designated in said notice, the irrigation board shall meet and receive the same and said petition, and any person, owning land within the said proposed irrigation district, may appear and present written objections to the creation of such district. The irrigation board shall hear and receive such evidence as may be offered in support of the petition and in support of said written objections. The irrigation board may continue said hearing from time to time, by order entered upon its minutes, to the end that a full hearing may be had. Upon the final hearing of said matter, the irrigation board shall make an order approving said petition as originally presented, or as modified by such order, excluding from the district such lands as in the judgment of the irrigation board should be excluded, and upon the filing of such order with the irrigation board, such irrigation district shall be deemed to be created. The order shall describe the exterior boundaries of the district, as determined by the irrigation board, and also the exterior boundaries of any lands excluded therefrom, and shall be indorsed upon or attached to the petition, and be signed by the president and attested by the secretary of the irrigation board. A copy of the order creating such irrigation district, certified by such secretary, shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and a similarly certified copy of such order, together with a map showing the exterior boundaries of the district, and indicating the lands excluded therefrom, shall be filed in the office of the county recorder of each of the counties in which any of the lands within the said district are situated, and a properly certified copy of such order, together with the maps attached thereto, shall be received in all of the courts of this state as prima facie evidence of the organization of such district and of the boundaries thereof. Before the irrigation board makes such order, it may require that the project and proposed works be approved by the state engineer, or by such engineer or engineers as shall be designated by the irrigation board.

Each irrigation district created under the provisions of this act shall have a board of directors composed of owners of land within the district, elected by the owners of land in such district in the manner provided for the election of trustees of reclamation districts in section three thousand four hundred ninety-one of the Political Code of the state of California, except that such elections shall be called by and returns thereof made to the board of supervisors of the county in which the greater portion of the lands of the district are situated. Each such district shall have a board consisting of five directors; provided, that if so requested in the petition for the formation of said district, the irrigation board may order that there shall be only three directors. After the approval of the petition and the election of directors for the district, the directors shall adopt rules, not inconsistent with the laws of the state, for the government and control of the affairs of the district, which rules may be amended at any time by said board of directors.

The board of directors of any irrigation district created under this act may commence a proceeding in the superior court of any county, wherein a portion of the district is situated, to determine the legality of the existence of said district. The complaint in said proceeding shall describe the district by name and the exterior boundaries thereof, and shall contain a prayer that such district be adjudged a legal irrigation district. The summons in such proceeding shall be served by publishing a copy thereof once a week for four successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in each county where any part of such district is situated. Within thirty days after the last publication of said summons, any person, who may be interested, may appear and answer said complaint, in which answer the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of the district shall be set forth. If no answer shall be filed, the court must render judgment as prayed for in the complaint. If any answer shall be filed within said period, the court shall thereafter proceed as in other civil cases, but no district shall be adjudged invalid when it appears that such district has, for five years prior to the commencement of such proceeding, been performing its functions as an irrigation district under this act in good faith. The proceeding under this section is hereby declared to be a proceeding in rem, and the judgment rendered therein shall be conclusive against all persons whomsoever and against the state of California. All irrigation districts created under the provisions of this act, anything to the contrary elsewhere in this act contained, shall be designated as "water development districts" and in all obligations and securities issued by them they shall be so designated.

§ 6. Converting districts into irrigation districts. Any irrigation district formed under the provisions of any other law or statute of this state, and any reclamation district or drainage district (excluding from any such district the area embraced within the limits of any incorporated city or town) susceptible of irrigation from any project adopted or approved by the irrigation board, may become an irrigation district under the provisions of this act upon presenting to the irrigation board a consent thereto signed by the holders of title, or evidence of title, of more than half of the lands embraced in said district (excepting lands within incorporated cities or towns). Upon the filing of such consent, the irrigation board shall fix a date for a hearing of the matter involved in such consent. The secretary of the irrigation board shall publish a notice of such hearing once a week for four successive weeks preceding the date fixed therefor in a newspaper of general circulation published in each of the counties in which any portion of said district is situated. At the time and place designated in said notice the irrigation board shall hear and receive such evidence as may be offered in support of the proposal to convert such district into an irrigation district under the provisions of this act and in support of any written objection thereto filed with the irrigation board. The irrigation board may continue said hearing from time to time, by order entered upon its minutes, to the end that a full hearing may be had. Upon the final hearing of said matter, the irrigation board shall make its order, providing that said district (excluding therefrom the territory embraced in incorporated cities or towns) shall thereafter be an irrigation district subject to all of the provisions of this act, or, in its discretion, said irrigation board may decline to make such order. If the irrigation board shall make an order converting such district into an irrigation district, all of the lands therein (except lands lying within the boundaries of incorporated cities or towns), shall become, and shall thereafter be, subject to all of the provisions of this act.

§ 6a. Powers of board of directors. Action nullified by irrigation board. Compensation. The board of directors of an irrigation district created under this act shall have power to elect one of its members president thereof; and, subject to the approval of the irrigation board, to employ engineers and others to survey, plan, locate and estimate the cost of the works necessary for the improvement of the lands of the district by irrigation, reclamation and drainage and thereafter subject to the approval of the irrigation board, to modify or change such original plan or plans, or adopt new supplemental or additional plan or plans; to acquire by purchase, condemnation or other legal means, necessary property and rights of way, and the right to take material for the construction of all necessary works, including dams, canals, drains, sluices, bulkheads, watergates, embankments, levees and pumping plants, and to construct, maintain and keep in repair all works requisite and necessary to that end, and to do all other acts and things necessary or required for the irrigation, reclamation and drainage of the lands embraced in the district, and to carry out the purposes of this act. All of the acts and proceedings of such board of directors, however, shall be recorded in the minutes of said board, and copies thereof, certified by the secretary of said board as recorded, shall, within ten days after the passage or adoption of the same, be filed with the secretary of the irrigation board, and the irrigation board, within twenty days after such filing may, by order filed with its secretary, reject and nullify the action of the board of directors of such irrigation district, and upon the filing of a certified copy of such order of rejection or nullification with the secretary of such irrigation district, the said order of said irrigation district board shall be invalid and unenforceable for any purpose; but if such action of such irrigation district board shall not be so rejected or nullified within the period above provided, the same shall be and remain in full force and effect. The irrigation board may confirm and ratify any action of said irrigation district board at any time, and upon such confirmation and ratification such act or order of said irrigation district board shall be valid and effective for all purposes. The several members of the board of directors shall each be entitled to receive for actual and necessary services performed and for expenses incurred by them, respectively, for and in the interest of the district, such compensation as the irrigation board may determine to be just and reasonable, which shall constitute an indebtedness of the district to be paid in the same manner and out of the same fund as other debts of the district; provided, that no warrant or order drawn for such purpose shall be valid until approved by the irrigation board.

§ 6b. Conservation districts. Right of private corporation, etc., to share in benefits. Petition. Notice. Hearing. Territory included. Order creating district. Petition to be included. Proceeding to determine legality of district. The irrigation board shall have power to consolidate into single districts in the manner and for the purposes provided in this act, irrigation districts, reclamation districts, drainage districts and other political subdivisions of the state organized to promote irrigation, reclamation or drainage, which consolidated districts shall be known, and are herein referred to, as conservation districts; and, the purpose of the formation of such districts being primarily to provide for and promote the irrigation of the lands therein, and in connection therewith and incidental thereto the reclamation and drainage of such lands, the legislature hereby expressly declares that every such conservation district, formed as herein provided, is and shall be an irrigation district within the meaning of section thirteen of article eleven of the constitution of the state of California, and within the meaning of every other provision of said constitution relating to irrigation districts. Such conservation districts shall be composed of two or more units all or any of which units may be irrigation districts, formed under the provisions of this or any other act or statute of this state, reclamation districts, drainage districts, or other political districts of the state organized to promote irrigation, reclamation or drainage, now or hereafter to be formed. The territory embraced within such units need not be contiguous in order to be embraced within the same conservation district, provided all or a portion of the territory embraced within said respective units is susceptible of irrigation from the works proposed to be constructed by said conservation district. Any private corporation engaged in the distribution of water to the public, for irrigation or other beneficial uses, or in the generation of hydroelectric power for sale to the public, and any mutual ditch company or mutual water company organized for the purpose of distributing water to the members or stockholders thereof, which private corporation, mutual ditch company or mutual water company is receiving or entitled to receive water from the same stream or streams for the storage or diversion of whose waters it is proposed to construct the works of said conservation district, shall have the right, upon payment of its proportion of the cost of constructing, operating and maintaining such works, to share in all of the benefits resulting from such construction, operation and maintenance, including its proportionate share of the water to be conserved thereby and the power to be generated and produced in connection therewith; provided, that nothing herein contained shall be deemed to confer upon said irrigation board, or upon any conservation district formed under the provisions of this act, the right to impair, or deprive any person, firm or corporation of, any vested right in or to the waters of any stream or streams proposed to be stored or diverted by said conservation district, without due process of law.

Upon presentation to it of a petition signed by the respective governing boards of two or more of said units praying for the formation of a conservation district, the irrigation board shall fix a time and place for the hearing of such petition. The secretary of the irrigation board shall cause notice of said hearing to be given by publication once a week for four successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in each county wherein any part of said petitioning districts are situated, and also by mailing a written notice of such hearing to the governing boards of such other districts or political subdivisions of the state and to such private corporations, mutual ditch companies and mutual water companies as may be designated by the irrigation board. At the time fixed by the irrigation board for such hearing, or at such other time to which the hearing may be adjourned, the irrigation board shall hear and receive evidence in support of any objections which may be filed in opposition thereto, and shall also receive applications from other districts to become a part of such conservation district and form private corporations, mutual ditch companies or mutual water companies to participate in the benefits of such conservation district. If there shall be presented at such hearing a written objection or objections signed by the owners of more than one-half of the lands in any such unit district the signing of such petition by the governing board of such unit district shall be deemed to be nullified and the irrigation board shall have no power to include such unit district within the proposed conservation district.

The irrigation board shall include as a part of such conservation district the territory embraced within any district unit applying to be made part of the conservation district, which applying district shall be lawfully receiving or entitled to receive water from the same stream or streams whose waters are proposed to be stored or diverted by such conservation district, and shall admit to beneficial participation in said conservation district such private corporations, mutual ditch companies or mutual water companies likewise lawfully receiving or entitled to receive water and applying to the irrigation board to be admitted to such participation. The application of any unit district or private corporation, mutual ditch company or mutual water company, not so lawfully receiving or entitled to receive water, to be included as a part of said conservation district or to be permitted to share in the benefits thereof, may be approved or rejected by the irrigation board in its discretion. Upon the final hearing of said matter, the irrigation board shall make an order approving said petition, as originally presented, or as modified by such order. Such order shall describe said conservation district by exterior boundaries when the lands therein lie in one body, or by naming the unit districts embraced therein when said lands do not lie in one body, and shall also designate the private corporations, mutual ditch companies or mutual water companies, entitled to participate in the benefits of the works proposed to be constructed by said conservation district. Upon the filing of such order with the irrigation board such conservation district shall be deemed to be created. A certified copy of the order creating such conservation district shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and a certified copy thereof, together with a map showing the boundaries of the district, shall be filed in the office of the county recorder of each of the counties in which any of the lands within the said district are situated. A properly certified copy of such order, together with the map attached thereto, shall be received in all the courts of this state as prima facie evidence of the organization of such district in compliance with the provisions of this act, and of the boundaries thereof.

After the formation of a conservation district as herein provided, any irrigation district, reclamation district, drainage district, or other political subdivision of the state organized to promote irrigation, reclamation or drainage, theretofore existing and which was entitled to become a part of and unit in such conservation district at the time of its formation, and any such district or political subdivision of the state thereafter formed, any portion of the lands in which are receiving or entitled to receive water from the same stream or streams for the storage or diversion of whose waters said conservation district was formed, may, at any time prior to the making by the irrigation board of the order approving the apportionment as provided in section ten of this act, but not thereafter, file with the irrigation board a petition to be made a part of and unit in such conservation district. And any private corporation, mutual ditch company or mutual water company existing at the time of the formation of such conservation district, and at that time entitled to be admitted to participation in the benefits resulting from the construction of the works of such conversation district and any such private corporation, mutual water company or mutual ditch company thereafter organized and receiving or entitled to receive water from such stream or streams, may, at any time prior to the making by the irrigation board of the order approving the apportionment as provided in section ten of this act, but not thereafter, file with the irrigation board a petition to be admitted to such participation. Upon the filing of any such petition, within the time hereinbefore limited, the irrigation board shall fix a time and place for the hearing thereof and give such notice of said hearing and cause such proceedings to be had and taken at such hearing and such order to be made and filed, and certified copies of such order to be filed, as in the case of a hearing upon a petition, for the original formation of a conservation district, and the right of such petitioning district or political subdivision to become a part of and unit in such conservation district or of such private corporation, mutual water company or mutual ditch company to be admitted to participation in the benefits resulting from the construction of the works thereof, shall be determined in the same manner as if such district or political subdivision or private corporation or mutual water company or mutual ditch company had presented its petition or application at the hearing of the petition for the original formation of such conservation district.

The irrigation board, or the governing body of any irrigation district, reclamation district, drainage district, or other political subdivision of the state organized to promote irrigation, reclamation or drainage, constituting a unit of said conservation district, or any private corporation, or mutual water company or mutual ditch company admitted to participation in the benefits of such conservation district, may commence a proceeding in the superior court of any county wherein a portion of said conservation district is situated to determine the legality of the existence of said conservation district. The complaint in said proceeding shall describe the district by name, and the exterior boundaries thereof, when the lands therein lie in one body, or by naming the unit districts embraced therein when said lands do not lie in one body, and shall contain a prayer that such district be adjudged a legal conservation district. The summons in such proceeding shall be served by publishing a copy thereof once a week for four successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in each county wherein any part of such district is situated. Within thirty days after the last publication of said summons any person who may be interested may appear and answer said complaint in which answer the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of the district shall be set forth. If no answer shall be filed the court must render judgment as prayed for in the complaint. If any answer shall be filed within said period the court shall thereafter proceed as in other civil cases, but no district shall be adjudged invalid when it appears that such district has, for five years prior to the commencement of such proceeding, been performing its functions as a conservation district in good faith. The proceeding under this section is hereby declared to be a proceeding in rem and the judgment rendered therein shall be conclusive against all persons whomsoever against the state of California.

§ 7. When works benefit overflowed lands. When any of the works constructed under the provisions of this act serve the purpose of drainage, flood control or reclamation of swamp and overflowed lands within an irrigation or conservation district formed under the provisions of this act, the irrigation board may estimate the proportion of the cost of said construction, which may be properly charged to the lands benefited by such drainage, flood control or reclamation, and assessments may be levied in the manner herein provided upon the lands so benefited for the purpose of paying such proportion of said cost of construction, together with a reasonable portion of the expenses of maintenance and repair of such works.

§ 8. Rules and regulations. The irrigation board may make and enforce any and all rules and regulations that in its opinion will promote the objects of this act, and may perform any act and exercise any power necessary to the accomplishment of the purposes herein expressed and full power is hereby conferred in the premises whether or not such powers are herein specially mentioned, and may sue and be sued in the same manner and with the same effect as a municipal corporation.

§ 9. Member may conduct hearing. For the purpose of performing any duty under this act the irrigation board may appoint one of its members to conduct any hearing or investigation. Such member shall make a written report of his proceedings and shall state the evidence introduced at any hearing and his conclusions thereon. Upon such report, or upon such further inquiry as the irrigation board shall deem proper, the irrigation board may pass upon and decide any question under consideration at said hearing or investigation. The decisions of the irrigation board shall be final except as to questions, the determination of which are vested in the courts by this act or by the constitution of this state or by the constitution of the United States.

§ 10. Apportionment of water. Lease of surplus water. Special board of apportionment. Oath. Notice. Hearing. Rates. Control of distribution of water apportioned. Prior to making any assessment, to provide funds for the construction or purchase of any project for the construction or purchase of which any conservation district shall have been formed, there shall be apportioned as hereinafter provided, to each constituent district or unit under such project the proportion to which it is entitled of all water stored or to be stored or diverted or to be diverted by such project for the irrigation of such conservation district, and of all power to be developed in connection therewith, which proportion of such water and power shall be forever applied to the purposes of said constituent district; provided, that any water or power that may be so apportioned and for which any constituent district or unit has not, to the full extent thereof, a beneficial use, may be leased by such district or unit, with the consent of the irrigation board, to any other territory within or without the said conservation district; the other districts or units, embraced in said conservation district to be entitled, however, to the first right to so lease such surplus water or power. The apportionment of water and power under this section shall be made by a special board of apportionment and confirmed by the irrigation board. The members of such special board of apportionment shall be three in number and shall be appointed by the irrigation board, subject, however, to the approval of two-thirds of the members of the advisory board hereinafter provided for. The members of such special board of apportionment shall be disinterested persons having no interest in any land within the conservation district within which such apportionment is to be made and not residing within such district. Before entering upon his duties each of the members of said special board of apportionment shall take and subscribe an oath that he is not in any manner interested in any real estate within said district, directly or indirectly; that he does not reside therein, and that he will perform the duties of a member of such board to the best of his ability. Said special board of apportionment shall determine, define and apportion to the several districts or units within said conservation district, and to the private corporations, mutual water companies and mutual ditch companies admitted to share in the benefits thereof, the amount and extent of the water to be produced, stored or diverted for the project contemplated by said conservation district and the amount and extent of the power to be produced or generated in connection therewith, and shall likewise determine, define and apportion the cost of the project, and shall make a report thereof to the irrigation board. Upon receiving such report the irrigation board shall fix a date for the hearing thereof, and notice to all persons in such conservation district shall be given by publication once a week for four successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in each of the counties in which any portion of the said district is situated. Such hearing shall be held upon a date not less than sixty nor more than ninety days after the first publication of said notice, and affidavits of the publication of said notice in the manner herein provided shall be made and filed with the irrigation board before such hearing. In addition to the publication of such notice the secretary of the irrigation board shall mail a copy thereof to the governing boards of such other districts or political subdivisions of the state and to such private corporations, mutual ditch companies and mutual water companies as may be designated by the irrigation board. At the time set for the hearing the irrigation board shall hear and receive evidence in support of objections which may be presented to the apportionment so made, and shall thereupon make its order approving, modifying or rejecting such apportionment. Any person aggrieved by the order of the irrigation board may commence an action in the superior court of any county in which any part of said conservation district is interested to have said apportionment corrected, modified or annulled. Such action must be commenced within thirty days after said order has been made and filed in the office of the secretary of the irrigation board, and if not so commenced no action or defense shall thereafter be maintained attacking the legality of said apportionment in any respect.

All works constructed at the expense of any irrigation district created under this act, or for any component unit of a conservation district, or for which the same is assessed or charged for the repayment of moneys expended for construction, shall forever be devoted to the purposes of such constituent district or unit under the administration of the irrigation board. No rates shall be charged by an irrigation district formed under the provisions of this act or by a conservation district for the use of water for irrigation therein or for power developed in connection therewith, except for the just proportion of such irrigation district or the units of such conservation district, or of the private corporations, mutual water companies or mutual ditch companies entitled to or receiving the benefits of the construction and operation of the works of said conservation district, for the expenses of the governing bodies and employees thereof and of the maintenance, operation, repair and supervision of the works constructed for the benefit of such irrigation district or conservation district, and except for the repayment of moneys appropriated and paid as the cost of construction of the said works and the payment of bonds issued therefor and the interest thereon.

It shall be the duty of the irrigation board, and said board shall have power to do all things necessary to that end, to control and supervise the distribution of the water and power apportioned as herein provided to the units of a conservation district and to the private corporations, mutual water companies and mutual ditch companies admitted to share in the benefits thereof.

§ 11. Power to contract for repayment of money expended. The irrigation board shall have power to contract with the United States and with the state of California for the repayment of moneys appropriated or expended in the construction of reservoirs, canals, ditches or other works necessary or convenient for any of the purposes herein mentioned. Such repayment shall be made from assessments upon the lands benefited by such works, or the proceeds of bonds issued thereon, from payments made by private corporations, mutual ditch companies or mutual water companies contributing their proportion of the cost of constructing, operating and maintaining such works as provided in section six b of this act, or from revenues derived by the irrigation board for water or power leased or sold by the irrigation board as provided in this act, or from either, all or any of said methods of repayment. The irrigation board may also deposit with the United States and with the state, bonds, notes, contracts, leases, agreements or other obligations for the payment of money, issued or executed by irrigation districts formed under the provisions of this act, or by conservation districts, or the component units of such conservation districts, the proceeds to be applied to said repayment upon such terms as may be agreed upon between the irrigation board and the United States or the state of California.

§ 12. Power to purchase land, etc., needed. The irrigation board shall have power to acquire within or without any irrigation district created under this act or any conservation district, from persons, associations or private corporations, by purchase, condemnation or other lawful means, any land, water, water rights, reservoirs, flumes, ditches, power lines, telegraph or telephone lines or other works or parts thereof necessary or convenient for the purposes herein mentioned, or necessary for the carrying out of any of the projects formed hereunder.

§ 13. Advisory board. The chairman or presiding officers of the governing bodies of the respective irrigation districts, reclamation districts, drainage districts and other political subdivisions of the state organized to promote irrigation, reclamation or drainage, constituting units of a conservation district created under this act, and of the private corporations, mutual water companies and mutual ditch companies contributing to the cost of constructing, operating and maintaining the works of such conservation district, shall be and constitute an advisory board to consult with the irrigation board, and such advisory board shall perform such executive and administrative functions as may be determined from time to time by the irrigation board.

§ 14. Power to make contracts. Apportionment of revenues. Contracts between districts, etc. The irrigation board, except where special power is herein elsewhere conferred, shall have power to make, execute and carry out any agreements or contracts for the performance of any act or the construction of any works provided for in this act, and may make contracts for the sale or rental of unapportioned water or power for periods not to exceed forty years, upon such terms as the irrigation board shall prescribe. All revenues received by the irrigation board from such sales or rentals shall be apportioned to the districts constituting component parts of such conservation district and to the private corporations, mutual water companies and mutual ditch companies contributing to the construction of the project from which such revenues are derived. Such apportionment shall be made in the ratio of the respective amounts of assessments levied or charges made for the construction of the works in connection with which such revenues are derived.

For the purpose of carrying this act into effect and of accomplishing the ends and objects herein expressed, and the development and utilization of the water resources of this state, conservation districts, irrigation districts, formed under the provisions of this act, reclamation districts and other political subdivisions of the state organized to promote irrigation, reclamation or drainage, and private corporations organized for the purpose of selling or distributing water or electric power for domestic, irrigation, manufacture, or other beneficial uses and purposes, and mutual water companies and mutual ditch companies, may enter into contracts or agreements with each other or with other districts, political subdivisions, corporations, associations or persons, for the development, appropriation or storage of water and the apportionment and distribution thereof, and the division, distribution and payment of the cost and expense of such development, appropriation, storage, apportionment and distribution. And every and all such contract or contracts shall be valid and binding, in accordance with their terms and provisions respectively; provided, however, that before any such contract or contracts shall go into force or effect or become binding for any purpose, the same shall be submitted to and approved by the irrigation board; and provided, further, that where any such contract relates to or affects the sale, rental or distribution of water or electric power, or the beneficial use of water, by a public utility, the same shall, before it goes into force or effect or becomes binding, be submitted to and approved by the railroad commission of the state of California. And all such contracts approved as herein provided, shall be binding and valid for all purposes, either in perpetuity or such term or terms as shall be specified or agreed upon therein or in the order or orders approving the same.

The provisions of this section are in aid of and in addition to other provisions of this act, and the same shall be construed and considered as so in aid of and in addition to, and not limited by or restricted by any of the other terms or provisions of this act. Nothing in this section contained shall be construed to affect or impair the organization or rights of mutual water companies or mutual ditch companies or the rights of the stockholders or members of such companies.

§ 15. Surveys, etc., of conservation district. Commissioners to assess land. Assessment-roll. Hearing. Objections. Approval of assessment. Lien. Annual levy. Additional levy. Surplus. Duties of auditor and tax collector. Moneys received under contracts. Delinquent taxes. The irrigation board shall, upon the organization of any conservation district as in this act provided, proceed to make or cause to be made, all necessary examinations, surveys, plans and estimates of cost for the storage, diversion and distribution of water and the generation of electric power in connection therewith, and the sale and distribution thereof as may be necessary or requisite to enable said board to ascertain and estimate the requirements and works necessary as aforesaid for the purposes of said conservation district and the probable cost and expense thereof, and in that connection may use and adopt all previous estimates, surveys and reports it may have collected adapted to that purpose, and may employ all necessary engineers and other assistants for the accomplishment of said purposes, and the cost thereof shall be deemed a part of the expense of said project and may issue warrants therefor and same shall bear interest from date of issue at the rate of six per cent per annum until paid, and shall be payable out of the funds of said district, and may be included in any bond issue authorized for the purposes of said district.

Such estimate as is above provided for shall be in such form as shall be approved by said irrigation board and shall be entered in the minutes of said board and shall constitute a part of the records of said board, and the same, or a copy thereof, certified by the secretary of said board, shall be admissible as evidence in any proceeding before any court, commission or tribunal of this state wherein the matters therein set forth shall be admissible in evidence.

Whenever, for any of the purposes of this act, the irrigation board shall deem it necessary for the purposes of said district, or the levying of an assessment upon the property therein, or the issuance of bonds by said district, said board shall appoint three commissioners for such purpose or purposes. Such commissioners shall have no interest in any land in the district, either directly or indirectly, and each commissioner before entering upon his duties shall make and subscribe an oath that he is not in any manner interested directly or indirectly in any land in said district, and that he will perform the duties of commissioner to the best of his ability. Thereupon said commissioners shall proceed separately as to each unit within said district to view and assess upon the land within said district a sum sufficient to cover said estimated amount and shall apportion the same according to the benefits which will accrue to each unit within said district, and separately as to each tract of land within said unit. Such benefits to be estimated according to the benefits which will accrue to each tract of land in such unit by reason of the expenditure of said estimated sum, and shall estimate the same in gold coin of the United States.

Said commissioners shall prepare and certify a roll on which they shall state the name and address of the owner of each parcel of land in such unit, or if the name or address of any owner is unknown, then, that fact; also a description of each parcel of land by legal subdivisions or boundaries, and the total amount assessed against each parcel of land so described. No mistake in the name of the owner, or supposed owner of any parcel of land, shall invalidate the apportionment or assessment. A separate roll shall be made for the lands in each county where such unit includes land in more than one county. When completed said roll or rolls shall be filed with the irrigation board and certified copies of the particular roll for each county shall be filed with the county recorder of any county in which any lands within said unit may be, and each roll shall be open for inspection by the public for at least thirty days.

The irrigation board shall appoint a time and place not less than thirty days after said roll has been filed with said recorder or recorders when and where it will meet, within said conservation district for the purpose of hearing objection to said assessment and the apportionment thereof and notice of such hearing shall be published at least once a week for two successive weeks in some newspaper published in each county in which any lands within said district may be. At any time before or at the original date of such hearing, any person interested in any real estate upon which any charge has been apportioned and assessed, may file in the office of the secretary of said irrigation board written objections thereto, stating the grounds of such objections, which said statements shall be verified by the affidavit of such person or some other person who is familiar with the facts. Said irrigation board may postpone such hearing from time to time. At such hearing the irrigation board shall hear such evidence as may be offered touching the correctness of such assessment or the manner of its apportionment and may modify or amend the same and may reapportion all or any part of the entire assessment. No assessment or apportionment shall be increased except upon the hearing of objections thereto or after personal notice or notice by mail to the owner of the land upon which said increase is made. Said irrigation board must make and enter in its minutes an order approving said assessment and apportionment as finally fixed, and the decision of said irrigation board shall be final, and thereafter said assessment and apportionment shall be conclusive evidence of the validity of said assessment and apportionment, and no action or defense shall ever be maintained attacking the same in any respect. And the records of said irrigation board, or a copy thereof certified by its secretary, shall be received in evidence in all or any of the courts of this state, or before any board or tribunal authorized to hear or consider any matter wherein the same shall be admissible as evidence. No change shall be made in said assessment or apportionment after the consideration, approval and fixing thereof by said irrigation board and all assessments upon the property of said district thereafter shall be levied in accordance therewith and consistent with the apportionment of benefits therein provided for and fixed, and if any assessments are called for or required in addition to the original amount estimated and apportioned for the purposes of said district, such additional amount shall be assessed, levied and raised in accordance with said apportionment and assessment of benefits so fixed in the first instance by said irrigation board. A certified copy of such assessment and apportionment roll as finally approved shall be filed in the offices of the county recorder of each county in which any land within said district is situated. Such assessment and apportionment shall thereafter constitute a first lien upon the land affected thereby until the full amount thereof is paid or until all bonds of the district issued thereon, together with the accrued interest, shall have been fully paid. The said irrigation board shall on the first Tuesday in May following the fixing and approval of said assessment and apportionment therein provided for, and annually thereafter on said date, levy an assessment, sufficient to raise the annual interest on the outstanding bonds of said district, and in any year in which any bonds shall fall due must increase such assessment to an amount sufficient to pay the principal of the outstanding bonds as they mature; also sufficient to pay in full all sums that may become due from the district before the time of collection of the next annual assessment, including an amount sufficient to pay in full the amount of any contract or obligation of the district which may come due during said year or may have been reduced to judgment. And to provide for and maintain a fund out of which the current and contingent obligations of said district can be paid in cash as they mature. In addition to the amounts estimated as necessary for the purposes aforesaid, a further levy of fifteen per cent additional shall be included and levied for the purposes of meeting any additional amounts that may be required on account of delinquencies and to insure the payment of all of the bonded indebtedness, including the interest thereon and other obligations of said district at maturity. Whenever there is a surplus in the funds of said district over and above all requirements as herein specified for the payment of the bonded indebtedness and interest thereon and accrued obligations of said district, such a surplus may be used and applied in retiring the outstanding bonds or any thereof of said district. The secretary of the irrigation board must compute and enter in a separate column of the assessment-book the respective sums in dollars and cents to be paid as an assessment upon the property therein enumerated. In so doing, said secretary shall enter the names of the owners of such lands and the descriptions thereof in accordance with the last assessment-roll of the county in which the said lands are situated. Such assessment must be so levied and computed as to be in accordance with the apportionment and assessment of benefits herein provided for and so that all lands within said district shall be assessed and required to pay in accordance therewith.

The secretary of said board shall forthwith deliver a certified copy of that portion of said assessment so directed to be entered by him, so far as it applies or appertains to any land within any county situated within said district to the county auditor of such county, and such auditor shall accept and receipt for the same and thereupon it shall be the duty of said auditor to include said assessment as an assessment against each parcel or tract of land therein described. It shall be the duty of said auditor to examine and ascertain as to any errors or discrepancies that may exist in said roll as to the ownership of or the descriptions of land as applied to any owner or owners thereof as compared with the assessment-roll of the said county for such year, and if any such difference or discrepancies are found, it shall be the duty of said auditor to correct the same accordingly so that the said roll as to ownerships and descriptions of land and assessments thereof shall correspond to the assessment-roll of said county and for such year. And it shall be his duty to audit, enter and certify the same to the tax collector of said county for collection in the same manner and form as county, school district and other taxes are included and certified by him to such tax collector, and all such assessments shall constitute a first lien upon the lands affected thereby as hereinbefore provided.

Upon receipt of the same from the auditor of such county it shall be the duty of the tax collector of said county to include the same as a separate entry and charge against the land therein described and to collect the same with the county, school district and other taxes so required to be collected by such county tax collector and to keep and deposit such district taxes in a separate fund, and when the same is collected it shall be the duty of such tax collector to pay the same over to the treasurer of such county at the same time and in the same manner as other taxes collected by him are paid over to such treasurer, and it shall be the duty of such treasurer to receive the same as other taxes are received by him and after receipt thereof to keep the same in a separate fund and upon receipt of same, or any part thereof, it shall be the duty of such county treasurer within thirty days thereafter to pay the same and all thereof to the treasurer of the state of California, who shall receive and keep the same and deposit the same in a separate fund to the credit of the said district, and to be paid out by him upon the order and approval of the said irrigation board.

All moneys received under contracts, leases or other arrangements by such conservation district from any canal companies, mutual or other water companies, reclamation districts, or from any corporations, individuals, or other sources not herein otherwise provided for shall be collected by said irrigation board and by it deposited with the state treasurer, and thereafter to be disbursed as provided as to funds of such district under the order and direction of such irrigation board for the purposes and obligations of said district, including the payment and retirement of outstanding bonds with interest thereon.

From and after the time of the filing of such assessment-roll of such district with the auditor of any county the taxes therein enumerated, levied and assessed, shall be regarded and treated as are the other taxes of said county or the school districts thereof and the same shall be included in and considered a part of such taxes and the same shall become delinquent at the same time and in the same manner as such other taxes, and with respect to any delinquency or delinquent notices the same shall become delinquent and notice thereof shall be published with and at the same time and in the same manner as other delinquent taxes and the same shall be similarly treated for all purposes of notice and sale thereof for such delinquent taxes, and shall be subject to redemption from such delinquent district taxes at the same time and in the same manner and through the same officials as are such other taxes. And any and all charges and penalties in connection with such delinquency and interest thereon and penalties in connection therewith shall be similarly charged and collected, and the amounts so collected on account of any such delinquent taxes or interest or penalties thereon shall be received by the county treasurer and paid over to the state treasurer in the same manner as is hereinabove provided and in the event of the sale of any property for delinquent taxes of such counties or other delinquent taxes, said district taxes shall be included therein and said property shall be sold therefor in connection with and including such other taxes, and upon a redemption thereof or upon a sale of said lands the said district taxes shall be included therein and together with interest and penalties thereon the same shall be received and paid over to the county treasurer, and by him paid over to the state treasurer, as hereinbefore provided.

§ 16. Issue of bonds. Estimate of amount necessary. Examination by engineer. Special election. Evidence of ownership. Notice. Conduct of election. Bonds. Coupons. Sale of bonds. Determination of validity. Warrants. Legal investments. Additional bonds. At any time after the irrigation board shall have made the examinations, surveys, plans and estimates of cost for the storage, diversion and distribution of water, and for the other purposes enumerated in this act, and after the same has been entered in the minutes of said board and shall have also had assessed and apportioned upon the lands in said conservation district the charges and benefits and apportionments provided for in this act, and after such apportionment and assessment-roll shall have been finally fixed and approved by the said board, and after the same has been entered in the minutes of the said board must, as soon as may be practicable, proceed and issue the bonds of said district for the purposes aforesaid.

The said board shall, in connection with the previous estimates made and adopted by it, estimate the amount of money necessary to be raised by such bond issue for the purposes of said district, as aforesaid, and shall ascertain and determine the same and enter its order to that effect in the minutes of said board. And whenever thereafter the construction fund has been exhausted by expenditures herein authorized, and it is necessary to raise additional money for such purposes, it shall be the duty of said board to estimate and determine the amount of money necessary to be raised for such additional purposes.

For the purposes of such bond issue, or additional bond issue, the said board shall be authorized to employ engineers and other assistants and make all such further examinations and estimates as may be necessary, to fix and determine such matters and the conclusion and estimates of said board shall be entered in its minutes. Said irrigation board shall by order entered in its records order a special election to be held at such places in said district as shall be designated by said irrigation board, and at least one such place shall be designated as a voting place in each unit of said conservation district at which said election there shall be submitted to the owners of land in said district the question of whether or not the bonds of said district shall be issued in the amount specified in the order of said board, and which amount shall be stated in the order for such special election. For all purposes of this act relating to signing petitions and voting at any election, and for all other purposes where the question of title to land claimed to be owned by such voter or owner is involved, the equalized assessment-roll for the year last preceding in each county wherein any land of the said district is situated, shall be sufficient evidence of ownership of lands in the district. Guardians, executors, administrators and other persons holding land in a trust capacity under appointment of court may sign any such petition and may vote without obtaining any special authority therefor. Said irrigation board shall at the time of calling the said election designate in its order the voting places at which election shall be held and where votes shall be cast and shall designate three land holders of the district to act as a board of election at each voting place.

Notice of such special election must be given by the irrigation board by posting notice thereof in at least three public places in each unit of the district at least twenty days prior thereto, and also by publishing such notice once a week for the same length of time in some newspaper of general circulation, published in each county in which any portion of said district may be situated, or if there be no newspaper published in any one of such counties, then in each county wherein such newspaper is published; and such notice must specify the time and place of holding said election and the aggregate face value of bonds proposed to be issued and the names of three land holders of said district to act as a board of election at each polling place. Affidavits of the publication and posting of such notice must be filed with the clerk of said irrigation board.

At such election each owner of lands in the district shall be entitled to vote in person or by proxy, and shall have the right to cast one vote for each acre of real estate owned by him in the district, such ownership to be determined from the next preceding assessment-roll of the county or counties in which the lands of the district are situated and the irrigation board shall, prior to the election, cause to be prepared and certified and furnished to the board of election at each polling place, a true and correct copy of each of said next preceding assessment-rolls so far as such assessment-roll applies to any lands within such district, which said certified rolls shall be used by the board of election in determining the number of votes each voter is entitled to cast. Executors, administrators, special administrators and guardians may cast the vote of the estates represented by them. No person shall vote by proxy at such election unless authority to cast such vote shall be evidenced by an instrument in writing, duly acknowledged and certified in the same manner as grants of real property and filed with the board of election.

The ballots cast at such election shall contain the words "bonds, yes" or "bonds, no" and also the name of the person casting the ballot, with the number of votes cast by him. A list of the ballots cast shall be made by the board of election containing the name of each voter, and, if the ballots be cast by proxy, the name of the person casting it and the number of votes cast by each and whether the same be cast for or against the issuing of bonds.

If any person appointed as a member of the board of election shall fail to attend at the opening of the polls, the voters then present, voting individually, may appoint in his place any landholder in the district. Each member of said board of election must, before entering upon his duties, take and subscribe an official oath, to faithfully perform his duties as an officer of such election, which oath may be administered by an officer authorized to administer oaths, or by a landholder in the district.

The polls shall be kept open from ten o'clock A. M. of the day of election until five o'clock P. M. of that day.

At the close of the polls the board of election shall at once proceed to canvass the votes and declare the result, and shall forward a certificate showing such result and the number of votes cast for and against the issuing of the bonds to the irrigation board and shall also deliver to the said irrigation board all ballots cast at such election and all documents and papers used at such election.

Said irrigation board shall, upon the receipt of such canvass and declaration of the result from the said board of election, proceed to examine the same and shall ascertain and declare the result as shown by such canvass and declaration, and shall enter an order in its minutes that the said proposition for the issuance of said bonds has been carried or defeated, as the case may be.

Forthwith, upon the declaration of the result of said election by said irrigation board, the secretary of said board shall make a certified copy of the order of said board, declaring the result of said election, and shall forward said certified copy or copies to the recorder or recorders of the counties in which any land of said conservation district may be situated, and the same shall forthwith be filed and recorded in said recorder or recorders' office, and shall impart notice to all interested persons as to the result of said election.

Any person owning property within the said district, liable to assessment, may contest such election, by filing a written contest specifying the grounds of his objections thereto, with said irrigation board, said written contest to be filed within thirty days after the declaration of the result of said election by said irrigation board, and if no such contest and objections be filed within thirty days, no such contest and objections shall thereafter be received or filed. Such written contest shall specify the ground or grounds of contest to said election, and upon the filing of the same with said irrigation board shall expeditiously set the said contest for hearing, and shall have the right to postpone the hearing for such time as may be necessary, but not otherwise, and shall expeditiously hear and determine the same. For the purposes of such hearing the board may by subpoena, signed by the secretary, under its seal, compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of evidence. Disobedience of such subpoena or of any lawful order of the board in the premises shall constitute a contempt of the authority of the board punishable by the board in accordance with title five of part three, of the Code of Civil Procedure, and shall also constitute a misdemeanor under section one hundred sixty-six of the Penal Code. Said irrigation board shall, upon the conclusion of said hearing of said contest, proceed forthwith to enter its order and decision thereon. Such decision on the part of said irrigation board shall be final, conclusive and binding upon all parties interested as to validity and as to result of such election and shall be subject to review only in event suit is brought by the said district or by some person or corporation or association authorized to bring the same to determine the question of the validity of the said bond issue, and in the determination and adjudication of the question of the validity of said bond issue, as hereinafter specified, the court may review and consider the validity of said election for the issuance of said bonds, but in such action the certificate and determination of said irrigation board shall be received and accepted by the court as prima facie evidence of the result as to the validity of said election and the regularity of the canvassing, counting and return of the votes cast at said election. If a majority of the votes cast at such an election is in favor of the issuance of bonds, the irrigation board after canvassing the returns and declaring the result of said election shall cause bonds in the amount stated in the order for the election to be issued, executed and delivered to the state treasurer of the state of California. Said bonds shall be of the denomination of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars each; they shall be signed by the president of the irrigation board and attested by the secretary thereof, and shall be numbered consecutively in the order of their maturity, and shall bear interest at the rate not exceeding six per centum per annum, payable semi-annually on the first day of January and the first day of July in each year, at the office of said state treasurer, upon the presentation of the proper coupons therefor. Coupons for each installment of interest shall be attached to said bonds and shall bear the facsimile signature of the state treasurer of the state of California.

The principal of said bonds shall be made payable, by an order entered into the minutes of the irrigation board, upon the first day of July or the first day of January, and in such years as the irrigation board may prescribe. Said bonds shall be payable serially within forty years from their date in the manner following, to wit:

Not less than five per cent of the aggregate face value of the bonds issued shall be payable each year, beginning not later than the twentieth year from their date until the whole amount of said bonds have been paid.

Said irrigation board, subject to the provisions of this act, is authorized and empowered to take all such actions and make all such orders as may be necessary in connection with the issuance, sale and disposition of said bonds.

Said bonds may be substantially in the following form:

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

No. —— $——

(Name of district) Conservation District No. ——, for value received, hereby acknowledges itself indebted to and promises to pay to the holder hereof at the office of the state treasurer of the state of California, on the first day of ——, 19—, the sum of $——, in gold coin of the United States of America, with interest thereon in like gold coin from date hereof until paid, at the rate of —— per cent per annum, payable at the office of said treasurer semi-annually on the first day of January and the first day of July in each year on presentation and surrender of the interest coupons hereto attached. This bond is one of a series of —— bonds of like tenor and effect, except as to denomination and maturity, numbered from —— to ——, inclusive, amounting in the aggregate to $——, issued in accordance with the California irrigation act, pursuant to an election held in said district on the —— day of ——, 19—, authorizing its issuance, and is based upon and secured by a lien upon and a valuation and apportionment levied on the land in said district and filed in the office of the state irrigation board on the —— day of ——, 19—. And the said district does hereby certify and declare that said election was duly called and held upon due notice, and the result thereof was duly canvassed and ascertained, in pursuance of and in strict conformity with the laws of the state of California applicable thereto, and that all of the acts and conditions and things required by law to be done precedent to and in the issue of said bonds have been done and have been performed in regular and in due form and in strict accordance with the provisions of the law authorizing the issuance of such district bonds.

In testimony whereof, the said conservation district, acting by and through the irrigation board of the state of California, has caused this bond to be signed by the president of said irrigation board, and attested by the secretary thereof, with his seal of office affixed, this —— day of ——, 19—.

By —— ——,
President of said board.

Attest: —— ——,
Secretary of said board.

And the interest coupon may be substantially in the following form:

No. —— $——

The state treasurer of the state of California will pay to the holder hereof on the —— day of ——, 19—, at his office in the city of Sacramento, state of California, the sum of $—— in gold coin of the United States out of the funds of —— district —— for interest on bond of said district numbered ——.

—— ——,
State treasurer.

The state treasurer shall place the bonds prepared pursuant to this act to the credit of the district and the irrigation board may in its discretion direct the state treasurer to sell the whole or any designated number of said bonds for the best price obtainable therefor, but in no event for less than ninety per cent of the face value of said bonds and the accrued interest thereon. Before making a sale of said bonds, notice shall be given by the state treasurer by publication at least once a week for three weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the city of Sacramento, and also one or more papers in said district, that he will sell a specified amount of said bonds, and stating the day, hour and place of such sale, and asking sealed proposals for the purchase of said bonds, or any part thereof. At the time appointed the state treasurer shall open the bids and award the bonds to the highest responsible bidder. He may reject any and all bids. Any sale by the state treasurer and delivery of the bonds thereunder shall be conclusive evidence in favor of the purchaser and all subsequent holders of the bonds that such sale was made upon due authority and notice. The proceeds of sale of said bonds shall be placed in the state treasury to the credit of said district, and a proper record of such transaction shall be made upon his books. At any time after said bonds shall have been delivered to the state treasurer, an action may be commenced in the superior court of the county within which is situated the largest area of land within said district by the irrigation board in the name of the district or by any unit of said district or by any person owning property within the said district liable to assessment. Such action shall be brought and prosecuted against the lands in said district and all persons owning the same or interested therein, to have it determined as to whether or not said bonds when sold will be a legal obligation of such district. It shall be sufficient to describe said lands as all lands in the district (naming it) without a more specific description. The summons shall be published once a week for three weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county where the action is pending. Within thirty days after the first publication of summons any owner of land in such district, or any person interested, may appear and answer the complaint, which answer shall set forth the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of said bonds. The default of all defendants not so appearing may be entered. Such action shall be given precedence in hearing and trial over all other civil actions in such court and judgment rendered declaring such matter so contested either valid or invalid. Any party not in default may have the right to appeal to the supreme court within thirty days after entry of judgment and said appeal and the hearing thereof shall be expedited in said court. Judgment for the plaintiff in such proceedings shall be considered as a judgment in rem and shall be conclusive against said district and against all lands therein and all owners thereof and all other interested persons.

The irrigation board may draw warrants upon the state treasurer against the funds provided by sale of said bonds.

The money derived from the sale of any of said bonds shall be received by the state treasurer and shall by him be safely kept and placed to the credit of said district in a fund to be designated in the name of such district for the said district and may be drawn and expended upon warrants drawn against said fund as in this act provided.

Bonds of any district issued pursuant to the provisions of this act which are investigated and approved by any commission or officer now or hereafter authorized by the laws of this state to conduct such investigation and give such approval and by authority of which approval said bonds are declared to be legal investments for savings banks may be lawfully purchased or received in pledge for loans by banks, trust companies, guardians, executors, administrators and special administrators, or by any public officer or officers of this state, or of any county, city, city and county or other municipal or corporate body within the state having or holding funds which they are allowed by law to invest or loan.

If after said district has authorized the issuance and sale of a series of bonds under this act, it shall become necessary so to do, an additional bond issue or series of bonds may be authorized and sold and all proceedings shall be had and taken, and all procedure in connection with said second issue or series of bonds shall be had and taken in accordance with the provisions of this act as to the first issue of bonds; provided, that said second issue or series of bonds shall not be issued so as to in any manner interfere with the lien or security of the payment of the first issue of bonds, and said second issue or series of bonds shall, as to the lien thereof and as to the security of same, be subsequent and subordinate and subject to such first bond issue.

§ 17. Surveys, etc., of irrigation district. Commissioners to assess land. Assessment-roll. Hearing. Objections. Approval of assessment. Lien. Annual levy. Additional levy. Surplus. Duties of auditors and tax collectors. Moneys received under contracts. Delinquent taxes. The irrigation board shall, upon the organization of any irrigation district as in this act provided, proceed to make or cause to be made, all necessary examinations, surveys, plans and estimates of cost for the storage, diversion and distribution of water and the generation of electric power in connection therewith, and the sale and distribution thereof as may be necessary or requisite to enable said board to ascertain and estimate the requirements and works necessary as aforesaid for the purposes of said irrigation district and the probable cost and expense thereof, and in that connection may use and adopt all previous estimates, surveys and reports it may have collected adapted to that purpose, and may employ all necessary engineers and other assistants for the accomplishment of said purposes, and the cost thereof shall be deemed a part of the expense of said project and may issue warrants therefor and same shall bear interest from date of issue at the rate of six per cent per annum until paid, and shall be payable out of the funds of said district, and may be included in any bond issue authorized for the purposes of said district.

Such estimate as is above provided for shall be in such form as shall be approved by said irrigation board and shall be entered in the minutes of said board and shall constitute a part of the records of said board, and the same, or a copy thereof, certified by the secretary of said board, shall be admissible as evidence in any proceeding before any court, commission or tribunal of this state wherein the matters therein set forth shall be admissible in evidence.

Whenever, for any of the purposes of this act, the irrigation board shall deem it necessary for the purposes of said irrigation district, or the levying of an assessment upon the property therein, or the issuance of bonds by said irrigation district, said board shall appoint three commissioners for such purpose or purposes. Such commissioners shall have no interest in any land in the irrigation district, either directly or indirectly, and each commissioner before entering upon his duties shall make and subscribe an oath that he is not in any manner interested directly or indirectly in any land in said irrigation district, and that he will perform the duties of commissioner to the best of his ability. Thereupon said commissioners shall proceed to view and assess upon the land within said irrigation district a sum sufficient to cover said estimated amount and shall apportion the same according to the benefits which will accrue to each tract of land within said irrigation district, such benefits to be estimated according to the benefits which will accrue to each tract of land in such irrigation district by reason of the expenditure of said estimated sum, and shall estimate the same in gold coin of the United States.

Said commissioners shall prepare and certify a roll on which they shall state the names and address of the owner of each parcel of land in such irrigation district, or if the name or address of any owner is unknown, then, that fact; also a description of each parcel of land by legal subdivisions or boundaries, and the total amount assessed against each parcel of land so described. No mistake in the name of the owner, or supposed owner of any parcel of land, shall invalidate the apportionment or assessment. A separate roll shall be made for the lands in each county where such irrigation district includes land in more than one county. When completed said roll or rolls shall be filed with the irrigation board and certified copies of the particular roll for each county shall be filed with the county recorder of any county in which any lands within said irrigation district may be, and each roll shall be open for inspection by the public for at least thirty days.

The irrigation board shall appoint a time and place not less than thirty days after said roll has been filed with said recorder or recorders when and where it will meet, within the county in which the greater portion of said irrigation district is situated for the purpose of hearing objection to said assessment and the apportionment thereof and notice of such hearing shall be published at least once a week for two sucessive weeks in some newspaper published in each county in which any lands within said irrigation district may be. At any time before or at the original date of such hearing, any person interested in any real estate upon which any charge has been apportioned and assessed, may file in the office of the secretary of said irrigation board written objections thereto, stating the grounds of such objections, which said statements shall be verified by the affidavit of such person or some other person who is familiar with the facts. Said irrigation board may postpone such hearing from time to time. At such hearing the irrigation board shall hear such evidence as may be offered touching the correctness of such assessment or the manner of its apportionment and may modify or amend the same and may reapportion all or any part of the entire assessment. No assessment or apportionment shall be increased except upon the hearing of objections thereto or after personal notice or notice by mail to the owner of the land upon which said increase is made. Said irrigation board must make and enter in its minutes an order approving said assessment and apportionment as finally fixed, and the decision of said irrigation board shall be final, and thereafter said assessment and apportionment shall be conclusive evidence of the validity of said assessment and apportionment, and no action or defense shall ever be maintained attacking the same in any respect. And the records of said irrigation board, or a copy thereof certified by its secretary, shall be received in evidence in all or any of the courts of this state, or before any board or tribunal authorized to hear or consider any matter wherein the same shall be admissible as evidence. No change shall be made in said assessment or apportionment after the consideration, approval and fixing thereof by said irrigation board and all assessments upon the property of said irrigation district thereafter shall be levied in accordance therewith and consistent with the apportionment of benefits therein provided for and fixed, and if any assessments are called for or required in addition to the original amount estimated and apportioned for the purposes of said irrigation district, such additional amount shall be assessed, levied and raised in accordance with said apportionment and assessment of benefits so fixed in the first instance by said irrigation board. A certified copy of such assessment and apportionment roll as finally approved shall be filed in the office of the county recorder of each county in which any land within said irrigation district is situated. Such assessment and apportionment shall thereafter constitute a first lien upon the land affected thereby until the full amount thereof is paid or until all bonds of the irrigation district issued thereon, together with the accrued interest, shall have been fully paid. The said irrigation board shall on the first Tuesday in May following the fixing and approval of said assessment and apportionment therein provided for, and annually thereafter on said date, levy an assessment, sufficient to raise the annual interest on the outstanding bonds of said irrigation district, and in any year in which any bonds shall fall due must increase such assessment to an amount sufficient to pay the principal of the outstanding bonds as they mature; also sufficient to pay in full all sums that may become due from the irrigation district before the time of collection of the next annual assessment, including an amount sufficient to pay in full the amount of any contract or obligation of the irrigation district which may come due during said year or may have been reduced to judgment, and to provide for and maintain a fund out of which the current and contingent obligations of said irrigation district can be paid in cash as they mature. In addition to the amounts estimated as necessary for the purposes aforesaid, a further levy of fifteen per cent additional shall be included and levied for the purposes of meeting any additional amounts that may be required on account of delinquencies and to insure the payment of all of the bonded indebtedness, including the interest thereon and other obligations of said irrigation district at maturity. Whenever there is a surplus in the funds of said district over and above all requirements as herein specified for the payment of the bonded indebtedness and interest thereon and accrued obligations of said irrigation district, such a surplus may be used and applied in retiring the outstanding bonds or any thereof of said irrigation district. The secretary of the irrigation board must compute and enter in a separate column of the assessment-book the respective sums in dollars and cents to be paid as an assessment upon the property therein enumerated. In so doing, said secretary shall enter the names of the owners of such lands and the descriptions thereof in accordance with the last assessment-roll of the county in which the said lands are situated. Such assessment must be so levied and computed as to be in accordance with the apportionment and assessment of benefits herein provided for and so that all lands within said irrigation district shall be assessed and required to pay in accordance therewith.

The secretary of said board shall forthwith deliver a certified copy of that portion of said assessment so directed to be entered by him, so far as it applies or appertains to any land within any county situated within said irrigation district to the county auditor of such county, and such auditor shall accept and receipt for the same and thereupon it shall be the duty of said auditor to include said assessment as an assessment against each parcel or tract of land therein described. It shall be the duty of said auditor to examine and ascertain as to any errors or discrepancies that may exist in said roll as to the ownership of or the descriptions of land as applied to any owner or owners thereof as compared with the assessment-roll of the said county for such year, and if any such difference or discrepancies are found, it shall be the duty of said auditor to correct the same accordingly so that the said roll as to ownerships and descriptions of land and assessments thereof shall correspond to the assessment-roll of said county and for such year. And it shall be his duty to audit, enter and certify the same to the tax collector of said county for collection in the same manner and form as county, school district and other taxes are included and certified by him to such tax collector, and all such assessments shall constitute a first lien upon the lands affected thereby as hereinbefore provided.

Upon receipt of the same from the auditor of such county it shall be the duty of the tax collector of said county to include the same as a separate entry and charge against the land therein described and to collect the same with the county, school district and other taxes so required to be collected by such county tax collector and to keep and deposit such irrigation district taxes in a separate fund, and when the same is collected it shall be the duty of such tax collector to pay the same over to the treasurer of such county at the same time and in the same manner as other taxes collected by him are paid over to such treasurer, and it shall be the duty of such treasurer to receive the same as other taxes are received by him and after receipt thereof to keep the same in a separate fund and upon receipt of same, or any part thereof, it shall be the duty of such county treasurer within thirty days thereafter to pay the same and all thereof to the treasurer of the state of California, who shall receive and keep the same and deposit the same in a separate fund to the credit of the said district, and to be paid out by him upon the order and approval of the said irrigation board.

All moneys received under contracts, leases or other arrangements by such irrigation district from any canal companies, mutual or other water companies, reclamation districts, or from any corporations, individuals, or other sources not herein otherwise provided for, shall be collected by said irrigation board and by it deposited with the state treasurer, and thereafter to be disbursed as provided as to funds of such irrigation district under the order and direction of such irrigation board for the purposes and obligations of said irrigation district, including the payment and retirement of outstanding bonds with interest thereon.

From and after the time of the filing of such assessment-roll of such irrigation district with the auditor of any county the taxes therein enumerated, levied and assessed, shall be regarded and treated as are the other taxes of said county or the school districts thereof and the same shall be included in and considered a part of such taxes and the same shall become delinquent at the same time and in the same manner as such other taxes, and with respect to any delinquency or delinquent notices the same shall become delinquent and notice thereof shall be published with and at the same time and in the same manner as other delinquent taxes and the same shall be similarly treated for all purposes of notice and sale thereof for such delinquent taxes, and shall be subject to redemption from such delinquent irrigation district taxes at the same time and in the same manner and through the same officials as are such other taxes. And any and all charges and penalties in connection therewith shall be similarly charged and collected, and the amounts so collected on account of any such delinquent taxes or interest or penalties thereon shall be received by the county treasurer and paid over to the state treasurer in the same manner as is hereinabove provided, and in the event of the sale of any property for delinquent taxes of such counties or other delinquent taxes, said irrigation district taxes shall be included therein and said property shall be sold therefor in connection with and including such other taxes, and upon a redemption thereof or upon a sale of said lands the said irrigation district taxes shall be included therein and together with interest and penalties thereon the same shall be received and paid over to the county treasurer, and by him paid over to the state treasurer, as hereinbefore provided.

§ 18. Issue of bonds. Estimate of amount necessary. Examination by engineer. Special election. Manner of conducting. Bonds, issuance and form of. Interest coupons. Sale of bonds. Action to determine if bonds legal. Warrants. Bond, legal investments. Additional bond issue. At any time after the irrigation board shall have made the examinations, surveys, plans and estimates of cost for the storage, diversion and distribution of water, and for the other purposes enumerated in this act, and after the same has been entered in the minutes of said board and shall have also had assessed and apportioned upon the lands in any irrigation district organized under the provision of this act the charges and benefits and apportionments provided for in this act, and after such apportionment and assessment-roll shall have been finally fixed and approved by the said board, and after the same has been entered in the minutes of the said board must, as soon as may be practicable, proceed and issue the bonds of said irrigation district for the purposes aforesaid.

The said board shall, in connection with the previous estimates made and adopted by it, estimate the amount of money necessary to be raised by such bond issue for the purposes of said irrigation district, as aforesaid, and shall ascertain and determine the same and enter its order to that effect in the minutes of said board. And whenever thereafter the construction fund of said irrigation district has been exhausted by expenditures herein authorized, and it is necessary to raise additional money for such purposes, it shall be the duty of said board to estimate and determine the amount of money necessary to be raised for such additional purposes.

For the purposes of such bond issue, or additional bond issue, the said board shall be authorized to employ engineers and other assistants and make all such further examinations and estimates as may be necessary, to fix and determine such matters and the conclusion and estimates of said board shall be entered in its minutes. Said irrigation board shall by order entered in its records order a special election to be held at such place or places in said irrigation district as shall be designated by said irrigation board, at which said election there shall be submitted to the owners of land in said irrigation district the question whether or not the bonds of said district shall be issued in the amount specified in the order of said board, and which amount shall be stated in the order for such special election. For all purposes of this act relating to signing petitions and voting at any election, and for all other purposes, where the question of title to land claimed to be owned by such voter or owner is involved, the equalized assessment-roll for the year last preceding in each county wherein any land of the said irrigation district is situated, shall be sufficient evidence of ownership of lands in the irrigation district. Guardians, executors, administrators and other persons holding land in a trust capacity under appointment of court may vote without obtaining any special authority therefor. Said irrigation board shall at the time of calling the said election designate in its order the voting place or places at which said election shall be held and where votes shall be cast and shall designate three landholders of the irrigation district to act as a board of election at each voting place.

Notice of such special election must be given by the irrigation board by posting notice thereof in at least three public places in such irrigation district at least twenty days prior thereto, and also by publishing such notice once a week for the same length of time in some newspaper of general circulation, published in each county in which any portion of said irrigation district may be situated, or if there be no newspaper published in any one of such counties, then in each county wherein such newspaper is published; and such notice must specify the time and place of holding said election and the aggregate face value of bonds proposed to be issued and the names of three landholders of said irrigation district to act as a board of election at each polling place. Affidavits of the publication and posting of such notice must be filed with the secretary of said irrigation board.

At such election each owner of lands in the district shall be entitled to vote in person or by proxy, and shall have the right to cast one vote for each acre of real estate owned by him in the irrigation district, such ownership to be determined from the next preceding assessment-roll of the county or counties in which the lands of the irrigation district are situated and the irrigation board shall, prior to the election, cause to be prepared and certified and furnished to the board of election at each polling place, a true and correct copy of each of said next preceding assessment-rolls so far as such assessment-roll applies to any lands within such irrigation district, which said certified roll shall be used by the board of election in determining the number of votes each voter is entitled to cast. Executors, administrators, special administrators and guardians may cast the vote of the estates represented by them. No person shall vote by proxy at such election unless authority to cast such vote shall be evidenced by an instrument in writing, duly acknowledged and certified in the same manner as grants of real property and filed with the board of election.

The ballots cast at such election shall contain the words, "bonds, yes" or "bonds, no" and also the name of the person casting the ballot, with the number of votes cast by him. A list of the ballots cast shall be made by the board of election containing the name of each voter, and, if the ballots be cast by proxy, the name of the person casting it and the number of votes cast by each and whether the same be cast for or against the issuing of bonds.

If any person appointed as a member of the board of election shall fail to attend at the opening of the polls, the voters then present, voting individually, may appoint in his place any landholder in the irrigation district. Each member of said board of election must, before entering upon his duties, take and subscribe an official oath, to faithfully perform his duties as an officer of such election, which oath may be administered by any officer authorized to administer oaths, or by a land holder in the irrigation district.

The polls shall be kept open from ten o'clock A. M. of the day of election until five o'clock P. M. of that day.

At the close of the polls the board of election shall at once proceed to canvass the votes and declare the result and shall forward a certificate showing such result and the number of votes cast for and against the issuing of the bonds to the irrigation board and shall also deliver to the said irrigation board all ballots cast at such election and all documents and papers used at such election.

Said irrigation board shall, upon the receipt of such canvass and declaration of the result from the said board of election, proceed to examine the same and shall ascertain and declare the result as shown by such canvass and declaration, and shall enter an order in its minutes that the said proposition for the issuance of said bonds has been carried or defeated, as the case may be.

Forthwith, upon the declaration of the result of said election by said irrigation board, the secretary of said board shall make a certified copy of the order of said board, declaring the result of said election, and shall forward said certified copy or copies to the recorder or recorders of the counties in which any land of said irrigation district may be situated, and the same shall forthwith be filed and recorded in said recorder or recorders' office, and shall impart notice to all interested persons as to the result of said election.

Any person owning property within the said irrigation district, liable to assessment, may contest such election, by filing a written contest specifying the grounds of his objection thereto, with said irrigation board, said written contest to be filed within thirty days after the declaration of the result of said election by said irrigation board, and if no such contest and objections be filed within thirty days, no such contest and objections shall thereafter be received or filed. Such written contest shall specify the ground or grounds of contest to said election, and upon the filing of the same with said irrigation board it shall expeditiously set the said contest for hearing, and shall have the right to postpone the hearing for such time as may be necessary, but not otherwise, and shall expeditiously hear and determine the same. For the purposes of such hearing the board may by subpoena signed by the secretary under its seal compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of evidence. Disobedience of such subpoena or of any lawful order of the board in the premises shall constitute a contempt of the authority of the board punishable by the board in accordance with title five of part three of the Code of Civil Procedure, and shall also constitute a misdemeanor under section one hundred sixty-six of the Penal Code. Said irrigation board shall, upon the conclusion of said hearing of said contest, proceed forthwith to enter its order and decision thereon. Such decision on the part of said irrigation board shall be final, conclusive and binding upon all parties interested as to validity and as to result of such election and shall be subject to review only in the event suit is brought by the said irrigation district or by some person or corporation or association authorized to bring the same to determine the question of the validity of the said bond issue, and in the determination and adjudication of the question of the validity of said bond issue, as hereinafter specified, the court may review and consider the validity of said election for the issuance of said bonds, but in such action the certificate and determination of said irrigation board shall be received and accepted by the court as prima facie evidence of the result as to the validity of said election and the regularity of the canvassing, counting and return of the votes cast at said election. If a majority of the votes cast at such an election is in favor of the issuance of bonds, the irrigation board shall after canvassing the returns and declaring the result of said election cause bonds of said irrigation district in the amount stated in the order for the election to be issued, executed and delivered to the state treasurer of the state of California. Said bonds shall be of the denomination of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars each; they shall be signed by the president of the irrigation board and attested by the secretary thereof, and shall be numbered consecutively in the order of their maturity, and shall bear interest at the rate not exceeding six per centum per annum, payable semi-annually on the first day of January and the first day of July in each year, at the office of said state treasurer, upon the presentation of the proper coupons therefor. Coupons for each installment of interest shall be attached to said bonds and shall bear the facsimile signature of the state treasurer of the state of California.

The principal of said bonds shall be made payable, by an order entered into the minutes of the irrigation board, upon the first day of July or the first day of January, and in such years as the irrigation board may prescribe. Said bonds shall be payable serially within forty years from their date in the manner following, to wit:

Not less than five per cent of the aggregate face value of the bonds issued shall be payable each year, beginning not later than the twentieth year from their date until the whole amount of said bonds have been paid.

Said irrigation board, subject to the provisions of this act, is authorized and empowered to take all such actions and make all such orders as may be necessary in connection with the issuance, sale and disposition of said bonds.

Said bonds may be substantially in the following form:

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

No. —— $ ——

Name of district —— Irrigation District ——

(Name of district) Irrigation District, for value received, hereby acknowledges itself indebted to and promises to pay to the holder hereof at the office of the state treasurer of the state of California, on the first day of ——, 19—, the sum of $——, in gold coin of the United States of America, with interest thereon in like gold coin from date hereof until paid, at the rate of —— per cent per annum, payable at the office of said treasurer semi-annually on the first day of January and the first day of July in each year on presentation and surrender of the interest coupons hereto attached. This bond is one of a series of —— bonds of like tenor and effect, except as to denomination and maturity, numbered from —— to —— inclusive, amounting in the aggregate to $—— issued in accordance with the California irrigation act, pursuant to an election held in said district on the —— day of —— 19—, authorizing its issuance, and is based upon and secured by a lien upon and a valuation and apportionment levied on the land in said irrigation district and filed in the office of the state irrigation board on the —— day of —— 19—; and the said district does hereby certify and declare that said election was duly called and held upon due notice, and the result thereof was duly canvassed and ascertained, in pursuance of and in strict conformity with the laws of the state of California applicable thereto, and that all of the acts and conditions and things required by law to be done precedent to and in the issue of said bonds have been done and have been performed in regular and in due form and in strict accordance with the provisions of the law authorizing the issuance of such irrigation district bonds.

In testimony whereof, the said irrigation district, acting by and through the irrigation board of the state of California, has caused this bond to be signed by the president of said irrigation board, and attested by the secretary thereof, with his seal of office affixed, this —— day of ——, 19—.

By ——, ——,
President of said board.

Attest: —— ——,
Secretary of said board.

And the interest coupon may be substantially in the following form:

No. ——. $——.

The state treasurer of the state of California will pay to the holder hereof on the —— day of —— 19—, at his office in the city of Sacramento, state of California, the sum of $—— in gold coin of the United States out of the funds of —— irrigation district —— for interest on bond of said irrigation district numbered ——.

—— ——,
State treasurer.

The state treasurer shall place the bonds prepared pursuant to this act to the credit of the irrigation district and the irrigation board may in its discretion direct the state treasurer to sell the whole or any designated number of said bonds for the best price obtainable therefor, but in no event for less that ninety per cent of the face value of said bonds and the accrued interest thereon. Before making a sale of said bonds, notice shall be given by the state treasurer by publication at least once a week for three weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the city of Sacramento, and also one or more papers in the county in which the greater portion of said irrigation district is situated, that he will sell a specified amount of said bonds, and stating the day, hour and place of such sale, and asking sealed proposals for the purchase of said bonds, or any part thereof. At the time appointed the state treasurer shall open the bids and award the bonds to the highest responsible bidder. He may reject any and all bids. Any sale by the state treasurer and delivery of the bonds thereunder shall be conclusive evidence in favor of the purchaser and all subsequent holders of the bonds that such sale was made upon due authority and notice. The proceeds of sale of said bonds shall be placed in the state treasury to the credit of said irrigation district, and a proper record of such transaction shall be made upon his books. At any time after said bonds shall have been delivered to the state treasurer, an action may be commenced in the superior court of the county within which is situated the largest area of land within said irrigation district by the irrigation board in the name of the irrigation district or by any person owning property within the said irrigation district liable to assessment. Such action shall be brought and prosecuted against the lands in said irrigation district and all persons owning the same or interested therein, to have it determined as to whether or not said bonds when sold will be a legal obligation of such irrigation district. It shall be sufficient to describe said lands as all lands in the irrigation district (naming it) without a more specific description. The summons shall be published once a week for three weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county where the action is pending. Within thirty days after the first publication of summons any owner of land in such irrigation district, or any person interested, may appear and answer the complaint, which answer shall set forth the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of said bonds. The default of all defendants not so appearing may be entered. Such action shall be given precedence in hearing and trial over all other civil actions in such court and judgment rendered declaring such matter so contested either valid or invalid. Any party not in default may have the right to appeal to the supreme court within thirty days after entry of judgment and said appeal and the hearing thereof shall be expedited in said court. Judgment for the plaintiff in such proceedings shall be considered as a judgment in rem and shall be conclusive against said district and against all lands therein and all owners thereof and all other interested persons.

The irrigation board may draw warrants upon the state treasury against the funds provided by sale of said bonds.

The money derived from the sale of any of said bonds shall be received by the state treasurer and shall by him be safely kept and placed to the credit of said irrigation district in a fund to be designated in the name of such irrigation district for the said irrgation district and may be drawn and expended upon warrants drawn against said fund as in this act provided.

Bonds of any irrigation district issued pursuant to the provisions of this act which are investigated and approved by any commission or officer now or hereafter authorized by a law of this state to conduct such approval and by authority of which approval said bonds are declared to be legal investments for savings banks may be lawfully purchased or received in pledge for loans by banks, trust companies, guardians, executors, administrators and special administrators, or by any public officer or officers of this state, or of any county, city, city and county or other municipal or corporate body within the state having or holding funds which they are allowed by law to invest or loan.

If after said irrigation district has authorized the issuance and sale of a series of bonds under this act, it shall become necessary so to do an additional bond issue or series of bonds may be authorized and sold and all proceedings shall be had and taken, and all procedure in connection with said second issue or series of bonds shall be had and taken in accordance with the provisions of this act as to the first issue of bonds; provided, that said second issue or series of bonds shall not be issued so as to in any manner interfere with the lien or security of the payment of the first issue of bonds, and said second issue or series of bonds shall, as to the lien thereof and as to the security of same, be subsequent and subordinate and subject to such first bond issue.

§ 19. Not applicable to counties with charter, or city and county. Nothing in this act contained shall affect, or apply to, any irrigation, protection, flood control, conservation, or other improvement district situated wholly or in part within any county which has adopted a charter pursuant to section seven and one-half of article eleven of the constitution of California, ratified and approved as provided therein, prior to June 4, 1915, or within any city and county; and said board shall have no power of jurisdiction within any of said districts or within such counties or city and county.

An act authorizing and empowering irrigation and reclamation districts to enter into contracts with the United States Reclamation Service for the reclamation of lands within such district under the provisions of the so-called "twenty year extension act."

§ 1. Irrigation and reclamation districts may contract with United States Reclamation Service. The board of trustees, or directors of any irrigation or reclamation district now organized under the provisions of the laws of the state of California, or of any irrigation or reclamation district hereafter organized under the laws of the state of California, may, in their discretion, whenever it is determined by such board that it is for the best interests of such districts, enter into a contract with the proper officers of the United States Reclamation Service for the reclamation, either by drainage or irrigation of lands within the boundaries of such district, or by preventing high water from overflowing the same, under the provisions of an act of congress approved August 13, 1914, entitled "An act extending the period of payment under reclamation projects, and for other purposes," which act is commonly known as the twenty-year extension act, and from and after the execution of such contract, the amount of indebtedness created thereby shall be and become a lien upon the lands to be benefited by such reclamation work.

§ 2. Payment of amounts due. The board of trustees or directors of any irrigation or reclamation district above mentioned, shall provide by a resolution duly adopted at a regular meeting, or special meeting of such board called for the purpose, for the payments of the amounts to become due under the contract with the United States, according to the provisions of such contract, by assessment upon the lands, in such district, which are to be benefited by such work, such assessment to be collected by the tax collector of the county within which such lands are situated, the same as other taxes are collected, or by any other officer authorized by law to collect assessments within said district.

ACT 1732k.

An act defining a private irrigation plant and mutual water company and providing the conditions under which the owner of a private irrigation plant or a mutual water company may deliver water to others or others than its stockholders or members without becoming a public utility, and limiting such authority to the time the United States is a party to war or to a state of war; and declaring this act to be an urgency measure.

[Approved May 5, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 281. In effect immediately.]

§ 1. "Private irrigation plant." (a) The term "private irrigation plant," when used in this act, shall be construed to mean a water system which is not operated by a mutual water company as herein defined or by a public utility as defined in the public utilities act, approved December 23, 1911, and acts amendatory thereof, or in the act entitled "An act providing for the regulation of water companies, defining their powers and duties, defining the powers and duties of the railroad commission with reference thereto, and defining the conditions under which such water companies became subject to the provisions of the public utilities act and the railroad commission of the state of California," approved April 25, 1913.

(b) "Mutual water company." The term "mutual water company," when used in this act, means any private corporation or association organized for the purpose of delivering water solely to its stockholders or members at cost.

§ 2. Water may be delivered to other than stockholders, when. Statement filed with railroad commission. For the sole purpose of increasing the output of agricultural products in this state during the time the United States is a party to war or to a state of war, the owner of any private irrigation plant or any mutual water company may at its option deliver water to others or others than its stockholders or members, with or without compensation, without becoming a public utility subject to the jurisdiction of the railroad commission of the state of California; provided, that no delivery of water to others than stockholders or members shall be authorized until the orders for water of all stockholders or members made in accordance with the constitution, by-laws, rules or regulations of such mutual water company have been filled, and provided, further, that the temporary service herein authorized shall not be construed as granting any right to render or receive such service more than six months after such war need has ceased; and provided, further, that after June first, one thousand nine hundred seventeen, no such temporary service of water shall be made unless a statement is first filed with the railroad commission stating the private irrigation plant or mutual water company rendering such service, the party receiving such service, the lands irrigated and the rate, if any, charged for such service.

§ 3. Urgency measure. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure, and under the provisions of section 1 of article four of the constitution of the state of California shall take effect immediately. The facts constituting such urgency are as follows: The United States is now in a state of war and there is a shortage of crops in this state and throughout the nation generally. It is therefore necessary for the immediate preservation of public safety that this act take effect immediately so that the use of water in the irrigated area and the resulting crop returns of the state may be increased to the maximum output without delay.

An act to provide for co-operation in acquisition, construction and management of irrigation and drainage works between irrigation districts organized or existing under or by virtue of an act entitled "An act to provide for organization and government of irrigation districts and to provide for the acquisition thereby of works for the irrigation of the lands embraced within such districts, and also to provide for the distribution of water for irrigation purposes," approved March 31, 1897, and contiguous or adjoining districts in or organized under the laws of other states.

§ 1. Irrigation districts may co-operate with districts in adjoining states. It shall be lawful for irrigation districts organized or existing under or by virtue of an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization and government of irrigation districts, and to provide for the acquisition or construction thereby of works for the irrigation of the lands embraced within such districts, and also to proide for the distribution of water for irrigation purposes," approved March 31, 1897, to enter into agreements with irrigation districts in adjoining states for the joint construction, acquisition, management and control of diverting, impounding or distributing works for irrigation or draining the lands within the boundaries of their respective districts.

§ 2. Contracts. Such agreements may be evidenced by written contracts executed on behalf of their respective boards of directors or trustees, or by resolutions entered upon their respective minutes. Such contracts or certified copies thereof and certified copies of such resolutions shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder in each county in which is situated any of the lands of said districts or any of the reservoir sites or other real property owned by said districts or acquired under the provisions of this act.

§ 3. Ownership of property. Such agreements may provide for joint or several ownership or ownership in common of the property, necessary or convenient for the purposes of this act and may provide for the terms and conditions under which or the respective proportions in which such property shall be held. Any rights or disputes arising out of or from said agreements may be tried before and enforced by any court of competent jurisdiction in the state.

§ 4. Meetings held in adjoining state legal. Any meeting of the board of directors of any such district, held in conjunction with the board of directors of the co-operating district, in such district in the adjoining state, if duly and regularly called as required by law or if regularly adjourned to, shall be as lawful and valid as if held at the office of the board of directors of such district in this state.

§ 5. Lawful to divert water from state. It shall be lawful, for the purposes of such co-operative action to divert water from this state for impounding in the adjoining state or otherwise for distribution to the lands of the co-operating districts regardless of the state in which such lands are situated or to divert water from such adjoining state for impounding or otherwise for distribution to the lands of such co-operating districts in this or the adjoining state.

§ 6. Districts may hold property in adjoining state. So far as may be necessary for fully carrying out the purposes of this act such co-operating district in the adjoining state may hold title to property, in this state and such co-operating district in this state may hold title to property in the adjoining state.

TITLE 274.

JUVENILE COURT.

ACT 1770a.

An act to be known as the juvenile court law, and concerning persons under the age of twenty-one years; and in certain cases providing for their care, custody and maintenance; providing for the probationary treatment of such persons, and for the commitment of such persons to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, the California School for Girls, and other institutions; establishing probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons and fixing the salary thereof; providing for the establishment of detention homes for such persons; fixing the method of procedure and treatment or commitment where crimes have been committed by such persons; providing for the punishment of those guilty of offenses with reference to such persons, and defining such crimes; and repealing the juvenile court law approved March eighth, nineteen hundred and nine, as amended by an act approved April fifth, nineteen hundred and eleven, and as amended by an act approved June sixteenth, nineteen hundred and thirteen, and all amendments thereof and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith.

§ 19o. Twenty-fifth class. In counties of the twenty-fifth class there shall be one probation officer whose salary shall be one hundred fifty dollars per month, and one assistant probation officer whose salary shall be seventy-five dollars per month. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1025.]

TITLE 276a.

KELP.

ACT 1782.

An act to regulate the taking and harvesting of kelp and other aquatic plants of the state of California by recognizing and declaring their ownership in the state of California and providing for the control thereof by the fish and game commissioners, and providing for a license tax upon all persons, firms or corporations engaged in the industry of taking or harvesting kelp or other aquatic plants, and providing for the collection and disbursement of the revenues derived therefrom, and providing for a privilege tax upon all kelp taken in the waters of this state, and providing for the protection of kelp-beds, and for the manner of taking kelp and other aquatic plants, and providing for hearings by the fish and game commissioners, and providing penalties for the violation of this act.

§ 1. Kelp state property. All kelp and other aquatic plants in the waters of the state are hereby declared to be the property of the state of California.

§ 2. Powers of board of fish and game commissioners. The board of fish and game commissioners of the state of California are hereby empowered to carry out the provisions of this act, and to make proper rules and regulations for the taking and harvesting of kelp, and the conservation of kelp and aquatic plants, and to see that the laws, rules and regulations with reference thereto are strictly enforced, and to issue all licenses herein provided for, and collect the fees therefor, and to collect all moneys due or to become due under this act.

§ 3. License to harvest kelp. Every person, firm or corporation, desiring to engage in taking or harvesting kelp or other aquatic plants for profit in the waters of this state must first obtain a license before engaging in such occupation.

§ 4. Term. Fee. Privilege tax. Licenses granting the privilege to take or harvest kelp in this state shall be issued and delivered upon application by the state board of fish and game commissioners, who shall prepare suitable licenses, which shall license the holder of such license to take or harvest kelp or other aquatic plants in this state for the term of one year from the date of the issuance of such license. All licenses shall be numbered consecutively, and shall contain blanks for the name of the licensee, and place of business, which information shall be furnished by the applicant to the board of fish and game commissioners. The license herein provided for shall be issued to such applicant upon payment of ten dollars and before such license is delivered to the applicant said license must be countersigned by the president of the board of fish and game commissioners, and in addition to such license fee every person, firm or corporation taking or harvesting kelp shall pay a privilege tax of one and one-half cents per ton of wet kelp taken or harvested.

§ 5. Record of kelp harvested. Every person, firm or corporation engaged in taking or harvesting kelp in the waters of this state shall cause to be weighed, all wet kelp immediately after said kelp shall be delivered to the place of business designated in said license, and the weight thereof shall be entered in a book, or books, to be kept by said person, firm or corporation, said book or books to be open at all times to the inspection of the board of fish and game commissioners, or any of its deputies; every person, firm or corporation engaged in taking or harvesting kelp shall on or before the tenth day after the last day of each month during the term of said license, render a statement of the weight of all wet kelp cut or harvested during the preceding month, and pay to the board of fish and game commissioners, the privilege tax herein provided for.

§ 6. Notice of closing kelp-beds. Hearing. Complaint. Answer. Evidence. Witness' fees. Powers of superior court. Failure of witnesses to obey subpoenas. Depositions of witnesses. If at any time the taking or harvesting of kelp will tend to destroy or impair any kelp bed or beds or parts thereof, or shall tend to impair or destroy the supply of any food for game fish, said fish and game commission shall cause to be served on every person, firm or corporation, licensed to take or harvest kelp in the waters of this state, a notice in writing that said kelp bed or beds or parts thereof shall be closed to the taking or harvesting of kelp for a period not to exceed one year. Within ten days after the service upon any person, firm or corporation licensed to take or harvest kelp under the provisions of this act, of a notice that any kelp-bed or beds or parts thereof are closed to the taking or harvesting of kelp, said person, firm or corporation engaged in taking or harvesting kelp shall on making such order, by serving on the board of fish and game commissioners a demand to be heard upon the necessity for closing said kelp bed or beds or parts thereof for the taking or harvesting of kelp, and upon such demand for a hearing, said board of fish and game commissioners shall fix a time and place for the taking of evidence upon the necessity of closing said bed or beds or parts thereof, which time shall be not less than ten days nor more than thirty days from the date of such demand for a hearing, and said fish and game commission shall cause notices in writing of said time and place to be served upon the party or parties making a demand for said hearing at least ten days before the day set for the hearing, and if no demand is made for a hearing within the time prescribed herein, said kelp bed or beds or parts thereof shall remain closed to the taking or harvesting of kelp for the time mentioned in said order.

Complaint may be made by the commission or any of its deputies against any person, firm or corporation licensed to cut or harvest kelp in the waters of this state for any violation of the laws of this state, or any rules or regulations made by the board of fish and game commissioners for the taking or harvesting of kelp. Said complaints shall be made in writing, setting forth the particular offense charged to have been committed by said person, firm or corporation, a copy of which shall be filed with the board of fish and game commissioners and a copy of the same served upon the person, firm or corporation so charged. Said person, firm or corporation must appear or file an answer within five days from the date of service of a copy of said complaint, and if default be made, the board of fish and game commissioners shall issue an order revoking said license for the period hereinafter prescribed in this act, and said board of fish and game commissioners shall fix a time and place for the hearing of said charges, not less than ten days nor more than thirty days from the filing of said charges, and if the party accused appears and answers, a day may be fixed within the time prescribed in this act to take testimony. The evidence in any investigation, inquiry or hearing upon the necessity for closing any kelp bed or beds or parts thereof and the evidence in any hearing upon any charges made against any person, firm or corporation for violating any of the laws of the state of California for the preservation of kelp, or of the rules and regulations of the board of fish and game commissioners regulating the taking and harvesting and handling of kelp provided for in this section may be taken by any member of the board of fish and game commissioners, or such deputy fish and game commissioner or employee as the board may designate to take such evidence; and each member of the board and any of its deputies or employees designated to take evidence at the hearing provided hereby shall have the power to administer oaths, take affidavits and issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses at such hearing. Each witness legally subpoenaed attending a hearing shall receive for his attendance the same fees and mileage allowed by law to a witness in civil cases, which amount shall be paid by the party at whose request such witness is subpoenaed. The superior court in and for the county or city and county in which any inquiry, investigation, hearing or proceeding may be held under authority of this section, shall have power to compel the attendance of witnesses, the giving of testimony and the production of papers, as required by any subpoena issued under authority of this section.

The commission or representative of the commission before whom the testimony is to be given or produced may in the case of refusal of any witness to attend, or testify or produce any papers required by such subpoena, report to the superior court in and for the county or city and county in which the proceeding is pending by petition setting forth that due notice has been given of the time and place of the attendance of said witness or the production of said papers and that the witness has been summoned in the manner prescribed in this act and that the witness has failed and refused to attend or produce the papers required by the subpoena before the commission or its representatives, in the case or proceeding named in the notice of time and place of hearing and subpoena, or has refused to answer questions propounded to him in the course of said proceeding, and ask an order of said court to compel the witness to attend and testify or produce said papers before the commission or its representatives.

The court upon the petition of the commission or its representatives, shall enter an order directing the witness to appear before the court at any time and place to be fixed by the court in such order, the time to be not more than ten days from the date of the order, and then and there show cause why he has not attended and testified or produced said papers before the commission or its representative. A copy of said order shall be served upon said witness. If it shall appear to the court that said subpoena was regularly issued by the commission or its representative the court shall thereupon enter an order that said witness shall appear before the commission or its representatives at the time and place entered in said order, and testify or produce the required papers, and upon failure to obey said order said witness shall be dealt with as for contempt of court.

The commission or its representatives, or any party designated by the fish and game commission may, in any investigation or hearing before the commission, or its representatives, cause the deposition of witnesses, residing within or without the state, to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for like depositions in civil actions in the superior courts of this state, and to that end may compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents and papers.

§ 7. Revocation of license. If any person, firm or corporation, taking or harvesting kelp from any bed or beds or parts thereof, after service of a notice that said bed or beds or parts thereof are closed to the taking or harvesting of kelp, takes or harvests any kelp between the time of the service of said notice and the decision of the board of fish and game commissioners upon the hearing for the necessity for closing said kelp bed or beds or parts thereof, his license may be revoked for a period not to exceed one year.

§ 8. Revocation of license. If any person, firm or corporation, licensed to take or harvest kelp in the waters of this state shall violate any of the laws of the state of California, regulating the taking and harvesting of kelp, or any rule or regulation of the board of fish and game commissioners regarding the taking or harvesting of kelp, said board of fish and game commissioners may, after a hearing, as provided herein, revoke said license and withhold the issuance of a new license to any such person, firm or corporation for a period not to exceed one year thereafter.

§ 9. Penalty. Fines paid in part to "state university fund." Every person, firm or corporation, who takes or harvests kelp or other aquatic plants for profit in this state, without first obtaining a license therefor, is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall me punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail, in the county in which conviction shall be had for not less than fifty days nor more than one hundred and fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

All fines and forfeitures collected for any violation of this act and all license fees and two-thirds of the moneys collected from the privilege tax under this act must be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund and one-third of the moneys collected from the privilege tax under this act must be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the "state university fund." The amount so paid to the "state university fund" in accordance with the direction of this section, is hereby appropriated to be expended annually in accordance with law by the Scripps Institute for Biological Research.

§ 10. License not required, when. The fish and game commission of this state shall have the power, subject to such rules and regulations as it may deem proper, to grant permits to any department of the United States government or to any scientific or any educational institution to take or harvest kelp at any and all times for scientific or experimental purposes without the payment of the kelp license or privilege tax herein provided.

§ 11. Repealed. All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

LABOR STATISTICS.

ACT 1828.

An act to establish and support a bureau of labor statistics.

[Approved March 3, 1883. Stats. 1883, p. 27.]

Amended 1889, p. 6; 1901, p. 12; 1907, p. 306; 1909, p. 36; 1911, pp. 39, 1205; 1915, pp. 925, 928; 1917, p. 328.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 9. Assistants of labor commissioner. Offices. The commissioner shall appoint two deputies who shall have the same power as said commissioner; an assistant deputy who shall reside in the county of Los Angeles; a statistician and chief examiner; a stenographer; and such agents or assistants as he may from time to time require, at such rate of wages as he may prescribe, and actual traveling expenses for each person while employed. He shall procure rooms necessary for offices in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Sacramento, San Diego, and in such other places as he may deem necessary, at a rent not to exceed the sum of four hundred dollars per month. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 328.]

§ 10. Salaries. Traveling expenses. The salary of the commissioner shall be four thousand dollars per annum; the salary of each deputy commissioner shall be two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; the salary of the assistant deputy shall be two thousand one hundred dollars per annum; the salary of the statistician and chief examiner shall be, two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum; the salary of the stenographer shall be one thousand two hundred dollars per annum; to be audited by the controller and paid by the state treasurer in the same manner as other state officers. There shall also be allowed a sum not to exceed forty thousand dollars per annum for salaries of agents or assistants, for traveling expenses, and for other contingent expenses of the bureau. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 328.]

The amending act also contained the following provisions:

§ 3. Repealed. All the provisions of said act in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

TITLE 298.
LEGISLATION.

ACT 1901.

An act to establish a legislative counsel bureau and making an appropriation therefor.

Amended 1915, p. 49; 1917, p. 1398.

§ 1. Legislative counsel bureau created. A bureau is hereby created to be known as the legislative counsel bureau, which shall be in charge of a chief, who shall be a civil executive officer and who shall be known as the legislative counsel of California and who shall be appointed by the governor and who shall hold during the pleasure of the governor. The legislative counsel shall be chosen without reference to party affiliations and solely on the ground of fitness to perform the duties of his office. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1398.]

§ 2. Duty of legislative counsel. It shall be the duty of the legislative counsel to prepare and assist in the preparation, amendment and consideration of legislative bills when requested or upon suggestion as herein provided. Upon request he shall advise any state officer, commissioner or bureau as to the preparation of bills to be submitted to the legislature; and when requested so to do, he shall advise as to their work with any legislative committee appointed to carry on investigations between sessions of the legislature. He shall advise the legislature from time to time as to needed revision of the statutes. He shall present to each session of the legislature a statement calling attention to laws which have been repealed by implication or which have been declared unconstitutional by the courts but which have not been expressly repealed. It shall also be the duty of the legislative counsel, whenever in his judgment there is reasonable probability that an initiative measure will be submitted to the voters of the state of California under the laws of the state relating to the submission of measures by initiative, to co-operate with the proponents of said measure in the preparation of said law when requested in writing so to do by twenty-five or more electors proposing such a measure. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1398.]

§ 3. Preparation of legislative bills. Not to urge legislation. The legislative counsel shall prepare or assist in the preparation or amendment of legislative bills at the suggestion, in writing and as herein set forth, of the governor of the state, or of any judge of the supreme court or of the district courts of appeal or of the superior courts of the state, or of any committee of the senate or assembly of the legislature of the state. All such suggestions shall set forth the substance of the provisions desired or which may be needed with the reasons therefor. Such suggestion by a judge of the supreme court shall be filed with the clerk of that court. Such suggestion by a judge of a district court of appeal shall be filed with the clerk of that court. Such suggestion by a judge of a superior court shall be filed with the clerk of the district court of appeal of the district within which such superior court is located. When such suggestion is so filed with the clerk of the supreme court or of a district court of appeal, that clerk shall make and send to the permanent office of said bureau a certified copy of such suggestion, and all other suggestions shall be filed at said office, and all such papers so received at such office shall be there permanently filed and recorded and copies furnished to the legislative counsel. The legislative counsel shall prepare a bill in accordance with such suggestion and shall transmit it to the chairman of the judiciary committee of each house at the next succeeding session of the legislature.

From the time the legislature of the state convenes until it is adjourned finally, the legislative counsel shall give such consideration to and service concerning any bill before the legislature, as circumstances will permit, and which is in any way requested by the governor of the state or the senate or the assembly or any committee of the legislature having such bills before it for consideration, and after such adjournment the legislative counsel shall still remain so subject to such request by the governor of the state as to any bill still in his hands for rejection or approval or other action. Neither the legislative counsel nor any employee of the bureau shall oppose or urge legislation; but the bureau shall, upon request, and so far as may be in its power, aid and assist any member of the legislature as to bills, resolutions and measures, drafting the same into proper form and furnishing to them the fullest information upon all matters in the scope of the bureau. Neither the legislative counsel nor any other employee of the bureau shall reveal to any person outside thereof the contents or nature of any matter which has not become a public record, except with the consent of the person bringing such matter before the bureau. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1399.]

§ 4. Office in capitol. Temporary offices. The legislative counsel shall be in attendance upon all sessions of the legislature and his permanent office shall be in the state capitol in Sacramento, where he shall be provided with suitable and sufficient offices convenient to the chambers of the two houses of the legislature. For the convenience of members of the legislature, however, and when in his judgment the conduct of his work requires, he may maintain temporary offices at other places in the state of California. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1400.]

§ 5. Salaries. The salary of the legislative counsel shall be four thousand dollars per annum and shall be payable in equal monthly installments. The legislative counsel shall have authority to employ and to fix the compensation of such professional assistants and such clerical and other employees as he may deem to be necessary for the effective conduct of the work under his charge. The salary of the legislative counsel and of every other employee of the bureau shall be paid in the same way as the salaries of other state officers are paid. The legislative counsel shall be repaid all actual expenses incurred or paid by him in carrying out the provisions of this act. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1400.]

§ 6. Material available to bureau. The material (including books and other publications) of the state library shall be made available to said bureau, and all the officers of the state, the University of California, and all departments, commissions and bureaus and other official state organizations, and all persons connected therewith, shall give the legislative counsel ready access to their records and full information and reasonable assistance in any matters of research requiring recourse to them or to data within their knowledge or control. The bureau may co-operate with any of the educational institutions of the state in any manner approved by the legislative counsel and such institutions. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1400.]

§ 9. Unexpended balance available. The unexpended balance of the moneys heretofore appropriated for the support and salaries of the legislative counsel bureau by an act entitled "An act making appropriations for the support of the government of the state of California for the sixty-seventh and sixty-eighth fiscal years," approved May 19, 1915, is hereby made available to carry out the provisions of this act. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1401.]

TITLE 300.

LEVEE DISTRICTS.

ACT 1913.

An act to provide for the formation of levee districts in the various counties of this state, and to provide for the erection of levees, dikes and other works for the purpose of protecting the lands within such districts from overflow and to levy assessments to erect and construct and maintain such levees, dikes and other works and to pay the necessary costs and expenses of maintaining said districts.

The amendments of 1917 follows:

§ 8. Board of trustees must keep office. Powers of trustees. Yearly estimate of costs. Report to board of supervisors. The board of trustees must keep an office in or near the district for the transaction of the business thereof, and the books, maps, papers, records, contracts and other documents pertaining to the affairs of the district must be open for inspection to any person interested at all times. From and after the election and qualification of said trustee said district shall be deemed organized and shall have power to sue or be sued. The board of trustees shall have power to elect one of its members president thereof, to employ engineers and others, to survey, plan, locate and estimate the cost of the works and improvements necessary, in the way of erection or repair of levees, dikes and other works for the benefit of said district; to thereafter and at any time in its discretion modify or change said original plan or plans or to adopt any new supplemental or additional plan or plans, when in its judgment the same shall become necessary; to acquire by purchase, condemnation or otherwise, rights of way, and the right to take material for the construction of all works necessary for the accomplishment of the objects of the district including drains, levees and embankments, and to construct, maintain and keep in repair all works, requisite and necessary to that end; and to do all other acts and things necessary or required for the protection of the lands in said district from the overflow of any river, stream, streams or watercourse, and to employ the service of any person legal or otherwise which in the judgment of said board of trustees may be necessary to the welfare of the district. The said board of trustees shall each year estimate the total cost for all purposes of erecting, constructing or repairing levees, dikes or other works, and doing the necessary things for the protection of the lands and property within said district from the overflow of any river, stream, streams or watercourse, and maintain the same for one year, including all damages awarded to any person by reason of the erection or construction of any of said levees, dikes or other works for protection, and shall thereupon make a report of the foregoing matters to the board of supervisors in which said district is situated, showing the amount of money required by said district for all purposes for one year thereafter. Said estimate of moneys necessary for said district for each year, and said report shall be made to said board of supervisors by said board of trustees on or before the first day of September of each year after the formation of said district and said estimate made as aforesaid and report to said board of supervisors by said board of trustees as hereinbefore set out, shall in each instance form the basis of the estimates of the board of supervisors for the amount of money required to be raised by assessment on the lands and personal property within such district for such year. [Amendment approved May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 824.]

ACT 1922.

An act authorizing levee districts of the state to incur a bonded indebtedness for the purpose of building, constructing, or repairing levees of the district; or for excavating and constructing ditches or canals of such districts; or for the purpose of acquiring rights of way for any such levees, ditches, or canals; or for any and all of said purposes.]

[Approved March 8, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 303.]

§ 1. Levee district may issue bonds. Report of engineer. Any levee district formed or organized by or under the laws of California, may incur a bonded indebtedness for the purpose of building, constructing, or repairing the levee or levees of such district; or in excavating or constructing any ditches or canals in such district, or other protective works; or to purchase and acquire any levee or levees, ditches or canals, or other reclamation works already constructed or in process of construction; or for the purpose of acquiring rights of way for any such levee, or ditches, pipe-lines or canals; or for building, repairing and constructing any and all kinds of work in water and river channels, wherever situate, as ancillary to land and levee protection, including the straightening of river channels, or diverting waters from the dikes and levees themselves, or the lands they are protecting, and in general for doing any and all work of every character and description for the purpose of securing, protecting, guarding and preserving the lands protected, and the dikes, levees, ditches, excavations or other protective works; or for any and all of said purposes, or for any one or more of said purposes.

Whenever it shall become necessary in the opinion of the board of trustees of any such levee district to build, construct, or repair any levee for the protection of the lands of the district from overflow; or to excavate or construct any ditches or canals, or to purchase or acquire any levee or levee system or parts thereof then constructed or in process of construction; or for acquiring rights of way for either of such purposes of building, constructing, or repairing the levee or levees of such district; or in excavating or constructing any ditches or canals in such district, or other protective works, or to purchase and acquire any levee or levees, ditches, or canals or other reclamation works already constructed or in process of construction; or for the purpose of acquiring rights of way for any such levee, or ditches, pipe-lines, or canals; or for building, repairing any and all kinds of work in water and river channels, wherever situate, as ancillary to land and levee protection, including the straightening of river channels, or diverting waters from the dikes and levees themselves, or the lands they are protecting, or in general for doing any and all work of every character and description for the purpose of securing, protecting, guarding and preserving the lands protected, and the dikes, levees, ditches, excavations or other protective works, or for any and all of said purposes, or for any one or more of said purposes, the trustees of such levee district shall, by resolution, employ some civil engineer, and direct him to make a report in writing to said board of trustees, containing his recommendations as to the best method of doing said work. Said report shall show:

1. A description of the work to be done, including all ancillary work.

2. The plans, profiles, cross-sections and specifications of the work required.

3. A general description of the lands required for rights of way for the work, if any such are required.

4. An estimate of the expenses of such work, including an estimate of the cost of requiring rights of way for such work, should such rights of way be required.

5. An estimate of the cost or value of any levee or levees, ditches or canals already constructed or in process of construction, or advisable or proposed to be acquired as part of the proposed system, including all work necessary to be done for the protection of said main works and ancillary thereto, and including moreover the amount necessary for the maintenance of the work proposed to be done for the first year.

6. An estimate of all incidental expenses likely to be incurred in connection with the work, such as clerical, engineering, inspection, printing and advertising. [Amendment approved May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 809.]

§ 2. Adoption of report. After the report of the engineer provided for in the next preceding section has been filed with the board of trustees of such levee district, said board shall consider the same and shall have power, by resolution, to adopt the same as filed by said engineer, or to modify or change the same, and to adopt the same as so modified or changed, and said report shall be adopted as originally presented if not modified or changed, but if modified or changed it shall be adopted as so modified or changed. [Amendment approved May 22, 1917; Stat. 1917, p. 811.]

§ 3. Notice of adoption. Publication. Within ten days after the adoption of the report as provided in section two of this act, the board of trustees of such levee district shall give notice thereof as hereinafter provided. Such notice shall specify a day and hour when and a place where any and all persons may appear before said board and show cause, if any they have, why said work provided for in said report should not be carried out in accordance therewith, said time to be not less than twenty nor more than forty-five days from the adoption of said report.

Said notice shall briefly outline the proposed work, and shall refer to the said report on file with said board for a particular description of the work to be done. Such notice shall be given by conspicuously posting in three of the most public places within said district, and publishing in some newspaper printed and published in the county where said district is situated, or if said district is situated in more than one county then by posting in three of the most public places in that portion of the district, situated in each county and by publishing in a newspaper printed and published in each of the counties wherein any portion of said district is situated, for a period of three weeks prior to the day of hearing. Said publication shall be made once a week for three consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county where said district is situated. If said district comprises land situated in more than one county, then once a week for three consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in each of the counties where said lands are situated. It shall not be necessary that publication shall be made on the same day of the week in each of the three weeks, but not less than sixteen days, including the day of the first publication, shall intervene between the first publication and the last publication, and publication shall be complete on the date of the last publication. [Amendment approved May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 811.]

§ 5. Board may confirm resolution. Report of engineer. The board of trustee shall have power to set aside, modify, or confirm the resolution provided for in section two of this act; in case the board shall decide that it will be for the best interests of the district to proceed with the work, it shall, by resolution, so declare; and in case the said original plan of the work shall have been modified or changed, the board shall direct the engineer of the district to estimate the cost of the work in accordance with the plan so modified or changed, and to report the same to the board. The engineer of the district shall thereupon, in case such original plan shall have been changed or modified, make a report to the board in accordance with the modifications or changes adopted by it, and such report must show:

1. A description of the work to be done as changed or modified by the board, including all ancillary work.

2. The plans, profiles, cross-sections and specifications of the work as so changed or modified by the board.

3. A general description of the lands required for rights of way for the work, if any such are required.

4. An estimate of the expense of such work in accordance with the plan so modified or changed by the board, including an estimate of the cost of acquiring rights of way for such work, if any such rights are acquired.

5. An estimate of the cost or value of any levee or levees, ditches or canals already constructed or in process of construction, proposed to be acquired as part of the proposed system.

6. An estimate of all incidental expenses likely to be incurred in connection with the work as planned, such as clerical, engineering, inspection, printing and advertising, including all work necessary to be done for the protection of said main works, and ancillary thereto, and including furthermore the amount necessary for the maintenance of the work proposed to be done, for the first year. [Amendment approved May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 812.]

§ 7. Bonds for levee districts. Order for election. Conduct of election. Contests. Duty of supervisors. Form of bond. Form of interest coupon. Whenever in the judgment and opinion of the board of trustees in said district it would be for the best interests of said district, or the land owners therein, to issue bonds for the purpose of obtaining money to pay the cost of construction of said levee or levees, ditches or canals, or other protective works, or to purchase in whole or in part any system of levee, or levees, ditches or canals already constructed or in process of construction, or for any of the purposes set forth in section one of this act, or when a petition requesting them so to do, signed by the owners of more than one-half of the land of the district, is filed with the secretary of the board, the board of trustees of such district shall, by order entered upon the records of said board, order a special election to be held for the purpose of submitting the question of the issuance of bonds to the taxpayers of said district. Said order shall specify the amount of bonds it is proposed to issue which, in any case, shall not exceed the entire estimate of the expense of the work as planned, shall specify the rate of interest to be paid, not exceeding seven per cent, and the number of years, not exceeding forty, the whole or any part of said bonds are to run, and shall name a time and place for the holding of such election, which place shall be at some convenient place in the district. In the case of joint levee districts the said order shall specify a polling place within the district in each county, in which a portion of the district lies. The board shall also appoint one inspector, two judges and one clerk to conduct said election at each and every polling place designated, all of whom must be electors and taxpayers of said district. Notice of such election shall be given by publication, in a newspaper printed and published in the county in which said district or some part thereof is situated once a week for at least three weeks prior to such election. If said district is situated in more than one county, then publication shall be made in a newspaper printed and published in each county wherein a portion of said district is situated, and the provisions relating to publication provided in section three hereof shall apply, and such notice must contain a time and place for the holding of such election, the names of the election officers to conduct the same, and amount and denominations of the bonds, the rate of interest to be paid, and the number of years, not exceeding forty, the whole or any part of said bonds are to run. If any election officer appointed by said board and named in such notice is not present at the time for the opening of the polls, the voters present may appoint an election officer to take the place of such election officer so absent. Before opening the polls each officer of election must take and subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties imposed upon him by law. Any voter of the district may administer and certify such oath.

The polls shall be kept open for receiving votes from ten o'clock A. M. until four o'clock P. M. At such election any voter qualified to vote for the election officers of said district and none other shall be permitted to vote thereat, and such election shall be held as nearly as practicable in conformity with the general election law of the state, except that no sample ballot need be sent out, except that registration shall not be required, and except also that persons voting at such bond election shall put a cross (×) upon the ballots with pencil or ink after the words: "bonds—yes" and "Bonds—no" (as the case may be) to indicate whether they have voted for or against the issuance of the bonds. The said ballots shall be of the form: "bonds—yes" and "bonds—no," or words of similar import, together with a general statement of the amount and purpose of the bonds to be issued.

At the close of the polls the board or boards of election shall at once proceed to count the votes and declare the result, and shall forward a certificate showing the same and the number of votes cast for and against the issuance of the bonds to the clerk of the board of supervisors of the county in which the greater portion of the lands of said district is situated, and deliver a duplicate thereof to the board of trustees of the district, and shall also deliver to the clerk of the said board of supervisors all ballots cast at such election, and all documents and papers used at such election.

Any person owning land situated in said district may contest said election within twenty days after the result thereof has been declared by the board of supervisors, by filing a complaint in the superior court of the county where said land is situated, and if no contest shall be commenced within said time the declaration of the result by the board of supervisors shall be final and conclusive.

The returns of such election shall be canvassed and the result declared by the board of supervisors of the county to whom such returns of election are made, at a special meeting called for that purpose or at the next regular meeting of such board after such election. No ballot shall be rejected because of any distinguishing marks made thereon. If a majority of the voters of the district voting at such election shall vote in favor of the issuance of bonds, the board of supervisors shall be, and it is, authorized and directed to issue bonds of said district to the number and amount provided in such proceedings, payable out of the bond fund of such district, naming the same, and provide that the money shall be raised by taxation upon the taxable property in said district for the redemption of said bonds and the payment of interest thereon, provided that the total amount of bonds so issued shall not exceed the entire estimate of the expense of the work as planned or determined by section one, together with the expense of the maintenance of said works for one year after their completion.

The board of supervisors to whom said returns of election are made, by an order upon its minutes shall prescribe the form of said bond and the interest coupons attached thereto, and provide whether the same shall be paid in lawful money of the United States or in gold coin, and fix the time when the whole or any part of the principal of said bonds shall be payable, which shall not be more than forty years from the date thereof; and said bonds shall be issued in sums of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars each, and shall not have more than forty years to run, and shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding seven per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, and said bonds shall be substantially in the following form:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

No. —— $ ——

Bond of

—— Levee District.

In the county (or counties) of ——
state of California.

—— district, of the county of (or counties of) ——, state of California, for value received, hereby acknowledges itself indebted and promises to pay to the holder of this bond on the first day of ——, 19—, at the office of the treasurer of the county of —— in the city of ——, state of California, the sum of —— dollars in gold coin (or lawful money) of the United States, with interest at the rate of —— per cent (—%) per annum, payable semi-annually upon the first day of —— and the first day of —— of each and every year from and after the date hereof, at the office of the treasurer aforesaid, on presentation and surrender of the interest coupons hereto attached, until this bond is fully paid. This bond is issued by the board of supervisors of the said county of —— in conformity with the resolution of said board dated the —— day of —— 19—, and under the authority conferred upon the said board by the provisions of the act of the legislature of the state of California, entitled "An act authorizing levee districts of the state to incur a bonded indebtedness for the purpose of building, constructing and repairing levees of the district, or for excavating and constructing ditches or canals of such district, etc.

(Here will be inserted in the final draft the correct designation of the act approved March 8, 1911, together with acts amendatory thereof.)

It is hereby declared that said —— levee district is a levee district duly created, organized, established and incorporated in strict conformity to the laws of the state of California relating thereto.

It is furthermore declared that a majority of the qualified electors of said levee district voting at a special election held therein on the —— day of —— 19—, which said election was held to determine whether bonds of said levee district, in the amount of $—— should be issued and sold for the purpose of raising money for the purposes prescribed in said act, voted in favor thereof.

It is hereby further declared that said election was duly called, duly held and duly conducted and the notices thereof duly given, and the result thereof canvassed and declared in accordance with the provisions of the act above mentioned, and that all other proceedings of the board of supervisors of such —— levee district, and of the board of supervisors of said county, in the matter of the issuance of this bond, were regular and in strict accordance with the provisions of the said act above mentioned, and the constitution of the state of California; and that the total bonded indebtedness of said district authorized at said election does not exceed the entire estimate of the expense of the work planned and the cost of the maintenance of said work for one year after the date of their completion.

This bond is in the form prescribed by the order of said board of supervisors, duly made and entered in its minutes on the —— day of ——, 19—, and in substantial conformity to the form prescribed by said act, and this bond shall be payable out of the bond fund of said —— levee district, and the money for the redemption of said bond, and the payment of the interest thereon, shall be raised by taxation upon the taxable property of said district.

In witness whereof the said board of supervisors has caused this bond to be signed by its chairman and by the auditor of said county, with its seal of office attached this —— day of ——, 19—.

Chairman of the board of supervisors of the county of ——.

Attest: —— ——.

Auditor of —— county.

The interest coupon shall be in the following form:

On the —— day of ——, 19—, the treasurer of the county of ——, state of California, will pay to the holder hereof out of the bond fund of the —— levee school district of said county, at his office in the city of —— in said county, the sum of $—— for interest on bond of said district, No. ——.

§ 8. Bonds to be numbered and signed. Bonds issued under this act shall be numbered consecutively, signed by the chairman of the board of supervisors and attested by the county auditor, who shall affix thereto his official seal. The coupons shall be numbered consecutively and signed by the treasurer by original, or engraved, or lithographed facsimile signature, and the bonds and coupons shall be payable at the office of the county treasurer. In case any officer whose signature or attestation or countersignature appears on any bonds or coupons thereof issued under the provisions of this act shall cease to be such officer before the sale or delivery of said bonds to the purchaser thereof, such signature, countersignature or attestation appearing either on the bonds or the coupons or on both shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if such officer had remained in office until the sale or delivery of such bonds. [Amendment approved May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 812.]

board of supervisors may sell all the bonds of said issue at one time, or may sell less than the whole, to wit, any part thereof, at one time, and from time to time. In the event the whole, or any part of said issue of bonds, may be offered for sale at one time, the board of supervisors may sell either the whole or any lesser number of the bonds so offered for sale. All moneys realized from the sale of said bonds shall be placed on deposit with the county treasurer to the credit of the bond fund of said district, and shall not be expended for any purpose other than that for which said bonded indebtedness was incurred as specified in section one of this act. [New section added May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 816.]

§ 8b. Action to have bonds declared valid. Summons. Treasurer's record. As soon as said bonds shall have been delivered to said county treasurer, the board of trustees, or any holder of title, or evidence of title, including possessory rights, to lands contained in the district, may, in order to determine that said bonds are a legal obligation of the district, institute a proceeding therefor in the superior court of the county in which the district was organized by filing with the clerk of said county a complaint setting forth that on a date therein named bonds of said district were delivered to the said treasurer, stating the amount of such bonds, and praying that such bonds be adjudged to be a valid legal obligation of such district. The summons in such proceeding shall be served by publishing a copy thereof once a week for four weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in each county in which any of the lands contained in said district are located. Within thirty days after the last publication thereof shall have been completed and proof thereof filed with the court, any person interested may appear and answer said complaint, in which case said answer shall set forth the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of said bonds. If no answer shall be filed within said time, the court must render judgment as prayed for in the complaint. If an answer be filed the court shall proceed as in other civil cases. Said proceeding is hereby declared to be a proceeding in rem and the judgment rendered therein shall be conclusive against all persons whomsoever and against the state of California. In the event said district comprises lands situated in more than one county, such action shall be brought in the superior court of the county in which the larger portion of the district is situated.

The treasurer of the county shall keep a record of all bonds by number, date of sale, amount, date of maturity, and the name and postoffice address of the purchaser when known, which record shall be open at all times for public inspection. [New section added May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 817.]

§ 8c. Bonds exempt from taxation. Bonds legal investment. Any bonds issued by any levee district under the provisions of this act are hereby given the same force, value and use as bonds issued by any municipality and shall be exempt from all taxation within the state of California.

The bonds of levee districts issued pursuant to this act may be lawfully purchased or received in pledge for loans by banks, trust companies, guardians, executors, administrators, and special administrators, or by any public officer or officers of this state, or of any county, city, or city and county, or other municipal or corporate body within the state, having or holding bonds [funds] which they are allowed by law to invest or loan. [New section added May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 817.]

§ 9. Tax to pay interest and principal. Levy and collection. Lien on property. Levy and collection of tax when land situated in more than one county. In addition to any other estimate which the board of trustees may be required by law to make and to submit to the board of supervisors of the county in which said district is situated, the board of trustees, on or before the first day of September of each year, shall certify to the board of supervisors, if said district is situated in one county, but if it comprises lands situated in more than one county, then the respective boards of supervisors of each county within which lands of said district are situated, the amount of interest upon all outstanding bonds to grow due within the said year, and the amount of moneys necessary to redeem any or all outstanding bonds that may grow due in said year. At the time when by law it is the duty of the board of supervisors of said county to fix the annual tax rate of such county, said board of supervisors must levy a tax upon the taxable property situated in such levee district, for the interest and redemption of said bonds, and such tax must not be less than sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds for that year and such portion of the principal as is to become due during such year, and such proportion of the principal that at the end of ten years the sum raised from such levies shall equal at least twenty-five per cent of the amount of bonds issued, at the end of twenty years at least fifty per cent of the amount, and at and before the date of the maturity of the bonds shall be equal to the whole amount of the principal, and the money arising from such levies shall be known as the bond fund, and shall be used for the payment of bonds and interest coupons and for no other purpose whatever; and the county treasurer shall open and keep in his book a separate and special account which, at all times, shall show the exact condition of such bond fund.

Such tax shall be levied on all property in the territory comprising the district, and shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner and form as county taxes are collected, and when collected shall be held by the treasurer for the credit of said district, to be paid by orders of such treasurer issued under the authority of and signed by the president of the board of trustees of said district. Such taxes shall be a lien on all the property within the territory comprising the district, and of the same force and effect as other liens for taxes, and its collection shall be enforced by the same means and in the same manner as provided for in the enforcement of liens for county taxes.

In the event the said district comprises land situated in more than one county, then said estimate shall be furnished to the board of supervisors of each of the counties within which said lands of said district are situated. In such case at the time when by law it is the duty of the board of supervisors of said respective counties to fix the annual tax rate of each county, it shall be the duty of the board of supervisors of each of said counties respectively to levy a tax upon the taxable property in such levee district as may be situated in said county for the interest and redemption of said bonds, and such tax must not be less in the aggregate than sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds for that year and such portion of the principal as is to become due during such year, and such portion of the principal that at the end of ten years the sum raised from such levies shall equal at least twenty-five per cent of the amount of bonds issued, at the end of twenty years at least fifty per cent of the amount, and at and before the date of maturity of the bonds shall be equal to the whole amount of the principal, and the money arising from such levies shall be known as the bond fund and shall be used for the payment of bonds and interest coupons and for no other purpose whatever. The county treasurer of each county shall open and keep in his book a separate and special account which shall at all times show the exact condition of such bond fund. Such tax shall be levied on all property in the territory comprising the district situated in said county, and shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner and form as county taxes are collected, and when collected shall be held by the treasurer of each of said counties. Upon the first days of January, April, July and October of each year succeeding the date of issuance of said bonds, the county treasurer of each county, other than the county wherein the larger portion of the lands of said district is situated, shall transmit to the county treasurer of the county in which the larger portion of the lands of said district is situated all sums then in his possession in said bond fund, and the county treasurer of the county in which the larger portion of the lands of said district is situated shall issue his receipt therefor. Such taxes shall be a lien upon all the property within the territory comprising the district, and of the same force and effect as other liens for taxes, and the collection of said taxes shall be enforced by the same means and in the same manner as provided by law for the enforcement of liens for county taxes. [Amendment approved May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 818.]

§ 10. Redemption of bonds. Whenever there shall be in the bond fund of such district a surplus of one thousand dollars or more, over and above the interest maturing before the next levy, the treasurer shall give notice for two weeks in one or more newspapers of general circulation, printed and published in the county in which such district is situated, stating the amount of such surplus, and that on the day and hour named in such notice, sealed proposals will be received at his office for the surrender of bonds of the district, and shall at the time and place named open the proposals and accept the lowest bid; provided, that no bid shall be accepted for an amount exceeding the par value of such bonds with accrued interest; if bids are not offered at par, or less, sufficient to exhaust the amount on hand applicable to redemption, the treasurer shall publish for the same time and in the same manner a notice that he will redeem a bond or bonds of said district, giving the number or numbers thereof, and that if not presented for redemption within thirty days after the date of the first publication of such notice, the interest thereon will cease, and the amount due thereon will be set aside for the payment of such bond or bonds whenever presented. If any such bond be not so presented, interest thereon shall cease, and the amount due thereon shall be set aside as specified in said notice. All redemption of bonds other than those voluntarily surrendered shall be made in the exact order of their numbering, beginning with the lowest or first number. [Amendment approved May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 819.]

§ 11. Act full authority for issuance and sale of bonds. Levee district fund. This act shall without reference to any other act of the legislature of the state of California be full authority for the issuance and sale of the bonds in this act authorized, which bonds shall have all the qualities of negotiable paper under the law merchant, and when executed by the officials as provided in this act in conformity with the provisions of this act, and when sold in the manner prescribed therein and the consideration therefor received by the county treasurer for the benefit of said district, shall not be invalid for any irregularity or defect in the proceedings for the issuance and sale thereof, and shall be incontestible in the hands of bona fide purchasers or holders thereof for value. The moneys obtained from the sale of such bonds shall be by the county treasurer placed in a fund to be called the "—— levee district fund," and all payments of any of the expenses of the work or improvements for which said bonded indebtedness was incurred shall be paid out upon warrants drawn by the board of trustees of said levee district. [New section added May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 820.]

ACT 1923.

An act to create a levee district to be called and designated Sacramento River west side levee district; to prevent the overflow of flood waters from the Sacramento River from flooding on to the lands within said district by the construction of levees along the west bank of the Sacramento River and adjacent thereto and maintain the same; providing for the election and appointment of officers of said levee district; defining the powers, duties and compensation of such officers; and providing for levying and collecting assessments upon the lands within said levee district.

[Approved May 18, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 516.]

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1211.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 3. Election. Manner of conducting. Commissioner takes office when. An election shall be held within forty days after the date upon which this act shall take effect, and on the last Monday of October of every fourth calendar year thereafter, at which election said commissioners shall be elected. Said first election shall be called by the reclamation board created by that certain act of the legislature of the state of California, entitled: "An act approving the report of the California debris commission transmitted to the speaker of the house of representatives by the secretary of war on June 27, 1911, directing the approval of plans of reclamation along the Sacramento River or its tributaries or upon the swamp-lands adjacent to said river, directing the state engineer to procure data and make surveys and examinations for the purpose of perfecting the plans contained in said report of the California debris commission and to make report thereof, making an appropriation to pay the expenses of such examinations and surveys, and creating a reclamation board and defining its powers," approved December 24, 1911, or such board as may by law be made its successor. Said reclamation board shall also designate the voting place for said first election and for all succeeding elections. Notice of the time and place of holding all elections shall be given by said reclamation board by publication once a week for two weeks next preceding such election, in some newspaper published in Colusa county and also in some newspaper published in Yolo county. In the first election the reclamation board shall, prior to the election, procure from the assessors of said counties of Yolo and Colusa, respectively, a list certified by such assessors, respectively, containing a description of all the lands of the district situated in such counties, the name of the person to whom each tract is assessed and the acreage thereof as it appears from the last prior assessment-roll of said counties, which said list shall be furnished to and be used by the board of election hereinafter described in determining the number of votes each voter is entitled to cast. In all elections said reclamation board shall appoint an inspector and two judges of election, who shall constitute a board of election for such voting place. At the first election of commissioners each owner of land within said levee district as above defined, shall be entitled to cast one vote, in person or by proxy, for each commissioner to be elected therein for each acre of land or fraction thereof owned by such land owner within said district, such acreage to be determined by the aforesaid assessment-roll of the county in which the same is situated. In case of town lots, or where the acreage is not stated, the board of election officers shall determine the amount of acreage therein. The estates of minors, incompetents, deceased persons and beneficiaries under a trust shall be represented by the guardian, executor, administrator or trustee in person. Where a tract is situated partly within and partly without the boundaries of such district, and the assessment-roll contains the acreage of said tract of land as a whole, the same must be apportioned according to the number of acres lying within and without the boundaries of said district. In the case of all elections after the first election hereinbefore provided for, each land owner in said district shall be entitled to cast one vote, either in person or by proxy, for each commissioner to be elected therein for each dollar, or fraction thereof, assessed against his land, as shown by the first assessment list in said district as prepared by the assessors and heretofore filed with the reclamation board, as provided in section six of this act, or in the event that said assessment list has been equalized by the said reclamation board before the time of said election, then as shown by the said assessment list so equalized by the reclamation board. No person shall vote by proxy at such election, unless authority to cast such vote shall be evidenced by an instrument in writing, duly acknowledged and certified in the same manner as grants of real property, and filed with the board of election. In case no board of election shall be appointed, or if any member thereof shall fail or refuse to serve, the land owners present at the time of the opening of such election may appoint such board of election or supply the place of an absent member. Each member of the board of election must, before entering upon the discharge of his duties, be sworn to perform them faithfully. Any person entitled to vote at such election may administer the oath. The polls shall be kept open from ten o'clock A. M. till four o'clock P. M. on the day of said election. The board of election must keep a list of the names of the persons voting at such election, together with a statement of the number of votes cast by each, and shall canvass the votes and make a return thereof showing the number of votes cast for each person for levee commissioner and shall return therewith said list containing the names of the land owners voting at such election. Such election shall be by ballot, which ballots must contain the name of the person voting same, the total number of votes cast, the names of the persons voted for and the number of votes cast for each of said persons. The ballots must be inclosed in an envelope by the election board, and delivered, with the election returns, to the said reclamation board, and said reclamation board shall cause a certificate of election to be issued within five days to the person or persons receiving the highest number of legal votes. If a certificate of election shall be issued to any person who has not received the highest number of legal votes, and upon an affidavit being filed by a land owner in the said levee district, setting forth that such person did not receive the highest number of legal votes, and giving the names of the persons who cast illegal votes for such person, and the number of such illegal votes so cast, the said reclamation board shall canvass the election returns, and hear evidence touching the legality of any votes cast, and may revoke such certificate of election and issue a certificate to the person legally elected. Within fifteen days after receiving a certificate of election, and before entering upon the duties of his office, each levee commissioner shall take the oath of office prescribed by law, and file the same in the office of said reclamation board. All vacancies in the board of levee commissioners shall be filled by the said reclamation board, and such appointee shall hold office until the next succeeding election, and the qualification of his successor. Such person shall possess the same qualifications as an elected commissioner. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1212.]

§ 7. Charges become lien. Statement that assessment delinquent. Sale of property. Purchase by district. Redemption. Land not charged to be later charged. Correction of errors. To whom payments made. Moneys deposited in treasury. From and after the filing of the original list with the county treasurer of Colusa county, and from and after the filing of the duplicate original list with the county treasurer of Yolo county, the charges assessed upon any tract of land within each respective county shall constitute a lien thereon, and shall impart notice thereof to all persons. No subsequent act or conduct of the commissioners shall invalidate said assessment or lien, but such commissioners may be compelled by mandate or other proper proceeding to perform their duties, as required by law. The list thus prepared and filed must remain in the offices of the respective treasurers for thirty days from such filing, or longer if ordered by the board of levee commissioners, and during the time they so remain, any person may pay the amount of the charge assessed against any tract of land to the treasurer of the county in which such tract is situated, in gold coin of the United States, or in warrants of the district. At the end of thirty days the treasurers must return the lists to the board of commissioners of the district. The said board, from time to time in its discretion, may, by order entered in its minutes, direct the said assessment to be collected and paid in separate installments, of such amounts and at such time, respectively, as the said board may determine. After any order has been made calling in an installment of assessment, the secretary of the said district, for the information of the land owners, shall mail to each land owner, as described in the said assessment list, if his address be known to such secretary, or, if not, then to the county seat of the county in which such land may be situated, a statement stating the amount of the call of such assessment, and stating further that said installment, if unpaid at the expiration of thirty days from the date of such order, shall become delinquent, which said statement shall be mailed by said secretary within ten days after the date of any such order calling in any installment of such assessment, and each installment of assessment, from the time of the order of said board directing the same to be collected and paid, shall bear interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum until paid; if any such installment shall remain unpaid at the expiration of thirty days from the date of the order, then said installment shall become delinquent, together with the accrued interest thereon, and ten per cent of the amount of said installment and interest shall be added thereto, and collected for the use of the district; provided, further, that the commissioners must on the first day of January of each year, order the collection of a sufficient amount of said assessment to pay all warrants that have been issued and outstanding for a period of two years or more, together with the interest on such warrants. Immediately after the said installment has become delinquent, the board of levee commissioners must publish a notice at least once each week for three weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county or counties in which any land upon which such installment may be delinquent is situated, which notice shall contain a description of the property assessed, the name of the person to whom it is assessed, or a statement that it is assessed to unknown owners, if such be the fact; the amount of the delinquent installment, the amount of the interest at the date of delinquency, the amount of the penalty that has been added as above provided, and a notice that the property assessed will be sold on a date therein stated, at such time and place in said district as the board of commissioners may in said notice designate, to pay said installment with accrued interest and the penalty hereinbefore specified. At the time stated in said notice, or such other time to which said sale may have been postponed, the commissioners must sell said property to the highest bidder for gold coin of the United States. Out of the proceeds of said sale the commissioners must pay the amount of said installment with the accrued interest thereon and the penalty herein provided for to the county treasurer of the county of Colusa who shall place the same in the proper funds of said district, and the commissioners must pay to the owner of said property any surplus remaining after such payment to said county treasurer. The commissioners may postpone said sale from time to time by a written notice posted at the place of sale. If no bid is made for said property equal to the amount of said installment, accrued interest and penalty, the district shall become the purchaser, and the said property must be struck off to the district for the amount of said installment, accrued interest and penalty. A certificate of such sale shall be executed by the commissioners of said levee district to the purchaser, or to the district, if the property shall have been struck off to the district, and said certificate of sale shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the land sold is situated, or if situated in two counties, then in the office of the county recorder of each thereof. Any person interested in said property may redeem the same at any time within one year after the date of said sale, by paying in gold coin or in warrants of said district, to the county treasurer of Colusa county the amount of said installment with the accrued interest and penalty, and interest on the said sums at the rate of two per cent per month from the date of said sale.

If no redemption shall be made within said one year, the purchaser, or the district, if said property shall have been sold to the district, shall be entitled to a deed executed by said commissioners, and the effect of such deed shall be to convey said property free of all liens and encumbrances, excepting state, county and municipal taxes, and the liens of assessments now levied or which may hereafter be levied by any of the reclamation districts situate within said levee district, or by the Knights Landing Ridge drainage district, and the unpaid balance of said assessment of said levee district, if any, which said balance must be called in and collected in the same manner as other assessments; provided, that where said property shall have been deeded to the district and shall not have been sold by the commissioners, the same shall not be offered for sale for subsequent installments of said assessments so long as the district shall remain the owner of said property, but the commissioners may sell said property at any time at public auction after notice given for the same period and in the same manner as is herein provided for sales for delinquent installments, but not for a sum less than all delinquent unpaid installments with accrued interest and penalties, and the deed executed in pursuance of such sale shall convey said property free of all encumbrances, except state, county and other municipal taxes, the lien of any assessments levied or which may hereafter be levied by any reclamation district within said levee district, or the Knights Landing Ridge drainage district, and the unpaid balance of said assessment.

In all cases where an assessment has been, or shall hereafter be, levied for any purpose on the lands embraced within said levee district, if, for any reason, any tract or tracts of land shall not have been charged with said assessment, then such tract or tracts of land shall be charged in any subsequent assessment with such proportion of the former assessment as the benefits derived by said lands from the levee works, for which said former assessment was levied, bears to the whole amount of said former assessment; or a subsequent reassessment of such tract or tracts of land may be made separately for the purpose of charging said land with its proper proportion of the costs of levee protection. Such reassessment shall be made by assessors appointed by the reclamation board, as provided by this act, and must be made and approved in the same manner as other assessments. The assessors appointed by the reclamation board must make a list of the charges assessed against each tract of land; and, if there be any error or mistake in the description of the land or in the name of the owner, or if any land which should be assessed has been, or shall be, omitted from the list, or if there is any error or mistake in any other respect, the said assessors may amend or correct the same at any time before the filing of such list with the reclamation board as hereinbefore provided. Where payment is made in warrants of the district, legal interest must be computed thereon from the date thereof to the time of such payment, when said warrants must be surrendered to the county treasurer of the county of Colusa and by him canceled.

In the event that any land owner of the said district shall have paid the amount, or any portion of the amount, assessed against any tract of land before said assessment shall have been adjudged invalid, in whole, or in part, the amount so paid by said land owner, together with legal interest thereon from the date of such payment, shall be a credit and shall be credited by the treasurer of the county where the assessment list is filed, or by said district, or upon any subsequent assessment on the tract of land on which the said invalid assessment was paid, or be applied in satisfaction pro tanto of any such subsequent assessment thereafter levied on said tract.

All installments of assessment, after the original list and the duplicate original have been returned by the respective county treasurers to the board of levee commissioners that may be called in, shall be paid to the secretary of said board of levee commissioners, and the same and also all proceeds from any delinquent sale shall be paid into the county treasury of the county of Colusa, and be placed by the treasurer thereof to the credit of said district, and paid out upon warrants issued by the board of levee commissioners. At any time an assessment on any tract of land may be paid in full, notwithstanding the same has not been called in by the board of levee commissioners.

All moneys received from any source by the board of levee commissioners shall be paid by the said board, or the secretary thereof, into the county treasury of Colusa county, and be placed by the treasurer to the credit of the district, and paid out upon the warrants of the board of levee commissioners in the manner hereinbefore provided.

On the first Monday of each month the county treasurer of Yolo county shall transmit to the county treasurer of Colusa county all moneys that may be in his hands to the credit of said district arising from any source, and, likewise, all warrants that may be delivered in payment of any assessment, and all such moneys shall thereupon be placed to the credit of said district by said county treasurer of Colusa county. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1214.]

§ 3. Repealed. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

TITLE 310.

LOS ANGELES CITY.

ACT 1977.

Charter of Los Angeles. [Stats. 1889, p. 455.]

Amended 1903, p. 555; 1905, p. 980; 1907, p. 1160; 1909, p. 1289; 1911, p. 2051; 1913, p. 1629; 1915, p. 1686; 1917, p. 1686.

ACT 1991.

An act granting to the city of Los Angeles the tide-lands and submerged lands of the state within the boundaries of the said city.

[Approved May 1, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 1256.]

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 159.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Tide-lands granted to Los Angeles. There is hereby granted to the city of Los Angeles, a municipal corporation of the state of California, and to its successors, all the right, title and interest of the state of California, held by said state by virtue of its sovereignty, in and to all tide-lands and submerged lands, whether filled or unfilled, within the present boundaries of said city, and situated below the line of mean high tide of the Pacific Ocean, or of any harbor, estuary, bay or inlet within said boundaries, to be forever held by said city, and by its successors, in trust for the uses and purposes, and upon the express conditions, following, to wit:

(a) Purposes for which lands may be used. That said lands shall be used by said city, and by its successors, solely for the establishment, improvement and conduct of a harbor, and for the construction, maintenance and operation thereon of wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays and other utilities, structures and appliances necessary or convenient for the promotion and accommodation of commerce and navigation, and said city, or its successors, shall not, at any time, grant, convey, give or alien said lands, or any part thereof, to any individual, firm or corporation for any purpose whatsoever; provided, that said city, or its successors, may grant franchises thereon for limited periods, in any event not to exceed thirty years for wharves and other public uses and purposes, and may lease said lands, or any part thereof, for limited periods, in any event not to exceed thirty years for any and all purposes which shall not interfere with commerce or navigation, and are not inconsistent with the trusts upon which said lands are held by the state of California;

(b) Harbor improved without expense to state. That said harbor shall be improved by said city without expense to the state, and shall always remain a public harbor for all purposes of commerce and navigation, and the state of California shall have, at all times, the right to use, without charge, all wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays and other improvements constructed on said lands, or any part thereof, for any vessel or other water craft, or railroad, owned or operated by the state of California;

(c) No discrimination in rates. That in the management, conduct or operation of said harbor, or of any of the utilities, structures or appliances mentioned in paragraph (a), no discrimination in rates, tolls, or charges, or in facilities, for any use or service in connection therewith shall ever be made, authorized or permitted by said city, or by its successors;

Right to fish reserved to people. Reserving, however, in the people of the state of California, the absolute right to fish in the waters of said harbor, with the right of convenient access to said waters over said lands for said purposes. [Amendment approved April 20, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 159.]

ACT 1991d.

An act to appropriate money to be expended under the direction of the state board of control in co-operation with the federal government to carry out the project adopted by congress for the protection of the navigability of Los Angeles and Long Beach harbors, and providing for the future completion of the entire project. The act appropriated $50,000 for the purpose indicated.

TITLE 311.

LOS ANGELES COUNTY.

ACT 2016.

An act to validate bonds of the Los Angeles county flood control district and all proceedings relating thereto, and making final and conclusive, except as therein provided, the official canvass of election returns of the election at which said bonds were voted.

[Approved May 5, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 239. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Los Angeles county flood control district bonds validated. Bonds in the amount of four million four hundred fifty thousand dollars of the Los Angeles county flood control district, and all the acts and proceedings of said district, leading up to and including the authorizing and issuance of said bonds, are hereby legalized, ratified, confirmed and declared valid to all intents and purposes, which district was created by the Los Angeles county flood control act, approved June 12, 1915, and which bonds were authorized by virtue of an election held in said district on February 20, 1917, at which a majority of the votes cast were in favor of incurring such bonded indebtedness, as found and determined by the board of supervisors of said district upon canvassing such election returns, and which finding and determination of the result of said election shall be and is hereby declared to be final and conclusive against all persons except the state of California upon suit commenced by the attorney general. Any such suit must be commenced within thirty days after this act takes effect and not otherwise.

And all said bonds when issued and sold as in said act provided shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and valid obligations of said district, and the faith and credit of said Los Angeles county flood control district is hereby pledged for the prompt payment and redemption of the principal and interest of said bonds and said bonds by their issuance shall be conclusive evidence of the regularity of all proceedings leading up thereto, and that they were duly authorized at said election.

TITLE 321.

MANUFACTURES.

ACT 2063.

An act to provide for the registration of factories, workshops, mills and other manufacturing establishments.

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 270.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Registration of factories. Notice by commissioner of labor. The owner of any factory, workshop, mill or other manufacturing establishment, where five or more persons are employed, shall register such factory, workshop, mill or other manufacturing establishment with the bureau of labor statistics, giving the name of the owner, the name under which the business is carried on, the location of the plant, the address of the general offices or principal place of business and such other information as the commissioner of labor shall require. Such registration of existing factories, workshops, mills or other manufacturing establishments shall be made on or before January 1, 1914. All factories, workshops, mills or other manufacturing establishments hereafter established shall be so registered within thirty days after the commencement of business. Within thirty days after a change in the location of a factory, workshop, mill or other manufacturing establishment the owner thereof shall file with the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics the new address.

Whenever the commissioner of labor shall have been notified or otherwise becomes aware of the existence of a new factory, or factories, he shall forward a notification of said fact on or before the tenth day of each month to the state board of health and to the board of health or the health officer of the city and county wherein said factory or factories may be located.

TITLE 322.

MAPS.

ACT 2066.

An act to cure defects in maps or plats filed for record prior to January 1, 1917, and in deeds or conveyances referring to such maps.

§ 1. Defects cured in maps filed prior to January 1, 1917. Any map or plat recorded or filed with the county recorder of the county in which the lands shown on said map or plat are situated prior to the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred seventeen, shall for all purposes be deemed to have been properly so recorded or filed and to comply with all the requirements of the laws in force at the time it was so recorded or filed, notwithstanding any defect, omission or informality in the preparation or execution of such map or plat or of the affidavits, certificates, acknowledgments, indorsements, acceptances of dedication or other matters thereon or required to be thereon by any law in force at the time of such recording or filing, and all sales or conveyances of land by reference to any such map or plat shall be valid as though said map or plat had been made, certified, indorsed, acknowledged and filed in all respects in accordance with the laws in force at the time said map or plat was so recorded or filed. And any deed or conveyance referring to any such map or plat which, prior to the passage hereof, was copied into the proper book of records kept in the office of any county recorder shall impart after the passage hereof notice of its contents to subsequent purchasers and encumbrancers, notwithstanding any defect, omission or informality in the preparation or execution of such map or plat or of the affidavits, certificates, acknowledgments, indorsements, acceptances of dedication or other matters thereon or required to be thereon by any law in force at the time of such recording or filing.

TITLE 326.

MARKS AND BRANDS.

ACT 2103.

An act requiring the labeling of articles offered for sale and intended for personal wear, manufactured in state penitentiaries, reform schools or other institutions supported at public expense, and requiring that notice that such goods are on sale, shall be conspicuously posted in places where said goods are offered for sale.

§ 1. Articles manufactured at state institutions must be labeled. No person, persons, firm or corporation, by themselves, their agents or employees shall sell, offer for sale or expose for sale, or have in his or their possession for sale, any article intended for personal wear which was manufactured at a state penitentiary, state reform school or at any other institution supported at public expense and located without the boundaries of the state of California, unless said article shall have affixed, stamped or imprinted thereon, a label in letters three-eighths of an inch in height, designating the state penitentiary, state reform school or other public institution, where said article was manufactured.

§ 2. Notice that articles manufactured at state institutions are for sale. No person, persons, firm or corporation, by themselves, their agents or employees shall sell, offer for sale or expose for sale, or have in his or their possession for sale, any article intended for personal wear which was manufactured at a state penitentiary, state reform school or at any other institution supported at public expense and located without the boundaries of the state of California unless there is kept on exhibition in a conspicuous place, where said article is exposed or offered for sale, a notice at least twelve inches in length by six inches in height, stating that goods so manufactured are on sale there.

§ 3. Penalty. Whoever shall knowingly violate any of the provisions or sections of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished for the first offense by a fine of not less than twenty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars; or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ten days and not exceeding thirty days; and for each subsequent offense by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than twenty days nor more than one hundred days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court.

§ 4. Duty of district attorney. It shall be the duty of the district attorney of each and every county in this state, upon application, to attend to the prosecution in the name of the people of any action brought for the violation of any of the provisions of this act within his district.

An act to perpetuate marks, brands and counterbrands established in the several counties of the state under sections three thousand one hundred sixty-eight and three thousand one hundred sixty-nine of the Political Code, to provide methods of perpetuation and declaring all marks, brands and counterbrands not so perpetuated to be inoperative and void.

§ 1. Notice to perpetuate marks, brands, and counterbrands. The county recorder of each county in whose office there are recorded more than one hundred marks, brands and counterbrands under the provisions of section three thousand one hundred sixty-eight of the Political Code, shall, within thirty days after this law goes into effect, cause to be published in a newspaper of general circulation in such county, the following notice:

"Every person, who, under and by virtue of compliance with section three thousand one hundred sixty-eight of the Political Code, owns a mark, brand or counterbrand, must, within three months after final publication of this notice, notify the county recorder of his desire to continue and perpetuate such mark, brand and counterbrand. This notification must be in words of positive and reasonable intendment and must be either by registered letter or by personal application addressed to said county recorder. Any person failing to so continue and perpetuate such mark, brand and counterbrand, shall lose all right, title and interest therein.

First publication: (naming date).

Last publication: (naming date).

____ ____,

County recorder of —— county."

§ 2. Publication. The notice set forth in section one shall be published six times at intervals of four weeks, final publication to be not more than five months later than the original publication thereof.

§ 3. Continuance of marks, etc. Every person desiring to continue and perpetuate any mark, brand and counterbrand must comply with the provisions set forth in the notice under section one, and the county recorder shall, upon such compliance, write or stamp opposite the record of such mark, brand or counterbrand the word "perpetuated."

§ 4. Marks, etc., deemed abandoned. At the termination of three months after final publication of notice set forth in section one, the county recorders of the several counties shall transfer the records of all marks, brands and counterbrands perpetuated under section three to a new book set apart for the purpose described in section three thousand one hundred sixty-eight of the Political Code, and all marks, brands and counterbrands in the custody of the county recorders of the several counties not so continued and perpetuated shall be deemed to have been abandoned by the owner thereof and to be inoperative and void.

§ 5. Sections of Political Code not affected by act. Nothing in this act shall be construed as repealing sections three thousand one hundred sixty-eight and three thousand one hundred sixty-nine of the Political Code.

TITLE 331.

MASTER AND SERVANT.

ACT 2135.

An act prohibiting employers of labor from coercing employees in the purchase of things of value, and prescribing a penalty for the violation of the provisions hereof.

[Approved April 26, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 207. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Unlawful to force employee to patronize employer. It shall be unlawful for any employer of labor, or any officer, agent or employee of any employer of labor to make, adopt or enforce any rule or regulation compelling or coercing any employee to patronize said employer, or any other person, firm or corporation, in the purchase of any thing of value; provided, however, that nothing herein shall be interpreted as prohibiting any employer of labor from prescribing the weight, color, quality, texture, style, form and make of uniforms required to be worn by their employees.

§ 2. Penalty. Any person, whether as an individual, or as an agent or employee of a firm, or as an officer, agent or employee of a corporation, who shall violate any of the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

An act to provide for the furnishing by public utility corporations, to employees thereof leaving their service, of service letters.

[Approved June 1, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1520. In effect July 31, 1917.]

§ 1. Service letters by public utility corporations. Every public utility corporation shall, upon request therefor made to it by any employee thereof leaving its service, give to such employee a letter covering and stating the period during which such service was and kind of service rendered to such corporation by such employee.

§ 2. Penalty. Every public utility corporation violating the provisions of this act shall, for each offense, suffer a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars, nor more than one hundred dollars; which fine shall be collected by the district attorney of the county in which such corporation has its principal place of business.

An act to forbid managers, superintendents, foremen and other persons having authority from their respective employers to hire, employ, or direct the services of other persons in such employments, to demand or receive any fee, gift or other remuneration in consideration of any such hiring, employment or permission to continue to perform work or services in such employment; and to provide for the enforcement of this act by the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics. [Approved April 12, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 61.]

Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 257.
See post, Act 2143d.

ACT 2140e.

An act to require employers to pay the cost of bonds and photographs required of and furnished by employees or applicants for employment.

[Approved April 20, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 151. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Employer must pay for bond or photograph. Whenever a bond or photograph of an employee or applicant for employment is required by any employer of labor, said employer shall pay the cost of such bond or photograph.

§ 2. Penalty. Any person violating any provision of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine not less than twenty-five dollars nor exceeding five hundred dollars.

§ 3. Enforcement. The commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics of the state of California shall enforce the provisions of this act.

ACT 2142a.

An act to provide for semi-monthly pay days of laborers in the employ of any county of the first or second class.

[Approved May 22, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 800. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Semi-monthly pay days of county employees. The wages of all employees of any county of the first or second class, whose compensation is based on a daily rate of payment, shall be paid at not less than two stated times in each calendar month, and at substantially equal intervals.

§ 2. Penalty for violation. Any officer, employer or agent of any county of the first or second class, or of any department or institution thereof, who fails, refuses or neglects to comply with the requirements of this act, in so far as the payments are prescribed or controlled by him, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

An act to promote the comfort, health, safety and general welfare of the people of this state as affected by injury causing the disability or death of employees in the course of their employment, providing for a complete plan of workmen's compensation by creating a liability on the part of immediate employers, principal employers, contracting employers and their insurance carriers to compensate employees and their dependants for such disability or death, irrespective of the fault of any party, providing the means and methods of enforcing such liability and providing for certain liens upon compensations; and regulating compensation insurance coverage against such liability, securing the payment of compensation and confirming the establishment and transactions of the state compensation insurance fund; and requiring safety in all employments and places of employment in this state and providing the means and methods of enforcing such safety; and requiring reports of industrial injuries; and providing penalties for offenses, as defined herein, by employers, their officers and agents, and by employees and other persons and corporations; and defining the powers and duties of the industrial accident commission under this act, and providing for a review of its orders, decisions and awards; and repealing sections two, twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, eighteen, nineteen, twenty, twenty-one, twenty-two, twenty-three, twenty-four, twenty-five, twenty-six, twenty-seven, twenty-eight, twenty-nine, thirty, thirty-one, thirty-two, thirty-three, thiry-four, thirty-five, fifty-one, fifty-two, fifty-three, fifty-four, fifty-five, fifty-six, fifty-seven, fifty-eight, fifty-nine, sixty, sixty-one, sixty-two, sixty-three, sixty-four, sixty-five, sixty-six, sixty-seven, sixty-eight, sixty-nine, seventy, seventy-one, seventy-two, seventy-three, seventy-four, seventy-five, seventy-five a, seventy-six, seventy-seven, seventy-eight, seventy-nine, eighty, eighty-one, eighty-two, eighty-three, eighty-four, eighty-five, eighty-six and eighty-seven of chapter one hundred seventy-six, Statutes of 1913, and all other acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith, except sections one, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, thirty-six, thirty-seven, thirty-eight, thirty-nine, forty, forty-one, forty-two, forty-three, forty-four, forty-five, forty-six, forty-seven, forty-eight, forty-nine, fifty, eighty-eight and ninety of said chapter one hundred seventy-six, Statutes of 1913.

[Approved May 23, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 831. In effect January 1, 1918.]

§ 1. Intention of act. Social public policy of state declared. This act and each and every part thereof is an expression of the police power and is also intended to make effective and apply to a complete system of workmen's compensation the provisions of section seventeen and one-half of article twenty and section twenty-one of article twenty of the constitution of the state of California. A complete system of workmen's compensation includes adequate provision for the comfort, health, saftey and general welfare of any and all employees and those dependent upon them for support to the extent of relieving from the consequences of any injury incurred by employees in the course of their employment, irrespective of the fault of any party; also full provision for securing safety in places of employment, full provision for such medical, surgical, hospital and other remedial treatment as is requisite to cure and relieve from the effects of such injury, full provision for adequate insurance coverage against the liability to pay or furnish compensation, full provision for regulating such insurance coverage in all its aspects including the establishment and management of a state compensation insurance fund, full provision for otherwise securing the payment of compensation, and full provision for vesting power, authority and jurisdiction in an administrative body with all the requisite governmental functions to determine any matter arising under this act to the end that the administration of this act shall accomplish substantial justice in all cases expeditiously, inexpensively and without encumbrance of any character; all of which matters contained in this section are expressly declared to be the social public policy of this state, binding upon all departments of the state government.

§ 2. Title. This act shall be known and may be cited as the "workmen's compensation, insurance and safety act of 1917" and shall apply to the subjects mentioned in its title.

§ 3. Definitions. The following terms as used in this act shall, unless a different meaning is plainly required by the context, be construed as follows:

(1) "Commission." The term "commission" means the industrial accident commission of the state of California as created under the provisions of chapter one hundred seventy-six of the laws of 1913.

(2) "Commissioner." The term "commissioner" means one of the members of the commission.

(3) "Compensation." The term "compensation" means compensation under this act and includes every benefit or payment conferred by sections six to thirty-one, inclusive, of this act upon an injured employee, or in the event of his death, upon his dependents, without regard to negligence.

(4) "Injury." The term "injury," as used in this act, shall include any injury or disease arising out of the employment. In case of aggravation of any disease existing prior to such injury, compensation shall be allowed only for such proportion of the disability due to the aggravation of such prior disease as may reasonably be attributed to the injury.

(5) "Damages." The term "damages" means the recovery allowed in an action at law as contrasted with compensation under this act.

(6) "Person." The term "person" includes an individual, firm, voluntary association, or a public, quasi-public or private corporation.

(7) "Insurance carrier." The term "insurance carrier" includes the state compensation insurance fund and any private company, corporation, mutual association, reciprocal or interinsurance exchange authorized under the laws of this state to insure employers against liability for compensation under this act.

(8) Phrases defined. The phrase "compensation provisions of this act" means and includes sections six to thirty-one, inclusive, of this act.

(9) Phrases defined. The phrase "safety provisions of this act" means and includes sections thirty-three to fifty-four, inclusive, of this act.

(10) Singular and plural. Whenever in this act the singular is used, the plural shall be included; where the masculine gender is used, the feminine and neuter shall be included.

§ 4. Assistant to attorney. The commission shall have power and authority to appoint an assistant to its attorney, who shall be an attorney at law of this state, and who shall hold office at the pleasure of the commission. It shall be the right and duty of such assistant attorney to perform any of the duties of the attorney of the commission under the direction of the commission or its attorney.

§ 5. Powers and duties. Said commission is hereby vested with full power, authority and jurisdiction under the provisions of this act and charged with the duties defined by the provisions of this act in addition to all other power, authority, jurisdiction and duties conferred upon it and exercised by it as heretofore created, constituted and existing.

§ 6. Employer's liability. (a) Liability for the compensation provided by this act, in lieu of any other liability whatsoever to any person, shall, without regard to negligence, exist against an employer for any injury sustained by his employees arising out of and in the course of the employment for the death of any such employee if the injury shall proximately cause death, in those cases where the following conditions of compensation concur:

(1) Where, at the time of the injury, both the employer and employee are subject to the compensation provisions of this act.

(2) Where, at the time of the injury, the employee is performing service growing out of and incidental to his employment and is acting within the course of his employment.

(3) Where the injury is proximately caused by the employment, either with or without negligence, and is not caused by the intoxication of the injured employee, or is not intentionally self-inflicted.

(4) Misconduct of injured employee. Where the injury is caused by the serious and willful misconduct of the injured employee, the compensation otherwise recoverable by him shall be reduced one-half; provided, however, that such misconduct of the employee shall not be a defense to the claim of the dependents of said employee, if the injury results in death, or to the claim of the employee, if the injury results in a permanent partial disability equaling or in excess of seventy per cent of total; and provided, further, that such misconduct of said employee shall not be a defense where his injury is caused by the failure of the employer to comply with any provision of law, or any safety order of the commission, with reference to the safety of places of employment.

(b) Recovery of compensation. Where such conditions of compensation exist, the right to recover such compensation, pursuant to the provisions of this act, shall be the exclusive remedy against the employer for the injury or death; provided, that where the employee is injured by reason of the serious and willful misconduct of the employer, or his managing representative, or if the employer be a partnership, on the part of one of the partners, or if a corporation, on the part of an executive or managing officer thereof, the amount of compensation otherwise recoverable for injury or death, as hereinafter provided, shall be increased one-half, any of the provisions of this act as to maximum payments or otherwise to the contrary notwithstanding; provided, however, that said increase of award shall in no event exceed twenty-five hundred dollars.

(c) In all other cases where the conditions of compensation do not concur, the liability of the employer shall be the same as if this act had not been passed.

§ 7. "Employer." The term "employer" as used in sections six to thirty-one, inclusive, of this act, shall be construed to mean: The state, and each county, city and county, city, school district and all public corporations and quasi-public corporations therein, and every person, firm, voluntary association, and private corporation, including any public service corporation, who has any person in service under any appointment or contract of hire, or apprenticeship, express or implied, oral or written, and the legal representative of any deceased employer.

§ 8. "Employee." (a) The term "employee" as used in section six to thirty-one, inclusive, of this act shall be construed to mean: Every person in the service of an employer as defined by section seven hereof under any appointment or contract of hire or apprenticeship, express or implied, oral or written, including aliens, and also including minors, whether lawfully or unlawfully employed, and all elected and appointed paid public officers, and all officers and members of boards of directors of quasi-public or private corporations, while rendering actual service for such corporations for pay, but excluding any person whose employment is both casual and not in the course of the trade, business, profession or occupation of his employer, and also excluding any employee engaged in household domestic service, farm, dairy, agricultural, viticultural or horticultural labor, in stock or poultry raising and any person holding an appointment as deputy clerk, deputy sheriff or deputy constable appointed for the convenience of such appointee, who receives no compensation from the county or municipal corporation or from the citizens thereof for services as such deputy; provided, that such last exclusion shall not deprive any person so deputized from recourse against any private person employing him for injury occurring in the course of and arising out of such employment.

(b) "Independent contractor." Partner receiving wages. Any person rendering service for another, other than as an independent contractor, or as expressly excluded herein, is presumed to be an employee within the meaning of this act. The term "independent contractor" shall be taken to mean, for the purposes of this act: Any person who renders service, other than manual labor, for a specified recompense for a specified result, under the control of his principal as to the result of his work only and not as to the means by which such result is accomplished. A working member of a partnership receiving wages irrespective of profits from such partnership shall be deemed an employee within the meaning of this section.

(c) "Casual." The term "casual" as used in this section shall be taken to refer only to employments where the work contemplated is to be completed in not exceeding ten working days, without regard to the number of men employed, and where the total labor cost of such work is less than one hundred dollars. The phrase "course of the trade, business, profession or occupation of his employer" shall be taken to include all services tending toward the preservation, maintenance or operation of the business, business premises or business property of the employer. The words "trade, business, profession or occupation of his employer" shall be taken to include any undertaking actually engaged in by him with some degree of regularity, the trade name, articles of incorporation or principal business of the employer to the contrary notwithstanding.

(d) Watchmen. Watchmen for nonindustrial establishments, paid by subscription by several persons, shall not be held to be employees within the meaning of this act. In other cases where watchmen, paid by subscription by several persons, have at the time of the injury sustained by them taken out and maintained in full force and effect insurance upon themselves as self-employing persons conferring benefits equal to those conferred by this act, the employer shall not be liable under this act.

(e) Employees of state, etc. It shall not be a defense to the state, or any political subdivision or institution thereof, or public or quasi-public corporation, that a person injured while rending service for it was not lawfully employed by reason of the violation of any civil service or other law, rule, or regulation respecting the hiring of employees.

(f) Workmen under partnership agreement. Workmen associating themselves under a partnership agreement, the principal purpose of which is the performance of the labor on a particular piece of work, shall be deemed employees of the person having such work executed, and, in the event the average weekly earnings are not otherwise ascertainable, shall be deemed to be employed at an average weekly wage of twelve dollars; provided, however, that if such workmen shall have taken out and maintained in full force and effect insurance, in an insurance carrier as defined in this act, insuring to themselves and all persons employed by them benefits identical with those conferred by this act, the person for whom such work is to be done shall not be liable as an employer under this act.

§ 9. Medical attention. Change of physicians. Employer maintaining hospital staff. Where liability for compensation under this act exists, such compensation shall be furnished or paid by the employer and be as provided in the following schedule:

(a) Such medical, surgical and hospital treatment, including nursing, medicines, medical and surgical supplies, crutches and apparatus, including artificial members, as may reasonably be required to cure and relieve from the effects of the injury, the same to be provided by the employer, and in case of his neglect or refusal seasonably to do so, the employer to be liable for the reasonable expense incurred by or on behalf of the employee in providing the same; provided, that if the employee so requests, the employer shall tender him one change of physicians and shall nominate at least three additional practicing physicians competent to treat the particular case, or as many as may be available if three cannot reasonably be named, from whom the employee may choose; the employee shall also be entitled, in any serious case, upon request, to the services of a consulting physician to be provided by the employer; all of said treatment to be at the expense of the employer. If the employee so requests, the employer must procure certification by the commission or a commissioner of the competency for the particular case of the consulting or additional physicians; provided, further, that the foregoing provisions regarding a change of physicians shall not apply to those cases where the employer maintains, for his own employees, a hospital and hospital staff, the adequacy and competency of which have been approved by the commission. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to limit the right of the employee to provide, in any case, at his own expense, a consulting physician or any attending physicians whom he may desire. Controversies between employer and employee, arising under this section, shall be determined by the commission, upon the request of either party.

(b) Time of disability payments. If the injury causes temporary disability, a disability payment which shall be payable for one week in advance as wages on the eleventh day after the injured employee leaves work as a result of the injury. If the injury causes permanent disability, a disability payment which shall be payable for one week in advance as wages on the eleventh day after the injury. Such indemnity shall thereafter be payable on the employer's regular pay day, but not less frequent than twice in each calendar month, unless otherwise ordered by the commission, subject, however, to the following limitations:

(1) Disability less than ten days. If the period of disability does not last longer than ten days from the day the employee leaves work as the result of the injury, no disability payment whatever shall be recoverable.

(2) No recovery for first ten days. If the period of disability lasts longer than ten days from the day the employee leaves work as the result of the injury, no disability payment shall be recoverable for the first ten days of disability suffered.

2. Amount of disability payment. The disability payment shall be as follows:

(1) If the injury causes temporary total disability, sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings during the period of such disability, consideration being given to the ability of the injured employee to compete in an open labor market;

(2) If the injury causes temporary partial disability, sixty-five per cent of the weekly loss in wages during the period of such disability;

(3) If the temporary disability caused by the injury is at times total and at times partial the weekly disability payment during the period of each such total or partial disability shall be in accordance with paragraphs one and two of this subdivision respectively;

(4) Aggregate disability payments. Paragraphs one, two, and three of this subdivision shall be limited as follows: Aggregate disability payments for a single injury causing temporary disability shall not exceed three times the average annual earnings of the employee, nor shall the aggregate disability period for such temporary disability in any event extend beyond two hundred forty weeks from the date of the injury.

(5) Computation of payments when disability permanent. If the injury causes permanent disability, the percentage of disability to total disability shall be determined and the disability payment computed and allowed as follows: For a one per cent disability sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings for a period of four weeks; for a ten per cent disability, sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings for a period of forty weeks; for a twenty per cent disability, sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings for a period of eighty weeks; for a thirty per cent disability, sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings for a period of one hundred twenty weeks; for a forty per cent disability, sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings for a period of one hundred sixty weeks; for a fifty per cent disability, sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings for a period of two hundred weeks; for a sixty per cent disability, sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings for a period of two hundred forty weeks; for a seventy per cent disability, sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings for a period of two hundred forty weeks, and thereafter ten per cent of such weekly earnings during the remainder of life; for an eighty per cent disabilty, sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings for a period of two hundred forty weeks and thereafter twenty per cent of such weekly earnings during the remainder of life; for a ninety per cent disability, sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings for a period of two hundred forty weeks and thereafter thirty per cent of such weekly earnings during the remainder of life; for a hundred per cent disability, sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings for a period of two hundred forty weeks and thereafter forty per cent of such weekly earnings during the remainder of life.

(6) The payment for permanent disabilities intermediate to those fixed by the foregoing schedule shall be computed and allowed as follows: If under seventy per cent, sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings for four weeks for each one per cent of disability; if seventy per cent or over, sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings for two hundred forty weeks and thereafter one per cent of such weekly earnings for each one per cent of disability in excess of sixty per cent to be paid during the remainder of life.

(7) In determining the percentages of permanent disability, account shall be taken of the nature of the physical injury or disfigurement, the occupation of the injured employee, and his age at the time of such injury, consideration being given to the diminished ability of such injured employee to compete in an open labor market.

(8) Only one payment. Where both temporary and permanent disability. Where an injury causes both temporary and permanent disability, the injured employee shall not be entitled to both a temporary and permanent disability payment, but only to the greater of the two.

(9) Permanent disabilities presumed to be total. The following permanent disabilities shall be conclusively presumed to be total in character: Loss of both eyes or the sight thereof; loss of both hands or the use thereof; an injury resulting in a practically total paralysis; an injury to the brain resulting in incurable imbecility or insanity. In all other cases, permanent total disability shall be determined in accordance with the fact.

(10) Percentage of permanent disability. The percentage of permanent disability caused by any injury shall be so computed as to cover the permanent disability caused by that particular injury without reference to any injury previously suffered or any permanent disability caused thereby.

(11) Schedule for determination of permanent disabilities. The commission may prepare, adopt, and from time to time amend, a schedule for the determination of the percentages of permanent disabilities, such table to be based upon the proper combinations of the factors indicated in subdivision seven above. Such schedule shall be available for public inspection and without formal introduction in evidence shall be prima facie evidence of the percentage of permanent disability to be attributed to each injury covered by said schedule.

3. Death of injured employee. The death of an injured employee shall not affect the liabilty of the employer under subsections (a) and (b) of this section, so far as such liability has accrued and become payable at the date of the death, and any accrued and unpaid compensation shall be paid to the dependents, if any, or, if there are no dependents, to the personal representative of the deceased employee or heirs or other persons entitled thereto, without administration, but such death shall be deemed to be the termination of the disability.

(c) Death benefits. If the injury causes death, either with or without disability, the burial expense of the deceased employee as hereinafter limited and a death benefit which shall be payable in installments equal to sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings of the deceased employee, upon the employer's regular pay day, but not less frequently than twice in each calendar month, unless otherwise ordered by the commission, which death benefit shall be as follows:

(1) If deceased employee leaves dependents. In case the deceased employee leaves a person or persons wholly dependent upon him for support, such dependents shall be allowed the reasonable expense of his burial, not exceeding one hundred dollars, and a death benefit, which shall be a sum sufficient, when added to the disability indemnity which at the time of death has accrued and become payable, under the provisions of subsection (b) hereof, and the said burial expense, to make the total disability indemnity, cost of burial and death benefit equal to three times his average annual earnings, such average annual earnings to be taken at not less than three hundred thirty-three dollars and thirty-three cents nor more than one thousand six hundred sixty-six dollars and sixty-six cents.

(2) If deceased employee leaves partially dependent. In case the deceased employee leaves no person wholly dependent upon him for support, but one or more persons partially dependent therefor, the said dependents shall be allowed the reasonable expense of his burial, not to exceed one hundred dollars, and, in addition thereto, a death benefit which shall amount to three times the annual amount devoted by the deceased to the support of the person or persons so partially dependent; provided, that the death benefit shall not be greater than a sum sufficient, when added to the disability indemnity which, at the time of the death, has accrued and become payable under the provisions of subsection (b) hereof, together with the cost of the burial of such deceased employee, to make the total disability indemnity, cost of burial and death benefit equal to three times his average annual earnings, such average annual earnings to be taken at not less than three hundred thirty-three dollars and thirty-three cents nor more than one thousand six hundred sixty-six dollars and sixty-six cents.

(3) If no dependents. If the deceased employee leaves no person dependent upon him for support, the death benefit shall consist of the reasonable expense of his burial not exceeding one hundred dollars.

(d) Payment discharges employer. Payment of compensation in accordance with the order and direction of the commission shall discharge the employer from all claims therefor.

§ 10. Inspection of hospital facilities. Reports of receipts etc. Facilities declared inadequate. The commission shall have power to inspect and determine the adequacy of hospitals and hospital facilities supplied by employers or by mutual associations of employees, with or without the concurrence of the employer, for the treatment of injuries coming within the provisions of this act. No part of any contribution paid by employees or deducted from their wages for the maintenance of such hospital facilities shall be devoted to the payment of any portion of the cost of providing compensation prescribed by this act. Nothing contained in this section shall be taken to prevent any hospital association or medical department furnishing the treatment prescribed in this act free of charge to employees. Every such hospital shall make to the commission from time to time, upon demand, but not less frequently than once a year, reports of receipts, disbursements and services rendered to or for employees. If in the judgment of the commission the services or equipment of any hospital are inadequate to meet the reasonable requirements of medical treatment contemplated in section 9 (a) of this act, the commission may, after notice and an opportunity to be heard, declare such facilities to be inadequate and thereafter injured employees of such employer may procure treatment elsewhere, and the reasonable cost thereof shall be a charge against such employer under said section 9 (a). Any finding of the commission after such notice, determining the fact of such inadequacy, shall be conclusive evidence in any proceeding for compensation of the fact of such inadequacy during the period covered by such finding. Such finding of inadequacy may be amended, modified or rescinded by the commission at any time upon good cause appearing therefor.

§ 11. Right to institute proceedings barred, when. (a) Unless compensation is paid or an agreement for its payment made within the time limited in this section for the institution of proceedings for its collection, the right to institute such proceedings shall be barred; provided, that the filing of an application with the commission for any portion of the benefits prescribed by this act shall render this section inoperative as to all further claims of any person or persons for compensation arising from the same transaction, and the right to present such further claims shall be governed by the provisions of section twenty (d) and section sixty-five (b) of this act.

(b) Periods within which proceedings for collection may be commenced. The periods within which proceedings for the collection of compensation may be commenced are as follows:

(1) Proceedings for the collection of the benefit provided by subsection (a) of section 9 or for the collection of the disability payment provided by subsection (b) of said section 9 must be commenced within six months from the date of the injury, except as otherwise provided in this act.

(2) Proceedings for the collection of the death benefit provided by subsection (c) of said section 9 must be commenced within one year from the date of death, and in any event within two hundred forty weeks from the date of the injury, and can only be maintained when it appears that death ensued within one year from the date of the injury, or that the injury causing death also caused disability which continued to the date of the death and for which a disability payment was made, or an agreement for its payment made, or proceedings for its collection commenced within the time limited for the commencement of proceedings for the recovery of the disability payment.

(c) The payment of compensation, or any part thereof, or agreement therefor, shall have the effect of extending the period within which proceedings for its collection may be commenced, six months from the date of the agreement or last payment of such compensation, or any part thereof, or the expiration of the period covered by any such payment; provided, however, that nothing contained in this section shall be construed to bar the right of any injured employee to institute proceedings for the collection of compensation within two hundred forty-five weeks after the date of the injury upon the grounds that the original injury has caused new and further disability; and the jurisdiction of the commission, in such cases, shall be a continuing jurisdiction at all times within such period; provided, further, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to an employee who is totally disabled and bedridden as a result of his injury, during the continuance of such condition or until the expiration of six months thereafter.

(d) Guardian for minor or incompetent. If an injured employee, or in the case of his death, one or more of his dependents, shall be under twenty-one years of age or incompetent at any time when any right or privilege accrues to such person under the provisions of this act, a general guardian, appointed by the court, or a guardian ad litem or trustee appointed by the commission or a commissioner may, on behalf of any such person, claim and exercise any such right or privilege with the same force and effect as if no such disability existed; and no limitation of time provided by this act shall run against any such person under twenty-one years of age or incompetent unless and until such guardian or trustee is appointed. The commission shall have power to determine the fact of the minority or incompetency of any injured employee and may appoint a trustee to receive and disburse compensation payments for the benefit of such minor or incompetent and his family.

(e) Refusal to submit to medical treatment. No compensation shall be payable in case of the death or disability of an employee if his death is caused, or if and so far as his disabilty is caused, continued, or aggravated, by an unreasonable refusal to submit to medical treatment, or to any surgical treatment, the risk of which is, in the opinion of the commission, based upon expert medical or surgical advice, inconsiderable in view of the seriousness of the injury.

(f) Previous disability does not affect later disability. The fact that an employee has suffered a previous disability, or receives compensation therefor, shall not preclude him from compensation for a later injury, or his dependents from compensation for death resulting therefrom, but in determining compensation for the later injury, or death resulting therefrom, his average annual earnings shall be fixed at such sum as will reasonably represent his annual earning capacity at the time of the later injury.

(g) Payments not due employee. Any payment, allowance or benefit received by the injured employee during the period of his incapacity, or by his dependents in the event of his death, which by the terms of this act was not then due and payable or when there is any dispute or question concerning the right to compensation, shall not, in the absence of any agreement, be construed to be an admission of liability for compensation on the part of the employer, or the acceptance thereof as a waiver of any right or claim which the employee or his dependents may have against the employer, but any such payment, allowance or benefit may be taken into account by the commission in fixing the amount of the compensation to be paid.

(h) Affirmative defense. The running of the period of limitations prescribed by this section is an affirmative defense and operates to bar the remedy and not to extinguish the right of the employee. It may be waived, and failure to present such defense prior to the submission of the cause for decision shall be a sufficient waiver.

§ 12. Average annual earnings. (a) The average annual earnings referred to in section 9 hereof shall be fifty-two times the average weekly earnings referred to in said section; in computing such earnings the average weekly earnings shall be taken at not less than six dollars and forty-one cents nor more than thirty-two dollars and five cents, and three times the average annual earnings shall be taken at not less than one thousand dollars nor more than five thousand dollars, and between said limits said average weekly earnings shall be arrived at as follows:

(1) Average weekly earnings. If the injured employee has worked in the same employment, whether for the same employer or not, during at least two hundred sixty days of the year preceding his injury, his average weekly earnings shall consist of ninety-five per cent of six times the daily earnings at the time of such injury where the employment is for six full working days a week. Where his employment is for five, five and one-half, six and one-half or seven working days a week, the average weekly earnings shall be ninety-five per cent of five, five and one-half, six and one-half or seven times the daily earnings at the time of the injury, as the case may be.

(2) If the injured employee has not so worked in such employment during at least two hundred sixty days of such preceding year, his average weekly earnings shall be based upon the daily earnings, wage or salary of an employee of the same class working at least two hundred sixty days of such preceding year in the same or a similar kind of employment in the same or a neighboring place, computed in accordance with the provisions of the preceding subdivision.

(3) If earnings be irregular. If the earnings be irregular or specified to be by the week, month, or other period, then the average weekly earnings mentioned in subdivisions (1) and (2) above shall be ninety-five per cent of the average earnings during such period of time, not exceeding one year, as may conveniently be taken to determine an average weekly rate of pay.

(4) When less than five days or seasonal. Where the employment is for less than five days per week or is seasonal or where for any reason the foregoing methods of arriving at the average weekly earnings of the injured employee can not reasonably and fairly be applied, such average weekly earnings shall be taken at ninety-five per cent of such sum as shall reasonably represent the average weekly earning capacity of the injured employee at the time of his injury, due consideration being given to his actual earnings from all sources and employments during the year preceding his injury; provided, that the earnings from other occupations shall not be allowed in excess of the rate of wages paid at the time of the injury.

(b) Overtime, board, etc. In determining such average weekly earnings, there shall be included overtime and the market value of board, lodging, fuel, and other advantages received by the injured employee, as part of his remuneration, which can be estimated in money, but such average weekly earnings shall not include any sum which the employer may pay to the injured employee to cover any special expenses entailed on him by the nature of his employment.

(c) If injured employee is under twenty-one. If the injured employee is under twenty-one years of age, and his incapacity is permanent, his average weekly earnings shall be deemed, within the limits fixed, to be the weekly sum that under ordinary circumstances he would probably be able to earn after attaining the age of twenty-one years, in the occupation in which he was employed at the time of the injury or in any occupation to which he would reasonably have been promoted if he had not been injured, and if such probable earnings after attaining the age of twenty-one years can not reasonably be determined, such average weekly earnings shall be based upon three dollars a day for a six-day week.

§ 13. Weekly loss in wages in case of temporary partial disability. The weekly loss in wages in case of temporary partial disability shall consist of the difference betweeen the average weekly earnings of the injured employee, computed according to the provisions of section nine, and the weekly amount which the injured employee will probably be able to earn during the disability, to be determined in view of the nature and extent of the injury. In computing such probable earnings due regard shall be given to the ability of the injured employee to compete in an open labor market. If evidence of exact loss of earnings be lacking, such weekly loss in wages may be computed from the proportionate loss of physical ability or earning power caused by the injury.

§ 14. Who are deemed wholly dependent. (a) The following shall be exclusively presumed to be wholly dependent for support upon a deceased employee:

(1) A wife upon a husband with whom she was living at the time of his death, or for whose support such husband was legally liable at the time of his death.

(2) A child or children under the age of eighteen years, or over said age, but physically and mentally incapacitated from earning, upon the parent with whom he or they are living at the time of the death of such parent or for whose maintenance such parent was legally liable at the time of death, there being no surviving dependent parent.

(b) In all other cases, questions of entire or partial dependency and questions as to who constitute dependents and the extent of their dependency shall be determined in accordance with the fact, as the fact may be at the time of the injury of the employee.

(c) No person shall be considered a dependent of any deceased employee unless in good faith a member of the family or household of such employee, or unless such person bears to such employee the relation of husband or wife, child, posthumous child, adopted child or stepchild, father or mother, father-in-law or mother-in-law, grandfather or grandmother, brother or sister, uncle or aunt, brother-in-law or sister-in-law, nephew or niece.

(d) Distribution of death benefit if one or more persons wholly dependent. 1. If there is one or more persons wholly dependent for support upon a deceased employee, such person or persons shall receive the entire death benefit, and any person or persons partially dependent shall receive no part thereof.

2. If there is more than one such person wholly dependent for support upon a deceased employee, the death benefit shall be divided qually among them.

3. If there is more than one person partially dependent for support upon a deceased employee, and no person wholly dependent for support, the amount allowed as a death benefit shall be divided among the persons so partially dependent in proportion to the relative extent of their dependency.

(e) Commission may reassign death benefit. Death of dependent. The commission may, anything in this act contained to the contrary notwithstanding, set apart or reassign the death benefit to any one or more of the dependents in accordance with their respective needs and as may be just and equitable, and may order payment to a dependent subsequent in right, or not otherwise entitled, upon good cause being shown therefor. Such death benefit shall be paid to such one or more of the dependents of the deceased or to a trustee appointed by the commission or a commissioner for the benefit of the person or persons entitled, as may be determined by the commission. The person to whom the death benefit is paid for the use of the several beneficiaries shall apply the same in compliance with the findings and directions of the commission. In the event of the death of a dependent beneficiary of any deceased employee, if there be no surviving dependent, the death of such dependent shall terminate the death benefit, which shall not survive to the estate of such deceased dependent, except that payments of such death benefit accrued and payable at the time of the death of such sole remaining dependent shall be paid upon the order of the commission to the heirs of such dependent or, if none, to the heirs of the deceased employee, without administration.

§ 15. Notice to employer. No claim to recover compensation under this act shall be maintained unless within thirty days after the occurrence of the injury which is claimed to have caused the disability or death, notice in writing stating the name and the address of the person injured, the time and the place where the injury occurred, and the nature of the injury, and signed by the person injured or someone in his behalf, or in case of his death, by a dependent or someone in his behalf, shall be served upon the employer; provided, however, that knowledge of such injury, obtained from any source, on the part of such employer, his managing agent, superintendent, foreman, or other person in authority, or knowledge of the assertion of a claim of injury sufficient to afford opportunity to the employer to make an investigation into the facts, shall be equivalent to such service; and provided further, that the failure to give any such notice, or any defect or inaccuracy therein, shall not be a bar to recovery under this act if it is found as a fact in the proceedings for the collection of the claim that there was no intention to mislead or prejudice the employer in making his defense, and that he was not in fact so misled or prejudiced thereby.

§ 16. Medical examination of employee. (a) Whenever the right to compensation under this act would exist in favor of any employee, he shall, upon the written request of his employer, submit from time to time, as may be reasonable, to examination by a practicing physician, who shall be provided and paid for by the employer, and shall likewise submit to examination from time to time by any physician selected by the commission or any member or referee thereof.

(b) If employee refuses to submit to examination. The request or order for such examination shall fix a time and place therefor, due consideration being given to the convenience of the employee and his physical condition and ability to attend at the time and place fixed. The employee shall be entitled to have a physician provided and paid for by himself present at any examination required by his employer. So long as the employee, after such written request of the employer, shall fail or refuse to submit to such examination or shall in any way obstruct the same, his right to begin or maintain any proceeding for the collection of compensation shall be suspended; and if he shall fail or refuse to submit to examination after direction by the commission, or any member or referee thereof, or shall in any way obstruct the same, his right to the disability payments which shall accrue during the period of such failure, refusal or obstruction, shall be barred. Any physician who shall make or be present at any such examination may be required to report or testify as to the results thereof.

§ 17. Hearing on disputes. Service of notice. (a) Upon the filing with the commission by any party in interest of an application in writing stating the general nature of any dispute or controversy concerning compensation, or concerning any right or liability arising out of or incidental thereto, jurisdiction over which is vested by this act in the commission, a time and place shall be fixed for the hearing thereof, which hearing, unless otherwise agreed to by all the parties thereto, must be held not less than ten days nor more than thirty days after the filing of such application. The person filing such application shall be known as the applicant and the adverse party shall be known as the defendant. A copy of said application, together with a notice of the time and place of hearing thereof, shall forthwith be served upon all adverse parties and may be served either as a summons in a civil action or in the same manner as any other notice that is authorized or required to be served under the provisions of this act. A notice of the time and place of hearing shall also be served upon the applicant.

(b) Jurisdiction of commission. The jurisdiction of the commission shall include any controversy relating to or arising out of the provisions of subsection (a) of section nine of this act, unless an express agreement shall have been made between the persons or institutions rendering such treatment and the employer or insurance carrier fixing the amount to be paid for the services.

(c) But one cause of action. There shall be but one cause of action for each transaction coming within the provisions of this act, and all claims brought for medical expense, disability payments, death benefits, burial expense, liens or any other matter arising out of such transaction may, in the discretion of the commission, be joined in the same proceeding at any time.

(d) Death of employer. The death of an employer subsequent to the sustaining of an injury by an employee shall not impair the right of such employee to proceed before the commission against the estate of such employer, and the failure of such employee or his dependents to cause the claim to be presented to the executor or administrator of the estate shall not in any way bar or suspend such right.

§ 18. Defendant's answer. (a) If any defendant desires to disclaim any interest in the subject matter of the claim in controversy, or considers that the application is in any respect inaccurate or incomplete, or desires to bring any fact, paper or document to the attention of the commission as a defense to the claim, or otherwise, he may, within five days after the service of the application upon him, file with or mail to the commission his answer setting forth the particulars in which the application is inaccurate or incomplete, and the facts upon which he intends to rely. A copy of such answer must be forthwith served upon all adverse parties. Evidence upon matters not pleaded by answer shall be allowed only upon such terms and conditions as may be imposed by the commission or commissioner or referee holding the hearing.

(b) Application for relief. If the defendant fails to appear or answer, no default shall be taken against him, but the commission shall proceed to the hearing of the matter upon such terms and conditions as it may deem proper. Such defendant failing to appear or answer, or subsequently contending that no service was made upon him, or claiming to be aggrieved in any other manner by want of notice of the pendency of the proceedings, may apply to the commission for relief substantially in accordance with the provisions of section four hundred seventy-three of the Code of Civil Procedure, and the commission is hereby authorized to afford such relief. No right to relief, including the claim that the findings and award of the commission or judgment entered thereon are void upon their face, shall accrue to such defendant in any court unless prior application shall have been made to the commission in accordance with this subsection, and in no event shall any application to any court be allowed except as prescribed in sections sixty-seven and sixty-eight of this act.

(c) Dismissal of application. If upon the filing of an application, such application shows upon its face that the applicant is not entitled to compensation, the commission may, upon its own motion or upon the motion of the adverse party, and after opportunity to the applicant to be heard orally or in writing, and upon good cause appearing therefor, dismiss the application prior to any hearing thereon. The pendency of such motion or notice of intended dismissal shall not, unless otherwise ordered by the commission, delay the hearing upon the application upon its merits.

(d) Attachment of defendant's property. Upon the filing of an application by or on behalf of an injured employee or his dependents or any other party in interest, the commission may, in its discretion, in the cases mentioned in section four hundred twelve of the Code of Civil Procedure, direct the county clerk of any county or city and county to issue writs of attachment authorizing the sheriff to attach the property of the defendant in an amount not to exceed the greatest probable award against him in such matter, to be fixed by the commission, as security for the payment of any compensation which may thereafter be awarded. The provisions of part two, title seven, chapter four, of the Code of Civil Procedure of this state, as far as applicable to proceedings before the commission, shall govern the proceedings upon attachment, and the commission shall be substituted for the superior court in said provisions for the purpose of this act. No writ of attachment shall be issued except upon the order of the commission or a commissioner, and such order shall not be made where it appears from the application or affidavit in support thereof that the employer was, at the time of the injury to the employee, insured against liability imposed by this act in any insurance carrier licensed to do business in the state of California. If it should at any time after the levying of an attachment be made to appear that such employer was so insured, and the requisites for dismissing said employer from the proceeding and substituting the insurance carrier as defendant under any of the methods prescribed under section thirty (e) of this act be established, the commission must forthwith discharge the attachment. In levying such attachment, preference must be given to the real property of the employer.

§ 19. Pleadings. Hearing. Testimony. (a) No pleadings, other than the application and answer, shall be required. The hearing on the application may be adjourned from time to time and from place to place in the discretion of the commission or commissioner or referee holding such hearing. Either party shall have the right to be present at any hearing, in person or by attorney or by any other agent, and to present such testimony as shall be pertinent under the pleadings, but the commission may, with or without notice to either party, cause testimony to be taken, or inspection of the premises where the injury occurred to be made, or the time-books and pay-roll of the employer to be examined by any commissioner or referee appointed by the commission, and may from time to time direct any employee claiming compensation to be examined by a regular physician; the testimony so taken and the results of any such inspection or examination to be reported to the commission for its consideration.

(b) Stipulation of facts. The parties to a controversy may stipulate the facts relative thereto in writing and file such stipulation with the commission. The commission may thereupon make its findings and award based upon such stipulation, or may in its discretion set the matter down for hearing and take such further testimony or make such further investigations as may be necessary to enable it to completely determine the matter in controversy.

(c) Evidence. The commission may receive as evidence, either at or subsequent to a hearing, and use as proof of any fact in dispute, the following matters, in addition to sworn testimony presented in open hearing:

(1) Reports of attending or examining physicians.

(2) Reports of special investigators appointed by the commission or a commissioner or referee to investigate and report upon any scientific or medical question.

(3) Reports or employers, containing copies of time sheets, book accounts, reports and other records, properly authenticated.

(4) Properly authenticated copies of hospital records of the case of the injured employee.

(5) All publications of the commission.

(6) All official publications of state and United States governments.

(7) Excerpts from expert testimony received by the commission upon similar issues of scientific fact in other cases and the prior decisions of the commission upon such issues; provided, however, that transcripts of all testimony taken without notice and copies of all reports and other matters added to the record, otherwise than during the course of an open hearing, be served upon the parties to the proceeding, and opportunity be given to produce testimony in explanation or rebuttal before decision is rendered.

(d) Affirmative defenses. The burden of proof lies upon the party holding the affirmative of the issue. The following are affirmative defenses, and the burden of proof shall rest upon the employer to establish them:

(1) That an injured person claiming to be an employee is an independent contractor or otherwise excluded from the protection of this act, where there is proof that such injured person was at the time of his injury actually performing service for the alleged employer.

(2) Intoxication of an employee causing his injury.

(3) Willful misconduct of an employee causing his injury.

(4) Aggravation of disability by unreasonable conduct of the employee.

(5) Prejudice to the employer by failure of the employee to give notice, as required by section fifteen.

(e) Autopsy. Where it is represented to the commission, either before or after the filing of an application, that an employee has died as a result of injuries sustained in the course of his employment, the commission may require an autopsy, and the report of the physician performing such autopsy may be received in evidence in any proceedings theretofore or thereafter brought. If at the time such autopsy is requested the body of such employee be in the custody of the coroner, the coroner must, upon the request of the commission or of any party interested, afford reasonable opportunity for the attendance of any physicians named by the commission at any autopsy ordered by him. If the coroner should not require, or shall have already performed such autopsy, he shall permit an autopsy or re-examination to be performed by physicians named by the commission. No fee shall be charged by the coroner for any service, arrangement or permission given by him.

If the body is not in the custody of the coroner, the commission shall have authority to authorize the performance of such autopsy and the exhumation of the body for such purpose if necessary. If the dependents, or a majority thereof, of any such deceased employee, having the custody of the body of such deceased employee, shall refuse to allow the performance of such autopsy, such autopsy shall not be held; but upon the hearing of any application for compensation it shall be a disputable presumption that the injury or death was not due to causes entitling the claimants to benefits under this act.

§ 20. Findings and award. (a) After final hearing by the commission, it shall, within thirty days, make and file (1) its findings upon all facts involved in the controversy, and (2) its award which shall state its determination as to the rights of the parties.

(b) The commission in its award may fix and determine the total amount of compensation to be paid and specify the manner of payment, or may fix and determine the weekly disability payment to be made and order payment thereof during the continuance of such disability.

(c) If, in any proceeding under sections six to thirty-one, inclusive, of this act, it is proved that an injury has been suffered for which the employer would be liable to pay compensation if disability had resulted therefrom, but it is not proved that any incapacity had resulted, the commission may, instead of dismissing the application, award a nominal disability indemnity, if it appears that disability is likely to result at a future time.

(d) Amending orders, etc. The commission shall have continuing jurisdiction over all its orders, decisions and awards made and entered under the provisions of sections six to thirty-one, inclusive, of this act and may at any time, upon notice, and after opportunity to be heard is given to the parties in interest, rescind, alter or amend any such order, decision or award made by it upon good cause appearing therefor, such power including the right to review, grant or regrant, diminish, increase or terminate, within the limits prescribed by this act, any compensation awarded, upon the grounds that the disability of the person in whose favor such award was made has either recurred, increased, diminished or terminated; provided, that no award of compensation shall be rescinded, altered or amended after two hundred forty-five weeks from the date of the injury. Any order, decision or award rescinding, altering or amending a prior order, decision or award shall have the same effect as is herein provided for original orders, decisions or awards.

§ 21. Findings filed in superior court. (a) Any party affected thereby may file a certified copy of the findings and award of the commission with the clerk of the superior court of any county, or city and county, and judgment must be entered by the clerk in conformity therewith immediately upon the filing of such findings and award.

(b) Judgment-roll. The certified copy of the findings and award of the commission and a copy of the judgment shall constitute the judgment-roll. The pleadings, all orders of the commission, its original findings and award, and all other papers and documents filed in the cause shall remain on file in the office of the commission.

(c) Stay of execution. The commission, or any member thereof, may stay the execution of any judgment entered upon an award of the commission, upon good cause appearing therefor and upon such terms and conditions as may be imposed. A certified copy of such order shall be filed with the clerk entering judgment. Where it is deemed desirable to stay the enforcement of an award and a certified copy of said findings and award has not been issued by the commission, the commission, or any member thereof, may order such certified copy to be withheld with the same force and under the same conditions as it might issue a stay of execution if said certified copy had been issued and judgment entered thereon.

(d) Entry of satisfaction. When a judgment is satisfied in fact, otherwise than upon an execution, the commission may, upon motion of either party or of its own motion, order the entry of satisfaction of the judgment to be made, and upon filing a certified copy of such order with the said clerk, he shall thereupon enter such satisfaction and not otherwise.

§ 22. Review of findings, etc. The orders, findings, decisions or awards of the commission made and entered under sections six to thirty-one, inclusive, of this act may be reviewed by the courts specified in sections sixty-seven and sixty-eight hereof and within the time and in the manner therein specified and not otherwise.

§ 23. Fees. Costs. No fees shall be charged by the clerk of any court for the performance of any official service required by this act, except for the docketing of awards as judgments and for certified copies of transcripts thereof. In all proceedings under this act before the commission, costs as between the parties shall be allowed or not in the discretion of the commission and the commission may, in its discretion, where payments of compensation have been unreasonably delayed, allow the beneficiary thereof interest thereon, at not to exceed one and one-half per cent per month, during such period of delay.

§ 24. Claim not assignable. (a) No claim for compensation shall be assignable before payment, but this provision shall not affect the survival thereof, nor shall any claim for compensation, or compensation awarded, adjudged or paid, be subject to be taken for the debts of the party entitled to such compensation, except as hereinafter provided. No compensation, whether awarded or voluntarily paid, shall be paid to any attorney at law or in fact or other agent, but shall be paid directly to the claimant entitled to the same, unless otherwise ordered by the commission. Any payment made to such attorney at law or in fact or other agent in violation of the provisions of this section shall not be credited to the employer.

(b) Lien against amount due as compensation. The commission may fix and determine and allow as a lien against any amount to be paid as compensation:

(1) A reasonable attorney's fee for legal services pertaining to any claim for compensation or application filed therefor and the reasonable disbursements in connection therewith.

(2) The reasonable expense incurred by or on behalf of the injured employee, as defined in subsection (a) of section nine hereof.

(3) The reasonable value of the living expenses of an injured employee, not exceeding sixty-five per cent of his weekly wages between the date of his injury and the payment of the disability payment or death benefit; provided, that no such allowance shall be made while an injured employee is confined to a hospital for treatment.

(4) The reasonable burial expenses of the deceased employee, not to exceed the sum of one hundred dollars.

(5) The reasonable living expenses of the wife or minor children of the injured employee, or both, subsequent to the date of the injury, where such employee has deserted or is neglecting his family, to be allowed in such proportion as the commission shall deem proper, upon application of the wife or guardian of the minor children.

(c) Notice of claim. Award by commission. If notice in writing be given to the employer setting forth the nature and extent of any claim that may be allowed as a lien, the said claim shall be a lien against any amount thereafter to be paid as compensation, subject to the determination of the amount and approval thereof by the commission. The commission may, in its discretion, order the amount of such claim as fixed and allowed by it paid directly to the person entitled, either in a lump sum or in installments. Where it appears in any proceeding pending before the commission that a lien should be allowed if the same had been duly requested by the party entitled thereto, the commission may, in its discretion, and without any request for such lien having been made, order the payment of such claim to be made directly to the person entitled, in the same manner and with the same effect as though such lien had been regularly requested, and the award to such person shall constitute a lien against unpaid compensation due at the time of service of said award.

(d) Excessive claim for legal services. No claim or agreement for the legal services or disbursements mentioned in paragraph (1) of subsection (b) hereof, or for the expense mentioned in paragraph (2) of said subsection (b), in excess of a reasonable amount, shall be valid or binding in any respect, and it shall be competent for the commission to determine what constitutes such reasonable amount.

(e) Preference of claim for compensation. A claim for compensation for the injury or death of any employee, or any award or judgment thereon, shall have the same preference over the other unsecured debts of the employer or insurance carrier as is given by law to claims for wages. Such preference shall be for the entire amount of compensation to be paid, but this section shall not impair the lien of any previous award.

§ 25. Liability of principal employers and contractors. The liability of principal employers and contracting employers, general or intermediate, for compensation under this act, when other than the immediate employer of the injured employee, shall be as follows:

(a) When any such employer undertakes to do, or contracts with another to do, or to have done, any work, either directly or through contractors or subcontractors, then such principal employer or contracting employer shall be liable to pay to any employee injured while engaged in the execution of such work, or to his dependents in the event of his death, or to any other person, any compensation which the immediate employer is liable to pay, and the commission shall have jurisdiction to determine all controversies arising under this section.

(b) The person entitled to such compensation shall have the right to recover the same directly from his immediate employer, and in addition thereto the right to enforce in his own name, in the manner provided by this act, the liability for compensation imposed upon other persons by this section, either by making such other persons parties to the original application or by filing a separate application; provided, however, that payment in whole or in part of such compensation by either the immediate employer or other person shall, to the extent of such payment, be a bar to recovery against the other.

(c) When any person, other than the immediate employer, shall have paid any compensation for which he would not have been liable independently of this section, he shall, unless he caused the injury, be entitled to recover the full amount so paid from the person primarily liable therefor, and jurisdiction to determine his claim shall be vested in the commission; provided, that such right of reimbursement against the person primarily liable for compensation shall not exist in favor of any insurance carrier insuring such other persons upon whom liability is imposed by this section, in any case where the immediate employer shall have joined with any of such other persons in taking out such policy of insurance or shall have contributed to the payment of the premium for such insurance, with the intent of securing joint protection thereby, anything in the policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

(d) Limitations on liability. The liability imposed by this section shall be subject to the followng limitations:

(1) Such liability shall exist only in cases where the injury occurred on or in or about the premises on which the principle employer or contracting employer, whether general or intermediate, has undertaken to execute or to have executed any work, or when such premises or work are otherwise under his control or management.

(2) Such liability shall not exist in the event that the immediate employer, or other person primarily liable for the compensation shall, previous to the suffering of such injury, have taken out, and maintained in full force and effect, compensation insurance with any insurance carrier, covering his full liability for compensation.

(3) The commission may, in its discretion, order that execution against such principal employer or contracting employer be stayed until execution against the immediate employer shall be returned unsatisfied.

(e) The findings and award of this commission entered against the immediate employer shall be conclusive for or against all persons upon whom liability is imposed by this section as to the fact and extent of liability of such immediate employer.

§ 26. When person other than employer liable for damages. Employer and employee as parties plaintiff. If employee or employer prosecutes alone. When any injury for which compensation is payable under the provisions of this act shall have been sustained under circumstances creating in some other person than the employer a legal liability to pay damages in respect thereto, the injured employee may claim compensation under the provisions of this act, but the payment or award of compensation shall not affect the claim or right of action of such injured employee against such other person, but such injured employee may proceed at law against such person to recover damages; and any employer having paid, or having become obligated to pay, compensation may bring an action against such other person to recover damages, and evidence of any amount he has paid or become obligated to pay, as compensation, shall not be admissible; provided, that if either such employee or such employer shall bring such action against such third person, he shall forthwith notify the other in writing, by personal presentation or by registered mail, of such fact and of the name of the court in which suit is brought, filing proof thereof in such action, and such other may join as a party plaintiff in such action within thirty days after such notification, or must consolidate his action, if brought independently, and if such other party fails to join or proceed as party plaintiff, his right of action against such third person shall be barred. In the event that such employer and employee shall join as parties plaintiff in such action and damages are recovered, such damages shall be so apportioned that the claim of the employer shall take precedence over that of the injured employee, and if the damages shall not be sufficient or shall be only sufficient to reimburse the employer for the compensation which he has paid, or has become obligated to pay, with a reasonable allowance for an attorney's fee, to be fixed by the court, and his costs, such damages shall be assessed in his favor; but if the damages shall be more than sufficient to reimburse him, the damages shall be assessed in his favor sufficient to so reimburse him, and the excess shall be assessed in favor of the injured employee. In case such employee shall prosecute such suit to judgment without the union of the employer by joinder or consolidation, the employer shall have a first lien upon any damages secured by the employee by such proceeding for the compensation the employer has paid, or has become obligated to pay, and may, by motion in open court, secure the allowance of said lien at any time before satisfaction of the judgment; and if such suit shall be prosecuted to judgment by the employer alone, such employer shall hold the damages recovered by him, over and above the compensation which he has paid, or has become obligated to pay, with a reasonable allowance for an attorney's fee, to be fixed by the court, and his costs, for the benefit of the injured employee or other person entitled, and the injured employee, shall, in addition to other remedies provided by law, be entitled, by motion in open court, to have such excess awarded to him in the judgment entered by the court, at any time prior to satisfaction thereof.

§ 27. Right to compromise. (a) No contract, rule or regulation shall exempt the employer from liability for the compensation fixed by this act, but nothing in this act contained shall be construed as impairing the right of the parties interested to compromise, subject to the provisions herein contained, any liability which may be claimed to exist under this act on account of such injury or death, or as conferring upon the dependents of any injured employee any interest which such employee may not divert by such compromise or for which he, or his estate, shall, in the event of such compromise by him, be accountable to such dependents or any of them.

(b) Valid release or compromise agreement. The compensation herein provided shall be the measure of the responsibility which the employer has assumed for injuries or death that may occur to employees in his employment when subject to the provisions of this act, and no release of liability or compromise agreement shall be valid unless it provide for the payment of full compensation in accordance with the provisions of this act or unless it shall be approved by the commission.

(c) Award based on release or compromise agreement. A copy of such release or compromise agreement signed by both parties shall forthwith be filed with the commission. When such release or compromise agreement is filed with the commission and approved by it, the commission may of its own motion, or on the application of either party, without notice, enter its award based upon such release or compromise agreement.

(d) Contents of release or compromise agreement. Every such release or compromise agreement shall be in writing, duly executed and attested by two disinterested witnesses, and shall specify the date of the accident, the average weekly wages of the employee, determined according to section twelve hereof, the nature of the disability, whether total or partial, permanent or temporary, the amount paid or due and unpaid to the employee up to the date of the release or agreement or death, as the case may be, and, if any, the amount of the payment or benefits then or thereafter to be made, and the length of time that such payment is to continue. In case of death there shall also be stated in such release or compromise agreement the date of death, the name of the widow, if any, the names and ages of all children, if any, and the names of all other dependents, if any, and whether such dependents be total or partial, and the amount paid or to be paid as a death benefit and to whom such payment is to be made.

§ 28. Compensation payable in lump sum. (a) At the time of making its award, or at any time thereafter, the commission on its own motion, either with or without notice, or upon application of either party with due notice to the other, may, in its discretion, commute the compensation payable under this act to a lump sum, if it appears that such commutation is necessary for the protection of the person entitled thereto, or for the best interest of either party, or that it will avoid undue expense or hardship to either party, or that the employer has sold or otherwise disposed of the greater part of his assets, or is about to do so, or that the employer is not a resident of this state, and the commission may order such compensation paid forthwith or at some future time.

(b) Determination of amount of commuted payment. The amount of the commuted payment shall be determined in accordance with the following provisions:

(1) If the injury causes temporary disability, the commission shall estimate the probable duration thereof and the probable amount of the temporary disability payments therefor, in accordance with the provisions of section nine hereof, and shall fix the lump sum payment at such amount so determined.

(2) If the injury causes permanent disability or death, the commission shall fix the total amount of the permanent disability payment or death benefit payable therefor in accordance with the provisions of said section nine, and shall estimate the present value thereof, assuming interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, disregarding the probability of the beneficiary's death in all cases except where the percentage of permanent disability is such as to entitle the beneficiary to a life pension, and then taking into consideration the probability of the beneficiary's death only in estimating the present value of such life pension.

(c) Manner of making lump sum payment. The commission in its discretion may order the lump sum payment, determined as hereinbefore provided, paid directly to the injured employee or his dependents, or deposited with any savings bank or trust company authorized to transact business in this state, that will agree to accept the same as a deposit bearing interest, or the commission may order the same deposited with the state compensation insurance fund. Any such amount so deposited, together with all interest derived therefrom, shall thereafter be held in trust for the injured employee, or in the event of his death, for his dependents, and the latter shall have no further recourse against the employer. Payments from said fund, when so deposited, shall be made by the trustee only in the same amounts and at the same time as fixed by order of the commission and until said fund and interest thereon shall be exhausted. In the appointment of the trustee preference shall be given, in the discretion of the commission, to the choice of the injured employee or his dependents. Upon the making of such payment, the employer shall present to the commission a proper receipt evidencing the same, executed either by the injured employee or his dependents, or by the trustee, and the commission shall thereupon issue its certificate in proper form evidencing the same, and such certificate, upon filing with the clerk of the superior court in which any judgment upon an award may have been entered, shall operate as a satisfaction of said award and shall fully discharge the employer from any further liability on account thereof.

(d) Payments from state compensation insurance fund. The commission may, where the employer is uninsured and the payments of compensation awarded are to be paid for a considerable time in the future, determine the present worth of said future payments, discounted at the rate of three per cent per annum, and order the said present worth paid into the state compensation insurance fund, which fund shall thereafter pay to the beneficiaries of said award the future payments as they become due.

§ 29. Ways for securing payment of compensation. (a) Every employer as defined in section seven hereof, except the state and all political subdivisions or institutions thereof, shall secure the payment of compensation in one or more of the following ways:

1. By insuring and keeping insured against liability to pay compensation in one or more insurance carriers duly authorized to write compensation insurance in this state.

2. By securing from the commission a certificate of consent to self-insure, which may be given upon his furnishing proof satisfactory to the commission of ability to carry his own insurance and pay any compensation that may become due to his employees. The commission may, in its discretion, require such employer to deposit with the state treasurer a bond or securities approved by the commission, in an amount to be determined by the commission. Such certificate may be revoked at any time for good cause shown.

(b) Action against employer. Right to attach property. If any employer shall fail to secure the payment of compensation, any injured employee or his dependents may proceed against such employer by filing an application for compensation with the commission, and, in addition thereto, such injured employee or his dependents may bring an action at law against such employer for damages, the same as if this act did not apply, and shall be entitled in such action to the right to attach the property of the employer, at any time upon or after the institution of such action, in an amount to be fixed by the court, to secure the payment of any judgment which may ultimately be obtained. Such judgment shall include a reasonable attorney's fee to be fixed by the court. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, except in so far as they may be inconsistent with this act, shall govern the issuance of and proceedings upon such attachment; provided, that if as a result of such action for damages a judgment is obtained against such employer in excess of the compensation awarded under this act, the compensation awarded by the commission, if paid, or if security approved by the court be given for its payment, shall be credited upon such judgment; provided, further, that in such action it shall be presumed that the injury to the employee was a direct result and grew out of the negligence of the employer, and the burden of proof shall rest upon the employer to rebut the presumption of negligence. In such proceeding it shall not be a defense to the employer that the employee may have been guilty of contributory negligence, or assumed the risk of the hazard complained of, or that the injury was caused by the negligence of a fellow-servant. No contract, rule or regulation shall be allowed to restore to the employer any of the foregoing defenses.

§ 30. Right of employer to insure in mutual companies, etc. (a) Nothing in this act shall affect the organization of any mutual or other insurance company, or any existing contract for insurance, or the right of the employer to insure in mutual or other companies, in whole or in part, against liability for the compensation provided by this act; or to provide by mutual or other insurance, or by arrangement with his employees, or otherwise, for the payment to such employees, their families, dependents or representatives, of sick, accident or death benefits, in addition to the compensation provided for by this act; or the right of the employer to waive the waiting period provided for herein by insurance coverage; provided, however, that it shall be unlawful for any employer to exact or receive from any employee any contribution, or make or take any deduction from the earnings of any employee, either directly or indirectly, to cover the whole or any part of the cost of compensation under this act, and it shall be a misdemeanor so to do.

(b) Liability not reduced by insurance, etc. Liability for compensation shall not be reduced or affected by any insurance, contribution, or other benefit whatsoever due to or received by the person entitled to such compensation, except as otherwise provided by this act, and the person so entitled shall, irrespective of any insurance or other contract, except as otherwise provided in this act, have the right to recover such compensation directly from the employer, and in addition thereto, the right to enforce in his own name, in the manner provided in this act, either by making the insurance carrier a party to the original application or by filing a separate application, the liability of any insurance carrier, which may, in whole or in part, have insured against liability for such compensation; provided, however, that payment in whole or in part of such compensation by either the employer or the insurance company shall, to the extent thereof, be a bar to recovery against the other of the amount so paid; and provided, further, that as between the employer and the insurance company, payment by either directly to the employee, or to the person entitled to compensation, shall be subject to the conditions of the insurance contract between them.

(c) Insurance carrier directly liable to employee. Every contract insuring against liability for compensation, or insurance policy evidencing the same, must contain a clause to the effect that the insurance carrier shall be directly and primarily liable to the employee and, in the event of his death, to his dependents, to pay the compensation, if any, for which the employer is liable; that, as between the employee and the insurance carrier, the notice to or knowledge of the occurrence of the injury on the part of the employer shall be deemed notice or knowledge, as the case may be, on the part of the insurance carrier; that jurisdiction of the employer shall, for the purpose of this act, be jurisdiction of the insurance carrier; and that the insurance carrier shall in all things be bound by and subject to the orders, findings, decisions or awards rendered against the employer under the provisions of this act.

(d) Lien of employee on amount owing on policy. Such policy must also provide that the employee shall have a first lien upon any amount which shall become owing on account of such policy to the employer from the insurance carrier, and that in case of the legal incapacity or inability of the employer to receive the said amount and pay it over to the employee or his dependents, the said insurance carrier may and shall pay the same directly to the said employee or his dependents, thereby discharging, to the extent of such payment, the obligations of the employer to the employee; and such policy shall not contain any provisions relieving the insurance carrier from payment when the employer becomes insolvent or is discharged in bankruptcy, or otherwise, during the period that the policy is in operation or the compensation remains owing. Every contract insuring against liability for compensation, provided by this act, or insurance policy evidencing the same shall be conclusively presumed to contain all of the provisions required by this act.

(e) Employer relieved from liability by insurance carrier. (1) If the employer shall be insured against liability for compensation with any insurance carrier, and if after the suffering of any injury such insurance carrier shall serve or cause to be served upon any person claiming compensation against such employer a notice that it has assumed and agreed to pay the compensation, if any, for which the employer is liable, and shall file a copy of such notice with the commission, such employer shall thereupon be relieved from liabilty for compensation to such claimant and the insurance carrier shall, without notice, be substituted in place of the employer in any proceeding theretofore or thereafter instituted by such person to recover such compensation, and the employer shall be dismissed therefrom. Such proceedings shall not abate on account of such substitution but shall be continued against such insurance carrier. If at the time of the suffering of an injury for which compensation is claimed, or may be claimed, the employer shall be insured against liability for the full amount of compensation payable, or that may become payable, the employer may serve or cause to be served upon any person claiming compensation on account of the suffering of such injury and upon the insurance carrier a notice that the insurance carrier has in its policy contract or otherwise, assumed and agreed to pay the compensation, if any, for which the employer is liable, and may file a copy of such notice with the commission. If it shall thereafter appear to the satisfaction of the commission that the insurance carrier has, through the issuance of its contract of insurance or otherwise, assumed such liability for compensation, such employer shall thereupon be relieved from liability for compensation to such claimant and the insurance carrier shall, after notice, be substituted in place of the employer in any proceeding theretofore or thereafter instituted by such person to recover such compensation, and the employer shall be dismissed therefrom. Such proceding shall not abate on account of such substitution, but shall be continued against such insurance carrier.

(2) Order of commission. The commission may, with or without the filing of the notice required by the preceding paragraph, enter its order relieving the employer from liability where it appears from the pleadings, stipulations or proof that an insurance carrier joined as party to the proceeding is liable for the full compensation which the employer in such proceeding is liable to pay.

(f) Insurance carrier subrogated to rights of employer. Where any employer is insured against liability for compensation with any insurance carrier and such insurance carrier shall have assumed the liability of the employer therefor in the manner provided by this section, or shall have paid any compensation for which the employer is liable, or furnished or provided any medical services required by this act, such insurance carrier shall be subrogated to all the rights and duties of such employer and may enforce any such rights of its own name.

(g) State fund may insure. The state compensation insurance fund may insure against any liability fixed under this act to the same extent as any insurance carrier.

§ 31. "Limited compensation policy." (a) If any insurance policy shall be issued covering liability for compensation, which policy shall contain any limitation as to the compensation payable, such limitation shall be printed in the body of such policy in bold-face type and in addition thereto the words "limited compensation policy" shall be printed on the top of the policy in bold-face type not less than eighteen point in size. Failure to observe the foregoing requirement shall render such policy unlimited.

(b) No insurance carrier shall insure against the liability of the employer for the additional compensation recoverable under the provisions contained in section 6 (b) hereof.

§ 32. Organization of state compensation insurance fund. Nothing contained in this act shall be taken or construed to limit, interfere with, disturb, or render ineffective in any degree, the creation, existence, organization, control, management, contracts, rights, powers, duties and liabilities of the state compensation insurance fund, but all such matters and things are hereby expressly confirmed, saved and continued.

§ 33. Constructions of terms used in act. The following terms, as used in sections thirty-three to fifty-four, inclusive, of this act, shall, unless a different meaning is plainly required by the context, be construed as follows:

(1) "Place of employment." The phrase "place of employment" shall mean and include every place, whether indoors or out or underground, or elsewhere, and the premises appurtenant thereto, where, either temporarily or permanently, any industry, trade, work or business is carried on or where any process of operation directly or indirectly related to any industry, trade, work or business, is carried on, including all construction work, and where any person is directly or indirectly employed by another for direct or indirect gain or profit, but shall not include any place where persons are employed solely in household domestic service, or any place of employment, concerning the safety of which jurisdiction may have been vested by law heretofore or hereafter in any other commission or public authority.

(2) "Employment." The term "employment" shall mean and include any trade, work, business, occupation or process of manufacture, or any method of carrying on such trade, work, business, occupation or process of manufacture, including construction work, in which any person may be engaged, except where persons are employed solely in household domestic service.

(3) "Employer." The term "employer" shall mean and include every person, firm, voluntary association, corporation, officer, agent, manager, representative or other person having control or custody of any employment, place of employment or of any employee.

(4) "Employee." The term "employee" shall mean and include every person who may be required or directed by any employer, in consideration of direct or indirect gain or profit, to engage in any employment, or to go to work or be at any time in any place of employment.

(5) "Order." The term "order" shall mean and include any decision, rule, regulation, direction, requirement or standard of the commission or any other determination arrived at or decision made by such commission under the safety provisions of this act.

(6) "General order." The term "general order" shall mean and include such order, made under the safety provisions of this act, as applies generally throughout the state to all persons, employments or places of employment, or all persons, employments or places of employment of a class under the jurisdiction of the commission. All other orders of the commission shall be considered special orders.

(7) "Local order." The term "local order" shall mean and include any ordinance, order, rule or determination of any board of supervisors, city council, board of trustees or other governing body of any county, city and county, city, or any school district or other public corporation, or an order or direction of any other public official or board or department upon any matter over which the industrial accident commission has jurisdiction.

(8) "Safe" and "safety." The terms "safe" and "safety" as applied to an employment or a place of employment shall mean such freedom from danger to the life or safety of employees as the nature of the employment will reasonably permit.

(9) "Safety device" and "safeguard." The terms "safety device" and "safeguard" shall be given a broad interpretation so as to include any practicable method of mitigating or preventing a specific danger.

§ 34. Employer to make employment safe. Every employer shall furnish employment which shall be safe for the employees therein and shall furnish a place of employment which shall be safe for employees therein, and shall furnish and use such safety devices and safeguards, and shall adopt and use such practices, means, methods, operations and processes as are reasonably adequate to render such employment and place of employment safe, and shall do every other thing reasonably necessary to protect the life and safety of such employees.

§ 35. Use of safety devices. No employer shall require, permit or suffer any employee to go or be in any employment or place of employment which is not safe, and no such employer shall fail to furnish, provide and use safety devices and safeguards or fail to adopt and use methods and processes reasonably adequate to render such employment and place of employment safe, and no such employer shall fail or neglect to do every other thing reasonably necessary to protect the life and safety of such employees, and no such employer shall occupy or maintain any place of employment that is not safe.

§ 36. Construction of unsafe place. No employer, owner or lessee of any real property in this state shall construct or cause to be constructed any place of employment that is not safe.

§ 37. Employee not to interfere with safety devices. No employee shall remove, displace, damage, destroy or carry off any safety device or safeguard furnished and provided for use in any employment or place or employment, or interfere in any way with the use thereof by any other person, or interfere with the use of any method or process adopted for the protection of any employee, including himself, in such employment, or place of employment, or fail or neglect to do every other thing reasonably necessary to protect the life and safety of such employees.

§ 38. Jurisdiction of commission over places of employment. The commission is vested with full power and jurisdiction over, and shall have such supervision of, every employment and place of employment in this state as may be necessary adequately to enforce and administer all laws and all lawful orders requiring such employment and place of employment to be safe, and requiring the protection of the life and safety of every employee in such employment or place of employment.

§ 39. Power of commission to prescribe devices, standards, etc. The commission shall have power, after a hearing had upon its own motion or upon complaint, by general or special orders, rules or regulations, or otherwise:

(1) To declare and prescribe what safety devices, safeguards or other means or methods of protection are well adapted to render the employees of every employment and place of employment safe as required by law or lawful order.

(2) To fix such reasonable standards and to prescribe, modify and enforce such reasonable orders for the adoption, installation, use, maintenance and operation of safety devices, safeguards and other means or methods of protection, to be as nearly uniform as possible, as may be necessary to carry out all laws and lawful orders relative to the protection of the life and safety of employees in employments and places of employment.

(3) To fix and order such reasonable standards for the construction, repair and maintenance of places of employment as shall render them safe.

(4) To require the performance of any other act which the protection of the life and safety of the employees in employments and places of employment may reasonably demand.

(5) To declare and prescribe the general form of industrial injury reports, the injuries to be reported and the information to be furnished in connection therewith, and the time within which such reports shall be filed. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to prevent the commission from requiring supplemental injury reports.

§ 40. Notice of hearing to consider general safety order. Upon the fixing of a time and place for the holding of a hearing for the purpose of considering and issuing a general safety order or orders as authorized by section thirty-nine hereof, the commission shall cause a notice of such hearing to be published in one or more daily newspapers of general circulation published and circulated in the city and county of San Francisco, and also in one or more daily newspapers of general circulation published and circulated in the county of Los Angeles, such newspapers to be designated by the commission for that purpose. No defect or inaccuracy in such notice or in the publication thereof shall invalidate any general order issued by the commission after hearing had.

§ 41. Order to make employment safe. Whenever the commission, after a hearing had upon its own motion or upon complaint, shall find that any employment or place of employment is not safe or that the practices or means or methods or operations or processes employed or used in connection therewith are unsafe, or do not afford adequate protection to the life and safety of employees in such employment or place of employment, the commission shall make and enter and serve such order relative thereto as may be necessary to render such employment or place of employment safe and protect the life and safety of employees in such employment and place of employment and may in said order direct that such additions, repairs, improvements or change be made and such safety devices and safeguards be furnished, provided and used, as are reasonably required to render such employment or place of employment safe, in the manner and within the time specified in said order.

§ 42. Time for compliance with order. The commission may, upon application of any employer, or other person affected thereby, grant such time as may reasonably be necessary for compliance with any order, and any person affected by such order may petition the commission for an extension of time, which the commission shall grant if it finds such an extension of time necessary.

§ 43. Investigation of unsafe employment. Whenever the commission shall learn or have reason to believe that any employment or place of employment is not safe or is injurious to the welfare of any employee it may, of its own motion, or upon complaint, summarily investigate the same, with or without notice or hearings, and after a hearing upon such notice as it may prescribe, the commission may enter and serve such order as may be necessary relative thereto, anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding.

§ 44. Obeying order. Every employer, employee and other person shall obey and comply with each and every requirement of every order, decision, direction, rule or regulation made or prescribed by the commission in connection with the matters herein specified, or in any way relating to or affecting safety of employments or places of employment, or to protect the life and safety of employees in such employments or places of employment, and shall do everything necessary or proper in order to secure compliance with and observance of every such order, decision, direction, rule or regulation.

§ 45. Review of orders. The orders of the commission, general or special, its rules or regulations, findings and decisions, made and entered under the safety provisions of this act, may be reviewed by the courts specified in sections sixty-seven and sixty-eight of this act and within the time and in the manner therein specified and not otherwise.

§ 46. Powers of supervisors, etc., not affected. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to deprive the board of supervisors of any county, or city and county, the board of trustees of any city, or any other public corporation or board or department, of any power or jurisdiction over or relative to any place of employment; provided, that whenever the commission shall, by order, fix a standard of safety for employments or places of employment, such order shall, upon the filing by the commission of a copy thereof with the clerk of the county, city and county, or city to which it may apply, establish a minimum requirement concerning the matters covered by such order and shall be construed in connection with any local order relative to the same matter and to amend or modify any requirement in such local order not up to the standard of the order of the commission.

§ 47. The commission shall have further power and authority:

(1) Museums of safety and hygiene. To establish and maintain museums of safety and hygiene in which shall be exhibited safety devices, safeguards and other means and methods for the protection of the life and safety of employees, and to publish and distribute bulletins on any phase of this general subject.

(2) Lectures. To cause lectures to be delivered, illustrated by stereopticon or other views, diagrams or pictures, for the information of employers and their employees and the general public in regard to the causes and prevention of industrial accidents, occupational diseases and related subjects.

(3) Advisers. To appoint advisers who shall, without compensation, assist the commission in establishing standards of safety and the commission may adopt and incorporate in its general orders such safety recommendations as it may receive from such advisers.

§ 48. Order admissible as evidence. Every order of the commission, general or special, its rules and regulations, findings and decisions, made and entered under the safety provisions of this act shall be admissible as evidence in any prosecution for the violation of any of the said provisions and shall, in every such prosecution, be conclusively presumed to be reasonable and lawful and to fix a reasonable and proper standard and requirement of safety, unless, prior to the institution of the prosecution for such violation or violations, proceedings for a rehearing thereon or a review thereof shall have been instituted as provided in sections sixty-four to sixty-eight, inclusive, of this act and not then finally determined.

§ 49. Penalty for violation. Every employer, employee or other person who, either individually or acting as an officer, agent or employee of a corporation or other person, violates any safety provision contained in sections thirty-four, thirty-five, thirty-six or thirty-seven of this act, or any part of any such provision, or who shall fail or refuse to comply with any such provision or any part thereof, or who, directly or indirectly, knowingly induces another so to do is guilty of a misdemeanor. In any prosecution under this section it shall be deemed prima facie evidence of a violation of any such safety provision, that the accused has failed or refused to comply with any order, rule, regulation or requirement of the commission relative thereto, and the burden of proof shall thereupon rest upon the accused to show that he has complied with such safety provision.

§ 50. Separate and distinct offense. Every violation of the provisions contained in sections thirty-four, thirty-five, thirty-six or thirty-seven of this act, or any part or portion thereof, by any person or corporation is a separate and distinct offense, and, in the case of a continuing violation thereof, each day's continuance thereof shall constitute a separate and distinct offense.

§ 51. Accident prevention fund. Percentage of amount of gross premiums. Estimates submitted to board of control. Revolving fund. All fines imposed and collected under prosecutions for violations of the provisions of sections thirty to fifty-four of this act shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the "accident prevention fund," which fund is hereby created. In addition to other sources of income of said accident prevention fund, the state compensation insurance fund shall pay into the said accident prevention fund, on or before the first Monday in July, 1918, and annually thereafter, the sum of two per cent upon the amount of the gross premiums received by it upon its business done in this state during the preceding calendar year, less return premiums and reinsurance in companies or associations authorized to do business in this state, which payment is intended to be the equivalent of the taxes imposed upon private insurance companies by the laws of this state relating to revenue and taxation. The state compensation insurance fund shall also pay into the said accident prevention fund interest from September 1, 1917, at the rate of four per cent per annum, payable quarterly, upon the sum of one hundred thousand dollars heretofore advanced by the state to said state compensation insurance fund as long as the said fund shall retain the said sum of one hundred thousand dollars. The commission is authorized to draw from said accident prevention fund toward the support of its department of safety. The commission shall submit from time to time to the state board of control an estimate of the amount it desires to withdraw from the accident prevention fund, and when such estimate shall be approved by the state board of control, the controller is directed to draw his warrant on said fund in favor of said commission for such amount, and the treasurer is authorized and directed to pay the same. The commission shall account to the state board of control and to the state controller for all moneys so received, furnishing proper vouchers therefor. The said accident prevention fund shall be a revolving fund.

§ 52. Unlawful to divulge confidential information. It shall be unlawful for any member of the commission, or for any officer or employee of the commission, to divulge to any person not connected with the administration of this act any confidential information obtained from any person, concerning the failure of any other person to keep any place of employment safe, or concerning the violation of any order, rule or regulation issued by the commission. Any member of the commission or any officer or employee of the commission divulging such confidential information shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 53. Report of injuries. (a) Every employer of labor, without any exceptions, and every insurance carrier, and every physician or surgeon who attends any injured employee, is hereby required to file with the commission, under such rules and regulations as the commission may from time to time make, a full and complete report of every injury to an employee, arising out of or in the course of his employment and resulting in loss of life or injury to such person. Such reports shall be furnished to the commission in such form and such detail as the commission shall from time to time prescribe, and shall make specific answers to all questions required by the commission under its rules and regulations. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, corporation, agent or officer of a firm or corporation, to fail or refuse to comply with any of the provisions of this section, and any such person, firm, corporation, agent or officer of a firm or corporation, who fails or refuses to comply with the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor for each and every offense and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than one hundred dollars. Any such employer or insurance carrier who shall furnish such report shall be exempt from furnishing any similar report or reports authorized or required under the laws of this state.

(b) Filling out blanks. Every employer or insurance carrier receiving from the commission any blanks with directions to fill out the same shall cause the same to be properly filled out so as to answer fully and correctly each question propounded therein; in case he is unable to answer any such questions a good and sufficient reason shall be given for such failure.

(c) Information not open to public inspection. No information furnished to the commission by an employer or an insurance carrier shall be open to public inspection or made public except on order of the commission, or by a commissioner or referee in the course of a proceeding. Any officer or employee of the commission who, in violation of the provisions of this subsection, divulges any such information shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 54. Investigation of injuries. (a) The commission shall investigate the cause of all industrial injuries occurring within the state in any employment or place of employment, or directly or indirectly arising from or connected with the maintenance or operation of such employment or place of employment, resulting in disability or death and requiring, in the judgment of the commission, such investigation; and the commission shall have the power to make such orders or recommendations with respect to such injuries as may be just and reasonable; provided, that neither the order nor the recommendation of the commission shall be admitted as evidence in any action for damages or any proceeding to recover compensation, based on or arising out of such injury or death.

(b) Inspectors, etc., may enter place of employment. For the purpose of making any investigation which the commission is authorized to make under the provisions of this section, or for the purpose of collecting statistics or examining the provision made for the safety of employees, any member of the commission, inspector, referee or other person designated by the commission for that purpose, may enter any place of employment.

(c) Penalty for violation. Any employer, insurance carrier, responsible agent of employee of such employer or insurance carrier, or any other person who shall violate or omit to comply with any of the provisions of this section, or who shall in any way obstruct or hamper the commission, any commissioner or other person conducting any investigation authorized to be undertaken or made by the commission, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 55. Proceedings instituted before commission. (a) All proceedings for the recovery of compensation, or concerning any right or liability arising out of or incidental thereto, or for the enforcement against the employer or an insurance carrier of any liability for compensation imposed upon him by this act in favor of the injured employee, his dependents or any third person, or for the determination of any question as to the distribution of compensation among dependents of other persons, or for the determination of any question as to who are dependents of any deceased employee, or what persons are entitled to any benefit under the compensation provisions of this act, or for obtaining any order which by this act the commission is authorized to make, or for the determination of any other matter, jurisdiction over which is vested by this act in the commission, shall be instituted before the commission, and not elsewhere, except as otherwise in this act provided, and the commission is hereby vested with full power, authority and jurisdiction to try and finally determine all such matters, subject only to the review by the courts in this act specified and in the manner and within the time in this act provided.

(b) Orders, etc., prima facie lawful. All orders, rules and regulations, findings, decisions and awards of the commission shall be in force and shall be prima facie lawful; and all such orders, rules and regulations, findings, decisions and awards shall be conclusively presumed to be reasonable and lawful, until and unless they are modified or set aside by the commission or upon a review by the courts in this act specified and within the time and in the manner herein specified.

§ 56. Service of notice, etc. (a) Any notice, order or decision required by this act to be served upon any person or party either before, during or after the institution of any proceeding before the commission, may be served in the manner provided by chapter five, title fourteen of part two of the Code of Civil Procedure of this state, unless otherwise directed by the commission or a member thereof, in which event the same shall be served in accordance with the order or direction of said commission or member thereof. The commission or commissioner may also, in the cases mentioned in the Code of Civil Procedure of this state, order service to be made by publication of the notice of time and place of hearing. Where service is ordered to be made by publication the date of the hearing may be fixed at more than thirty days from the date of filing the application.

(b) Any such notice, order or decision affecting the state or any city and county, city, school district or public corporation therein, shall be served upon the same officer, officers, person or persons, upon whom the service of similar notices, orders or decisions is authorized by law.

(c) Secretary, etc., have powers of peace officers. The secretary, assistant secretaries and the inspectors appointed by the commission shall have all the powers conferred by law upon peace officers to carry weapons, make arrests and serve warrants and other process in this state.

§ 57. Powers of commission. (a) The commission shall have full power and authority:

(1) Rules of practice. To adopt reasonable and proper rules of practice and procedure,

(2) Representation of minors, etc. To regulate and provide the manner, and by whom, minors and incompetent persons shall appear and be represented before it.

(3) Appoint trustee to appear for minor or incompetent. To appoint a trustee or guardian ad litem to appear for and represent any such minor or incompetent upon such terms and conditions as it may deem proper; and such guardian or trustee must, if required by the commission or a commissioner, give a bond in the same form and of the same character required by law from a guardian appointed by the courts and in such an amount as the commission or a commissioner may fix and determine, such bond to be approved by the commission or a commissioner, and such guardian or trustee shall not be discharged from liability until he shall have filed an account with the commission or with the probate court and such account shall have been approved. The trustee or guardian shall be entitled to receive such compensation for his services as shall be fixed and allowed by the commission or by the probate court.

(4) Joinder of interested persons. To provide for the joinder in the same proceeding of all persons interested therein, whether as employer, insurance carrier, employee, dependent, creditor or otherwise.

(5) Notices. To regulate and prescribe the kind and character of notices, where not otherwise prescribed by this act, and the service thereof.

(6) Proofs. To regulate and prescribe the nature and extent of the proofs and evidence.

(b) Controversies over insurance policies. Acting as arbitrator. The commission shall also have jurisdiction to determine controversies arising out of insurance policies issued to self-employing persons, conferring benefits identical with those prescribed by this act.

The commission may try and determine matters referred to it by the parties under the provisions of part three, title ten, of the Code of Civil Procedure, with respect to controversies arising out of insurance issued to self-employing persons under the provisions of this act. Such controversies may be submitted to it by the signed agreement of the parties, or by the application of one party and the submission of the other to its jurisdiction, with or without an express request for arbitration. The state compensation insurance fund must submit to the commission, the consent of the other party being obtained, all controversies susceptible of being arbitrated under this section. In acting as arbitrator under the provisions of this section, the commission shall have all the powers which it may lawfully exercise in compensation cases, and its findings and award upon such arbitration shall have the same conclusiveness and be subject to the same mode of reopening, review and enforcement as in compensation cases. No fee or cost shall be charged by the commission to any party for arbitrating the issues presented under this section.

§ 58. Controversies over injuries outside of state. The commission shall have jurisdiction over all controversies arising out of injuries suffered without the territorial limits of this state in those cases where the injured employee is a resident of this state at the time of the injury and the contract of hire was made in this state, and any such employee or his dependents shall be entitled to the compensation or death benefits provided by this act.

§ 59. Reference of cases. The commission may upon the agreement of the parties, upon the application of either, or of its own motion, and either with or without notice, direct and order a reference in the following cases:

(1) To try any or all of the issues in any proceeding before it, whether of fact or of law, and to report a finding, order, decision or award to be based thereon.

(2) To ascertain a fact necessary to enable the commission to determine any proceeding before it or to make any order, decision or award that the commission is authorized to make under this act, or that is necessary for the information of the commission.

(b) Referees. The commission may appoint one or more referees in any proceeding, as it may deem necessary or advisable, and may refer matters arising out of the same proceeding to different referees. It may also, in its discretion, appoint general referees who shall hold office during the pleasure of the commission. Any referee appointed by the commission shall have such powers, jurisdiction and authority as is granted under the law, by the order of appointment and by the rules of the commission, and shall receive such salary or compensation for his services as may be fixed by the commission.

(c) Objection to appointments. Any party to the proceeding may object to the appointment of any person as referee upon any one or more of the grounds specified in section six hundred forty-one of the Code of Civil Procedure and such objection must be heard and disposed of by the commission. Affidavits may be read and witnesses examined as to such objections.

(d) Oath of referee. Before entering upon his duties, the referee must be sworn before an officer authorized to administer oaths, faithfully and fairly to hear and determine the matters and issues referred to him, and to make just findings and report according to his understanding.

(e) Report of referee. The referee must report his findings in writing to the commission within fifteen days after the testimony is closed. Such report shall be made in the form prescribed by the commission and shall include all matters required to be included in the order of reference or by the rules of the commission. The facts found and conclusions of law must be separately stated.

(f) Order, etc., based on report of referee. Upon the filing of the report of the referee, the commission may confirm, adopt, modify or set aside the same or any part thereof and may, either with or without further proceedings, and either with or without notice, enter its order, findings, decision or award based in whole or in part upon the report of the referee, or upon the record in the case.

(g) Hearings by referees. The provisions of the preceding subdivisions of this section shall not be construed to prevent the commission from requiring its referees merely to hold hearings and to make return of the testimony to the commission.

§ 60. Commission not bound by statutory rules of evidence and procedure. (a) All hearings and investigations before the commission or any member thereof, or any referee appointed thereby, shall be governed by this act and by the rules of practice and procedure adopted by the commission, and in the conduct thereof neither the commission nor any member thereof, nor any referee appointed thereby, shall be bound by the common law or statutory rules of evidence and procedure, but may make inquiry in such manner, through oral testimony and written and printed records, as is best calculated to ascertain the substantial rights of the parties and carry out justly the spirit and provisions of this act. No informality in any proceeding or in the manner of taking testimony shall invalidate any order, decision, award, rule or regulation made, approved or confirmed by the commission; nor shall any order, award, rule or regulation be invalidated because of the admission into the record, and use as proof of any fact in dispute, of any evidence not admissible under the said common law or statutory rules of evidence and procedure.

(b) Depositions. The commission, or a commissioner or referee, or any party to the action or proceedings, may, in any investigation or hearing before the commission, cause the deposition of witnesses residing within or without the state to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for like depositions in civil actions in the superior courts of this state, and to that end may compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, documents, papers and accounts; provided, that depositions taken outside of the state may be taken before any officers authorized to administer oaths.

§ 61. Power of commission to administer oaths, etc. Witness fees and mileage. The commission and each member thereof, its secretary, assistant secretaries and referees, shall have power to administer oaths, certify to all official acts, and to issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers, books, accounts, documents and testimony in any inquiry, investigation, hearing or proceeding in any part of the state. Each witness who shall appear, by order of the commission or a member thereof, or a referee appointed thereby, shall be entitled to receive, if demanded, for his attendance the same fees and mileage allowed by law to a witness in civil cases, which amount shall be paid by the party at whose request such witness is subpoenaed, unless otherwise ordered by the commission. When any witness who has not been required to attend at the request of any party is subpoenaed by the commission, his fees and mileage may be paid from the funds appropriated for the use of the commission in the same manner as other expenses of the commission are paid. Any witness subpoenaed, except one whose fees and mileage may be paid from the funds of the commission, may, at the time of service, demand the fee to which he is entitled for travel to and from the place at which he is required to appear, and one day's attendance. If such witness demands such fees at the time of service, and they are not at that time paid or tendered, he shall not be required to attend before the commission, member thereof, or referee as directed in the subpoena. All fees and mileage to which any witness is entitled, under the provisions of this section, may be collected by action therefor instituted by the person to whom such fees are payable.

§ 62. Power of superior court to compel attendance of witnesses, etc. The superior court in and for the county, or city and county, in which any inquiry, investigation, hearing or proceeding may be held by the commission or any member thereof or referee appointed thereby, shall have the power to compel the attendance of witnesses, the giving of testimony and the production of papers, including books, accounts and documents, as required by any subpoena issued by the commission or member thereof or referee. The commission or any member thereof or the referee, before whom the testimony is to be given or produced, in case of the refusal of any witness to attend or testify or produce any papers required by such subpoena, may report to the superior court in and for the county, or city and county, in which the proceeding is pending, by petition, setting forth that due notice has been given of the time and place of attendance of said witness, or the production of said papers, and that the witness has been subpoenaed in the manner prescribed in this act, and that the witness has failed and refused to attend or produce the papers required by the subpoena, or has refused to answer questions propounded to him in the course of such proceeding, and ask an order of said court, compelling the witness to attend and testify or produce said papers before the commission. The court, upon the petition of the commission or such member thereof or referee, shall enter an order directing the witness to appear before the court at a time and place to be fixed by the court in such order, the time to be not more than ten days from the date of the order, and then and there show cause why he had not attended and testified or produced said papers before the commission, member thereof or referee. A copy of said order shall be served upon said witness. If it shall appear to the court that said subpoena was regularly issued by the commission or member thereof or referee and that the witness was legally bound to comply therewith, the court shall thereupon enter an order that said witness appear before the commission or member thereof or referee at a time and place to be fixed in such order, and testify or produce the required papers, and upon failure to obey said order, said witness shall be dealt with as for contempt of court. The remedy provided in this section is cumulative, and shall not be construed to impair or interfere with the power of the commission or a member thereof to enforce the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers, and to punish for contempt in the same manner and to the same extent as courts of record.

§ 63. General power of commission. (a) The commission is hereby vested with full power, authority and jurisdiction to do and perform any and all things, whether herein specifically designated, or in addition thereto, which are necessary or convenient in the exercise of any power, authority or jurisdiction conferred upon it under this act.

(b) Power to issue writs, etc. The commission and each member thereof shall have power to issue writs or summons, warrants of attachment, warrants of commitment and all necessary process in proceedings for contempt, in like manner and to the same extent as courts of record. The process issued by the commission or any member thereof shall extend to all parts of the state and may be served by any persons authorized to serve process of courts of record, or by any person designated for that purpose by the commission or any member thereof. The person executing any such process shall receive such compensation as may be allowed by the commission, not to exceed the fees now prescribed by law for similar services, and such fees shall be paid in the same manner as provided herein for the fees of witnesses.

§ 64. Application for rehearing. (a) Any party or person aggrieved directly or indirectly by any final order, decision, award, rule or regulation of the commission, made or entered under any provision contained in this act, may apply to the commission for a rehearing in respect to any matters determined or covered by such final order, decision, award, rule or regulation and specified in the application for rehearing within the time and in the manner hereinafter specified, and not otherwise.

(b) No cause for action unless application for rehearing. No cause of action arising out of any such final order, decision or award shall accrue in any court to any person until and unless such person shall have made application for such rehearing, and such application shall have been granted or denied; provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the enforcement of any such final order, decision, award, rule or regulation in the manner provided in this act.

(c) Grounds for application. Such application shall set forth specifically and in full detail the grounds upon which the applicant considers said final order, decision, award, rule or regulation is unjust or unlawful, and every issue to be considered by the commission. Such application must be verified upon oath in the same manner as required for verified pleadings in courts of record and must contain a general statement of any evidence or other matters upon which the applicant relies in support thereof. The applicant for such hearing shall be deemed to have finally waived all objections, irregularities and illegalities concerning the matter upon which such rehearing is sought other than those set forth in the application for such rehearing.

(d) Service upon adverse parties. A copy of such application for rehearing shall be served forthwith upon all adverse parties by the party applying for such rehearing, and any such adverse party may file an answer thereto within ten days thereafter. Such answer must likewise be verified. The commission may require the application for rehearing to be served on such other persons or parties as may be designated by it.

(e) Rehearing. Upon filing of an application for a rehearing, if the issues raised thereby have theretofore been adequately considered by the commission, it may determine the same by confirming without hearing its previous determination, or if a rehearing is necessary to determine the issues raised, or any one or more of such issues, the commission shall order a rehearing thereon and consider and determine the matter or matters raised by such application. If at the time of granting such rehearing it shall appear to the satisfaction of the commission that no sufficient reason exists for taking further testimony, the commission may reconsider and redetermine the original cause without setting a time and place for such further rehearing. Notice of the time and place of such hearing, if any, shall be given to the applicant and adverse parties, and to such other persons as the commission may order.

(f) Changing order, etc. Action within thirty days. If after such rehearing and a consideration of all the facts, including those arising since the making of the order, decision or award involved, the commission shall be of the opinion that the original order, decision or award, or any part thereof, is in any respect unjust or unwarranted, or should be changed, the commission may abrogate, change or modify the same. An order, decision or award made after such rehearing, abrogating, changing or modifying the original order, decision or award, shall have the same force and effect as an original order, decision or award, but shall not affect any right or the enforcement of any right arising from or by virtue of the original order, decision or award, unless so ordered by the commission. An application for a rehearing shall be deemed to have been denied by the commission unless it shall have been acted upon within thirty days from the date of filing; provided, however, that the commission may, upon good cause being shown therefor, extend the time within which it may act upon such application for not exceeding thirty days.

§ 65. Grounds for rehearing of order awarding compensation. (a) At any time within twenty days after the service of any final order or decision of the commission awarding or denying compensation, or arising out of or incidental thereto, any party or parties aggrieved thereby may apply for such rehearing upon one or more of the following grounds and upon no other grounds:

(1) That the commission acted without or in excess of its powers.

(2) That the order, decision or award was procured by fraud.

(3) That the evidence does not justify the findings of fact.

(4) That the applicant has discovered new evidence material to him, which he could not, with reasonable diligence, have discovered and produced at the hearing.

(5) That the findings of fact do not support the order, decision or award.

(b) Nothing contained in this section shall, however, be construed to limit the grant of continuing jurisdiction contained in subsection (a) of section twenty of this act.

§ 66. Grounds for rehearing of order not pertaining to compensation. (a) At any time within twenty days after the service of any final order, decision, rule or regulation, other than an order or award pertaining to compensation, any party or parties, person or persons, aggrieved thereby or otherwise affected, directly or indirectly, may apply for such rehearing upon one or more of the following grounds and upon no other grounds:

(1) That the commission acted without or in excess of its powers.

(2) That the order or decision was procured by fraud.
(3) That the order, decision, rule or regulation is unreasonable.

(b) Right of commission to adopt new rules, etc. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to limit the right of the commission, at any time and from time to time, to adopt new or different rules or regulations or new or different standards of safety, or to abrogate, change or modify any existing rule, regulation or standard, or any part thereof, or deprive the commission of continuing jurisdiction over the same, or to prevent the enforcement in the manner provided by this act, of any rules, regulations or standards of the commission, or any part thereof, when so adopted, or changed, or modified.

§ 67. Application for writ of review. (a) Within thirty days after the application for a rehearing is denied, or, if the application is granted, within thirty days after the rendition of the decision on the rehearing, any party affected thereby may apply to the supreme court of this state, or to the district court of appeal of the appellate district in which such person resides, for a writ of certiorari or review, hereinafter referred to as a writ of review, for the purpose of having the lawfulness of the original order, rule, regulation, decision or award, or the order, rule, regulation, decision or award on rehearing inquired into and determined.

(b) Record of commission. Such writ shall be made returnable not later than thirty days after the date of the issuance thereof, and shall direct the commission to certify its record in the case to the court. On the return day the cause shall be heard in the court unless for good cause the same be continued. No new or additional evidence may be introduced in such court, but the cause shall be heard on the record of the commission as certified to by it. The review shall not be extended further than to determine whether

(1) The commission acted without or in excess of its powers.
(2) The order, decision or award was procured by fraud.
(3) The order, decision, rule or regulation was unreasonable.
(4) If findings of fact are made, such findings of fact support the order, decision or award under review.

(c) Judgment of court. The findings and conclusions of the commission on questions of fact shall be conclusive and final and shall not be subject to review; such questions of fact shall include ultimate facts and the findings and conclusions of the commission. The commission and each party to the action or proceeding before the commission shall have the right to appear in the review proceeding. Upon the hearing the court shall enter judgment either affirming or setting aside the order, decision or award or may remand the case for further proceedings before the commission.

(d) Jurisdiction of courts limited. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure of this state relating to writs of review shall, so far as applicable and not in conflict with this act, apply to proceedings in the courts under the provisions of this section. No court of this state, except the supreme court and the district courts of appeal to the extent herein specified, shall have jurisdiction to review, reverse, correct or annul any order, rule, regulation, decision or award of the commission, or to suspend or delay the operation or execution thereof, or to restrain, enjoin or interfere with the commission in the performance of its duties; provided, that a writ of mandamus shall lie from the supreme court or the district courts of appeal in all proper cases.

§ 68. Order, etc., suspended by application for rehearing. The filing of an application for a rehearing shall have the effect of suspending the order, decision, award, rule or regulation affected, in so far as the same applies to the parties to such application, unless otherwise ordered by the commission, for a period of ten days, and the commission may, in its discretion and upon such terms and conditions as it may by order direct, stay, suspend or postpone the same during the pendency of such rehearing.

(b) Stay of order by court. The filing of an application for, or the pendency of, a writ of review, shall not of itself stay or suspend the operation of the order, decision, award, rule or regulation of the commission subject to review, but the court before which such application is filed may, in its discretion, stay or suspend in whole or in part the operation of the order, decision, award, rule or regulation of the commission subject to review, upon such terms and conditions as it may by order direct, except as provided in the following subsection.

(c) Written undertaking by petitioner. The operation of any order or award entered by the commission under the provisions of sections six to thirty-one, inclusive, of this act, or any judgment entered thereon, shall not at any time be stayed by the court to which petition is made for a writ of review, unless a written undertaking be executed on the part of the petitioner by two or more sureties, to the effect that they are bound in double the amount named in such order, award or judgment; that if the order, award or judgment appealed from, or any part thereof, be affirmed, or the proceeding upon review be dismissed, the petitioner shall pay the amount directed to be paid by the order, award or judgment, or the part of such amount as to which the order, award or judgment is affirmed, if affirmed only in part, and all damages and costs which may be awarded against the petitioner; and that, if the said petitioner does not make such payment within thirty days after the filing with the commission of the remittitur from the reviewing court, judgment may be entered, on motion of the adverse party, in his favor, and to which the said undertaking may be transferred, in any superior court in which a certified copy of the order or award may be filed against the sureties for such amount, together with interest that may be due thereon, and the damages and costs which may be awarded against the said petitioner. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, except in so far as they may be inconsistent with this act, are applicable to said undertaking. Such undertaking shall be filed with the commission, and the certificate of the commission, or any proper officer thereof, of the filing and approval of such undertaking, is sufficient evidence of the compliance of the petitioner with the provisions of this subsection.

§ 69. Interpretation by court. (a) Whenever this act, or any part or section thereof, is interpreted by a court, it shall be liberally construed by such court with the purpose of extending the benefits of the act for the protection of persons injured in the course of their employment.

(b) Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, subdivision, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, subdivision, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, subdivisions, sentences, clauses or phrases is declared unconstitutional.

(c) Employers engaged in interstate commerce. This act shall not be construed to apply to employers or employments which, according to law, are so engaged in interstate commerce as not to be subject to the legislative power of the state, or to employees injured while they are so engaged, except in so far as this act may be permitted to apply under the provisions of the constitution of the United States or the acts of congress.

§ 70. Other employers may come under provisions of act. (a) Any employer, having in his employment any employee not included with the term "employee" as defined by section eight of this act or not entitled to compensation under this act, and any such employee, may, by their joint election, elect to come under the compensation provisions of this act in the manner hereinafter provided.

(b) Other employers may come under provisions of act. Such election on the part of the employer shall be made by filing with the commission a written statement to the effect that he accepts the compensation provisions of this act, which, when filed, shall operate, within the meaning of section six of this act, to subject him to the compensation provisions thereof, and of all acts amendatory thereof, for the term of one year from the date of filing, and thereafter without further act on his part, for successive terms of one year each, unless such employer shall, at least sixty days prior to the expiration of such first or succeeding year, file in the office of the commission a notice in writing that he withdraws his election. Such acceptance shall be held to include employees whose employment is both casual and not in the course of the trade, business, profession or occupation of the employer, unless expressly excluded therefrom. In case any employer is insured against liability for compensation under this act, he shall be deemed to have so elected during the period that such policy shall remain in force, without filing such written notice with the commission, as to all classes of employees covered by such policy of insurance, anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding.

(c) Other employers subject to compensation privileges when. Any employee in the service of any employer who has made an election in either of the modes above prescribed, shall be deemed to have accepted, and shall, within the meaning of section six of this act, be subject to the compensation provisions of this act, and of any act amendatory thereof, if, at the time of the injury for which liability is claimed:

(1) The employer charged with such liability is subject to the compensation provisions of this act, whether the employee has actual notice thereof or not; and

(2) Such employee shall not, at the time of entering into the employment, have given to his employer notice in writing that he elects not to be subject to the compensation provisions of this act; or, in the event that such employment was entered into in advance of the election by the employer, such employee shall have given to his employer notice in writing that he elects to be subject to such provisions, or without giving either of such notices, shall have remained in the service of such employer for five days after the employer has filed his election, in which case the time at which the employee becomes subject to said compensation provisions shall be deemed to be at the beginning of said period.

(d) State employments. The state, and all political or other subdivisions thereof, as defined in section seven, and all state institutions, shall be conclusively presumed to have elected to come within the provisions of this act as to all employments otherwise excluded from this act.

(e) Acceptance of act of 1913 continued. All written acceptances filed by employers with the commission prior to the taking effect of this act, accepting the provisions of the workmen's compensation, insurance and safety act, chapter one hundred seventy-six, Statutes of 1913, and all acts amendatory thereof, shall, unless written notice be given to the contrary by said employer within sixty days after the taking effect of this act, be deemed acceptances of the provisions of this act, and all acts amendatory thereof, in accordance with the provisions of this section.

§ 71. Repealed. Continued. Sections two, twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, eighteen, nineteen, twenty, twenty-one, twenty-two, twenty-three, twenty-four, twenty-five, twenty-six, twenty-seven, twenty-eight, twenty-nine, thirty, thirty-one, thirty-two, thirty-three, thirty-four, thirty-five, fifty-one, fifty-two, fifty-three, fifty-four, fifty-five, fifty-six, fifty-seven, fifty-eight, fifty-nine, sixty, sixty-one, sixty-two, sixty-three, sixty-four, sixty-five, sixty-six, sixty-seven, sixty-eight, sixty-nine, seventy, seventy-one, seventy-two, seventy-three, seventy-four, seventy-five, seventy-five a, seventy-six, seventy-seven, seventy-eight, seventy-nine, eighty, eighty-one, eighty-two, eighty-three, eighty-four, eighty-five, eighty-six and eighty-seven of chapter one hundred seventy-six, Statutes of 1913, and all other acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith, are hereby repealed; provided, that nothing contained in this act shall be construed as limiting or repealing sections one, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, thirty-six, thirty-seven, thirty-eight, thirty-nine, forty, forty-one forty-two, forty-three, forty-four, forty-five, forty-six, forty-seven, forty-eight, forty-nine, fifty, eighty-eight and ninety of the said chapter one hundred seventy-six, Statutes of 1913.

§ 72. Proceedings, etc., under act of 1913 not disturbed. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to limit, interfere with, disturb, or render ineffective in any degree, any matter, proceeding or transaction pending, done or performed under the provisions of chapter one hundred seventy-six, Statutes of 1913, and all acts amendatory thereof, or supplementary thereto, by the industrial accident commission, or any department or division thereof, or to affect any right or liability accrued or accruing or to accrue under said acts, but each and every part thereof are hereby expressly saved and continued under the jurisdiction of said industrial accident commission, with full power, authority and jurisdiction, and with the right and duty in said industrial accident commission to fully administer and dispose of the same.

§ 73. Injuries sustained prior to passage of act. The compensation provisions of this act, except procedural provisions, shall not apply to any injury sustained prior to the taking effect hereof.

ACT 2143d.

An act to prohibit employers or certain agents or representatives of employers from demanding or receiving any money or other consideration from an employee as a condition of employment or of continuing to perform services in such employment; and to provide for the enforcement of this act by the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics; and to provide a penalty for the violation thereof; and to repeal an act entitled "An act to forbid managers, superintendents, foremen and other persons having authority from their respective employers to hire, employ, or direct the services of other persons in such employments, to demand or receive any fee, gift or other remuneration in consideration of any such hiring, employment or permission to continue to perform work or services in such employment; and to provide for the enforcement of this act by the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics," approved April 12, 1915.

[Approved May 5, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 257. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Employer receiving gifts or part of tips from employees guilty of misdemeanor. Any employer or agent or representative of an employer or other person having authority from his employer to hire, employ or direct the services of other persons in the employment of said employer, who shall demand or receive directly or indirectly from any person then in the employment of said employer, any fee, gift or other remuneration or other consideration, or any part or portion of any tips or gratuities received by such employee while in the employment of said employer, in consideration or as a condition of such employment or hiring or employing any person to perform such services for such employer or of permitting said person to continue in such employment, is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not more than three hundred ($300) dollars for such offense, or by imprisonment for not more than six months or by both fine and imprisonment. All fines imposed or collected under provision of this act shall be paid into the state treasury and credited to the contingent fund of the bureau of labor statistics.

§ 2. Employment agencies excepted. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to apply to employment agencies or employment agents licensed and operating under the laws of the state of California.

§ 3. Enforcement. This act shall be enforced by the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics.

§ 4. Stats. 1915, p. 61, repealed. An act entitled "An act to forbid managers, superintendents, foremen and other persons having authority from their respective employers to hire, employ, or direct the services of other persons in such employments to demand or receive any fee, gift, or other remuneration in consideration of any such hiring, employment or permission to continue to perform work or services in such employment; and to provide for the enforcement of this act by the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics," approved April 12, 1915, and designated chapter fifty-six of the Statutes of 1915, is hereby repealed.

ACT 2143e.

An act establishing and defining the jurisdiction of the industrial accident commission of the state of California and of the railroad commission of the state of California over the safety of employees of public utilities.

§ 1. Jurisdiction of industrial accident commission over safety of employees of public utilities. The industrial accident commission of the state of California is hereby vested with jurisdiction, as provided in the workmen's compensation, insurance and safety act of one thousand nine hundred seventeen, and acts amendatory thereof, subject to the provisions of section three hereof, over the safety of employees of steam railroads employed in shops devoted to the construction or repair of railroad equipment; the safety of employees of electric interurban or street railroads, employed in the generation, transmission or distribution of electric energy, or in shops devoted to the repair of railroad equipment, or in any nonpublic utility operation of such railroads; and the safety of employees of all other public utilities as such utilities are defined in the public utilities act.

§ 2. Jurisdiction of railroad commission not affected. The jurisdiction vested in the industrial accident commission of the state of California by section one hereof shall in no instance, except those affecting exclusively the safety of employees, be construed to impair, diminish or in any way affect the jurisdiction of the railroad commission of the state of California over the construction, reconstruction, replacement, maintenance or operation of the properties of public utilities as defined in the public utilities act, or over any matter affecting the relationship between such public utilities and their customers or the general public.

§ 3. Power of railroad commission. If the industrial accident commission, in the exercise of the authority and jurisdiction conferred by this act, makes or issues any order, decision, ruling or direction, which, in the judgment of the railroad commission, unduly and prejudicially interferes with the construction or operation of any public utility affected thereby, or with the public, or with a consumer or other patron of a public utility affected thereby, the railroad commission, of its own motion, or upon application of any utility or person so affected, may suspend, modify, alter, or annul such order, decision, ruling or direction of the industrial accident commission, and the action of the railroad commission in that regard shall supersede and control the order, decision, ruling or direction of the industrial accident commission previously made in the premises.

§ 4. Act of April 22, 1911, unaffected. This act shall not be construed to repeal or modify the act entitled "An act regulating the placing, erection, use and maintenance of electric poles, wires, cables and appliances, and providing the punishment for the violation thereof," approved April 22, 1911, as amended.

ACT 2143f.

An act to provide for the protection of beneficiaries of workmen's compensation insurance policies against the default or insolvency of insurance carriers issuing such policies by requiring such carriers to provide security for the payment of such compensation.

§ 1. Workmen's compensation insurance carrier to file bond. Every insurance carrier, except the state compensation insurance fund, transacting the business of workmen's compensation insurance in this state, shall on the first day of October, A. D. 1917, file in the office of the insurance commissioner of this state a bond in favor of said insurance commissioner as trustee for the beneficiaries of awards of compensation rendered by the industrial accident commission, executed by said carrier and some surety company or companies approved by said insurance commissioner and authorized to transact the business of suretyship in this state. Said bond shall be in an amount not less than the reserve for outstanding losses of said insurance carrier on compensation insurance in this state on December 31, A. D. 1916, calculated as prescribed by the laws of this state, nor for more than double the amount of said reserve, but in no case for less than the sum of one hundred thousand dollars.

§ 2. Bond to provide for payment of awards by surety. It shall be provided in said bond that, in the event said insurance carrier shall fail to pay any award or awards which shall be rendered against it by said industrial accident commission, within thirty days after the same become final, the said surety will forthwith pay, to the extent of its liability under said bond, said award or awards to said insurance commissioner as trustee for said beneficiaries. Said bond shall further provide that, if said insurance carrier shall suspend payment or become insolvent or a receiver shall be appointed therefor, the said surety will pay said awards, to the extent of its liability under said bond, upon the expiration of thirty days after the same become final, without regard to any proceedings for the liquidation or reinstatement of said insurance carrier. It shall be further provided in said bond, but as a cumulative remedy only, that, in the event said insurance carrier shall fail to pay any award which shall be rendered against it by said industrial accident commission within thirty days after the same becomes final, an award may be rendered by said commission against said surety and in favor of said insurance commissioner as trustee for the beneficiary of said award without notice to said surety for the amount of the unpaid portion of said award against said carrier. Said industrial accident commission is hereby vested with the same full power, authority and jurisdiction as to such awards against said sureties in such cases as it has over said insurance carrier, and it shall issue a certified copy thereof upon the application of any party affected thereby. Said party may file a certified copy of any such award in the office of the clerk of the superior court of any county or city and county of the state of California, and, upon the filing of the same, said clerk shall immediately enter a judgment thereon against said surety. Said certified copy of said award and said judgment shall constitute the judgment-roll and shall conclusively establish the liability of said surety without any additional evidence in any and all proceedings to renew said judgment or to enforce the payment thereof. Said bond shall provide for the payment of all legal costs, including reasonable attorneys' fees, incurred in all actions or proceedings taken to enforce payment of said bonds or payment of said awards or said judgments against said surety. No stay of execution of any such judgment shall be granted except upon the order of said industrial accident commission. Nothing herein contained shall operate to enlarge the liability of said surety beyond the penal sum of its bond. Payment of awards by said surety aggregating the amount of its bond shall constitute a full discharge of all liability under said bond.

§ 3. Filing of new bond each year. Every such insurance carrier shall on or prior to the first day of July of the year A. D. 1918, and of each succeeding year, file in the office of the insurance commissioner of this state a new bond conditioned as aforesaid in an amount not less than the amount of the reserve for outstanding losses of said insurance carrier on compensation insurance in this state on the thirty-first day of the month of December of the preceding year, as shown by its last report of said business filed in the office of said insurance commissioner, nor for more than double the amount of said reserve, but in no case for less than the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, except where said insurance carrier has ceased to do such business in this state, in which case said bond shall be fixed by said insurance commissioner at such amount as he may deem sufficient for the protection of the beneficiaries of the policies of such insurance carrier. Upon the filing of said new bond, approved as herein required, and not until such filing and approval, all liability under the previous bond shall thereby terminate. Said new bond shall embrace the entire liability of said previous bond except in so far as the same may have been paid or discharged.

§ 4. Financial ability of surety. Said insurance commissioner shall, before approving any such bond, satisfy himself of the financial ability of the surety to assume the obligations imposed thereby, and no company shall be accepted by him as surety which shall have assumed obligations in excess of the limits prescribed by standards of suretyship recognized as reasonable and proper and which it shall be the duty of said commissioner to promulgate for uniform application in such cases.

§ 5. No authorization issued until bond filed. No authorization shall be issued or renewed to any insurance carrier to transact the business of workmen's compensation insurance in this state, until it has filed said bond with the insurance commissioner and the same has been approved by him. It shall be the duty of the insurance commissioner to notify the industrial accident commission of the approval and filing of every bond given pursuant to the provisions of this act.

§ 6. Additional bond. The insurance commissioner shall have the right, and it shall be his duty, to require any such insurance carrier at any time to file an additional bond, conditioned as aforesaid, if the amount of the bond then on file is in his judgment insufficient to cover the liability of said insurance carrier for said compensation, or if the surety on said bond has become insufficient in the judgment of the said commissioner.

§ 7. Liability of two or more sureties. Two or more surety companies may be accepted as sureties on said bond, or separate bonds may be executed by different sureties for amounts aggregating the sum specified by the said commissioner. In such cases each of said sureties shall be jointly and severally liable to the extent of the amount of the liability assumed by it.

§ 8. Liability of sureties. The liability of the sureties under the bonds hereby required to be given shall be the entire liability of the principals named therein, not exceeding the amount of said bonds or the limit of the liability assumed by any such surety, for the payment of awards of compensation rendered or to be rendered against said principals by said industrial accident commission under the terms of the workmen's compensation insurance and safety act and acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, without regard to the time when the injury upon which an award was based may have occurred, but said bond shall not include any other liability of said carrier nor shall any payment made under any such bond by said surety be applied otherwise than in satisfaction of awards of compensation rendered by said industrial accident commission.

§ 9. Insurance commissioner may act as trustee. Full power and authority is hereby conferred upon said insurance commissioner to act as trustee for all beneficiaries under awards rendered by said industrial accident commission, and he may take assignments in his own name as trustee and as such he shall have the authority to institute and maintain actions against said sureties, and, upon the collection by him by suit or otherwise of the amount of said awards, he shall pay the same to the parties entitled thereto. The payment of any such award or part thereof by said insurance commissioner shall constitute a satisfaction thereof to the extent of the payment made and, in the event any judgment shall have been entered on any such award, the said commissioner shall file a satisfaction thereof, to the extent of said payment, in the office of the clerk of the court wherein such judgment has been entered.

§ 10. Right of surety to require new bond of principal. Any such surety shall have the right to require the principal on its bond, on thirty days' notice, to furnish a new bond, to be approved by the insurance commissioner as in other cases, and, in the event of a failure to do so, said principal shall forfeit the right to continue to issue compensation policies in this state.

§ 11. Deposit of security with state treasurer. Any compensation insurance carrier may, in lieu of said bond and subject to the same conditions, deposit with the state treasurer, through the insurance commissioner, from time to time as may be demanded by said commissioner, cash or approved interest-bearing securities readily convertible into cash, equal to the reserves for outstanding losses required by section six hundred two (a) of the Political Code at the time of said deposit, on the compensation business of said carrier in the state of California, calculated as hereinbefore provided, as security for the payment of its obligations on said business done in this state, and said deposit shall not be withdrawn except upon the written order of the insurance commissioner in payment of compensation claims, but shall be forthwith payable by the state treasurer to the insurance commissioner upon such order; provided, that any such deposit, or any remainder thereof, may be repaid to such carrier upon satisfactory showing to the insurance commissioner that every liability to pay compensation shall have been reinsured with a solvent carrier or fully paid and discharged. Said deposit shall be used only for the payment of compensation claims so long as there shall remain unpaid any such claim or any part thereof.

§ 12. Revocation of certificate. The insurance commissioner shall have power to revoke the certificate of authority to transact compensation insurance business in this state of any insurance carrier failing to comply with the requirements of this act.

An act to promote the general welfare of the people of this state as affected by accident causing the injury or death of employees in the course of their employment, by creating a liability on the part of employers to compensate such employees and their dependents for such accidental injury or death irrespective of the fault of either party, and providing the means and methods of enforcing such liability; and creating a "state compensation insurance fund" to insure employers against such liability and providing for its administration and regulating such insurance by other insurance carriers; and requiring safety in all employments and places of employment in this state and providing the means and methods of enforcing such safety; and requiring reports of industrial accidents; and providing penalties for offenses by employers, their officers, agents, and by employees and other persons and corporations; and creating an industrial accident commission, providing for its organization, defining its powers and duties and providing for a review of its orders, decisions and awards; and appropriating moneys to carry out the provisions of this act; and repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act.

[Approved May 26, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 279.]

Amended 1915, pp. 913, 1079, 1302.

Sections 2, 12–35, 51–87 repealed May 23, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 831.

See Act 2143c.

ACT 2144g.

An act requiring employers who provide hospital service for their employees and who make a charge therefor, to keep books, records and accounts of all such charges, and to make an annual written report thereof; requiring each such charge to be just and reasonable and to be devoted to no other purpose than such hospital service; and prescribing penalties for violations of the provisions thereof.

[Approved June 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1310.]

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 83.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 3. Hospital charges must be just. Every such hospital charge demanded, collected or received by an employer shall be just and reasonable. The railroad commission is hereby given authority to decide what is an unreasonable charge in all cases where such charge is made by a hospital maintained by a common carrier by rail, and in all cases where the charge is made by a hospital maintained by other than a common carrier by rail, the industrial accident commission is hereby given authority to decide what is an unreasonable charge. [Amendment approved April 6, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 83.]

§ 5. Common carrier subject to railroad commission. Other employers under industrial accident commission. Every common carrier by rail employer who is under a duty to render the report referred to in section two of this act shall be subject to the jurisdiction, control and regulation of the railroad commission in respect to auditing and inspection of all books, records and accounts and to enforce its orders in the same manner and to the same extent as said commission now possesses over any public utility that is subject to the provisions of the "public utilities acts" of this state, approved December 23, 1911, as amended June 11, 1913, and June 14, 1913, and all acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto. Every employer coming under the provisions of this act shall be required to post a copy of this statement or report upon all bulletin-boards at terminals or in a conspicuous place where employees can read such statement or report. Every employer other than a common carrier by rail, who is under a duty to render the report referred to in section two of this act, shall be subject to the jurisdiction, control and regulation of the industrial accident commission in respect to the auditing and inspection of all books, records and accounts and the authority is hereby conferred upon said industrial accident commission to enforce by appropriate orders and processes the provisions of this act. The written report required by section two hereof when made by a common carrier by rail shall be filed with the railroad commission. All other written reports required by section two hereof shall be filed with the industrial accident commission. [Amendment approved April 6, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 83.]

TITLE 336.

MEDICINE.

ACT 2164.

An act to regulate the examination of applicants for license, and the practice of those licensed, to treat diseases, injuries, deformities, or other physical or mental conditions of human beings; to establish a board of medical examiners, to provide for their appointment and prescribe their powers and duties, and to repeal an act entitled "An act for the regulation of the practice of medicine and surgery, osteopathy, and other systems or modes of treating the sick or afflicted, in the state of California, and for the appointment of a board of medical examiners in the matter of said regulations," approved March 14, 1907, and acts amendatory thereof, and also to repeal all other acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act.

Amended 1915, p. 184; 1917, p. 93.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 2. Board of medical examiners organized. Meetings. Applications for certificates. Directory of practitioners. Fees. Forfeiture of license and restoration. Surplus receipts. The board shall be organized on or before the first Tuesday of September, 1913, by electing from its number a president, vice-president, and a secretary who shall also be the treasurer, who shall hold their respective positions during the pleasure of the board. The board shall hold one meeting annually beginning on the third Monday in October in the city of Sacramento and at least two additional meetings annually, one of which shall be held in the city of Los Angeles, and the other in the city of San Francisco, with power of adjournment from time to time until its business is concluded; provided, however, that examinations of applications for certificates may, in the discretion of the board, be conducted in any part of the state designated by the board. Special meetings of the board may be held at such time and place as the board may designate. Notice of each regular or special meeting shall be given twice a week for two weeks next preceding each meeting in one daily paper published in the city of San Francisco, one published in the city of Sacramento, and one published in the city of Los Angeles, which notice shall also specify the time and place of holding the examination of applicants. The secretary of the board upon an authorization from the president of the board or the chairman of a committee, may call meetings of any duly appointed committee of the board at a specified time and place and it shall not be necessary to advertise such committee meetings. The board shall receive through its secretary applications for certificates provided to be issued under this act and shall, on or before the first day of January of each year, transmit to the governor a full report of all its proceedings together with a report of its receipts and disbursements. The board shall, on or before the first day of January of each year, compile and may thereafter publish and sell, a complete directory giving the addresses of all persons within the state of California who hold unrevoked licenses to practice under any medical practice act of the state of California, which license shall in any manner authorize the treatment of human beings for diseases, injuries, deformities, or any other physical or mental conditions. The board is hereby authorized to require said persons to furnish such information as it may deem necessary to enable it to compile the directory.

The directory shall contain in addition to the names and addresses of said persons, the names and symbols indicating the title, name or names, school or schools, which such person has attended and from which graduated, the date of issuance of the license, the present residence of said person and a statement of the form of certificate held. The directory shall be prima facie evidence of the right of the person or persons named therein to practice. It shall be the duty of every person holding a license to practice under any medical act of this state, or who may hereafter be so licensed to practice, to report immediately each and every change of residence, giving both the old and the new address. To comply with the provisions of this section relating to the compilation, publication and sale of a directory in addition to the fee required for the filing of any application, or the issuance of any certificate hereinafter provided for, each licentiate granted a certificate under the provisions of this act, or any preceding medical practice act of the state of California, shall, on or before the first day of January of each year, pay to the secretary-treasurer of the board of medical examiners an annual tax and registration fee of two dollars ($2). Receipt or acknowledgment of payment by the secretary-treasurer shall be evidence that the holder and possessor of such certificate is entitled to practice the particular system for which he was granted such certificate for a period of one year from the first day of January; but notwithstanding the possession by any certificate-holder of such receipt or acknowledgment of payment, the license or certificate issued to such licentiate to practice any system recognized by this or any preceding medical practice act of the state of California, may, at any time, be forfeited or revoked for a violation of the further provisions and requirements of this act. The failure, neglect and refusal of any person holding a license or certificate to practice a system under this or any preceding medical practice act of the state of California, to pay said annual tax of two dollars ($2) during the time his or her license remains in force, shall, after a period of sixty days from the first day of January of each year, ipso facto, work a forfeiture of his or her license or certificate, and it shall not be restored except upon the written application therefor, and the payment to the said board of a fee of ten dollars ($10) except that such licentiate who fails, refuses or neglects to pay such annual tax within a period of sixty days after the first day of January of each year shall not be required to submit to an examination for the reissuance of such certificate. It shall be the duty of the executive officer herein designated as the secretary-treasurer of said board of medical examiners to mail to the last known address of each licentiate who has paid said annual tax a copy of the said directory, and all new issues thereof and copies of all supplements thereto. The receipts of the said annual tax referred to herein shall be paid into the contingent fund of the board of medical examiners of California, and after the expenses of issuing said directories have been paid, in the event that there shall be a surplus of such funds, the board may from time to time, in its discretion, apply said surplus for any other expenses incurred by the board under the provisions of this act. [Amendment approved April 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 94.]

certificate. Reciprocity certificate. Four forms of certificates shall be issued by said board under the seal thereof and signed by the president and secretary; first, a certificate authorizing the holder thereof to use drugs or what are known as medicinal preparations in or upon human beings and to sever or penetrate the tissues of human beings and to use any and all other methods in the treatment of diseases, injuries, deformities, or other physical or mental conditions, which certificate shall be designated "physician and surgeon cetificate"; second, a certificate authorizing the holder thereof to treat diseases, injuries, deformities, or other physical or mental conditions without the use of drugs or what are known as medicinal preparations and without in any manner severing or penetrating any of the tissues of human beings except the severing of the umbilical cord, which certificate shall be designated "drugless practitioner's certificate"; third, a certificate authorizing the holder thereof to practice chiropody; for the purpose of this act chiropody is defined to be the surgical treatment of abnormal nails and superficial excrescences occurring on the feet, such as corns, callosities, and the treatment of bunions; but it shall not confer the right to operate upon the feet for congenital or acquired deformities, or for conditions requiring the use of anesthetics other than local, or incisions involving structures below the level of the true skin; fourth, a certificate to practice midwifery which shall be in the form designated by the board and in conformity with this act. Such certificate shall entitle the holder thereof to attend cases of childbirth. As used in this act, the practice of midwifery means the furthering or undertaking by any person to assist a woman in normal childbirth, but it does not include at any childbirth the use of any instrument, except such instrument as is necessary in severing the umbilical cord, nor the assisting of childbirth by any artificial, forcible or mechanical means, nor the performance of any version, nor the removal of adherent placenta, nor the administering, prescribing, advising or employing in childbirth of any drug, other than a disinfectant or cathartic. The provisions hereof shall not authorize any midwife to practice medicine and surgery. A "reciprocity certificate" shall also be issued under the provisions hereinafter specified. Any of these certificates on being recorded in the office of the county clerk, as hereinafter provided, shall constitute the holder thereof a duly licensed practitioner in accordance with the provisions of his certificate. [Amendment approved April 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 94.]

§ 9. Applicants must file testimonials, diplomas, etc. Preliminary education. Work in physics, chemistry and biology. Every applicant must file with the board, at least two weeks prior to the regular meeting thereof, satisfactory testimonials of good moral character, and a diploma or diplomas issued by some legally chartered school or schools approved by the board, the requirements of which school or schools shall have been at the time of granting such diploma or diplomas in no degree less than those required under this act, or satisfactory evidence of having possessed such diploma or diplomas, and must file on affidavit stating that he is the person named in said diploma or diplomas, and that he is the lawful holder thereof, and that the same was procured in the regular course of instruction and examination without fraud or misrepresentation; provided, that in addition thereto, each applicant for a "physician and surgeon certificate" must show that he has attended four courses of study, each such course to have been of not less than thirty-two weeks duration, but not necessarily pursued continuously, or consecutively, and that at least ten months shall have intervened between the beginning of any course and the beginning of the preceding course; provided, further, that an applicant for a "drugless practitioner certificate" must show that he has attended two courses of study, each such course to have been of not less than thirty-two weeks duration, but not necessarily pursued continuously or consecutively, and that at least ten months shall have intervened between the beginning of any course and the beginning of the preceding course; the course in chiropody is to consist of not less than thirty-nine weeks consisting of not less than six hundred sixty-four hours; provided, further, that an applicant for a certificate to practice midwifery must show that the applicant has attended a one-year course in a hospital recognized as reputable by the board, and that a course of instruction in anatomy, physiology, obstetrics and hygiene and sanitation as set forth in section ten hereof has been taken, covering a period of one year; provided, further, that in lieu thereof, an applicant who can submit satisfactory proof of the possession of a diploma from a recognized reputable hospital, and who in addition thereto has attended a course of instruction in the subjects enumerated in section ten hereof and satisfactory proof that such instruction has been taken covering a period of at least three months; and provided, further, that in lieu thereof an applicant may present proof satisfactory to the board that the applicant has taken a course of instruction with the minimum requirements as designated in section ten of any school or schools approved by the board as giving a course of instruction in said subjects for a certificate to practice medicine and surgery; provided, also, that before July 1, 1918, in lieu of the diploma or diplomas and preliminary requirements herein referred to where the applicant can show to the satisfaction of the board of medical examiners that he has taken courses hereinafter required in a school or schools approved by the board totaling for applicants for "drugless practitioner certificate" not less than sixty-four weeks consisting of not less than two thousand hours and for "physician and surgeon certificate" totaling not less than one hundred twenty-eight weeks consisting of not less than four thousand hours, it being required that all applicants shall have received passing grades in all such courses, that the applicant or applicants shall be admitted to examination for their respective form of certificates.

The said application shall be made upon a blank furnished by said board and it shall contain such information concerning the medical instruction and the preliminary education of the applicant as the board may by rule prescribe. In addition to the requirements hereinabove provided for, applicants for any form of certificate hereunder shall present to said board at the time of making such application a diploma from a California high school or other school in the state of California requiring and giving a full four years' course of same grade, or other schools elsewhere, requiring and giving a full four years' standard high school course, or its equivalent, approved by the board, together with satisfactory proof that he is the lawful holder of such diploma, and that the same was procured in the regular course of instruction. The passing of an examination before the entrance examining board for the entrance to the academic department of the University of California, or Stanford University or the University of Southern California, or the possession of documentary evidence of admission to the academic department of such institutions as a regular student or in full standing shall be sufficient basic or preliminary educational qualifications. In lieu of such diploma, the applicant may present: (1) a certificate from the college entrance examination board, or the college examining board of any state or territory showing that such applicant has successfully passed the examination of said board; or (2) if such applicant be thirty years or more of age he may show to the satisfaction of the board of medical examiners proof of preliminary education equivalent in training power to the foregoing requirements. After January 1, 1919, every applicant for a "physician and surgeon certificate" shall in addition to the foregoing requirements, present to the board satisfactory evidence that before beginning the last half of the second year in the study of medicine he has completed a course which includes at least one year of work, of college grade, in each of the subjects of physics, chemistry, and biology. The preliminary or basic educational requirements for a chiropodist, shall be as follows: On and after July 5, 1915, the successful completion of one year of high school work or its equivalent; on and after July 1, 1918, two years of high school work or its equivalent; on and after July 1, 1920, three years of high school work or its equivalent; on and after July 1, 1922, four years of high school work or its equivalent.

The preliminary or basic educational qualifications for an applicant to practice midwifery in this state shall be the completion of one year of high school work or its equivalent, and after October, 1918, the presentation to the board of a diploma from a California high school giving a full four years' standard high school course or its equivalent. [Amendment approved April 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 97.]

§ 11. Additional requirements for physicians and surgeons. For drugless practitioners. Exceptions. Examination for chiropodists. Examination for midwives. Re-examination. Admission to drugless practitioner examination. Admission without examination. Examination papers kept on file. Secretary not to be examiner. Form of certificates. In addition to above requirements, all applicants for "physician and surgeon certificate" must pass an examination to be given by the board in the following subjects:

1. Anatomy and histology.
2. Physiology.
3. Bacteriology and pathology.
4. Chemistry and toxicology.
5. Obstetrics and gynecology.
6. Materia medica and therapeutics, pharmacology, including prescription-writing.
7. General medicine, including clinical microscopy.
8. Surgery.
9. Hygiene and sanitation.

All applicants for "drugless practitioner certificates" must pass an examination in the following subjects:

1. Anatomy and histology.
2. Physiology.
3. General diagnosis.
4. Pathology and elementary bacteriology.
5. Obstetrics and gynecology.
6. Toxicology and elementary chemistry.
7. Hygiene and sanitation.

Provided, that a person who holds a "drugless practitioner certificate," issued upon satisfactory proof of the course of instruction and minimum requirements demanded in section ten hereof and who presents evidence of having successfully completed the additional courses required for the "physician and surgeon certificate" as hereinbefore provided, shall be permitted to take his examination in subjects required for a "physician and surgeon certificate" without being re-examined in "drugless practitioner" subjects.

The subjects for such examination shall be:

1. Advanced chemistry.
2. Advanced bacteriology.
3. Surgery.
4. Materia medica and therapeutics, pharmacology, including prescription writing.
5. General medicine, including clinical microscopy.

All applicants for a certificate to practice chiropody must pass an examination in the following subjects:

1. Anatomy and histology.
2. Physiology, chemistry and hygiene.
3. Pathology and bacteriology.
4. Dermatology and syphilis.
5. Orthopedics and surgery.
6. Chiropody and therapeutics.

All applicants for a certificate to practice midwifery must pass an examination in the following subjects:

1. Anatomy and physiology.
2. Obstetrics.
3. Hygiene and sanitation.

All examinations shall be practical in character and designed to ascertain the applicant's fitness to practice his profession, and shall be conducted in the English language, and at least a portion of the examination in each of the subjects shall be in writing. The board in its discretion upon the submission of satisfactory proof from the applicant that he is unable to meet the requirements of the examination in the English language, may allow the use of an interpreter either to be present in the examination room or to thereafter interpret and transcribe the answers of the applicant. The selection of such interpreter is to be left entirely to the board and the expenses thereof to be borne by the applicant, the payment therefor to be made before such examination is held. There shall be at least ten questions on each subject, the answers to which shall be marked on a scale of zero to one hundred. Each applicant must obtain no less than a general average of seventy-five per cent, and not less than sixty per cent in any two subjects; provided, that any applicant shall be granted a credit of one per cent upon the general average for each pear of actual practice since graduation; provided, further, that any applicant for "physician and surgeon certificate" obtaining seventy-five per cent each in seven subjects and any applicant for "drugless practitioner certificate" obtaining seventy-five per cent each in five subjects and an applicant for a certicate to practice chiropody obtaining over seventy-five per cent in seven subjects, and an applicant for a certificate to practice midwifery obtaining seventy-five per cent in one subject, shall be subsequently re-examined in those subjects only in which he failed, and without additional fee. Any person who at any time prior to January 1, 1916, shall pay to the secretary of said board the fee of twenty-five dollars and submits satisfactory proof of good moral character and of a resident one-year course of not less than one thousand hours in a legally chartered school approved by the board and satisfactory proof of three years of actual practice of a drugless system of the healing art, such three years of actual practice to have been in the state of California, shall be admitted to the drugless practitioner examination; provided, however, that in the event of a license being granted to such applicant he will not be eligible thereafter for the physician's and surgeon's certificate without a full and complete compliance with the terms and provisions of sections nine and ten hereof. Anyone who shall pay the fee of fifty dollars to the secretary of the board prior to January 1, 1916, and submits to the board satisfactory proof of good moral character and proof of six years' actual practice of a drugless system of the healing art, three years of which must have been in the state of California, and satisfactory proof of a resident one-year course of not less than one thousand hours in a legally chartered school approved by the board and upon proof of competency in a drugless system may be granted a certificate to practice a drugless system in this state; provided, however, that such licensee shall not be permitted to take the physician's and surgeon's examination without a full and complete compliance with the terms of sections nine and ten hereof.

The examination papers shall form a part of the records of the board, and shall be kept on file by the secretary for a period of one year after each examination. In said examination the applicant shall be known and designated by number only, and the name attached to the number shall be kept secret until after the board has finally voted upon the application. The secretary of the board shall in no instance participate as an examiner in any examination held by the board. All questions on any subject in which examination is required under this act shall be provided by the board of medical examiners upon the morning of the day upon which examination is given in such subject, and when it shall be shown that the secretary or any member of the board has in any manner given information in advance of or during examination to any applicant it shall be the duty of the governor to remove such person from the board of medical examiners, or from the office of secretary.

All certificates issued hereunder must state the extent and character of practice which is permitted thereunder and shall be in such form as shall be prescribed by the board. [Amendment approved April 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 102.]

§ 12. Army and navy surgeons authorized to practice. Fee. When certificate may be refused. Exceptions. Any medical director, medical inspector, passed assistant surgeon, or assistant surgeon of the United States navy, honorably discharged or temporarily detached, or placed upon the retired list without being discharged or on active duty, from the medical department of the United States navy, or who by resignation has honorably severed all connection with the service, and any surgeon of the United States army, honorably discharged, or temporarily detached or placed upon the retired list without being discharged or on active duty from the medical department of the United States army, or who by resignation has honorably severed all connection with the service and any commissioned officer, viz.: surgeon general, assistant surgeon general, senior surgeon, surgeon, passed assistant surgeon and assistant surgeon of the United States public health service on active duty with such service, temporarily detached or who has honorably severed all connection with the United States public health service, is hereby authorized to practice medicine and surgery within the state of California by filing a sworn copy of his discharge, if he be discharged, or of the order temporarily detaching him or the order placing him upon the retired list, with the state board of medical examiners or by proving to the satisfaction of the board that by resignation he has honorably left the service of either the army or navy, and paying said board a fee of fifty dollars; provided, that when it appears to the satisfaction of the board, that in the year in which the applicant was appointed or commissioned in the United States army, navy or public health service, that the requirements of such service for such appointment or commission, were in any degree or particular less than those which were required for the issuance of a similar certificate to practice in California at the date of such issuance, then the board in its discretion may refuse to issue such certificate; provided, further, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to any contract surgeon in the United States army, navy or public health service, and shall not apply to any officer of the medical reserve corps of said army, navy or public health service. [Amendment approved April 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 104.]

son who at any time within ninety days from and after the passing of this act shall pay to said board, the registration fee of fifty dollars, as herein provided, and furnish to said board satisfactory proof of the fact that such applicant has been actually engaged in the practice of chiropody in the state of California for the period of one year prior to July 1, 1915, and that such applicant possesses a good moral character and competency in the practice of chiropody, shall be entitled to practice chiropody, and said board must issue to him a chiropody certificate.

Any person who at any time within one hundred eighty days from and after the passing of this act shall pay to said board the registration fee of twenty dollars as herein provided, and furnish to said board satisfactory proof that such applicant has been actually engaged in the practice of midwifery in the state of California for at least a period of one year, and that such applicant possesses a good moral character and competency in the practice of midwifery, shall be entitled to practice midwifery, and said board must issue to such applicant a midwifery certificate.

The actual practice referred to herein shall consist in satisfactory proof that the applicant has attended at least twenty-five cases of labor and has had the care of at least twenty-five mothers and new-born infants during the lying-in period. The lying-in period referred to herein shall consist of a period of ten days following delivery. The good moral character referred to herein shall be evidenced by the certificates of two physicians and surgeons or practitioners licensed under this or any preceding medical practice act of this state, and the certificate of one layman, preferably a clergyman, priest, rabbi or recognized minister of the gospel. The competency referred to herein shall be evidenced by affidavits of reputable citizens preferably physicians of the vicinity wherein the applicant has recently resided. The board, however, may disregard such certificates and in its discretion may give an oral, practical or clinical examination. The proof of the attendance and completion of the twenty-five cases of labor referred to herein shall be evidenced, if the board shall so require of any applicant, by the submission of the name of the mother, and a reference to the birth certificate required under the law. The board shall have the power to disregard the certificates of moral character referred to herein and may order that an investigation under the direction of the board be held upon the moral character of the applicant. If the said investigation should result in an adverse report to applicant, the applicant shall be entitled to a hearing before said board and after such hearing the board shall be the judges of the moral fitness of the applicant to receive a certificate to practice midwifery. In the event that a certificate to practice midwifery shall not be granted under the provisions of this section, the applicant will be entitled to a refund of ten dollars. Any person who files an application for a "physician and surgeon certificate" two weeks prior to a regular or special meeting, and who submits satisfactory proof to the board that the applicant has been licensed to practice osteopathy under the provisions of an act entitled "An act to regulate the practice of osteopathy in the state of California and to provide for the state board of osteopathic examiners, and to license osteopaths who practice in this state, and to punish persons violating the provisions of this act," which became a law under constitutional provision without the governor's approval March 9, 1901, or who submits satisfactory proof that the applicant has been licensed to practice osteopathy under an act entitled "An act to provide for the regulation of the practice of medicine and surgery, osteopathy and other systems or modes of treating the sick or afflicted in the state of California, and for the appointment of a board of medical examiners in the matter of said regulation, approved March 14, 1907, and who submits satisfactory testimonials of good moral character and a diploma or diplomas issued by some legally chartered school or schools approved by the board, or satisfactory evidence of having possessed such diploma or diplomas and that he is the lawful holder thereof, and that the same was procured in the regular course of instruction and examination without fraud or misrepresentation, and that the applicant has complied with the provisions of sections nine, ten and eleven of this act, may be granted an oral, practical or clinical examination for the "physician and surgeon certificates"; provided, that the board must accept in lieu thereof the educational qualifications enumerated in this section or in sections nine, ten and eleven of this act satisfactory proof to the board of actual practice in the system of treatment known and designated as osteopathy for a period of four years, and upon the presentation of such proof the applicant will be entitled to an oral, practical or clinical examination for a "physician and surgeon certificate." The fee for filing such application shall be twenty-five dollars, fifteen dollars to be returned to the applicant in the event that a certificate is not issued under the provisions hereof. [Amendment approved April 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 105.]

§ 13. Certificates to applicants licensed to practice since August 1, 1901. Requirements. Contracts of reciprocity. Applicant with certificate prior to August 1, 1901. Examination. Fee. Said board must also issue a certificate to practice a system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted recognized by this act or any preceding practice act in the state of California to any applicant, without any examination, authorizing the holder thereof to practice a system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted in the state of California, upon payment of a registration fee of one hundred dollars, upon the following terms and conditions and upon satisfactory proof thereof, viz.: The applicant shall produce a certificate entitling him to practice a system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted, as provided in this act or any preceding practice act of the state of California, issued either by the medical examining board, or by any other board or officer authorized by the law to issue a certificate entitling such applicant to practice a system or mode for treating the sick or afflicted either in the District of Columbia or in any state or territory of the United States, or if such certificate shall have been lost, then a copy thereof, with proof satisfactory to the board of medical examiners of the state of California that the copy is a correct copy. Said certificate must not have been issued to such applicant prior to the first day of August, 1901, and the requirements from the college from which such applicant may have graduated, and the requirements of the board which was legally authorized to issue such certificate permitting such applicant to practice a system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted shall not have been at the time such certificate was issued, in any degree or particular less than those which were required for the issuance of a similar certificate to practice a system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted in the state of California at the date of the issuance of such certificate, or which may hereafter be required by law and which may be in force at the date of the issuance of any such certificate; and provided, further, that said applicant shall furnish from the board which issued said certificate, evidence satisfactory to the board of medical examiners of the state of California showing what the requirements were of the college and of the board, issuing such certificate at the date of such issuance. If, after an examination of such certificate, and the production on the part of the applicant of such further reasonable evidence of the said requirements as may be deemed necessary by the board of medical examiners of the state of California and any other or further examination or investigation which said board may see fit to make on its own part, it shall be found that the requirements of the board issuing such certificate were, when said certificate was issued, in any degree or particular less than the requirements provided by the law of the state of California at the date of the issuance of such certificate or that the applicant has not been a resident of the state from which the application is based for a period of one year subsequent to the issuance of such certificate he will not be entitled to practice within the state of California without an examination. An oral examination shall not be deemed to be of equal merit with a written examination and no certificate shall be issued in the case where a written examination was given in California and an applicant was given an oral examination in another state at the same time. The board is hereby authorized to enter into a contract or contracts of reciprocity with other states wherein the standard of such states is not in any degree or particular less than were the requirements in the state of California in the same year, for the issuance of a certificate to practice a system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted, such certificate to be similar in scope of practice as the certificate issued in the other state; provided, however, that an application based upon a certificate to practice any system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted issued in the District of Columbia or in any state or territory prior to March 4, 1907, if refused or denied by reason of the insufficiency of the standard of such state or territory then such applicant may have the privilege of either a written or oral examination before the board at the option of the applicant. Any person may file an application with the said board to practice medicine and surgery within the state of California, in the event that such applicant has been duly licensed prior to August 1, 1901, and has practiced medicine and surgery in another state or territory, or the District of Columbia, for a period of time commencing prior to the first day of August, 1901. Such application shall be verified and shall contain a statement showing: (a) the full name of the applicant; (b) all institutions at which he has studied and the period of such study, and all institutions from which he has graduated; (c) a statement of whatever certificate or certificates to practice medicine and surgery may have been issued to him, together with the date of such certificate and a description of the same, and, if required by the board, the certificates themselves, or satisfactory proof of their issuance; (d) a statement of all places in which said applicant has practiced medicine and surgery; (e) such other general information as to his past practice, as may be required by the said board. The said board shall make such independent investigation of the character, ability and standing of the applicant as it may deem proper and necessary, and if it shall find after such investigation that said applicant has been a practicing physician and surgeon in any other state or territory or the District of Columbia, prior to August 1, 1901, and prior to said last-named date has been duly licensed so to practice, and that his reputation as such physician and surgeon is good in the community in which he has so practiced medicine and surgery, and has been a resident of his last state of residence for a period of one year prior to date of filing his application in the state of California, they shall afford him an examination on a day suiting the convenience of the board not more than six months subsequent to the presentation of said application. Said examination shall be oral, practical, and clinical in nature, and full consideration shall be given to the duration and character of the applicant's practice. If after such last-mentioned examination it is determined by a majority vote of the said medical examiners conducting said examination, that such applicant is so qualified to practice medicine and surgery within the state of California, and that his reputation and standing in the community in which he has previously practiced is good, the said applicant shall be entitled to receive a "physician and surgeon certificate." Each applicant on making such application shall pay to the secretary of the board, a fee of one hundred dollars, which shall be paid to the treasurer of the board, of which sum ninety dollars shall be returned to him should he not receive a certificate hereunder. All certificates issued pursuant to this section shall be marked across the face thereof "reciprocity certificate." Any person granted a "reciprocity certificate" to practice any system or mode for treating the sick or afflicted recognized by this or any preceding medical practice act in this state, such certificates not being of equal scope with the certificates known and designated as the "physician and surgeon certificate," will not be eligible for the "physician and surgeon certificate" as designated in this act without a full and complete compliance with the terms and provisions of sections nine, ten and eleven hereof.

§ 14. Refusal of certificate for unprofessional conduct. Refusal to obey subpoena. Revocation of certificate for unprofessional conduct. Said board must refuse a certificate to any applicant guilty of unprofessional conduct. On the filing with the secretary of a sworn complaint, charging the applicant with having been guilty of unprofessional conduct, the secretary must forthwith issue a citation, under the seal of the board, and make the same returnable at the next regular session of said board, occurring at least thirty days next after filing the complaint. Such citation shall notify the applicant when and where the charges of said unprofessional conduct will be heard, and that the applicant shall file his written answer, under oath, within twenty days next after the service on him of said citation or that default will be taken against him and his application for a certificate refused. The attendance of witnesses at such hearing may be compelled by subpoenas issued by the secretary of the board under its seal. Said citation and said subpoenas shall be served in accordance with the statutes of this state then in force as to the service of citation and subpoenas generally, and all the provisions of the statutes of this state then in force relating to subpoenas and to citations are hereby made applicable to the subpoenas and citations provided for herein. Upon the secretary's certifying to the fact of refusal of any person to obey a subpoena or citation to the superior court of the county in which the service was had, said court shall thereupon proceed to hear said matter in accordance with the statutes of this state then in force as to contempts for disobedience of process of the court, and should said court find that the subpoena or citation has been legally served, and that the party so served has willfully disobeyed the same, it shall proceed to impose such penalty as provided in cases of contempt of court. In all cases of alleged unprofessional conduct, arising under this act, depositions of witnesses may be taken, the same as in civil cases and all the provisions of the statutes of this state then in force as to the taking of depositions are hereby made applicable to the taking of depositions under this act. If the applicant shall fail to file with the secretary of said board his answer, under oath, within twenty days after service on him of said citation, or within such further time as the board may allow, and the charges on their face shall be deemed sufficient by the board, default shall be entered against him, and his application refused. If the charges on their face be deemed sufficient by the board, and issue be joined thereon by answer, the board shall proceed to determine the matter, and to that end shall hear such proper evidence as may be adduced before it; and if it appear to the satisfaction of the board that the applicant is guilty as charged, no certificate shall be issued to him. Whenever any holder of a certificate herein provided for is guilty of unprofessional conduct, as the same is defined in this act, and the said unprofessional conduct has been brought to the attention of the board granting said certificate, in the manner hereinafter provided or whenever a certificate has been procured by fraud or misrepresentation, or issued by mistake, or the person holding such certificate is found to be practicing contrary to the provisions thereof and of this act, it shall be the duty of said board either to suspend the right of the holder of said certificate to practice for a period not exceeding one year, or in its discretion to revoke his certificate. In the event of such suspension, the holder of such certificate shall not be entitled to practice thereunder during the term of suspension; but, upon the expiration of the term of said suspension, he shall be reinstated by the board and shall be entitled to resume his practice, unless it shall be established to the satisfaction of the board that said person so suspended from practice, has, during the term of such suspension, practiced in the state of California, in which event the board shall revoke the certificate of such person. No such suspension or revocation shall be made unless such holder is cited to appear and the same proceedings are had as is hereinbefore provided in this section in case of refusal to issue certificates. Said secretary in all cases of suspension or revocation shall enter on his register the fact of such suspension or revocation, as the case may be, and shall certify the fact of such suspension or revocation under the seal of the board, to the county clerk of the counties in which the certificates of the person whose certificate has been revoked is recorded; and said clerk must thereupon write upon the margin or across the face of his register of the certificate of such person, the following: "The holder of this certificate was on the —— day of —— suspended for ——," or, "This certificate was revoked on the —— day of ——," as the case may be, giving the day, month and year of such revocation or length of suspension, as the case may be, in accordance with said certification to him by said secretary. The record of such suspension or revocation so made by said county clerk shall be prima facie evidence of the fact thereof, and of the regularity of all the proceedings of said board in the matter of said suspension or revocation. The words "unprofessional conduct" as used in this act, are hereby declared to mean:

First—The procuring or aiding or abetting or attempting or agreeing or offering to procure a criminal abortion.

Second—The willfully betraying of a professional secret.

Third—All advertising of medical business which is intended or has a tendency to deceive the public or impose upon credulous or ignorant persons, and so be harmful or injurious to public morals or safety.

Fourth—All advertising of any medicine or of any means whereby the monthly periods of women can be regulated or the menses re-established if suppressed.

Fifth—Conviction of any offense involving moral turpitude in which case the record of such conviction shall be conclusive evidence.

Sixth—Habitual intemperance or excessive use of cocaine, opium, morphine, codeine, heroin, alpha eucaine, beta eucaine, novocaine or chloral hydrate or any of the salts, derivatives or compounds of the foregoing substances or the prescribing, selling, furnishing, giving away or offering to prescribe, sell, furnish, or give away such substances to a habitue who is not under the direct personal and continuous treatment and care of the physician for the cure of the above-mentioned drugs.

Seventh—The personation of another licensed practitioner or permitting or allowing another person to use his certificate in the practice of any system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted.

Eighth—The use, by the holder of any certificate, in any sign or advertisement in connection with his said practice or in any advertisement or announcement of his practice, of any fictitious name, or any name other than his own.

Ninth—The use by the holder of a "drugless practitioner certificate" of drugs or what are known as medicinal preparations, in or upon any human being, or the severing or penetrating by the holder of said "drugless practitioner certificate" of the tissues of any human being in the treatment of any disease, injury, deformity, or other physical or mental condition of such human being, excepting the severing of the umbilical cord.

Tenth—Advertising, announcing or stating, directly, indirectly, or in substance, by any sign, card, newspaper, advertisement or other written or printed sign or advertisement, that the holder of such certificate or any other person, company, or association by which he is employed or in whose service he is, will cure or attempt to cure, or will treat, any venereal disease, or will cure or attempt to cure or treat any person or persons for any sexual disease, for lost manhood, sexual weakness, or sexual disorder or any disease of the sexual organs; or being employed by, or being in the service of, any person, firm, association, or corporation so advertising, announcing or stating.

Eleventh—The use by the holder of any certificate of any letter, letters, word, words, or term or terms used either as prefix or affix or suffix indicating that such certificate holder is entitled to practice a system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted for which he was not licensed in the state of California.

Twelfth—The employment of "cappers" or "steerers" or other persons in procuring practice for a practitioner for a system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted provided for in this act.

Thirteenth—The certificate issued herein for the practice of midwifery may be revoked when it appears to the satisfaction of the board that in any case or cases that the licentiate may have treated, that due caution and circumspection was not used or that the holder of said certificate in its treatment of any case or cases had not used proper aseptic and antiseptic precautions.

Fourteenth—The certificate to practice midwifery herein may be revoked upon conviction for the violation of any health statute, order or ordinance or for the neglect or refusal to comply with the health rules and regulations of any state, county, city and county, city or township.

Fifteenth—The certificate issued herein for the practice of midwifery may be revoked for the treatment by any midwife in any case of labor in which case there is a complicated vertex presentation in which said licentiate did not call or attempt to call a licentiate licensed to practice a system including the practice of obstetrics under this act or any preceding medical practice act in this state.

Sixteenth—The certificate issued herein for the practice of midwifery may be revoked for a failure to refer to a licentiate under this act or any preceding act in the state of California licensed to practice a system including obstetrics, a case which during pregnancy has, or develops any of the following conditions: a contracted pelvis or other deformity that will interfere with labor; bleeding from the uterus; swelling of the face and hands; excessive vomiting; persistent headache; dimness of vision; convulsions; or for failure to call or summons a physician if any of the following conditions exist or develop at the beginning of or during labor: Complicated presentation of a vertex (head); convulsions, excessive bleeding; prolapse of the cord; a swelling or tumor that obstructs the birth of the child; signs of exhaustion or collapse; unduly prolonged labor; or the failure to refer to a licentiate in this act or any preceding act in the state of California licensed to practice a system including obstetrics, a case, which during the lying-in period, develops the following conditions: Convulsions; excessive bleeding; foul smelling discharge (lochia); persistent rise of temperature to one hundred one degrees Fahrenheit for twenty-four hours; swelling and redness of the breasts; severe chill (rigor) with rise of temperature; inability to nurse the child; or for a failure to refer to a licentiate under this act or any preceding act in the state of California licensed to practice a system including obstetrics, a case where the child has or develops any of the following conditions: Deformities or malformations or injuries; inability to suckle or nurse; inflammation around or discharge from the navel; swelling and redness of the eyelids with a discharge of pus from the eyes (opthalmia neonatorum); bleeding from the mouth, navel or bowels; inability to urinate.

Seventeenth—The certificate issued herein for the practice of midwifery may be revoked for the treatment by the said midwife licentiate known as the introduction of the hand into the vagina or uterus to remove placenta or membranes.

Eighteenth—The certificate issued herein for the practice of midwifery may be revoked for the failure to have the following equipment (in each case): Nail brush; wooden or bone nail cleaner; jar of green or soft castile soap; rubber gloves; tube of sterile vaseline; clinical thermometer; agate or glass douche reservoir; two rounded vaginal douche nozzles; two rectal nozzles, large and small; one soft rubber catheter; blunt scissors for cutting cord; either lysol, carbolic acid or bichloride of mercury tablets; boric acid powder; one per cent solution of nitrate of silver; medicine dropper; narrow tape or soft twine for tying cord; absorbent cotton (preferably in one-quarter pound packages); no other instruments are to be used, owned or possessed by a midwife. [Amendment approved April 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 109.]

§ 15. Certificates to be recorded. Every person holding a certificate under the laws of this state authorizing him to practice any system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted in this state must have it recorded in the office of the county clerk of the county or counties in which the holder of said certificate is practicing his profession, and the fact of such recordation shall be indorsed on the certificate by the county clerk recording the same. Any person holding a certificate as aforesaid, who shall practice or attempt to practice any system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted in this state, without having first filed his certificate with the county clerk, as herein provided, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished as hereinafter designated in this act. [Amendment approved April 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 113.]

§ 17. Practice without license. Penalty. Any person who shall practice or attempt to practice, or who advertises or holds himself out as practicing, any system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted in this state, or who shall diagnose, treat, operate for, or prescribe for, any disease, injury, deformity, or other mental or physical condition of any person, without having at the time of so doing a valid unrevoked certicate as provided in this act, or who shall in any sign or in any advertisement use the word "doctor," the letters or prefix "Dr.," the letters "M.D.," or any other term or letters indicating or implying that he is a doctor, physician, surgeon or practitioner, under the terms of this or any other act, or that he is entitled to practice hereunder, or under any other law without having at the time of so doing a valid unrevoked certificate as provided in this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished as designated in this act. [Amendment approved April 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 114.]

§ 18. Penalty for selling certificate. Altering of certificate. Practice under false name. Records of associates of practitioner. Any person, or any member of any firm, or official of any company, association, organization or corporation shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable as designated in this act, who, individually or in his official capacity, shall himself sell or barter, or offer to sell or barter, any certificate authorized to be granted hereunder, or any diploma, affidavit, transcript, certificate or any other evidence required in this act for use in connection with the granting of certificates or diplomas, or who shall purchase or procure the same either directly or indirectly with intent that the same shall be fraudulently used, or who shall with fraudulent intent alter any diploma, certificate, transcript, affidavit, or any other evidence to be used in obtaining a diploma or certificate required hereunder or who shall use or attempt to use fraudulently any certificate, transcript, affidavit, or diploma, whether the same be genuine or false, or who shall practice or attempt to practice any system or treatment of the sick or afflicted, under a false or assumed name, or any name other than that prescribed by the board of medical examiners of the state of California on its certificate issued to such person authorizing him to administer such treatment, or who shall assume any degree or title not conferred upon him in the manner and by the authority recognized in this act, with intent to represent falsely that he has received such degree or title, or who shall willfully make any false statement on any application for examination, license or registration under this act, or who shall engage in the treatment of the sick or afflicted without causing to be displayed in a conspicuous manner and in a conspicuous place in his office the name of each and every person who is associated with or employed by him in the practice of medicine and surgery or other treatment of the sick or afflicted, or who shall, within ten days after demand made by the secretary of the board, fail to furnish to said board the name and address of all such persons associated with or employed by him or by any company or association with which he is or has been connected at any time within sixty days prior to said notice, together with a sworn statement showing under and by what license or authority said person or persons, or said employee or employees, is or are, or has or have been practicing medicine or surgery, or any other system of treatment of the sick or afflicted. It shall be the duty of any person or persons upon whom the board of medical examiners may make a demand for the name or names and address or addresses of a person or persons associated or employed by him or them to make affidavit that there are no such person or persons associated or employed by him or them, if such be the fact; provided, that such affidavit shall not be used as evidence against said person or employee in any proceedings under this action. [Amendment approved April 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 114.]

§ 24. Title of act. Penalties. Disposition of fines. This act when referred to, cited or amended may be designated as the state medical practice act, and for a violation of any provision of this act, the said violator shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, unless otherwise specifically provided in this act, and shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than six hundred dollars or by imprisonment for a term of not less than sixty days nor more than one hundred eighty days or by both such fine and imprisonment. The fines or forfeitures of bail in any case wherein any person is charged with a violation of the provisions of this act shall be paid upon the collection by the proper officer of the court seventy-five per cent thereof to the state treasurer to be deposited to the credit of the contingent fund of the board of medical examiners and such payment to said treasurer shall be made without placing such fine or forfeiture of bail in any special or contingent or general fund of any county, city and county, city, or township. The balance or twenty-five per cent of such fines or forfeitures of bail shall be paid to the county wherein the case is pending. [New section added April 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 115.]

TITLE 343.

MILITARY COMPANIES

ACT 2203.

An act creating a state defense guard, providing for its control and compensation, prescribing its duties and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved May 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1279. In effect immediately.]

§ 1. State defense guard created. There is hereby created a state defense guard to be composed of such number of companies, not exceeding ten, each of which shall be composed of not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred men as the governor shall, in either case, determine. The governor, as soon as he deems it necessary for the public welfare, shall appoint one captain, one lieutenant, and such subordinate officers for each company of such state defense guard as he may authorize to be enrolled, shall designate the number of men to constitute each such company, and may, within the limit above specified, thereafter, in his discretion, increase or decrease the number of such companies and of the membership thereof.

§ 2. Membership. Examination. Oath. Membership in the state defense guard shall be confined to male citizens of the United States of not less than thirty years, nor more than fifty years of age. Each applicant for appointment in the state defense guard must pass an examination as to his physical and mental qualifications, such examination to be held by the adjutant-general, based upon standards to be established by him. Appointments under this act shall be exempt from the provisions of the civil service act. Before entering upon the discharge of his duties, each member of the state defense guard shall take the following oath:

"I do solemnly swear that I will support the constitution and laws of the United States and the state of California and strictly and faithfully perform the duties of member of the state defense guard of the state of California to the best of my ability."

§ 3. Constituted peace officers. Duties. The members of the state defense guard are hereby constituted peace officers and invested with all powers conferred by law upon peace officers in this state, and shall have and exercise such powers in any part of this state. It shall be the duty of all members of the state defense guard strictly to enforce the laws of this state, and to perform such duties as the governor shall direct.

§ 4. Exclusive control of governor. The state defense guard shall be subject to the exclusive control and direction of the governor, or of the adjutant-general acting under the direction of the governor. The governor may in his discretion at any time demote, suspend or discharge any member of the state defense guard, and a suspended member shall not be entitled to salary during the period of such suspension.

§ 5. Adjutant-general ex-officio superintendent. The adjutant-general of the state shall be ex-officio superintendent of the state defense guard, and shall keep all files and records pertaining thereto and shall make rules and regulations for its government and control. He shall prescribe suitable uniforms, arms, equipment and means of transportation and, with the approval of the state board of control, shall purchase so much and such articles thereof as he may deem necessary to supplement any part of such equipment to be provided, at their individual expense, by the members of such state defense guard. The adjutant-general shall perform such other duties in connection with the state defense guard as the governor directs.

§ 6. Salaries. The salary of the members of the state defense guard shall be as follows: Each captain, one thousand six hundred dollars per annum; each lieutenant, one thousand three hundred fifty dollars per annum; each sergeant, one thousand two hundred twenty dollars per annum; corporals and other members, one thousand eighty dollars per annum. The salary of all members of the state defense guard shall be paid at the time and in the same manner as state officers.

§ 7. Penalty for refusal to pay order. Any member of the state defense guard willfully failing or refusing to obey any lawful order or direction of the governor shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail not less than one month nor more than six months.

§ 8. Appropriation. For the purposes of this act the sum of one million dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated. Claims against such appropriation shall be approved by the adjutant-general and, when so approved, shall be audited and paid in the manner provided by law.

§ 9. In effect when. This act shall be in force and effect only during the existence of war between the United States and any foreign nation.

§ 10. Not used in strikes. The state defense guard shall not be used in connection with strikes or other industrial disputes.

§ 11. Urgency measure. A state of war now existing between the United States and the imperial German government, this act is declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace and safety and shall take effect upon its approval by the governor.

TITLE 345.

MINES AND MINING.

ACT 2213b.

An act establishing and creating a department of the state mining bureau for the protection of the natural resources of petroleum and gas from waste and destruction through improper operations in production; providing for the appointment of a state oil and gas supervisor; prescribing his duties and powers; fixing his compensation; providing for the appointment of deputies and employees; providing for their duties and compensation; providing for the inspection of petroleum and gas wells; requiring all persons operating petroleum and gas wells to make certain reports; providing procedure for arbitration of departmental rulings; creating a fund for the purposes of the act; providing for assessment of charges to be paid by operators and providing for the collection thereof; and making an appropriation for the purposes of this act.

Amended June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1586.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 2. State mineralogist's compensation. Secretary's added compensation. Supervisor's salary. For his services in the general supervision of said department, the state mineralogist shall receive as compensation one thousand four hundred dollars annually which shall be in addition to his compensation fixed in section two of the act of June 16, 1913, relating to the state mining bureau.

The secretary of the state mining bureau shall receive for his services in connection with the department of petroleum and gas, a sum not to exceed six hundred dollars annually, which sum shall be in addition to his compensation paid from the funds of the state mining bureau.

The supervisor shall receive an annual salary of six thousand dollars, and shall be allowed his necessary traveling expenses. The state mineralogist may, at the request of the state oil and gas supervisor, and subject to the civil service laws of the state, appoint one chief clerk at a salary of not to exceed one thousand eight hundred dollars annually; twelve office assistants or stenographers each at a salary of not to exceed one thousand two hundred dollars annually; four geological draftsmen each at a salary not to exceed one thousand five hundred dollars annually; four petroleum engineers each at a salary not to exceed two thousand four hundred dollars annually; twelve inspectors each at a salary not to exceed one thousand eight hundred dollars annually.

The additional salary herein authorized to be paid to the state mineralogist and the secretary of the state mining bureau and the salaries of the supervisor and of the deputies, clerks, stenographers, assistants and other employees shall be paid out of the funds hereinafter provided for at the times and in the manner that salaries of other state officers and employees are paid. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1586.]

of the districts hereinafter provided for and prescribe their duties and fix their compensation, which shall not exceed four thousand dollars per annum for the chief deputy and not to exceed three thousand six hundred dollars per annum for each field deputy. Such deputies shall serve during the pleasure of the supervisor. He shall also employ an attorney at a compensation not exceeding three thousand dollars per year, payable out of said fund, who shall also be attorney for each district board of commissioners; such commissioners may allow additional compensation to such attorney in actual litigation. The supervisor, the deputies and the attorney shall not be subject to the civil service act. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1587.]

§ 5. Qualifications. Each deputy appointed by the supervisor shall be a competent engineer or geologist, experienced in the development and production of petroleum. At the time said deputy is appointed, notice of such appointment shall be transmitted in writing to the board of commissioners of the district for which said deputy is appointed. Said notice shall be given either personally or by mailing a notice of said appointment to the postoffice address of each commissioner. No appointment shall be final until a period of ten days shall have elapsed from the mailing of said notice to said commissioners. In the event of the majority of the commissioners notify said oil and gas supervisor in writing before the expiration of ten days from the date of said notice that the appointment of said field deputy is disapproved by them, then and in that event said field deputy shall not be appointed but said oil and gas supervisor must appoint some other individual as in this section provided. Each field deputy shall maintain an office in the district for which he is appointed, convenient of access to the petroleum and gas operators therein. The office shall be open and the deputy shall be present at certain specified times which shall be posted at such office. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1587.]

§ 7. Records open to inspection. The records of any and all operators, when filed with the deputy supervisor as hereinafter provided, shall be open to inspection to those authorized in writing by such operators, to the state officers, and to the board of commissioners hereinafter provided for. Such records shall in no case other than those hereinafter and in this section provided, be available as evidence in court proceedings and no officer or employee or member of any board of commissioners shall be allowed to give testimony as to the contents of said records, except at such court proceedings as are hereinafter provided for in the review of the decision of the state oil and gas supervisor, or a board of commissioners, or in any proceedings initiated for the enforcement of an order of the supervisor, or any proceeding initiated for the enforcement of a lien created by this act, or any proceeding for the collection of the assessment levied under and pursuant to the provisions of this act or in criminal proceedings arising out of such records, or the statements upon which they are based. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1588.]

to protect the petroleum and gas deposits from damage by underground water, to the best interests of the neighboring property owners, and the public at large.

The order shall be in written form, signed by the supervisor, and shall be served upon the owner of the well, or the local agent appointed by such owner, either personally or by mailing a copy of said order to the postoffice address given at the time the local agent is designated, or if no such local agent has been designated, by mailing a copy of said order to the last known postoffice address of said owner, or if the owner be unknown by posting a copy of said order in a conspicuous place upon the property, and publishing the same in some newspaper of general circulation throughout the county in which said well is located, once a week for two successive weeks.

Said order shall specify the condition sought to be remedied and the work necessary to protect such deposits from damage from underground waters. For this purpose each operator or owner shall designate an agent, giving his postoffice address, who resides within the county where the well or wells are located, upon whom all orders and notices provided for in this act may be served. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1588.]

§ 9. Owner's objections. The well owner or his local agent may within ten days from the date of service of any order from the supervisor, file with the supervisor or his deputy in the district where the property is located, a statement that the supervisor's order is not acceptable and that appeal from said order is taken to the board of commissioners. Such appeal shall operate as a stay of any order issued under or pursuant to the provisions of this act. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1588.]

§ 10. State divided into five districts. District oil and gas commissioners elected. Elections. Term of office. Eligibility. Chairman. Deputies. Expenses. Recall. Procedure. Vacancies. Advice from supervisors. For the purposes of this act the state shall be divided into five districts, as follows:

District No. 1, including the counties of Los Angeles, Riverside, Orange, San Diego, Imperial and San Bernardino.

District No. 2, the county of Ventura.

District No. 3, including the counties of Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo, Monterey, Santa Cruz, San Benito, Santa Clara, Contra Costa, San Mateo, Alameda and San Francisco.

District No. 4, including the counties of Tulare, Inyo and Kern.

District No. 5, including the counties of Fresno, Madera, Kings, Mono, Mariposa, Merced and all other counties in California not included in any of said other districts.

There shall be elected at the times and in the manner hereinafter provided, district oil and gas commissioners for each such district, as follows:

For district number one, five; for district number two, five; for district number three, five; for district number four, seven; for district number five, five.

Said district oil and gas commissioners shall be elected by vote of the companies, individuals, copartnerships or associations, who shall have been assessed, and whose names shall appear upon the last record of assessments (next preceding such election) for and on account of the fund in this act provided to be raised, within said districts respectively, said vote to be taken at a meeting to be held in each of said districts respectively, and on the third Monday in September of each year, such place and the time and details of such meeting to be fixed by the state oil and gas supervisor, and of which meeting at least two weeks previous notice shall have been given by letter addressed to each of said persons, corporations, copartnerships and associations, entitled to vote as aforesaid, at his or its postoffice address or principal place of business.

At said meeting each of those entitled to vote as herein provided may be represented by one person holding the written authority of such voter to act for him at such meeting.

At said meeting each voter shall be entitled to one vote for each member of the board of district oil and gas commissioners who are required to be selected for such district. In addition thereto, in each district in which five commissioners are to be elected, each voter shall be entitled, for each one hundred dollars, or fraction thereof, which said voter shall have paid in accordance with his last assessment hereunder, to cast one vote for the two commissioners who are elected for three years; and in each district in which seven commissioners are to be elected, each voter shall be entitled, for each one hundred dollars, or fraction thereof, which said voter shall have paid in accordance with his last assessment hereunder, to cast one vote for the three commissioners who are elected for three years. In all subsequent elections the qualification of voters in the election of a commissioner shall be the same as in the election of the commissioner whose successor in office is being elected.

Said meeting shall select by ballot, by a majority vote of the votes represented, the number of persons as hereinbefore specified to act as district oil and gas commissioners for such district.

In any district entitled to seven commissioners, two shall be chosen for a term of one year, two for two years and three for three years. In any district entitled to five commissioners, one shall be chosen for a term of one year, two for two years and two for three years.

The chairman and secretary of the meeting shall issue a written certificate to the state oil and gas supervisor, setting forth the result of such election, and the name and address of each of the persons elected at said meeting as the district oil and gas commissioners for said district and the term for which each has been elected. No person shall be eligible as a district oil and gas commissioner who is not a resident of the district for which he is elected, nor shall any person be eligible for such position who is not actually engaged in the business of oil or gas development or production, within the district.

Upon receipt of the certificate so made by the chairman and secretary of any such meeting, the state oil and gas supervisor shall issue a certificate of election to the respective persons in said certificate named as the district oil and gas commissioners for said district, and for the periods of one, two or three years from and after the first Monday in October, 1917, as shall be shown in such certificate, and until their respective successors shall have been elected.

Within thirty days after their appointment by the state oil and gas supervisor, the district oil and gas commissioners for each district shall meet at a time and place within the district to be designated by the state oil and gas supervisor, and shall thereupon select one of the number as chairman.

The deputy supervisor of the district shall be ex-officio secretary of said board, and shall keep a record of its proceedings, and his office shall be the office of the commissioners.

Said commissioners shall serve without compensation, except their necessary traveling expenses. The traveling expenses of said commissioners and all actual expenses incurred by or under order of said commissioners in the hearing and determination and carrying out of orders appealed to them, shall be certified to said state supervisor, and when audited by him and by the state board of control shall be paid from said fund.

On the third Tuesday in September of each year at an hour and places in said respective districts to be fixed by the state oil and gas supervisor, and of which notices shall have been given as hereinbefore specified, the successor of each of the district oil and gas commissioners whose term of appointment shall expire that year, shall be elected and qualified in the manner and subject to the provisions hereinbefore set forth, and the term of each shall be for a period of three years from and after the first Monday in October next succeeding.

All, either or any of the district oil and gas commissioners elected in any district may be recalled by the votes of a majority of the qualified votes of the district entitled to vote as to such commissioners respectively. In case there shall be filed in the office of the state oil and gas supervisor, a written petition, signed by not less than forty per cent of those entitled to vote as to the election of any commissioner or commissioners, asking the recall of such commissioner or commissioners, said state oil and gas supervisor shall, within ten days thereafter, order and give notice of a special election in such district to fill the office or offices of the commissioner or commissioners named in said petition for recall; and shall cause notice to be given of said election in the manner, and for the time required for regular election, and said notice shall fix the time and place of such election.

At such election, the commissioner or commissioners named in such petition for recall shall be voted upon as though candidates for election for the unexpired portion of the term for which they, respectively, were originally elected, and any other candidate or candidates may, at the same time, be voted upon. It shall require a majority of all the qualified votes entitled to vote for such commissioners, respectively, to constitute an election. In case less than a majority of all qualified votes shall be cast for any candidate, said recall shall be deemed to have failed as to the commissioner concerning whose office such vote was taken; and in case such commissioner himself shall receive a majority of the votes, said recall shall be deemed to have failed, and in either of such cases, such commissioner shall continue to serve until the expiration of his term as though no such special election had been held. But in case any person other than such commissioner shall receive a majority of the votes for such unexpired term, then such recall shall become effective, and the office of the commissioner so recalled shall be vacant and upon written certificate of such election being filed with the state oil and gas supervisor, the person so chosen and elected for such unexpired term shall become the successor of the commissioner so recalled, and a certificate of his election for such unexpired term shall be issued and transmitted to him by the state oil and gas supervisor. And like proceedings shall be had in case more than one commissioner shall be included in said petition for recall.

In all recall elections, qualifications for voters and the number of votes which they will be entitled to cast shall be the same as they respectively were in the election of the commissioner as to whom such recall election is being held.

In case of vacancy caused by the death, resignation or removal from district or ceasing to be engaged in the business of development or production of oil or gas in the district as to the office of any commissioner, such vacancy shall be filled until the next annual election by the state oil and gas supervisor, who shall appoint to fill such vacancy an eligible person, nominated in writing by the remaining commissioners of such district.

Upon any subject in which any commissioner is personally interested, or upon which any corporation, copartnership, association or individual by whom he is employed is directly interested as a party, such commissioner shall not be entitled to sit or vote.

The board of commissioners shall be entitled to call upon the supervisor for advice, and written report upon any matter referred to the board of commissioners, and the supervisor shall be entitled to call meetings of the commissioners at the office of the field supervisor, upon five days' written notice, to obtain their written advice upon any matters relating to his work within their district. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1589.]

§ 11. Investigation upon complaint. Upon receipt by the supervisor or deputy supervisor of a written complaint specifically setting forth the condition complained against, signed by a person, firm, corporation or association owning land or operating wells within a radius of one mile of any well or group of wells complained against, or upon the written complaint specifically setting forth the condition complained against, signed by any one of the board of commissioners for the district in which said well or group of wells complained against is situated, the supervisor must make an investigation of said well or wells and render a written report stating the work required to repair the damage complained of, or stating that no work is required. A copy of said order must be delivered to the complainant, or if more than one, each of said complainants, and if the supervisor order the damage repaired, a copy of such order shall be delivered to each of the owners, operators or agents having in charge the well or wells upon which the work is to be done. Said order shall contain a statement of the conditions sought to be remedied or repaired and a statement of the work required by the supervisor to repair such condition. Service of such copies shall be made by mailing to such persons at the postoffice address given. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1592.]

§ 12. Oaths and subpoenas. Depositions. Refusal to comply with order, etc., misdemeanor. In any proceeding before the board of commissioners as herein provided, or in any other proceeding or proceedings instituted by the supervisor for the purpose of enforcing or carrying out the provisions of this act, or for the purpose of holding an investigation to ascertain the condition of any well or wells complained of, or which in the opinion of the supervisor may reasonably be presumed to be improperly drilled, operated, maintained or conducted, the supervisor and the chairman of the board of commissioners shall have the power to administer oaths and may apply to a judge of the superior court of the state of California, in and for the county in which said proceeding or investigation is pending, for a subpoena for witnesses to attend at said proceeding or investigation. Upon said application of said supervisor or said chairman of said board of commissioners, said judge of said superior court must issue a subpoena directing said witness to attend said proceeding or investigation; provided, however, that no person shall be required to attend upon such proceeding, either with or without such books, papers, documents or accounts unless residing within the same county or within thirty miles of the place of attendance. But the supervisor or the chairman of the board of commissioners may in such case cause the depositions of witnesses residing within or without the state to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for like depositions in civil actions in superior courts of this state, and to that end may, upon application to a judge of the superior court of the county within which said proceeding or investigation is pending, obtain a subpoena compelling the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers and documents at such places as he may designate within the limits hereinbefore prescribed. Witnesses shall be entitled to receive the fees and mileage fixed by law in civil causes, payable from the fund hereinafter created. In case of failure or neglect on the part of any person to comply with any order of the supervisor as hereinbefore provided, or any subpoena, or upon the refusal of any witness to testify to any matter regarding which he may lawfully be interrogated, or upon refusal or neglect to appear and attend at any proceeding or hearing on the day specified, after having received a written notice of not less than ten days prior to such proceeding or hearing, or upon his failure, refusal or neglect to produce books, papers or documents as demanded in said order or subpoena upon such day, such failure, refusal or neglect shall constitute a misdemeanor and each day's further failure, refusal or neglect shall be and be deemed to be a separate and distinct offense, and it is hereby made the duty of the district attorney of the county in which said proceeding, hearing or investigation is to be held, to prosecute all persons guilty of violating this section by continuous prosecution until such person appears or attends or produces such books, papers or documents or complies with said subpoena or order of the supervisor or chairman of the board of commissioners. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1594.]

§ 13. Decision of board. Within ten days after hearing the evidence, the board of commissioners must make a written decision with respect to the order appealed from and in case the same is affirmed or modified, shall retain jurisdiction thereof until such time as the work ordered to be done by such order shall be finally completed. This written decision shall be served upon the owner or his agent and shall supersede the previous order of the supervisor. In case no written decision be made by said board of commissioners within thirty days after the date of notice by the supervisor as provided in section ten hereof, the order of the supervisor shall be effective and subject only to review by writ of certiorari from the superior court as provided in section fourteen hereof. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1594.]

§ 14. Commencement of work. Review of decision. Extent of review. Lien enforced. On or before thirty days after the date of serving an order of the supervisor, provided for in section eight hereof, or in case of appeal to the board of commissioners, on or before thirty days after date of serving the decision of the board, as provided in sections 12 and 13 hereof, or in the event review be taken of the order of the board of commissioners within ten days after affirmance of such order, the owner shall commence in good faith the work ordered and continue until completion. If the work has not been so commenced and continued to completion, the supervisor shall appoint agents as he deems necessary who shall enter the premises and perform the work. Accurate account of such expenditures shall be kept and the amount paid from the fund hereinafter created upon the warrant of the state controller. Any amount so expended shall constitute a lien against the property upon which the work is done. The decision of the board of commissioners in such case may be reviewed by writ of certiorari from the superior court of the county in which the district is situated, if taken within ten days after the service of the order upon said owner, operator or agent of said owner or operator as herein provided; or within ten days after decision by the board of commissioners upon petitions by the supervisor. Such writ shall be made returnable not later than ten days after the issuance thereof and shall direct the district board of oil and gas commissioners to certify their record in the cause to such court. On the return day the cause shall be heard by the court unless for good cause the same be continued, but no continuance shall be permitted for a longer period than thirty days. No new or additional evidence shall be introduced in the court before the cause shall be heard upon the record of the district board of oil and gas commissioners. The review shall not be extended further than to determine whether or not—

1. The commission acted without or in excess of its jurisdiction.
2. The order, decision or award was procured by fraud.
3. The order, decision, rule or regulation is unreasonable.
4. The order, decision, regulation or award is clearly unsupported by the evidence.

If no review be taken within ten days, or if taken in case the decision of the board is affirmed, the lien upon the property shall be enforced in the same manner as the other liens on real property are enforced, and shall first be enforced against the owner of the well, against the operator and against the personal property and fixtures used in the construction or operation thereof, and then if there be any deficiency against the land upon which the work is done, upon the request of the supervisor, the state controller must, in the manner provided in section forty-four of this act, bring an action for the enforcement of said lien. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1594.]

§ 15. Wells to be cased. Shut-off test. It shall be the duty of the owner of any well now drilled, or that may be drilled in the state of California, on lands producing or reasonably presumed to contain petroleum or gas, to properly case such well or wells with metal casing, in accordance with methods approved by the supervisor, and to use every effort and endeavor in accordance with the most approved methods to effectually shut off all water overlying or underlying the oil or gas-bearing strata, and to effectually prevent any water from penetrating such oil or gas-bearing strata.

Whenever it appears to the supervisor that any water is penetrating oil or gas-bearing strata, he may order a test of water shut off and designate a day upon which the same shall be held. Said order shall be in written form and served upon the owner of said well at least ten days prior to the day designated in said order as the day upon which said shut-off test shall be held. Upon the receipt of such order it shall be the duty of the owner to hold said test in the manner and at the time prescribed in said order. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats 1917, p. 1594.]

§ 16. Abandonment of well. It shall be the duty of the owner of any well referred to in this act, before abandoning the same, or before removing the rig, derrick or other operating structure therefrom, or removing any portion of the casing therefrom, to use every effort and endeavor in accordance with methods approved by the supervisor, to shut off and exclude all water from entering oil-bearing strata encountered in the well. Before any well is abandoned the owner shall give written notice to the supervisor, or his local deputy, of his intention to abandon such well and of his intention to remove the derrick or any portion of the casing from such well and the date upon which such work of abandonment or removal shall begin. The notice shall be given to the supervisor, or his local deputy, at least five days before such proposed abandonment or removal. The owner shall furnish the supervisor, or his deputy with such information as he may request showing the condition of the well and proposed method of abandonment or removal. The supervisor, or his deputy, shall before the proposed date of abandonment or removal, furnish the owner with a written order of approval of his proposal or a written order stating what work will be necessary before approval to abandon or remove will be given. If the supervisor shall fail within the specified time to give the owner a written order such failure shall be considered as an approval of the owner's proposal to abandon the well, or to remove the rig or casing therefrom. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1596.]

§ 17. Notice of intention to drill. The owner or operator of any well referred to in this act shall, before commencing the work of drilling an oil or gas well, file with the supervisor, or his local deputy, a written notice of intention to commence drilling. Such notice shall also contain the following information: (1) Statement of location and elevation above sea level of the floor of the proposed derrick and drill rig; (2) the number or other designation by which such well shall be known, which number or designation shall not be changed after filing the notice provided for in this section, without the written consent of the supervisor being obtained therefor; (3) the owner's or operator's estimate of the depth of the point at which water will be shut off, together with the method by which such shut-off is intended to be made and the size and weight of casing to be used; (4) the owner's or operator's estimate of the depth at which oil or gas producing sand or formation will be encountered.

After the completion of any well the provisions of this section shall also apply, as far as may be, to the deepening or redrilling of any well, or any operation involving the plugging of any well or any operations permanently altering in any manner the casing of any well; and provided, further, that the number or designation by which any well heretofore drilled has been known, shall not be changed without first obtaining a written consent of the supervisor. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1596.]

§ 18. Drilling log. Prospect wells. It shall be the duty of the owner or operator of any well referred to in this act, to keep a careful and accurate log of the drilling of such well, such log to show the character and depth of the formation passed through or encountered in the drilling of such well, and particularly to show the location and depth of the water-bearing strata, together with the character of the water encountered from time to time (so far as ascertained) and to show at what point such water was shut off, if at all, and if not, to so state in such log, and show completely the amounts, kinds and size of casing used, and show the depth at which oil-bearing strata are encountered, the depth and character of same, and whether all water overlying and underlying such oil-bearing strata was successfully and permanently shut off so as to prevent the percolation or penetration into such oil-bearing strata; such log shall be kept in the local office of the owner or operator, and together with the tour reports of said owner or operator, shall be subject, during business hours, to the inspection of the supervisor, or any of this deputies, or any of the commissioners of the district, except in the case of a prospect well as hereinafter defined. Upon the completion of any well, or upon the suspension of operations upon any well, for a period of six months if it be a prospect well, or for thirty days, if it be in proven territory, a copy of said log in duplicate, and in such form as the supervisor may direct, shall be filed within ten days after such completion, or after the expiration of said thirty-day period with the field supervisor, and a like copy shall be filed upon the completion of any additional work in the deepening of any such well.

The state oil and gas supervisor shall determine and designate what wells are prospect wells within the meaning of this act and no reports shall be required from such prospect wells until six months after the completion thereof.

The owner or operator of any well drilled previous to the enactment of this act shall furnish to the supervisor or his deputy a complete and correct log in duplicate and in such form as the supervisor may direct, or his deputy, of such well, so far as may be possible, together with a statement of the present condition of said well. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1597.]

§ 19. Notice of shut-off test. It shall be the duty of the owner or operator of any well referred to in this act to notify the deputy supervisor of the time at which the owner or operator shall test the shut-off of water in any such well. Such notice shall be given at least five days before such test. The deputy supervisor or an inspector designated by the supervisor shall be present at such test and shall render a report in writing of the result thereof to the supervisor, a duplicate of which shall be delivered to the owner. If any test shall be unsatisfactory to the supervisor he shall so notify the owner or operator in said report and shall within five days after the completion of such test, order additional tests of such work as he deems necessary to properly shut off the water in such well and in such order shall designate a day upon which the owner or operator shall again test the shut-off of water in any such well, which day may, upon the application of the owner, be changed from time to time in the discretion of the deputy supervisor. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1597.]

§ 20. Statement of oil produced. It shall be the duty of every person, association or corporation producing oil in the state of California, to file with the supervisor, at his request but not oftener than once in each month, a statement showing amount of oil produced during the period indicated from each well, together with its gravity and the amount of water produced from each well, estimated in accordance with methods approved by the supervisor, and the number of days during which fluid was produced from each well, the number of wells drilling, producing, idle or abandoned, owned or operated by said person, association or corporation; provided, that, upon request and satisfactory showing a longer interval may be fixed by the state oil and gas supervisor as to such reports in the case of any specific owner or operator.

This information shall be in such form as the supervisor may designate. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1598.]

§ 21a. Primary interest of state. The charges hereinafter provided for are directed to be levied by the state of California as necessary in the exercise of its police power and to provide a means by which to supervise and protect deposits of petroleum and gas witin the state of California, in which deposits the people of the state of California are hereby declared to have a primary and supreme interest. [New section added June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1598.]

§ 22. Charges for support of department. Charges levied, assessed and collected as hereinafter provided upon the properties of every person, firm, corporation or association operating any well or wells for the production of petroleum in this state, or operating any well or wells for the production of natural gas in this state which gas wells are situate on lands situate within two miles, as near as may be, of any petroleum or gas well the production of which is chargeable under this act, shall be used exclusively for the support and maintenance of the department of petroleum and gas hereinbefore created, and shall be asssed and levied by the state mineralogist, and collected in the manner hereinafter provided. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1598.]

§ 24. Annual charge on gas. Every person, firm, corporation or association operating any gas well or wells in this state shall annually pay a charge to the state treasurer based upon the amount of gas sold in the preceding calendar year, at a fixed rate per thousand cubic feet, at the times and in the manner hereinafter provided, based upon a verified report as herein provided. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1599.]

§ 27. Estimate of moneys required. The state mineralogist shall annually, on or before the first Monday in March, acting in conjunction with the state board of control, make an estimate of the amount of moneys which shall be required to carry out the provisions of this act. At the time of making such estimate, the state mineralogist shall report to the state board of control the amount of money in the petroleum and gas fund on the day such estimate is made, less the amount of money necessary for the support of the department of petroleum and gas for the remainder of the fiscal year, and the amount of such estimate shall in no event exceed the difference between the amount thus determined as remaining in the petroleum and gas fund at the end of the fiscal year and the sum of one hundred fifty thousand dollars. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1599.]

§ 31. Penalty. Any person, firm, corporation or association failing or refusing to make or furnish any report which may be required pursuant to the provisions of this act, or who willfully renders a false or fraudulent report, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of not less than three hundred dollars, nor more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or both such fine and imprisonment for each such offense. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1599.]

§ 33. Determination of rate. On or before the third Monday before the first Monday in July of each year, the state mineralogist shall determine the rate or rates which shall produce the sums necessary to be raised as provided in section twenty-seven of this act. Within the same time the said state mineralogist shall extend into the proper column of the record of assessments hereinafter provided for, the amount of charges due from each person, firm, corporation or association. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1599.]

§ 36. Notice of assessment published. On the third Monday before the first Monday in July of each year the state mineralogist shall cause to be published a notice, one or more times, in a daily, or weekly, or semi-weekly newspaper of general circulation published in the counties of Fresno, Kern, Los Angeles, Orange, Ventura and Santa Barbara, and such other counties as may contain lands or produce oil or gas charged under and pursuant to the terms and provisions of this act, if one be published therein, otherwise in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county nearest to such county designated herein in which no such paper is published, that the assessment of property and levy of charges under and in pursuance of this act has been completed and that the records of assessments containing the charges due will be delivered to the state controller on the first Monday in July, and that if any person, firm, corporation or association is dissatisfied with the assessment made or charge fixed by the state mineralogist, he or it may, at any time before said first Monday in July, apply to said board of review, correction and equalization to have the same corrected in any particular. The said board shall have the power at any time before said first Monday in July to correct the record of assessments and may increase or decrease any assessment or charge therein if in its judgment the evidence presented or obtained warrants such action. Costs of such publication in any county shall be paid from the petroleum and gas fund; provided, however, that the omission to publish said notice as hereinbefore and in this section provided, shall not affect the validity of any assessment levied under or pursuant to the provisions of this act. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1600.]

§ 37. Record of assessments and charges. The state mineralogist must prepare each year a book in one or more volumes, to be called the "Record of assessments and charges for the petroleum and gas fund," in which must be entered, either in writing or printing, or both writing and printing, each assessment and levy or charge made by him upon the property provided to be assessed and charged under this act, describing the property assessed, and such assessments may be classified and entered in such separate parts of said record as said state mineralogist shall prescribe. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1600.]

§ 38. Record delivered to controller. On the first Monday in July the state mineralogist must deliver to the state controller the record of assessments and charges for the petroleum and gas fund, certified to by said state mineralogist, which certificate shall be substantially as follows: " I, ——, state mineralogist, do hereby certify that between the first Monday in March and the first Monday in July, 19—, made diligent inquiry and examination to ascertain all property and persons, firms, corporations and associations subject to assessment for the purpose of the petroleum and gas fund as required by the provisions of the act of legislature approved June 10, 1915, providing for the assessment and collection of charges for oil protection; that I have faithfullly complied with all the duties imposed upon me by law; that I have not imposed any unjust or double assessment through malice or ill will, or otherwise; nor allowed any person, firm, corporation or association or property to escape a just assessment or charge through favor or regard, or otherwise." But the failure to subscribe such certificate to such record of assessments and charges for oil protection, or any certificate, shall not in any manner affect the validity of any assessment or charge. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1600.]

§ 40. Publication of controller's notice. Within ten days after the receipt of the record of assessments and charges for oil protection, the state controller must begin the publication of a notice to appear daily for five days, in one daily newspaper of general circulation published in each of the counties of Fresno, Kern, Los Angeles, Orange, Ventura and Santa Barbara, and such other counties as may contain lands or produce oil or gas charged under or pursuant to the terms and provisions of this act, if one be published therein, otherwise for at least two times in a weekly or semi-weekly paper of general circulation published therein, or if there be neither a daily nor weekly nor semi-weekly paper of general circulation published in any one of such counties, then the publication of the notice for such county shall be made in a similar manner in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county nearest such county, specifying: (1) That he has received from the state mineralogist the record of assessments and charges for oil protection; (2) that the charges therein assessed and levied are due and payable on the first Monday in July and that one-half thereof will be delinquent on the sixth Monday after the first Monday in July at six o'clock P. M., and that unless paid to the state treasurer at the capital prior thereto, fifteen per cent will be added to the amount thereof, and unless paid prior to the first Monday in February next thereafter at six o'clock P. M., an additional five per cent will be added to the amount thereof; and that the remaining one-half of said charges will become delinquent on the first Monday in February next succeeding the day upon which they become due and payable, at six o'clock P. M. and if not paid to the state treasurer at the capital prior thereto, five per cent will be added to the amount thereof. Costs of such publication in any county shall be paid from the petroleum and gas fund. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1601.]

§ 41. Assessments constitute lien. The assessments and charges levied under the provisions of this act shall contitute a lien upon all the property of every kind and nature belonging to the persons, firms, corporations and associations assessed under the provisions hereof, which lien shall attach on the first Monday in March of each year. Such lien shall be enforced and said charges collected by an action by the state controller as provided in section forty-four of this act. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1601.]

§ 42. Charges paid to state treasurer. All charges assessed and levied under the provisions of this act shall be paid to the state treasurer upon the order of the state controller. The controller must mark the date of payment of any charge on the record of assessments for the petroleum and gas fund and shall give a receipt for such payment in such form as the controller may prescribe. Errors appearing upon the face of any assessment on said record of assessments or overcharges may be corrected by the controller by and with the consent of the state board of control, in such manner and at such time as said controller and said board shall agree upon. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1602.]

§ 43. Action to recover damages. Procedure. Failure to bring action. Any person, firm, corporation or association claiming and protesting as herein provided that the assessment made or charges assessed against him or it by the state mineralogist is void, in whole or in part, may bring an action against the state treasurer for the recovery of the whole or any part of such charges, penalties or costs paid on such assessment, upon the grounds stated in said protest, but no action may be brought later than the third Monday in February next following the day upon which the charges were due, nor unless such person, firm, corporation or association shall have filed with the state controller at the time of payment of such charges, a written protest stating whether the whole assessment or charge is claimed to be void, or if a part only, what part, and the grounds upon which such claim is founded, and when so paid under protest the payment shall in no case be regarded as voluntary.

Whenever, under the provisions of this section, an action is commenced against the state treasurer, a copy of the complaint and of the summons must be served upon the treasurer, or his deputy. At the time the treasurer demurs or answers, he may demand that the action be tried in the superior court of the county of Sacramento, which demand must be granted. The attorney employed by the state oil and gas supervisor must defend such action; provided, however, the said mineralogist may at the request of the said oil and gas supervisor employ additional counsel, the expense of which employment shall be paid from the petroleum and gas fund. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to pleadings, proofs, trials and appeals are applicable to the proceedings herein provided for.

A failure to begin such action within the time herein specified shall be a bar against the recovery of such charges. In any such action the court shall have the power to render judgment for the plaintiff for any part or portion of the charge, penalties, or costs found to be void and so paid by plaintiff upon such assessment. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1602.]

§ 44. Action to collect delinquent charges. Procedure. The state controller shall, on or before the thirtieth day of May next following the delinquency of any charge as provided in this act, bring an action in a court of competent jurisdiction, in the name of the people of the state of California, in the county in which the property assessed is situated, to collect any delinquent charges or assessments, together with any penalties or costs, which have not been paid in accordance with the provisions of this act and appearing delinquent upon the records of assessments and charges for the petroleum and gas fund in this action provided for.

The attorney for the state oil and gas supervisor shall commence and prosecute such action to final judgment and the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to service of summons, pleadings, proofs, trials and appeals are applicable to the proceedings herein provided for. The state mineralogist may employ additional counsel to assist the attorney for the state oil and gas supervisor, and the expense of such employment shall be paid from the petroleum and gas fund.

Payments of the penalties and charges, or amount of the judgment recovered in such action must be made to the state treasurer. In such actions the record of assessment and charges for oil protection, or a copy of so much thereof as is applicable in said action, duly certified by the controller showing unpaid charges against any person, firm, corporation or association assessed by the state mineralogist is prima facie evidence of the assessment upon the property, the delinquency, the amount of charges, penalties, and costs due and unpaid to the state, and that the person, firm, corporation or association is indebted to the people of the state of California in the amount of charges and penalties therein appearing unpaid and that all forms of law in relation to the assessment of such charges have been complied with. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1603.]

§ 46. Petroleum and gas fund. All the moneys heretofore paid to the state treasurer under or pursuant to the provisions of this act and deposited to the credit of the oil protection fund, shall be withdrawn from said fund, which is hereby abolished, and deposited to the credit of the petroleum and gas fund which is hereby created. All of the moneys hereafter paid to the state treasurer under or pursuant to the provisions of this act shall be deposited to the credit of the petroleum and gas fund. All moneys in such fund shall be expended under the direction of the state mineralogist, drawn from such fund for the purpose of this act upon warrants drawn by the controller of the state, upon demands made by the state mineralogist, and audited by the state board of control. Of the moneys in said petroleum and gas fund, when such action has been authorized by the state board of control, the state mining bureau may withdraw, without at the time furnishing vouchers and itemized statements, a sum not to exceed five hundred dollars, said sum so drawn to be used as a revolving fund where cash advances are necessary. At the close of each fiscal year, or at any other time, upon demand of the board of control, the moneys so drawn shall be accounted for and substantiated by vouchers and itemized statements submitted to and audited by the board of control. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1603.]

§ 47. Repair work. All moneys received in repayment of repair work done under the order and direction of the supervisor as hereinbefore provided, shall be returned and credited to the petroleum and gas fund. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1604.]

§ 48. Supervisor's annual report. On or before the first day of October of each and every year the supervisor shall submit a report in writing to the state mineralogist showing the total number of barrels of petroleum produced in each county in the state during the previous calendar year, together with the total cost of said department for the previous fiscal year and the net amount remaining in the petroleum and gas fund available for the succeeding fiscal year's expense, also the total amount delinquent and uncollected from any assessments or charges levied under or pursuant to the provisions of this act. Such report shall also include such other information as the supervisor may deem advisable. The state mineralogist shall make public such statements promptly after receipt of the same from the supervisor for the benefit of all parties interested therein. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1604.]

§ 49. Certificate showing names of persons claiming interest. The owner or operator of any lands or tenements subject to assessment under this act shall, within six months after this act goes into effect, file with the supervisor a certificate which shall contain the names of all the parties claiming an interest in or to said lands and full description of the property and the names of all parties in interest where such interest is held by lease, license or assignment. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1604.]

An act to establish a uniform system of mine bell signals, to be used in all mines operated in the state of California, and for the protection of miners. [Approved March 8, 1893. Stats. 1893, p. 82.]

Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 434.

TITLE 356.

MONTEREY COUNTY.

ACT 2317.

An act to provide for the accomplishment of the work of constructing a breakwater in Monterey Bay, California, as recommended in the report of the chief of engineers, United States army, and printed in a document of the United States house of representatives, No. 1084, sixty-first congress, third session, calling for an expenditure of eight hundred thousand dollars and making an appropriation for such work. [Approved March 15, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 371.]

This act appropriated $200,000 for the purpose indicated, conditional upon the United States government taking charge of the work and appropriating not less than $200,000 for the work.

TITLE 360.

MOTOR VEHICLES.

ACT 2331b.

An act to regulate the use and operation of vehicles upon the public highways and elsewhere; to provide for the registration and identification of motor vehicles and for the payment of registration fees therefor; to provide for the licensing of persons operating motor vehicles; to prohibit certain persons from operating vehicles upon the public highways; to prohibit the possession or use of a motor vehicle without the consent of the owner thereof; and to prohibit the offer to or acceptance by certain persons of any bonus or discount or other consideration for the purchase of supplies or parts for motor vehicles, or for work or repair done thereon; to provide penalties for violations of provisions of this act, and to provide for the disposition of fines and forfeitures imposed thereon; to limit the power of local authorities to enact or enforce ordinances, rules or regulations in regard to matters embraced within the provisions of this act; to provide for the disposition of registration and license fees, fines and forfeitures collected hereunder; to create a motor vehicle department and to provide for the organization and conduct thereof; to provide for carrying out the objects of this act, and to make appropriation therefor; and to repeal all acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act.

[Approved May 10, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 397.]

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 382.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Words and phrases defined. The words and phrases used in this act shall for the purposes of this act, unless the same be contrary to or inconsistent with the context, be construed as follows: (1) "motor vehicle" shall include all vehicles propelled otherwise than by muscular power, except trailers and such vehicles as run upon stationary rails or tracks; (2) "automobile" shall include all motor vehicles excepting motorcycles; (3) "motorcycle" shall include all motor vehicles designed to travel on not more than three wheels in contact with the ground, and of not exceeding ten horse-power, and of not exceeding the weight of five hundred pounds unladen; provided, however, that any motor vehicle which shall be operated on the public highway drawing a trailer shall be deemed to be an automobile for all the purposes of this act; and provided, further, that for the purposes of this act a trailer shall be deemed to be any vehicle which is at any time drawn upon the public highway by a motor vehicle, excepting any implements of husbandry temporarily drawn, propelled or moved upon such highway; (4) "highway" shall include any public highway, county road, state highway or state road, public street, avenue, alley, park, parkway, driveway, square or place, bridge, viaduct, trestle, or any other territory or structure, whether public or private, designed, intended or used by or for the general public for the passage of vehicles, in any county, or incorporated city and county, city or town within the state of California; (5) "business district" shall mean the territory of any county or incorporated city and county, city or town, contiguous to a public highway, which is on the line of said highway mainly built up with structures devoted to business; provided, that the local authorities having charge of such highway shall have placed conspicuously thereon at the boundary lines of such business district, signs of sufficient size to be easily readable by a person using the highway, bearing the words "business district—slow down to fifteen miles an hour," and also an arrow pointing in the direction of said business district; (6) "closely built up" shall mean the territory of any county or incorporated city and county, city or town, contiguous to a public highway, which is on the line of said highway not mainly devoted to business, where for not less than a quarter of a mile the dwelling-houses and business structures on such highway average less than one hundred feet apart; provided, that the local authorities having charge of such highway shall have placed conspicuously thereon at the boundary lines of such district, signs of sufficient size to be easily readable by a person using the highway, bearing the words "speed limit twenty miles an hour," and also an arrow pointing in the direction of said closely built up district; (7) "local authorities" shall include all boards of supervisors, trustees or councils, commissions, committees, and other public officials of counties, incorporated cities and counties, cities or towns, or municipal or quasi-municipal corporations when such officials possess or exercise legislative or police powers; (8) "chauffeur" shall mean any person who operates an automobile in the transportation of persons and who receives any compensation for such service in wages, commission or otherwise, paid directly or indirectly, or who as owner or employee operates an automobile carrying passengers for hire; provided, however, that this definition shall not include manufacturers' agents, proprietors of garages and dealers, salesmen, mechanics, or demonstrators of automobiles in the ordinary course of their business; (9) the term "state" as used in this act, except where otherwise expressly provided, shall also include the territories, federal districts and insular possessions of the United States; (10) "nonresidents" shall mean residents of states or countries other than the state of California whose sojourn in this state, or whose occupation of their regular place of abode or business in this state, if any, covers a total period of less than three months in the calendar year; (11) "owner" shall include any person, firm, association, or corporation, having the lawful use or control, or the right to the use or control, of a vehicle, under a lease or otherwise, for a period of ten or more successive days; (12) "manufacturer" or "dealer" shall signify a person, firm, association, or corporation regularly in the business of having in his, its or their possession vehicles for sale or trade and for use and operation pursuant thereto, and shall be considered owners of vehicles manufactured or dealt in by them for the purposes of this act, prior to sale and delivery thereof, and of all vehicles in their possession and operated or driven by them or by their employees; provided, however, that anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, the determination of the motor vehicle department shall be final and conclusive upon the question whether or not an applicant for registration shall be a manufacturer or dealer within the meaning and intent of this act; (13) "garage" shall mean every place of business where motor vehicles are received for housing, storage or repair, for compensation; (14) "intersecting highway" shall mean any highway which joins another at an angle, whether or not it crosses the other; (15) "operator" shall mean any person other than a chauffeur who operates a motor vehicle and any person who operates, rides, drives or propels any vehicle other than a motor vehicle; (16) "person" shall include any corporation, association, copartnership, company, firm, or other aggregation of individuals; and where the term "person" is used in connection with the registration of a vehicle, it shall include any corporation, association, copartnership, company, firm, or other aggregation of individuals which owns or controls such vehicle as actual owner, or for the purpose of sale or for renting, whether as agent, salesman, or otherwise; (17) "department" as used in this act shall mean the motor vehicle department of California, acting directly or through its duly authorized agent; (18) "vehicle" shall include every wagon, hack, coach, carriage, omnibus, bicycle, tricycle, automobile, cyclecar, motorcycle, truck, trailer, traction engine, tractor, or other conveyance or contrivance for moving persons, animals or things, in whatever manner and by whatever force or power the same may be ridden, driven, propelled, drawn or moved, which is ridden, driven, propelled, drawn or moved on the public highway, including implements of husbandry temporarily drawn, propelled or moved on the public highway, and excepting only conveyances drawn or propelled by pedestrians, and railroad, street or interurban cars, engines and motors moving upon stationary rails or tracks; (19) the city and county of San Francisco shall be considered a county; (20) "net receipts" shall signify the balance remaining of the money paid to the department in conformity with the provisions of this act after the payment of all salaries, expenses and refunds incident to the administration and enforcement of this act; (21) "specially constructed" motor vehicle shall mean a motor vehicle which shall not have been originally constructed under a distinctive name, make, model or type by a generally recognized manufacturer of motor vehicles; provided, that in case of dispute the determination of said department as to the character of construction of any such motor vehicle shall be conclusive; (22) "reconstructed motor vehicle" shall mean a motor vehicle which shall have been assembled or constructed largely by means of essential parts, new or used, derived from other motor vehicles or makes of motor vehicles of various names, models or types, or which, if originally otherwise constructed, shall have been materially altered by the removal of essential parts or by the addition or substitution of essential parts, new or used, derived from other motor vehicles or makes of motor vehicles; provided, that for the purpose of this act the term "essential parts" shall include not only integral parts but also body parts, such as fenders, hood, cowl, and other parts the removal, alteration or substitution of which will tend to conceal the identity or substantially alter the appearance of the motor vehicle; and provided, further, that in case of dispute the determination of said department as to the character of such assembly, reconstruction or alteration shall be conclusive; (23) "imported motor vehicle" shall mean any motor vehicle which shall be brought into the state from another country or state otherwise than in the ordinary course of business by or through a manufacturer or dealer, and which has not been registered in this state, except such motor vehicles, owned by nonresidents, as are provided for by section twenty-seven of this act; (24) "highway commission" shall mean the appointed members of the advisory board of the department of engineering of the state of California. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 382.]

§ 3. Application for registration. Determination of horse-power. Imported motor vehicle. Trailers. Every owner of a motor vehicle which shall be operated or driven upon the public highways shall, for each motor vehicle owned, except as herein otherwise expressly provided, cause to be filled, by mail, or otherwise, with the department an application for registration on a blank to be furnished by said department for that purpose, containing, in addition to such other particulars as may be required by said department, a statement of the name and postoffice address of the applicant, a description of such motor vehicle, including the name of the maker, the number, if any, affixed to the motor or engine by the maker, the character of the motive power, and the diameter of the cylinder bore and the number of cylinders; and with such application the applicant shall deposit the proper registration fee as provided in section seven of this act; provided, that for all the purposes of this act the horse-power of any motor vehicle, except electric or steam-driven vehicles, shall be determined by the formula commonly known as that of the Association of Licensed Automobile Manufacturers (A. L. A. M.), being as follows: square the diameter of the cylinder in inches, multiply by the number of cylinders, and divide by two and five-tenths; provided, further, that for the purposes of this act the horse-power of any steam-driven motor vehicle shall be the horse-power rating fixed and advertised by the manufacturer thereof; provided, further, that in case the motor vehicle sought to be registered shall be a specially constructed or a reconstructed motor vehicle, that fact must be stated by the applicant in his application for registration and he shall furnish the department on demand such additional information relating to said motor vehicle as shall be satisfactory to the department before it may register such vehicle; and provided, further, that in case the motor vehicle sought to be registered shall be an imported motor vehicle, within the meaning of this act, that fact must be stated by the applicant in his application for registration, and he shall furnish the department on demand such additional information relating to said motor vehicle as shall be satisfactory to the department before it may register such vehicle, and in case such vehicle shall have been theretofore registered in any other state or country, the applicant shall with his original application for registration supply the department with full information relating to such former registration and shall surrender to the department any number plates, seals, certificates of registration or other evidences of such former registration as may be in the applicant's possession or control. Every owner of a trailer or trailers which shall be drawn upon a public highway when any such trailer shall exceed one ton in weight shall cause to be filed by mail or otherwise, with the department, an application for registration on a blank to be furnished by said department for that purpose, containing in addition to such other particulars as may be required by said department, a statement of the name and postoffice address of the applicant, and with such application the applicant shall deposit the proper registration fee, as provided in section seven of this act. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 385.]

§ 4. Registration. Record posted. Upon the receipt by the department of an application for registration of a motor vehicle or trailer or trailers accompanied by the fee required by section seven of this act, the department shall file such application and if satisfied that the applicant is entitled to registration of said vehicle or vehicles as the owner thereof within the meaning of this act, and if all fees theretofore payable to the department in connection with the registration, or any renewal thereof, of said vehicle or vehicles shall have been duly paid, shall alphabetically, and also numerically, register such motor vehicle or trailer or trailers with the name and postoffice of the owner, together with the facts stated in such application, in a book or on index cards to be kept for the purpose, under a distinctive number assigned to such motor vehicle or trailer or trailers by the department, which book or index cards shall be open to inspection by the public during reasonable business hours. A full record of all motor vehicle registration shall be posted daily by the department upon a bulletin-board so located so as to be easily accessible to the public, and no information relative to any such registrations shall be made public by any employee of the department in advance of such posting. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 386.]

§ 5. Numbers. Upon the filing of such application and the payment of the fee provided in this act, the department shall upon registration assign to such motor vehicle or trailer or trailers a distinctive registration number. Such number so assigned shall be the number assigned to such motor vehicle at each succeeding registration thereof so long as such motor vehicle shall be owned by the owner to whom the original assignment was made, and upon sale or transfer of such motor vehicle, said number may be canceled or may be reassigned as an original assignment to the same or another motor vehicle, at the option of said department, subject to the provisions hereinafter contained. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 387.]

§ 6. Annual registration. Such registration shall be renewed annually in the same manner and upon payment of the same fee as provided for original registration, such renewal to take effect on the first day of January of each year. The seals and certificates of registration furnished by the said department as provided hereinafter shall be valid during the calendar year only in which they are furnished or issued. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 387.]

§ 7. Fees. Chauffeurs. Period less than one year. The following fees shall be paid to the department upon the registration of a vehicle in accordance with the provisions of this act and shall accompany the application hereinabove provided for: For the registration of every motorcycle, two dollars; for the registration of every automobile, except electric automobiles, the sum of forty cents for each horse-power, or major fraction thereof, according to the formula specified in section three of this act; for the registration of every motor vehicle equipped with other than pneumatic tires and used for commercial purposes, weighing under four thousand pounds unladen, five dollars in addition to the fees provided herein for horse-power rating or for electric motor vehicles; for every such vehicle weighing four thousand pounds and over and less than six thousand pounds unladen, ten dollars in addition to the fees provided herein for horse-power rating or for electric motor vehicles; for every such vehicle, weighing six thousand pounds and over and less than ten thousand pounds unladen, fifteen dollars in addition to the fees provided herein for horse-power rating or for electric motor vehicles; for every such vehicle weighing ten thousand pounds and over unladen, twenty dollars in addition to the fees provided herein for horse-power rating or for electric motor vehicles; for the registration of every electric motor vehicle, five dollars; for the registration of motor vehicles owned by or under the control of a manufacturer of, or dealer in, motor vehicles, if such person operates upon the public highways not more than five automobiles, twenty-five dollars, and two dollars for every automobile in excess of five so operated, including the necessary number plates; for the registration of the motorcycles owned by or under the control of a manufacturer of, or dealer in motorcycles, and who does not operate upon the public highway more than five motorcycles, five dollars, and one dollar for every motorcycle in excess of five so operated, including the necessary number plates; for every registration number plate for trailers, two dollars; for the original license of every chauffeur, two dollars, and for each annual renewal thereof one dollar; for every additional number plate furnished to replace such plates as have been lost or mutilated or which are illegible, one dollar, which shall include seal; for every seal or registration certificate furnished to replace such as have been lost or mutilated or which are illegible, fifty cents.

Anything herein to the contrary notwithstanding, if application for the registration of a motor vehicle or for an original chauffeur's license is made during the period beginning on the first day of April and ending on the thirtieth day of June, in any year, three-fourths of the annual fee shall be paid; if application is made during the period beginning on the first day of July and ending on the thirtieth day of September, one-half of such annual fee; if application is made during the period beginning on the first day of October and ending on the thirty-first day of December, one-fourth of such annual fee. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 387.]

§ 8. Number plates furnished. Registration seal. Certificate of registration. Plates, etc., furnished without charge. Transfer of ownership. Joint statement. New registration. Person not intending to operate. Rebate. Unsafe motor vehicle or trailer. The department shall furnish to every person whose motor vehicle or trailer or trailers shall be registered as aforesaid, on original registration, one number plate for motorcycles and trailers; and two number plates for automobiles, the same to have displayed upon them the registration number assigned to such vehicle, together with the abbreviation "Cal.," and to have space provided thereon to which may be attached each year the registration seal to be furnished by the department as hereinafter provided; provided, however, that number plates furnished for trailers and for such motor vehicles as are exempted by section two of this act from the payment of the fees in this act prescribed shall contain suitable distinguishing marks or symbols, and the numbers assigned in such cases shall run in different numerical series from the numbers assigned to other vehicles registered under the provisions of this act; and provided, further, anything to the contrary in this act notwithstanding, that it shall not be necessary to apply for registration of implements of husbandry temporarily drawn, moved or otherwise propelled upon the public highway, nor shall it be necessary for the department to assign any distinguishing numbers to such implements of husbandry or to furnish number plates for display thereon. Said department shall furnish with each number plate, and on each annual renewal of registration, a registration seal together with screws or other means of attachment to the number plate, the form and character of which seal shall be uniform for any one calendar year, such seal to be changed by the department as to design or color or both, from year to year. Said seal shall bear the identical number shown on the number plate to which it is to be attached and also the calendar year for which it is issued and it shall be valid only for such year. The department shall also furnish with each number plate for motorcycles and with each pair of number plates for automobiles, and on each annual renewal of registration, a certificate of registration which shall contain upon the face thereof the following data: The name of the registered owner of the motor vehicle, his postoffice address, the make of the vehicle, the year model denoted by the manufacturer, the model or letter denoted by the manufacturer, if any, the engine or motor number, the registered horse-power, the registration number and the amount of annual registration fee, together with the date of issue of the certificate. In case of motorcycles, the manufacturer's serial number shall be stated in lieu of the engine number. Such certificate shall contain a blank space for the signature of the registered owner. The reverse side of said certificate shall contain forms (a) for notice to the department by the registered owner, in case of transfer of ownership, as hereinafter required, and (b) for application to the department by the transferee, in case of transfer of said motor vehicle, for registration thereof in his name, said application to be in the form of a joint statement to be signed by both transferor and transferee and to contain, in addition to such other particulars as may be required by said department, a statement of the postoffice address of the transferee so applying for registration. Said certificate shall contain the identical registration number denoted on the number plate or plates and seal in connection with which such certificate is issued, and it shall be valid only for the calendar year in which it is issued. Said certificate shall be inclosed in a suitable container, to be furnished by the department, such container to have a frame of aluminum or other metal and to have a cover of isinglass or other transparent material, through which such certificate can be easily inspected, and with such container said department shall furnish screws or other suitable means of attachment to the motor vehicle. Said number plates, seals, certificates and containers shall be furnished by the department without further charge than the fees specified in section seven of this act, with transportation prepaid, and shall be of substantial character and suitable form and design, to be determined by the department.

Upon the transfer of ownership of any motor vehicle its registration shall expire and the person in whose name such vehicle is registered shall forthwith (a) file with the department a notice, upon the form furnished by the department and attached to the certificate of registration, containing the date of such transfer of ownership and the name and postoffice address of the transferee, and, (b) subject to the provisions hereinafter contained, return the registration number plate or plates and seal, transportation prepaid, to the department. In the case of such transfer of ownership of any motor vehicle or in case of loss of possession thereof, the registered owner, provided that he applies to the department within ten days after such transfer or loss of possession, may have assigned to another motor vehicle the registration number of the motor vehicle so transferred or lost; provided, further, that in such case of transfer and application for reassignment to another motor vehicle, the number plate or plates and seals may be retained for a period of ten days after such transfer, and if application for such reassignment shall have been made within said period they may be further retained until the department has either duly reassigned said number in accordance with said application or has refused said application for reassignment and has canceled said number and demanded surrender of said plate or plates and seals.

Upon the transfer of ownership of any motor vehicle, the person in whose name such vehicle is registered and the person to whom ownership of such vehicle is to be transferred shall forthwith join in a statement of said transfer indorsed upon the reverse side of the certificate of registration of said motor vehicle in the space provided for said purpose, which statement shall be signed by the transferrer in the manner and form of his signature contained on the face of said certificate and which statement shall likewise be signed by the transferee, who shall also set forth below his signature his postoffice address. Said statement shall include an application by the transferee for registration of said vehicle in his name. Said certificate so indorsed and bearing upon the reverse side thereof the signatures of the transferrer and transferee, shall be forwarded by the transferee to the department together with the proper fee for registration required by section seven of this act. The department shall file said certificate so jointly indorsed by transferrer and transferee and upon receipt of the proper fee as above provided the department, if satisfied of the genuineness and regularity of said transfer, shall register said motor vehicle in the name of said transferee and may cancel the former registration number or assign the same to the same or another motor vehicle, at the option of the department, subject to the other provisions of this act. Upon such registration the department shall issue and forward to the applicant without further charge than as provided in section seven of this act, a new registration certificate in the manner and form as hereinabove provided for original registration. Until said transferee has received said certificate of registration and has written his name upon the face thereof in the blank space provided for said purpose by the department, delivery of said motor vehicle shall be deemed not to have been made and title thereto shall be deemed not to have passed and said intended transfer shall be deemed to be incomplete and not to be valid or effective for any purpose; provided, that where such transfer is made to a manufacturer or dealer to whom has been assigned a general distinguishing number and who intends to resell or otherwise retransfer said vehicle a certificate of registration shall be furnished without charge to him; it shall be in a distinctive form and shall bear such manufacturer's or dealer's general distinguishing number, whereupon such manufacturer or dealer shall be entitled to display upon such vehicle number plates assigned to him by the department bearing said general distinguishing number; but upon sale or transfer of said vehicle by such manufacturer or dealer, each and every provision herein contained relative to the return of such certificate to the department with the joint statement of transferer and transferee indorsed thereon, as well as other provisions applicable upon transfer of motor vehicles, shall be complied with. In case of a transfer of a motor vehicle to such manufacturer or dealer without the removal therefrom by the transferee of the number plates and seals, the manufacturer or dealer shall forthwith deliver to the department, transportation prepaid, said number plates and seals. In case of transfer of ownership of a motor vehicle, registered under the provisions of this act, by operation of law, as upon inheritance, devise or bequest, order in bankruptcy or insolvency, execution sale, repossession upon default in performance of the terms of a lease or executory sales contract or otherwise than by the voluntary act of the registered owner, the notice of transfer as well as the joint statement hereinabove provided for shall be signed by the executor, administrator, receiver, trustee, sheriff, or other representative or successor in interest of the registered owner in lieu of such owner, and the transferee's application for registration shall be accompanied by a statement of the special facts in the premises; provided, that the department may in its discretion require from the transferee, before registering such motor vehicle, such additional information respecting such involuntary loss of ownership by the former registered owner as may be satisfactory to the department.

Anything to the contrary hereinabove notwithstanding, upon the transfer of ownership of any motor vehicle to a person not intending either to operate the same or to cause or permit the same to be operated upon the public highways and not intending to transfer such motor vehicle to another person, a statement by said transferee of such fact or intent shall accompany the application for registration, in which case no fee for registration need be paid by the applicant, but the registration number plates and seals, if not retained by the transferrer, shall be forthwith forwarded, without demand, to the department, whereupon the department, if satisfied of the genuineness and regularity of said transfer and if satisfied of the facts stated in said application for registration, shall register, without any charge whatever, such motor vehicle in the name of said transferee and shall issue and forward to him a new registration certificate, in a distinctive form to be determined by the department; provided, that until said transferee has received said registration certificate delivery of said motor vehicle shall be deemed not to have been made and title thereto shall be deemed not to have passed and said intended transfer shall be deemed to be incomplete and not to be valid or effective for any purpose; and provided, further, that nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to permit such motor vehicle to be operated upon the public highway under such distinctive certificate of registration last hereinabove provided for.

A person who transfers the ownership or loses possession of a motor vehicle registered in his name or removes such motor vehicle from the state, shall be entitled to a rebate bearing the same proportion to that portion of the fee theretofore paid by him, as the remaining quarters of the calendar year bear to that portion of the year for which said fee was paid; provided, that any such rebate shall not be paid excepting upon a certificate filed by the department with the state board of control, setting forth the facts; and provided, further, that such rebates shall be paid out of the motor vehicle fund.

If the department shall determine, at any time, that for any reason a motor vehicle or trailer is unsafe or is improperly equipped or is otherwise unfit to be operated, or that the applicant for registration thereof is not entitled as owner thereof to such registration, the department may refuse to register such vehicle and may, for a like reason, revoke any registration already acquired. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 388.]

§ 9. Dealers' distinguishing number or symbol. Dealer's agency. Five pairs of plates furnished. Unlawful use. Written permit without registration. Notice of transfer of motor vehicle. Every manufacturer of, or dealer in, motor vehicles may make application to the department, by mail or otherwise, upon a blank provided by the department, for a general distinguishing number or symbol, instead of registering each motor vehicle owned by him, and with such application he shall deposit the proper registration fee as provided in section seven of this act; and the department shall grant the application if satisfied of the facts stated in the application and shall issue to the applicant a certificate of registration containing the name and business address of the applicant and the general distinguishing number or symbol assigned to him, and made in such form and containing such further information as the department may determine; and every motor vehicle owned or controlled by such manufacturer or dealer shall be regarded as registered under such general distinguishing number or symbol until sold, or until let for hire, or until loaned for a period of more than ten successive days; provided, that whenever a manufacturer or dealer shall maintain a branch or subagency he shall apply for a separate registration for such branch or subagency and shall pay therefor the fee provided in section seven of this act for the registration of motor vehicles owned by or under the control of a manufacturer or dealer, and the determination of the department upon the question whether any establishment constitutes a branch or subagency within the intent of this act, shall be conclusive. The department shall furnish, without other charge than the fee specified in section seven of this act, with transportation charges prepaid, to every manufacturer of or dealer in automobiles or motorcycles applying therefor whose vehicles are registered in accordance with the provisions of this section, five pairs of automobile number plates or five single motorcycle number plates, of suitable design, together with the accompanying seals, the plates to have displayed upon them the registration number which is assigned to the motor vehicles of such manufacturer or dealer, with a different symbol on each pair of automobile number plates and on each single motorcycle plate. If the department shall determine at any time for due cause that any such manufacturer or dealer to whom the certificate of registration provided for in this section has been issued and to whom such general distinguishing number or symbol has been assigned has failed to comply with the requirements of this section hereinafter contained with reference to notices or reports of transfer or motor vehicles, or has caused or suffered, or is causing or suffering, the unlawful use of such certificate or number, the department may revoke said certificate of registration and recall and cancel said general distinguishing number or symbol, in which event said manufacturer or dealer, after notice of such action on part of the department, shall, without further demand, return to the department any and all number plates and seals that may have been furnished him by the department under said certificate so revoked; provided, that no manufacturer or dealer or any employee of such manufacturer or dealer, shall cause or permit the display, or other use, of any number plate, seal or certificate of registration which may have been furnished to such manufacturer or dealer under the general distinguishing number or symbol hereinbefore provided for, excepting upon motor vehicles owned by such manufacturer or dealer within the meaning and intent of this act; provided, further, that no person shall display, or otherwise use or have in his possession any number plate, seal or certificate of registration furnished by the department under a general manufacturer's or dealer's distinguishing number or symbol, except such manufacturer or dealer or his employees; and provided, further, that if the department, upon receiving from any manufacturer or dealer an application for the issuance for the ensuing calendar year of the certificate of registration and general distinguishing number or symbol provided for in this section, shall determine upon due cause that such manufacturer or dealer during the previous calendar year has failed to comply with the requirements of this section hereinafter contained respecting the filing of notices or reports of transfer of motor vehicles, or has caused or suffered, or is causing or suffering, the unlawful use of such certificate or number, the department may refuse such application.

When it shall become necessary for a manufacturer of, or dealer in, or consignee of, motor vehicles to move any vehicles owned by or consigned to him, not being registered under any of the provisions of this act, from any vessel, railroad depot, or warehouse, to the salesrooms or other place of business of such manufacturer or dealer, or to a warehouse or other place of storage, over the public highways, he may operate such vehicle, either under its own power or otherwise, over such public highways as are necessary for said purpose, without first registering said motor vehicle or affixing thereto any number plates issued to him under the general distinguishing number or symbol hereinabove specified; provided, however, that in such event he shall first obtain from the police authorities or marshal of the city or town in which said vessel, railroad depot or warehouse is situated, a written permit authorizing such operation; and there is hereby conferred upon police authorities, including town marshals, within the state of California, authority to issue such permits in proper cases as hereinbefore provided.

Upon the transfer of any motor vehicle by a manufacturer or dealer, whether by sale, lease or otherwise, such motor vehicle not being registered under the provisions of section three hereof, such manufacturer or dealer shall, within three days after such transfer, file with the department, upon a blank to be furnished by the department, a notice or report containing the date of such transfer, a description of such motor vehicle and the name and postoffice of the purchaser, lessee or other transferee.

Upon the transfer of any automobile engine or motor, except a new engine or motor transferred with intent that the same be installed in a new automobile, and whether such transfer be made by a manufacturer or dealer or otherwise, and whether by sale, lease or otherwise, the transferer shall within three days after such transfer file with the department, upon a blank to be furnished by the department, a notice or report containing the date of such transfer and a description, together with the maker's number, of said engine or motor, the name and post-office address of the purchaser, lessee or other transferee. [Amendment approved May 10, 1911; Stats. 1911, p. 392.]

§ 11. Numbers must be displayed. Registration certificate affixed. When fee becomes delinquent. Except as in this act otherwise provided, no person shall operate or drive, or cause to be operated or driven, a motor vehicle, or cause a trailer to be drawn by a motor vehicle, on the public highways unless such vehicle shall at all times have displayed the number plate or plates furnished for it as hereinbefore provided, together with registration seal or seals furnished by the department; in case of automobiles, each such vehicle shall display one number plate on the front and the other on the back thereof and said registration seals shall be securely attached to the number plates in the space provided thereon for that purpose; in case of motorcycles and trailers, but one number plate with registration seal so attached thereto, shall be required to be displayed and such number plate upon motorcycles and trailers shall be at the rear thereof; in all cases such number plates shall be securely fastened to the motor vehicle or trailer so as to prevent said plates from swinging, and at a minimum distance of sixteen inches from the ground. Nothing in this act shall be construed to require the display of any number plate on other than the rear trailer, when more than one trailer is drawn by a motor vehicle. No person shall attach to, or display on, such motor or other vehicle, any number plate, or registration seal or certificate other than as assigned to it for the current year, or a fictitious, or altered number plate, seal or registration certificate, or a number plate, seal or registration certificate that shall have been canceled by the department. All letters, numbers, seals, printing, writing and other identification marks upon said plates, seals and certificates, shall be kept clear and distinct and free from grease, dust or other blurring matter, so that they shall be plainly visible at all times during daylight and under artificial light in the night-time; provided, that in case any such plate, seal or certificate of registration, operator's license or chauffeur's license or badge shall be lost, mutilated or shall have become illegible, the person to whom such plate, seal, certificate, license or badge shall have been furnished shall immediately apply to the department for a duplicate thereof, accompanying his application with the fee specified in section seven of this act.

No person shall operate or drive a motor vehicle on the public highway unless such vehicle shall at all times carry in or upon it, subject to inspection by any peace officer, or employee of the department, the registration certificate furnished for it as hereinabove provided, which in case of an automobile shall be affixed, in the container furnished by the department, in plain sight in the driver's compartment of the automobile and which, in case of a motorcycle, shall be carried either in plain sight affixed to said motorcycle, or in the tool bag or some other convenient receptacle attached to said motorcycle.

The registration fee required under this act to be paid upon a motor vehicle or trailer shall become delinquent in the case of any such vehicle forthwith upon the operation of the vehicle on the public highways without the registration fee required by this act first having been paid to the department, accompanied by the application for registration provided herein. It is hereby provided, in addition to any and all other penalties provided by this act, that if, at the expiration of thirty days after any registration fee becomes delinquent, such fee has not been paid and registration applied for, a penalty shall be added to the amount of such fee in an amount equal to twenty-five per cent of the fee required by section seven of this act, and that such fee, together with the amount of said penalty, shall be a lien upon the motor vehicle or trailer in regard to which said registration fee is delinquent, and the department shall have power and it is hereby made its duty to collect the said registration fee, together with the penalty, by seizure of such motor vehicle or trailer from the person in possession thereof, if any, and by the sale thereof. The seizure and sale herein authorized shall be conducted and carried out by the department in the same manner as is provided by law for the seizure and sale of personal property by the county tax collector for the collection of taxes due on said personal property; provided, however, that in case of annual renewal of registration, where the applicants have in all things complied with the requirements of this act and have duly applied for such annual renewal of registration before the commencement of the ensuing calendar year, accompanying their applications with the proper fees for such registration, they shall be entitled to operate said vehicles during the months of January and February without displaying the registration seals or certificates of the current year, on condition that they have at all times displayed upon said vehicles the number plates assigned to said vehicles respectively together with the registration seals and certificates assigned thereto for the previous calendar year. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 395.]

§ 13. Lights. (a) Where there is not sufficient light within the lateral boundaries of the public highway to reveal all persons, vehicles, or other substantial objects within said boundaries for a distance of at least one hundred fifty feet, and at all times during the period from a half hour after sunset to a half hour before sunrise, every automobile while on the public highway shall carry at the front at least two lighted lamps showing white or yellow lights visible under normal atmospheric conditions at least five hundred feet in the direction toward which said automobile is faced and every such automobile and every trailer, at the times and under the conditions in this section hereinbefore specified, shall carry at the rear a lighted lamp exhibiting a red light plainly visible, under normal atmospheric conditions, for a distance of five hundred feet toward the rear and so constructed and placed that the number plate carried on the rear of such automobile or trailer shall be illuminated by a white light in such manner that the number thereon can be plainly distinguished under normal atmospheric conditions at a distance of not less than fifty feet toward the rear; provided, however, that where more than one trailer is attached to a motor vehicle, only the rear trailer shall be required to exhibit said light. At the times and under the conditions in this section hereinbefore specified all other vehicles, except motorcycles, bicycles, and such vehicles as may be propelled by a pedestrian, shall carry one or more lighted lamps or lanterns so arranged that said vehicle shall be visible from every direction for a distance of not less than two hundred feet.

(b) Motorcycles and bicycles. At the times and under the conditions in this section hereinbefore specified, every motorcycle or bicycle while on the public highway shall carry a lighted lamp showing a white or yellow light visible under normal atmospheric conditions at least three hundred feet in the direction toward which such motorcycle or bicycle is faced, and shall also carry at the rear of such motorcycle or bicycle a lighted lamp exhibiting a red light plainly visible under normal atmospheric conditions for a distance of at least two hundred feet toward the rear.

(c) When load extends beyond bed of vehicle. In any case where a motor or other vehicle shall be loaded with any material in such manner that any portion of such load extends toward the rear four feet or more beyond the rear of the bed or body of such vehicle, there shall be displayed at the extreme end of such load, at the times and under the conditions in this section hereinbefore specified, in addition to the ordinary rear or tail light hereinbefore required to be displayed on such vehicle a red light plainly visible under normal atmospheric conditions at least two hundred feet from the rear; provided, further, that at other times while such vehicle is upon the highway a red flag or cloth shall be displayed at the extreme rear end of said load, of suitable size to be plainly visible as a warning signal to persons operating vehicles approaching from the rear.

(d) Range of lights. At the times and under the conditions in this section hereinbefore specified the headlights of all motor vehicles upon the highway shall give sufficient light to reveal any person, vehicle or substantial object on the road directly ahead of such motor vehicle for a distance of at least one hundred fifty feet, and shall also give sufficient side illumination to reveal any person, vehicle or substantial object ten feet to the side of said motor vehicle at a point ten feet ahead of the lamps; provided, however, that such headlights shall be so constructed or arranged that no portion of the beam of reflected light when measured seventy-five feet or more ahead of said lamps shall rise or shall be capable of being raised from the driver's seat to more than forty-two inches above the level surface on which the vehicle stands ahead of such vehicle; provided, further, that the term "headlight" as used herein, shall denote any light, irrespective of its location upon the motor vehicle, the rays of which are projected forward, except sidelights of not to exceed four candle-power, and that the term "beam of reflected light," as used herein, shall denote the approximately parallel focalized rays gathered and projected by a reflector, lens or other device; and provided, further, anything herein to the contrary notwithstanding, that where there is sufficient light within the lateral boundaries of the public highway within any incorporated city, town or city and county, to reveal all persons, vehicles or substantial objects within said boundaries for a distance of one hundred fifty feet, no lights shall be required to be displayed on any vehicle while the same is not in operation, providing that the wheels of such standing vehicle nearest the sidewalk are located within six inches of such sidewalk. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 395.]

§ 15. No blocks, etc., on tires. Tractors. (a) Other than on vehicles actually engaged at the time in construction or repair work on public highways, no tire on any motor or other vehicle operated on or over any public highway or bridge shall have on its periphery any block, stud, flange, cleat, ridge, bead or any other protuberance of metal or wood which projects beyond the tread or traction surface of the tire; but this section shall not be so construed as to prohibit the use of tire chains of reasonable proportions on motor vehicles when required for safety because of snow, ice or other conditions tending to cause such motor vehicle to slide or skid; provided, however, that traction engines or tractors the propulsive power of which is exerted not through wheels resting upon the ground but by means of a flexible band or chain, known as a movable track, may be operated upon the public highways with transverse corrugations upon the periphery of said movable tracks, on condition that a permit shall first have been obtained as hereinafter in this section provided.

(b) Limit on weight of loads. No motor or other vehicle shall be operated on or over any public highway or bridge, nor shall any object be moved over or upon any public highway or bridge on wheels, rollers, or otherwise, except when transported in or upon vehicles running exclusively on stationary rails or tracks, in excess of a total weight, including load, of thirty thousand pounds, when said motor or other vehicle or contrivance is equipped with four wheels running on the highway, or in excess of a total weight, including load, of forty thousand pounds when said motor or other vehicle or contrivance shall be equipped with six wheels running on the highway and with three axles not less than ninety-six inches apart, without first obtaining a permit as hereinafter in this section provided.

(c) Permit required, when. Regulations in cities organized under freeholders' charters. No motor or other vehicle or other object, or contrivance for moving loads, except as hereinafter otherwise provided, shall be operated or moved upon or over any public highway or bridge, the weight of which resting upon the surface of said highway or bridge exceeds eight hundred pounds upon any inch of width of tire, when said vehicle is equipped with tires made of other material than metal; and no motor or other vehicle, object, or contrivance for moving loads shall be operated or moved upon or over any public highway or bridge the weight of which resting upon the surface of said highway or bridge exceeds six hundred pounds upon any inch of width of tire, roller, wheel or other object supported on the surface thereof when such tires or the rolling surface of such rollers, wheels or other objects are made in whole or in part of metal, without first obtaining a permit as hereinafter in this section provided; provided, however, that traction engines or tractors the propulsive power of which is exerted not through wheels resting upon the ground but by means of a flexible band or chain, known as a movable track, shall not be subject to the foregoing limitations upon permissible weights per inch of width of tire if the portions of the movable tracks in contact with the surface of the highway present plane surfaces; and provided, further, that cities heretofore or hereafter organized under freeholders' charters may permit or prohibit the increase, beyond the maximum weight per inch of width of tire hereinabove prescribed, of the weight of loads carried within the limits of such cities in or upon metal-tired vehicles drawn by muscular power, but where any such city has not by proper and suitable ordinance or other regulation permitted or prohibited such increase of maximum weight of loads, the regulations and limitations prescribed by this act shall not apply.

(d) Brakes. No motor vehicle shall be operated or driven over any public highway or bridge drawing or having attached thereto more than two trailers; provided, that all four-wheeled trailers excepting light camping trailers shall be equipped with suitable brakes.

(e) Special permit of department of engineering. Anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, upon application in writing to the state department of engineering, said department of engineering in its discretion may issue a special permit to the owner or operator of any vehicle allowing heavier or wider loads than hereinabove in this section or elsewhere in this act permitted to be moved or carried over and on the public highways and bridges, or allowing more than two trailers to be drawn by a motor vehicle; and may also issue such special permit to increase the permissible weights per inch of width of tire and may also permit the use of corrugations on the periphery of the movable tracks of traction engines or tractors propelled not by wheels resting upon the ground but by flexible bands or chains. Such permits shall be in writing and they may limit the time of use and operation over the particular highways and bridges which may be traversed and may contain such special conditions and provisions and require such undertaking or other security as the said department of engineering shall deem to be necessary to protect the public highways and bridges from injury, or provide indemnity for any injury resulting from such operation. All such special permits shall be carried in the vehicles to which they refer and shall upon demand be open to the inspection of any peace officer, any authorized agent of the department of engineering or of the motor vehicle department, or any officer or employee charged with the care or protection of the public highways. It shall be unlawful for any person to violate, or to cause or permit to be violated, the limitations or conditions of such special permits and any such violation shall be deemed for all purposes to be a violation of the provisions of this act.

(f) Limit on load below legal maximum. Anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, the state department of engineering may in its discretion limit the maximum load to be carried over or on any public bridge, causeway, viaduct, trestle or dam, below the maximum established by law; provided, however, that in such event said department of engineering shall cause suitable signs to be erected and maintained, specifying such limitation of load, such signs to be placed at a distance of not less than one hundred feet nor more than one hundred fifty feet from the approaches to such bridge, causeway, viaduct, trestle or dam.

(g) Owner of vehicle responsible for damages. Anything to the contrary in this act notwithstanding, the owner and the operator, driver or mover of any vehicle, object or contrivance over a public highway or bridge, shall be jointly and severally responsible for all damages which said highway or bridge may sustain as the result of so operating or driving or moving such vehicle and the amount of such damages may be recovered in an action at law by the authorities in control of such highway or bridge. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 398.]

§ 17. Intoxicated persons. No person who is to such extent under the influence of intoxicating liquor that he cannot properly operate or drive a motor or other vehicle shall operate or drive a motor or other vehicle upon any public highway within this state. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 400.]

§ 18. Owner's consent. [Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 400.]

§ 20. Rules of road. (a) The driver or operator of any vehicle in or upon any public highway shall drive or operate such vehicle in a careful manner with due regard for the safety and convenience of pedestrians and of all other vehicles or traffic upon such highway, and wherever practicable shall traved on the right-hand side of such highway. Two vehicles which are passing each other in opposite directions shall have the right of way, and no other vehicle to the rear of either of such two vehicles shall pass or attempt to pass such two vehicles. On all occasions the driver or operator of any vehicle in or upon any public highway shall travel upon the right half of such highway unless the road ahead on the left-hand side is clear and unobstructed for at least one hundred yards ahead and in all cases while crossing an intersecting highway. For the purposes of this section and its subdivisions, an animal or animals attached to any conveyance shall, with such conveyance, be deemed to constitute one vehicle.

(b) Vehicles proceeding in opposite directions shall pass each other to the right, each giving to the other one-half the road as nearly as possible.

(c) Vehicles overtaking other vehicles proceeding in the same direction shall pass to the left thereof and shall not again drive to the right until reasonably clear of such overtaken vehicle.

(d) It shall be the duty of the driver, rider or operator of a vehicle about to be overtaken and passed to give way to the right in favor of the overtaking vehicle, on suitable and audible signal being given by or on behalf of the operator, driver or other person in charge and control of such overtaking vehicle if such overtaking vehicle be a motor vehicle.

(e) Excepting where controlled by such traffic ordinances or regulations enacted by local authorities as are permitted under this act the operator of a vehicle approaching an intersection of the public highway shall yield the right of way to a vehicle approaching such intersection from the right of such first-named vehicle.

(f) It shall be the duty of the person operating or in charge of an overtaking vehicle to sound audible and suitable signal before passing a vehicle proceeding in the same direction.

(g) All vehicles approaching an intersection of a public highway, with the intention of turning thereat shall in turning to the right keep to the right of the center of such intersection, and in turning to the left shall run beyond the center of such intersection, passing to the right thereof, before turning such vehicle toward the left. For the purposes of this subdivision the "center of such intersection" shall be held to mean the meeting point of the medial lines of the two highways traversed by the vehicle making the turn.

(h) Frightening of horses. In all passing and overtaking such assistance shall be given by the occupants of each vehicle respectively to the other as the circumstances shall reasonably demand in order to obtain clearance and avoid accidents; every person having control or charge of any motor vehicle or other vehicle upon any public highway and approaching any vehicle drawn by a horse or horses, or any horse upon which any person is riding, shall operate, manage and control such motor vehicle or other vehicle in such manner as to exercise every reasonable precaution to prevent the frightening of any such horse or horses and to insure the safety and protection of any person riding or driving the same; and if such horse or horses appear frightened the person in control of such motor vehicle or other vehicle shall reduce its speed, and if requested by signal or otherwise by the driver or rider of such horse or horses shall not proceed further toward such animal or animals unless such movement be necessary to avoid accident or injury, until such animal or animals be under the control of the driver or rider thereof.

(i) Keeping to right-hand of highway. The person in control of any vehicle moving slowly along and upon any public highway shall keep such vehicle as closely as practicable to the right-hand boundary of the highway, allowing more swiftly moving vehicles reasonably free passage to the left.

(j) Stopping or changing course. The person in charge of any vehicle in or upon any public highway, before turning, stopping, or changing the course of such vehicle, and before turning such vehicle when starting the same, shall see first that there is sufficient space for such movement to be made in safety, and if the movement or operation of other vehicles may reasonably be affected by such turning, stopping or changing of course, shall give plainly visible or audible signal to the persons operating, driving or in charge of such vehicles of his intention so to turn, stop, or change his course.

(k) Passing street-cars. Safety zones. In passing any railroad, interurban or street-car while passengers are alighting from or boarding same, vehicles shall be operated or driven on the right-hand side of such street-car and at a rate of speed not exceeding ten miles an hour and shall be so operated or driven that no portion thereof or of any load thereon shall be within six feet of the running-board or steps of such car, and shall at all times be operated with due care and caution so that the safety of such passengers shall be assured; provided, however, that where local authorities have plainly marked upon the surface of the highway safety zones for the protection of such passengers, vehicles shall not, at any time, be operated or driven within such zones; provided, further, that said safety zones shall only be marked at street corners or at other regularly established stations or stopping places of such railroad, or interurban, or street-cars, and shall not extend beyond seven feet toward the boundary of the highway from the outer rail of such railroad, interurban or street-car line.

(l) In mountain passes. Every motor vehicle when moving in defiles, canyons, or mountain passes where the curvature of the road or highway prevents a clear view for a distance of one hundred yards shall be held under control and not permitted to coast and the operator thereof in approaching curves shall give a warning of his gong or other adequate signaling device.

(m) Police and fire patrols. Police patrol wagons, police ambulances, fire patrols, fire engines and fire apparatus in all cases while being operated as such, shall have right of way with due regard to the safety of the public; but this provision shall not protect the driver or operator of any such vehicle or his employer or principal from the consequence of the arbitrary exercise of this right or for injuries willfully inflicted.

(n) Stopping near fire hydrant. No person shall hitch or leave standing, or cause or permit to be hitched or left standing, any animal, or leave standing or cause or permit to be left standing, any vehicle, or stop or cause or permit to be stopped any animal or vehicle at any time upon the public highway within fifteen feet of any public fire hydrant located upon the public highway or sidewalk, unless such animal is under the charge of some person capable of driving the same or unless such vehicle is in the charge of some person capable of operating or driving the same.

(o) Width of vehicle. No motor or other vehicle as defined in this act shall be operated or driven on or over any public highway or bridge if the outside width of tread exceeds one hundred twelve inches or if the total outside width of the bed of said vehicle and any load thereon shall exceed one hundred two inches, nor shall any pleasure type automobile be operated on or over any public highway or bridge if any luggage, package, trunk, crate, box or other load carried thereon extends to the side more than eight inches beyond the running-board of such automobile; provided, however, than any city now or hereafter organized under freeholders' charter may permit or prohibit an increase beyond the maximum hereinbefore prescribed of the total outside width of the beds of vehicles and any loads thereon, where such vehicles are operated or driven and said loads are carried wholly within the limits of said city, but where any such city shall not by proper and suitable ordinance or other regulation permit or prohibit such increased width, the regulations and limitations prescribed by this act shall not apply; and provided, that the regulations and limitations prescribed by this act relative to the maximum widths of vehicles and their loads shall not apply to implements of husbandry temporarily drawn, propelled or moved upon the highway; and provided, further, that loads not exceeding ten feet in width of loosely piled material not crated, baled, boxed, sacked or carried otherwise than loosely in bulk, may be carried upon vehicles on the highway; provided, that the extreme width of such vehicles including any loading racks thereon, shall not exceed one hundred twenty inches, as hereinbefore prescribed.

(p) Leaving vehicle standing on highway. No person shall leave standing, or cause or permit to be left standing upon the main traveled portion, or any part thereof, of any public highway, a vehicle undergoing repair, or which has been stopped for the purpose of having repairs made thereon, or for the purpose of camping; provided, however, that this provision shall not apply to a vehicle which shall be disabled, while on such main traveled portion of the highway, in such manner and to such extent that it shall be impossible to avoid stopping such vehicle on said main traveled portion of the highway, and impracticable to remove the same therefrom until repairs shall have been made.

(q) Law applies to riders of animals. The provisions of subdivisions (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), (g), (i), (j), (k) of this section shall be applicable to the rider of every horse, mule or other riding animal ridden upon the public highway, to the end and effect that the same duties, rules and regulations imposed thereon upon the drivers or operators of vehicles upon the public highway, including the care to be exercised in driving or operating vehicles, the portion of the highway upon which they shall travel, the right of way as between vehicles passing or overtaking each other, or upon approaching intersections, the duty of giving way in favor of overtaking vehicles, the manner of turning at intersections and at other places upon the highway and of stopping or changing the course of the vehicles and the duties imposed upon operators or drivers of vehicles in passing railroad, interurban or street-cars, shall be imposed, and they are hereby imposed, upon the riders of animals upon the public highways.

(r) Livestock on highway. No person owning, or controlling the possession of, any horse, cow, mule, ass, sheep, goat, hog or other livestock, shall voluntarily or negligently permit such animal to stray upon or remain unaccompanied upon the public highway, or shall permit the tether or any portion thereof to which such animal may be attached, to lie across or upon any public highway, and no person shall feed, pasture or camp any such livestock upon any public highway between the hours of sunset and sunrise. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 400.]

§ 22. Rate of speed. Warning signs at grade crossings. Establishing less than legal rate. (a) Any person operating or driving a motor or other vehicle on the public highways shall operate or drive the same in a careful and prudent manner and at a rate of speed not greater than is reasonable and proper, having regard to the traffic and use of the highway, and no person shall operate or drive a motor vehicle or other vehicle on a public highway at such rate of speed as to endanger the life or limb of any person or the safety of any property; provided, that it shall be unlawful to operate or drive at a rate of speed in excess of thirty miles an hour; and provided, further, that in any event no person shall operate or drive a motor vehicle or other vehicle on any public highway where the territory contiguous thereto is closely built up, at a greater rate of speed than twenty miles an hour, or in the business district of any incorporated city and county, city or town, at a greater rate of speed than fifteen miles an hour; provided, further, that no person shall operate or drive a motor vehicle or other vehicle on any public highway at a greater rate of speed than fifteen miles an hour in approaching any steam, electric or other railway crossing at grade, or in approaching or traversing an intersecting highway, or crossing or intersection of highways, or in approaching or going around corners or curves in the highway, when in any of the foregoing cases the operator's or chauffeur's view of the road or railway traffic is obstructed, but anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, no person shall operate or drive a motor vehicle or other vehicle on any public highway at a greater rate of speed than fifteen mile an hour in traversing any steam, electric or other railway crossing at grade; provided, further, that the board of supervisors of any county and city and county within this state, and the board of trustees, city council or other governing body of every municipality within this state, within six months after the passage of this act, shall place and thereafter maintain warning signs on every public highway approaching a crossing at a grade of such highway and the tracks of any railway, at a reasonable distance, not less than three hundred feet, from such crossing, and on either side thereof. Such sign shall consist of a metal disc twenty-four inches in diameter, the field enameled white, with an enameled black border line one inch wide, and with an enameled black vertical and horizontal cross-line two and one-half inches wide; the reverse side of such disc to be colored black. In each of the upper quarters shall appear in black enamel the letter "R," five inches high, three and three-quarters inches wide, lines one inch stroke. Anyone defacing, injuring, knocking down or removing any such sign shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, further, that the maximum rate of speed over any bridge, dam, trestle, causeway or viaduct as well as the maximum rate of speed over any state highway or portion of state highway may be established by the state highway commission at less than the rate established by law, when in the judgment of said commission the safety of persons using the highway or the protection of the highway shall be promoted thereby, but whenever any such different rate of speed is so established by said commission, the commission shall cause to be erected suitable signs to mark the location and limits of the highway to which said different rate of speed shall apply, and such signs shall be placed at a distance of not less than one hundred feet or at a greater distance than one hundred fifty feet from the highway or portion of highway or from the approaches of any bridge, dam, trestle, culvert, causeway or viaduct with respect to which such different rate of speed may be so established. In the case of a bridge dam, trestle, culvert, causeway or viaduct, such maximum rate of speed so established by said commission shall not be less than ten miles an hour, and in the case of any other highway or portion of highway, such maximum rate of speed so established shall not be less than fifteen miles an hour.

(b) Rate of speed of vehicles carrying weight. No motor or other vehicle carrying a weight in excess of nine thousand pounds, including the vehicle, shall be operated, driven, drawn or otherwise moved on any public highway or bridge at a rate of speed greater than twenty-five miles an hour; no motor or other vehicle carrying a weight in excess of twelve thousand pounds, including the vehicle, shall be operated, driven, drawn or otherwise moved on any public highway or bridge at a rate of speed greater than fifteen miles an hour; no motor or other vehicle carrying a weight in excess of twenty-four thousand pounds, including the vehicle, shall be operated, driven, drawn or otherwise moved on any public highway or bridge at a rate of speed greater than ten miles an hour; provided, however, that no motor vehicle or trailer equipped with tires made wholly or partly of metal shall be operated, driven, drawn or otherwise moved on any public highway or bridge at a rate of speed greater than six miles an hour; provided, further, that any such motor vehicle or trailer, with tires made wholly or partly of metal, may be operated, driven, drawn or otherwise moved, subject to the other provisions of this act, up to ten miles an hour, if it be equipped with springs and if the rear wheels be not less than forty-six inches in diameter, with a bearing surface of not less than eighteen inches; and provided further, however, anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, that no motor or other vehicle constructed or otherwise adapted for carrying loads weighing four tons or more, exclusive of such vehicle, shall be operated, driven, drawn or otherwise moved upon the public highway, whether laden or unladen, at a rate of speed exceeding fifteen miles an hour; and provided, further, that nothing contained in this subdivision shall apply to motor vehicles equipped with pneumatic tires.

(c) Arrest. In case of any person arrested for violation of the provisions of this section, unless such person shall demand that he be taken forthwith before the most accessible magistrate, the arresting officer shall take the name and address of such person and the number of his motor vehicle and notify him in writing to appear before a designated magistrate at a time and place to be specified in such writing at least five days subsequent to the date of such notice and upon the promise in writing of such person to appear at such time and place, such officer shall forthwith release him from custody. Any person willfully violating such promise shall be guilty of a misdemeanor regardless of the disposition of the charge upon which he was originally arrested.

(d) Regulations by local authorities. Limitations as to the rate of speed herein fixed shall be exclusive of all other limitations fixed by any law of this state of any political subdivision thereof. Local authorities shall have no power to enact, enforce or maintain any ordinance, rule or regulation in any way in conflict with, contrary to or inconsistent with the provisions of this act, or of any section or other subdivision thereof, and no such ordinance, rule or regulation of said local authorities heretofore or hereafter enacted shall have any force or effect, excepting, however, that (1) such powers as are now or may hereafter be vested in local authorities to enact ordinances and regulations, applicable equally and generally to all vehicles and other users of the highways, and providing for traffic or crossing officers or semaphores, to bring about the orderly passage of vehicles and other users of the public highways on certain portions thereof, where the traffic is heavy and continuous, as well as (2) the powers now or hereafter vested in local authorities to license and to regulate the operation of vehicles offered to the public for hire, and to regulate the use of the highways for processions or assemblages, shall remain in full force and effect, and all ordinances, rules and regulations which may have been or which may be hereafter enacted in pursuance of such powers, shall remain in full force and effect; and provided, further, that local authorities may by general rule, ordinance or regulation, exclude vehicles from any cemetery or ground used for the burial of the dead, or exclude vehicles used solely or principally for commercial purposes from any park or part of a park system where such general rule, ordinance, or regulation is applicable equally and generally to all other vehicles used for the same purpose; provided, that at the entrance, or at each entrance if there be more than one, to such cemetery or park from which vehicles are so excluded, there shall have been posted a sign plainly legible from the middle of the public highway on which such cemetery or park opens, plainly indicating such exclusion and prohibition; and provided, further, that the local authorities of any city, town, or city and county may impose additional restrictions to those herein contained applicable to vehicles exclusively used in the carrying of merchandise or articles of freight and of a capacity in excess of one ton in weight and may designate certain streets whereon heavy laden vehicles may be excluded or declared to be "one way" streets, may further, restrict, or prohibit, the use of trailers. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 404.]

§ 24. Operator's license. Application. Valid one year. Badge. Application of minor. (a) It shall be unlawful for any person to operate or drive a motor vehicle upon the public highway unless licensed by the department as hereinafter provided; provided, however, that the requirements of this section shall not apply to the operators or drivers of any implements of husbandry temporarily drawn, propelled or moved on the public highway. Before operating a motor vehicle upon the public highway, application for a license to operate such vehicle shall be made by mail or otherwise to the department upon a blank to be prepared and furnished on request by said department. To each person shall be assigned some distinguishing number or mark and the department shall issue to the licensee a certificate in such form as the department shall determine; it shall contain the distinguishing number or mark assigned to the licensee, his name, age, place of residence, business address if any, and a brief description of the licensee for the purpose of identification, and such other information as the said department shall deem necessary. Every person licensed to operate motor vehicles as aforesaid, whether as a chauffeur or operator, shall indorse his usual signature in the space on the license certificate provided for the purpose, immediately upon the receipt of said certificate and his license shall not be valid until the certificate is so indorsed. Licenses, whether to chauffeurs or operators, shall be valid during the calendar year only in which issued. The department shall furnish to every chauffeur licensed a suitable metal badge with the distinguishing number assigned to him stamped thereon, without extra charge therefor, such badge to have stamped thereon the words "Registered Chauffeur No. ——, Cal." with the said license number and year of issue inserted therein. This badge shall thereafter be worn by such chauffeur, affixed to his clothing in a conspicuous place, at all times when he is operating or driving a motor vehicle upon the public highway, and the license certificate issued to each chauffeur or operator, under the provisions of this section, shall be carried by the licensee at all times when he is operating or driving a motor vehicle upon the public highway and shall be produced by him for inspection upon request by any peace officer. In case of the loss of such badge or certificate a duplicate will be issued by the department on the filing of an affidavit showing the fact of loss, and on payment of a fee of one dollar to the department in the case of a badge and fifty cents in case of a certificate. Duplicate license certificates shall be issued by the department to operators other than chauffeurs upon application therefor, whether in case of loss or otherwise, upon payment of a fee of twenty-five cents to the department. Applications for the annual renewal of licenses by chauffeurs shall be accompanied by the fee required by section seven of this act, but in case of operators no fee shall be required upon such renewal of license. No chauffeur's license or badge shall be issued to any applicant under the age of eighteen years; provided, that it shall be unlawful for any person to cause or knowingly to permit his or her child, ward or employee to operate or drive a motor vehicle upon the public highway, whether as a chauffeur or operator, without first having obtained such license as is hereinbefore specified; provided, that the application to the department of a minor to operate or drive a motor vehicle, whether as chauffeur or operator, shall not be granted by the department unless the parent or parents having the custody of such applicant or the guardian of such applicant shall have joined in said application by signing the same; and provided, further, that any negligence of a minor, so licensed, in operating or driving a motor vehicle upon the public highway, whether as chauffeur or operator, shall be imputed to the person or persons who shall have signed the application of such minor for said license, which person or persons shall be jointly and severally liable with such minor for any damages caused by such negligence. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 407.]

§ 26. Use of fictitious name, etc. (a) No person shall use a fictitious name in applying for such chauffeur's or operator's license, nor shall any chauffeur or operator licensed as herein provided voluntarily permit any other person to possess or use his license certificate or badge; nor shall any person while operating or driving a motor vehicle use or possess any license certificate or badge belonging to another person.

(b) No person shall display or cause or permit to be displayed, or have in his possession, any canceled, revoked, suspended, altered or fictitious registration number plate, registration seal, registration certificate, operator's license certificate, chauffeur's license certificate or chauffeur's badge, as the same are respectively provided for in this act.

(c) No person shall knowingly buy, sell, receive, dispose of, conceal or have in his possession any motor vehicle from which the manufacturer's serial number or motor number or any other distinguishing number or identification mark has been removed, defaced, covered, altered or destroyed for the purpose of concealment or misrepresenting the identity of said motor vehicle. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 408.]

§ 27. In effect after December 31, 1917. Nonresident operator. Registration of certificate. No person shall operate or drive a motor vehicle or cause a trailer to be drawn upon a public highway after the thirty-first day of December, one thousand nine hundred seventeen, nor shall any owner of a motor vehicle or of any trailer permit such motor vehicle or trailer to be so operated, driven or drawn after said date, unless the requirements of this act relative to the registration of motor vehicles and trailers and to licensing of chauffeurs and operators shall have been in all respects complied with; provided, however, that a nonresident operator or chauffeur who has complied with the provisions of the country or state of his residence relative to the operation of motor vehicles and who, while operating a motor vehicle upon the highways of this state shall wear such badge and carry such license certificate as may have been assigned to him in the country or state of his residence, shall be exempt from license hereunder for a period not to exceed three months in any calendar year; and provided, further, that the provisions of this act relative to registration and the payment of the fees therefor and the display of registration number plates and seals shall not apply to a motor vehicle or trailer owned by a nonresident, other than a foreign corporation doing business in this state, who is only sojourning within this state; provided, that the registration number plate assigned and furnished for said motor vehicle or trailer for the current calendar year by the country or state of which such owner is a resident shall be displayed on such motor vehicle or trailer substantially as provided in this act for vehicles registered pursuant to the provisions hereof; provided, however, that a nonresident owner of a motor vehicle or trailer so registered in such other country or state shall, not later than twenty-four hours after commencing to operate said vehicle, or to cause or permit the same to be operated, on any public highway within this state, apply to the department for registration of such vehicle, said application to be made upon a form to be prepared and to be furnished on request by the department, and shall state in addition to such other matters as may be required by the department, the name and postoffice and residence address of the applicant, together with the registration number of said vehicle in the country or state in which the same shall be registered, which country or state shall be designated by the applicant in said application. Upon receipt of said application, the department, if satisfied of the facts stated therein, shall, without charge to the applicant, register said motor vehicle or trailer and shall furnish to the applicant a registration certificate or device, of a distinctive form to be determined by the department, indicating that the holder thereof has complied with the requirements of this act and containing such other matter as may be deemed suitable by the department, which certificate or device shall be valid not to exceed three months from the date of its issuance, at the end of which period it shall be returned by said owner, transportation prepaid, to the department. In case of a motor vehicle, said certificate or device shall be carried, at all times while said motor vehicle is being operated or driven upon the public highways, in plain sight in or upon said motor vehicle, in the manner required of resident owners with respect to registration certificates, and in case of a trailer, such certificate or device shall be displayed in such manner as the department shall determine. The department shall file said applications for registration by nonresident owners, and shall suitably index said applications and registrations, which files and index shall be open to inspection by the public during reasonable business hours. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 409.]

§ 28. Using without owner's consent. It shall be unlawful for any person to drive or operate, or cause to be driven or operated, upon the public highway any motor vehicle not his own, whether with or without intent to steal the same, in the absence of the owner thereof and without such owner's consent; provided, such consent shall not be implied in any instance because of the fact that upon a previous occasion such owner had consented to the use of the same or another motor vehicle by such person. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than one month nor more than one year or in state prison for not less than one year nor more than ten years. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 410.]

§ 32. Penalty for violation. (a) Excepting as in this act otherwise provided, or where a different penalty is expressly fixed by this act, any person violating any of its provisions, or knowingly making a false statement or knowingly concealing a material fact or otherwise committing a fraud in an application for the registration of a vehicle, or in an application for an operator's or chauffeur's license, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, unless in this act otherwise provided, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(b) Order of state highway commission to suspend or revoke license. Witnesses, etc. Fees. Enforcement of orders. Immediately upon receipt by the department of information concerning the conviction of any person for the violation of section seventeen of this act, or concerning the third conviction within any calendar year of any person for the violation of section twenty-two of this act, the department shall transmit said information to the state highway commission, whereupon said highway commission, or any member thereof, shall fix a time and place for a hearing, and the person so convicted shall be served with a written notice, at least ten days prior to the date of said hearing, to appear and show cause, at such hearing, why his license to operate a motor vehicle upon the public highways should not be suspended or revoked. If upon such hearing it is determined that there is good and sufficient reason therefor, findings and an order shall be made by the commission or by the person or persons holding such hearing on behalf of the commission, to the effect that such license shall be revoked, or shall be suspended for a limited time to be determined by the commission, which findings and order shall be transmitted to the department, and the department shall thereupon forthwith revoke said license, or suspend the same, in accordance with said findings and order; provided, that in like manner said commission may, upon its own initiative or upon the sworn information of any person, in its discretion order the suspension or revocation of any operator's or chauffeur's license (1) if satisfied, upon such hearing as hereinbefore provided for, that such operator or chauffeur is a reckless driver or that he is an incompetent or unfit person to operate a motor vehicle because of a mental or physical infirmity or disability, or (2) when said operator or chauffeur shall have been directly concerned in an accident upon the public highway resulting in the death of any person.

If in any case the respondent shall fail to appear at the time and place fixed for any such hearing as is provided in this section, he shall be in default, and if in the opinion of the commission, or of the person or persons holding such hearing on behalf of the commission, there is sufficient reason therefor, the license of the respondent may be ordered revoked or suspended, whereupon the department shall upon notice of such order, revoke or suspend, as the case may be, such license.

Upon the suspension or revocation of any chauffeur's or operator's license, the department shall demand the surrender of the license certificate, and any duplicates thereof that may have been issued, and also the license badge, if any, and it shall be unlawful for any person whose license has been suspended or revoked as herein provided to fail or neglect forthwith to surrender to the department any such certificates or badge in his possession or under his control.

Said commission, or any member thereof, or any person authorized to hold the hearings hereinbefore provided for, may summon witnesses in behalf of the state and may administer oaths and take testimony, may cause depositions to be taken, and may order the production of books, papers, agreements and documents.

The fees for the attendance and travel of witnesses shall be the same as for witnesses before the superior court, and shall be paid by the state upon demand by the commission filed with the controller.

The supreme court, any district court of appeal or any superior court shall have jurisdiction, upon the application of the commission, or of the motor vehicle department, to enforce all lawful orders of the commission under this section.

(c) Suspension of operator's license. In addition to any or all other punishments provided in this act and imposed by the court upon any person for violation of any of the provisions of this act, the court may, in its discretion, suspend an operator's or chauffeur's license for a period of not to exceed thirty days, in which case the court shall take up the license certificate of such person together with, in case of a chauffeur, the license badge, and shall forward them to the department.

(d) Return of license. Upon the expiration of the period of suspension of any license as hereinbefore in this section provided for, the department shall return to the licensee his license certificate, or in its discretion may issue to him a new certificate, and such license shall be valid for the remainder of the current calendar year, subject to the other provisions of this act; and in like manner the department shall return to any chauffeur whose license badge may have been forwarded to the department upon suspension of his license, such license badge or issue to such licensee a new badge. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 410.]

§ 34. Motor vehicle fund created. Operator's license fund. Disposition of receipts. Revolving fund. Improvement of highway. Report by boards of supervisors. There is hereby created in the state treasury a fund which shall be known as the "motor vehicle fund." All moneys received by the department under any of the provisions of this act must be paid into the state treasury within twenty-four hours after the receipt thereof and shall be deposited to the credit of the motor vehicle fund, but if at any time such payment cannot be made because of the intervention of a Sunday or a holiday, then such money shall be paid into the state treasury before twelve o'clock noon of the first business day following such Sunday or holiday; provided, however, that there is also hereby created in the state treasury a fund which shall be known as the "operators' license fund," and the moneys received by the department for operators' or chauffeurs' licenses shall not be credited to the motor vehicle fund but to the credit of said operators' license fund. One-half of the net receipts under this act except those credited to the operators' license fund shall be paid from the motor vehicle fund to the counties from which the moneys were received, as determined by the places of residence of the persons to whom the registration certificates are issued, and all such amounts so returned shall be paid into the road funds of the several counties receiving the same, and shall be expended by such counties exclusively in the construction and maintenance of roads, bridges and culverts in said counties respectively. In the event that any county has not established a road fund, its proportion of said net receipts shall be retained by the state until provision for such road fund has been made, and it shall then be paid over. In the months of January and July of each year the department shall make to the controller a report setting forth the gross and net receipts for the preceding six months, and thereafter the controller shall draw his warrants upon the motor vehicle fund in favor of the county treasurer of each county for the amount to which such county is entitled; provided, nevertheless, that the controller shall not draw such warrant in favor of any county which theretofore shall not have established a road fund or which shall be delinquent in its annual report to the state department of engineering as hereinafter required. Of the moneys in said motor vehicle fund, when such action has been authorized by the board of control, the department may draw, without at the time furnishing vouchers and itemized statements, sums not to exceed in the aggregate ten thousand dollars, said sums so drawn to be used as a revolving fund where cash advances are necessary. At the close of each fiscal year, or at any other time upon demand of the board of control, the moneys so drawn must be accounted for and substantiated by vouchers and itemized statements submitted to and audited by the board of control and by the controller. All moneys remaining in the motor vehicle fund after the expenditures herein authorized, in addition to all sums that have been heretofore or that may be appropriated hereafter by the legislature for the same purpose, shall be expended under the direction of the state department of engineering for the maintenance and improvement of the state roads and highways under the jurisdiction of said department of engineering, and for the maintenance and improvement of roads and highways in state parks subject to the approval of the official or officials charged by law with the management and control of such parks, such moneys to be so drawn from said motor vehicle fund for the purpose of such maintenance and improvement upon warrants executed by the state controller upon demand made by the state department of engineering, and allowed and audited by the board of control. So much of the motor vehicle fund as may be necessary is hereby appropriated to be expended by the department in carrying out the provisions of this act; provided, however, that there shall not be so expended out of the motor vehicle fund in any one year more than ten per cent of said fund; and provided, further, that the board of supervisors of each county in the state shall make an annual report to the state department of engineering not later than the first day of March in each year, upon forms to be provided by the state department of engineering, showing the amount of moneys received out of the motor vehicle fund during the preceding calendar year and the disposition of said moneys, specifying in such detail as may be required by said department of engineering the roads, bridges and culverts constructed or maintained out of said moneys and the sums applied to the several items of such construction or maintenance; and provided, further, that whenever said report shall not have been duly filed in the manner and form hereby provided at or before the time hereinbefore specified, no further warrants shall be drawn upon the motor vehicle fund in favor of the county treasurer of such delinquent county until said report has been furnished. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 412.]

§ 35. Disposition of fines. (a) All fines or forfeitures collected in cases of conviction for violation of any of the provisions of this act following arrests by any officer employed by an incorporated municipality, except a city and county, shall be paid to the treasurer of the county in which such municipality is situated and such moneys shall belong to the several counties, to be used by them, when authorized and permitted by law, in the discretion of the respective boards of supervisors in the construction, maintenance and improvement of roads, streets, bridges and culverts within the limits of the incorporated municipalities of said counties, and for no other purpose; provided, however, that when not so authorized or permitted by law to use such moneys for said purposes, said counties shall receive said moneys for the benefit of, and said moneys shall belong to, the several incorporated municipalities in said counties respectively, excepting as herein otherwise provided, and at quarterly intervals the supervisors shall apportion and pay over said moneys to said municipalities according to their population ascertained in the manner provided by law, which moneys shall be expended by such municipalities solely in the construction, maintenance and improvement of streets, bridges and culverts within the city limits along routes directly connecting interurban public highways entering such cities respectively; provided, however, anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, that no (1) incorporated city and county, (2) city of more than twenty-five thousand population, or (3) city operating under a freeholder's charter and enforcing or seeking to enforce any ordinance, rule or regulation in conflict with or covering the same or any part of the ground covered by this act, except as expressly permitted therein, shall be entitled to share in said moneys.

(b) Any and all other fines or forfeitures collected by or in any court for violation of any of the provisions of this act, whether by a justice of the peace, police court, city recorder's court, city justice of the peace, or otherwise, shall be paid to the treasurer of the county or incorporated city and county in which the court is held, and said moneys shall be used by the several counties and incorporated cities and counties solely in the construction, maintenance and improvement of roads, streets, bridges and culverts within their respective limits, and for no other purpose. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 414.]

§ 37. Motor vehicle department created. Salaries. There is hereby created a department to be known as the motor vehicle department of California. The chief officer shall be known as the superintendent, who shall be a civil executive officer and shall be appointed by the governor and shall hold office at the pleasure of the governor. He shall within fifteen days from the time of notice of his appointment take and subscribe to the constitutional oath of office and file the same in the office of the secretary of state and execute to the people of the state a bond in the penal sum of ten thousand dollars. He shall receive an annual salary of three thousand dollars to be paid monthly upon a warrant of the controller. He shall have the power to appoint one chief clerk, who, shall be a civil executive officer, at an annual salary of two thousand one hundred dollars; one cashier, at an annual salary of two thousand one hundred dollars; and, with the approval of the board of control, such additional employees as the proper and economical conduct of the business of the department may demand, and shall fix and prescribe their duties, compensation and term of employment; provided, that such employees shall include field deputies or inspectors, upon whom are hereby conferred, for the purposes of the enforcement of this act, the powers now or hereafter vested by law in peace officers, and who may exercise said powers in any portion of the state or of any political subdivision thereof, but solely in the enforcement of the provisions of this act. The cashier shall execute to the people of the state a bond in the penal sum of five thousand dollars. The salaries herein provided for shall be payable monthly, and the expenditures authorized by this act, shall be made upon the certificate of the superintendent of the department, allowed and audited by the board of control, and the warrant of the state controller. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 415.]

§ 42. Copies printed. [Repealed May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 415.] The amendatory act of 1917 contained the following sections:

§ 28. Printed copies of act. There shall be printed two hundred fifty thousand copies of said vehicle act, as amended by this act, which shall be distributed to the public on request, without charge, by the department. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 415.]

§ 29. In effect when. Excepting the provision of section eleven hereof requiring that the light displayed upon a trailer shall illuminate the number plate carried upon such trailer, each and all of the provisions of sections one, eleven, twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, twenty-one, twenty-two, twenty-three, twenty-five, twenty-seven, twenty-eight and twenty-nine of this act, together with such provisions of section twenty-six of this act as relate to the salaries of the officers or employees of the department, and such other provisions of this act as relate to or require the preparation or purchase of forms and supplies, and other work incident to the registration of motor vehicles and trailers and the licensing of operators and chauffeurs, shall go into effect ninety days after the final adjournment of this session of the legislature, and the remainder of this act shall go into effect at midnight on the thirty-first day of December, in the year one thousand nine hundred seventeen. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 415.]

ACT 2331d.

An act providing for the supervision and regulation of the transportation of persons and property for compensation over any public highway by automobiles, jitney buses, auto trucks, stages and auto stages; providing for the issue by incorporated cities and towns, cities and counties, and counties of permits for the operation of such automobiles, jitney buses, auto trucks, stages and auto stages; empowering incorporated cities and towns, cities and counties, and counties to enact ordinances for the supervision and regulation of automobiles, jitney buses, auto trucks, stages and auto stages and providing penalties for the violation of such ordinances; defining transportation companies and providing for the supervision and regulation thereof by the railroad commission; providing for the enforcement of the provisions of this act and for the punishment of violations thereof; and repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act.

[Approved May 10, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 330. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Words and phrases defined. (a) The term "corporation," when used in this act, means a corporation, a company, an association or a joint stock association.

(b) The term "person," when used in this act, means an individual, a firm or a copartnership.

(c) The term "transportation company," when used in this act, means every corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, owning, controlling, operating or managing any automobile, jitney bus, auto truck, stage or auto stage used in the transportation of persons or property as a common carrier for compensation over any public highway in this state between fixed termini or over a regular route and not operating exclusively within the limits of an incorporated city or town or of a city and county; provided, that the term "transportation company," as used in this act, shall not include corporations or persons, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, in so far as they own, control, operate or manage taxicabs, hotel buses or sight-seeing buses, or any other carrier which does not come within the term "transportation company" as herein defined.

(d) The term "public highway," when used in this act, means every public street, road or highway in this state.

(e) The words "between fixed termini or over a regular route," when used in this act, mean the termini or route between or over which any corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, usually or ordinarily operate any automobile, jitney bus, auto truck, stage or auto stage, even though there may be departures from said termini or route, whether such departures be periodic or irregular. Whether or not any automobile, jitney bus, auto truck, stage or auto stage is operating "between fixed termini or over a regular route" within the meaning of this act shall be a question of fact and the finding of the railroad commission thereon shall be final and shall not be subject to review.

§ 2. Jitney bus, etc., must be operated according to law. No corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, shall operate any automobile, jitney bus, auto truck, stage or auto stage for the transportation of persons or property for compensation on any public highway in this state except in accordance with the provisions of this act.

§ 3. Permit to operate. (a) No corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, shall operate any automobile, jitney bus, auto truck, stage or auto stage for the transportation of persons or property as a common carrier for compensation on any public highway in this state between any fixed termini between which or over any route over which such corporation, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, are not actually operating in good faith on May 1, 1917, unless a permit has first been secured as herein provided.

(b) Application. Hearing. Permit issued. Matters in permit. Power of cities, city and county and counties to regulate. Application for such permit shall be made by such corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, to the legislative or other governing board or body of each incorporated city or town, city and county, and county within or through which applicant intends to operate. Such application shall be in writing, verified by applicant, and shall specify the following matters:

(1) The name and address of applicant and the names and addresses of its officers, if any.

(2) The public highway or highways over which and the fixed termini or the regular route, if any, between which or over which applicant intends to operate.

(3) The kind of transportation, whether passenger or freight or both, in which applicant intends to engage, together with a brief description of each vehicle which applicant intends to use, including the seating capacity thereof if for passenger traffic or the tonnage if for freight traffic.

(4) A proposed time schedule, if any.

(5) A schedule or tariff showing the passenger fares or freight rates to be charged between the several points or localities to be served.

(c) Upon the filing of said application, the legislative or other governing board or body with which the same has been filed may in its discretion fix a time and place for a hearing on said application, which time shall not be less than five days subsequent to the filing of said application. No application shall be granted without a hearing. When a time and place for a hearing, have been fixed, the applicant shall, at least three days prior to said hearing, cause to be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the incorporated city or town, city and county, or county within which applicant desires to exercise a permit, a notice reciting the fact of the filing of said application, together with a statement of the time and place of the hearing of said application.

(d) At the time specified in said notice or at such later time as may be fixed by said legislative or other governing board or body, a public hearing upon said application shall be held by or under the direction of said legislative or other governing board or body. After such hearing, said legislative or other governing board or body may issue the permit as prayed for or refuse to issue the same, or may issue the same with modifications and upon such terms and conditions as in its judgment the public convenience and necessity may require.

(e) Each permit issued under the provisions of this act shall contain the following matters:

(1) The name of the grantee.

(2) The public highway or highways over which, and the fixed termini, if any, between which the grantee is permitted to operate.

(3) The kind of transportation, whether passenger or freight, in which the grantee is permitted to engage, together with a statement of the number and of the maximum seating or tonnage capacity of the vehicles which the grantee is permitted to operate.

(4) The term for which the permit is granted, which term shall not exceed five years.

(5) Such additional matters as said legislative or other governing board or body may deem necessary or proper to be inserted in said permit.

No permit issued under the provisions of this act may be assigned or transferred without the consent of the granting authority.

(f) Each incorporated city or town, city and county, and county shall have the power, by ordinance, to supervise and regulate every corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, owning, controlling, operating or managing any automobile, jitney bus, auto truck, stage or auto stage, used for the transportation of persons or property for compensation over any public highway within their respective territorial limits, and in the exercise of such power may provide for the licensing of all drivers, the filing of indemnity bonds, the enactment of traffic rules and regulations, the regulation of the rates, service and safety of all such corporations and persons, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, and all other matters affecting the relationship between such carriers and the traveling and shipping public, with power to prescribe penalties for the violation of such ordinances; provided, that the power in this act granted to incorporated cities and towns, cities and counties, and counties shall at all times be subject to and in no instance be construed to impair the judisdiction of the railroad commission of the state of California as conferred by the constitution of this state or by this act.

(g) Power to prevent use of highways without permit. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as in any way limiting or impairing the power of any incorporated city or town, city and county, or county, to prevent corporations and persons, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, engaged on May 1, 1917, in the transportation of persons or property for compensation over any public highway or highways in this state from thereafter using any public highway or highways within the territorial limits of such incorporated city or town, city and county, or county, unless they shall first have secured from such incorporated city or town, city and county, or county, a franchise or permit for the use of such public highway or highways in accordance with the organic law of such incorporated city or town, city and county or county.

§ 4. Power of railroad commission over transportation companies. The railroad commission of the state of California is hereby vested with power and authority to supervise and regulate every transportation company in this state; to fix the rates, fares, charges, classifications, rules and regulations of each such transportation company; to regulate the accounts, service and safety of operations of each such transportation company; to require the filing of annual and other reports and of other data by such transportation companies; and to supervise and regulate transportation companies in all other matters affecting the relationship between such companies and the traveling and shipping public. The railroad commission shall have power and authority, by general order or otherwise, to prescribe rules and regulations applicable to any and all transportation companies. The railroad commission, in the exercise of the jurisdiction conferred upon it by the constitution of this state and by this act, shall have power and authority to make orders and to prescribe rules and regulations affecting transportation companies, notwithstanding the provisions of any ordinance or permit of any incorporated city or town, city and county, or county, and in case of conflict between any such order, rule or regulation and any such ordinance or permit, the order, rule or regulation of the railroad commission shall in each instance prevail.

§ 5. Certificate from railroad commission. No transportation company shall hereafter exercise any right or privilege under any franchise or permit hereafter granted by any incorporated city or town, city and county, or county, without having first obtained from the railroad commission a certificate declaring that public convenience and necessity require the exercise of such right or privilege, but no such certicate shall be required of any transportation company as to the fixed termini between which or the route over which it is actually operating in good faith on May 1, 1917. A transportation company may apply for a certificate of public convenience and necessity in advance of securing any franchise or permit for the use of the public highways constituting the proposed route. The railroad commission shall have power, with or without hearing, to issue said certificate as prayed for, or to refuse to issue the same, or to issue it for the partial exercise only of said privilege sought, and may attach to the exercise of the rights granted by said certificate such terms and conditions as, in its judgment, the public convenience and necessity may require.

The railroad commission may at any time for a good cause suspend and upon notice to the grantee of any certificate and opportunity to be heard revoke, alter or amend any certificate issued under the provisions of this section.

§ 6. Order authorizing issue of stock and bonds. Application of public utilities act. Fees. No transportation company may issue any stock or stock certicate, or any bond, or any note or other evidence of indebtedness payable at a period of more than twelve months after the date thereof in such an amount that the aggregate amount of notes or other evidences of indebtedness at any one time outstanding shall exceed the amount of two thousand five hundred dollars, unless such transportation company, in addition to the other requirements of law, shall first have secured from the railroad commission an order authorizing such issue and stating the amount thereof and the purpose or purposes to which the issue or the proceeds thereof are to be applied and that, in the opinion of the railroad commission, the money, property or labor to be procured or paid for by such issue is reasonably required for the purpose or purposes specified in the order and that, except as otherwise permitted in the order in the case of bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness, such purpose or purposes are not, in whole or in part, reasonably chargeable to operating expenses or to income. Such order may be made, in the discretion of the railroad commission, either with or without a public hearing. Except as in this section otherwise provided, the provisions of section fifty-two of the public utilities act referring to the purposes for which stocks and stock certificates, bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness, may be issued and the application of and the accounting for the proceeds thereof, the powers and duties of the railroad commission and the rights and duties of public utilities with reference thereto, the legal status of stocks and stock certicates and of bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness, issued without an order of the railroad commission then in effect, and the relationship of the state of California to such stocks and stock certificates, and such bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness, shall apply to and govern the issue of stocks and stock certificates, and of bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness, of transportation companies with the same force and effect as though section fifty-two of the public utilities act were restated in this section with the substitution of the words "transportation company" for the words "public utilities" and of the words "transportation companies" for the words "public utilities." The provisions of section fifty-seven of the public utilities act referring to fees to be charged and collected by the railroad commission for certificates authorizing the issue of bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness of public utilities shall apply to and govern authorizations by the railroad commission of the issue by transportation companies of bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness.

§ 7. Application of public utilities act. In all respects in which the railroad commission has power and authority under the constitution of this state or this act, applications and complaints may be made and filed with the railroad commission, process issued, hearings held, opinions, orders and decisions made and filed, petitions for rehearing filed and acted upon, and petitions for writs of review or mandate filed with the supreme court of this state, considered and disposed of by said court, in the manner, under the conditions and subject to the limitations and with the effect specified in the public utilities act.

§ 8. Violation. Every officer, agent, or employee of any corporation, and every other person who violates or fails to comply with, or who procures, aids or abets in the violation of any provision of this act, or who fails to obey, observe or comply with any order, decision, rule or regulation, direction, demand or requirement, or any port or provision thereof, of the railroad commission, or who procures, aids or abets any corporation or person in his failure to obey, observe or comply with any such order, decision, rule, direction, demand or regulation, or any part or provision thereof, is guilty of a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

§ 9. Foreign or interstate commerce. Neither this act nor any provision thereof shall apply or be construed to apply to commerce with foreign nations or commerce among the several states of this union, except in so far as the same may be permitted under the provisions of the constitution of the United States and the acts of congress.

§ 10. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

§ 11. Repealed. Stats. 1905, p. 777, not to apply. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed. The provisions of an act entitled "An act providing for the sale of street railroad and other franchises in counties and municipalities and providing conditions for the granting of such franchises by legislative or other governing bodies, and repealing conflicting acts (approved March 22, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 777)," are declared not to apply to the use of highways for the kind of transportation herein regulated.

TITLE 361.

MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS.

ACT 2348.

An act to provide for the organization, incorporation, and government of municipal corporations.

Sess. 1911, pp. 131, 135; 1913, pp. 10, 15, 31, 32, 33, 34, 375; 1915, pp. 170, 331, 828, 1304; 1917, pp. 1528, 1663, 1666.

The amendments of 1917 follow:

§ 764. Powers of board of trustees of city. The board of trustees of such city shall have power:

1. To pass ordinances not in conflict with the constitution and laws of this state, or of the United States.

2. To purchase, lease, or receive such real estate and personal property as may be necessary or proper for municipal purposes, and to control, dispose of, and convey the same for the benefit of the city; provided, that they shall not have any power to sell or convey any portion of any waterfront; but may rent such waterfront for a term not exceeding ten years for the purpose of erecting bathhouses thereon.

3. To contract for supplying the said city with water, and gas, and electric lights or other lights for municipal purposes; to purchase, lease, construct or otherwise acquire waterworks, electric plants, and gas works or plants or any of same, and all machinery, conductors, lands, appliances and all other things needed therefor, and to supply said city with, and to sell to the inhabitants of said city, gas, electric light or other light, and heat, and power; provided, that no such purchase or lease shall be made unless the question of acquiring such property is submitted to the voters of such city in the same manner as other propositions, at a general or special municipal election, and a majority of the electors, voting at such election shall vote in favor of such proposition.

4. To establish, build and repair bridges; to establish, lay out, alter keep open, open, improve and repair streets, sidewalks, alleys, squares, and other public highways and places within the city, and to drain, sprinkle, oil, and light the same; to remove all obstructions therefrom; to establish the grades thereof; to grade, pave, macadamize, gravel and curb the same in whole or in part, and to construct gutters, culverts, sidewalks, and crosswalks therein, or upon any part thereof; to cause to be planted, set out, and cultivated, shade trees therein; and generally to manage and control all such highways and places.

5. To establish, construct and maintain drains and sewers, and to provide by ordinance for a general system of sewers, and the expense of building and maintaining the same.

6. To provide fire-engines and all other necessary or proper apparatus for the prevention and extinguishment of fires.

7. To impose and collect from every male inhabitant between the ages of twenty-one and sixty years, an annual street poll tax, not exceeding two dollars, and no other road poll tax shall be collected within the limits of such city; that any member of a volunteer fire company in such city shall be exempt from such tax.

8. To impose and collect an annual license, not exceeding two dollars on every dog owned or harbored within the limits of the city.

9. To levy and collect annually a property tax, which shall be apportioned as follows: For the general fund, not exceeding sixty cents on each one hundred dollars; for street fund, not exceeding thirty cents on each one hundred dollars; for school fund, not exceeding twenty-five cents on each one hundred dollars; for sewer fund, not exceeding ten cents on each one hundred dollars. The levy for all purposes for any one year for all purposes to which such funds are applicable shall not exceed one dollar on each one hundred dollars of the assessed value of all real and personal property within such city.

10. To license, for purposes of regulation and revenue, all and every kind of business, including the sale of intoxicating liquors, authorized by law and transacted or carried on in such city, and all shows, exhibitions, and lawful games carried on therein; to fix the rates of licenses upon the same, and to provide for the collection of the same by suit or otherwise.

11. To improve the rivers and streams flowing through such city, or adjoining the same; to widen, straighten, and deepen the channels thereof, and to remove obstructions therefrom; to improve the waterfront of the city, and to construct and maintain embankments and other works to protect such city from overflow.

12. To erect and maintain buildings for municipal purposes.

13. To permit, under such restrictions as they may deem proper, the laying of railroad tracks and the running of cars drawn by horses, steam, electricity, or other power thereon, and the laying of gas or water pipes in the public streets, and to construct and maintain, and to permit the construction and maintenance of telephone, telegraph and electric light lines therein.

14. In its discretion to divide the city, by ordinance, into a convenient number of wards, not exceeding five, to fix the boundaries thereof, and to change the same from time to time; provided, that no change in the boundaries of any ward shall be made within sixty days next before the date of said general municipal election, nor within twenty months after the same shall have been established or altered. Whenever such city shall be divided into wards, the board of trustees shall designate by ordinance the number of trustees to be elected from each ward, apportioning the same in proportion to the population of such ward; and thereafter the trustees so designated shall be elected by the qualified electors resident in such ward, or by the general vote of the whole city, as may be designated in such ordinance.

15. To appoint and remove such policemen and such other subordinate officers as they may deem proper, and to fix their duties and compensation.

16. To impose fines, penalties, and forfeitures for any and all violations of ordinances, and for any breach or violation of any ordinance to fix the penalty by fine or imprisonment, or both, but no such fine shall exceed three hundred dollars, nor the term of such imprisonment exceed three months.

17. To cause all persons imprisoned for violation of any ordinance to labor on the streets, or other property or works within the city.

18. To establish fire limits, and the same to alter at pleasure; to regulate or prevent the erection of wooden or other buildings or structures of combustible materials; to regulate the construction of all buildings, shades, awnings, signs, or any structure of a dangerous or unsafe character; to provide, by regulation, for the prevention and summary removal of all filth and garbage in the streets, sloughs, alleys, backyards or public grounds of such city, or elsewhere therein; to regulate or prohibit the storage of gunpowder and combustible or explosive materials of every kind and nature within the city limits, and to prescribe the limits in which the same may be kept or stored.

19. To do and perform any and all other acts and things necessary and proper to carry out the provisions of this chapter, and to exact and enforce within the limits of such city all other local, police, sanitary, and other regulations as do not conflict with general laws.

20. To levy and collect a property tax in addition to that now authorized by law for the purpose of improving, repairing, and maintaining any and all streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks of said municipality, which have heretofore been accepted by said municipality, under and pursuant to the provisions of any street improvement act, providing for the acceptance of streets by said municipality, which such tax shall not exceed thirty cents on each one hundred dollars of the assessed value of all real and personal property within such municipality. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1663.]

§ 765. Enacting clause of ordinances. The enacting clause of all ordinances shall be as follows: "The board of trustees of the city (or town) of —— do ordain as follows:" Every ordinance must be signed by the president of the board of trustees, attested by the clerk, and must be published by said board at least three times in a newspaper of general circulation published in such city or town, or if there be none published in such city or town, then every ordinance must be posted in at least three public places therein; provided, that emergency ordinances subject to the referendum must be published at least one time. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1666.]

§ 862. Powers of city trustees. The board of trustees of said city shall have power:

1. Pass ordinances. To pass ordinances not in conflict with the constitution and laws of this state or of the United States.

2. Acquire real estate. To purchase, lease, or receive such real estate situated inside or outside of the city limits and personal property as may be necessary or proper for municipal purposes, and to control, dispose of, and convey the same for the benefit of the city or town; provided, they shall not have power to sell or convey any portion of any waterfront.

3. Supply water for city use. To contract for supplying the city or town with water for municipal purposes, or to acquire, construct, repair, and manage pumps, aqueducts, reservoirs, or other works necessary or proper for supplying water for the use of such city or the inhabitants, or for irrigating purposes therein.

4. Manage highways. To establish, build and repair bridges; to establish, lay out, alter, keep open, improve, and repair streets, sidewalks, alleys, and other public highways, squares and parks, and places within the city or town, and to drain, sprinkle, oil, and light the same; to remove all obstructions therefrom; to establish the grades thereof; to grade, pave, macadamize, gravel, and curb the same, in whole or in part, and to construct gutters, culverts, sidewalks, and crosswalks therein, or on any part thereof; to cause to be planted, set out, and cultivated, shade trees therein; and generally to manage and control all such highways and places; and in the exercise of the powers herein granted to expend, in their discretion, the ordinary annual income and revenue of the municipality in payments of the costs and expenses of the whole or any part of such work or improvement.

4a. Open streets. To acquire property required for the opening and laying out of any street, alley or lane from the point where the continuity of such street, alley or lane ceases, to the point where such street, alley or lane again commences, to lay out and improve said street, alley or lane; and to pay the cost and expense incurred in the acquisition of the required property of the general fund of the city.

5. Sewers. To construct, establish, and maintain drains and sewers.

6. Fire protection. To provide fire-engines and all other necessary and proper apparatus for the prevention and extinguishment of fires.

7. Collect street poll tax. To impose on and collect from every male inhabitant between the ages of twenty-one and sixty years, an annual street poll tax, not exceeding two dollars; and no other road poll tax shall be collected within the limits of the city.

8. Dog tax. To impose and collect an annual license not exceeding two dollars on every male dog, and four dollars on every female dog owned or harbored within the limits of the city.

9. Property tax. To levy and collect annually a property tax, which shall not, without the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors of such city or town voting at an election to be held for that purpose exceed one dollar on each one hundred dollars; provided, however, that in cities which have constructed or may hereafter construct embankments, seawalls, or other works to protect such cities from overflow, said board of trustees may levy and collect annually, a property tax which shall not exceed twenty cents on each one hundred dollars, which, when collected, shall be kept in a separate fund and used for the construction and maintenance of embankments, seawalls, or other works to protect such city from overflow and for no other purpose.

10. License business. To license, for the purpose of revenue and regulation, all and every kind of business authorized by law and transacted and carried on in such city or town, and all shows, exhibitions, and lawful games carried on therein; to fix the rates of license tax upon the same, and to provide for the collection of the same by suit or otherwise.

11. Improve rivers and streams. To improve the rivers and streams flowing through such city or adjoining the same; to widen, straighten, and deepen the channels thereof, and remove obstructions therefrom; to improve the waterfront of the city; including the ocean front thereof, and to build and construct breakwaters, jetties, and seawalls; to construct and maintain embankments and other works, to protect such city from overflow and to acquire, own, construct, maintain, and operate on any lands bordering on any navigable bay, lake, inlet, river, creek, slough, or arm of the sea within the corporate limits of such city or contiguous thereto, wharves, chutes, piers, breakwaters, bathhouses, and life-saving stations.

12. Municipal buildings. To erect and maintain buildings for municipal purposes, and to acquire and maintain cemeteries, situated inside or outside of said city.

13. Acquire public utilites. To acquire, own, construct, maintain, and operate street railways, telephone and telegraph lines, gas and other works for light, power, and heat; public libraries, museums, gymnasiums, parks, and baths, and to grant franchises for the construction of public utilities as they may deem proper, the laying of railroad tracks and the running of cars drawn by horses, steam, or other power thereon, and the laying of gas and water pipes in the public streets, and to permit the construction and maintenance of telegraph and telephone lines therein.

14. Impose fines. To impose fines, penalties, and forfeitures for any and all violations of ordinances; and for any breach or violation of any ordinance; to fix the penalty by fine or imprisonment, or both; but no such fine shall exceed three hundred dollars, nor the term of imprisonment exceed three months.

15. Compel labor of prisoners. To cause all persons imprisoned for violation of any ordinance to labor on the streets, or other public property, or works within the city.

16. Fire limits. To establish and maintain fire limits, and regulate building and construction and removal of buildings within the municipality.

16a. Regulate construction of buildings. To regulate the construction of and the materials used in all buildings, chimneys, stacks and other structures; to prevent the erection and maintenance of insecure or unsafe building walls, chimneys, stacks, or other structures, and to provide for their summary abatement, destruction, or removal; to provide for the abatement, destruction or removal of unsightly or partially destroyed buildings; to regulate the materials used in and the method of construction of foundations and foundation walls, the manner of construction and location of drains and sewers, the materials used in wiring buildings or other structures for the use of electricity for lighting, power, heat or other purposes and materials used for piping buildings or other structures for the purpose of supplying the same with water, gas, or electricity, and the manner of so doing; to prohibit the construction of buildings and structures which do not conform to such regulations.

16b. Regulate advertising, etc. To regulate the exhibition, posting or carrying of banners, placards, posters, cards, pictures, signs or advertisements in or on the street, or on or upon buildings, fences, billboards or other structures; or on or upon any pole in any sidewalk, alley, street, lane, court, park or other public place; to regulate the suspension of banners, flags, signs, advertisements, posters, pictures, or cards across or over any sidewalk, alley, street, lane, court, park, or other public place, or such suspension from fences, poles, houses, or other structures; to prohibit and prevent encroachments upon or obstructions in or to any sidewalk, street, alley, lane, court, park or other public place, and to provide for the removal of such encroachment or obstruction.

16c. Compel removal of dirt, weeds, etc. To compel the owner, lessee or occupant of buildings, grounds, or lots to remove dirt, rubbish, weeds and rank growths from the sidewalk opposite thereto, and from the building or grounds, and on his default, after such notice as the board of trustees may prescribe, to authorize the removal or destruction thereof by some officer of the city at the expense of such owner, lessee or occupant, and by such procedure as the board of trustees may prescribe, to make such expense a lien upon such buildings or grounds.

17. Issue subpoenas. To issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses, or the production of books or other documents, for the purpose of producing evidence or testimony in any action or proceeding pending before the board of trustees, which subpoenas must be signed by the president of the board of trustees, and attested by the city clerk and may be served in the same manner as subpoenas are served in civil actions. Whenever any person duly subpoenaed to appear and give evidence, or to produce any books or any documents as herein provided, shall neglect or refuse to appear, or to produce such books or documents, as required by such subpoena, or shall refuse to testify before such board, or to answer any questions which a majority thereof shall decide to be proper and pertinent, it shall be the duty of the president of the board to report the fact to the judge of the superior court of the county, who shall thereupon issue an attachment in the form usual in the court of which he shall be judge, directed to the sheriff of the county where such witness was required to appear and testify, commanding the said sheriff to attach such person, and forthwith bring him before the judge by whose order such attachment was isued. On the return of the attachment and the production of the body of the defendant, the said judge shall have jurisdiction of the matter, and the person charged may purge himself of the contempt in the same way, and the same proceedings shall be had, and the same penalties may be imposed, and the same punishment inflicted as in the case of a witness subpoenaed to appear and give evidence on the trial of a civil cause before a superior court.

18. Music and promotion. To expend such sum as the board of trustees shall deem proper, not to exceed five per cent of the property tax levy in any one fiscal year, for music and promotion.

19. Other acts. To do and perform any and all other acts and things necessary or proper to carry out the provisions of this act. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917; p. 1528.]

§ 863. Enacting clause of ordinances. The enacting clause of all ordinances shall be as follows: "The board of trustees of the city (or town) of —— do ordain as follows:" Every ordinance must be signed by the president of the board of trustees and attested by the clerk and must be published by said board at least once in a newspaper of general circulation published and circulated in such city or town; provided, that if there be no such newspaper published and circulated in such city or town, then all ordinances must be posted in at least three public places therein; provided, further, that in all cities or towns which have been incorporated less than one year, all ordinances may be either published or posted as aforesaid, as the board of trustees may determine; and provided, further, that in no case shall the price charged for such publication of any ordinances exceed the customary rate charged by such newspaper for the publication of legal notices of a private character. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1666.]

ACT 2371.

An act authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, towns, and municipal corporations for municipal improvements, and regulating the acquisition, construction, or completion thereof.

[Became a law under constitutional provision without governor's approval, February 25, 1901. Stats. 1901, p. 27.]

Amended 1907, pp. 570, 609, 634; 1909, p. 720; 1913, pp. 13, 29; 1915, pp. 97, 1453; 1917, p. 79.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 6½. Cancellation of unsold bonds. At any time after three years after the date of any election, heretofore or hereafter held, at which an issue of any of the bonds herein provided has or shall have been authorized, the legislative body of the municipality may, by ordinance duly adopted by a two-thirds vote of all of the members of such legislative body, determine that no part of such bond issue, or, if a portion of the bonds so authorized at such election shall have been sold, that no part of the remainder of such issue then remaining unsold, shall be thereafter issued or sold, and upon the taking effect of such ordinance the authority to issue the bonds authorized at such election and described in such ordinance shall cease, and the whole or that portion of the bonds issued pursuant thereto remaining unsold and described in such ordinance shall become void.

ACT 2371a.

An act to validate bonds issued and sold, or to be issued and sold for the purpose of the acquisition or construction of any public improvement work or public utility in any portion of a municipality.

[Approved May 4, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 229. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Bonds issued by portion of municipality validated. Where, in any portion of a municipality of this state proceedings have been taken for the purpose of creating an indebtedness, to be represented by bonds of such district, the proceeds from the sale of which are to be used for the acquisition or construction therein of any public improvement work or public utility which the municipality of which such district forms a part is authorized by law to acquire or construct, all acts and proceedings leading up to and including the issuance of such bonds, if they have heretofore been sold, and all such acts and proceedings heretofore had, although the bonds are not yet sold, are hereby legalized, ratified, confirmed and declared valid to all intents and purposes, and the power of said district and of the legislative body of such municipality to issue such bonds is hereby ratified, confirmed and declared, and the bonds already are declared to be and the bonds hereafter sold shall be, the legal and binding obligation of and against such district for which such bonds have heretofore, or may hereafter be, issued, and the full faith and credit of such district is hereby pledged for the prompt payment and redemption of the principal and interest of said bonds; provided, that this act shall not operate to legalize any bonds of any district that have not, at the time of the passage of this act, been authorized by the vote of not less than two-thirds of the qualified electors in said district voting at an election held for the purpose of voting upon the question of the issuance of such bonds, or any bonds which have been sold for less than their par value.

ACT 2374.

An act to provide for the alteration of the boundaries of and for the annexation of territory to incorporated towns and cities, and for the incorporation of such annexed territory in and as a part of such municipalities, and for the districting, government, and municipal control of annexed territory.

[Approved March 19, 1889. Stats. 1889, p. 358.]

Amended 1905, p. 551; 1911, pp. 857, 1459; 1917, p. 419.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Procedure for annexing new territory to cities. Election on question. The boundaries of any incorporated town or city, whether heretofore or hereafter formed, incorporated, reincorporated, organized, or reorganized, may be altered and new territory annexed thereto, incorporated and included therein, and made a part thereof, upon proceedings being had and taken as in this act provided. The council, board of trustees, or other legislative body of any such municipal corporation, upon receiving a written petition therefor containing a description of the new territory asked to be annexed to such corporation, and signed by not less than one-fifth in number of the qualified electors of such municipal corporation, computed upon the number of votes cast at the last general municipal election held therein, must, without delay, submit to the electors of such municipal corporation and to the electors residing in the territory proposed by such petition to be annexed to such corporation, the question whether such new territory shall be annexed to, incorporated in, and made a part of said municipal corporation. Such question may be so submitted at the next general municipal election to be held in such municipal incorporation, or it may be so submitted prior to such general election either at a special election called therein for that purpose, or at any other municipal election therein, except an election at which the submission of such question is prohibited by law; and such legislative body is hereby empowered to and it shall be its duty to cause notice to be given of such election by the publication of a notice thereof in a newspaper printed and published in such municipal corporation, and also in a newspaper, if any such there be, printed and published outside of such corporation, but in the county in which the territory so proposed to be annexed is situated, in each case at least once a week for a period of four successive weeks next preceding the date of such election. Such notice shall distinctly state the proposition to be submitted, i. e., that it is proposed to annex to, incorporate in, and make a part of such municipal corporations the territory sought to be annexed, specifically describing the boundaries thereof; and in said notice the qualified electors of said municipal corporation, and the qualified electors residing in said territory so proposed to be annexed, shall be invited to vote upon such proposition by placing upon their ballots the words "For annexation" or "Against annexation," or words equivalent thereto. Such legislative body is hereby empowered, and it shall be its duty, to establish, and in such notice of election designate the voting precinct or precincts, and the place or places at which the polls will be opened in such territory so proposed to be annexed, and also in such municipal corporation. And such place or places shall be that or those commonly used as voting places within such municipal corporation, and also that or those commonly used within such new territory, if any such there be. Such legislative body is empowered to, and it shall, appoint the officers of such election, who shall be, for each voting place in such municipal corporation, and for each voting place in said new territory, two judges and one inspector, each of whom shall be a qualified elector of the voting precinct in which he is appointed to act as an officer of such election. The ballots used at such election, the opening and closing of the polls, and the holding and conducting of such election, shall be in conformity, as far as may be, with the general laws of this state concerning elections; and the judges and inspectors of such election shall immediately on the closing of the polls, count the ballots, make up and certify the tally sheets of the ballots cast at their respective polling places, seal, and then immediately return the same as below provided, doing so, as nearly as practicable, in the manner provided in the election laws of this state; but the ballots, tally sheets, and returns shall be so returned to and deposited with the clerk of such legislative body. Such legislative body shall, at the time provided for its regular meeting next after the expiration of three days from and after the date of said election, meet and proceed to canvass said returns; and such canvass shall be completed at such meeting, if practicable, and in any event, as soon as practicable, avoiding adjournment or adjournments, if possible, until said canvass is completed. Said canvass by such legislative body shall be conducted and completed as follows: The returns of the votes cast in said outside territory, so proposed to be annexed shall be canvassed separately; and the returns of the votes cast inside of said municipal corporation shall be canvassed separately. Immediately upon the completion of such canvass, said legislative body shall cause a record thereof to be made and entered upon its minutes, showing the whole number of votes cast in such outside territory, the whole number of votes cast in such municipal corporation, the number thereof cast in each in favor of annexation, and the number thereof cast in each against annexation; and it shall appear from such canvass that a majority of all the votes cast in such outside territory, and a majority of all the votes cast inside of said municipal corporation, are in favor of annexation, the clerk, or other officer performing the duties of clerk, of such legislative body, shall promptly make and certify, under the seal of said municipal corporation, and transmit to the secretary of state, a copy of said record, so entered upon said minutes, together with a statement showing the date of said election and the time and result of said canvass, which document shall be filed by the secretary of state immediately upon the receipt thereof. From and after the date of the filing of said document in the office of the secretary of state, the annexation of such territory so proposed to be annexed shall be deemed and shall be complete, and thenceforth such annexed territory shall be, to all intents and purposes, a part of such municipal corporation, except only that no property within such annexed territory shall ever be taxed to pay any portion of any indebtedness or liability of such municipal corporation contracted prior to or existing at the time of such annexation, excepting as provided in section one a of this act. No territory which, at the time such petition for such proposed annexation is presented to such legislative body, forms any part of any incorporated town or city, shall be annexed under the provisions of this act.

An act to provide for the alteration of the boundaries of and for the annexation of territory to municipal corporations, for the incorporation of such annexed territory in and as a part thereof, and for the districting, government and municipal control of such annexed territory. [Approved June 11, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 587.]

Amended 1915, p. 305; 1917, p. 26.

§ 3. Should majority in outside territory favor. Question submitted in city. If it shall appear from the canvass of the returns of the election held in the territory proposed to be annexed to any municipal corporation, as provided in section two of this act, that a majority of all the votes cast in such outside territory on the question of such annexation are in favor of annexation, such legislative body may, by ordinance, approve such annexation, or, in case of failure to so approve, by ordinance, such annexation, shall then submit to the electors of such municipal corporation the question whether such territory shall be annexed to, incorporated in and made a part of such municipal corporation. Such question may be so submitted at the next general municipal election to be held in such municipal corporation, or it may be so submitted prior to such general election, either at a special election called therein for that purpose, or at any other special municipal election therein, except an election at which the submission of such question is prohibited by law. Whenever such question is submitted at any election in such municipal corporation, such question shall be stated in the notice of such election and on the ballots to be used at such election, and the electors shall vote thereon, in the same manner as hereinbefore provided in the case of the election in the territory proposd to be annexed. And whenever such question is submitted at any such municipal election, general or special, as above provided, it shall be submitted and voted upon as other questions are required by law to be submitted and voted upon at such elections, except in particulars otherwise in this act set forth; and the laws applicable to and governing the time and manner of giving notice, conducting, holding, canvassing the returns, and declaring the result of any such election shall apply to and govern the submission of such question to the electors of such municipal corporation at any such election. [Amendment approved April 2, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 26.]

§ 4. Record of votes cast. Should majority favor. Annexation complete. Territory of city may not be annexed. Immediately upon the completion of the canvass of the returns of any election in any municipal corporation at which the question of annexation of new territory thereto was submitted, as in this act provided the legislative body of such municipal corporation shall cause a record to be made, and entered upon its minutes, showing the total number of votes cast in such municipal corporation upon such question at such election, the number thereof cast in favor of annexation, and the number thereof cast against annexation. If it shall appear from the canvass of the returns of such election, that a majority of the qualified electors of such municipal corporation voting on the question of such annexation are in favor thereof, the clerk or other officer performing the duties of a clerk of the legislative body of such municipal corporation shall make and certify, under the seal thereof, and transmit to the secretary of state, a copy of the record of the canvass of the returns of the election in such new territory and of the election in such municipal corporation at which the question of the annexation of the said new territory was submitted and entered upon its minutes as aforesaid, together with a statement showing the dates of such elections in said new territory and in said municipal corporation, and the time and the result of the canvass of the returns of such elections, and containing a description of such territory. If such annexation has been approved by ordinance of such legislative body, as herein authorized, a certified copy of such ordinance, giving the date of its passage, shall be substituted in said document in place of the copy of the record of the canvass of the returns of the election in such municipal corporation provided for in case such annexation was not approved by ordinance. Said document, in either case, shall be filed by the secretary of state immediately upon the receipt thereof. From and after the date of the filing of said document in the office of the secretary of state, the annexation of such territory so proposed to be annexed and described therein, shall be deemed to be and shall be complete, and thenceforth such annexed territory shall be, to all intents and purposes, a part of such municipal corporation, except only that no property within such annexed territory shall ever be taxed to pay any portion of any indebtedness or liability of such municipal corporation contracted prior to or existing at the time of such annexation, excepting as hereinafter provided. No territory which, at the time of the presentation of a petition to the legislative body of any municipal corporation for the annexation of such territory thereto forms any part of any municipal corporation, shall be annexed under the provisions of this act. [Amendment approved April 2, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 27.]

§ 5. Question of taxing annexed territory to pay indebtedness of city. Proposition submitted. Notice to specify improvements, etc. Majority favoring. Annexation complete. When property subject to taxation. Whenever any municipal corporation to which it is proposed to annex territory under the provisions of this act shall have incurred, or authorized the incurring of, any bonded indebtedness for the acquisition, construction or completion of any municipal improvement or improvements, the petition presented to the legislative body of such municipal corporation, as provided in section two of this act, may contain a request that the question to be submitted to the electors residing in the territory proposed by such petition to be annexed to such municipal corporation, shall be, whether such new territory shall be annexed to, incorporated in, and made a part of, said municipal corporation, and the property therein be, after such annexation, subject to taxation, equally with the property within such municipal corporation, to pay any specified portion of such bonded indebtedness of such municipal corporation, outstanding at the date of the filing of such petition or theretofore authorized. If such request shall be made in said petition, proceedings shall be had thereon, and an election shall be called and held in the territory proposed to be annexed, the same in all respects as upon a petition presented under the provisions of section two of this act, excepting that the notice of election shall distinctly state the proposition to be submitted to wit: that it is proposed to annex to, incorporate in, and make a part of, such municipal corporation, the territory sought to be annexed, specifically describing the boundaries thereof, and that the property therein, shall, after such annexation, be subject to taxation, equally with the property within such municipal corporation, to pay such specified bonded indebtedness of such municipal corporation, outstanding at the date of the said annexation, or indebtedness theretofore authorized and to be represented by bonds of such municipal corporation thereafter to be issued. The said notice shall, in general terms, specify the improvement or improvements for which such indebtedness was so incurred or authorized, and state the amount or amounts of such indebtedness already incurred, outstanding at the date of the first publication of such notice, and the amount or amounts of such indebtedness theretofore authorized, and to be represented by bonds thereafter to be issued, and the maximum rate of interest payable, or to be payable on such indebtedness; and upon the canvass of the returns of the votes cast in any territory proposed to be annexed at any election held therein under the provisions of this section, if it shall appear that a majority of all the votes cast in such outside territory are in favor of annexation, the legislative body of such municipal corporation may, by ordinance, approve such annexation; or, in case of failure to so approve, by ordinance, such annexation, shall submit to the electors thereof the question whether such territory shall be annexed to, incorporated in and made a part of such municipal corporation. Such question may be so submitted to the electors of such municipal corporation in the same manner as provided in section three of this act, and if it shall appear from the canvass of the returns of the election in such municipal corporation at which such question shall have been submitted, that a majority of the qualified electors thereof voting upon the question of such annexation are in favor thereof, like proceedings shall thereupon be taken, and with the same force and effect as provided in sections three and four of this act. The provisions of sections two, three and four of this act, so far as applicable, shall apply to annexation under the provisions of this section. From and after the date of the filing in the office of the secretary of state of the document containing a copy of the record of the proceedings for the annexation of such new territory to such municipal corporation, as provided in section four of this act, the annexation of such territory so proposed to be annexed, and described therein, shall be deemed, and shall be, complete, and thenceforth such annexed territory shall be, to all intents and purposes a part of such municipal corporation, and the property within such annexed territory shall be taxed to pay the bonded indebtedness or liability of such corporation, specified in said notice, equally with the property within such municipal corporation as it existed prior to the filing of such petition.

The property in any such new territory annexed to any municipal corporation, under the provisions of this act, after twelve o'clock meridian of the first Monday in March, and before the completion of the assessment-roll of such municipal corporation, shall be subject to taxation for municipal purposes for the fiscal year following said first Monday in March. [Amendment approved April 2, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 28.]

ACT 2383a.

An act to provide for the consolidation of municipal corporations.

[Approved June 11, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 577.]

Amended 1915, p. 311; 1917, p. 30.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 3. Should majority favor. Question submitted to larger city. If it shall appear from the canvass of the returns of the election mentioned in section two of this act, that a majority of all the votes cast in the municipal corporation in which such election was held, upon the question of consolidation submitted at such election, are in favor of such consolidation, the clerk of the legislative body of such municipal corporation, shall forthwith make, under the seal thereof, and deliver to the clerk of the legislative body of the other of the municipal corporations proposed to be so consolidated, to wit, the municipal corporation having the greater population, a copy in duplicate of the record of such canvass, together with a statement of the proposition submitted at such election. The clerk of the legislative body of such municipal corporation so having the greatest population shall present one such copy of said record and said statement to such legislative body without delay, and retain the other to be filed as hereinafter provided. Upon receiving the copy of such record so presented such legislative body may, by ordinance, approve such consolidation, or, in case of failure to so approve, by ordinance, such consolidation, shall then submit to the electors of such other of the municipal corporations so proposed to be consolidated and having the greatest population, the question whether such consolidation shall be effected. Such question may be so submitted at the next general municipal election to be held in such municipal corporation, or it may be so submitted prior to such general election, either at a special election called therein for that purpose, or at any other special municipal election therein, except an election at which the submission of such question is prohibited by law. Whenever such question is submitted at any election in such municipal corporation, such question shall be stated in the notice of such election and on the ballots to be used at such election, and the electors shall vote thereon, in the same manner as hereinbefore provided in the case of the election mentioned in section two of this act. And whenever such question is submitted at any such municipal election, general or special, as provided in this section, it shall be submitted and voted upon as other questions are required by law to be submitted and voted upon at such elections, except in particulars otherwise in this act set forth; and the laws applicable to and governing the time and manner of giving notice, conducting, holding, canvassing the returns, and declaring the result of any such election shall apply to and govern the submission of such question to the electors of such municipal corporation at any such election. [Amendment approved April 2, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 30.]

§ 4. Declaration of result. Should majority favor. Consolidation complete. Immediately upon the completion of the canvass of the returns of any election in the municipal corporation having the greater population of two municipal corporations proposed to be consolidated, at which the question of such consolidation was submitted, as provided in section three of this act, the legislative body of such municipal corporation having the greater population shall declare the result of such election, and shall cause a record to be made and entered upon its minutes, stating the proposition submitted, and showing the total number of votes cast in such municipal corporation upon the question of such consolidation at such election, the number thereof cast in favor of consolidation, and the number thereof cast against consolidation. If it shall appear from the canvass of the returns of such election, that a majority of the qualified electors of such municipal corporation, voting on the question of such consolidation, are in favor thereof, the clerk or other officer performing the duties of clerk of the legislative body of such municipal corporation shall promptly make and certify, under the seal thereof, and transmit to the secretary of state, a copy of the record of the canvass of the returns of the election in such municipal corporation having the greater population, at which the question of such consolidation was submitted, and entered upon its minutes as aforesaid, and one copy theretofore delivered to him as aforesaid, of the record of the canvass of the returns of the election in the other of the municipal corporations proposed to be consolidated, together with a statement showing the date of each such election in each such municipal corporation, and the time and result of the canvass of the returns of each such election. If such consolidation has been approved by ordinance of such legislative body, as herein authorized, a certified copy of such ordinance, giving the date of its passage, shall be substituted in said document in place of the copy of the record of the canvass of the returns of the election in such municipality provided for in case such consolidation was not approved by ordinance. Said document, in either case, shall be filed in his office by the secretary of state immediately upon receipt thereof. Upon the filing of said document in the office of secretary of state, such consolidation shall be deemed to be complete and such municipal corporations shall be deemed to be consolidated and the one of such municipal corporations not having the greatest population, shall be deemed to be, and shall be, annexed and joined to and merged into the one of said municipal corporations having the greatest population. [Amendment approved April 2, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 31.]

§ 5. Question of taxation to pay bonded indebtedness. Notice to specify improvements. Canvass of returns. Majority favoring. Question submitted to larger city. When property subject to taxation. Whenever any two municipal corporations are proposed to be consolidated, under the provisions of this act, and either or both of such municipal corporations shall have theretofore incurred, or authorized the incurring of, any bonded indebtedness for the acquisition, construction or completion of any municipal improvement or improvements, the petition provided for in section two of this act may contain a request that the question to be submitted to the electors of the municipal corporation proposed to be consolidated shall be, whether such municipal corporation shall be consolidated, as hereinbefore in this act provided, and the property in such municipal corporations, shall after such consolidation, be subject to taxation at the same rate, to pay any of such bonded indebtedness specified in said petition; provided, however, that if such petition contains a request that the property in such municipal corporations be, after such consolidation, subject to taxation to pay all of the bonded indebtedness incurred or authorized of such municipal corporations, such bonded indebtedness and improvements for which such bonded indebtedness was incurred or authorized may be described in such petition and in all other proceedings hereunder as "the bonded indebtedness of —— (insert the names of the municipal corporations)," without specifying the improvements. If such request be made in such petition, proceedings shall be had thereon and the question of such consolidation shall be submitted to the electors in such municipal corporation not having the greatest population, the same in all respects as upon a petition presented under the provisions of section two, excepting that the notice of election shall, in addition to the matters required by said section, distinctly state that it is proposed that the property in such municipal corporations shall be taxed at the same rate to pay such bonded indebtedness set forth in said petition. Except as hereinabove provided, the said notice shall, in addition, in general terms specify the improvement or improvements for which such indebtedness was so incurred or authorized, and state the amount or amounts of such indebtedness already incurred, outstanding at the date of the first publication of such notice, and the amount or amounts of such indebtedness theretofore authorized, and to be represented by bonds thereafter to be issued, and the maximum rate of interest payable, or to be payable on such indebtedness.

The returns of such election held in pursuance of such notice shall be canvassed, as provided in section two of this act, by the legislative body of the municipal corporation in which such election was held, and immediately upon the completion of such canvass, such legislative body shall declare the result of such election and shall cause a record of such canvass to be made and entered upon its minutes, as provided in said section two, and there shall be included in such record a statement of such bonded indebtedness incurred and outstanding, or authorized, as set forth in the notice of such election, for the payment of which the property in said municipal corporations shall be subject to taxation as set forth in the notice of such election. If it shall appear from such canvass that a majority of all votes cast at such election upon the question of such consolidation, are in favor thereof, the clerk of such legislative body in which such election was held shall forthwith deliver a copy in duplicate of such record and statement to the clerk of the legislative body of the other of the municipal corporations so proposed to be consolidated, and having the greatest population. Thereupon the legislative body of such other municipal corporation having the greatest population may, by ordinance, approve such consolidation; or, in case of failure to so approve, by ordinance, such consolidation, shall submit the question of such consolidation to the electors of such other municipal corporation at an election therein in the same manner in all respects as provided in this section for submitting to the electors in such municipal corporation not having the greatest population, and, in other respects, in the same manner as provided in section three of this act. After the passage of said ordinance approving such consolidation, or, if such consolidation was not approved by ordinance if, upon the canvass of the returns of such election it shall appear therefrom, that a majority of the votes cast at such election in such other municipal corporation having the greatest population, upon the question of such consolidation, are in favor thereof, the same proceeding shall be had as provided in section four of this act, and such consolidation shall be deemed to be, and shall be, completed in the same manner, and with the same effect as in said section provided. After the completion of the consolidation of such municipal corporations, as hereinbefore provided, the property in said municipal corporations so consolidated shall thereafter be taxed at the same rate, to pay such bonded indebtedness set forth in said petition.

The property in any such municipal corporations consolidated, under the provisions of this act, after twelve o'clock meridian of the first Monday in March and before the completion of the assessment-roll of such municipal corporation having the greater population, shall be subject to taxation for municipal purposes by said consolidated city for the fiscal year following said first Monday in March. [Amendment approved April 2, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 32.]

ACT 2389k.

An act granting to any city of the state whose corporate limits include or bound upon any harbor, bay, estuary, or other navigable body of water, the power to improve the same and to establish, acquire, construct, improve and maintain in, upon and along the waters thereof works for use in connection therewith.

[Approved April 6, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 72. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Cities authorized to maintain piers, etc. Property rights not affected. Any city of this state whose corporate limits include or bound upon any harbor, bay, estuary, or other navigable body of water, is hereby granted power to establish, acquire, construct, improve and maintain in, upon and along the waters of any such harbor, bay, estuary, or other navigable body of water, piers, docks, wharves, bulkheads, quays, and other necessary works for use in connection therewith, and power to construct, improve, dredge, deepen or straighten, channels, turning basins, canals, slips and waterways to, from and along any of the aforesaid works, and connecting with any other navigable water either within or without the limits of such city, and to do any and all other things necessary or convenient to the establishment, improvement, conduct and maintenance of a harbor, and in furtherance of commerce and navigation. Nothing herein, however, shall be deemed or construed to affect or limit the use and enjoyment by persons, firms or corporations of their property or property rights; nor shall anything in this act be construed or deemed to grant to any city the right to destroy, injure, impair or interfere with any private or quasi-public property or property rights, leasehold or otherwise, or to the use and enjoyment thereof.

ACT 2389 l.

An act providing for hours of rest for persons employed by municipal corporations during more than one hundred twenty hours per week, and prescribing penalties for violations hereof.

§ 1. Hours of rest for certain municipal employees. Any person in the employ of a municipal corporation and whose hours of labor exceed one hundred twenty hours in a calendar week of seven days, shall be entitled to be off duty at least three hours during every twenty-four hours for the purpose of procuring meals and no deduction of salary shall be made by reason thereof.

§ 2. Penalty. Any officer or agent of a municipal corporation having supervision and control of the employees referred to in section one hereof who shall violate the provisions hereof shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punishable as provided in section nineteen of the Penal Code.

TITLE 367a.

NATIONAL CITY.

ACT 2420.

An act conveying certain tide-lands and lands lying under inland navigable waters, situate in the bay of San Diego to the city of National City, in furtherance of navigation and commerce and the fisheries, and providing for the government, management and control thereof.

[Approved March 21, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 18. In effect July 27, 1917.]

Whereas, since the admission of California into the Union, all tide-lands along the navigable waters of this state and all lands lying beneath the navigable waters of the state have been and now are held in trust by the state for the benefit of all the inhabitants thereof for the purpose of navigation, commerce and fishing; and

Whereas, it is the duty of the state to govern, administer and control such lands and to improve and develop navigation, commerce and fishing thereon and thereover; and

Whereas, the state has not the general power of alienation of such lands, but may, when the interests of commerce, navigation and fishing require it, convey to municipalities limited and defined areas of such lands with the power to govern, control, improve and develop the same in the interest of all the inhabitants of the state; and

Whereas, the conveyance to the city of National City of the lands hereinafter described, together with the right to govern, control, improve and develop the same will result in great advantage and benefit to all the inhabitants of the state, it is provided:

§ 1. Tide-lands granted to National City. There is hereby granted and conveyed to the city of National City, in the county of San Diego, state of California, all of the lands situate on the city of National City side of said bay, lying and being between the line of mean high tide and the pier-head line in said bay, as the same has been or may hereafter be established by the federal government, and between the prolongation into the bay of San Diego to the pier-head line of the boundary line between the city of National City and the city of San Diego, and the prolongation into the bay of San Diego to the pier-head line of the boundary line between the city of National City and the city of Chula Vista.

§ 2. Use of lands. The city of National City shall have and there is hereby granted to it the right to make upon said premises all improvements, betterments and structures of every kind and character, proper, needful and useful for the development of commerce, navigation and fishing, including the construction of all wharves, docks, piers, slips, and the construction and operation of a municipal belt line railroad in connection with said dock system.

§ 3. No discrimination in rates. No grant, conveyance or transfer of any character shall ever be made by the city of National City of the lands described in section one, or of any part thereof, but the said city shall continue to hold said lands and the whole thereof unless the same revert or be receded to the state of California. The harbor of National City shall remain always a public harbor and the said city shall never charge or permit to be charged on any of the premises by this act conveyed any unreasonable rate or toll, nor make nor suffer to be made any unreasonable charge, burden or discrimination. In the event of a violation of any of the provisions of this act, the said lands and the whole thereof shall revert to the state of California.

§ 4. Maximum term of lease. The city of National City may lease for a term not exceeding twenty-five years any wharves, docks or piers constructed by it, and all such leases so executed shall reserve to the board of trustees of the city of National City, the right and privilege, by ordinance, to annul, change or modify such leases as in its judgment may seem proper. The aggregate amount of all wharves, docks and piers so leased by said city shall never exceed seventy-five per cent of all the wharves, docks and piers actually constructed.

§ 5. Conditions of lease. The city of National City, may lease not to exceed an aggregate of seventy-five per cent of the lands conveyed to it by this act, for a term not to exceed twenty-five years and upon which wharves, docks or piers have not been actually constructed, and, except by consent of the board of trustees of the city of National City under an ordinance of such board duly adopted, such leases shall not be assignable or transferable, nor shall any lessee have the right to sublet the leased premises or any part thereof, and all such leases so executed shall reserve to the board of trustees of the city of National City, the right and privilege, by ordinance to annul, change or modify such leases as in its judgment may seem proper; provided, however, that nothing in this act contained shall operate as a limitation upon the right and authority of the harbor commission of the state of California, at any time prior to the city of National City issuing its bonds as required in section six hereof, of leasing any of the lands herein granted and conveyed to said National City, and the right and authority to enter into such leases at any time prior to issuing of such bonds, is hereby expressly conferred upon said harbor commission.

§ 6. Harbor improvement by city. The foregoing conveyance is made upon the condition that the city of National City shall, within five years from the approval of this act, exclusive of such time as said city may be restrained from so doing by injunction issued out of any court of this state or of the United States, and exclusive of such further delay as may be caused by unavoidable misfortune or great public or municipal calamity, issue its bonds for harbor improvement purposes in an amount of not less than one hundred thousand dollars, and shall, within five years after the approval of this act, exclusive of the time in this section hereinbefore mentioned, commence the work of such harbor improvement, and the said work and improvement shall be prosecuted with such diligence, that not less than one hundred thousand dollars shall be expended thereon within five years from the approval of this act. If said bonds be not issued or said work be not prosecuted and completed as and in the manner herein provided, then the lands by this act conveyed to the city of National City shall revert to the State of California.

§ 7. State's right to use docks. The state hereby reserves unto itself at all times, the reasonable use of and access to all wharves, docks, piers, slips and quays hereafter constructed under the provisions of this act, for any vessel or water craft owned, leased, or operated by the state.

TITLE 369a.

NAUTICAL SCHOOL.

ACT 2436.

An act to establish a nautical school at the port of San Francisco, to provide for the conduct and maintenance thereof, to make an appropriation therefor, and to authorize the governor to request and to receive aid from the United States in compliance with the provisions of an act of congress approved March 4, 1911.

[Approved May 14, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 527. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. "California state nautical school" established. There is hereby established at the port of San Francisco a nautical school to be known as "the California state nautical school," for the instruction of pupils in navigation, steamship-marine engineering, and all matters pertaining to the proper construction, equipment and sailing of vessels, or any particular branch thereof.

§ 2. School board. The governor, the president of the state board of education, and the president of the state board of harbor commissioners shall constitute the nautical school board, which shall be the governing body of the school hereby established. The expenses incurred by the members of said board while engaged in the business of the nautical school shall be refunded to them from the appropriation herein provided.

§ 3. Duties of board. The said nautical school board shall provide and maintain at the nautical school, for the instruction and training of pupils in the science and practice of navigation, accommodations for the school on board a proper vessel, shall purchase and provide books, stationery, apparatus and supplies needed in the work of the school, shall appoint and remove instructors and other necessary employees and determine their number and compensation, shall fix the terms and conditions upon which pupils shall be received and instructed in the school, and be dismissed or discharged therefrom, and shall establish all regulations necessary for the proper management and conduct of the school and for carrying out efficiently the purposes of this act.

§ 4. Use of United States vessels. The nautical school board may receive from the United States government and use for the accommodation of the school, such vessel or vessels as the secretary of the navy may furnish. The governor is hereby authorized and directed to apply in writing to the secretary of the navy for a suitable vessel of the navy, with all her apparel, charts, books and instruments of navigation for the use of the school hereby established, and to request that the President of the United States detail proper officers of the navy as superintendents or instructors in the said school.

§ 5. Nautical school fund. There is hereby created the nautical school fund, which shall consist of such money as shall be appropriated from time to time by the legislature, and such sum as may be received from year to year from the government of the United States for the purpose of maintaining the school hereby established in compliance with the provisions of an act of congress entitled "An act for the establishment of marine schools and for other purposes," approved March 4, 1911. There is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the establishment of said school and for its maintenance during the sixty-ninth and seventieth fiscal years, the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, which shall become available when the nautical school board has received from the secretary of the navy a suitable vessel of the navy for the use of said nautical school.

§ 6. Vouchers. The moneys hereby appropriated shall be expended in accordance with law upon vouchers certified by the superintendent of the nautical school and approved by the nautical school board.

§ 7. Report. A report of the conduct of the affairs of said nautical school, including a statement of the moneys expended in its establishment and maintenance, shall be presented to the legislature at its convening for the forty-third session and at each biennial session thereafter.

TITLE 373.

NET CONTAINER BILL.

ACT 2453.

An act to provide for the indicating of the net quantity of foodstuffs and stuffs intended to be used or prepared for use as food for human beings when sold or offered or exposed for sale in containers and providing penalties for the violation thereof. [Approved May 24, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 247.]

Amended 1915, p. 1263; 1917, p. 87.

The title of the act was amended in 1917 to read as follows:

An act to provide for the indicating of the net quantity of foodstuffs and stuffs intended to be used or prepared for use as food for human beings, and medicine, when sold or offered or exposed for sale in containers, and providing for the indicating of quantity in the sale of commodities in respect to which there exists a definite trade custom, and providing penalties for the violation thereof.

The remainder of the amendment follows:

§ 5. Designation of quantity. The designation of the quantity of the commodity required by section four of this act shall be in terms of weight, measure or numerical count, subject however to the following provisions:

(a) The quantity of the contents so marked shall be the amount of food or stuff in the package.

(b) If the designation is by weight it shall be in terms of avoirdupois pounds and ounces; if designation is by liquid measure, it shall be in terms of the United States gallon of two hundred thirty-one cubic inches and its customary subdivisions, i. e., in gallons, quarts, pints, or fluid ounces; if designation is by dry measure, it shall be in terms of the United States standard bushel, and its customary subdivisions, i. e., in bushels, half-bushels, pecks, quarts, pints or half-pints; provided, that, by like method, such designations may be in terms of the metric system of weight or measure.

(c) The quantity of solids shall be designated in terms of weight, and of fluids in terms of measure, except in case of an article in respect to which there exists a definite trade custom, in such case the designation shall be in terms of weight, or measure, or numerical count, in accordance with such custom.

(d) The quantity of the contents shall be designated in terms of weight or measure, unless the container be marked by numerical count and such numerical count gives accurate information as to the quantity of the food in the package. When designation is by numerical count it shall be in English words or Arabic numerals.

(e) The quantity of the contents may be stated in terms of minimum weight, minimum measure or minimum count, but in such cases the designation must approximate the actual quantity and there shall be no tolerance below the stated minimum.

(f) The quantity of viscous or semi-solid foods, or of a mixture of solids and liquids, may be stated in terms of weight and measure; provided, that such solids and liquids constitute food products. When products are packed in brine or other preserving fluids, the weight or measure of such brine or fluids shall not be included in the weight or measure of the edible indicated on the container.

fornia, to provide for the issuance of certificates of registration as a § 10. "Container" defined. The term "container" used in this act is hereby defined to be any receptacle or carton into which a commodity is packed, or any wrappings with which any commodity is wrapped, or put for sale, or to be offered or exposed for sale.

TITLE 385.
NURSING.

ACT 2508b.

An act to promote the better education of nurses and the better care of the issuance of certificates of registration as registered nurses to qualified applicants by the state board of health, and to repeal an act approved March 20, 1905, entitled, "An act to promote the better education of the practice of nursing the sick in the state of Cali- the sick in the state of California, to provide for and regulate the examination and registration of graduate nurses, and to provide for registered nurse, to qualified applicants of the board of regents of the University of California, and to provide penalties for violation thereof."

Amended 1915, pp. 21, 603; 1917, p. 44.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 4½. False representation in nurse's examination. Any person who shall willfully make any false representation or who shall impersonate any other person or permit or aid in any manner any person to impersonate him in connection with any examination or application for examination or registration or request to be examined or registered such person shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [New section added April 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 45.]

§ 11. Monthly report of receipts. Within ten days after the beginning of each month the secretary of the state board of health shall report to the controller the amount and source of all collections made under the provisions of this act, and at the same time all such amounts shall be paid into the state treasury and shall be placed to the credit of the special fund to be known as the fund for examination and registration of nurses; provided, that whenever and as often as there is in the state treasury to the credit of the fund for the examination and registration of nurses, funds in excess of ten thousand dollars the same may be invested by the state board of control in the same manner that the funds of the state school land fund are invested and the interest upon such investment when collected shall be placed to the credit of the fund for the examination and registration of nurses. All amounts paid into this fund shall be held subject to the order of the state board of health, to be used only for the purpose of meeting necessary expenses in the performance of the purposes of and the duties imposed by this act. Claims against the fund shall be audited by the state board of health and by the board of control and shall be paid by the state treasurer upon warrants drawn by the state controller. [Amendment approved April 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 45.]

TITLE 386.

OAKLAND.

ACT 2509.

Charter of. [Stats. 1911, p. 1551.]

Amended 1917, pp. 1699, 1948, 1963.

ACT 2534.

An act granting certain tide-lands and submerged lands of the state of California to the city of Oakland and regulating the management, use and control thereof.

[Approved May 1, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 1258.]

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 63.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Tide-lands granted to Oakland. There is hereby granted to the city of Oakland, a municipal corporation of the state of California, and to its successors, all the right, title and interest of the state of California held by said state by virtue of its sovereignty in and to all tide-lands and submerged lands whether filled or unfilled which are included within that portion of the city of Oakland that lies westerly of the western line of Pine street, as Pine street exists between Atlantic street and Goss street and as shown upon that certain map entitled "map of land on Oakland point (railroad ferry landing) city of Oakland, tract four hundred six," filed May 24, 1864, in book of maps, five, page thirty-three, records of Alameda county, and said western line of Pine street produced northerly and southerly, excepting, however, from said tide-lands and submerged lands such of said lands as lie northerly of the northern boundary line of the city of Oakland, and the western extension thereof, as said northern boundary line was established by an act of the legislature of the state of California entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to incorporate the city of Oakland,' passed March twenty-fifth, one thousand eight hundred fifty-four, and repealing certain other acts in relation to said city," approved April 24, 1862, to be forever held by said city and by its successors in trust for the use and purposes and upon the expressed conditions following, to wit;

(a) Purposes for which lands may be used. That said lands shall be used by said city and its successors, only for the establishment, improvement and conduct of a harbor, and for the construction, maintenance and operation thereon of wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays and other utilities, structures and appliances necessary or convenient for the promotion and accommodation of commerce and navigation, and said city, or its successors shall not, at any time, grant, convey, give or alien said lands, or any part thereof, to any individual, firm or corporation for any purposes whatever; provided, that said city, or its successors, may grant franchises thereon for limited periods, but in no event exceeding fifty years for wharves and other public uses and purposes, and may lease said lands or any part thereof for limited periods, but in no event exceeding fifty years, for the purposes consistent with the trusts upon which said lands are held by the state of California, and with the requirements of commerce or navigation at said harbor.

(b) Harbor improved without expense to state. That said harbor shall be improved by said city without expense to the state, and shall always remain a public harbor for all purposes of commerce and navigation, and the state of California shall have, at all times, the right to use, without charge, all wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays and other improvements constructed on said lands, or any part thereof, for any vessel or other water craft, or railroad, owned or operated by the state of California.

(c) No discrimination in rates. That in the management, conduct or operation of said harbor, or of any of the utilities, structures, or appliances mentioned in paragraph (a), no discrimination in rates, tolls, or charges or in facilities for any use or service in connection therewith shall ever be made, authorized or permitted by said city or its successors.

(d) Right to fish reserved to people. There is hereby reserved, however, in the people of the state of California the absolute right to fish in all the waters of said harbor, with the right of convenient access to said waters over said land for said purpose. [Amendment approved April 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 63.]

TITLE 403.

PAROLE COMMISSIONERS.

ACT 2623.

An act to authorize the state board of prison directors to provide for assisting paroled and discharged prisoners and to secure employment for the same and making an appropriation for that purpose.

§ 1. Authority to assist paroled and discharged prisoners. The state board of prison directors shall have the power and authority to provide for assisting paroled and discharged prisoners and to secure employment for the same and for that purpose they may employ necessary officers and employees, may purchase tools, and give any other assistance that, in their judgment, they may deem proper for the purpose of carrying out the objects and spirit of this act.

§ 2. Moneys drawn without submitting vouchers. Upon this act becoming effective, the state board of prison directors may draw upon the moneys herein appropriated in the amount of one thousand dollars, without submitting vouchers thereon, which amount shall, from time to time, be replenished by demand upon said appropriation equal to the amount of expenditures represented by vouchers submitted to the state board of control and filed with the controller.

§ 3. Appropriation. The sum of seventeen thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, for the purpose of this act; the state controller is hereby directed to draw his warrant therefor, payable to the state board of prison directors in such amount as may be required from time to time, and the state treasurer is directed to pay the same.

TITLE 406.
PAUPERS.

ACT 2631.

An act to provide for the maintenance and support, in certain cases, of indigent, incompetent, and incapacitated persons (other than persons adjudged insane and confined within state hospitals), becoming a public charge upon the counties or cities and counties within the state of California, and for the payment thereof into a fund for the maintenance and support of such persons.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 5. Duty of board of supervisors. It shall be the duty of the board of supervisors of every county and every city and county as a whole, or by committee or by such person or society as it may authorize, to investigate every application for relief from the funds of such county or city and county, to supervise by periodic visitation every person receiving such relief, to devise ways and means for bringing persons unable to maintain themselves to self support and to keep full and complete records of such investigation, supervision, relief and rehabilitation, as shall be prescribed by the state board of charities and corrections. [Amendment approved May 14, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 445.]

§ 10. Duty of state board of charities and corrections. It shall be the duty of the state board of charities and corrections to prescribe forms of records for the use of board of supervisors and their agents in keeping records heretofore mentioned. [New section added May 14, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 445.]

TITLE 417a.
PLUMBING.

ACT 2712a.

An act providing for the examination, certification and registration of plumbers, prescribing powers and duties of the state board of health in reference thereto, and penalties for a violation of the provisions hereof.

[Approved April 6, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 73. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. "Master plumber" defined. "Journeyman plumber" defined. Certain terms as used in this act shall be construed as follows:

(a) The term "master plumber" means one who has an established place of business and works by contract.

(b) The term "journeyman plumber" means one who, as an employee, personally installs plumbing work, but does not mean a helper or an apprentice working under the direct personal supervision of a plumber who holds a temporary permit or a certificate of competency issued pursuant to the provisions of this act.

§ 2. Certificate of competency. It shall be unlawful for any journeyman plumber or master plumber in any city or town maintaining a public sewer system to personally install any plumbing or drainage system or portion thereof unless he shall first obtain a temporary permit or a certificate of competency issued pursuant to and as provided for in this act.

§ 3. Examining board. In each county in which there is a city or town having a sewer system, the state board of health shall appoint an examining board of three members, one of whom must be a journeyman plumber who has had at least five years' practical experience as a plumber in this state, one a master plumber who has engaged in the plumbing business as a master plumber for at least five years in this state, and one a regularly licensed and practicing physician of this state. They shall serve for twelve, eighteen and twenty-four months respectively, or until their successors are duly appointed and qualified, and each member shall receive as compensation fifty cents for each applicant examined, such compensation to be paid out of the funds of the state board of health semi-annually. Within ten days after their appointment the board shall meet and choose one of its members to act as secretary of the board. The state board of health shall provide each examining board with the necessary application forms, registration books, temporary permits, certification blanks, and all tools, materials and office or shop room in which to properly conduct the examinations. Applications for examination may be made in writing. The state board of health shall adopt such rules and regulations as may be necessary and advisable to carry out the purposes of this act.

§ 4. Application for certification. Examination. Application for certification shall be made to the secretary of the examining board. The fee for filing the application shall be two and one-half dollars and shall be paid to the secretary of the examining board and by him to the state board of health to the credit of the contingent fund thereof. In no case shall the filing fee be returned to the applicant. The examining board shall issue to the applicant a temporary permit which shall be valid only until the examination is held and the certificate granted or denied. The examination shall consist of an oral or written examination and practical test and shall be of sufficient strictness to properly test the qualifications of the applicant as to his knowledge of plumbing, house draining and ventilation. If the applicant shows by a proper examination that he is qualified the board shall issue to him a certificate of competency which shall thereafter be renewed every twelve months without the necessity of an examination, upon the payment of an annual fee of two dollars. Any person possessing such a certificate of competency to work in a particular county shall be entitled to work at the plumbing business in any other county in this state upon registering with the examining board thereof. Such registration shall be without cost and without examination.

§ 5. Revocation of certificate. Said board may make such rules and regulations as may be necessary to effectively carry out the provisions of this act and may at any time revoke a certificate granted by it for the violation of any such rules or regulations or of municipal building, plumbing or sanitary ordinance.

§ 6. Provisions of city charters. Nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to repeal or in any manner supersede the authority conferred upon the board of health, department of public health, or health officer, by the charter of any incorporated city or city and county, or the power, under such charter, to enact ordinances providing for the conduct of any of the matters and things embraced within the terms of this act.

§ 7. Penalty. Any person violating any provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor as defined in section nineteen of the Penal Code.

TITLE 420.

POLICE.

ACT 2735.

Creating police relief, health, life insurance, and pension fund. [Stats. 1889, p. 56.]

Amended 1891, pp. 287, 469; 1897, p. 52; 1917, pp. 119, 120.

The amendments of 1917 follow:

§ 3. Who entitled to receive police pensions. Whenever any person at the taking effect of this act, or thereafter, shall have been duly appointed or selected, and sworn, and have served for twenty years, or more, in the aggregate, as a member, in any capacity or any rank whatever, of the regularly constituted police department of any such county, city and county, city, or town which may hereafter be subject to the provisons of this act, said board shall order and direct that such person, after becoming sixty years of age, be retired from further services in such police department, and from the date of the making of such order the service of such person in such police department shall cease, and such person so retired shall thereafter, during his lifetime, be paid from such fund a yearly pension equal to one-half of the amount of salary attached to the rank which he may have held in said police department for the period of one year next preceding the date of such retirement; provided, that any person who comes within the purview of this section, who has otherwise complied with its provisions and who has served for thirty years or more as herein provided may be retired from further service upon a yearly pension equal to two-thirds of the amount of such yearly salary. [Amendment approved April 14, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 119.]

§ 12. Moneys to be paid into police pension fund. The board of supervisors, or other governing authority, of any county, city and county, city, or town shall, for the purposes of said "police relief and pension fund" hereinbefore mentioned, direct the payment annually, and when the tax levy is made, into said fund of the following moneys:

First—Not less than five nor more than ten per centum of all moneys collected and received from licenses for the keeping of places wherein spirituous, malt, or other intoxicating liquors are sold.

Second—One-half of all moneys received from taxes or from licenses upon dogs.

Third—All moneys received from fines imposed upon the members of the police force of said county, city and county, city, or town, for violation of the rules and regulations of the police department.

Fourth—All proceeds of sales of unclaimed property.

Fifth—Not less than one-fourth nor more than one-half of all moneys received from licenses from pawnbrokers, billiard-hall keepers, second-hand dealers, and junk stores.

Sixth—All moneys received from fines for carrying concealed weapons.

Seventh—Twenty-five per centum of all fines collected in money for violation of county, city and county, city, or town ordinances.

Eighth—All rewards given or paid to members of such police force, except such as shall be excepted by the chief of police.

Ninth—The board of supervisors, or other governing authority, of any county, city and county, city or town shall for the purposes of said "police relief and pension fund" provide in addition to the salary now paid or which may be hereafter paid to each member of the police department an amount equal to two per cent of the salaries paid to the policemen of such county, city and county, city or town during the preceding year, payable from the funds of such municipal corporation. [Amendment approved April 14, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 120.]

ACT 2736.

An act relating to senior rights of members of paid police departments of counties, cities and counties, cities or towns.

[Approved February 23, 1907. Stats. 1907, p. 46.]

§ 1. Senior rights in police department. Whenever a member of a paid police department of any county, city and county, city or town shall have served ten years as a member of such police department, he shall be entitled to senior rights in the assignment of duties in the order of their seniority and shall be entitled to day work or to any position held by a member of the same rank not ten years in the service. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1610.]

§ 2. Penalty for failure to make assignments. Any police official whose duty it is to assign the members of the police department to their duties and who fails to make assignments in accordance with the provisions hereof shall forfeit one month's salary. All money forfeited under this act shall be paid into the treasury of the county, city and county, city or town in which the forfeiture occurs. It shall be the duty of the district attorney to enforce the provisions hereof. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1611.]

TITLE 421.

POLICE COURTS.

ACT 2741a.

An act to establish police courts in cities of the first and one-half class, to fix the jurisdiction of said courts and to provide for the officers thereof, to prescribe the powers and duties of the officers of said courts, and to fix the compensation of certain officers thereof, and to repeal an act entitled "An act to establish police courts in cities of the first and one-half class, to fix their jurisdiction and provide for officers of said courts and fix the compensation of certain officers thereof," which became a law under the provisions of the constitution of the state of California without the governor's approval, on the 5th day of March, 1901, and all acts amendatory of said act or supplementary thereto.

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 417.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 6. Clerk. Bond, salary, duties, monthly account. Business hours. Dockets. Said police court shall have a clerk for each of the judges of said court, who shall be appointed by the judge of said court presiding in the department thereof in which the said clerk is to act, and one additional clerk who shall be appointed by the presiding judge of said court. Each of said clerks shall hold office for the term of four years from the date of his appointment. Each such clerk shall be ex officio a clerk of the city justices of the peace. Each of said clerks shall give a bond in the sum of five thousand dollars, with at least two sureties, to be approved by the mayor, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office. Each of said clerks shall receive an annual salary of two thousand one hundred dollars, payable in equal monthly installments out of the treasury of said city, which salary shall be full compensation for all services rendered by him. Each of said clerks shall keep a record of the proceedings of said court and issue all processes ordered by the city justices or either of them, or by said police court or a judge thereof, and receive and pay into the city treasury all fines imposed and collected by said court, and all forfeitures of cash deposited in lieu of bail in said court, and all other moneys which may come into his hands belonging to or payable to said city. They shall also render each month to the city council an extract and detailed account under oath of all fines imposed and collected and of all fines imposed and uncollected since their last reports. They shall prepare and approve bonds and may, in the absence of a judge of said court, fix the amount of bail to be required of any defendant charged in such court with any offense of which such court has jurisdiction. Such clerk may also justify bail, and may administer and certify oaths. Said clerks shall remain at the courtrooms of said court during business hours and during such reasonable times thereafter as may be necessary for a proper performance of their duties. Before receiving any monthly payment of salary each of said clerks shall make and file with the city auditor an affidavit that he has deposited with the city treasurer all moneys that have come into his hands belonging to the city. Any violation of this provision shall be a misdemeanor. Said clerks shall keep, compile and be the custodians of the dockets, files and records of said court. Said dockets shall, in civil cases, be kept in conformity to the provisions of sections nine hundred eleven, nine hundred twelve, nine hundred thirteen and nine hundred fourteen of the Code of Civil Procedure of the state of California. In criminal cases the docket shall contain in each case:

1. The title of the case;
2. The demurrer, if any;
3. The motion to dismiss, if any, based upon any defect of the complaint in substance or form;
4. The ruling of the court upon any demurrer or motion to dismiss;
5. The defendant's plea;
6. Any order of the court setting the time for hearing of any demurrer or motion, or setting case for trial;
7. The names of the witnesses sworn and examined at the trial;
8. The verdict;
9. The time set for rendering judgment, if judgment is not passed immediately after verdict or plea of guilty; and the waiver of time for sentence, if there be such waiver;
10. The judgment;
11. A minute of all motions, rulings and orders made after verdict of judgment;
12. The dates of the various actions or things required to be recorded.

Each of said clerks shall perform such other duties as the court by a majority vote of the judges thereof may determine in regulating and conducting the business of said court, and said judges may select one of the said clerks to supervise and audit the books, records and accounts of the several departments of said court in co-operation with the city auditor of said city, and to perform such other duties as said judges may require.

TITLE 431.

PROTECTION DISTRICTS.

ACT 2804.

An act to provide for the formation of protection districts in the various counties of this state, for the improvement and rectification of the channels of innavigable streams and watercourses, for the prevention of the overflow thereof, by widening, deepening, and straightening and otherwise improving the same, and to authorize the boards of supervisors to levy and collect assessments from the property benefited to pay the expenses of the same.

Amended 1897, p. 219; 1903, p. 328; 1909, p. 807; 1911, p. 446; 1917, p. 1219.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 20½. Refund of unused assessments. Assessments levied and collected under the terms of this act, if unused, and unapplied for a period of one year after the day on which said assessments become due and payable, may be refunded by the board of supervisors in the manner provided by law for the refund of state and county taxes. [New section added May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1219.]

ACT 2806.

An act to provide for the formation, organization and government of storm-water districts, for the purpose of protecting the land therein from damage from storm water and from the waters of any innavigable stream, watercourse, canyon or wash, for the construction of the necessary works of protection by said district, and for the levying of taxes and assessments to pay for the cost of constructing, repairing and maintaining such improvements.

[Approved March 13, 1909. Stats. 1909, p. 339.]

Amended 1913, p. 504; 1917, p. 214.

§ 1. Storm-water districts formed. Petition of land owners. Resolution of intention. Hearing. Notice. Storm-water districts may be formed under the provisions of this act for the purpose of protecting the lands in such district from damage by storm-water, dams, ditches, dikes and other structures, and by spreading, conserving, storing, retaining or causing to percolate into the soil any or all waters of any innavigable stream, watercourse, canyon or wash. When twenty-five per cent or more owners of land whose names appear as such upon the last assessment-roll in any district of land which lies in one body and is liable to damage from storm water or from the waters of any innavigable stream, watercourse, canyon or wash, shall present a petition to the board of supervisors of the county in which said land lies, or if the same lies in more than one county, then to the board of supervisors of the county in which the greater area of such land lies, setting forth the exterior boundaries of said district and asking that the district so described be formed into a storm-water district under the provisions of this act. The said board of supervisors shall pass a resolution declaring their intention to form or organize said portion of said county or counties into a storm-water district for the purpose of protecting the land therein from damage from storm water and from the waters of any innavigable stream, canyon or wash and describing the exterior boundaries of the district. Said resolution shall fix a time and place for the hearing of the matter not less than thirty days after the passage thereof, and direct the clerk of said board to publish the notice of the intention of the board of supervisors to form such storm-water district and of the time and place fixed for the hearing, and shall designate some newspaper of general circulation published and circulated in said proposed storm-water district, or if there is no newspaper so published and circulated, then some newspaper of general circulation published and circulated in each county in which any part of said proposed district is situated in which said notice is to be published. [Amendment approved May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 215.]

§ 2. Publication of notice. Notice to owners. Thereupon said clerk shall cause to be published in the newspaper or newspapers so designated, for a period of twenty days before the date fixed for the hearing, a notice, which shall be headed "Notice of intention of the board of supervisors to form a storm-water district." Said notice shall set forth the fact of the passage of such resolution with the date thereof, the boundaries of the proposed district, and the time and place for the hearing, and shall state that it is proposed to assess all property embraced in said proposed storm-water district, for the purpose of paying the damages, costs and expenses of constructing and repairing such dikes, levees, ditches, canals, reservoirs, shafts and other improvement as may be necessary to protect the land in said district from damage from storm water and from waters of any innavigable stream, canyon or wash, or to spread, conserve, store, retain or cause to percolate into the soil within such district any or all of such waters, and the necessary expense of maintaining said district, and shall refer to the resolution for further particulars. The assessor shall certify to the clerk the name of each owner of land in the proposed district whose name appears as such on the last assessment-roll of the county or counties in which said proposed district lies, and said clerk shall forthwith send a copy of said notice by registered mail, postage prepaid, to each owner so certified, addressed to such owner at his address given on said assessment-roll or, if no address is given, then at his last known address, or if it be not known, then at the county seat of the county in which his land lies. Said clerk shall make and file in his office an affidavit of such mailing, showing the names and addresses of the persons to whom such notices were sent, which shall be prima facie evidence that such notices were mailed as herein required. [Amendment approved May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 215.]

§ 3. Objections. Any person interested objecting to the formation of such proposed district, or to the extent thereof, may, at or before the time fixed for the hearing of the matter, file a written objection thereto, with the clerk of said board of supervisors, who shall indorse thereon the date of its reception by him, and shall at the time fixed for the hearing, place all such objections filed with him before said board of supervisors. [Amendment approved May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 216.]

§ 4. Hearing. Declaration of supervisors. At the time fixed for the hearing, or to which the hearing may be adjourned, the board of supervisors shall hear the objections filed, if any, and pass upon the same. Said board may, in its discretion, sustain any or all of the objections filed, and may change or alter the boundaries of such proposed district to conform to the needs of the district, except that they shall not include therein any territory not included in the boundaries mentioned in the petition, and may, in their discretion, declare such storm-water district formed with the boundaries designated by them, and shall designate such district by name as the —— storm-water district of —— county (or counties); provided, that no such district shall be formed wherein a majority of the owners of property in said district, according to the last previous assessment-roll, object. [Amendment approved May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 216.]

§ 16. Installment assessments. Duty of tax collector. Payment of assessments. After said report has been adopted, the board of trustees, if they consider the total sum to be raised for the payment of the cost of such improvements too great to be properly expended in one year, or too great to be raised in one year by assessment against the property in such storm-water district, may by order entered upon their minutes, provide that the total sum assessed shall be raised in any number of equal annual installments, not exceeding ten. When the board has adopted the report and determined the number of equal annual installments in which such assessment shall be raised, they shall cause their clerk to forward to the tax collector of the county in which such district is situated, who shall file the same in his office, a certified copy of the report, assessment and plat as adopted and confirmed by said board of trustees, together with a certified copy of the order of said board, fixing the number of equal annual installments in which such assessment is to be raised, and the county tax collector shall enter said assessments upon the county assessment-roll in the same manner as county taxes. From and after such entry upon the county assessment-roll, the first year's installment of the amount assessed thereon against each parcel of land shall become due and payable immediately, and the total amount assessed against each parcel of land shall constitute a lien thereon; and thereafter installments of the assessment for the succeeding years shall become due and payable on the first Monday of October of each year; provided, that any or all subsequent installments of the assessment on any parcel of land may, at the option of any person desiring to pay the same, be paid at any time after the first installment becomes due and payable. If the district is situated in two or more counties, a certified copy of said report, assessment, plat and order of the board of trustees shall be filed with the tax collector of each county in which any part of said district is situated, and thereafter each tax collector shall enter the assessments upon the assessment-roll of his county and proceed as to the property in said district within his own county in the manner hereinafter directed, and the assessment on the property in said county shall be collected in the manner hereinafter directed. [Amendment approved May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 215.]

§ 17. Notice by tax collector that assessments are due. Annual notice. Within one month after the filing of such certified copy of said report, assessment, plat and order with the tax collector, and the entry of the same upon the county assessment-roll, said tax collector shall give notice by ten days' publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in said district, or if there is none, in a newspaper of general circulation published in his county, that the assessment-roll of —— storm-water district of —— county, has been filed in his office, and entered upon the county assessment-roll, with the date of such entry; that the amounts entered thereon are due and payable; that if not paid on or before the first Monday in January next ensuing, the same will become delinquent and will be collected in the same manner as delinquent taxes. If the first Monday in January next ensuing is less than three months from the date of filing the assessment-roll with the tax collector, the date, to be stated in the notice, shall be three months after such entry upon the county assessment-roll. The tax collector shall note on the county assessment-roll all assessments paid, with the dates of payment, giving receipts as in the case of payments of taxes, and shall pay all money collected into the county treasury at the same time and in the same manner as money collected for taxes paid into such treasury. All collections of subsequent installments of the assessment shall be made in the same manner as above set forth, and the tax collector shall annually (after the first year), immediately after the first Monday of October give notice as above directed that the (giving the number) annual installment of the assessments of said district is now due and payable, and that if not paid on or before the first Monday of January next ensuing, the same will become delinquent and will be collected in the same manner as delinquent taxes; and the same proceedings shall be had thereon as upon the collection of the first assessment. If said district is situated in two or more different counties, all moneys collected on account of such assessment shall be paid into the treasury of the county in which said district was organized. [Amendment approved May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 217.]

§ 26a. Bonded indebtedness. Election. Notice. Whenever the board of trustees deem it necessary for the district to incur a bonded indebtedness, it shall, by resolution, so declare and state the proposition to be submitted to the electors, the purpose for which the proposed debt is to be incurred, the amount of debt to be incurred, the maximum term the bonds proposed to be issued shall run before maturity, which shall not exceed twenty years, and the maximum rate of interest to be paid, which shall not exceed six per cent per annum, payable semi-annually. The board of trustees shall fix a date upon which an election shall be held, for the purpose of authorizing said bonded indebtedness to be incurred. It shall be the duty of the board of trustees to provide for holding such special elections on the day so fixed and in accordance with the general election laws of the state, so far as the same shall be applicable, except as herein otherwise provided. Such board of trustees shall give notice of the holding of such election, which notice shall contain the resolution adopted by the board of trustees of the district, boundaries of precincts, the location of polling places, and the names of the officers selected to conduct the election, who shall consist of one judge, one inspector and one clerk in each precinct. Such notice shall be published for two weeks in at least one newspaper, and not more than two newspapers published in such district, which newspaper or newspapers shall be designated by the board of trustees; and if there is no newspaper printed in such district, then by publication for two weeks in one newspaper published in the county in which such district is situated, or by posting such notice in three public places therein, at least two weeks before the date of such election. All the expenses of holding such election shall be borne by the district. The returns of such election shall be made, the votes canvassed by said board of trustees on the first Monday following said election, and the results thereof ascertained and declared in accordance with the general election laws of the state, so far as they may be applicable, except as herein otherwise provided. The secretary of the board of trustees, as soon as the result is declared, shall enter in the records of such board a statement of such results. No irregularities or informalities in conducting such election shall invalidate the same, if the election shall have otherwise been fairly conducted. In all respects not otherwise provided for herein, said election shall be called, managed and directed as is by law provided for general elections in this state applicable thereto. [New section approved May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 218.]

§ 26b. Bonds issued if two-thirds vote favors. If from such returns it appears that more than two-thirds of the votes cast at such election were in favor of and assented to the incurring of such indebtedness, then the board of trustees may, by resolution, at such time or times as it deems proper, provide for the form, denomination and execution of such bonds and for the issuance of any part thereof, and may sell or dispose of the bonds so issued at such time or times and in such manner, either in cash in lawful money of the United States, or its equivalent, as it may deem to be to the public interest, but not for less than the par value thereof; said bonds shall be signed by the president and clerk of said district and the seal of the district shall be affixed. [New section added May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 219.]

§ 26c. Bonds exempt from taxation. Any bonds issued by any district, under the provisions of this act, are hereby given the same force as bonds issued by any municipality, and shall be exempt from all taxation within the state of California. [New section added May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 219.]

§ 26d. Bonds lien upon property of district. Any bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be a lien upon the property of the district and the lien of the bonds of any issue shall be a preferred lien to that of any subsequent issue. Said bonds, and the interest thereon, shall be paid by revenue derived from an annual assessment upon the real property of the district; and all the real property in the district shall be and remain liable to be assessed from such payments. [New section added May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 219.]

§ 26e. Estimate of amount to pay interest and principal. Tax levy. The board of trustees of each storm-water district shall annually during the month of August estimate the amount of money which will be needed to pay the interest and such portion of any bond issue maturing prior to the preceding August, and certify such amount to the board of supervisors of the county or counties in which said district lies. Such boards or boards of supervisors shall, at the time of making the levy of taxes, for county purposes for that year, levy a tax upon the real property in their county in said district, sufficient in amount to raise the sum estimated by the board of trustees to be necessary. When the district is in two or more counties, the amount to be raised upon the part of the district in each county shall be in proportion to the assessed valuation of the several portions of the districts in the respective counties. Said tax, when levied, shall be entered upon the assessment-roll and collected in the same manner as the state and county taxes. When the same is collected, it shall be placed in the treasury of the county in which said district is organized, to the credit of the bond fund of said district, and shall be used only for the purpose for which it is raised. [New section added May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 220.]

sioner's report by proceedings had in the following manner: Whenever a petition praying for such disincorporation shall be presented to the trustees of said district signed by a majority of the land owners therein, they shall call an election in the same manner as elections for members of the board of trustees are called, and submit to the electors of said district the question of disincorporation. Said election shall be held in all respects in the same manner as regular elections of trustees of the district. If it appears that a majority of the electors voting at said election have voted in favor of disincorporation, the trusteees shall cause such fact to be entered upon their minutes, and shall forward a copy of such entry to the board of supervisors by whom the district was organized, who shall file the same with their clerk, and from the date of such filing, said district shall be deemed disincorporated; provided, that if at the time of the dissolution, or disincorporation of said district, there be any outstanding bonded or other indebtedness of such district, then taxes for the payment of such bonded or other indebtedness shall be levied and collected, the same as if such district had not been dissolved and disincorporated, but for all other purposes, such district shall be deemed dissolved and disincorporated from the time of the forwarding of said copy of such entry to said board of supervisors. [Amendment approved May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 220.]

TITLE 435.

PUBLIC HEALTH.

ACT 2827.

An act to provide for the reporting of occupational diseases. [Approved April 21, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 953.]

Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 432.

ACT 2830.

An act for the preservation of the public health of the people of the state of California, and empowering the state board of health to enforce its provisions, and providing penalties for the violation thereof.

[Approved March 23, 1907. Stats. 1907, p. 893.]

Amended April 1, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 565, and June 13, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 796; May 24, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 920.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 2. Unlawful to discharge sewage in streams. Unlawful to moor house-boat two miles above intake. It shall be unlawful to discharge, drain or deposit, or cause or suffer to be discharged, drained or deposited, any sewage, garbage, feculent matter, offal, refuse, filth, or any animal, mineral, or vegetable matter or substance, offensive, injurious or dangerous to health, into any springs, streams, rivers, lakes, tributaries thereof, wells or other waters used or intended to be used for human or animal consumption or for domestic purposes, or to maintain a sewer farm or to erect, construct, excavate, or maintain, or cause to be erected, constructed, excavated or maintained, any privy, vault, cesspool, sewage treatment works, sewer-pipes or conduits, or other pipes or conduits, for the treatment and discharge of sewage or sewage effluents or impure waters, gas, vapors, oils, acids, tar, or any matter or substance offensive, injurious or dangerous to health, whereby the same shall overflow lands or shall empty, flow, seep, drain, condense into or otherwise pollute or affect any waters intended for human or animal consumption or for domestic purposes, or any of the salt waters within the jurisdiction of this state; or to add to, modify or alter any of the plant, works, system thereof or manner or place of discharge or disposal; or to erect or maintain any permanent or temporary house, camp, or tent, so near to such springs, streams, rivers, lakes, tributaries, or other sources of water supply, as to cause or suffer the drainage, seepage, or flow of impure waters, or any other liquids, or the discharge or deposit therefrom of any animal, mineral, or vegetable matter, to pollute such waters without a permit from the state board of health, as hereinafter provided.

It shall also be unlawful for the owner, tenant, lessee or occupant of any house-boat or boat intended for or capable or being used as a residence, house, dwelling or habitation, or for the agent of such owner, tenant, lessee or occupant to moor or anchor the same or permit the same to be moored or anchored in or on any river or stream, the waters of which are used for drinking or domestic purposes by any city, town or village within a distance of two miles above the intake or place where such city, town or village water system takes water from such river or stream; provided, however, that in the transportation of any such house-boat on any such river or stream nothing herein contained shall prevent the owner, agent, tenant or occupant of such house-boat from mooring or anchoring the same when necessary within the limits herein fixed and established; provided, such house-boat shall not remain moored or anchored within such limits for a longer period than one day. [Amendment approved May 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 920.]

§ 3. Petition for permission to discharge sewage, etc., into streams. Plan of work. Hearing. Whenever any county, city and county, city, town, village, district, community, institution, person, firm, or corporation, shall desire to deposit or discharge, or continue to deposit or discharge into any stream, river, lake or tributary thereof, or into any other waters used or intended to be used for human or animal consumption or for domestic purposes, or into or upon any place the surface or subterranean drainage from which may run or percolate into any such stream, river, lake, tributary or other waters, any sewage, sewage effluent, or other substance by the terms of section two of this act forbidden so to be deposited or discharged, or whenever any such county, city and county, city, town, village, district, community, institution, person, firm or corporation shall desire to deposit or discharge, or continue to deposit or discharge any sewage, sewage effluent, trade wastes or any animal mineral or vegetable matter or substance, offensive, injurious or dangerous to health in any of the salt waters within the jurisdiction of this state, or to maintain a sewer farm or to permit the overflow of sewage on to any land whatever, or shall desire to erect, construct, excavate or maintain any privy, vault, cesspool, sewage treatment works, sewer-pipe or conduits, or other pipes or conduits for the treatment and discharge of sewage, sewage effluents, or any matter offensive, injurious or dangerous to health, or shall desire to add to, modify or alter any of the plant, works, or system or manner or place of discharge or disposal, he or it shall file with the state board of health a petition for permission so to do, together with a complete and detailed plan, description and history of the existing or proposed works, system, treatment plant and of such proposed addition to, modification or alteration of any of the plant, works, system or manner or place of discharge or disposal, such plans and general statement to be in such form and to cover such matters as the state board of health shall prescribe. Thereupon, a thorough investigation of the proposed or existing works, system and plant, and all circumstances and conditions by it deemed to be material, shall be made by the state board of health. As a part of such investigation, and after ten days' notice by mail to the petitioner, a hearing or hearings may be had before said board or an examiner appointed by it for the purpose. At such hearing or hearings witnesses who testify shall be sworn by the person conducting the hearing, and evidence, oral or documentary, may be required, a record of which shall be made and filed with said board. Upon the completion of such investigation said board,

(a) Petition denied when discharge would endanger public health. Appointment of person to take charge of plant. Temporary permit. If it shall determine as a fact that the substance being or to be discharged or deposited is such that under all the circumstances and conditions it may so contaminate or pollute such stream, river, lake, tributary or other waters or lands on which it may be discharged, deposited or caused to overflow, as to endanger the lives or health of human beings or animals, or to constitute a nuisance, or does or may constitute a menace to public health or a nuisance, or that under all the circumstances and conditions it is not necessary so to dispose of such substance, the state board of health shall deny the prayer of such petition; and shall order petitioner to make such changes as the state board of health shall deem proper for the purpose of this act. The state board of health may order the appointing of a competent person, to be approved by said board, and to be paid by said petitioner, who shall take charge of and operate such plant or system so as to secure the results demanded by the state board of health; and said board may order such repair, alteration or additions to the existing system, plant and works that the sewage or substance being or intended to be discharged or disposed of shall not contaminate or pollute streams or other water supplies, or endanger the lives, health or comfort of human beings or animals; and said board may order such changes of method, manner and place of disposal and the installation of such treatment works that streams and other water supplies will not be polluted or contaminated and the works and disposal shall not constitute a menace to health of human beings or animals, or a nuisance; which orders shall designate the period within which the desired charges are to be made; provided, however, that a temporary permit may be issued by the state board of health for said period to permit compliance with such order or orders.

(b) Petition granted when discharge would not endanger public health. Permits revocable. Examinations by state board of health. Report on works, etc. Suit to enjoin discharge of sewage into streams. Public nuisance. Penalty for violation. If it shall determine, as a fact, that the substance being or to be discharged or deposited, is not such that under all the circumstances and conditions, it will so contaminate or pollute such stream, river, lake, tributary or other waters, as to endanger the lives or health of human beings or animals, or to constitute a nuisance, and that under all the circumstances and conditions it is necessary so to dispose of such substance, it shall grant to petitioner a permit authorizing petitioner so to deposit or discharge or to continue to deposit or discharge such substance; provided, however, that such permit shall not be construed to permit any act forbidden by any provision of the laws of this state relative to the preservation or propagation of fish or game, or relative to the deposit of debris into the streams of the state, or relative to the obstruction of navigation; and provided, further, that all permits issued hereunder shall be revocable by said board at any time or subject to suspension if said board shall determine, as a fact, that the substance discharged or deposited by virtue thereof causes or may cause a contamination or pollution of waters or land that does or may endanger the lives or health of human beings or animals, or does or may constitute a nuisance; and provided, also, that nothing contained in this act shall be construed as limiting or denying the power of any incorporated city, city and county, town or village to declare, prohibit and abate nuisances, or as limiting or denying the power of the state board of health to declare or abate nuisances.

The state board of health and its inspectors shall at any and all times have full power and authority to and shall be permitted to, enter into and upon any and all places, inclosures and structures for the purpose of making, and to make, examinations and investigations to determine whether any provision of this act is being violated. Whenever any petitioner shall be granted any permit by said board and under the provisions of this act, such petitioner shall furnish to said board upon demand a complete report upon the condition and operation of the system, plant or works, which report shall be made by some competent person designated for the purpose by said board, and at the sole cost and expense of the holder of the permit.

Any county, city and county, city, town, village, district, community, institution, person, firm or corporation, who shall deposit, discharge or continue to deposit or discharge, into any stream, river, lake, or tributary thereof, or into any other waters, used or intended to be used for human or animal consumption or for domestic purposes, or into or upon any place the surface or subterranean drainage from which may run or percolate into any such stream, river, lake, tributary or other waters, or into any of the salt waters, or lands, within the jurisdiction of this state, any sewage, sewage affluent or other substance by the terms of section two of this act forbidden to be so deposited or discharged, without having an unrevoked permit so to do, as in this act provided, may be enjoined from so doing by any court of competent jurisdiction at the suit of any person or municipal corporation whose supply of water for human or animal consumption or for domestic purposes is or may be affected, or by the state board of health.

Anything done, maintained, or suffered, in violation of any of the provisions of section 2 or section 3 of this act shall be deemed to be a public nuisance, dangerous to health, and may be summarily abated as such.

Every county, city and county, city, town, village, district, community, institution, firm, corporation or person, or any officer, employee or agent thereof upon whom the duty to act is cast, who shall violate any provision or part thereof of section 2 or 3 of this act, or who shall fail to obey, observe or comply with any direction, order, requirement or demand or any part or provision thereof of the state board of health, or who aids or abets any such county, city and county, city, town, village, district, community, institution, firm, corporation or person, or any officer, employee or agent thereof in any failure to obey or comply with the provisions of this act or the orders of the state board of health as provided in this act, shall become liable for and forfeit to the state of California the penal sum of not more than one thousand dollars to be fixed by the court for each and every offense. The continued existence of any violation of this act for each and every day beyond the time stipulated for compliance with any of its provisions or of any order of the state board of health as provided herein shall constitute a separate and distinct offense. All penalties are to be recovered by the state in civil action brought by the state of California and such penalties when collected shall be paid into the general fund of the state treasury.

Every officer, agent, or employee of any county, city and county, city, town, village, district, community, institution, firm, corporation or person who shall violate or fail to comply with any of the provisions of section 2 or section 3 of this act or with the order or orders of the state board of health or any part thereof, or who aids or abets in any failure to observe and comply with any such provision, order, or part thereof, is guilty of a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year or by both such fine and imprisonment, for each offense. Each day's violation of this provision shall constitute a separate and distinct offense. [Amendment approved May 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 921.]

An act to prevent the introduction, and provide for the investigation and suppression of contagious or infectious diseases, and appropriating money to be used for such purpose.

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 671.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 2. Extermination of rodents, insects, vermin etc., by property owners. Extermination by state board of health. Whenever any land, place, building, structure, wharf, pier, dock, vessel or water craft, or other property is infested with rodents, insects, or other vermin which are liable to convey or spread contagious or infectious disease from an existing focus declared by the state board of health, it shall be the duty of said board to at once notify the person, firm, copartnership, corporation, city, city and county, county, or district, owning said land, place, building, structure, wharf, pier, dock, vessel or water craft, or other property of the existence of said rodents, insects or other vermin, and said notice shall direct said owner to proceed immediately to exterminate and destroy said rodents, insects, or other vermin, and to continue in good faith such measures as may be necessary to prevent their return. Service of such notice upon a trustee, executor or administrator of the estate of the recorded owner of said property shall be deemed sufficient notice to the owner as provided herein and in the event the owner is absent from the state or cannot with due diligence be found, said notice shall be mailed to such owner addressed to his address given on the last completed assessment-roll of the county, or city and county in which said property is situate, or if no address be so given, then to his last known address and a copy of said notice shall be posted in a conspicuous place upon said property for a period of ten days. In the event that said owner fails, refuses or neglects to proceed and continue as above provided, within ten days from date of receipt of said notice, the state board of health may proceed to destroy said rodents, insects or other vermin, and take other appropriate measures to prevent their return, and the cost thereof shall be repaid to the state board of health by the owner of said land, place building structure, wharf, pier, dock, vessel, water craft or other property; provided, however, that said owner shall not be liable for expenditures in any one year, in excess of ten per cent of the assessed valuation of such property, and the appropriation provided in section one of this act shall be reimbursed by the amount so paid, and may be again expended in a similar manner. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 671.]

§ 3. Lien on property for payment of expense of extermination. Disposition of proceeds. Receiver. Bond. Any and all sums so expended by said state board of health shall be a lien upon the property on which such rodents, insects or other vermin shall have been destroyed, or other appropriate measures taken. The state board of health shall cause to be filed in the office of the county recorder of the county wherein said property is situated a notice setting forth the amount so expended by the state board of health and claiming a lien upon such property for the amount of such expenditures. Such claim of lien must be filed within six months after the first item of expenditure. An action to foreclose such lien shall be commenced within six months after the filing and recording of said notice of lien, which action shall be brought by the state board of health through its attorney and for its benefit; provided, however, that the lien provisions of this act shall not apply to the property of any county, city and county, municipality, district, or other public corporation, but it shall be the duty of the governing body of such county, city and county, municipality, district or other public corporation to repay the state board of health the amount expended by it upon such property under the provision of this act upon presentation by said state board of health of a verified claim or bill showing the amount of such expenditures.

When the property is sold, enough of the proceeds to satisfy such lien and the costs of foreclosure shall be paid into the state treasury for the benefit of the fund herein created and the overplus, if any there be, shall be paid to the owner of the property if known, and if not known, shall be paid into the court for the use of such owner when ascertained.

When it appears from the complaint in such action that the property on which such lien is to be foreclosed is likely to be removed from the jurisdiction of the court, the court may appoint a receiver to take possession of the property and hold the same while the action may be pending or until the defendant shall execute and file a bond, with sufficient sureties, conditioned for the payment of any judgment that may be received against him in the action and all costs. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 672.]

An act regulating the cleaning, laundering, sale, offering for sale, and furnishing for use to employees, of wiping rags; authorizing counties, cities and counties, cities and towns, to enact ordinances prohibiting the cleaning, laundering, sterilizing, and sale of wiping rags without a permit, and to issue and revoke permits to clean, launder, and sell wiping rags within their respective jurisdiction; authorizing peace and health officers to make inspections of wiping rags, and making violations of this act a misdemeanor.

[Approved April 25, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 86.]

Amended 1917, p. 1609.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 3. Not to be cleaned in laundry. Any person or corporation who shall wash, cleanse or launder soiled rags or soiled cloth material for wiping rags by the same machinery or appliances by which clothing and articles for personal wear or household use are laundered, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1609.]

ACT 2840c.

An act to provide for the formation, government, organization, operation and dissolution of local health districts in any part of the state and for changing the boundaries thereof, the appointment and compensation of local district health officers, their deputies and assistants; defining the qualifications, powers and duties of such officers; and to provide for the assessment, levy, collection, custody and disbursement of taxes therein.

§ 1. Local health district may be organized. A local health district may be organized, incorporated and managed as herein provided, and may exercise the powers herein granted or necessarily implied. Such a district may include incorporated or unincorporated territory or both, in any one or more counties; provided, that the territory of the district consists of contiguous parcels and that the territory of no municipal corporation is divided.

§ 2. Petition of voters. Publication. Hearing. Boundaries. Whenever the formation of a local health district is desired, a petition, which may consist of any number of instruments, may be presented at a regular meeting of the board of supervisors of the county in which the proposed district or portion thereof is situated, signed by registered voters of each unit of the district equal in number to at least ten per cent of the number of votes cast in each unit respectively for the office of governor at the last preceding general election at which a governor was elected. For the purposes of this act all unincorporated territory in a proposed district and in one and the same county shall be regarded as an entirety and as a unit, and each incorporated city or town in a district shall likewise be regarded as a unit. If an incorporated city or town is included, the common council, board of trustees or other governing body thereof shall, by resolution duly authenticated, request the inclusion of the city or town in the proposed district. The petition shall set forth and describe the proposed boundaries of the district and shall pray that the same be created under the provisions of this act. Prior to the time at which the petition is to be presented, the text thereof shall be posted for thirty successive days in three public places in each incorporated city or town and unincorporated district; and a reference to said text shall be published along with the notice herein mentioned in this paragraph and the following paragraph for four successive publications in a daily, semi-weekly or weekly newspaper of general circulalation printed and published in each incorporated city or town included therein, and if there is no such newspaper published in the city or town, then the text of the petition shall be posted for the same length of time in three public places as herein specified. The text of the petition so posted and published by reference as herein mentioned shall have annexed thereto a notice stating the time and place of the meeting of the board of supervisors at which the same will be presented. When the petition is composed of more than one instrument, one copy only thereof need be published or posted as herein specified in the posting and publication of the text and notice. No more than five of the names attached to the petition need appear in such publication or posting, but the number of signers must be stated. At least one month prior to the time at which the petition is to be presented, a copy of the text, notice and petition must be filed with the state board of health and board of supervisors of the county or counties.

With such publication there shall also be published, and if posted, there shall also be posted, a notice of the time of the meeting of the board when such petition will be presented and that all persons interested therein may then appear and be heard. At such time the board of supervisors shall hear the petition and those appearing thereon, and also all protests and objections to the same, and may adjourn such hearing from time to time, not exceeding two months in all. No defect in the contents of the petition or in the title to or form of the notice or signatures, or lack of signatures thereto, shall vitiate any proceedings thereon, provided such petition or petitions have a sufficient number of qualified signatures attached thereto. On the final hearing the board shall make such changes in the proposed boundaries as may be deemed advisable and shall define and establish such boundaries; provided, that if the board deems it proper to include therein any territory not included within the proposed boundaries, they shall first give notice of their intention so to do, in the same manner as required for notice of the initial hearing.

§ 3. Testimony. Order establishing district. Certificate of incorporation. Upon the hearing of the petition the board of supervisors shall determine whether it complies with the provisions of this act and whether the public necessity or the welfare of the inhabitants of the proposed territory requires the formation of the district, and for that purpose must hear all competent and relevant testimony offered in support of or in opposition thereto. The findings of the board shall be final and conclusive against all persons except the state of California upon suit commenced by the attorney general. If it appears to the board that the petition complies with the provisions of this act and that the public necessity or the welfare of the inhabitants requires the formation of the district, it shall by an order entered on its minutes so declare its findings, and shall further declare and order that the territory within the boundaries so fixed and determined be established as a local health district, under an appropriate name selected by the board, which name shall include the words "local health district." The county clerk shall immediately file a certified copy of the order with the secretary of state and with the county clerk of each county in which the district or any portion thereof is situated. Within ten days of such filing the secretary of state shall issue and deliver to the county clerk a certificate reciting that the local health district (naming it) has been duly incorporated under the laws of the state of California. The county clerk shall deliver this certificate to the board of trustees of the district at the first meeting of the board. From and after the date of the certificate of the secretary of state, the district named therein shall be deemed incorporated as a local health district with all the rights, privileges and powers set forth in this act and necessarily incident thereto.

§ 4. Board of trustees. Number. Vacancy. Term. Within thirty days of the issuance by the secretary of state of the certificate of incorporation of the district, a board of trustees for the district shall be appointed. The board shall consist of one trustee to be appointed from each unit in the case of unincorporated territory by the board of supervisors, and in the case of an incorporated city or town, by the local governing body thereof; provided, that if the board of trustees hereby created consists of less than five members, then the board of supervisors shall appoint from the district at large enough additional members to make a board of five trustees, if the unit of the district at large is within one county; and if there are several units of the district at large in more than one county, then by the board of supervisors of the county where such unit is situated; and by the boards of supervisors jointly if the district at large constitutes units in several counties and one additional member is to be appointed. A vacancy shall be filled by the appointing power for the unexpired term. The governing board of the district shall be called "the board of trustees of —— local health district" (inserting the name of the particular district). The trustees shall hold office for the term of two years from and after the second day of the calendar year next succeeding their appointment; provided, however, that the first board of trustees appointed in a district shall at their first meeting so classify themselves by lot that one-half of their number, if the total membership is an even number, and if uneven, then that a bare majority of their number, shall go out of office at the expiration of one year, and the remainder at the expiration of two years from the second day of the calendar year next succeeding their appointment.

§ 5. Officers. Expenses. Meetings. The members of the board of trustees shall meet on the first Monday subsequent to thirty days after the issuance of the certificate of incorporation by the secretary of state, and shall organize by the election of one of their members as president and one as secretary. The members of the board shall serve without compensation except that each shall be allowed his actual necessary traveling and incidental expenses incurred in attending meetings of the board. The board shall provide for the time and place of holding its regular meetings and the manner of calling the same, and shall establish rules for its proceedings and may adopt such rules and regulations not inconsistent with law as may be necessary for the exercise of the powers conferred and the performance of the duties imposed upon the board. Special meetings may be called by three trustees and notice of the holding thereof shall be mailed to each member at least forty-eight hours before the meeting. All of its sessions, whether regular or special, shall be open to the public, and a majority of the members of the board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

§ 6. Powers. Each local health district shall have and exercise the following powers:

(1) To have and use a corporate seal and alter it at pleasure;

(2) To sue and be sued in all courts and places and in all actions and proceedings whatever;

(3) To purchase, receive, have, take, hold, lease, use and enjoy property of every kind and description, both within and without the limits of the district, and to control, dispose of, convey and encumber the same and create a leasehold interest in same for the benefit of the district;

(4) To acquire, construct, maintain and operate all works and equipment necessary for the inspection of water, milk, meat and other foods, the extermination of rodents and the disposal of garbage and waste;

(5) To employ public health nurses and health visitors and to co-operate with educational authorities in health inspection in public or private schools in the district;

(6) To exercise the right of eminent domain for the purpose of acquiring real or personal property of every kind necessary to the exercise of any of the powers of the district;

(7) To enforce all statutes relating to the public health and vital statistics, and all orders, quarantine regulations and rules prescribed by the state board of health;

(8) To enforce such local orders and ordinances pertaining to health and sanitary matters within the district as may be authorized by the appropriate local authorities;

(9) To unite with any other local health district or districts in the exercise of any of the powers herein granted to and vested in each district, the cost thereof to be paid by each district in such proportion as may be agreed upon by the respective district boards of trustees;

(10) To exercise all other needful powers for the preservation of the health of the inhabitants of the district, whether such powers are herein expressly enumerated or not;

(11) This grant of power is to be liberally construed for the purpose of securing the well-being of the inhabitants of the district.

§ 7. District health officer. Expenses. Powers. Appointment of district officers, etc. The board shall appoint and fix the compensation of a district health officer, who may be removed by the board only by a two-thirds vote of the members thereof. He shall be the holder of a degree in medicine, sanitary engineering or public health and shall have had at least one year's experience in public health work. He shall devote his entire time to the duties of his office and is expressly prohibited from engaging in any other occupation or business. The board shall provide suitable supplies, equipment and office facilities for the health officer and, upon the recommendation of the health officer, shall fix the compensation and define the powers and duties of such deputies and assistants to the health officer as the board may deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this act. If a meat inspector is employed, he shall be a graduate veterinarian legally qualified to practice veterinary medicine in the state of California.

The health officer, his deputies and assistants, shall receive their actual necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties. In enforcing state statutes, orders, regulations and rules and local orders and ordinances the health officer shall have such powers as are or may be hereafter conferred by general law upon county or municipal health officers. All district officers, deputies and assistants other than the health officer and the members of the board of trustees shall be appointed and may be removed by the board of trustees on the recommendation of the health officer, subject to such rules and regulations as the board of trustees, in its discretion may adopt for the appointment and employment of deputies and assistants, based on merit, efficiency, character and industry.

§ 8. Health officer administrative head. The health officer shall be recognized as the administrative head of the district and, except as herein otherwise prescribed, shall exercise the powers granted to and vested in the district; provided, that he may not purchase property or incur expenditures without the approval or ratification of the board of trustees.

§ 9. Estimate of amount needed. Levy of tax. Apportioned among counties. Annually, at least fifteen days before the first day of the month in which county taxes are levied, the board of trustees of each local health district shall furnish to the board of supervisors of the county in which the district or any part thereof is situated an estimate in writing of the amount of money necessary for all purposes required under the provisions of this act during the next ensuing fiscal year. Thereupon it shall be the duty of the board of supervisors to levy a special tax upon all taxable property of the county lying within the district sufficient in amount to maintain the district. The tax shall in no case exceed the rate of fifteen cents on each one hundred dollars of the assessed valuation of all taxable property within the district, but it may be in addition to all other taxes allowed by law to be levied upon such property. The tax shall be computed, entered upon the tax rolls and collected in the same manner as county taxes are computed, entered and collected. All moneys so collected shall be paid into the county treasury to the credit of the particular local health district fund and shall be paid out on the order of the district board, signed by the president and secretary thereof. If the district embraces territory lying in more than one county, the amount estimated shall be ratably apportioned among the several counties in the district in proportion to the assessed value of the property in the several counties included within said district as shown upon the last assessment-rolls of the said counties, and the estimate apportioned to the several counties shall be rendered to their respective boards of supervisors and the tax shall be levied and collected by the officials of each county upon the property of the district lying therein.

§ 10. Annexation of territory. Petitions. Proposition submitted to electors. If majority favor. Annexation of municipal corporation. Any territory, incorporated or unincorporated, lying adjacent and contiguous to a local health district, may be added and annexed to such district at any time upon proceedings being had and taken as in this act prescribed; provided, that in such annexation the territory of no municipal corporation may be divided. The board of trustees of such district, upon receiving a written petition therefor containing a description of the new territory sought to be annexed to such district, signed by the owners comprising more than one-half of the assessed value of such territory as shown by the last county assessment-roll, must thereupon submit to the electors of the district and also to the electors residing in the territory sought to be annexed, the proposition of whether such proposed territory shall be annexed and added to such district. The proposition to be submitted to the electors at such election, both within said district and within said territory so proposed to be annexed, shall be as follows: "For annexation," or "Against annexation," or words equivalent thereto. Such election must be called and held, and notice thereof shall be published for at least four weeks prior to such election in a newspaper printed and published in such district, and also in a newspaper printed and published in such territory so proposed to be annexed. The board of trustees shall canvass, separately, the votes cast within said district, and the votes cast within said territory so proposed to be annexed, and if it shall appear from such canvass that a majority of all the ballots cast in such district and a majority of all the ballots cast in such territory so proposed to be annexed are in favor of annexation, the board of trustees shall certify such fact to the secretary of state describing said property proposed to be annexed and upon receipt of such last-mentioned certificate, the secretary of state shall thereupon issue his certificate reciting that the territory (describing the same) has been annexed and added to the —— local health district (naming it), and a copy of such certificate of the secretary of state shall be transmitted to and filed with the county clerk of each county in which such local health district or any portion thereof is situated. From and after the date of such certificate the territory named therein shall be deemed added and annexed to and shall form a part of said local health district, with all the rights, privileges and powers set forth in this act and necessarily incident thereto. If the property so proposed to be annexed includes a municipal corporation, consent to annexation shall first be obtained from the governing board thereof, and an authentic copy of the resolution or order of such board so consenting to such annexation shall be attached to the petition and be made a part thereof.

§ 11. Dissolution of district. A district may at any time be dissolved upon the vote of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof, upon an election called by its board of trustees upon the question of dissolution and the proposition which shall be submitted to the electors at such election shall be as follows: "Shall the district be dissolved?" Such election must be called and held, and notice thereof shall be published for at least four weeks prior to such election in a newspaper printed and published in the district. If two-thirds of the votes at such election shall be in favor of the dissolution of the district, the board of trustees shall certify such fact to the secretary of state, and upon receipt of such last mentioned certificate, the secretary of state shall thereupon issue his certificate reciting that the local health district (naming it) has been dissolved, and a copy of such certificate of the secretary of state shall be transmitted to and filed with the county clerk of each county in which the district or any portion thereof is situated. From and after the date of such certificate the district named therein shall be deemed disincorporated and the property of the district shall be ratably apportioned among the several municipalities included in the district and the county or counties in which the district or any portion thereof is situated, in proportion to the assessed value of the property included within said district as shown upon the last county assessment roll or rolls.

§ 12. Conditions. Whenever it appears that the territory of the proposed district is in more than one county, it is to be expressly understood in this act that the phrase "board of supervisors" shall include plural as well as singular and that the same procedure and law as herein set forth for the establishing of such local health district in a county only shall likewise apply to the adjoining county or counties whose territory or portion thereof is included in the proposed local health district, and that no district involving more than one county shall be formed without the concurrent consent of the respective board of supervisors of each of said counties, as well as the consent of the municipalities included therein, and that such district shall be officially incorporated under the laws of the state of California when the respective counties have fully complied with the laws herein specified, and when the secretary of state has received the respective certified copies of the orders of the counties and delivered to the respective county clerks within the time in this act specified his certificate reciting that the local health district has been duly incorporated under the laws of the state of California.

§ 13. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

An act to prevent the providing for common use of receptacles for drinking purposes in public places, and prescribing penalties for violations thereof.

[Approved June 1, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1517. In effect July 31, 1917.]

§ 1. Drinking cups for common use unlawful. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation conducting, having charge of, or control of, any hotel, restaurant, saloon, soda fountain, store, theater, public hall, public or private school, church, hospital, club, office building, park, playground, lavatory or wash-room, barber-shop, railroad train, boat, or any other public place, building, room or conveyance, to provide or expose for common use, or permit to be so provided or exposed, or to allow to be used in common, any cup, glass, or other receptacle used for drinking purposes.

§ 2. "Common use" defined. For the purposes of this act the term "common use" when applied to a drinking receptacle shall be defined as its use for drinking purposes by, or for, more than one person without its being thoroughly cleansed and sterilized in boiling water or steam between consecutive uses thereof; provided, that nothing in this act is to be construed as prohibiting the use of cups or devices for individual use only; provided, further, that the state board of health may by resolution prescribe other acceptable methods of sterilization which may be used in place of the methods specified in this act.

§ 3. Protection of water-cooler used for supplying drinking water. No cask, water-cooler or other receptacle shall be used for storing or supplying drinking water to the public or to employees unless it is covered and protected so as to prevent persons from dipping the water therefrom or contaminating the same. All such containers shall be provided with a faucet or other suitable device for drawing the water; provided, that jugs, cans, buckets and similar receptacles without faucets or other devices for withdrawing water may be used if the water is protected against contamination and is withdrawn by pouring only.

§ 4. Duty of health officers. It shall be the duty of the state board of health and of all health officers of counties, municipalities and health districts to enforce the provisions of this act.

§ 5. Penalty for violation. Any person, firm or corporation violating any provision of this act is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty-five dollars for each offense.

ACT 2844f.

An act to prevent the keeping of towels for common use in public places and prescribing penalties for violations of the provisions thereof.

[Approved June 1, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1518. In effect July 31, 1917.]

§ 1. Towel for common use unlawful. No person, firm or corporation conducting, operating, having charge of, or control of, any hotel, restaurant, factory, store, barber-shop, office building, school, public hall, railroad train, railway station, boat, or any other public place, room or conveyance, shall maintain or keep in or about any such place any towel for common use.

§ 2. "Common use" defined. For the purpose of this act the term "common use" when applied to a towel shall be defined as its use by, or for, more than one person without its being laundered by a process involving exposure to boiling water or steam between consecutive uses of such towel; provided, that the state board of health may by resolution prescribe other acceptable methods of sterilization which may be used in place of the methods specified in this act.

§ 3. Duty of health officers. It shall be the duty of the state board of health and of all health officers of counties, municipalities and health districts, to enforce the provisions of this act.

§ 4. Penalty for violation. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty-five dollars for each offense.

TITLE 437.
PUBLIC LANDS.

ACT 2845a.

An act to provide for the reselection by the state of lands heretofore selected and sold by the state where the selection has been rejected or canceled because of the subsequent exclusion of the base lands from a national forest; and prescribing certain maximum fees to be charged by agents or attorneys for services performed hereunder, and prescribing penalties for the violation hereof.

§ 1. Reselection of land when selection rejected. Where the state has made a selection of other land in lieu of a sixteenth or thirty-sixth section within a national forest and such selection has been or may be rejected or held for rejection by the general land office for the stated reason that since the date of such selection the base land has been excluded from such national forest, it shall be the duty of the surveyor-general, where the state has sold the selected land and upon application therefor by the holder of the certificate of purchase, to reselect the land on bases of the character of the bases used at the date the original selection was made, whenever such bases are available; provided, that the party applying for such reselection shall pay all of the fees and expenses required under the rules of the United States land office.

§ 2. Penalty for charging fee over twenty-five dollars. No person who, as attorney or agent for the owner of the certificate of purchase embracing the selected land, applies to the state surveyor-general to amend such state selection or to reselect the land embraced therein, shall charge, demand, or receive for such service any fee or other compensation in excess of the sum of twenty-five dollars. Any violation of the provisions of this section shall be a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not to exceed one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed thirty days or by both such fine and imprisonment; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be held, deemed, or construed, to apply to any person who also acts as agent or attorney for such owner before the general land office of the United States at Washington, D. C., or before the secretary of the interior, in case it becomes necessary to take any action to protect such selection against adverse proceedings.

An act authorizing the issuance of letters patent to the heirs at law of P. W. Fahey, deceased, for certain swamp and overflowed land in Tuolumne county, California. [Approved May 21, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 771. In effect July 27, 1917.]

The nature of the act sufficiently appears from the title.

ACT 2874a.

An act providing for the leasing of certain state lands and making an appropriation for the purposes of this act.

[Approved May 17, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 576. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Application to lease land. Fee. Any person, firm or corporation desiring to lease any of the unsold portions of the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections of school lands and the unsold portion of the listed lands selected from the public lands of the United States in lieu of the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections and losses to the school grant must make application therefor to the surveyor-general of the state, describing the lands sought to be leased by legal subdivisions. The application must be accompanied by the filing fee of five dollars. All applications to lease lands under this act shall be approved or rejected by the surveyor-general within ninety days after the receipt thereof.

§ 2. Annual rental. Upon receipt of an application to lease any of the lands under this act the surveyor-general shall appraise such lands and fix the annual rental per acre therefor; such charge to be approved by the state board of control.

§ 3. Lease executed. Whenever any lease is delivered to the applicant by the surveyor-general the lessee shall within fifteen days thereafter, execute and return such lease to the state surveyor-general and make payment of the first annual rental. The surveyor-general shall receive the money and give a receipt therefor. All subsequent annual payments of rental must be paid to the state surveyor-general in like manner fifteen days after they become due. In case payments are not made as herein provided, the lease and all rights thereunder shall cease and terminate.

§ 4. Term of lease. No lease shall be for a period longer than ten years, and such lease shall terminate upon the sale of said lands, or any portion thereof, by the state and the lessee shall be notified by registered mail by the state surveyor-general upon the sale of said land at public auction to the highest bidder as provided in that certain act entitled "An act providing for the sale of certain state lands," approved May 19, 1915. The date of the termination of the lease shall be on the date the certificate of purchase is issued to the purchaser of the land from the state of California by the register of the state land office, except when a lease embraces land suitable for cultivation and an application from an actual settler to purchase said land is received and filed by the surveyor-general, then the lease shall terminate on the date said application is filed of record in the surveyor-general's office and the lessee is to be notified by registered mail of the filing of said application to purchase said land, or any portion thereof, from the state and of the termination of the lease. Possession under any lease hereby authorized shall not be held, deemed or construed to be adverse to that of any person who becomes an actual settler upon any portion of land in such lease described, with intent to purchase the same in the manner provided by law.

§ 5. Land designated as bases for indemnity selections. Any lease for sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections or any portion thereof which may now or may hereafter be included within the exterior boundaries of a national reservation or of a reserve, or within the exterior boundaries of lands withdrawn from public entry, shall terminate whenever the state of California shall designate said lands as bases for indemnity selections as provided by law. The lessee is to be notified by the surveyor-general by registered mail whenever the state of California designates the land as bases for indemnity selection or selections.

§ 6. Surrender of lease. If a lease is terminated by reason of the filing of an application to purchase land suitable for cultivation, or by the sale of land at public auction, or by the designation of land as bases for indemnity selection or selections, the lessee shall surrender the lease to the surveyor-general and receive in exchange therefor from the surveyor-general a certificate showing the proportionate amount of the annual payment to be refunded to the lessee, for the tract or tracts of land that have been disposed of by the state of California, and the state controller, upon the surrender to him of the said surveyor-general's certificate, with the approval of the board of control indorsed thereon, shall issue to the lessee a warrant for the said amount payable out of the state school land fund and the state treasurer shall pay the same. If all the tracts of land described in said surrendered lease have not been disposed of by the state, the lessee shall be entitled, without the payment of any additional fee, to a new lease for the remaining tracts of land for the balance of the unexpired term of the surrendered lease, at the same annual rental per acre.

§ 7. Duty of surveyor-general. The surveyor-general is hereby authorized to prepare, make, execute and deliver all papers, instruments, and documents and to do any and all things necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

§ 8. Payment of moneys. All moneys received as rental for such lands above mentioned shall be paid into the state school land fund.

§ 9. Appropriation. There is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury to the credit of the state school land fund, not otherwise appropriated, the sum of three thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be used in refunding unearned rentals under the provisions of section six of this act.

ACT 2875f.

An act to provide for the forfeiture of certain lands to the state in the event of the nonpayment of delinquent interest upon any part of the unpaid portion of the purchase price thereof, together with penalties and costs as herein provided, as well as for the forfeiture of all moneys previously paid thereon, whether for principal or interest; prescribing the duties of certain public officers with respect thereto; providing for the giving of notice hereof; prescribing certain remedies; and making an appropriation for the purposes of this act.

§ 1. Lands to be sold unless interest and penalties paid. All lands sold by this state for which certificates of purchase were issued prior to the first day of May, A. D. one thousand nine hundred eleven, for which full payment was not made at the time of purchase, and upon which any interest upon any part of the unpaid portion of the purchase price thereof is delinquent at the time this act shall take effect, shall be forfeited to the state, without the necessity of re-entry or judicial ascertainment, and shall revert to the particular class of land to which it originally belonged, to be resold under the provisions of existing law, or any future law, unless all such delinquent interest, together with all additional interest becoming due on the first day of January, A. D. one thousand nine hundred eighteen, and all penalties and costs herein specified, shall be fully paid, as herein provided, on or before the thirtieth day of June, A. D. one thousand nine hundred eighteen.

§ 2. List of lands upon which payments delinquent. On or before the first day of October, A. D. one thousand nine hundred seventeen, the register of the state land office shall prepare, or cause to be prepared, statements showing, by counties, and by proper legal descriptions, all lands in each of the several counties in this state for which there are outstanding and not annulled as provided by article six of chapter one of title eight of part three of the Political Code any certificate or certificates of purchase which were issued prior to the first day of May, A. D. one thousand nine hundred eleven, and upon which any interest upon any part of the unpaid portion of the purchase price is delinquent at the time this act shall take effect. Such statements shall also show the name and postoffice address of the purchaser as the same may appear upon the records of the register's office, and the name and postoffice address of the assignee, grantee or successor in interest of such purchaser in all cases wherein notice of any assignment of such certificate of purchase, or of any conveyance or other transfer of title of any part of the lands therein described shall have been filed in said office prior to the date herein first mentioned. Such statement shall also show the number and date of the survey or location and of the certificate of purchase, the amount of interest paid, the amount of interest unpaid, and the amount of interest then due. No lands within any reclamation district must be embraced in any such statement if the certificate of the board of supervisors that works of reclamation have been commenced in such district has been filed in the register's office prior to the taking effect of this act.

§ 3. Demand for payment of delinquent interest. Demand is hereby made upon all persons who are or who may become liable for the payment of any interest which is delinquent upon any part of the unpaid portion of the purchase price of any of the lands embraced within any of such statements for the payment of all such delinquent interest, together with the costs hereby imposed, on or before the thirty-first day of December, A. D. one thousand nine hundred seventeen; and in the event of the nonpayment of any portion of such delinquent interest, as above provided, a penalty of twenty per cent of the aggregate amount then delinquent is hereby imposed, in each case, upon the person or persons liable for the payment thereof. Except as otherwise provided in sections four, five and six of this act, in the event any portion of such delinquent interest, together with such penalty and costs, and all additional interest falling due on the first day of January, A. D. one thousand nine hundred eighteen, be not paid on or before the thirtieth day of June, A. D. one thousand nine hundred eighteen, all lands on account of the purchase price of which such delinquency shall then exist are hereby declared to be forfeited to the state, together with all moneys previously paid on account of the purchase price thereof, whether for principal or interest, and all such certificates of purchase are hereby declared to be ipso facto null and void from and after such date last mentioned.

§ 4. If owner has died without disposing of lands. In the event the owner of any such certificate of purchase shall have died, without disposing of the lands therein described, and no administration of his estate has been had, the time of payment limited by the provisions of the preceding section is hereby extended for a period of six months; provided, however, that appropriate probate proceedings must be commenced in each case not later than December thirty-first, A. D. one thousand nine hundred seventeen, and written notice thereof forwarded by registered mail to the register of the state land office. In such cases the twenty per cent penalty imposed by section three hereof shall not attach until July first, A. D. one thousand nine hundred eighteen, and such forfeiture shall not become operative until December thirty-first of said year.

§ 5. Lands conveyed exempted from forfeiture, when. Any person having a conveyance of the whole or any portion of the lands described in any certificate of purchase included in any such statement, but to whom the certificate has never been surrendered, may protect his lands from forfeiture by paying such proportion of the interest delinquent upon all the lands in such certificate described as the acreage claimed by him bears to the aggregate acreage embraced in such certificate. He shall first, however, file with the register of the state land office satisfactory evidence of his possessory right to such land, and obtain from the latter a certificate, directed to the treasurer of the proper county, permitting such payment and stating the amount to be paid, which shall in all cases include the costs imposed by section nine hereof. Upon such payment being made within the time herein limited such land shall be, and hereby is, excepted from the forfeiture prescribed in this act. Said certificate of purchase shall become null and void only as to the remaining lands therein described, and the register in preparing for record the notices of forfeiture provided for in section ten hereof shall omit therefrom all lands upon which the delinquent interest has been paid as in this section permitted. Should due compliance be made with all other provisions of law governing the issuance of patents, a patent shall issue in the name of the original purchaser of such excepted land, but shall be delivered to the person by whom such payment was made, and the title thereby granted shall inure to the benefit of such person, his heirs or assigns.

§ 6. Lands included. This act shall extend to and include all unlisted lieu lands and all unsegregated swamp and overflowed lands sold under the authority of any law of this state; subject to the proviso that instead of the land itself becoming forfeit for nonpayment of delinquent interest, all right, title and interest therein or thereto heretofore acquired or hereafter to be acquired prior to June thirtieth, A. D. one thousand nine hundred eighteen, by the original purchaser, his heirs and assigns, shall become and hereby is declared to be forfeit to the state in the event of such nonpayment; and subject to the further proviso that all purchasers of such unlisted lieu lands or of such unsegregated swamp and overflowed lands, their heirs and assigns, who protect themselves against such forfeiture by making the payments required by this act, shall not thereby be deprived of any existing right to receive restitution of all sums paid on account of the purchase price of such lands, whether for principal or interest, upon duly complying with all provisions of law governing such restitution.

§ 7. Payment of interest by December 31, 1917. Penalties. Publication of notice. Upon completing the statements required by section two hereof, the register shall add thereto a demand that all interest shown to be delinquent therein shall be paid on or before December thirty-first, A. D. one thousand nine hundred seventeen, to the treasurer of the proper county, together with the sum of three dollars costs, and a notice that if the same be not so paid a penalty of twenty per cent will be added thereto as provided in section three hereof, and a further notice that unless the whole sum delinquent, together with such costs and penalty, and all additional interest falling due January first, A. D. one thousand nine hundred eighteen, be paid on or before June thirtieth, A. D. one thousand nine hundred eighteen, the lands in said statements described, together with all moneys previously paid on account of the purchase price thereof, whether for principal or interest, will be forfeit to the state in accordance with the provisions hereof, and that all such certificates of purchase will become ipso facto null and void. He shall thereupon cause each such statement, together with such demand and notice, to be published once a week for four weeks successively in some newspaper published in the county wherein the lands described in such statement are situate, or, if there be no newspaper published in such county, such publication shall be made in a newspaper published in an adjoining county.

§ 8. Copies sent to county officers and persons interested in lands. Duty of assessor. In addition to such publication, the register shall, not later than October fifteenth, A. D. one thousand nine hundred seventeen, forward copies of such statements, demands and notice, by registered mail to the treasurer and to the auditor and to the assessor of each county wherein any of said lands may be situate, and shall likewise forward by registered mail to each person shown by the records of his office to have any interest in any of such lands, either as purchaser, or as assignee, grantee, distributee, or other successor in interest of such purchaser, a copy of so much of said statements as pertains to the lands wherein such person may appear to have any interest, together with such demand and notice, directed to such person at his last known place of residence or of business as the same appears upon the records of the register's office.

It shall be the duty of each county assessor to whom a copy of any such statement shall be sent, immediately upon receipt thereof, to cause the same to be carefuly compared with the records of assessments in his office of all tracts of land appearing in such list, and in the event it shall appear from such comparison that any person or persons whose names are not included in the register's statement are shown by such assessment records to have any interest in any part of the lands described in such statement, the assessor must forthwith return, by registered mail, to the register of the state land office a statement containing a description of the land affected and the names and addresses, as the same appear upon his records, of all persons appearing to have any interest therein and not included in the register's statement. In every such case the assessor must return his statement to the register within ten days after the receipt by him of the register's statement. Upon receipt of any such return the register shall without delay, forward to each person therein named, in the same manner as above provided, a copy of so much of said statement as pertains to the lands wherein such person is shown by the assessor's return to have any interest, to which shall be appended such demand and notice.

§ 9. Costs. The sum of three dollars to cover the costs of such publication and of such mailing is hereby imposed upon the owner or owners of each such certificate of purchase, as well as upon each person who may have acquired by purchase an interest in all or some portion of the lands in such certificate described, but to whom the certificate has never been surrendered, and it shall be the duty of the treasurer of each county wherein any part of such land may be situate to require the payment of such costs, in all cases, in addition to the delinquent interest, and penalty, if any, and to account for the same in his settlements with the state controller and treasurer, who are hereby authorized and directed to pay all sums so collected for costs into the general fund of the state treasury.

§ 10. Notice of forfeiture. Immediately following the thirtieth day of June, A. D. one thousand nine hundred eighteen, the register shall note upon the records of his office the forfeiture herein and hereby declared, and shall forward to the recorder of each county wherein any of said lands may be situate a notice of such forfeiture, in which there shall be embodied the same data required by section two hereof, supplemented by a statement of the costs, penalties and additional interest accrued at the date of forfeiture. It shall be the duty of the recorder to receive and file such notice and to record the same in a book of deeds. Such notice from the time it is filed with the recorder for record is constructive notice of the contents thereof to subsequent purchasers and mortgagees and to all other persons who may thereafter attempt to acquire any interest in, or lien upon, any of the lands in such notice described. In the event any additional forfeiture shall occur on the first day of January, A. D. one thousand nine hundred nineteen, as provided in section four hereof, the register and each county recorder shall proceed with respect to such lands as before, and with like force and effect.

§ 11. Action to annul forfeiture. In the event any land shall be forfeited under the provisions hereof upon which all interest, costs, penalties and accruing interest had been actually paid prior to such forfeiture, though for any reason not properly credited, the person or persons having a beneficial interest therein may, within one year following the date of such forfeiture, commence an action in the superior court of the county of Sacramento against the register of the state land office for the purpose of having such forfeiture annulled and set aside. And if it be proven to the satisfaction of the court, at the trial of such action, that such payment was in fact made prior to the date upon which such forfeiture occurred, the court shall render judgment annulling and setting aside such forfeiture, and thereupon the plaintiff or plaintiffs in such action shall be restored to his or their former estate in said land, upon making payment of all interest accruing thereon to the date of restoration.

§ 12. Right of state to enforce payment. This act is cumulative and shall not be construed to deny to the state the right to institute any legal proceedings that may be deemed necessary to enforce the payment of all such delinquent interest, or to procure judgments foreclosing the interests of any and all persons in any of such lands, and annulling any or all of such certificates of purchase. Nor shall anything herein contained ever be deemed, held or construed to give to or confer upon the holder or holders of any of such certificates of purchase, as against the state of California, any other or greater right to any land therein described than is now possessed by the holder or holders of such certificates.

§ 13. Appropriation. The sum of four thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be used in accordance with law to defray the costs of the publication and mailing herein provided for.

ACT 2875g.

An act to determine and to declare the effect of state land patents in certain cases.

§ 1. Quitclaim deed not in effect if restitution not made. Whenever any person has, in conformity to the provisions of existing law, conveyed any land to the state of California by quitclaim deed, duly executed, delivered, and accepted by the register of the state land office, for the purpose of receiving restitution of the purchase price thereof, as provided by law, and such restitution has not been made, and a patent for such land shall thereafter issue in the name of the original purchaser, the title granted by such patent shall vest in, and inure to the benefit of, such original purchaser, his heirs, assigns, and successors in interest, notwithstanding the execution, delivery and acceptance of such quitclaim deed, as fully and completely as if such quitclaim deed had never been made, executed, delivered, or accepted.

§ 2. Certificate of register of state land office. Upon the issuance of such patent, the register of the state land office shall make and issue to the patentee therein named, his heirs, assigns, and successors in interest, a certificate under the seal of his office, reciting the making, execution, delivery and acceptance of such quitclaim deed, and further reciting the fact that no restitution of the purchase price of such land was made. Upon the presentation of such certificate to the county recorder of the county wherein such land is situate, it shall be the duty of the recorder to record the same in a book of deeds in the records of such county.

An act authorizing the state board of control for and on behalf of the state of California to retransfer a certain tract of land back to original owners. [Approved May 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1282. In effect July 27, 1917.]

This act authorized the transfer of certain lands in Glenn County to Ella Glenn Leonard, F. B. Glenn and C. H. Glenn.

ACT 2884.

An act to provide for the acquisition by municipalities of land for public park or playground purposes by condemnation, and for the establishment of assessment districts and the assessment of property therein to pay the expenses of acquiring such land.

Amended, Stats. Ex. Sess. 1911, p. 17; 1913, p. 414; 1917, p. 205.

§ 4. Protests. Contents. Protest signed by owners of majority of frontage. Protest not signed by owners of majority of frontage. Any person interested, objecting to said improvement, or to the extent of the assessment district described in said ordinance of intention, may file a written protest with the clerk of the city council, within thirty days after the first publication of the notice required by section three of this act. Every such protest must contain a description of the property in which each signer thereof is interested, sufficient to identify the same, and must set forth the nature of his interest therein, and must be accompanied by the affidavit of one of the signers thereof that each signature thereof is the genuine signature of the person whose name is thereto subscribed; and in case any signature is made by an agent, there must be attached to the protest the affidavit of the agent that he is duly authorized to sign such protest. Any protest not complying with the foregoing requirements, shall not be considered by the city council. In the case of property held by tenancy in common, if any cotenant sign such protest, only the proportionate share of the frontage thereof represented by his interest therein, shall be counted in determining the amount of frontage represented by such protest. The clerk shall indorse on every such protest the date of its reception by him, and at the next regular meeting of the city council, after the expiration of the time for filing protests, shall present to said city council all protests so filed with him. If such protests are against said improvement, and said city council at said meeting or at any other time to which the hearing of said protests may be adjourned, finds that the same are signed by the owners of a majority of the frontage of the property fronting on streets or parts of streets within said assessment district, all further proceedings under said ordinance of intention shall be barred, and no new ordinance of intention for the same improvement shall be passed within six months after the presentation of such protests to the city council, unless the owners of a majority of the frontage of the property fronting on streets or parts of streets within said assessment district shall, in the meantime, petition therefor. If such protests are against the improvement and the council finds that they are not signed by the owners of a majority of the frontage of the property fronting on streets or parts of streets within the assessment district, or if such protests are only against the extent of the assessment district, the council shall hear said protests at said meeting, or at any time to which the hearing thereof may be adjourned, and pass upon the same, and its decision shall be final and conclusive. If such protests are sustained, no further proceedings shall be had under said ordinance of intention, but a new ordinance of intention for the same improvement may be passed at any time. If such protests are denied, the proceedings shall continue as if such protests had not been made. At the expiration of the time within which protests may be filed, if none are filed, or if protests are filed, and after hearing are denied, as above provided, then upon such denial, the city council shall be deemed to have acquired jurisdiction to order the improvement described in the ordinance of intention.

§ 24. Deed to purchaser. Service of notice by street superintendent. At any time after the expiration of twelve months from the date of sale, the street superintendent must execute to the purchaser, or his assignee on his application, if such purchaser or assignee has complied with the provisions of this section, a deed of the property sold, in which shall be recited substantially the matters contained in the certificate, also any assignment thereof, and the fact that no person has redeemed the property. The street superintendent shall receive from the applicant for a deed, one dollar for making such deed, unless the municipality is the purchaser, in which case no charge shall be made therefor, and at least thirty days before the deed is executed the street superintendent must serve upon the owner of the property, and upon the occupant of such property if the same is occupied, a written notice, setting forth a description of the property that said property has been sold for a delinquent assessment (specifying the improvement for which the same was made), the amount for which it was sold, the amount necessary to redeem at the time of giving notice and the time when the deed will be executed to the purchaser or assignee. If the said owner cannot be found, after due diligence, said notice must be posted by the street superintendent in a conspicuous place upon said property, at least thirty days before the time stated therein, at which the deed will be executed. The street superintendent must file with the city clerk an affidavit or affidavits showing that notice of such application has been given, as herein required, and if the notice was not served on the owner of the property personally, that due diligence was used to find said owner. If redemption of the property is made after such affidavits are filed, and more than eleven months from the date of sale, the person making such redemption must pay, in addition to the other amounts required, three dollars for the service of notice and the making of such affidavits, which amount shall be paid over to the street superintendent and by him paid into the city treasury. No deed for any property sold for delinquent assessment shall be made until all the provisions of this section have been complied with.

TITLE 440.

PUBLIC UTILITIES.

ACT 2886.

An act to provide for the organization of the railroad commission, to define its powers and duties and the rights, remedies, powers and duties of public utilities and their officers, and the rights and remedies of patrons of public utilities, and to provide penalties for offenses by public utilities, their officers, agents and employees and by other persons and corporations, creating the "railroad commission fund" and appropriating the moneys therein to carry out the provisions of this act, and repealing Title XV of Part IV of Division First of the Civil Code and all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act.

(x) "Water corporation." The term "water corporation," when used in this act, includes every corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, owning, controlling, operating or managing any water system for compensation within this state.

(y) "Vessel." The term "vessel," when used in this act, includes every species of water craft, by whatsoever power operated, which is owned, controlled, operated or managed for public use in the transportation of persons or property, except row-boats, sailing boats and barges under twenty tons dead weight carrying capacity, and vessels propelled by steam, gas, fluid naphtha, electricity, or other motive power under the burden of five tons net register.

(z) "Wharfinger." The term "wharfinger," when used in this act, includes every corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees, appointed by any court whatsoever, owning, controlling, operating or managing any dock, wharf or structure used by vessels in connection with or to facilitate the receipt or discharge of freight or passengers for compensation within this state.

(aa) "Warehouseman." The term "warehouseman," when used in this act, includes every corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, owning, controlling, operating or managing any building or structure in which property is regularly stored for compensation within this state, in connection with or to facilitate the transportation of property by a common carrier or vessel, or the loading or unloading of the same, other than a dock, wharf or structure, owned, operated, controlled or managed by a wharfinger.

(bb) "Public utility." The term "public utility," when used in this act, includes every common carrier, pipe-line corporation, gas corporation, electrical corporation, telephone corporation, telegraph corporation, water corporation, wharfinger and warehouseman, where the service is performed for or the commodity delivered to the public or any portion thereof. The term "public or any portion thereof" as herein used means the public generally, or any limited portion of the public including a person, private corporation, municipality or other political subdivision of the state, for which the service is performed or to which the commodity is delivered, and whenever any common carrier, pipe-line corporation, gas corporation, electrical corporation, telephone corporation, telegraph corporation, water corporation, wharfinger or warehouseman performs a service or delivers a commodity to the public or any portion thereof for which any compensation or payment whatsoever is received, such common carrier, pipe-line corporation, gas corporation, electrical corporation, telephone corporation, telegraph corporation, water corporation, wharfinger or warehouseman is hereby declared to be a public utility subject to the jurisdiction, control and regulation of the commission and the provisions of this act. Furthermore, when any person or corporation performs any service or delivers any commodity to any person or persons, private corporation or corporations, municipality or other political subdivision of the state, which in turn either directly or indirectly, mediately or immediately, perform such service or deliver such commodity to or for the corporation or corporations and each thereof is hereby declared to be a public utility and to be subject to the jurisdiction, control and regulation of the commission and to the provisions of this act. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1329.]

§ 17. No transportation until rates are filed. (a) 1. No common carrier subject to the provisions of this act shall engage or participate in the transportation of persons or property, between points within this state, until its schedules of rates, fares, charges and classifications shall have been filed and published in accordance with the provisions of this act.

2. Different rate not to be charged. No common carrier shall charge, demand, collect or receive a greater or less or different compensation for the transportation of persons or property, or for any service in connection therewith, than the rates, fares and charges applicable to such transportation as specified in its schedules filed and in effect at the time; nor shall any such carrier refund or remit in any manner or by any device any portion of the rates, fares or charges so specified, except upon order of the commission as hereinafter provided, nor extend to any corporation or person any privilege or facility in the transportation of passengers or property except such as are regularly and uniformly extended to all corporations and persons.

3. Passes. Express matter to company's officer. No common carrier subject to the provisions of this act shall, directly or indirectly, issue, give or tender any free ticket, free pass or free or reduced-rate transportation for passengers between points within this state, except to its officers, agents, employees, attorneys, physicians and surgeons, and members of their families; to ministers of religion, traveling secretaries of railroad men's religious associations, or executive officers, organizers or agents of railroad employees' mutual benefit associations giving the greater portion of their time to the work of any such association; inmates of hospitals or charitable or eleemosynary institutions, and persons exclusively engaged in charitable or eleemosynary work, and persons and property engaged or employed in educational work or scientific research or in patriotic work when permitted by the commission; to the executive officers of mercantile or promotion boards or bodies within this state when traveling in the performance of duties affecting the advancement of the business of such boards or bodies, or the development of trade or industry within or without this state, when authorized by the commission; to hotel employees of season resort hotels, when authorized by the commission; to indigent, destitute and homeless persons and to such persons when transported by charitable societies or hospitals, and the necessary agents employed in such transportation; to inmates of the national homes or state homes for disabled volunteer soldiers and of soldiers' and sailors' homes, including those about to enter and those returning home after discharge; to necessary caretakers, going and returning, of livestock, poultry, milk, fruit and other freight, under uniform and nondiscriminatory regulations; to employees of sleeping-car corporations, express corporations and telegraph and telephone corporations; to railway mail service employees, United States internal revenue officers, postoffice inspectors, customs officers and inspectors and immigration inspectors when traveling in the course of their official duty; to newsboys on trains, baggage agents, witnesses attending any legal investigation in which the carrier is interested, persons injured in accidents or wrecks and physicians and nurses attending such persons; provided, that the term "employees," as used in this section, shall include furloughed, pensioned and superannuated employees, persons who have become disabled or infirm in the service of any such carrier, ex-employees traveling for the purpose of entering the service of any such carrier, and the remains of persons dying while in the employment of any such carrier; and the term "families," as used in this section, shall include the families of those persons heretofore named in this proviso, and the families of persons killed, and the widows during widowhood and minor children during minority of persons who died while in the service of any such carrier; and provided, further, that no free ticket, free pass or free or reduced-rate transportation shall be issued, given or tendered to any officer, agent or employee of a common carrier, who is at the same time a shipper or receiver of freight, or an officer, agent or employee of a shipper or receiver of freight, unless such officer, agent or employee devotes substantially his entire time to the service of such carrier; and provided, further, that the members of the railroad commission, their officers and employees, shall be entitled, when in the performance of their official duties, to free transportation over the lines of all common carriers within this state; and provided, further, that passenger transportation may issue to the proprietors and employees of newspapers and magazines and the members of their immediate families, in exchange for advertising space in such newspapers or magazines at full rates, subject however to such reasonable restriction as the commission may impose.

Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to prohibit the issue by express corporations of free or reduced-rate transportation for express matter to their officers, agents, employees, attorneys, physicians and surgeons, and members of their families, or the interchange of free or reduced-rate transportation for passengers or express matter between common carriers, their officers, agents, employees, attorneys, physicians and surgeons, and members of their families, where such common carriers are subject in whole or in part to the jurisdiction of the commission or of the interstate commerce commission, or where such common carriers, though not in whole or in part subject to the jurisdiction of this commission or of the interstate commerce commission, but which are engaged in the business of transporting passengers and freight by water between the United States and foreign countries, and are permitted by the interstate commerce act to interchange such free transportation with common carriers which are subject to the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission or to the jurisdiction of this commission; provided, that such express matter be for the personal use of the person to or for whom such free or reduced-rate transportation is granted, or of his family; nor to prohibit the issue of reduced-rate transportation by a common carrier to children attending an institution of learning; nor to prohibit the issue of passes or franks by telegraph or telephone corporations to their officers, agents, employees, attorneys, physicians and surgeons, and members of their families, or the exchange of passes or franks between such telegraph and telephone corporations or between such corporations and such common carriers, for their officers, agents, employees, attorneys, physicians and surgeons, and members of their families; nor to prevent the carrying out of contracts for free or reduced-rate passenger transportation heretofore made, founded upon adequate consideration and lawful when made; nor to prevent a common carrier from transporting, storing or handling, free or at reduced rates, the household goods and personal effects of its employees, of persons entering or leaving its service, and of persons killed or dying while in its service.

4. United States, state, etc., property may be carried free in certain cases. Every common carrier subject to the provisions of this act may transport, free or at reduced rates, persons or property for the United States, state, county or municipal governments, or for charitable purposes, or for patriotic purposes, or to provide relief in cases of general epidemic, pestilence or other calamitous visitation, and property to or from fairs or expositions for exhibit thereat; also contractors and their employees, material or supplies for use or engaged in carrying out their contracts with said carriers, for construction, operation or maintenance work or work incidental thereto on the line of the issuing carrier, to the extent only that such free or reduced-rate transportation is provided for in the specifications upon which the contract is based and in the contract itself. Common carriers may also enter into contracts with telegraph and telephone corporations for an exchange of service.

(b) Rebates prohibited. Except as in this section otherwise provided, no public utility shall charge, demand, collect or receive a greater or less or different compensation for any product or commodity furnished or to be furnished, or for any service rendered or to be rendered, than the rates, tolls, rentals and charges applicable to such product or commodity or service as specified in its schedules on file and in effect at the time, nor shall any such public utility refund or remit, directly or indirectly, in any manner or by any device, any portion of the rates, tolls, rentals and charges so specified, nor extend to any corporation or person any form of contract or agreement or any rule or regulation or any facility or privilege except such as are regularly and uniformly extended to all corporations and persons; provided, that the commission may by rule or order establish such exceptions from the operation of this prohibition as it may consider just and reasonable as to each public utility. [Amendment approved April 25, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 199.]

§ 43. No grade crossings without permission. (a) No public road, highway or street shall hereafter be constructed across the track of any railroad corporation at grade, nor shall the track of any railroad corporation be constructed across a public road, highway or street at grade, nor shall the track of any railroad corporation be constructed across the track of any other railroad or street railroad corporation at grade, nor shall the track of a street railroad corporation be constructed across the track of a railroad corporation at grade, without having first secured the permission of the commission; provided, that this subsection shall not apply to the replacement of lawfully existing tracks. The commission shall have the right to refuse its permission or to grant it upon such terms and conditions as it may prescribe.

(b) Power to determine crossing point, etc. Payment of amount apportioned. The commission shall have the exclusive power to determine and prescribe the manner, including the particular point of crossing, and the terms of installation, operation, maintenance, use and protection of each crossing of one railroad by another railroad or street railroad, and of a street railroad by a railroad, and of each crossing of a public road or highway by a railroad or street railroad and of a street by a railroad or vice versa, subject to the provisions of section two thousand six hundred ninety-four of the Political Code so far as applicable, and to alter, relocate or abolish any such crossing, and to require, where in its judgment it would be practicable, a separation of grades at any such crossing heretofore or hereafter established and to prescribe the terms upon which such separation shall be made and the proportions in which the expense of the construction, alteration, relocation or abolition of such crossings or the separation of such grades shall be divided between the railroad or street railroad corporations affected or between such corporations and the state, county, municipality or other political subdivision affected. It shall be the duty of each corporation and political subdivision to which any of the expense is apportioned to pay from the funds available therefor in its treasury the amount apportioned to it at the time and to the parties specified by the order of the commission and if the same is not paid in accordance with the commission's order the corporation or political subdivision entitled thereto under the commission's order shall have the right to sue therefor in any court of competent jurisdiction. If no such funds are available as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the appropriate boards, officers and employees intrusted with the levy and collection of the taxes or assessments of such political subdivision to do all acts necessary to include in the next succeeding tax or assessment levy the amount due and to collect the same, whereupon the amount due shall be paid over to the corporation or corporations, the state, political subdivision, or political subdivisions entitled thereto under the commission's order. The commission shall have the power by order to designate the state, certain of said corporations, and political subdivisions, affected, to do all or specified portions of the acts required by any order of the commission made under the provisions of this subsection, and to prescribe the manner and the time within which the parties so designated shall be paid or reimbursed by the other corporations, the state and political subdivisions among which the expense of the work has been apportioned by the commission.

(c) 1. Power to fix just compensation. The commission shall have power in accordance with the procedure provided in this subsection to fix the just compensation to be paid for property or any interest in or to property to be taken or damaged in the separation or grades at any crossing specified in subsection (b) hereof, or for property or any interest in or to property to be taken or damaged in the construction, alteration or relocation, under the order or with the approval of the commission, of elevated tracks or subways for any railroad or street railroad over or under any public road, street, highway or private right of way, or of any public road, street or highway over or under the tracks of any railroad corporation or street railroad corporation; and upon the payment of the just compensation so fixed to make a final order of condemnation as hereinafter provided.

2. Manner of commencing proceedings. Proceedings under subsection (c) hereof may be commenced by order on the commission's own motion or by a petition filed by the state, county, city and county, incorporated city or town, other political subdivision, railroad corporation, or street railroad corporation affected. Any proceeding commenced under this subsection may be made a part of any proceeding commenced under subsection (b) hereof. Said petition shall set forth the name and interest of the petitioner, and said order on the commission's own motion and said petition shall set forth a statement of the purpose of the proceedings and the use for which property or interest in or to property is sought to be taken, a description of each piece of land or other property or interest in or to property sought to be taken, and whether the same includes the whole or only a part of an entire parcel or tract or piece of property or interest in or to property and the names and addresses of all owners and claimants thereof, if known, or a statement that they are unknown, and a statement of each railroad corporation, the state and political subdivision which in the opinion of the commission or the petitioner has an interest in the proceeding. Said petition shall pray that the commission fix the just compensation to be paid for the acquisition of or damage to the property and interest in or to property specified in the petition, that the commission designate the party or parties to the proceeding who shall pay such compensation and the owners and claimants of the property and interest in or to property condemned to whom such compensation shall be paid and that the commission make its final order of condemnation; provided, that when the proceeding is commenced by order on the commission's own motion said matters shall be included in the statement of the purpose of the proceeding. Said petition shall be duly verified and at the time the same is filed with the commission the petitioner shall also file the additional copies thereof equal in number to three or more than the number of owners and claimants named in the petition.

3. Order to appear. Service. Publication. Notice of hearing. Amendment of petition. Upon the filing of said petition with the commission or the making of said order on the commission's own motion, the commission shall make its order specifying the nature of the proceeding, containing a general description of the property and interest in or to property to be condemned, and directing the owners and claimants and the railroad corporations, street railroad corporations, and governmental authorities in interest named in said petition or order on the commission's own motion, who shall also be named in said order to show cause, to appear before the commission at a time and place specified in said order, to show cause, if any they have, why the commission should not proceed after hearing to fix the just compensation to be paid for the acquisition of or damage to the property and interest in or to property specified in said petition or order on the commission's own motion, to designate the party or parties to the proceeding who shall pay such compensation and the owners and claimants to whom such compensation shall be paid and to make its final order of condemnation. Said order to show cause shall direct the secretary of the commission to serve or cause to be served upon each said owner and claimant, railroad corporation, street railroad corporation and governmental authority in interest a copy of said order certified under the seal of the commission to which shall be attached a true and correct copy of the petition or order on the commission's own motion; provided, that when the proceeding is commenced by order on the commission's own motion said order to show cause may be incorporated in said order on the commission's own motion. Personal service shall be made in accordance with the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure of the state of California; provided, that service may also be made by depositing a copy of said order to show cause certified under seal of the commission with a true copy of the petition or order on the commission's own motion attached thereto or made a part thereof in the United States mail, inclosed in a sealed envelope, registered, with postage prepaid, addressed to each owner or claimant, railroad corporation, street railroad corporation and governmental authority in interest named in said petition or order on the commission's own motion. If any owner or claimant named in the petition or order on the commission's own motion resides out of the state or has departed from the state or cannot after due diligence be found within the state, or conceals himself to avoid service, or is a corporation having no managing or business agent, cashier or secretary or other officer upon whom summons may be served, who, after due diligence, cannot be found within the state, and the fact appears by affidavit to the satisfaction of the commission, and it also appears by such affidavit or by the petition or order on the commission's own motion that a cause of action exists against such owner or claimant on whom service is to be made and that he is a necessary or proper party to the proceeding, the commission may make an order that the service be made on such owner or claimant by publication of the commission's said order to show cause. Said order of the commission shall direct that the publication be made in a newspaper to be designated by the commission as likely to give notice to the owner or claimant to be served, and for such time as the commission may find to be reasonable, at least once a week, but publication against an owner or claimant residing out of the state or absent therefrom shall not be less than two months. If the address of any owner or claimant as stated in the petition or order on the commission's own motion is out of the state, the secretary of the commission shall within fifteen days after the making and filing of said order to show cause, deposit or cause to be deposited a copy of said order to show cause certified under the seal of the commission, with a true and correct copy of the petition or order on the commission's own motion attached thereto or made a part thereof, in the United States mail, inclosed in a sealed envelope registered, with postage prepaid, addressed to such owner or claimant at the address specified in the petition or order on the commission's own motion. Personal service of a copy of the order to show cause and of the petition or order on the commission's own motion out of the state is equivalent to publication and deposit in the United States mail. Within ten days prior to the time set for the first hearing on the petition or order on the commission's own motion, which time shall be not less than thirty days after the filing of said petition or the making of said order on the commission's own motion, the secretary shall serve or cause to be served upon the petitioner a written notice of such hearing, specifying the time and place at which such hearing shall be had. In all respects not in this paragraph otherwise provided, service and the proof of service shall be made as provided by the Code of Civil Procedure of the state of California. Upon the completion of service upon the petitioner or upon any owner or claimant, railroad corporation, street railroad corporation or governmental authority in interest named in the petition or order on the commission's own motion, the commission shall have full and complete jurisdiction in so far as such petitioner, owner or claimant, railroad corporation, street railroad corporation, or governmental authority in interest is concerned, to make each finding hereinafter referred to, to fix the just compensation to be paid for the acquisition of or damage to any property or interest in or to property specified in the petition or order on the commission's own motion, to designate the party or parties to the proceeding who shall pay such compensation and the owner or claimant to whom such compensation shall be paid and to make its final order of condemnation. The failure to make such service upon any person alleging that he is an owner or claimant or party in interest but not named in the petition or order on the commission's own motion or to acquire jurisdiction over such person shall in no way affect the jurisdiction of the commission over owners and claimants and parties in interest on whom service has been made as in this paragraph provided. The commission shall have power at any time subsequent to the filing of the petition, and prior to making and filing its finding of just compensation, to authorize the amendment of the petition, or in case the proceeding is by order on the commission's own motion to amend said order, by altering or modifying the description of said property, or interest in or to property, or by adding to or deducting from said property or interest in or to property, or by bringing in any additional party or parties and in each other respect including each jurisdictional allegation.

4. Hearing. Finding. At the time and place specified in said order to show cause, or at such other time and place as, for good cause, may be otherwise ordered by the commission, the commission shall proceed to a hearing upon the petition or order on the commission's own motion. When the proceeding has been submitted the commission shall make and file its finding upon the question whether the use to which the property or interest in or to property is to be applied is a use authorized by law and whether the taking is necessary to such use, and shall make and file its written finding and fixing the just compensation to be paid for said property or interest in or to property; provided, that if the commission finds that severance damages should be paid, the just compensation for such damages shall be found and stated separately. Said just compensation shall be fixed by the commission as of the day on which the petition was filed or the order on the commission's own motion was made. The commission shall also make its order designating the party or parties to the proceeding who shall pay the just compensation so fixed, or any portion thereof, the amounts in which it shall be paid, the times at which it shall be paid, the property or interest in or to property for which it shall be paid, and the owners and claimants of such property or interest in or to property to whom it shall be paid. The commission may prescribe any other terms or conditions with reference to the payment of such compensation as to the commission may seem proper, including a provision that the money due be paid to the commission to be distributed to the parties entitled thereto. The party or parties whom the commission may designate to pay such compensation or any part thereof shall thereupon become liable therefor, and may be sued in any court of competent jurisdiction by the party or parties entitled to such compensation as provided in the commission's order; provided, that in cases in which the order of the commission authorizing any work to be done under the provisions of this section is permissive in character and not mandatory, the commission may prescribe the time within which the party receiving such permission must elect to proceed and notify the commission thereof, and only in the event such party elects to proceed and so notifies the commission shall any liability arise in such cases to pay the just compensation or any part thereof under the provisions of this subsection. When any political subdivision of the state is designated by the commission to pay such compensation or any portion thereof the same shall be collectible in the manner provided in subsection (b) hereof for the collection of expenses apportioned by the commission to political subdivisions of the state.

5. Final order of condemnation. When the just compensation has been paid in accordance with the commission's order made under the provisions of this subsection for property or interest in or to property, the commission shall make its final order of condemnation which must describe the property or interest in or to property condemned and the purpose of such condemnation. A copy of said order certified under the seal of the commission shall thereupon be filed in the office of the recorder of the county in which the property or interest in or to property therein described is situated, and thereupon the property or interest in or to property described therein shall vest in the parties and for the purposes specified in said order.

6. Finding final. Petition for rehearing. The finding of the commission on the question of the necessity for the taking and the finding, fixing the just compensation to be paid for any property or interest in or to property under the provisions of this subsection shall be final and shall not be subject to modification, alteration, reversal or review by any court of this state. The provisions of this act with reference to rehearing and review shall be applicable to the findings of the commission made and filed under the provisions of this section. Petitions for rehearing must be filed within twenty days from the date of making and filing the finding as to which a rehearing is desired. If a finding of the commission made and filed under the provisions of this section is set aside by the supreme court of the state of California, the matter shall be referred back to the commission for further action in a proceeding before the commission, and the commission shall have the right, on taking further action, to consider the entire testimony theretofore taken in the proceeding before the commission as well as such further testimony, if any, as may be presented in connection with such further action.

7. Procedure not exclusive. The procedure provided in this section shall be alternative and cumulative and not exclusive to the right to pursue any other procedure now or hereafter established providing for the acquisition under eminent domain proceedings of property or interest in or to property.

8. Germane to jurisdiction. The legislature hereby declares that subsection (c) hereof is enacted as a germane and cognate part of and as an aid to the jurisdiction of the railroad commission in the supervision and regulation of railroad and street railroad corporations.

9. Right to receive damages. Nothing in this section shall be construed to entitle any owner or claimant of property and interest in or to property to receive damages when the right to receive such damages does not exist under the laws of this state apart from the provisions of this section. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 320.]

§ 47. Valuation of public utility property. (a) The commission shall have power to ascertain for each purpose specified in this act, the value of the property of every public utility in this state and every fact and element of value which in its judgment may or does have any bearing on such value. The commission shall have power to make revaluations from time to time and to ascertain the value of all additions, betterments, extensions and new construction to the property of every public utility.

(b) Petition setting forth intention to acquire public utility. 1. Any county, city and county, incorporated city or town, municipal water district, county water district, irrigation district, public utility district or any other public corporation, each of which is hereinafter in this section at times referred to as the political subdivision, may, at any time, file with the commission either a petition, hereinafter in this section at times referred to as a petition of the first class, setting forth the intention of the political subdivision to acquire under eminent domain proceedings, or otherwise, the lands, property and rights of any character whatsoever of any public utility, or any part or portion thereof, or a petition, hereinafter in this section at times referred to as a petition of the second class, setting forth the intention of the political subdivision to initiate such proceedings as may be required under the law governing the political subdivision for the purpose of submitting to the voters of the political subdivision a proposition to acquire under eminent domain proceedings, or otherwise, the lands, property and rights of any character whatsoever of any public utility, or any part or portion thereof.

2. Contents of petition. Commission asked to fix just compensation. Each such petition shall contain the name of the political subdivision appearing as petitioner therein, a description of the lands, property and rights, or of the part or portion thereof, which the political subdivision intends to acquire, and the names and addresses of all owners and claimants thereof, including each trustee and mortgagee under each deed of trust and mortgage, if known, or a statement that they are unknown. The petition shall pray that the commission fix the just compensation which shall be paid by the political subdivision, under the law, for said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof. The petition shall be signed in the name of the political subdivision and verified by the chairman or other presiding officer or by the secretary or clerk of the legislative or other governing body of the political subdivision. At the time the petition is filed, the petitioner shall also file with the commission additional copies thereof equivalent in number to three more than the number of owners and claimants named in the petition.

3. Order to owners to appear before commission. Service. Publication. Notice of hearing to petitioner. Jurisdiction of commission. Upon the filing of the petition, the commission shall make its order, specifying the nature of the proceeding, containing a general description of the lands, property and rights, or the part or portion thereof which petitioner desires to acquire by condemnation, or otherwise, and directing the owners and claimants named in the petition, who shall also be named in said order, to appear before the commission at a time and place specified in the order, to show cause, if any they have, why the commission should not proceed to hear the petition and to fix the just compensation to be paid for said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof. The order shall direct the secretary of the commission to serve or cause to be served upon each said owner and claimant a copy of said order, certified under the seal of the commission, to which shall be attached a true and correct copy of the petition. Service shall be made in accordance with the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure of the state of California; provided, that service may also be made by depositing a copy of said order to show cause, certified under the seal of the commission, with a true and correct copy of the petition attached thereto, in the United States mail, inclosed in a sealed envelope, registered, with postage prepaid, addressed to any owner or claimant at the address specified in the petition. If any owner or claimant named in the petition resides out of the state, or has departed from the state, or cannot, after due diligence, be found within the state, or conceals himself to avoid service, or is a corporation having no managing or business agent, cashier or secretary or other officer upon whom summons may be served, who, after due diligence, cannot be found within the state, and the fact appears by affidavit to the satisfaction of the commission, and it also appears by such affidavit or by the petition that a cause of action exists against the owner or claimant on whom the service is to be made or that he is a necessary or proper party to the proceeding, the commission shall make its order that the service be made on such owner or claimant by publication of the commission's said order to show cause. Said order of the commission shall direct that the publication be made in a newspaper to be designated by the commission as likely to give notice to the person to be served, and for such time as the commission may find to be reasonable, at least once a week; but publication against an owner or claimant residing out of the state, or absent therefrom shall be not less than two months. If the address of any owner or claimant, as stated in the petition, is out of the state, the secretary of the commission shall, within fifteen days after the making and filing of said order to show cause, deposit or cause to be deposited a copy of said order to show cause, certified under the seal of the commission, with a true and correct copy of the petition attached thereto, in the United States mail, inclosed in a sealed envelope, registered, with postage prepaid, addressed to such owner or claimant at the address specified in the petition. When publication is ordered, personal service of a copy of the order to show cause and of the petition out of the state is equivalent to publication and deposit in the United States mail. Within ten days prior to the time set for the first hearing on the petition, which time shall be not less than thirty days after the filing of the petition, the secretary of the commission shall serve or cause to be served upon the petitioner a written notice of such hearing, specifying the time and place at which such hearing will be held. In all respects not in this paragraph otherwise specified, service and the proof of service shall be made as provided by the Code of Civil Procedure of the state of California. Upon the completion of service upon the petitioner or upon any owner or claimant named in the petition, the commission shall have full and complete jurisdiction over such petitioner, owner or claimant, with full and complete jurisdiction, in so far as such petitioner, owner or claimant, is concerned, to make each finding hereinafter referred to. The failure to make service upon any person alleging that he is an owner or claimant but not named in the petition shall in no way affect the jurisdiction of the commission over owners and claimants on whom service has been made as in this paragraph provided.

4. Hearing on petition. Amendment of petition. Finding fixing compensation. Severance damages. At the time and place specified in said order to show cause, or at such other time and place as, for good cause, may be otherwise ordered by the commission, the commission shall proceed to a hearing on the petition. At such times and in such amounts as may be directed by the commission, the political subdivision must pay to the commission all extra costs as determined by the commission, which extra costs the commission may incur to comply with the requirements of section forty-seven (b) of this act, and if such amounts are not paid by the political subdivision as directed by the commission, the commission may suspend further proceedings on the petition. Evidence may be presented by the political subdivision, by each owner or claimant named in the petition, and by the commission. The commission shall have power, at any time subsequent to the filing of the petition, and prior to making and filing its finding as to just compensation, to authorize the amendment of the petition by altering or modifying the description of said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, or by adding to or deducting from said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, and in each other respect including each jurisdictional allegation. When the proceeding has been submitted, the commission shall make and file its written finding fixing, in a single sum, the just compensation to be paid by the political subdivision for said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof; provided, that if the commission finds that severance damages should be paid, the just compensation for such damages shall be found and stated separately. Said just compensation shall be fixed by the commission as of the day on which the petition was filed with the commission.

5. Acceptance by owner. Execution of deed by owner. Action on failure to execute deed. Within twenty days after the commission has made and filed its finding, the owner of said lands, property and rights, or of said part or portion thereof, may file with the legislative or other governing body of the political subdivision a written stipulation consenting and agreeing to accept the just compensation fixed by the commission. Upon the filing of such written stipulation, the political subdivision must proceed with all due diligence to provide the necessary funds under the law governing the providing of such funds for paying the just compensation fixed by the commission. Whenever the just compensation has been tendered by the political subdivision, a deed of grant, bargain and sale conveying the owner's right, title and interest in and to said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, to the political subdivision, shall be executed and delivered by the owner, and the other claimants who have any right, title or interest in the property shall execute appropriate instruments of conveyance or release, conveying or releasing to the political subdivision their respective rights, titles and interests therein. If said deed or said instruments of conveyance or release are not executed and delivered within sixty days after said tender has been made, the political subdivision may commence an action in a court of competent jurisdiction or proceed otherwise in the manner and for the purpose or purposes specified in the next paragraph of this section.

6. Action to take lands, etc., under eminent domain proceedings. Proceedings to submit proposition to voters. Action commenced if voters approve. In the case of a petition of the first class, if the owner does not file said stipulation within said twenty days, the political subdivision, within sixty days after the commission has made and filed its said finding, must commence an action in a court of competent jurisdiction in a manner in accordance with the provisions of law, to take under eminent domain proceedings said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof. In the case of a petition of the second class, if the owner does not file said stipulation within said twenty days, the political subdivision, within sixty days after the commission has made and filed its said finding, must initiate proceedings for the purpose of submitting to its voters a proposition to acquire under eminent domain proceedings said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof. The political subdivision shall not be required, in either case, to delay for more than twenty days after the commission has made and filed its finding, before commencing said further proceedings. In the case of a petition of the second class, if the voters of the political subdivision, shall thereafter, as provided by the law governing said political subdivision, vote in favor of any proposition to acquire under eminent domain proceedings, or otherwise, said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, the political subdivision shall, within sixty days after its voters have so voted in favor of such acquisition, commence an action in a court of competent jurisdiction in a manner in accordance with the provisions of law, to take under eminent domain proceedings said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, unless the owner shall have filed with the political subdivision a written stipulation consenting and agreeing to accept the just compensation fixed by the commission.

7. Petition by owner on failure of political subdivision to take action. Notice to political subdivision to appear. Expenses of owner assessed.

Against political subdivision. If the political subdivision, in a petition of the first class, fails to file said action in a court of competent jurisdiction within said period of sixty days after the commission has made and filed its said finding, or if the political subdivision in a petition of the second class, fails to proceed diligently to submit said proposition to its voters or fails, if its voters have voted in favor of the acquisition of said lands, property and rights, or of said part or portion thereof, to file said action in a court of competent jurisdiction within sixty days after the voters have voted in favor of said acquisition, the owner of such lands, property and rights, or of said part or portion thereof, may file with the commission a verified petition in writing setting forth said fact, which petition may also set forth in detail the expenditures which the owner has necessarily incurred in the proceeding before the commission. The commission shall thereupon cause written notice of not less than ten days, with a true and correct copy of the owner's said petition attached thereto, to be served upon the political subdivision, to appear before the commission at a time and place specified in the notice, to show cause why an order should not be made by the commission (1) finding that the political subdivision has failed to pursue diligently its rights herein conferred, (2) determining that said finding as to just compensation shall no longer be of any force or effect, and (3) determining the reasonable expenditures necessarily incurred by the owner which, in the opinion of the commission, should be assessed against the political subdivision. If the commission shall determine that the political subdivision, in case of a petition of the first class, has failed to commence said action in a court of competent jurisdiction within said period of sixty days after the commission has made and filed its said finding of just compensation, or that the political subdivision, in case of a petition of the second class, has failed to proceed diligently to submit said proposition to its voters or has failed, after its voters have voted in favor of the acquisition of said lands, property or rights, or said part or portion thereof, to file said action in a court of competent jurisdiction within said sixty days after the voters have voted in favor of said acquisition, the commission shall make and file its order declaring that said finding shall no longer be of any force or effect, and makes its finding as to the reasonable expenditures necessarily incurred by the owner in the proceeding before the commission, which the commission may find should be assessed against the political subdivision. The political subdivision shall thereupon be liable to the owner in the amount thus found by the commission and the owner may thereupon maintain an action against the political subdivision for said amount in any court of competent jurisdiction.

8. Finding of commission final. Judgment of court. The finding of the commission fixing the just compensation to be paid by the political subdivision for said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, shall be final and shall not be subject to modification, alteration, reversal or review by any court of this state. The court in which the political subdivision shall have commenced its action, subsequent to the making and filing by the commission of its finding as to just compensation, as hereinbefore specified, if said court shall first decide that the political subdivision has the right and power under the law to take said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, shall enter a judgment in favor of the complainant in said action, as provided by law, fixing as the just compensation which shall be paid for the taking of said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, the just compensation fixed by the commission. The judgment may include therein the allowance of such costs between the parties as is provided for in the law of eminent domain of this state. The judgment of said court in so far as it refers to the just compensation to be paid for said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, shall be final and shall not be subject to modification, alteration, reversal or review by any court except as hereinafter in section forty-seven (b) of this act specified. The judgment of said court shall include a provision, in substance, that said judgment is subject to modification by reason of such increase or decrease in the just compensation to be paid as may thereafter be certified to said court by the commission, as hereinafter in section forty-seven (b) of this act provided.

9. Petition by owner asking increase in compensation. Petition by political subdivision asking decrease in compensation. Hearing. Order increasing or decreasing. compensation. Judgment of court modified. At any time within thirty days subsequent to the entry of said judgment of said court, the owner of said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, may file with the commission a verified petition in writing, alleging that by reason of expenditures made by the owner subsequent to the date of the filing of the original petition with the commission, for the purpose of preserving or improving said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, or by reason of other acts and occurrences subsequent to said date, the just compensation theretofore fixed by the commission should be increased and praying that the commission make its finding increasing said just compensation. At any time within thirty days subsequent to the entry of said judgment of said court, the political subdivision may file with the commission a verified petition in writing, alleging that by reason of loss or destruction of said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, or a part thereof, or by reason of depreciation or deterioration thereof or by reason of other acts and occurrences, subsequent to the date of the filing of the original petition with the commission, the just compensation theretofore fixed by the commission should be decreased and praying that the commission make its finding decreasing said just compensation. The commission shall, in each instance, cause a copy of said petition or petitions to be served upon each party, other than the petitioner, who was named as the political subdivision, owner or claimant in the original proceeding before the commission, together with a written notice specifying the time and place of hearing on said petition or petitions, which time shall be within forty-five days after the entry of said judgment by said court, and shall cause written notice of the time and place of said hearing to be served upon each petitioner in said petition or petitions. If both such petitions are filed, the commission shall have the power to consolidate said petitions for hearing and decision. After a hearing, the commission shall make and file its finding fixing, as of the date on which such finding is made and filed, the extent to which the just compensation theretofore fixed should be increased or decreased by reason of the matters alleged in said petition or petitions. If the claim is made that the just compensation theretofore fixed by the commission should be increased by reason of expenditures made by the owner subsequent to the date of the filing of the original petition with the commission for the purpose of preserving or improving said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, the commission may increase said just compensation, by reason of such expenditures, only to the extent to which the commission shall determine that such expenditures were beneficial to said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, and reasonably and prudently made. The finding of the commission fixing the extent to which the just compensation theretofore fixed should be thus increased or decreased shall be final and shall not be subject to modification, alteration, reversal or review by any court of this state. The commission shall thereupon transmit to said court its finding, certified under the seal of the commission, fixing the extent to which the just compensation theretofore fixed by the commission shall be increased or decreased. Said court shall thereupon modify its judgment so as to conform with said finding of the commission. The judgment of said court, as thus modified, in so far as it refers to the just compensation to be paid for said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, shall be final and shall not be subject to modification, alteration, reversal or review by any court. The filing of either or both the petitions in this paragraph specified shall not act as a stay of the judgment in condemnation, but upon the payment of the just compensation fixed in the original judgment of condemnation the plaintiff in the action in said court shall be entitled to immediate possession of said lands, property and rights, or of said part or portion thereof.

10. Finding set aside by supreme court. Writ of review. Extension of time. The provisions of this act with reference to rehearing and review shall be applicable to the findings of the commission made and filed under the provisions of section forty-seven (b) of this act. Petitions for rehearing must be filed within twenty days from the date of making and filing the finding as to which a rehearing is desired. If a finding of the commission made and filed under the provisions of section forty-seven (b) of this act is set aside by the supreme court of the state of California, the matter shall be referred back to the commission for further action in the proceeding before the commission, and the commission shall have the right, in taking further action, to consider the entire testimony theretofore taken in the proceeding before the commission as well as such further testimony, if any, as may be presented in connection with such further action. Should a writ of review be obtained from the supreme court of the state of California, the time within which the political subdivision must file an action in a court of competent jurisdiction or submit said proposition to its voters shall be extended to not more than sixty days beyond the final decision of the supreme court upon said writ of review.

11. Procedure not exclusive. The procedure provided in section forty-seven (b) of this act shall be considered as alternative and cumulative and not exclusive and the political subdivision shall continue to have the right to pursue any other procedure now or hereafter established providing for the acquisition under eminent domain proceedings of the lands, property and rights, or any part or portion thereof, of any public utility, and section forty-seven (b) of this act shall not be construed as repealing any law of this state providing for such eminent domain proceedings. Section forty-seven (b) of this act shall not affect pending actions or proceedings, but the same may be prosecuted and defended with the same effect as though section forty-seven (b) had not been amended. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 261.]

§ 50. New construction only after commission's certificate. (a) No railroad corporation whose railroad is operated primarily by electric energy, street railroad corporation, gas corporation, electrical corporation, telegraph corporation, telephone corporation or water corporation shall henceforth begin the construction of a street railroad, or of a line, plant, or system, or of any extension of such street railroad, or line, plant, or system, without having first obtained from the commission a certificate that the present or future public convenience and necessity require or will require such construction; provided, that this section shall not be construed to require any such corporation to secure such certificate for an extension within any city and county, or city or town within which it shall have theretofore lawfully commenced operations, or for an extension into territory either within or without a city and county, or city or town, contiguous to its street railroad, or line, plant, or system, and not theretofore served by a public utility of like character, or for an extension within or to territory already served by it, necessary in the ordinary course of its business; and provided, further, that if any public utility, in constructing or extending its line, plant, or system, shall interfere or be about to interfere with the operation of the line, plant, or system of any other public utility, already constructed, the commission, on complaint of the public utility claiming to be injuriously affected, may, after hearing, make such order and prescribe such terms and conditions for the location of the lines, plants, or systems affected as to it may seem just and reasonable.

(b) Exercise of rights under franchise only when necessity requires. No public utility of a class specified in subsection (a) hereof shall henceforth exercise any right or privilege under any franchise or permit hereafter granted, or under any franchise or permit heretofore granted but not heretofore actually exercised, or the exercise of which has been suspended for more than one year, without first having obtained from the commission a certificate that public convenience and necessity require the exercise of such right or privilege; provided, that when the commission shall find, after hearing, that a public utility has heretofore begun actual construction work and is prosecuting such work, in good faith, uninterruptedly and with reasonable diligence in proportion to the magnitude of the undertaking, under any franchise or permit heretofore granted but not heretofore actually exercised, such public utility may proceed, under such rules and regulations as the commission may prescribe, to the completion of such work, and may, after such completion, exercise such right or privilege; and provided, further, that this section shall not be construed to validate any right or privilege now invalid or hereafter becoming invalid under any law of this state.

(c) Articles of incorporation must be filed. Certificate authorizing construction. Before any certificate may issue, under this section, a certified copy of its articles of incorporation or charter, if the applicant be a corporation, shall be filed in the office of the commission. Every applicant for a certificate shall file in the office of the commission such evidence as shall be required by the commission to show that such applicant has received the required consent, franchise or permit of the proper county, city and county, municipal or other public authority. When a complaint has been filed with the commission alleging that a public utility of the class specified in subsection (a) of this section is engaged or is about to engage in construction work without having secured from the commission a certificate of public convenience and necessity as required by the provisions of this section, the commission shall have power, with or without notice, to make its order requiring the public utility complained of to cease and desist from such construction until the commission makes and files its decision on said complaint or until the further order of the commission. The commission shall have power, after hearing, to issue said certificate, as prayed for, or to refuse to issue the same, or to issue it for the construction of a portion only of the contemplated street railroad, line, plant or system, or extension thereof, or for the partial exercise only of said right or privilege, and may attach to the exercise of the rights granted by said certificate such terms and conditions, including provisions for the acquisition by the public of such franchise or permit and all rights acquired thereunder and all works constructed or maintained by authority thereof, as in its judgment the public convenience and necessity may require. If a public utility desires to exercise a right or privilege under a franchise or permit which it contemplates securing, but which has not as yet been granted to it, such public utility may apply to the commission for an order preliminary to the issue of the certificate. The commission may thereupon make an order declaring that it will thereafter, upon application, under such rules and regulations as it may prescribe, issue the desired certificate, upon such terms and conditions as it may designate, after the public utility has obtained the contemplated franchise or permit. Upon the presentation to the commission of evidence satisfactory to it that such franchise or permit has been secured by such public utility, the commission shall thereupon issue such certificate.

(d) State's reserved power over utilities. The legislature hereby declares that the provisions of this section are being enacted under the state's reserved power over public utilities or corporations, or both, as the case may be, for the purpose of acting on the right of the grantee of a public utility franchise granted by a county, city and county or incorporated city or town, to exercise right thereunder, and not for the purpose of acting on the right of any city and county or incorporated city or town to grant any such franchise. The legislature hereby declares that the provisions of this section shall be and remain in full force and effect concurrently with the right of any city and county or incorporated city or town to grant franchises for public utilities upon the terms and conditions and in the manner prescribed by law. [Amendment approved April 20, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 168.]

§ 70. Hearing on value of property. Notice. Filing of findings of fact. Hearings for making revaluations. For the purpose of ascertaining the matters and things specified in section forty-seven (a) of this act concerning the value of the property of public utilities, the commission may cause a hearing or hearings to be held at such time or times and place or places as the commission may designate. Before any hearing is had, the commission shall give the public utility affected thereby at least thirty days' written notice, specifying the time and place of such hearing, and such notice shall be sufficient to authorize the commission to inquire into the matters designated in this section and in said section forty-seven (a) of this act, but this provision shall not prevent the commission from making any preliminary examination or investigation into the matters herein referred to. All public utilities affected shall be entitled to be heard and to introduce evidence at such hearing or hearings. The evidence introduced at such hearing shall be reduced to writing and certified under the seal of the commission. The commission may make and file its findings of fact in writing upon such matters concerning which evidence shall have been introduced before it as, in its judgment, have bearing on the value of the property of the public utility affected. Such findings shall be subject to review by the supreme court of this state in the same manner and within the same time as other orders and decisions of the commission. The findings of the commission so made and filed, when properly certified under the seal of the commission, shall be admissible in evidence in any action, proceeding or hearing before the commission or any court, in which the commission, the state or any officer, department or institution thereof, or any county, city and county, municipality or other body politic and the public utility affected may be interested whether arising under the provisions of this act or otherwise, and such findings, when so introduced, shall be conclusive evidence of the facts therein stated as of the date therein stated under conditions then existing, and such facts can only be controverted by showing a subsequent change in conditions bearing upon the facts therein determined. The commission may, from time to time, cause further hearings and investigations to be had for the purpose of making revaluations or ascertaining the value of any additions, betterments, extensions and new construction made by any public utility subsequent to any prior hearing or investigation, and may examine into all matters which may change, modify or affect any finding of fact previously made, and may at such time make findings of fact supplementary to those theretofore made. Such hearings shall be had upon the same notice and be conducted in the same manner and the findings so made shall have the same force and effect as is provided herein for such original notice, hearing and findings; provided, that such findings made at such supplemental hearings or investigations shall be considered in connection with and as a part of the original findings, except in so far as such supplemental findings shall change or modify the findings made at the original hearing or investigation. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 269.]

TITLE 445.
RAILROADS.

ACT 2936e.

An act to provide for the equipment of steam locomotives with automatic bell-ringing devices.

§ 1. Automatic bell-ringing devices on locomotives. Every railroad corporation, or receiver or lessee thereof, operating any line of railroad in this state by steam locomotives, shall within one year after the passage of this act or within such additional time as may be prescribed by order of the railroad commission of California after such railroad or receiver or lessee thereof has made a proper showing of its inability to comply therewith, equip all steam locomotives used or to be used in the hauling or propelling of trains over said railroad with a bell-ringer apparatus or device which apparatus or device when set in operation will ring and continue to ring the locomotive bell automatically, such apparatus or device being so constructed that it may be set in operation from either or both sides of the locomotive cab.

§ 2. Penalty. Any railroad company, receiver or lessee thereof, operating any line of railroad within this state by steam locomotives, violating the provisions of this act shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars or more than one thousand dollars for each offense.

TITLE 448.
RECLAMATION DISTRICTS.

ACT 2956d.

An act defining henceforth the exterior boundaries of Reclamation District No. 108, situate partly in the counties of Colusa and Yolo, and providing for the liquidation of the affairs of Reclamation District No. 108, as it now exists, its exterior boundaries being described in that certain act of the legislature, approved May 18, 1915 and approving the acts and proceedings of the said district, as defined in the said act of May 18, 1915, and the board of trustees thereof, and providing for the continuation in office of the present trustees of said district, and for the election and qualification of their successors, and providing that in the management and control of the affairs of said Reclamation District No. 108, as defined in this act, that it is subject to the provisions of the Political Code of the state of California, and to all other laws of the state, except as provided in the said act, in connection with the issuance and payment of warrants and the payment of assessments, providing that all moneys of the said district shall be paid and deposited with the county treasurer of Colusa county, and conferring jurisdiction upon the board of supervisors of the county of Colusa as to all matters concerning said district, and providing also for the management and control and administration of the affairs of said district. [Approved May 26, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1219. In effect July 27, 1917.]

The nature of the act appears from the title.

ACT 2966e.

An act to create a reclamation district to be called Reclamation District No. 1001, and providing for the management and control thereof, and dissolving certain levee districts, swamp-land, districts and reclamation districts within the boundaries of said Reclamation District No. 1001, and providing for the liquidation and winding up of said dissolved districts.

[Approved April 8, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 831.]

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 969.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 2. Management vested in trustees. Funds. Rights and powers. What laws apply. The management and control of the said district is hereby made subject to the provisions of the Political Code of the state of California, and other laws of the state, relative to reclamation districts formed under the provisions of the said Political Code, or such as may be hereafter enacted, and is hereby vested in three trustees, who shall be elected in the manner prescribed by law, and who shall have and exercise all the powers and duties conferred or imposed upon trustees of reclamation districts by law; provided, however, that the trustees now in office shall continue to hold office for the remainder of the terms for which they were respectively elected. In case of any vacancy in the office of trustee of the said district, the board of supervisors of the said county of Sutter shall appoint a qualified person as trustee, who shall hold the said office for the unexpired term. The office of the said district shall be in Nicolaus, county of Sutter. The board of supervisors of the county of Sutter shall have jurisdiction of all matters concerning said district. All funds of the said district shall be deposited in the county treasury of the said county of Sutter, and shall be disbursed by the treasurer of the said county of Sutter in payment of the warrants of the said district. The said district shall have power to make by-laws in conformity with the provisions of law, and shall have all the rights and powers which are now or may hereafter be conferred by the provisions of the Political Code, or by other laws of the state, upon reclamation or swamp-land districts, and shall also have the right and power of purchasing real and personal property and rights of way, within the boundaries of said district, or outside thereof, that may be necessary or desirable to carry out the purposes of the said district, or to acquire the same by condemnation proceedings, in the manner provided by law, and shall have the right and power to join in with other reclamation districts, levee districts, or swamp land districts, or other persons, in the construction and maintenance of levee and reclamation works, and to contract as to the same, and also to do all other acts and things that may be lawfully done by any reclamation district. All laws and parts of laws, now existing, or that may hereafter be enacted, relative to the qualification of electors for trustees, election of trustees, levy and collection of assessments, disbursements of funds, and the management and control of reclamation districts, and in and to all other matters pertaining to the management, control, or administration of reclamation districts are, so far as the same may be applicable, made a part of this act, and shall be deemed to be incorporated herein. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 969.]

§ 2. Management and control. The management and control of said reclamation district is hereby made subject to the provisions of the Political Code of the state of California and other laws of this state relative to reclamation districts formed under the provisions of said Political Code.

§ 3. Repealed. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

ACT 2981b.

An act creating a reclamation district to be called and known as "Reclamation District No. 1500"; providing for the management and control thereof and dissolving all levee districts, swamp-land districts, and reclamation districts, lying wholly within the boundaries of said Reclamation District No. 1500, providing for the liquidation and winding up of said dissolved districts, and excluding from any levee district, swamp-land district and reclamation district any land lying within the boundaries of said Reclamation District No. 1500.

[Approved April 30, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 130.]

Amended 1915, p. 1027; 1917, p. 966.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 2. Management vested in trustees. Elections. Term of office. Funds. Rights and powers. The management and control of said Reclamation District No. 1500 is hereby made subject to the provisions of article one of chapter one of title eight of part three of the Political Code of the state of California, relating to swamp and overflowed lands and reclamation districts, or any amendments or additions thereto, except as otherwise provided in this act, and the management and control of said Reclamation District No. 1500 shall be vested in five trustees, who shall hold office until their successors are elected or appointed and qualified. F. W. Kiesel, Edward H. Gerber, Charles F. Silva, P. J. Hiatt and Frank G Snook are hereby appointed trustees for the said reclamation district to act until their successors are elected or appointed and qualified. An election of five trustees shall be held in said district on the third Tuesday in October, one thousand nine hundred twenty-one, and on the third Tuesday in October every four years thereafter, and shall hold office until their successors are elected or appointed and qualified. In case of any vacancy in the office of trustee of said district the governor of this state shall appoint a qualified person as trustee, who shall hold said office until the next election. All the trustees, whether appointed by the governor of this state, or named herein, or elected as herein provided, shall hold office at the pleasure of the governor of this state. The office and principal place of business of said district shall be in the city of Sacramento and in such place as the board of trustees thereof may from time to time fix. The board of supervisors of the county of Sutter shall have jurisdiction of all matters concerning said district to the same extent as if the said district was formed under the provisions of said Political Code of the state of California, except as otherwise provided in this act. All funds of said district shall be deposited in the county treasury of said county of Sutter and shall be disbursed by the treasurer of said county in payment of the warrants of said district. Said district shall have the power to make by-laws in conformity with the provisions of law, and shall have all rights and powers, which are now, or may hereafter be, conferred by the provisions of the Political Code or by other laws of the state of California upon reclamation or swamp land districts, and shall also have the right and power of purchasing real and personal property and rights of way within the boundaries of said district, or outside thereof as may be necessary or desirable to carry out the purposes of said district or to acquire the same by condemnation proceedings in the manner provided by law, and shall also have the right and power to join with other reclamation districts, levee districts or swamp-land districts or other persons in the construction and maintenance of levees and reclamation works, and to contract for the same, and also to do all other acts and things that may be incident to or necessary to the reclamation of the lands of said district, as the board of trustees thereof may determine. All of the provisions of the Political Code of the state of California, unless inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are made a part of this act, and shall be deemed to be incorporated herein. The said reclamation district hereby created shall have the power, in addition to the power hereby conferred, to do all other acts or things that any reclamation district or swamp-land district within the state of California has power to do under any existing law or any law hereafter enacted. The said district may at any time petition in writing by its board of trustees the reclamation board to change the line of location or construction of any levee in this act, or in the act of which this is amendatory, described, or any other levee, or to build any additional or supplemental levee or levees, and the reclamation board may, by an order, allow such petition in whole or in part, and allow such change or the building of any additional or supplemental levee. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 966.]

The amendatory act of 1917 contained the following provision:

§ 3. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with or inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

ACT 2984.

An act to promote the reclamation of arid land and to provide that certain land belonging to the state of California, within the boundaries of an irrigation district shall be subject to the assessments levied in said district.

[Approved May 25, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 936. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. State lands within irrigation districts subject to assessment. Whenever there shall be included in any irrigation district organized and existing under the laws of this state, public lands belonging to the state subject to entry, or which have been entered, and for which no certificates of purchase have been issued, such lands are hereby made and declared to be subject to all of the provisions of the law relating to the organization, government and regulation of irrigation districts to the same extent and in the same manner in which the lands of a like character held under private ownership are or may be subject to such law; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed as creating any obligation against the state of California to pay any of said charges, assessment or debt.

§ 2. Notices served on surveyor-general. All notices required by the act under which such district is organized shall, as soon as such notices are issued, be served upon the surveyor-general of the state of California by mailing to his office a copy thereof inclosed in a sealed envelope with postage prepaid.

§ 3. Assessment lien. No public lands which were unentered at the time any assessment was levied against the same by such irrigation district shall be sold for such assessment, but such assessment shall be and continue a lien upon such land, and no patent shall issue therefor until the applicant shall present a certificate from the proper district officer showing that no unpaid assessments or charges are due and delinquent against said land.

TITLE 473.

SAN DIEGO CITY.

ACT 3158a.

An act conveying certain tide-lands and lands lying under inland navigable waters situated in the bay of San Diego to the city of San Diego in furtherance of navigation and commerce and the fisheries, and providing for the government, management and control thereof.

[Approved May 1, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 1357.]

Amended 1913, p. 78; 1915, p. 1323; 1917, p. 916.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 5. Restrictions on land leases. The city of San Diego may lease lands granted and conveyed to it by this act under the following restrictions and conditions:

(a) Term of fifty years. Rentals. Revaluation. Right to sublet. Improvement by lessee. All that portion of the said lands lying on the shores of the bay of San Diego, between a prolongation into the bay of San Diego of the south line of Laurel street and the prolongation into the bay of San Diego of the northerly line of the United States military reservation on Point Loma, and also that portion of said lands lying between a prolongation into the bay of San Diego of the easterly line of Twenty-eighth street, and a prolongation into the bay of San Diego, of the boundary line between the city of San Diego and the city of National City, which shall not have been developed or improved by the city of San Diego at the date of such leasing may be leased by the said city in such areas as, in the judgment of the common council of the said city of San Diego, may seem proper, and for a term not to exceed fifty years; provided, however, that said city may have the right to renew such lease or leases for a further term not exceeding twenty-five years or to terminate the same on such terms, reservations and conditions as may be stipulated in such lease or leases. Every such lease shall provide for the payment of rentals to the city of San Diego, which said rentals shall be either an agreed per cent of the gross earnings derived from the leased lands, or shall be fixed upon a basis of the valuation of such lands. In the event that the rental is an agreed per cent of the gross earnings, the lease shall provide a method for ascertaining and determining from time to time during the term, such gross earnings. In the event that the rentals shall, by any such lease, be provided to be fixed upon the basis of the valuation of the leased lands, then in such event the lease shall provide a method for ascertaining at stated periods during the term, the reasonable value of the leased lands, and in all cases in which the rental is provided to be fixed upon the basis of the valuation of the leased lands, then in such event the lease shall provide a method for ascertaining at stated periods during the term, the reasonable value of the leased lands, and in all cases in which the rental is provided to be fixed upon the basis of the value of the leased lands, the lease shall provide for the payment of a certain per cent of such value ascertained in the manner provided by the lease, and such per cent shall be the rental to be paid until a different valuation is fixed; provided, however, that there shall be no revaluation of any leased lands for the purpose of fixing the rentals oftener than once every ten years. Said leases shall also provide that at no time during their terms shall the said city of San Diego be required to make any improvements on or for the benefit of the leased lands. The lessees named in such leases shall have the right to sublet the said lands, or any part thereof, which subleases shall be subject to the same conditions and restrictions as the original and each lease executed by the city shall contain provisions to this effect. The said city of San Diego may grant wharf franchises for wharves adjoining and extending into the bay from the above-mentioned territory for terms, not to exceed in duration the terms of the leases on the adjacent lands, and the right to regulate and control the waters of the harbor adjacent to said leased land and to fix reasonable rates and tolls for the use of such wharves and docks abutting or adjoining such leased lands, shall be reserved to the city of San Diego and the state of California. Said lease or leases shall provide that a sum of money be expended upon the improvement of said lands by the said lessee or lessees within a reasonable time and said lease or leases shall contain provisions fixing the amount of money to be so expended and the time within which it shall be spent. The city may place such further restrictions or conditions in such leases and franchises when granted as do not conflict with the terms of this act and all grants of leases or franchises shall be authorized by ordinance.

(b) Remainder for fifty years. All the remaining portions of said lands may be leased for a term not to exceed fifty years, and no such lease shall be for a larger area than for forty acres, and such lease shall not be assignable or transferable nor shall any lessee have the right to sublet the leased premises or any part thereof without the consent of the common council by ordinance duly adopted; provided, however, that every lease so executed shall reserve to the common council and to the people of San Diego the right and privilege by ordinance duly adopted to terminate, change or modify such lease or leases on such terms, reservations and conditions as may be stipulated in such lease or leases.

(c) Right of way reserved. The city of San Diego shall reserve over the lands mentioned in subsections (a) and (b) a continuous right of way for a municipal belt line of railway tracks, which right of way shall be not less than one hundred feet in width and shall be so located as to practically parallel the United States bulkhead line, and no lease, franchise or privilege, shall be granted upon any of the lands mentioned in said subsections (a) and (b) that will in any way interfere with said right of way unless there be reserved in said lease, franchise or privilege to the city a right of way for said railroad of not less than one hundred feet in width. [Amendment approved May 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 916.]

ACT 3158c.

An act granting certain lands in the city of San Diego to San Diego Lodge No. 153, of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of California; and ratifying and declaring valid a conveyance of said lands heretofore made by said city to said lodge.

§ 1. Certain lands granted to San Diego Lodge No. 153, I. O. O. F. There is hereby granted to San Diego Lodge No. 153, of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, of California, and to its successors and assigns, all that certain tract of land situate and being in the city of San Diego, county of San Diego, state of California, and bounded and described as follows, viz.: Beginning at the southeastern corner of the cemetery lot as designated in the map of the city lands as drawn by James Pascoe bearing date May, A. D. 1870; thence westerly along the south boundary of said cemetery lot fifteen chains; thence due north seven and twenty-five hundredths chains; thence easterly, parallel with the south boundary of the tract, twelve and seventy-eight hundredths chains; thence along the eastern boundary of the pueblo of San Diego, as surveyed by J. C. Hayes, seven and fifty-nine hundredths chains to the point of beginning; comprising ten acres of land, together with all and singular the tenements and appurtenances thereunto in anywise appertaining; and being the same tract of land sold and conveyed to said lodge by a deed duly executed and delivered by said city of San Diego by and through its trustees on the twenty-ninth day of September, A. D. one thousand eight hundred seventy, and which deed was duly recorded in the office of the county recorder of said county of San Diego, in book number twelve of deeds, at page four hundred forty-seven, records of said county of San Diego, on the nineteenth day of May, A. D. one thousand eight hundred seventy-one, and which said deed and conveyance by said city of San Diego to said lodge is hereby ratified, confirmed and declared valid and effectual from the date thereof.

§ 2. Right to sell, etc. Said San Diego lodge shall have the free and exclusive use, control and management of said tract of land forever, and shall have the power to sell and convey lots or plots of land within said tract to purchasers, and all conveyances shall be made in the name of said lodge and shall be executed by the noble grand and the secretary of said lodge, with the seal thereof attached thereto; and every conveyance and transfer of lots or plots within said tract heretofore made by or on behalf of said lodge is hereby declared to be valid and effectual to transfer the title to the purchaser.

§ 3. Repealed. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with or in conflict with the provisions of this act, so far as they apply or refer to the said tract of land herein granted, are hereby repealed.

ACT 3335.

Concerning waterfront of. [Stats. 1877–78, p. 263.]

Amended 1880, p. 10; 1889, p. 379; 1891, p. 233; 1895, p. 194; 1901, p. 627; 1905, p. 109; 1909, p. 434; 1917, p. 583. See Political Code, § 2524, as amended 1901, p. 619; also the case of People ex rel. State Harbor Commissioners v. Pacific Imp. Co., 130 Cal. 442.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 6. Commissioners to have control of certain streets. May assign portions. May lease certain seawall lots. Term of lease. The said commissioners shall have the possession, jurisdiction, and control over the blocks and parts of blocks formed by the change of the waterfront and the extensions of the streets to the thoroughfare aforesaid, and remove any obstructions placed thereon in the same manner as provided for the removal of obstructions from the piers, wharves and thoroughfares. The commissioners are authorized to keep and maintain said blocks and parts of blocks as open spaces for the use of the public, or they may, in their discretion, inclose them. The commissioners are also authorized to assign the use of such portion thereof as they deem expedient for such purposes solely as will be most advantageous to the commerce of the port, and upon such terms and conditions as they may determine. All such assignments shall terminate at the pleasure of the commissioners.

The commissioners are also authorized to lease such portion or portions of seawall lots, numbered one, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, eighteen, nineteen, twenty, twenty-one, twenty-two, twenty-three, twenty-four, twenty-five, "a," "b," and "c," as they may deem expedient for such purposes solely as will be most advantageous to the commerce of the port; provided, that before the execution of any lease, notice of the letting or leasing of any of the lots hereinbefore mentioned, or parts thereof, shall be given by publication in three of the daily papers published in the city of San Francisco for at least ten days; such notice shall state the lot or portion of lot to be leased, and that bids will be received by the commissioners at a place and time designated in such notice; and that said property shall be let to the highest and best bidder; provided, further, that all bids for lease of lots, or portions of lots, herein mentioned, shall set forth the purposes for which said lots, or the portions thereof, shall be used, and that the statement of such bid shall be embodied in the lease given by the board of state harbor commissioners with the condition that the lot shall be used for such purposes only; provided, further, that said board shall have the power to reject any and all bids; and provided, further, that in no event shall any such lease or leases be made for a term exceeding twenty-five years; provided, however, that all leases made and executed within two years preceding February fifteenth, nineteen hundred and one, and on file in the office of the secretary of state, of any lands belonging to the state less than fifty acres in area, and which lease has been made to any corporation incorporated in this state, or to any person or persons, for terminal facilities, is hereby recognized, approved and ratified, and the conditions, covenants, and agreements of the parties thereto are made binding on the said parties, and on their successors and assigns, and on the state of California.

The amendatory act of 1917 also contained the following provision:

§ 2. Repealed. All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

ACT 3348b.

An act to carry into effect the provisions of subdivisions six and seven of section eight and one-half of article eleven of the constitution of the state of California; and also to provide for the alteration of the boundaries of and for the annexation of territory located in the county of San Mateo to the city and county of San Francisco, for the incorporation of such annexed territory in and as a part thereof, and for the government of such annexed territory as an integral part of such city and county of San Francisco.

[Approved April 24, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 175. In effect, see section 31.]

§ 1. City and county of San Francisco may annex territory in San Mateo county. It shall be competent for the city and county of San Francisco a municipal corporation organized and incorporated under a freeholders' charter under and by virtue of the constitution and laws of the state of California, to annex territory contiguous to such consolidated city and county, unincoroprated or otherwise, situate wholly in the county of San Mateo, state of California, said annexed territory to be an integral part of such city and county.

§ 2. Election in incorporated cities on proposal for annexation. If additional territory, including more than one incorporated city or town, is proposed to be annexed to said city and county of San Francisco, the board of supervisors of said city and county will be empowered to give notice by a resolution of said board of supervisors, to the legislative bodies of any such incorporated cities or towns proposed to be so annexed of the said annexation proposal. Upon a petition requesting such notice to be so given, filed with said board of supervisors of said city and county and signed by not less than fifteen per centum of the qualified electors of said city and county, it shall be the duty of said board of supervisors of said city and county to thereupon by resolution of said board of supervisors, to give notice to the legislative bodies of such incorporated cities or towns proposed to be so annexed. Each of said last described legislative bodies of said incorporated cities or towns may, upon such notice, given by said board of supervisors of the city and county of San Francisco either by its own initiative or upon the initiative of such a petition so filed with said board of supervisors, and in any such incorporated city or town, upon a petition requesting such action filed with such a legislative body thereof and signed by not less than fifteen per centum of the qualified electors of such incorporated city or town, proposed to be so annexed, must, thereupon cause notice to be given of an election to be held in such incorporated city, or town, proposed to be so annexed, at which shall be submitted to the qualified electors of such city, or town, a proposal for the annexation thereof to said city and county of San Francisco. Said notice shall be given by publication for at least five successive publications in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in such incorporated city or town so proposed to be annexed, the last publication to be not less than twenty days prior to any such election. This notice shall include a particular description of any such incorporated cities or towns so proposed to be annexed by naming such incorporated cities or towns, together with a particular description of any debts to be assumed by the district as hereinafter set forth, unless such particular description is contained in the said election proposal so submitted. If there be no such newspaper so printed and published in any such incorporated city or town then such publication may be made in any newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the nearest incorporated city or town where such a newspaper may be so printed and published. The electors of said incorporated city or town shall be directed by such notice to vote upon such question in the manner hereinafter set forth. Such legislative body of said incorporated city or town proposed to be so annexed is hereby empowered and it shall be its duty to establish, and in such notice of election, to designate the voting precinct or precincts and the place or places at which the polls will be open for such election in such incorporated city or town so proposed to be annexed, which said place or places shall be that or those usually used as voting places within such incorporated city or town, if any such there be. The legislative body of said incorporated city or town proposed to be so annexed, is hereby empowered to, and it shall appoint the officers of such election, who shall be, for each voting place in such incorporated city or town, two judges and one inspector, each of whom shall be a qualified elector of the voting precinct in which he is appointed to act as an officer of such election.

§ 3. Question for forming district to vote on consolidation. Country ballots. Upon the ballots to be used at any such election there shall be printed the words "Shall (herein insert name of the city or town to be included in such annexed territory) be included in a district to be hereafter defined by the city and county of San Francisco which district shall, within two years from the date of this election, vote upon a proposal submitted as one indivisible question, that such district to be then described and set forth shall consolidate with the city and county of San Francisco in a consolidated city and county government, and that such district shall become subject to taxation, along with the entire territory of the proposed city and county in accordance with the assessable valuation of the property of said district for the following indebtedness of said city and county of San Francisco to wit: (herein insert in general terms, reference to any debt to be assumed and if none insert 'None'), 'Yes,'" and "Shall (herein insert name of the city or town, to be included in such annexed territory) be included in a district to be hereafter defined by the city and county of San Francisco, which district shall, within two years from the date of this election, vote upon a proposal submitted as one indivisible question, that such district to be then described and set forth shall consolidate with the city and county of San Francisco in a consolidated city and county government, and that such district shall become subject to taxation, along with the entire territory of the proposed city and county in accordance with the assessable valuation of the property of said district for the following indebtedness of said city and county of San Francisco to wit: (herein insert in general terms reference to any debt to be assumed, and if none insert 'None'), 'No.'" There shall be a voting square to the right of and opposite each such proposition. If an elector shall stamp a cross (×) in the voting square after the printed word "Yes" the vote of such elector shall be counted in favor of the said proposal, and if an elector shall stamp a cross (×) in the voting square after the printed word "No" the vote of such elector shall be counted against such proposal. The judges and inspector of such election for each polling place shall immediately, upon the closing of the polls, count the ballots, make up, certify and seal the ballots and tally sheets of the ballots cast at their respective polling places, doing so as nearly as practicable, in the manner provided in the laws of this state relating to general elections, and they shall thereupon deliver the ballots, tally sheets and returns to and deposit the same with the clerk of the legislative body of such incorporated city or town proposed to be so annexed.

§ 4. Canvass of returns. Returns sent to board of supervisors of San Francisco. Returns sent to secretary of state. Such legislative body of said incorporated city or town proposed to be so annexed shall, at the time provided for its regular meeting next after the expiration of five days from and after the date of said election meet and proceed to canvass said returns, and said canvass shall be completed at such meeting, if practicable, and in any event, as soon as practicable, avoiding adjournment or adjournments until said canvass is completed. Immediately upon the completion of such canvass such canvassing body shall cause a record thereof to be made and entered upon its minutes stating the proposal submitted and showing the whole number of votes cast on the proposal submitted to such incorporated city or town, the number of votes cast therein in favor of the said proposal, and the number of votes cast therein against the said proposal. The clerk or other officer performing the duties of clerk of such canvassing body shall promptly, and within ten days of the completion of such canvass by said body make and certify under the seal thereof, and transmit to the board of supervisors of the city and county of San Francisco a copy of the records of the canvass of the returns of the election so canvassed by said canvassing body, together with a statement showing the date of such election, and the time and the result of the canvass of the returns of such election, and containing a description of such incorporated city or town, by naming the said incorporated city or town. And if it shall appear, from a canvass of the returns of the election held in the said incorporated city or town that a majority of the qualified electors voting on such proposal voted in favor thereof the said clerk or other officer performing the duties of clerk of such body so canvassing such returns shall also, promptly, and within said ten days, make and certify, under the seal thereof, and transmit to the secretary of state of the state of California, a like copy of the record of the canvass of said returns, together with a like statement showing the date of such election, and the time and the result of the canvass of the returns of such election, and containing a description of such incorporated city or town, by naming said incorporated city or town. Said document shall be filed by the secretary of state immediately upon receipt thereof.

§ 5. Limit to number of elections. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as prohibiting a further election or further elections to be held in any such incorporated city or town to which the foregoing proposal shall have been submitted, and a majority of whose qualified electors voting thereon shall not have voted in favor thereof; provided, that there must be an interval of at least ninety days between said elections, and that not more than three such elections shall be held in any one incorporated city or town, upon any one initiation of an annexation proposal by the city and county of San Francisco; and further provided, that no annexation proposal shall be so initiated by the city and county of San Francisco, more than once in a period of two years.

§ 6. District formed of incorporated and unincorporated territory. Size of district. Any and all of the said incorporated cities or towns, to which the foregoing proposal shall have been submitted, and a majority of whose qualified electors voting thereon shall have voted in favor thereof together with such unincorporated territory as the board of supervisors of the said city and county of San Francisco may determine to have included, the whole to form an area contiguous to said city and county shall be by the board of supervisors of said city and county created into a district; provided, however, that with reference to any such district which may be first created following the adoption of this act, no such district shall in any event be created containing a population of less than nine thousand people or a total area of less than seventy-five square miles. The population as ascertained and established by the last preceding census taken under the authority of the congress of the United States, or the legislature of California, or of the board of supervisors of said county of San Mateo, or of any legislative body of any such incorporated city or town may be used as the basis for ascertaining such population. Also, if necessary, such population of the said district or any portion thereof, may be determined by the board of supervisors of said county of San Mateo; and as to any incorporated city or town in said district, such population may, if necessary, be determined by the legislative body of such incorporated city or town.

§ 7. Question for consolidation. Subsequent to said elections in said incorporated cities or towns, and within the two years above described, there shall be submitted by the board of supervisors of the county of San Mateo a proposal to the voters of said entire district, as one indivisible question, substantially in the following form: "Shall the territory

(herein designate in general terms the territory to be annexed) consolidate with the city and county of San Francisco in a consolidated city and county government, said consolidation to take effect (herein insert date when such consolidation shall take effect) and shall the said annexed territory become subject to taxation, as an integral part of the city and county so formed, in accordance with the assessable valuation of property of said territory for the following indebtedness of said city and county in San Francisco to wit: (herein insert in general terms, reference to any debts to be assumed, and if none, insert 'None'), 'Yes,'" and "Shall the territory (herein designate in general terms the territory to be annexed) consolidate with the city and county of San Francisco in a consolidated city and county government, said consolidation to take effect (herein insert date when such consolidation shall take effect) and shall the said annexed territory become subject to taxation, as an integral part of the city and county so formed, in accordance with the assessable valuation of property of said territory for the following indebtedness of said city and county of San Francisco (herein insert in general terms, reference to any debts to be assumed, and if none, insert 'None'), 'No.'" There shall be a voting square to the right of and opposite each such proposition. If an elector shall stamp a cross (×) in the voting square after the printed word "Yes" the vote of such elector shall be counted in favor of the said proposal and if an elector shall stamp a cross (×) in the voting square after the printed word "No" the vote of such elector shall be counted against such proposal.

§ 8. Manner of submitting question. Notice. Description of territory and debts. The manner to be followed by the board of supervisors of said county of San Mateo in the submission of said question and the holding of such election, their establishment of election precincts and their appointment of election officers, and the publication of the notice of such election, shall be substantially the same as that set forth in section two of this act for the submission of an annexation proposal to any incorporated city or town, and the notice thereof shall be published in the incorporated city or town included in said district containing the largest population as ascertained and established by the last preceding census taken under the authority of the congress of the United States, or of the legislature of California; provided, that if there be no newspaper printed and published in said incorporated city or town, as provided for herein, then in the nearest incorporated city or town where such a newspaper is so printed and published. This notice shall include a particular description of any such incorporated city or town so proposed to be annexed, by naming such incorporated city or town together with a particular description of any debts to be assumed by such district, as in this act set forth, unless such particular description is contained in the said election proposal so submitted. In addition to such description such territory as may be made up of unincorporated territory, shall also be designated in such notice by some appropriate name or other words of identification, by which such territory may be referred to and indicated upon the ballots to be used at any election at which the question of annexation or consolidation of additional terrritory is submitted as herein provided. Any such unincorporated territory must in said notice be specifically described by giving the boundaries thereof, unless such particular description is contained in the said election proposal so submitted.

§ 9. Proposal for permitting territory to withdraw from San Mateo county. At the same election so held in said district there must also be held throughout the county of San Mateo, and also under the supervision of the board of supervisors of said county of San Mateo, an election at which a proposition must be submitted to the electors of such county for the consent of such county to such annexation of said district to the city and county of San Francisco. The board of supervisors of said county of San Mateo shall submit a proposal to the voters of said entire county, substantially in the following form: "Shall the territory herein designate in general terms the territory to be annexed) be permitted to withdraw from the county of San Mateo and consolidate with the city and county of San Francisco in a consolidated city and county government, said consolidation to take effect (herein insert date when such consolidation shall take effect) 'Yes,'" and "Shall the territory (herein designate in general terms the territory to be annexed) be permitted to withdraw from the county of San Mateo and consolidate with the city and county of San Francisco in a consolidated city and county government, said consolidation to take effect (herein insert date when such consolidation shall take effect) 'No.'" There shall be a voting square to the right of and opposite each such proposition. If an elector shall stamp a cross (×) in the voting square after the printed word "Yes" the vote of such elector shall be counted in favor of the said proposal, and if an elector shall stamp a cross (×) in the voting square after the printed word "No" the vote of such elector shall be counted against such proposal.

§ 10. Manner of submitting question. Notice. Description of territory. The manner to be followed by the board of supervisors of the said county of San Mateo in the submission of said question and the holding of such election, their establishment of election precincts, and their appointment of election officers, and the publication of notice of such election shall be substantially the same as that set forth in sections two and eight of this act for the submission of an annexation proposal to any incorporated city or town, and to any district as provided for in this act, and the notice thereof shall be published in the incorporated city or town in said county containing the largest population as ascertained and established by the last preceding census taken under the authority of the congress of the United States or of the legislature of California. And if there be no such newspaper so published in said last described city, then in the nearest incorporated city or town where such a newspaper is so printed and published. This notice shall contain a description of the territory proposed to be annexed the same as provided for in section eight of this act for the notice to be given to the district referred to in said section eight. So far as possible, the notices to be published to the county of San Mateo and to the district proposed to be annexed to the city and county of San Francisco shall be consolidated in one notice. And further, so far as possible the election precincts and polling places and election officers for both the county and the district election shall be identical.

§ 11. Returns sent to supervisors of San Mateo county. The judges and inspectors of such elections in said county of San Mateo and in said district so proposed to be annexed, for each polling place, shall immediately, upon the closing of the polls, count the ballots, make up, certify and seal the ballots and tally sheets of the ballots cast at their respective polling places, doing so as nearly as practicable in the manner provided in the laws of this state relating to general elections and they shall thereupon deliver the ballots, tally sheets and returns to and deposit the same with the clerk of the said board of supervisors of the county of San Mateo.

§ 12. Canvass of returns. Returns sent to board of supervisors of San Francisco. Returns sent to secretary of state. Such board of supervisors of the county of San Mateo shall at the time provided for its regular meeting next after the expiration of ten days from and after the date of said elections meet and proceed to canvass said returns, and said canvass shall be completed at such meeting, if practicable, and in any event, as soon as practicable, avoiding adjournment or adjournments until said canvass is completed. The said board of supervisors shall so canvass the returns of any such election held in the county to determine whether the county will permit the withdrawal therefrom of any territory, and likewise the returns of any such election held in any such district. Immediately upon the completion of such canvass such canvassing body shall cause a record thereof to be made and entered upon its minutes stating the proposals submitted and showing: first, the whole number of votes cast on the proposal submitted to the county of San Mateo, the number of votes cast therein in favor of such proposal and the number of votes cast therein against such proposal; and second, the whole number of votes cast on the proposal submitted to the district proposed to be annexed, the number of votes cast therein in favor of such proposal and the number of votes cast therein against such proposal. The clerk or other officer performing the duties of clerk of such canvassing body shall promptly, and within ten days of the completion of such canvass by said body, make and certify under the seal thereof, and transmit to the board of supervisors of the city and county of San Francisco a copy of the records of the canvass of the returns of the elections so canvassed by said canvassing body, together with a statement showing the date of such elections, and the time and the result of the canvass of the returns of such elections, and containing a description of such district so proposed to be annexed, by naming the incorporated cities or towns in said district and also the unincorporated territory in said district, as said incorporated cities or towns and unincorporated territory were described in the election notice as provided for in this act for the elections held in said district. And if it shall appear, from a canvass of the returns of the election held in the county of San Mateo or of the election held in the district so proposed to be annexed, that a majority of the qualified electors voting on such proposal voted in favor thereof, either in such county, or in such district proposed to be annexed, the said clerk or other officer performing the duties of clerk of such body so canvassing such returns shall also, promptly, and within said ten days, make and certify, under the seal thereof, and transmit to the secretary of state of the state of California, a like copy of the record of the canvass of said returns, together with a like statement showing the date of such election, and the time and the result of the canvass of the returns of such election, and containing a like description of such district. Said document shall be filed by the secretary of state immediately upon receipt thereof.

§ 13. Proposal submitted in city and county of San Francisco. If it shall appear from a canvass of the returns of such elections that a majority of the qualified electors of such district, and also a majority of the qualified electors of such county of San Mateo voting on the question of such annexation are in favor of such annexation, the said proposal of annexation shall be, by the board of supervisors of said city and county of San Francisco submitted to the electors of said city and county. The said board of supervisors of the said city and county of San Francisco shall submit a proposal to the voters of the said city and county substantially in the following form: "Shall the territory (herein designate in general terms the territory to be annexed) consolidate with the city and county of San Francisco in a consolidated city the county government, said consolidation to take effect (herein insert date when such consolidation shall take effect) and shall the said annexed territory become subject to taxation, as an integral part of the city and county so formed, in accordance with the assessable valuation of the property of said territory for the following indebtedness of said city and county of San Francisco, to wit: (herein insert in general terms, reference to any debts to be assumed, and if none, insert 'None')—'Yes,'" and "Shall the territory (herein designate in general terms the territory to be annexed) consolidate with the city and county of San Francisco in a consolidated city and county government, said consolidation to take effect (herein insert date when such consolidation shall take effect) and shall the said annexed territory become subject to taxation, as an integral part of the city and county so formed, in accordance with the assessable valuation of the property of said territory for the following indebtedness of said city and county of San Francisco, (herein insert in general terms, reference to any debts to be assumed, and if none, insert 'None')—'No.'" There shall be a voting square to the right of and opposite each such proposition. If an elector shall stamp a cross (×) in the voting square after the printed word "Yes" the vote of such elector shall be counted in favor of the said proposal, and if an elector shall stamp a cross (×) in the voting square after the printed word "No" the vote of such elector shall be counted against such proposal.

§ 14. Manner of submitting question. Description of territory and debts. The manner to be followed by the board of supervisors of the said city and county of San Francisco in the submission of said question and the holding of said election, their establishment of election precincts, and their appointment of election officers, and the publication in said city and county of notice of such election shall be substantially the same as that set forth in sections two and eight of this act for the submission of an annexation proposal to any incorporated city or town and to any district as provided for in this act. The notice required to be published shall include a particular description of any district so proposed to be annexed, together with a particular description of any debts to be assumed by such district, the same as provided for in section eight of this act for the notice to be given to the district referred to in said section eight. Said election in said city and county of San Francisco may, in the discretion of the board of supervisors thereof, be held at the same time as the elections held in said district and in said county of San Mateo.

§ 15. Use of general election laws. The ballots used in any elections provided for in this act, the opening and closing of the polls, and the holding and conducting of such elections, shall be in conformity, as nearly as may be, with the laws of this state concerning general elections, except as herein otherwise provided.

§ 16. Annexation completed. Indebtedness assumed. Upon the approval of any such annexation proposal by the electors of said city and county of San Francisco as shown by a canvass of the returns thereof, and the certification of said returns to the secretary of state, said certification being made in the same manner as provided in section twelve of this act, the secretary of state shall file the document certified to him by the clerk of the canvassing body of the city and county of San Francisco, in his office immediately upon the receipt thereof. The secretary of state having so filed said document in his office, then, from and after the date prescribed in the proposal so submitted at said elections, the annexation of such district so proposed to be annexed, as described therein, shall be deemed to be and shall be complete and thenceforth such annexed district shall be to all intents and purposes a part of such city and county of San Francisco. And from and after said date the indebtedness so referred to in said proposal shall be deemed to have been assumed and upon the said date stated in said annexation proposal such district and such city and county of San Francisco shall be and become one consolidated city and county to be governed by the charter of the city and county of San Francisco and any amendment or amendments thereto.

§ 17. Submission of new charter or amendments. Borough government. Separate propositions. Controlling proposition. In any such submission of any proposal to the electors of any incorporated city or town, or of any district proposed to be annexed to the city and county of San Francisco, or to the electors of said city and county of San Francisco, as provided for in this act, there may be included a condition that any such proposed annexation shall be effected only upon the ratification by the electors of said incorporated city or town, and of said district, and of said city and county of San Francisco, at the same election at which such annexation proposal is submitted to such electors of said incorporated city or town, or district, or city and county of San Francisco, of any proposed new charter for said city and county of San Francisco, or of any proposed amendment or amendments to an existing charter of said city and county of San Francisco, which new charter or amendment or amendments to an existing charter may include provisions for borough government for all or any portion or portions of any territory proposed to be annexed; and also that such proposed annexation shall be effected only upon the final approval by the legislature of such new charter or such amendment or amendments to an existing charter of the city and county of San Francisco.

In submitting any such proposed new charter or such amendment or amendments to an existing charter, at the elections in the incorporated cities or towns, for the ratification of the electors of any of such cities or towns, separate propositions, whether alternative or conflicting, or one included within the other, may be submitted at the same time to be voted on by the electors separately in any one or more of such cities or towns. As between those so related, if more than one receive a majority of the votes of any such city or town, the proposition receiving the larger number of votes shall control as to all matters in conflict.

§ 18. Vote on assumption of indebtedness. No property in any territory annexed to said city and county of San Francisco as provided for in this act, shall be taxed for the payment of any indebtedness of such city and county outstanding at the date of such annexation and for the payment of which the property in such territory was not, prior to such annexation, subject to such taxation, unless there shall have been submitted to the qualified electors of such territory the proposition regarding the assumption of indebtedness, as provided for in this act, and the same shall have been approved by a majority of such electors voting thereon, as provided for in this act.

§ 19. Description of debts. The particular description of any debts to be assumed by any such annexed territory and which particular description shall be published, as in this act provided for, shall distinctly state that the property of such annexed territory shall, after such annexation, be subject to taxation as an integral part of the city and county formed under this act, along with the entire territory of the proposed city and county, in accordance with the assessable valuation of the property of said annexed territory and equally with property within such annexing city and county, to pay any bonded indebtedness of any such annexing city and county outstanding at the date of said annexation or any indebtedness theretofore authorized and to be represented by bonds of such annexing city and county thereafter to be issued, or any other indebtedness of said annexing city and county, which indebtedness it is proposed shall be so borne by the said property so annexed. The said notice shall, in addition, distinctly specify the improvement or improvements, or other purpose for which the indebtedness was so incurred or authorized and state the amount or amounts of such indebtedness already incurred outstanding at the date of the first publication of said notice and the amount or amounts of such indebtedness theretofore authorized and to be represented by bonds thereafter to be issued and the maximum rate of interest payable or to be payable on such indebtedness.

§ 20. Government of unannexed territory. Duty of legislature. In the event of any election as in this act provided for at which there shall be submitted a proposal for the annexation of any territory to the city and county of San Francisco, which annexation will result in the leaving of a portion or portions of the county of San Mateo unannexed to said city and county of San Francisco, then any notice of election or election ballot as provided for in this act shall state that the said annexation and consolidation shall not take effect until the legislature of the state shall have, according to law, provided for the government of any such portion or portions of any such county of San Mateo so remaining and not annexed to said city and county of San Francisco. It shall be the mandatory duty of the legislature, at the first session following any such final election, in the event of the approval of such annexation proposal at such election, or if the legislature be then in session then at such session, to so provide for the government of any such portion or portions of such county of San Mateo so remaining and not annexed to such city and county of San Francisco. Upon such provision being made by the legislature, and upon its finally becoming effective, and upon the said annexation otherwise becoming effective, then the said annexation to such city and county of San Francisco shall be deemed complete and in full force and effect.

§ 21. Legislature to determine proportion of debts and liabilities. Commission to advise legislature. Expenses charged to city and county of San Francisco. At the session of the legislature next after the final consummation of such annexation as herein provided for, or if the legislature is in session at the time of such final consummation then at such session of the legislature, the legislature shall determine the just proportion of the debts and liabilities of the county of San Mateo for which the city and county of San Francisco shall be liable, and the just proportion of the property and assets of such county of San Mateo to which such city and county of San Francisco shall be entitled, as existing at the time that any territory less than the whole of said San Mateo county is taken from such county of San Mateo as a result of any annexation as in this act provided for. The governor of the state shall appoint a commission of three persons; one, a qualified elector of the city and county of San Francisco; one, a qualified elector of the unannexed territory, and one, a qualified elector of some territory other than said annexing city and county and other than such unannexed territory, for the purpose of rendering a report to the legislature in order to advise the legislature; first, upon the proper provision for the government of any portion or portions of such unannexed territory; and, second, upon the proper determination of the just proportion of the debts and liabilities of the county of San Mateo for which such city and county shall be liable, and of the just proportion of the property and assets of such county of San Mateo to which such city and county shall be entitled, as so existing at the time that any territory is so taken from such county of San Mateo as a result of any such annexation as in this act provided. The actual necessary expenses of said commission, and compensation for their services at the rate of ten dollars per day for each day of actual service by each of said commissioners, shall upon a demand therefor being sworn to and presented to the legislative body of the city and county of San Francisco be a proper and legal charge against the treasury of said city and county. The final annexation and incorporation of said additional territory as a part of said consolidated city and county shall be deemed completed upon following of the procedure hereinabove in this act set forth, and it shall not be deemed necessary to await the said action of the legislature with reference to the adjustment of debts and liabilities and property and assets in this section provided for prior to said consolidation being final and complete.

§ 22. County, cities, and governmental agencies dissolved. Charters annulled. Offices surrendered. Superior court. Property, debt and liability. Upon the completion of the annexation of any such territory to the city and county of San Francisco as provided for under the provisions of this act, the county of San Mateo, if the whole of said county be annexed, and each and every incorporated city or town, or governmental agency of any character, so annexed, shall ipso facto be deemed to be and shall be dissolved and disincorporated, and any freeholders' charter thereof shall be deemed to be and shall be surrendered and annulled and such county of San Mateo and any such incorporated cities or towns or governmental agencies, shall be deemed to be and shall be merged in said city and county of San Francisco and shall be thereafter governed in the name of and under the freeholders' charter of and as a part of such city and county of San Francisco or under any amendment or amendments to such charter. Upon the final completion of any annexation as provided for in this act all persons then occupying or possessing the several offices of or under the government of such county of San Mateo or of such incorporated cities or towns, or such governmental agencies, or unincorporated territory so annexed, shall immediately quit and surrender the occupancy or possession of said offices, which shall thereupon cease and terminate and they shall severally forthwith deliver all moneys, funds, books, papers, archives and records in their custody and all other property of such county, incorporated city or town, governmental agency, or unincorporated territory in their hands or under their control, to the proper officers of the city and county of San Francisco; provided, however, that if any portion of said county of San Mateo shall be left unannexed to said city and county of San Francisco that the disposition of such moneys, funds, books, papers, archives and records so in the custody of such officers of said county of San Mateo, or of unincorporated territory so annexed, shall be determined by the legislature in its final action on the government of such unannexed territory as in this act provided for. Any regularly constituted superior court of this state existing at the time of such annexation, within such county of San Mateo or within such incorporated city or town, or unincorporated territory, so annexed, shall upon the consolidation of said territory as a part of said city and county of San Francisco under the terms of this act, become a regularly constituted superior court of the state in and for said city and county of San Francisco, and any person or persons so occupying the position of superior judge in any such annexed territory shall continue to occupy said position, as judge or judges of the superior court of the state in and for said city and county of San Francisco to the end of the term of office for which he or they may have been elected or appointed, with the same salary as theretofore attached to said position, and thereafter such position shall continue to be filled as provided by law, and at the same salary as fixed by law for the judges of the superior court in and for said city and county of San Francisco.

Upon completion of any annexation, as provided for in this act, of the county of San Mateo or of any incorporated city or town, or of any unincorporated territory, or governmental agency, the property, debts and liabilities of every description of said county, or incorporated city or town, or of any unincorporated territory, or governmental agency, shall be and become the property, debts and liabilities of such newly consolidated city and county of San Francisco.

§ 23. Debts, etc., in San Mateo county, cities, etc., not affected. Ordinances repealed. Pending cases transferred. Street proceedings continued. Any annexation provided for under the provisions of this act shall not affect any debts, demands, liabilities or obligations of any kind existing in favor of or against such county of San Mateo or such incorporated cities or towns, or such governmental agencies, so annexed, at the time of such annexation, or any action or proceeding then pending in any court in which any such debt, demand, liability or obligation of any kind may be involved, or any action or proceeding brought by or against such county, incorporated cities or towns or such governmental agencies, prior to such annexation, but all of such actions and proceedings shall be continued and concluded to final judgment or otherwise in all respects the same as if such annexation had not been effected; provided, however, that any such debt, demand, liability or obligation, in favor of or against such county, incorporated cities or towns, or such governmental agencies, so annexed shall, upon such annexation, be and become such a debt, demand, liability or obligation in favor of or against such newly consolidated city and county of San Francisco. All ordinances or resolutions of such county of San Mateo or of any such incorporated cities or towns, or such governmental agencies, so annexed under the provisions of this act, shall immediately upon such annexation becoming effective, be deemed to be repealed and of no further force and effect; provided, however, that such repeal shall not operate to discharge any person from any liability, civil or criminal, then existing, nor affect any prosecution then pending for any violation of any such ordinances, or resolutions, and all cases then pending in any justice's court, police court or court of any recorder or other judicial municipal magistrate or officer of such county, incorporated cities or towns, or such governmental agencies, so annexed shall, upon such annexation becoming effective, ipso facto, be deemed to be and be transferred to the justices' court, police court or other judicial municipal magistrate or officer of such city and county of San Francisco which has jurisdiction of proceedings or misdemeanors or of other actions civil or criminal of the character so transferred; provided, further, that such repeal shall not apply to ordinances or resolutions, under which vested rights have accrued or to ordinances or resolutions relating to proceedings for street or other public improvements, or to proceedings for improving, opening, extending, widening or straightening of streets or other public places, or to proceedings for changing the grade thereof, all of which proceedings shall be continued and conducted by and under the authority of the newly consolidated city and county of San Francisco with the same force and effect as if continued and conducted by and under the authority of the county of San Mateo or of any incorporated city or town by which they were commenced, and all ordinances and resolutions of said city and county of San Francisco shall, upon the completion of such annexation, ipso facto, have full force and effect in and throughout the said annexed territory.

§ 24. Taxes levied but not collected property of San Francisco. Condition. In the event that a tax for county purposes has been levied by the board of supervisors of the county of San Mateo or has been so levied for the purposes of any political subdivision, either by such board of supervisors or by any legislative body of any incorporated city or town, or other governmental agency, against property situated in territory which, subsequent to such levy, is annexed to said city and county of San Francisco under the provisions of this act, but which at the time of such annexation has not been collected, then all such taxes so uncollected shall be and become the property of the city and county of San Francisco; provided, however, that any such taxes which have been levied against the property of any district, for the purposes of such district, must be expended for the benefit of any territory so annexed and included in such a district, in accordance with the purposes of the levy of said tax. This section shall also apply to all such taxes not paid into the county treasury or any treasury of any incorporated city or town, or other political subdivision or governmental agency, prior to the taking effect of this act.

§ 25. Districts unchanged. Nothing in this act shall alter or affect the boundaries of any senatorial or assembly district, or of any congressional district.

§ 26. Expenses paid by city and county of San Francisco. All proper expenses of proceedings for annexation of territory to the city and county of San Francisco under this act shall, in the first instance, be paid by such city and county; provided, that if such annexation be not finally completed, then the expenses for such election incurred in any city or town or district which shall have voted in favor of said annexation, or in the county of San Mateo if said county shall have so voted, shall be returned to the said city and county of San Francisco by such city, town, or county holding such election.

§ 27. Duties performed by other than prescribed officials. With reference to any duties prescribed in this act to be performed by the legislative body or any other board, officer or department of the county of San Mateo or any incorporated city or town so proposed to be annexed under the terms of this act, or of said city and county of San Francisco, if the charter of any such incorporated city or town or of said city and county of San Francisco, or any law, imposes such duties upon any other board, officer or department of said county of San Mateo or of said incorporated city or town or of said city and county of San Francisco, as, upon a board of election commissioners or registrar of voters of said county of San Mateo, or of such incorporated city or town, or of said city and county of San Francisco, then such duties shall be so performed by such other board, officer or department upon which such duties are so imposed.

§ 28. Time for election. Any election provided for in this act may be held at a special election or at any general election.

§ 29. "Governmental agency" defined. The term "governmental agency" as used in this act shall be construed to include school districts, lighting districts, sanitary districts, or any other districts organized or authorized by law, of a special or quasi-municipal character.

§ 30. Constitutionality. If any section of this act other than section thirty-one thereof, or if any subsection, sentence, clause or phrase other than in said section thirty-one contained, is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. If, however, said section thirty-one, or any subsection, sentence, clause or phrase in said section thirty-one contained, is for any reason held to be unconstitutional or inoperative, then in that event the validity of all of the remaining portions of this act shall be deemed affected and invalidated thereby. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections other than said section thirty-one or any one or more subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases other than in said section thirty-one contained, are declared unconstitutional. Furthermore, this legislature declares that it would not have passed this act, either in whole or in part, unless said section thirty-one was included and incorporated therein and made a part thereof, and it hereby further declares said section thirty-one, and every subsection, sentence, clause and phrase in said section thirty-one contained, to be a substantial and integral part of said act.

§ 31. Approval of constitutional amendment necessary. This act shall take effect upon, and only in event of, the ratification and approval by the people of the state of assembly constitutional amendment number two, being a resolution to propose to the people of the state of California to amend section eight and one-half of article eleven of the constitution of the state, relating to city charters and to provisions therein for municipal courts, submitted by the forty-second session of the legislature; and not otherwise.

§ 32. Title. This act may be designated and referred to as the "San Francisco-San Mateo Consolidation Act."

ACT 3348c.

An act to provide for the establishment of passenger transportation facilities upon The Embarcadero, in the city and county of San Francisco.

[Approved May 17, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 585. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Harbor commissioners may maintain passenger service on state railroad. The board of state harbor commissioners may when in its judgment the wants of commerce of the port of San Francisco requires, maintain passenger service upon the state railroad located upon The Embarcadero in the city and county of San Francisco; provided, that said board may make such further extensions of said service through, over, under and above lands within its jurisdiction, and through, over, under and above the waterfront as defined by section two thousand five hundred twenty-four of the Political Code, as said board may determine are demanded by public convenience and necessity; and provided, further, that if the establishment and maintenance of said passenger service upon such railroad shall, after careful investigation, be found by said board of state harbor commissioners to be impracticable, or not feasible, such board may establish or maintain such other passenger service or the means, facilities, or modern street improvement by which or over which such other passenger service can be operated and maintained by said board, or by other persons, firms, associations, or corporations thereunto authorized by said board.

§ 2. Acquiring facilities for passenger traffic. Said board of state harbor commissioners shall have power to acquire and furnish such facilities as are reasonable and necessary for the accommodation of passenger traffic upon said Embarcadero.

§ 3. Charges. Charges for carriage by said passenger service shall be made, fixed or determined by the state board of harbor commissioners; provided, however, that such charges shall not be greater than shall be necessary for the obtaining of sufficient revenue which, in connection with the other revenues of the port of San Francisco, shall be necessary for the maintenance of the commerce of the port including the maintenance of said passenger service.

§ 4. Added powers. The state board of harbor commissioners may obtain such added powers under existing licenses, grounds, permits or easements, or such future licenses, grounds, permits or easements, as may be necessary to secure the fulfillment of the object of this act.

ACT 3348d.

[Approved January 11, 1916. Stats. Ex. Sess. 1916, p. 41.]

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 573.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 3. Disposition of moneys received. Moneys received from the sale of said lands shall be paid into the general fund in the state treasury.

The board of trustees of the state normal school at San Francisco is hereby authorized and empowered to examine the lands heretofore and now occupied or owned by the Panama-Pacific International Exposition or any corporation or individual representing or acting for or in conjunction with said exposition, and to select therefrom a new and suitable site for said school and to acquire by purchase, gift, condemnation or otherwise for and on behalf of the state of California the necessary lands and structures; and the lands so selected and purchased shall be and remain the site of the state normal school at San Francisco until otherwise provided by law. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 573.]

§ 6. Improvement and buildings. The said board is hereby authorized and empowered to improve the new site in a manner suitable for its intended uses, to erect and construct thereon new and modern normal school buildings and improvements necessary and proper for said normal school. The said board is also authorized and empowered to provide and purchase such furniture, fixtures, apparatus and other things as may be required for the proper equipment of said buildings and grounds for conducting said normal school.

§ 7. San Francisco State Normal School-Exposition preservation fund. A fund in the state treasury is hereby created and shall be known as "The San Francisco State Normal School-Exposition preservation fund." After the conveyance of said site to the state of California the state controller and the state treasurer shall transfer and make the proper entries upon their records, transferring the money paid into the San Francisco State Normal School-Exposition preservation fund and into the general fund under the provisions of an act entitled "An act to provide for the disposition of any money or other property accruing to or to be received by the state of California as its proportionate share of the returns from the holding of the Panama-Pacific international exposition," approved January 11, 1916, to the general fund in the state treasury and placed to the credit of the appropriation herein made from the general fund of the state treasury. The money so transferred shall be used for the purposes of this act. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 573.]

§ 8. Appropriation. Condition. Out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of four hundred fifty thousand dollars, together with the sum of money herein ordered credited to this appropriation, is hereby appropriated to be expended in accordance with law for the purposes of this act; provided, that no part of the money appropriated herein from the general fund of the state treasury shall be used for the erection of buildings or the making of improvements until any existing structures on said site shall have been removed. Any moneys received from the sale of structures existing on said site at the time of its purchase shall be paid into the general fund of the state treasury and placed to the credit of the appropriation herein made. ACT 3584c.

An act to validate bonds of school districts and high school districts and to provide for the levy and collection of taxes to pay the principal and interest on such bonds.

§ 1. School district bonds validated. Where in any school district of any kind or class, including union school districts and joint union school districts, or high school district of any kind or class, including union high school districts and joint union high school districts, proceedings have been taken for the purpose of issuing and selling bonds of such district, for any purpose or purposes, all the acts and proceedings of the board of trustees, board of education or other governing body of such district and all the acts and proceedings of the board of supervisors of the county within which such district is situated, leading up to and including the issuance of such bonds if they have heretofore been sold, and all such acts and proceedings heretofore had although the bonds are not yet sold, are hereby legalized, ratified, confirmed and validated to all intents and purposes, and the power of such district and of the board of supervisors of the county in which such district is situated, to issue such bonds, is hereby ratified, confirmed and declared, and the bonds heretofore sold are declared to be, and the bonds hereafter sold shall be, the legal and binding obligations of and against the district having heretofore issued, or hereafter issuing, such bonds, and the faith and credit of such district is hereby pledged for the prompt payment and redemption of the principal and interest of said bonds.

§ 2. Levy of taxes to pay interest and principal. For the purpose of paying the interest on such bonds as it becomes due and the principal thereof at maturity, the assessors, treasurers, boards of supervisors, and other officers of the respective counties, shall have the same powers and shall perform the same duties as are provided by law relative to the assessment, levy, and collection of taxes, and custody of funds, for the payment of the principal and interest of bonds or school districts and high school districts of every kind or class, respectively.

§ 3. Bonds excepted. This act shall not operate to legalize any bonds which have been sold for less than par, nor to legalize any bonds the issuance of which has not received the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors of such district, voting at an election held for the purpose of determining whether such indebtedness should be incurred, nor to legalize any bonds which mature at a date more than forty years from the time of their issuance.

ACT 3586h.

An act to provide for the adoption of text-books for use in the public high schools of the state and for furnishing text-books for the use of pupils of such schools.

[Approved May 18, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 729. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Text-books for use in high schools. Furnished free. Payment. The high school board of each and every high school district shall adopt text-books for use in such district from a list prescribed by the state board of education. Such list shall include text-books in such high school subjects as in the judgment of the state board of education require the use of text-books; provided, that separate classics in English and modern languages need not be listed. The high school board of each and every high school district may purchase text-books for the use of pupils enrolled in the high schools of such district, which text-books shall at all times be and remain the property of such district, to be supplied to the pupils thereof for use without charge, or at an annual rental, payable in advance, which shall not exceed three dollars for all text-books required by any pupil during any school year; provided, that after July 1, 1920, text-books shall be so supplied to pupils of the high schools without charge. Whenever a majority of the heads of families or a majority of the electors in any high school district shall petition in writing the high school board to furnish text-books free for the use of the pupils enrolled in such high school district, it shall thereafter be the duty of the high school board to furnish such text-books free for the use of such pupils. The high school board may pay for text-books furnished in accordance with the provisions of this act, out of the special fund of such high school district. All moneys collected for rental of text-books shall be deposited in the county treasury to the credit of such high school district within thirty days after collection.

§ 2. Text-books furnished free to pupils outside district. Whenever the high school board of any high school district purchases text-books for the use of pupils residing in portions of the county not included in any high school district and attending the high school of such district, and furnishes text-books free for the use of such pupils, the board may on or before August first of each year file with the county superintendent of schools of the county in which such pupils reside, a list of such pupils and an itemized statement of the amount expended for text-books for their use during the preceding school year. The county superintendent of schools shall include such amount in his estimate of the county high school fund required, and the board of supervisors shall include the amount in levying the county high school fund. Before the county superintendent of schools shall apportion any of the county high school fund on average daily attendance, he shall transfer from said fund to the fund of each of the several high school districts of the county, or draw a warrant in favor of the board of trustees of such high school district, for the amount claimed by each on account of text-books furnished free for the use of pupils residing in portions of the county not included in any high school district, and attending such high school.

§ 3. Publisher's application for listing of books. Sworn statement. All publishers desiring to offer school books for the use of pupils enrolled in the high schools of the state shall file with the state board of education at Sacramento a written application for the listing of such book or books accompanied by a fee of ten dollars for each book for which listing is applied, such sum to be deposited in the state treasury and used to defray the cost of reviewing and examining said book; also three copies of each book, together with a statement of the list price of said book as shown by the publisher's catalogue, a statement of all discounts allowed thereon when new copies of such book are purchased by or on behalf of a high school board directly from the publisher, and a statement of the lowest exchange price that will be given when old books in the same subject and of like kind and grade, but of a different series, are received in exchange; provided, that no fee shall be required to accompany the application for the listing of a book in a subject studied by less than one hundred pupils in the high schools of the state. They shall also submit a sworn statement giving the lowest net wholesale price at which such book is sold anywhere in the United States and the maximum total discount allowed thereon to any public school board anywhere in the United States. Such sworn statements shall give the lowest exchange price given anywhere in the United States where old books in the same subject and of like kind and grade, but of a different series, are received in exchange. Such sworn statement shall also include a statement that said publisher is not directly or indirectly associated or connected with any combination in restraint of trade in text-books, and that he is not and will not become a party in any way to any understanding, agreement or combination to control prices or restrict competition in the sale of text-books for use in the state of California.

§ 4. Bond of publisher. Price at which book furnished. Uniform price. Reduction of price. Quality not to control prices. Each publisher offering one or more books for use in the high schools of the state must, after notification by the state board of education of its intention to place on the list any book or books submitted by him, and as a prerequisite for such listing, file with the state board of education a bond payable to the state of California in a sum to be determined by the state board of education, said sum for any publisher offering one or more books to be not less than one thousand dollars nor more than ten thousand dollars, the bond to be conditioned as follows: First, that the publisher will furnish said book or books offered by him and listed by the state board of education, to the high school board of any high school district in the state at the lowest net wholesale price contained in the statement filed at the time said book or books were offered, less the maximum total discount allowed thereon to any public school board according to such statement, and at the lowest exchange price given according to such statement, when old books in the same subject and of like kind and grade, but of a different series, are given in exchange, which price shall not exceed the lowest price the publisher has made for such book or books anywhere in the United States; provided, that the cost of transporting all text-books to the high school from the publisher's office or depositary in California shall be paid by the high school district, or prepaid by the publisher and then charged to the district, as the high school board may determine; second, that he will maintain said price uniformly throughout the state of California, on his book or books, listed under the provisions of this act; third, that the publisher will reduce such price automatically to purchasers within the state of California whenever reductions are made elsewhere in the United States, so that at no time shall any book so filed and listed be sold to school authorities in California at a higher net price than is received for such book elsewhere in the United States; and that upon failure or refusal of the publisher to make such reduction all contracts for such book or books shall become null and void; fourth, that all such books offered for sale, adoption, or exchange in the state of California shall be equal in quality to those filed in the office of the state board of education, as regards paper, binding, print, illustration, subject matter, and all other particulars that may affect the value of such school books; fifth, that the publisher will not in any way, directly or indirectly, become associated or connected with any combination in restraint of trade in text-books, and that he will not enter into any understanding, agreement, or combination to control prices or restrict competition in the sale of school books for use in the state of California; sixth, that the publisher will maintain an office in California or designate an agent or arrange with a depositary in California, to receive and handle orders for said book or books.

§ 5. Approval. Term. Such bond shall be approved by the attorney general, and shall continue in force for a period of eight years after its filing, at or before the expiration of which period a new bond shall be given, or the right to continue selling such text-books in the state of California shall be forfeited.

§ 6. List sent to principals, county superintendents, and clerks. Annual publication. The state board of education shall, within six months after the approval of such bond, send a list of such books to the principal of each high school, county superintendent of schools and the clerk of each high school board, with a statement of the list price, discounts and the exchange price of each; provided, that such lists shall not be issued oftener than twice each year; provided, further, that whenever a book is dropped from the list, such action shall not affect existing contracts for such book. The state board of education shall, on or before January 1, 1918, and on or before the first day of January of each following year, publish and send to the principal of each high school, county superintendent of schools and the clerk of each high school board, a printed copy of all such lists then in force.

§ 7. Failure of publisher to furnish books. Forfeit. If any publishers shall comply with the provisions of the foregoing sections and then fail or refuse to furnish such books to any high school board upon the terms herein provided within a reasonable time after an order therefor is filed, said board shall at once notify the state commissioner of secondary schools of such failure or refusal, and he shall at once cause an investigation of such charge to be made. If the state commissioner of secondary schools find such charge to be true, he shall at once report his finding to the state board of education, which shall notify such publisher and notify the principal of each high school and the clerk of each high school board in the state of California that such book or books shall not thereafter be adopted or purchased by any of the public school authorities in the state. Said publishers shall forfeit and pay to the state of California the sum of one hundred dollars for each failure or refusal to furnish said book or books, to be recovered in the name of the state of California in an action to be brought by the attorney general in any proper court, the amount when collected to be paid into the treasury to the credit of the high school fund of the state of California.

§ 8. Adoption of text-books by school board. No change for period of four years. The high school board of each high school district in the state of California, at a regular meeting to be held between the first Monday in February and the first Monday in August of each year, shall adopt text-books for use in the schools under its control, until a complete list of text-books covering the entire course of study has been adopted. The books so adopted shall be put in actual use in such district not later than the beginning of the school year next following such adoption. A majority vote of the membership of any board shall determine which of said books prescribed by the state board of education shall be used in the schools under its control, and after such books have been selected and adopted by said board, no book shall be changed, nor any other book substituted therefor, except as otherwise provided in this act, for a period of four years after the date of its adoption, as shown by the official records of the board; provided, that any such school text-books as may be in use in the public schools of California when this act goes into effect may be continued until text-books are purchased and distributed by the high school board in accordance with the provisions of this act, but when said books are changed, or other books substituted, the books adopted shall be from the list prescribed by the state board of education in pursuance of this act and shall be used for a full period of four years.

§ 9. Text-books purchased direct from publishers. All text-books adopted as provided for in this act may be bought by the various school authorities direct from the publishers at the lowest net wholesale price less the maximum total discount thereon, as listed by the state board of education. The high school board of each and every high school district shall at a regular meeting, cause to be ascertained the number of each of such books adopted as the schools under its charge require. The clerk or secretary of each high school board may order the book so agreed upon direct from the publisher, agent, or depositary in California, who, on receipt of such order, shall ship the books as directed without delay. It shall be the duty of the clerk or secretary, or other person named by the board for such purpose, to examine the books when received, and if found to be correct and in accordance with the order, a warrant payable out of the county or district high school fund for the proper amount, shall be issued and remitted to the publisher within thirty days. It shall be the duty of each high school board to make all necessary provisions and arrangements to place the books so purchased within easy reach and accessible for the use of all the pupils in the schools under its control. All orders for books under this act shall be made by a duly authorized agent of the high school board and billed by the publisher or the depositary in California designated by him to the high school board.

§ 10. No emolument to be given or accepted. Sample copies. No publisher of school text-books, nor agent of such publisher, shall offer or give any emolument, money, or other valuable thing, or any inducement, to any member of any high school board or school official or teacher connected with any of the high schools of California, for his vote, or promise to vote, or for the use of his influence for the adoption of any school text-book to be used in any of the high schools of this state, nor shall any member of any high school board or school official connected with any of the public schools of California, accept emolument, money or other valuable thing, or any other inducement, from any publisher, or agent of any publisher, for his vote or promise to vote, or for the use of his influence for the adoption of any school text-books; provided, that nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent any person, publisher, or publisher's agent from lending one sample copy of any school text-book to any member of a high school board or school official for examination of such books or books before the adoption of books, as provided for in this act, and nothing shall be construed to prevent such a member of a high school board or school official from receiving such sample copies; provided, that all copies of text-books so received shall be returned within thirty days after the adoption of text-books in the subject or subjects by the high school board.

§ 11. Penalty. Any publisher of school text-books, or agent of such publisher, or any member of any high school board or public school official in the state of California, who violates any of the provisions of this act, on conviction thereof, shall be punished as for a misdemeanor; and any member of a high school board or public school official shall, in addition, be removed from his official position.

ACT 3586i.

An act to provide for the organization and supervision of courses in physical education in the elementary, secondary and normal schools of the state, and appropriating ten thousand dollars therefor.

§ 1. Courses of physical education. The board of education of each county, city and county, and city, whose duty it is to prescribe the course of study for the elementary schools of such county, city and county or city, shall prescribe suitable courses of physical education in accordance with the provisions of this act for all pupils enrolled in the day elementary schools, except pupils who may be excused from such training on account of physical disability; and the high school board of each high school district shall prescribe suitable courses of physical education in accordance with the provisions of this act for all pupils enrolled in the day high schools of such district, except pupils regularly enrolled in high school cadet companies and pupils who may be excused from such courses on account of physical disability.

§ 2. Purposes of courses. The aims and purposes of the courses of physical education established under the provisions of this act shall be as follows: (1) To develop organic vigor, provide neuromuscular training, promote bodily and mental poise, correct postural defects, secure the more advanced forms of co-ordination, strength and endurance, and to promote such desirable moral and social qualities as appreciation of the value of co-operation, self-subordination and obedience to authority, and higher ideals, courage and wholesome interest in truly recreational activities; (2) to promote a hygienic school and home life, secure scientific supervision of the sanitation of school buildings, playgrounds and athletic fields, and the equipment thereof.

§ 3. Enforcement of courses. It shall be the duty of the superintendent of schools of every county, city and county, or city, and of every board of education, board of school trustees, or high school board, to enforce the courses of physical education prescribed by the proper authority, and to require that such physical education be given in the schools under their jurisdiction or control. All pupils enrolled in the elementary schools, except pupils excused therefrom in accordance with the provisions of this act, shall be required to attend upon such courses of physical education during periods which shall average twenty minutes in each school day, and all pupils enrolled in the secondary schools, except pupils excused therefrom in accordance with the provisions of this act, shall be required to attend upon such courses of physical education for at least two hours each week that school is in session.

§ 4. Supervisor and special teachers. When the number of pupils in any city or city and county or school district is sufficient, such city or city and county or school district shall employ a competent supervisor and such special teachers of physical education as may be necessary. The trustees of two or more contiguous elementary school districts, or the trustees of one or more elementary school districts and the high school board of the high school district in which such elementary school district or districts are situated, may by written agreement join in the employment of a competent teacher of physical education for such districts, and the salary of such teacher and the expenses incurred on account of such instruction shall be apportioned as the school board concerned may agree.

§ 5. Courses in normal schools. The state board of education, in standardizing the courses of instruction offered in the several normal schools of the state, shall prescribe a course in physical education and shall make the completion of such course a requirement for graduation.

§ 6. Duty of state board of education. It shall be the duty of the state board of education: (1) to adopt such rules and regulations as it may deem necessary and proper to secure the establishment of courses in physical education in the elementary and secondary schools in accordance with the provisions of this act; (2) to appoint a state supervisor of physical education whose duties are hereinafter defined; (3) to compile or cause to be compiled and printed, a manual in physical education for distribution to teachers in the public schools of the state.

§ 7. State supervisor of physical education. Salary. Expenses. The supervisor of physical education appointed under the provisions of this act, shall be experienced in the supervision of physical education in public schools. He shall not be subject to the provisions of any civil service law of the state. He shall exercise general supervision over the courses of physical education in elementary and secondary schools of the state; shall exercise general control over all athletic activities of the public schools; shall advise school officials, school boards and teachers in matters of physical education; shall visit and investigate the work in physical education in the public schools and shall perform such other duties as may be assigned to him by the state board of education. He shall receive a salary not exceeding three thousand six hundred dollars per annum, as fixed by the state board of education, payable at the same time and in the same manner as the salaries of other state officers are payable. He shall also receive his actual and necessary traveling expenses while on official business. The state board of education may within the limits of the appropriation hereinafter provided, employ such expert and clerical assistance as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

§ 8. Appropriation. The sum of ten thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any moneys belonging to the state not otherwise appropriated to defray the expenses of the state board of education in carrying out the provisions of this act, during the sixty-ninth and seventieth fiscal years.

ACT 3586j.

An act relating to the employment of janitors and employees of certain school districts.

[Approved May 17, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 645. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Employment of janitors and employees. In any school district situated wholly within the boundaries of a city of the first class the janitors and other employees of such school district shall be employed in the same manner and under the same conditions as teachers are employed by such district and when so employed shall be removed only for cause and after charges have been filed and heard by the board of education. All such employees who have been in the service of any such school district continuously for a period of one year prior to the effective date of this act shall be deemed to have been so employed. The board of education shall have full power to make and enforce all necessary rules and regulations to carry out these provisions.

ACT 3586k.

An act empowering the state board of education to order the closing from time to time of educational institutions during the continuance of a state of war.

[Approved May 5, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 282. In effect immediately.]

§ 1. State board of education may close educational institutions. Salary of teacher. During the continuance of a state of war between the United States of America and any foreign power, the state board of education, with the approval of the governor, shall have power, whenever in the opinion of a majority of its members such step is necessary for the planting or harvesting of crops or for other agricultural or horticultural purposes and is for the welfare of the state, to make an order closing, for such time as may be specified therein, any or all educational institutions supported wholly or in part by the state, or any grade or class thereof, and may, in like manner, by similar order, postpone the opening of any or all such educational institutions, or any grade or class thereof, during the continuance of a state of war; provided, however, that the annual school term shall not be reduced to less than six school months under the provisions of this act; and provided, further, that whenever any such educational institution is closed, or the opening thereof is delayed, under the provisions of this act, the salary of any teacher regularly employed shall be paid according to any written contract between the governing board of such educational institution and such teacher, or in case there is no written contract, according to any salary schedule adopted by such board. In case there is neither such contract nor salary schedule, the total salary paid for any school year in which such order is made shall not be less than the salary paid by the governing board of such institution for similar service during the preceding school year. It is further provided that nothing herein contained shall in any manner affect the amount of money apportioned to any school district during any school year.

§ 2. Application of order. Such an order issued under the provisions of section one hereof may be made applicable to such district, city, city and county, county or group of any thereof as the state board of education may determine and specify therein, and may be altered, amended or rescinded from time to time.

§ 3. Urgency measure. Inasmuch as the United States is now involved in war, this act is hereby determined and declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace and safety, within the meaning of section one of article four of the constitution and shall take effect immediately.

ACT 3586 l.

An act to accept the provisions and benefits of an act passed by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled and approved February twenty-third, nineteen hundred seventeen, to provide for the promotion of vocational education; to create a vocational education fund and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved May 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1387.]

§ 1. Provisions of federal vocational education act accepted. Acceptance of benefits of federal vocational education act. The people of the state of California do hereby accept the provisions of, and each and all of the funds provided by, an act passed by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, entitled, "An act to provide for the promotion of vocational education; to provide for co-operation with the states in the promotion of such education in agriculture and the trades and industries; to provide for co-operation with the states in the preparation of teachers of vocational subjects; and to appropriate money and regulate its expenditure," and approved by the president February twenty-third, nineteen hundred seventeen. In accepting the benefits of said act the people of the state of California agree to comply with all of its provisions and to observe all of its requirements.

§ 2. Powers of state board of education. The state board of education is hereby designated as the state board to carry out the purposes and the provisions of said act, and is hereby given all necessary power and authority to co-operate with the federal board for vocational education in the administration of the provisions of the federal act and of this act.

§ 3. Duty of state treasurer. Vocational education fund. The state treasurer, as required by said federal act, is hereby made custodian of all federal funds received by the state of California under the provisions of that act. He is also hereby made custodian of all state funds appropriated in this act for the purpose of co-operating with the federal government in the promotion of vocational education. He is hereby authorized to receive and provide for the proper custody of all moneys provided under the provisions of this act and the above-mentioned federal act. It shall be the duty of the state treasurer, upon receiving any apportionment of funds from the federal government on account of the vocational education fund, to report the same immediately, with the amount thereof, to the state controller and the state board of education and deposit the same to the credit of the "vocational education fund," which fund is hereby created. Thereupon the state controller and the state treasurer shall transfer from the general fund of the state to the vocational education fund an amount which shall equal the amount apportioned to the state of California under the provisions of the federal act mentioned in this act. The moneys so transferred into the vocational education fund are hereby appropriated without reference to fiscal years for the purpose of co-operating with the federal government in promoting vocational education in this state and are exempt from the provisions of part three, title one, chapter three, article eighteen, of the Political Code, relating to the state board of control. The moneys constituting the vocational education fund shall be paid out by the state treasurer on warrants drawn by the controller as requisitioned by the state board of education in carrying out the provisions of this act, the federal act and the rules and regulations of said state board established as required by said acts.

TITLE 500.

SHASTA COUNTY.

ACT 3608.

An act fixing the compensation of grand and trial jurors in counties of the twenty-eighth class.

[Approved May 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1025. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Fees of jurors, counties of twenty-eighth class. Grand jurors or trial jurors in criminal cases in the superior court shall receive, as compensation for each day's attendance, per day three dollars, and for each mile actually traveled in attending court as a grand juror or juror at a criminal case, in the superior court in going only, per mile fifteen cents. The county clerk shall certify to the auditor the number of days' attendance and the number of miles traveled by each juror, and the auditor shall draw his warrant for the amount to which each juror is entitled, and the treasurer shall pay the same.

TITLE 510.

SMELTERS.

ACT 3670.

An act providing for the investigation by the state veterinarian, the secretary of the state board of health and the state commissioner of horticulture of injury to animal life and vegetation in California, caused by smelter wastes, and making an appropriation therefor. [Approved June 16, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 1147.]

Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 280.

TITLE 513.

SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

ACT 3693.

To provide for the burial of ex-Union soldiers, sailors and marines dying without leaving sufficient means to defray burial expenses.

[Approved March 15, 1889. Stats. 1889, p. 198.]

Amended 1901, p. 596; 1911, p. 479; 1913, pp. 17, 330; 1917, p. 749. The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Soldiers, sailors and marines may be buried at county expense. It shall be the duty of the board of supervisors of each county in this state to designate a proper person in the county, who shall be an honorably discharged soldier, sailor or marine who shall have served in the army or navy of the United States, whose duty it shall be to cause to be decently interred the body of any honorably discharged soldier, sailor or marine who shall have served in the army or navy of the United States, or the widow of any such honorably discharged soldier, sailor or marine, who may hereafter die without having sufficient means to defray funeral expenses. Such burial shall not be made in any cemetery or burial ground, or any portion of such cemetery or burial ground, used exclusively for the burial of the pauper dead. The expenses of each burial shall not exceed the sum of seventy-five dollars. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 749.]

Another amendment of Section 1 of this act was passed at the same session of the legislature. It was in almost precisely the same terms as the above amendment. See Stats. 1917, p. 17.

§ 4. Record of deceased soldiers. Headstones. It shall be the duty of the clerk of the board of supervisors, upon receiving the report and statement of expenses provided for in this act, to transcribe in a book kept for that purpose, all the facts contained in such report respecting such deceased soldier, sailor, or marine, or the widow of such soldier, sailor or marine. It shall also be the duty of said clerk, upon the death and burial of any such soldier, sailor or marine, to make application to the proper authorities under the government of the United States, for a suitable headstone, as provided by act of congress and to cause the same to be placed at the head of such soldier, sailor or marine's grave, the expenses of which shall not exceed the sum of five dollars for cartage and properly setting each stone, and it shall be the duty of the board of supervisors to perpetually maintain suitably and properly each grave of any such soldier, sailor or marine whether so marked by a headstone prior to the passage of this act or subsequent thereto. The expenses thus incurred shall be audited and paid as provided in section two of this act for burial expenses. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 749.]

ACT 3693a.

An act to provide for the care of the graves of soldiers, sailors and marines of the United States of America whose remains are buried in certain cemeteries.

[Approved May 11, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 422. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Care of graves of soldiers, sailors and marines. Wherever in any place of burial of human remains, which is now or which may hereafter be established or organized by or under the authority of the board of supervisors of a county, or city and county, of this state, or by or under the authority of the board of trustees, city council or other governing body of a municipality in this state, as a cemetery or place of burial of human remains, there is or shall be any known grave of a former soldier, sailor or marine of the United States of America (who was not dishonorably discharged from the service of said United States), it is hereby made the duty of the trustees or other officers who are or may be hereafter vested by law with the power to manage such cemetery or place of burial, to keep such grave properly marked and identified, and free from weeds and rubbish, and to keep in decent order and repair and free from defacement, injury and unlawful markings any tomb, monument, gravestone, wall or other appurtenance appertaining to such grave.

§ 2. Tax levy. It is hereby made the duty of such officers who are charged or who may hereafter be charged by law with the official power to raise money by taxation for maintaining any such cemetery or place of burial, to include in the tax levy for such purposes sufficient to raise the amount necessary to comply with the requirements of this act.

TITLE 526.

STATE.

ACT 3796a.

An act authorizing suits against the state concerning certain real property and regulating procedure therein.

[Approved May 14, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 435. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Suits against state to quiet title authorized. In all cases where the state of California has apparently acquired some right, title or interest, or the right to acquire some title or interest in or to real property in this state by virtue of an act entitled "An act relating to the rights, powers and disabilities of aliens and of certain companies, associations and corporations with respect to property in this state, providing for escheats in certain cases, prescribing the procedure therein, and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent or in conflict therewith," approved May 19, 1913, and no proceedings have been instituted in regard thereto, as provided in said act, any person or persons claiming to own any such real property in fee, which claim is based upon a right existing prior to the said nineteenth day of May, A. D. 1913, is and are authorized to bring suit against the state of California in any court of competent jurisdiction in said state, within one year from the date upon which this act takes effect, to quiet title to the said real property or any portion thereof, and to prosecute the same to final judgment. The rules of practice in civil cases relating to suits to quiet title shall apply to such suits as may be brought under this authorization except as otherwise provided. If judgment be given against the state in such suits, no costs can be recovered from the state.

§ 2. Service of summons. Service of summons in such suits shall be made on the governor and attorney general of the state. It shall be the duty of the attorney general to defend in all such suits.

§ 3. Judgment. In all such cases judgment shall not be entered by default but proceedings shall be had as provided in section seven hundred fifty-one of the Code of Civil Procedure of the state of California, and the judgment when entered shall have the same force and effect against the state of California as in said section provided against other defendants.

TITLE 529.

STATE COMMISSION MARKET.

See post, Title 534a, State Market Commission.

ACT 3807.

An act to provide for the creation of the state commission market, and the organization thereof, to carry on the business of receiving from the producers thereof the agricultural, fishery, dairy and farm products of the state of California and selling and disposing of such products on commission, creating the "state commission market fund" and appropriating money therefor. [Approved June 10, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1390.]

Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1669. See post, Act 3847.

TITLE 530.

STATE ENGINEERING.

ACT 3812.

An act to create for the state of California a department of engineering, to provide for the appointment of the officers and employees thereof, defining its powers and prescribing the duties of said department, its officers and employees, to provide the compensation of such officers and employees, to make an appropriation for the salaries and other expenses for the remainder of the fifty-eighth fiscal year and making certain acts a felony and repealing an act entitled "An act creating a commissioner of public works, defining his duties and powers and fixing his compensation," approved February 9, 1900, and all acts or parts of acts amendatory thereof; also repealing an act entitled "An act to create a department of highways for the state of California, to define its duties and powers, to provide for the appointment of officers and employees thereof, and to provide for the compensation of said officers and employees, and for the additional expenses of said department, and to make an appropriation therefor for the remainder of the forty-eighth fiscal year," approved April 1, 1897; also repealing an act entitled "An act providing for the appointment of an auditing board to the commissioner of public works, authorizing and directing him and them to perform certain duties relating to drainage, to purchase machinery, tools, dredges, and appliances therefor, to improve and rectify water channels, to erect works necessary and incident to said drainage, to condemn land and property for the purposes aforesaid, making certain acts a felony, and making an appropriation of money for the purposes of this act," approved March 17, 1897, and all acts or parts of acts amendatory thereof; also repealing an act entitled "An act to provide for the appointment, duties and compensation of a debris commissioner, and to make an appropriation to be expended under his directions in the discharge of his duties as such commissioner," approved March 24, 1893, and all acts or parts of acts amendatory thereof; also repealing an act entitled "An act to create the office of Lake Tahoe wagon road commissioner, providing the term of office and compensation of such commissioner, defining his duties, and making an appropriation for the salary and expenditures provided for and authorized by this act," approved April 1, 1897, and all acts or parts of acts amendatory thereof.

Amended 1909, p. 558; 1911, p. 823; 1915, pp. 630, 898; 1917, pp. 541, 690.

The amendments of 1917 follow:

§ 1. Department of engineering created. California highway commission. A department of and for the state of California to be known as the department of engineering is hereby created, to consist of an advisory board composed of the governor as ex-officio member and chairman of said board, the state engineer, who shall be the chief executive officer of the department, the general superintendent of state hospitals, the chairman of the state board of harbor commissioners of San Francisco, and three other members to be appointed by the governor, which said three appointive members shall hereafter in this act be designated as the appointed members of said advisory board. Said three appointed members shall compose a subdivision of said department of engineering designated as the California highway commission. The said department, its officers and employees, shall have and exercise the powers and duties hereinafter set forth and specified, and such as are or may be hereafter provided by law. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 692.]

§ 1½. Consulting board. Meetings. Reports. [Repealed May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 692.]

§ 2. Head of department. Upon this act becoming effective the governor shall appoint a competent civil engineer as the head of the department of engineering, and such person shall be known as the state engineer. The state engineer shall devote his entire time to the services of the state and shall not actively engage in any other pursuit while serving as such state official. He shall have charge of all the engineering and structural work of the department. [Amendment approved May 15, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 543.]

§ 6. Employees, engineering department. The department of engineering, by and through the state engineer, shall have power to appoint two assistant engineers, a secretary, one state architect, one assistant state architect, a general superintendent for the architectural division, one mechanical engineer, one architectural designer, one structural engineer, an auditor, one electrical engineer, one estimator, one specification writer, one engineer's draftsman, three architectural draftsmen, two clerks, two stenographers, a blue-print pressman, a janitor, and such additional assistance as the advisory board may, in its judgment, deem necessary, and to fix their salaries and compensation, which officers and appointees shall hold office at the pleasure of the appointive power, and who must be confirmed by the advisory board before proceeding with their duties. Such officers and employees shall devote their entire time to the service of the department. [Amendment approved May 15, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 543.]

§ 9. Control of state highways. Expenditures. Power to obtain rights of way. Powers of state engineer assumed by highway commission. Highway engineering. The department of engineering shall take and have full possession and control of all roads and highways which have been declared and adopted state roads and state highways and all state roads and state highways which may hereafter be acquired and constructed. All expenditures by the state for highway purposes, except as otherwise hereafter provided by law, shall be under the full charge of the department of engineering, and all moneys appropriated for such purpose shall be made payable upon the proper demand of said department when approved and audited by the state board of control. The department of engineering, in the name of the people of the state of California, shall have the power to obtain or condemn necessary rights of way for any authorized state highway or for the change of any existing state highway or for any road placed under the department's charge by law unless otherwise provided. It shall have power to alter or change the route of a road and shall do all things necessary, and obtain all tools and implements required to properly care for and manage the roads under the charge of the department. Whenever, under any statutes of this state, the performance of any duty or obligation is imposed upon the department of highways, the same shall be assumed by, and the performance of the same shall devolve upon, the department of engineering. The said California highway commission shall forthwith assume and have and exercise all of the powers and duties of the state engineer relating to state roads and state highways and other roads and highways heretofore by law conferred or imposed upon said state engineer, and the said state engineer shall immediately relinquish and transfer to the said California highway commission all funds, papers, maps, records and other documents of the department of engineering relating to the roads and highways of the state and thereafter the state engineer shall have no further duty, power or responsibility with regard to roads and highways, save only such as shall devolve upon him as a member of the advisory board of the department of engineering. Said California highway commission shall have the supervision and direction of all state roads and state highways now existing and the improvement, maintenance, repair and protection thereof, and have charge of and perform all other duties relating to state roads and state highways which may be imposed upon said commission by said advisory board. The highway engineer shall be the chief executive officer of the California highway commission and shall perform such duties as may be imposed upon him by the California highway commission which are not in conflict with any duties which may be placed upon him by said advisory board. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 692.]

§ 10. Duties of highway commission. Act for road districts, etc. Biennial reports. The California highway commission, in addition to such other duties as may be imposed upon such commission by law, shall—

(a) Make such investigations as will put at the service of the state the most approved methods of highway improvement;

(b) Compile statistics relative to the public highways of counties and municipalities;

(c) If deemed expedient by said commission and at the expense of the applicants, either in whole or in part, as determined by said commission, said county, road or boulevard district or division and municipal authorities, upon request of such county, road or boulevard district or division and municipal authorities, in establishing grades and road drainage systems and advise with them as to the construction, improvement and maintenance of highways and bridges.

(d) If deemed expedient by said commission and at the expense of the applicants, either in whole or in part, as determined by said commission, cause plans, specifications and estimates to be prepared for the repair and improvement of highways and bridges, and in its discretion, also act as the consulting engineer for any county, road or boulevard district or division, or municipal authorities, when requested to do so by the county, road or boulevard district or division or municipal authorities; and said commission may, in its discretion, and upon the request of the governing board of any county, permanent road division, road or boulevard district or division, accept the funds of any such political subdivision for deposit in the state treasury, said funds to be deposited in such state fund or funds as said commission may designate, and the state department of engineering shall use and expend the funds so deposited for the construction of bridges, roads or boulevards situated within such political subdivision, in accordance with the plans and specifications and other terms as are mutually agreed upon by said commission, on behalf of the state of California, and such governing board; provided, however, that any bridge, road or boulevard constructed under the provisions of this section by and under the jurisdiction of said state department of engineering shall revert to the original jurisdiction and control immediately upon the completion thereof, unless such bridge, road or boulevard shall, in the opinion of said commission, be and constitute an integral part of the state highway system as contemplated by the state highways act and the state highways act of 1915 or as otherwise provided by law; and, further, the governing board of any county, permanent road division, or road or boulevard district or division may pay into the state treasury, as provided herein, for the purposes hereof, any funds under its jurisdiction and control subject to use for bridge, road or boulevard purposes, created by tax levy or issuance of the bonds of any such political subdivision or otherwise.

(e) Investigate and determine upon the various methods of road construction adapted to the different sections of the state, as to the best methods of construction and maintenance of highways and bridges, and make such experiments in relation thereto from time to time as said commission deems expedient.

(f) Aid at all times in promoting highway improvement throughout the state.

(g) Have the power to call upon any state, county or municipal official to furnish said commission with any information contained in his office which relates to, or is in any way necessary to, the proper performance of the work of said department of engineering, and it is hereby made the duty of such officials to furnish such information without cost.

(h) Prepare biennial reports relating to road and highway work which shall be incorporated by the state engineer in his biennial reports which he is required by law to submit to the governor at least thirty days before each session of the legislature. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 692.

§ 13. Co-operative work with United States government. All co-operative engineering work now existing or to be engaged in by the state with the United States government shall be placed under the department of engineering. All plans, estimates and specifications shall be approved by the state engineer except that in the case of road and highway work all plans, estimates and specifications shall be approved by the California highway commission, and the advisory board shall have full power to determine the kind, quality and extent of such work under co-operation with said government before entering into agreement with said government for such work. All unexpended moneys provided for by law on the aforesaid co-operative basis shall be expressly placed under the full control of the department of engineering and the state controller shall transfer such funds to the credit of the said department. Hereafter plans, estimates and specifications for such work shall be filed in the office of said department. All moneys received by the state treasurer from the United States government under project agreements relating to federal aid road work shall be credited by the state controller to such fund or funds as the state department of engineering shall designate. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 694.]

§ 16. Biennial report of state engineer. The state engineer shall prepare biennial reports which shall be submitted to the governor at least thirty days before each session of the legislature. Said report shall embrace the work and investigations of the department under his charge for the previous two years, together with such recommendations for changes in the laws affecting the department as he may deem advisable. It shall be the duty of the state printer to print all reports, bulletins or other matter and furnish any other necessary illustrations or diagram therefor as the department may deem necessary, all of which shall, however, be subject to the approval of the state board of examiners. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 695.]

§ 17. Salaries. Bond. The highway engineer shall receive not to exceed the sum of ten thousand dollars per annum; the state engineer shall receive the sum of five thousand dollars per annum; each assistant engineer shall receive the sum of three thousand dollars per annum; the secretary shall receive the sum of three thousand dollars per annum; the state architect shall receive the sum of four thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; the assistant state architect shall receive the sum of three thousand dollars per annum; the general superintendent for the architectural division shall receive the sum of three thousand dollars per annum; the mechanical engineer shall receive the sum of two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum; the architectural designer shall receive the sum of two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum; the structural engineer shall receive the sum of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; the auditor shall receive the sum of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; the electrical engineer shall receive the sum of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum; the estimator shall receive the sum of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum; the specification writer shall receive the sum of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum; the engineer's draftsman shall receive the sum of two thousand dollars per annum; two architectural draftsmen shall receive the sum of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum, each; one architectural draftsman shall receive the sum of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; two clerks shall receive the sum of one thousand eight hundred dollars each, per annum; two stenographers shall receive the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars each, per annum; the blue-print pressman shall receive the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum; the janitor shall receive the sum of nine hundred dollars per annum. Such salaries shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner as are the salaries of other state officers. The highway engineer shall furnish the state with a bond in the sum of twenty thousand dollars; the two assistant engineers and the state architect shall each furnish the state with a bond in the sum of ten thousand dollars; and the secretary shall furnish the state with a bond in the sum of fifteen thousand dollars, for the faithful performance of their duties. Such bonds must be approved by the governor of the state of California, and filed in the office of the secretary of state. Each of the three appointed members of the advisory board shall receive the sum of three thousand six hundred dollars per annum. Each and every one of the above-mentioned officers shall take the oath of office as prescribed for other state officers. The members of the advisory board, the state engineer and other officers and employees of the department of engineering shall be allowed their necessary traveling expenses while engaged in the discharge of their duties within the state. Every employee of the department of engineering who is intrusted with moneys belonging to the state and who is not already required by law to furnish an official bond shall file a bond if the said department shall so require in such an amount as the department shall deem to be expedient with two sufficient sureties thereon or with a surety company of recognized standing for the faithful performance of his trust, which bond must be approved by the state board of control and filed with the state treasurer. The premium or charge for every such bond, if given by a surety company, shall be paid by said department out of the particular fund under its control, from which fund the moneys are withdrawn and placed in the custody of the bonded employee or out of that fund to which the services of such employee directly pertain. [Amendment approved May 15, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 543.]

An act to appropriate money to be expended by and under the direction of the department of engineering for the purpose of rectifying and improving the channels of the Sacramento, San Joaquin and Feather rivers and such other waters of the state as the department of engineering may determine; improving the navigability of such waters and acquiring land for necessary rights of way therefor; making surveys, investigations and report upon the feasibility of canalizing the rivers of the state and constructing canals for navigation, and making surveys, investigations and plans for flood control; the examination and supervision of dams; the investigation of rainfall, snowfall and runoff affecting navigation and flood control; and giving the department of engineering authority over dams, making it unlawful to construct or maintain dams in a dangerous condition and providing penalties for violations of the act and directing who shall prosecute such violations.

[Approved May 14, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 516. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Appropriation: improving Sacramento, San Joaquin and Feather rivers. The sum of one hundred fifty thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be expended by the department of engineering for the purpose of rectifying and improving the channels of Sacramento, San Joaquin and Feather rivers, and such other waters of the state as the department of engineering may determine, improving the navigability of such waters, acquiring land for necessary rights of way for such improvements; making surveys, investigations and reports upon the feasibility of canalizing the rivers of the state and constructing navigable canals, making surveys, investigations and plans for flood control upon any stream, the flood waters of which may injure or menace lands in the state of California, including the examination and supervision of dams, and investigation of rainfall, snowfall and runoff affecting or tending to affect navigation or flood control upon any of the streams of the state; provided, however, that before any expenditure shall be made or contracts awarded by said department for construction work to be done affecting navigable waters, the plans therefor shall be approved by the proper officers of the government of the United States having charge of river work in California.

§ 2. Dams under authority of department of engineering. (a) All dams in the state of California, other than those for impounding mining debris constructed under the authority of the California debris commission, or dams constructed by a municipal corporation maintaining a department of engineering, shall be under the authority of the state department of engineering, and the department shall exercise supervision over any dam, the failure of which would endanger life or property, and shall have power to prescribe and enforce compliance with measures for making such dams safe against failure; provided, that this section shall not apply to any dam which is part of a "water system" as defined in section two of the public utilities act of this state, and nothing in this act shall be construed to limit the jurisdiction of the railroad commission over such dams.

(b) Approval of plans. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, corporation or district to construct, maintain or operate any dam known to be unsafe, or which if the destruction or failure thereof would endanger life or property; or to construct, reconstruct, repair or improve, maintain or operate any dam which is or would be ten feet or more in height or which will impound water or other fluid to the amount of three million gallons unless the plans, specifications and construction thereof shall have been approved in writing by the state department of engineering.

(c) Penalty. Any person, firm, corporation or district who shall violate the provisions of this section is subject to a penalty of not less than five hundred nor more than two thousand dollars for each and every offense. Each day that such violation of the provisions of this section shall continue shall be deemed and considered a separate and distinct offense.

(d) Permitting work contrary to plans felony. Any person acting for himself as owner, or as director, officer, agent or employee of any firm, corporation or district engaged in the construction, reconstruction, improvement or repair of any dam, the plans and specifications of which have been approved by the department of engineering, or any contractor, or agent or employee of such contractor, who shall knowingly permit work to be executed thereon contrary to the plans and specifications approved as aforesaid, or any inspector or employee of the department of engineering who shall have knowledge of such work being done and fail to immediately notify the department of engineering thereof, is guilty of a felony and subject to the penalty of confinement in the state penitentiary for not less than one nor more than five years.

(e) Duty of district attorney. Upon the complaint of the department of engineering any district attorney is hereby authorized and directed to prosecute violations of the provisions of this section.

§ 3. Audit. All expenditures hereunder for rights of way, labor, materials and machinery, or in payment, in whole or in part, of any contract shall, before being paid, be audited by the state board of control, as provided by law.

§ 4. When available. Of the money herein appropriated fifty thousand dollars shall become available immediately upon this act becoming effective and the remaining one hundred thousand dollars shall become available on the first day of July, 1918.

ACT 3818c.

An act to provide for the accomplishment of the work of the direct improvement of the navigation of the Sacramento, San Joaquin and Feather rivers of the state of California, by controlling the floods, removing the debris and continuing the improvement of the Sacramento river, California, in accordance with the plans of the California debris commission contained in the report of said commission submitted August 10, 1910, and transmitted to the speaker of the house of representatives of the United States by the secretary of war on June 27, 1911, and printed in house of representatives document number eighty-one of the first session of the sixty-second United States congress, as modified by the report of said commission submitted February 8, 1913, approved by the chief of engineers of the United States army and the board of engineers for rivers and harbors and printed in rivers and harbors committee document number five, sixty-third United States congress, first session, in so far as said plan provides for the rectification and enlargement of river channels and the construction of weirs; and making an appropriation for such work; and providing for the continuance of such work as provided by section two of an act of the congress of the United States entitled "An act to provide for the control of the floods of the Mississippi river and of the Sacramento river, California, and for other purposes," approved March 1, 1917.

[Approved May 15, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 536. In effect July1, 1917,]

§ 1. Appropriation: flood control. The sum of five hundred thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, which shall be available July 1, 1917, for controlling the floods, removing the debris and continuing the improvement of the Sacramento river, California, in accordance with the plans of the California debris commission contained in the report of said commission submitted August 10, 1910, and transmitted to the speaker of the house of representatives of the United States by the secretary of war on June 27, 1911, and printed in house of representatives document number eighty-one of the first session of the sixty-second United States congress, as modified by the report of said commission submitted February 8, 1913, approved by the chief of engineers of the United States army and the board of engineers for rivers and harbors and printed in Rivers and Harbors Committee Document Number Five, Sixty-third United States Congress, First Session, in so far as said plan provides for the rectification and enlargement of river channels and the construction of weirs.

§ 2. Condition. The appropriation made by section one of this act is made in compliance with the provisions of section two of that certain act of congress of the United States entitled "An act to provide for the control of the floods of the Mississippi river and of the Sacramento river, California, and for other purposes," approved March 1, 1917, and shall be paid to the treasurer of the United States whenever a like sum of five hundred thousand dollars shall have been appropriated or authorized to be appropriated by the congress of the United States, conditional on the payment of an equal amount by the state of California, for the prosecution of said work pursuant to section two of said act of congress.

§ 3. Expended by California debris commission. The money hereby appropriated, when paid to the treasurer of the United States, shall be expended under the direction of the California debris commission and in such manner as it may require or approve, and as provided in section two of said act of congress; and none of the money so appropriated shall be expended in the purchase of or payment for any right of way, easement or land acquired for the purposes of said improvement.

§ 4. Controller's warrant. The controller of the state of California is hereby authorized and directed, upon request of the governor, to draw his warrant or warrants on the state treasurer in favor of the treasurer of the United States for the amount hereby appropriated, and the state controller is hereby directed to pay the same.

§ 5. In case less sum appropriated by congress. If the congress of the United States shall not appropriate the full sum of five hundred thousand dollars for the prosecution of said work in accordance with section two of said act of congress, as hereinbefore referred to, but shall appropriate a less sum or sums from time to time for said purpose, then the said sum hereby appropriated shall become available and be paid over to the treasurer of the United States, for said purpose as hereinbefore provided, in such sum or sums from time to time as may equal the sum or sums so appropriated or authorized to be appropriated by congress.

TITLE 532a.

STATE LAND SETTLEMENT BOARD.

ACT 3822.

An act creating a state land settlement board and defining its powers and duties and making an appropriation in aid of its operations.

[Approved June 1, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1566. In effect July 31, 1917.]

§ 1. Importance of land settlement. The legislature believes that land settlement is a problem of great importance to the welfare of all the people of the state of California and for that reason through this particular act endeavors to improve the general economic and social conditions of agricultural settlers within the state and of the people of the state in general.

§ 2. State land settlement board created. Term. Per diem and expenses. Officers. Superintendent. With the object of promoting closer agricultural settlement, assisting deserving and qualified persons to acquire small improved farms, providing homes for farm laborers, increasing opportunities under the federal farm loan act, and demonstrating the value of adequate capital and organized direction in subdividing and preparing agricultural land for settlement, there is hereby created a state land settlement board to consist of five members appointed by the governor to hold office for a term of four years and until their successors have been appointed and shall have qualified; provided, however, that of the members first appointed two shall be appointed to hold office until the first day in January, nineteen hundred eighteen, one until the first day in January, nineteen hundred nineteen, one until the first day in January, nineteen hundred twenty, and one until the first day in January, nineteen hundred twenty-one.

The members of the board shall receive a per diem for each meeting attended, to be fixed by the state board of control with the approval of the governor; they shall also receive their actual, necessary traveling expenses in the discharge of their duties.

The board shall elect its own chairman and secretary. The secretary may or may not be a member of the board. The board shall appoint a superintendent who shall be the general executive officer of the board, and such expert, technical, and clerical assistance as may prove necessary, and shall define their duties. It shall fix the salaries of all officers and other employees, with the approval of the state board of control.

§ 3. Body corporate. Quorum. The state land settlement board hereinafter called the board, shall constitute a body corporate with the right on behalf of the state to hold property, receive and request donations, sue and be sued, and all other rights provided by the constitution and laws of the state of California as belonging to bodies corporate.

Three members of the board shall constitute a quorum and such quorum may exercise all the power and authority conferred on the board by this act.

§ 4. Agricultural lands to be acquired and sold. For the purposes of this act the board may in the manner hereinafter provided acquire on behalf of the state agricultural lands in California that are susceptible of intensive culture and suitable for colonization in an area of not more than ten thousand acres, together with any water rights and rights of way desirable or necessary therefor, and shall without delay improve, subdivide and sell such lands with appurtenant water rights to approved bona fide settlers under the conditions and in the manner hereinafter provided; provided, that, with the approval of the governor, the board shall have the authority to set aside for townsite purposes a suitable area purchased under the provisions of this act and to subdivide such area and sell or lease the same for cash, in lots of such size, and with such restrictions as to resale, as, with the approval of the governor, they shall deem best; and provided, further, that the board shall have authority to set aside and dedicate to public use such area or areas as it may deem desirable for roads, schoolhouses, churches, or other public purposes.

§ 5. Purchase of private lands. Whenever the board believes that private land should be purchased for settlement under this act, it shall give notice by publication in one or more newspapers of general circulation in this state, setting forth the area and character of the land desired and the conditions that shall govern such proposed purchase, and inviting owners of lands believed to be suitable, and who are willing to enter into a contract for the sale of such lands on the conditions proposed, to submit such lands for inspection.

§ 6. Inspection of tracts. Within thirty days thereafter the board shall direct an officer or officers in its employ, or one or more persons who may at its request be designated by the dean of the college of agriculture of the University of California, to inspect and report on all tracts of land suitable for closer settlement which are so submitted.

§ 7. Report of inspection. The board shall give not less than one week's notice of the approximate date when tracts submitted will be inspected and every report of such inspection shall as far as practicable specify the—

(a) Situation and brief description thereof;

(b) Extent and situation of land comprising so much of any tract as it is proposed to acquire;

(c) Names and addresses of the owners thereof;

(d) Character of water rights;

(e) Nature of improvements;

(f) Crops being grown on land;

(g) Appraisement of value of land, water rights and improvements.

§ 8. Decision. On receiving the reports on all of the land examined the board shall decide which of the areas is best suited to the purposes of this act. Before so deciding the board may examine the land, or it may employ one or more competent valuers to fix the productive value of the land and report the same in writing; the owner or his agent may give evidence as to its value.

§ 9. Purchase. If from the evidence submitted or from the results of its personal inspection the board is satisfied that one or more of the tracts submitted are suited to intensive closer settlement and can be acquired at a reasonable price, it shall submit to the governor its report, giving the reasons for recommending the purchase, and on the approval of the governor the board shall be authorized to purchase the same; provided, that before such purchase is made, the attorney general shall approve the title of such lands and any water rights appurtenant thereto, and the president of the state water commission shall certify in writing as to the sufficiency of any water rights to be conveyed.

§ 10. Control by board until moneys advanced repaid. All purchases of land under this act shall be made under such terms and conditions as shall give to the board full control of any subdivisions thereof until all moneys advanced by the state for the purchase, improvement, or equipment of such subdivisions are fully repaid, together with interest thereon as herein provided.

§ 11. Subdivision. Improvement of land. Seeds. Cottages and water. Loans. Immediately upon taking possession of any land purchased as above, and after deducting any areas to be set aside for town sites or public purposes in accordance with section four of this act, the board shall subdivide it into areas suitable for farms and farm laborers' allotments, and lay out, and where necessary, construct roads, ditches, and drains for giving access to and insuring the proper cultivation of the several farms and allotments. The board, prior to disposing of it to settlers, or at any time after such land has been disposed of, but not after the end of the fifth year from the commencement of the term of the settler's purchase contract, may—

(a) Prepare all or any part of such land for irrigation and cultivation;

(b) Seed, plant, or fence such land, and cause dwelling-houses and outbuildings to be erected on any farm allotment or make any other improvements not specified above necessary to render the allotment habitable and productive in advance of or after settlement, the total cost of such dwellings, outbuildings, and improvements not to exceed one thousand five hundred ($1,500) dollars on any one farm allotment;

(c) Cause cottages to be erected on any farm laborer's allotment and provide a domestic water supply, the combined cost of the cottage and water supply not to exceed eight hundred ($800) dollars on any one farm laborer's allotment;

(d) Make loans to approved settlers on the security of stock and farm implements, such loans to be secured by mortgage or mortgages on such stock or farm implements, and the total amount of any such loan, together with money spent by the board on improvements as above specified, not to exceed three thousand dollars on any one farm allotment.

§ 12. Irrigation works. Authority is hereby granted to the board, where deemed desirable, to operate and maintain any irrigation works constructed to serve any lands purchased and sold under the provisions of this act. All moneys received in tolls or charges for the operation and maintenance of any works or for any water supplied therefrom, shall be deposited in the land settlement fund created by this act and shall become available for the payment of any costs, expenses, or other charges authorized in this act to be paid from said land settlement fund.

§ 13. Lease. After the purchase of land by the board under the provisions of this act and before its disposal to approved bona fide applicants the board shall have authority to lease such land or a part thereof on bonded or secured lease on such terms as it shall deem fit.

§ 14. Allotments. Notice of opening for settlement. Right to reject applications. Lands disposed of under this act, other than lands set aside for town sites or public purposes, shall be sold either as farm allotments, each of which shall have a value not exceeding, without improvements, fifteen thousand dollars, or as a farm laborer's allotments, each of which shall have a value not exceeding, without improvements, four hundred dollars. Before any part of an area is thrown open for settlement there shall be public notice thereof for thirty days in one or more daily newspapers of general circulation in the state, setting forth the number and size of farm allotments or farm laborer's allotments, or both, the prices at which they are offered for sale, the minimum amount of capital a settler will be required to have, the mode of payment, the amount of cash payment required, and such other particulars as the board may think proper and specifying a definite period within which applications therefor shall be filed with the board on forms provided by the board. The board shall have the right in its uncontrolled discretion to reject any or all applications it may see fit and may readvertise as aforesaid as often as it sees fit until it receives and accepts such number of applications as it may deem necessary.

§ 15. Who may apply. Limit. Fitness to cultivate. Any citizen of the United States, or any person who has declared his intention of becoming a citizen of the United States, and who is not the holder of agricultural land or of possessory rights thereto to the value of fifteen thousand dollars, and who by this purchase would not become the holder of agricultural land or of possessory rights thereto exceeding such value, and who is prepared to enter within six months upon actual occupation of the land acquired, may apply for and become the purchaser of either a farm allotment or a farm laborer's allotment; provided, that no more than one farm allotment or more than one farm laborer's allotment shall be sold to any one person; provided, further, that no applicant shall be approved who shall not satisfy the board as to his or her fitness successfully to cultivate and develop the allotment applied for.

§ 16. Applications considered. Within ten days after the final date set for receiving applications for either farm allotments or farm laborer's allotments the board shall meet to consider the applications, and may request applicants to appear in person; provided, that the board shall have the power and the uncontrolled discretion to reject any or all applications.

§ 17. Selling prices. The selling prices of the several allotments into which lands purchased under this act are subdivided, other than those set aside for town site and public purposes, shall be fixed by the board, so as to render such allotments as nearly as possible equally attractive, and calculated to return to the state the original cost of the land, together with a sufficient sum added thereto to cover all expenses and costs of surveying, improving, subdividing, and selling such lands, including the payment of interest, and all costs of engineering, superintendence, and administration, including the cost of operating any works built, directly chargeable to such land, and also the price of so much land as shall on subdivision be used for roads and other public purposes, and also such sum as shall be deemed necessary to meet unforeseen contingencies.

§ 18. Contract of purchase. Cash deposit. Loan from federal farm loan bank. Balance paid in amortizing payments. Every approved applicant shall enter into a contract of purchase with the board, which contract shall among other things provide that the purchaser shall pay as a cash deposit a sum equal to five per cent of the sale price of the allotment and in addition not less than ten per cent of the cost of any improvements made thereon, and, unless prepared to pay one-half of the purchase price in cash, such applicant shall enter into an agreement to make an immediate application for a loan from the federal farm loan bank under the provisions of the federal farm loan act for an amount equal to fifty per cent of the appraised value of the land and twenty per cent of the value of the improvements thereon, and shall pay the amount of any loan so made to the board as a partial payment on such land and improvements. The balance due on the land shall be paid in amortizing payments extending over a period to be fixed by the board not exceeding forty years, together with interest therefor at the rate of five per cent per annum. The amount due on improvements shall be paid in amortizing payments extending over a period to be fixed by the board not exceeding twenty years, together with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum. The repayment of loans made on livestock or implements shall extend over a period to be fixed by the board not exceeding five years; provided, however, in each case, that the settler shall have the right on any installment date after five years from the first payment, but not before, to pay any or all installments still remaining unpaid.

§ 19. Calculation of installments. The number and amount of yearly or half yearly installments of principal and interest to be paid to the board under contracts of purchase shall be calculated according to any table adopted or approved by the federal farm loan board.

§ 20. Cultivation of land. Insurance. Every contract entered into between the board and an approved purchaser shall contain among other things provisions that the purchaser shall cultivate the land in a manner to be approved by the board and shall keep in good order and repair all buildings, fences, and other permanent improvements situated on his allotment, reasonable wear and tear and damage by fire excepted. Each settler shall, if required, insure and keep insured against fire all buildings on his allotment, the policies therefor to be made out in favor of the board and to be such amount or amounts and in such insurance companies as may be prescribed by the board.

§ 21. Consent to transfer allotment. Cancellation of contract. No allotment sold under the provisions of this act shall be transferred, assigned, mortgaged, or sublet in whole or in part, within five years after the date of such contract without the consent of the board given in writing. At the expiration of five years after the purchase of an allotment, if the board is satisfied that all covenants and conditions of the contract covering such allotment purchase have been complied with, the purchaser may, with the written consent of the board, transfer, assign, mortgage, sublet, or part with the possession of the whole or any part of the allotment covered by such contract.

In the event of a failure of a settler to comply with any of the terms of his contract of purchase and agreement with the board, the state and the board shall have the right at its option to cancel the said contract of purchase and agreement and thereupon shall be released from all obligation in law or equity to convey the property and the settler shall forfeit all right thereto and all payments theretofore made shall be deemed to be rental paid for occupancy. The failure of the board or the state to exercise any option to cancel for any default shall not be deemed as a waiver of the right to exercise the option to cancel for any default thereafter on the settler's part. But no forfeiture so occasioned by default on the part of the settler shall be deemed in any way, or to any extent, to impair the lien and security of the mortgage or trust instrument securing any loan that it may have made as in this act provided. The board shall have the right and power to enter into a contract of purchase for the sale and disposition of any land forfeited as above provided because of default on the part of a settler.

§ 23. Residence. Actual residence on any allotment sold under the provisions of this act shall commence within six months from the date of the approval of the application and shall continue for at least eight months in each calendar year for at least ten years from the date of the approval of the said application, unless prevented by illness or some other cause satisfactory to the board; provided, that in case any farm allotment disposed of under this act is returned to and resold by the state, the time of residence of the preceding purchaser may in the discretion of the board be credited to the subsequent purchaser.

§ 24. Condemnation of water rights and rights of way. Appropriation of water. The power of eminent domain shall be exercised by the state at the request of the board for the condemnation of water rights and rights of way for roads, canals, ditches, dams, and reservoirs necessary or desirable for carrying out the provisions of this act, and on request of the board the attorney general shall bring the necessary and appropriate proceedings authorized by law for such condemnation of said water rights or rights of way, and the cost of all water rights or rights of way so condemned shall be paid out of the land settlement fund hereinafter provided for. The board shall have full authority to appropriate water under the laws of the state when such appropriation is necessary or desirable for carrying out the purposes of this act.

§ 25. Appropriation. "Land settlement fund." Administrative expenses. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act the sum of two hundred sixty thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated. Of this amount, the sum of two hundred fifty thousand dollars shall constitute a revolving fund to be known as the "land settlement fund," which is calculated to be returned to the state with interest at the rate of four per cent per annum within a period of fifty years from the date of the passage of this act. The remaining ten thousand dollars shall constitute a fund available for the payment of administrative expenses alone until such time as other moneys are available for such purposes from the sales of land as provided for in this act. The state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw warrants upon such funds from time to time upon requisition of the board approved by the state board of control, and the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay such warrants.

§ 26. Advances by board of control. The state board of control is hereby authorized to provide for advances of money to the board needed to meet contingent expenses to such an amount, not exceeding five thousand dollars as the said board of control shall deem necessary.

§ 27. Payments by settlers, disposition of. The money paid by settlers on lands, improvements, or in the repayment of advances, shall be deposited in the land settlement fund and be available under the same conditions as the original appropriation for the following purposes:

(a) Making improvements on land being prepared for settlement;

(b) Making advances to settlers; and

(c) Completing payments on lands purchased; provided, that when these expenditures on an area of ten thousand acres shall have been completed, then all moneys received shall be paid into the state treasury and used to reimburse the state for the land settlement fund created by this act.

§ 28. Rules and regulations. The board with the approval of the governor shall have authority to make all needed rules and regulations for carrying out the provisions of this act.

§ 29. Investigation of land settlement conditions. The board is hereby authorized to investigate land settlement conditions in California and elsewhere and to submit recommendations for such legislation as may be deemed by it necessary or desirable.

§ 30. Stats. 1915, p. 475, repealed. The act of the legislature entitled "An act providing for the appointment of a commission to investigate and report at the forty-second session of the legislature relative to the adoption of a system of land colonization and rural credits and making an appropriation therefor," approved May 17, 1915, is hereby repealed.

§ 31. Title. This act may be known and cited as the "land settlement act."

TITLE 533.

STATE LANDS.

ACT 3834a.

An act for the relief of purchasers of school lands.

[Approved June 3, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 376.]

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 62.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Relief of school land purchasers. When application has been made to purchase lands from this state and payment of twenty per cent of the purchase price has been made to the treasurer of the proper county for the same and a certificate of purchase was issued on or after May 1, 1911, to the applicant therefor, and such applicant has failed to pay the interest on the unpaid balance of the purchase price of such land, said certificate shall be in full force and effect; provided, all interest due on the balance of the purchase price is paid to the proper county treasurer on or before December 31, 1917, together with a penalty of ten per centum of the amount of all interest on the unpaid portion of the purchase price of said lands for each year that the annual interest on the balance of the purchase price of said lands has not been paid since the date of the issuance of the certificate of purchase; and provided, further, that the lands described in said certificate of purchase are open to entry and sale under any law of this state at the time this act shall take effect.

TITLE 534a.

STATE MARKET COMMISSION.

ACT 3847.

An act to provide for the creation of the "state market commission" and the organization thereof; to define its other duties and powers; to create the position of state market director; to define his duties and powers; to create the state market commission fund, and a revolving fund; and repealing that act known as "state commission market act," approved June 10, 1915, chapter seven hundred thirteen of the statutes of 1915, and all other acts and parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act.

§ 1. "State market commission" created. Purposes. There is hereby created the "state market commission," a state organization for the following purposes, to wit:

First—To act as adviser for producers and distributors when requested, assisting them in economical and efficient distribution of any such products at fair prices.

Second—To gather and disseminate impartial information concerning supply, demand, prevailing prices and commercial movements, including common and cold storage of any such products.

Third—To promote, assist and encourage the organization and operation of co-operative and other associations and organizations for improving the relations and services among producers, distributors and consumers of any such products, and to protect and conserve the interests of the producers and consignors of such products.

Fourth—To foster and encourage co-operation between producers and distributors of any such products, in the interest of the general public.

Fifth—To foster and encourage the standardizing, grading, inspection, labeling, handling, storage and sale of any such products.

Sixth—To act as a mediator or arbitrator, when invited by both parties, in any controversy or issue, that may arise between producers and distributors of any such products.

Seventh—To certify, for the protection of owners, buyers or creditors, when so requested, warehouse receipts for any such products, verifying quantities and qualities thereof, and to charge for such service fees sufficient to make the service at least self-supporting.

Eighth—To issue labels bearing the seal of the state market commission on request of the producer, packer, canner or distributor, for any such products, for which state labels have not otherwise been authorized by law, under such rules and regulations as the director may deem necessary and to charge for such labels such fees as in the judgment of the state market director may be proper.

Ninth—To act on behalf of the consumers of any such products in conserving and protecting their interests in every practicable way.

Tenth—To improve, broaden and extend in every practicable way, the distribution and sale of any such California products throughout the markets of the world.

Eleventh—To promote in the interest of the producer, the distributor, and consumer, economical and efficient distribution and marketing of all or any agricultural, fishery, dairy and farm products produced, grown, raised, caught, manufactured or processed within the state of California.

It shall be within the province of the state market director, hereinafter provided for, to determine and decide, when, where and to what extent, existing conditions render it necessary or advisable to carry out any or all the purposes of this act and he is herewith granted power and authority to carry out any or all of said purposes.

§ 2. Title of act. Terms defined. This act shall be known as the "state market commission act."

The following terms used in this act shall, unless a different meaning is plainly required by the context, be construed as follows:

The "commission" shall be the state market commission.

The "director" shall be the state market director himself personally or his duly appointed and authorized representative.

The word "products" shall refer to the agricultural, fishery, dairy and farm products produced, grown, raised, caught, manufactured or processed within the state of California.

The term "organizations of producers and distributors" shall include all corporations, societies, associations and organizations of producers or of producers and distributors, or of distributors, co-operative or otherwise, formed for the purpose of facilitating the marketing of any such products.

A "person" shall be understood to include individuals, partnerships, associations and corporations or their agents or employees.

When the singular is used the plural is also included. Whenever the masculine is used, the feminine and neuter are included.

§ 3. State market director. Secretary. The state market commission shall consist of a governing body of one person, to be known as the state market director, hereinafter referred to as the director, who shall be appointed by the governor of the state of California, and of a secretary to be appointed by the state market director, as hereinafter provided, and these two shall perform the duties and exercise the powers of the state market commission and shall administer the provisions hereof, administer oaths, certify to all official acts, and do all proper acts to carry out any and all of the purposes hereof.

§ 4. Power of director. The director is hereby vested with full power, authority and jurisdiction to do and perform any and all things which are necessary or convenient in the exercise of any power, authority or jurisdiction designated and conferred upon him under this act.

§ 5. Bureau of correspondence. The commission shall have a bureau of correspondence for gathering and disseminating information on all subjects relating to the marketing of California products, and may issue bulletins thereon, and by every practicable means keep the producers informed of the supply and demand and at what market their products can best be handled.

§ 6. Term. Removal. The term of office of the director shall be four years or until his successor be appointed by the governor, and the annual salary of the director shall be five thousand dollars. The first appointment of director shall be made upon this act going into effect. The legislature, by a two-thirds vote, may remove the director, for misconduct, neglect of duty, or incompetency.

§ 7. Term of secretary. Salary. The state market commission shall have a secretary who shall be appointed by the director and hold office at his pleasure, and shall perform such duties as he may prescribe. The annual salary of the secretary shall be three thousand six hundred dollars.

§ 8. Seal. The state market commission shall have a seal bearing the inscription "state market commission of California," which seal shall be affixed to all such instruments as the director shall require.

§ 9. Salaries. The salaries of the director and secretary shall be paid to them in the same manner as are the salaries of other state officers.

The salary or compensation of all other persons holding office or employment under the director shall be fixed by the director and shall be paid monthly from the state market commission fund, as hereinafter provided, and after being approved by the director upon claims therefor to be audited by the state board of control.

All expenses incurred by the director pursuant to the provisions of this act, including actual and necessary traveling expenses, and other disbursements of the director, his officers and employees, incurred while on business of the commission shall be paid from the state market commission fund in the same manner, except as provided for in section twelve of this act.

§ 10. Whole time devoted to duties. The director shall not engage in any other line of business during his term of office, but shall devote his whole time, attention and ability to the duties of his office. The director shall not hold or own any stock or other interest whatsoever in any produce commission business.

§ 11. "State market commission" fund. There is hereby created a fund to be known as the "state market commission fund." All fees, charges and costs collected by said commission under this act shall be paid into the treasury of the state to the credit of such fund. All appropriations made by this act or any subsequent act for the use of the state market commission, shall be placed to the credit of such fund. All expenses of whatsoever nature, incurred by the commission under the provisions of this act, shall be paid from the state market commission fund, after being approved by the director, upon claims therefor to be audited by the board of control except as provided for in section fourteen a of this act.

§ 12. Revolving fund. A revolving fund of two hundred fifty dollars shall be established by the board of control for expenses of the state market commission, other than salaries, rent and other regular expenses, and the director may expend such revolving fund without first procuring the authority of the board of control, but shall file vouchers monthly with the board of control covering such disbursement.

§ 13. Annual report. The director shall make and submit to the governor, on or before the first day of December of each year, a report containing a full and complete account of the transactions and proceedings of the state market commission for the preceding fiscal year, together with such other facts, suggestions and recommendations as may be deemed of value to the people of the state.

§ 14. Bond. The director, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall make and execute to the people of the state of California an official bond in the sum of five thousand dollars, for the faithful performance of the duties of his office. The director may require of the officers and employees such bonds for the faithful performance of their duties as in his judgment may be necessary.

§ 15. Investigation of products held in storage. The director may make pertinent investigations concerning the aggregate amount of products held in common and cold storage. In connection with any such investigation, the director shall have the right to inspect only the pertinent books and records of common or cold-storage warehouses for the purpose of determining and publishing aggregate amounts of products held in storage, and the director is hereby empowered to issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of pertinent books, papers, accounts, documents and testimony in any such investigation.

§ 16. Moneys transferred. Any and all moneys in the state treasury to the credit of and any moneys due the state commission market fund under the authority of the act creating the state commission market fund, approved June 10, 1915, shall be transferred to the credit of the state market commission fund, created by this act.

§ 17. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason declared to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act and each section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

§ 18. Stats. 1915, p. 1390, repealed. That certain act entitled "An act to provide for the creation of the state commission market, and the organization thereof, to carry on the business of receiving from the producers thereof the agricultural, fishery, dairy and farm products of the state of California and selling and disposing of such products on commission, creating the 'state commission market fund' and appropriating money therefor," approved June 10, 1915, and known as the "state commission market act," chapter seven hundred thirteen of the statutes of 1915, and all other acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

ACT 3588.

An act to empower the state market director of California to regulate and control the business of buying and selling fresh fish; to regulate the destruction of food fish; to create a state fish exchange; to license those engaged in marketing fish; to create a state fish exchange fund and a revolving fund; to provide penalties for violations of this act; to investigate and report on the fish industry; and to promote the sale of fish.

[Approved June 1, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1673.]

§ 1. Title. This act shall be known as the "state fish exchange act."

§ 2. Purpose. It is hereby declared that it is the purpose of this act to bring about an increased consumption of fresh fish by the people of California, to enable them to obtain the same at reasonable prices, and to empower the state market director to regulate and control the business of buying and selling fresh fish, to regulate the destruction of food fish, to create a state fish exchange, to license those engaged in marketing fresh fish, to create a state fish exchange fund, to provide penalties for violations of this act, to investigate and report on the fish industry, and to promote the sale of fish.

§ 3. Terms construed. The following terms used in this act shall, unless a different meaning is plainly required by the context, be construed as follows:

The "state market director" shall be understood to be himself personally or his duly appointed and authorized representative. A "person" shall be deemed to include individuals, partnerships, associations and corporations or their agents or employees. A "retail dealer," "peddler," or "huckster," is one engaged in the business of selling fresh food fish direct to the consumer. A "wholesale dealer" is one who sells fresh food fish to hotels, restaurants, railroads, steamships, hospitals, institutions and all others than the consumer, and especially to retail dealers for resale. A "fish buyer" or "fish broker" is one engaged in the business of buying or selling fresh food fish for the owner or consignee, or who, without an established place of business, buys from the fishermen for the purpose of reselling to others than the consumer. "Market fishermen" are individuals engaged in the business of catching fish under licenses issued by the state fish and game commission authorizing them to do so. When the singular is used, the plural is also included; whenever the masculine is used, the feminine and neuter are included.

§ 4. Title to fish in state. It is hereby declared that the ownership and title to all fish found in the waters under the jurisdiction of the state are in the state of California; no such fish shall be caught, taken or killed in any manner or at any time except that the person so catching, taking or killing or having the same in his possession, irrespective of the manner in which they were obtained, shall by such act or possession thereby consent that the title to such fish shall be and remain in the state of California for the purpose of regulating and controlling the use and disposition of same after such catching, taking or killing, except that the title to such fish legally taken shall vest in the person so taking or possessing them, subject to the restrictions and provisions of law. All fish found in the possession of a person within the state of California shall be presumed to have been taken under the jurisdiction of the state.

§ 5. Fish business regulated by state market director. (a) The state market director is hereby vested with jurisdiction to regulate and control the business of buying and selling and otherwise disposing of fresh food fish caught in the waters under the jurisdiction of the state, and the business of buying, selling and disposing of such fresh food fish may not be carried on except in accordance with the provisions of this act.

(b) State markets. The state market director is hereby vested with jurisdiction to open and conduct where, when, and for so long as he deems it advisable, state markets for the buying and selling of fresh food fish, and to rent, lease or purchase plants and equipment necessary for the same, and to use so much of the funds placed at the disposal of the state market director by the act creating the state commission market, approved June 10, 1915, or in the event of the repeal of said act, by the state market commission act, as may be required in establishing and conducting said markets.

(c) Additional powers of state market director. The state market director is hereby vested with full power, authority and jurisdiction to do and perform any and all things, whether herein specifically designated, or in addition thereto, which are necessary or convenient in the exercise of any power, authority or jurisdiction conferred under this act.

§ 6. Maximum prices. (a) The state market director shall, when and where and for so long as he deems it advisable, establish maximum prices to be paid or charged in any particular locality, for food fish of any or all varieties intended for human consumption in its fresh condition, caught in the waters under the jurisdiction of the state:

First—To be paid to those engaged in catching such fish for sale.

Second—To be paid to those engaged in the wholesale fish business.

Third—To be charged to the consumer by retail fish dealers, peddlers or hucksters; and said prices shall be such as will allow, in the judgment of the state market director, a reasonable compensation or profit to those engaged in the catching or selling of such fish.

(b) Changes in prices. The state market director may, at his discretion, from time to time make such changes or withdrawals in the prices authorized in section six (a) hereof, as he may deem necessary.

(c) Unlawful to charge more than lawful price. It shall be unlawful for any person engaged in the business of selling fresh food fish in a particular locality to charge more than the maximum prices authorized for such locality, as provided in section six (a) hereof. Any violation of the provisions of this paragraph, after receipt of notice of maximum prices established in accordance with the provisions of section six (a) of this act, shall be good and sufficient ground for the suspension or revocation by the state market director in his discretion of any license issued under the authority of this act.

(d) Advice on maximum prices. In the exercise of powers under this act, the state market director may confer with parties interested with a view of securing their advice and counsel as to maximum prices to be paid and charged.

§ 7. Consent to destruction or diversion of fish. It shall be unlawful for anyone to destroy, or cause or permit to be destroy any food fish in excess of fifty pounds within one day of twenty-four hours or to divert, or cause or permit to be diverted any food fish to any use other than human consumption, without having first obtained the written consent of the state market director to such destruction or diversion. Consent to such destruction or diversion shall be given only where the applicant establishes to the satisfaction of the state market director that such destruction or diversion is not for the purpose of influencing prices and that reasonable efforts have been made to induce its consumption by the public. Nothing in this section shall be construed to apply:

Fish excepted. First—To the use of food fish by fishermen as bait in the customary manner; and,

Second—To any individual market fisherman who is unable to sell for human consumption fish he has caught and who within forty-eight hours after the destruction or diversion of said fish shall report to the state market director the number of pounds and varieties of fish and how disposed of. The deposit in the United States mail of a written statement of said facts, properly addressed to the state market director and stamped, shall be accepted as a sufficient report.

Third—To food fish in the possession of canners, curers or packers and which are not suitable for their use and which in consequence are destroyed or diverted to use other than human consumption; provided, that within forty-eight hours after the destruction or diversion of any such fish, the person responsible therefor shall report to the state market director the number of pounds and varieties of fish, reason for destruction or diversion and how disposed of. The deposit in the United States mail of a written statement of said facts, properly addressed to the state market director, shall be accepted as a sufficient report.

§ 8. When excessive supply of fish reaches market. In the event of a supply of fresh food fish reaching any market, which supply in the judgment of the state market director is excessive or abnormal:

(a) It shall be the duty of the state market director, in his discretion, to use every means at his command to induce its consumption by the public, including reduction in prices thereon and increased publicity, as hereinafter provided for.

(b) It shall be obligatory on the part of market fishermen and wholesale fish dealers, who find themselves possessed of an excessive supply, to notify the state market director of the fact, and failure to give such notice shall be sufficient grounds for the suspension for a period not exceeding one month, in the discretion of the state market director, of any license issued under the authority of this act.

(c) The state market director may at his option, use the moneys of the state fish exchange fund hereinafter provided for, in purchasing any part or all of an excess of food fish over the amount that can be sold through ordinary channels, and to place same in cold storage, and to resell same to any or all buyers, and any loss or profit in such transactions shall be charged or credited to the state fish exchange fund.

§ 9. License fees. Wholesale fish dealers. Payable in advance. If sales greater or less than amount on which fee based. Every person, individual, partnership, association or corporation, other than market fishermen, engaged in the business of buying and selling fish for consumption in its fresh condition, shall pay to the state a semi-annual license fee, as follows:

First—All retail dealers, dealing exclusively in fish, crustaceans and mollusks, ten dollars.

Second—All retail dealers, handling fish in connection with a retail business, owned by them, in other products than crustaceans and mollusks, and all peddlers and hucksters, five dollars.

Third—All fish brokers and all fish buyers, fifty dollars.

Fourth—All fishermen's organizations selling the catch of their members or agents selling the catch of such fishermen's organizations, fifty dollars.

Fifth—All salesmen or agents representing wholesale fish dealers located outside the state, fifty dollars.

Sixth—All wholesale fish dealers, on the basis of their gross receipts from the sale of fresh food fish, including their sales at branch houses, as follows:

When gross receipts for six months are:

Not in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars, fifty dollars.

Between twenty-five thousand dollars and fifty thousand dollars, seventy-five dollars.

Between fifty thousand dollars and one hundred thousand dollars, one hundred dollars.

Between one hundred thousand dollars and two hundred thousand dollars, one hundred fifty dollars.

Between two hundred thousand dollars and three hundred thousand dollars, two hundred dollars.

More than three hundred thousand dollars, two hundred fifty dollars.

Seventh—All branch houses of wholesale dealers—that is, wholesale dealers operating more than one wholesale establishment—for each branch house, five dollars.

Fees payable by wholesale dealers under paragraph six of this section, as above, shall be due and payable in advance, and shall be based on the applicant's sworn statement as to his gross receipts from the sale of food fish sold for human consumption in its fresh condition, using the corresponding period of the preceding year as a basis. If the applicant did no wholesale business during said corresponding period, a license shall be issued upon payment of a fee of fifty dollars and the execution of a good and satisfactory bond by the applicant to the state market director, guaranteeing the payment of such additional amount as will make the total payable on his actual business during such period equal to the license fee fixed in said paragraph six of this section. If the amount of actual sales of any such dealer for any semi-annual period, for which he has paid license fees in advance, shall be greater or less than the amount on which such license fee was based, he shall at the end of such period, be charged with and shall pay to the state such additional amount as would be due on the basis of actual sales as set forth in paragraph six hereof, if the amount of actual sales be greater than the amount on which license fee was paid; or if the actual sales be less than such amount for any such semi-annual period, he shall, at the end thereof, be credited with the difference between the license fee paid in advance and the fee that would have been due on the basis of actual sales as set forth in paragraph six hereof; but such credit shall be made only on further license fees that may be payable by any such dealer.

§ 10. When payable. For portion of period. License for each place of business. All licenses provided for in this act shall be paid in advance and shall terminate with December thirty-first and June thirtieth, whichever date may first follow the date of issue. A proportionate charge shall be made, according to the number of months covered, for licenses issued for a portion of the semi-annual period, but in no case shall the fee be less than one-half of the semi-annual fee, excepting those issued to wholesale dealers as hereinabove provided in section nine of this act. A separate license shall be required for each place of business from persons owning or operating more than one establishment, except that the sale of fish from a vehicle by the holder of an exclusive retail fish dealer's license shall not require a peddler's license. Persons doing both a wholesale and retail business shall be required to take out both wholesale and retail licenses unless the total receipts of any such person amount to less than ten thousand dollars per annum, and any such person having total receipts of less than ten thousand dollars per annum shall be considered a retail dealer for licenses hereunder.

§ 11. Application. All licenses provided for in this act shall be issued by the state fish exchange hereinafter provided for, upon written application accompanied by proper fee, together with a certificate from the local health authorities, or other satisfactory assurance to the effect that the state and local rules and regulations as to equipment and sanitary conditions have been complied with.

§ 12. Licenses prepared by state controller. The state controller shall prepare suitable license blanks, of the form and class designated by the state market director, which shall purport to license the holder to deal in fish. They shall be numbered consecutively, commencing with one, and shall provide spaces in which to insert the name of the person to whom issued, his business address, and the period covered. The controller shall deliver all licenses to the state market director, who shall thereupon sign and issue them in accordance with the terms of this act.

§ 13. License transferred or assigned. Any license may be transferred or assigned by the holder thereof upon payment of a transfer fee of five dollars; provided, notice shall be given in writing to the state fish exchange, hereinafter provided for, within ten days of such transfer or assignment. In such cases the original license shall be returned to the state fish exchange and canceled and a new license issued in lieu thereof for the unexpired portion of the original license, on payment of the fee named. If notice of transfer or assignment be not given, the license shall be invalid for any other person than the original licensee.

§ 14. Duplicate license. In the event of a license issued under the authority of this act being lost or accidentally destroyed, a duplicate license may be issued by the state fish exchange, hereinafter provided for, upon payment of a fee of five dollars.

§ 15. Display of license. Every license shall be conspicuously displayed in the place of business for which it is issued, or upon request must be shown by any licensee having no established place of business.

§ 16. "State fish exchange" created. To carry out the provisions of this act, there is hereby created a "state fish exchange" as a department of the state commission market, created by chapter seven hundred thirteen of the statutes of nineteen hundred fifteen, approved June 10, 1915, and of the state market commission created by the "state market commission act." The state fish exchange shall have a secretary who shall execute a bond to the people of the state of California in the sum of ten thousand dollars for the faithful performance of his duties. The state market director shall have authority, subject to the state civil service act, to appoint all employees of the state fish exchange necessary to carry out the provisions of this act and shall fix their compensation.

§ 17. Rules and regulations. The state market director shall establish and enforce rules and regulations necessary for the proper carrying out of the provisions of this act, and shall print and distribute the same to all persons applying therefor without charge.

§ 18. "State fish exchange fund." There is hereby created a fund to be known as the "state fish exchange fund." On or before the tenth day of each month, the state fish exchange shall remit to the state treasury all moneys collected by said exchange under this act, during the preceding month. All such remittances shall be placed to the credit of the state fish exchange fund and said fund shall be kept separate and apart from other state moneys. All expenses of whatsoever nature incurred by said exchange pursuant to the provisions of this act, including the actual and necessary traveling and other expenses of its employees incurred while on business of the exchange and including the premium and charge for bonds given by surety companies for employees of the exchange when required by the state market director or by the provisions hereof, shall be paid from the said fund, after approval by the state market director, upon claims to be audited by the state board of control, except as provided in section nineteen of this act.

§ 19. Revolving fund. A revolving fund of five hundred dollars shall be established by the state board of control out of the state fish exchange fund for expenses of the state fish exchange, other than salaries, rent and other regular expenses, and the state market director may expend such revolving fund without first procuring the authority of the board of control, but shall file vouchers therefor monthly with the board of control.

§ 20. Payments to state market commission fund. A sum equaling five per cent of the gross receipts of the state fish exchange shall be paid out of the state fish exchange fund, monthly, to the credit of the state commission market fund or in the event of the repeal of the act creating the state market commission fund, approved June 10, 1915, to the state market commission fund as a commission on the business of the state fish exchange, for services rendered it by the state market director.

§ 21. Educational and publicity campaigns. Any surplus over and above the expenditures of the state fish exchange in the state fish exchange fund shall be expended by said exchange, under the direction of the state market director, in educational and publicity campaigns for the purposes of increasing the consumption of fresh food fish, and of enabling the public to obtain fish at reasonable prices.

§ 22. Fish exempted. Nothing in this act shall be construed as applying to fish bought or sold for canning, curing or packing; or as requiring the payment of license fees by canners, curers, or packers of fish; or to fish caught by other than market fishermen; or to fish sold direct by fishermen to private consumers; or to fish caught in waters within the state privately owned, or to crustaceans or mollusks except that provisions of section seven as to destruction or diversion of food fish shall be of general application.

§ 23. License suspended or revoked. Any license issued under the authority of this act may be suspended or revoked by the state market director in his discretion, as herein provided, or upon evidence that the holder thereof has been or is a violator of the provisions of section six of this act, authorizing the fixing of maximum prices on fish, or of the fish and game laws of the state, as evidenced by conviction in any court of competent jurisdiction; or any such license may be suspended in the discretion of the state market director for a period not to exceed thirty days for any violation of the rules and regulations provided for in section seventeen. Such suspension or revocation shall be made only after due notice of such intention has been given the offender and an opportunity given him to rebut the charge at a formal hearing by the state market director, at which hearing the accused shall be entitled to be represented by attorney.

§ 24. Statement of fish caught. The state market director may require from any person engaged in marketing fish a written statement as to the amount and varieties of fish caught, or on hand, or sold by said person. Failure to furnish such statement on demand shall be good and sufficient grounds for the suspension of license issued under the provisions of this act, at the discretion of the state market director, for a period not exceeding thirty days.

§ 25. Seal. The state fish exchange shall have a seal bearing the inscription "state fish exchange, state of California, seal," which seal shall be affixed to all instruments, including licenses, issued under the provisions of this act.

§ 26. Investigations. (a) The state market director may make investigations concerning all matters relating to the provisions of this act. In connection therewith he shall have the right to inspect the books and records of any person engaged in marketing fish, and the state market director is hereby empowered to hear complaints, administer oaths, certify to all official acts, and to issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers, books, accounts, documents and testimony in any inquiry, investigation, hearing or proceeding in any part of the state.

(b) Subpoenas. The superior court in and for the county, or city and county, in which any inquiry, investigation or proceeding may be held by the state market director, shall have power to compel the attendance of witnesses, the giving of testimony and the production of papers, including books, accounts and documents, as required by any subpoena issued by the state market director. The court upon petition of the state market director shall enter an order directing the witness to appear before the court at a time and place to be fixed by the court in such order, the time to be not more than ten days from the date of the order, and then and there show cause why he had not attended and testified or produced said papers before the state market director. A copy of said order shall be served upon said witness. If it shall appear to the court that said subpoena was regularly issued by the state market director, the court shall thereupon enter an order that said witness appear before the state market director at a time and place to be fixed in such order, and testify or produce the required papers, and upon failure to obey said order, said witness shall be dealt with as for contempt of court.

§ 27. Penalty. Any violation of the provisions of section seven of this act as to destruction or diversion of food fish, of section nine as to licenses required, or of section ten as to license regulations, or of section fifteen requiring licenses to be displayed or shown, shall be a misdemeanor punishable by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or by imprisonment not exceeding ninety days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

§ 28. Suits commenced, when. All prosecutions or suits brought under this act shall be commenced within six months from the time such offense was committed.

§ 29. Annual report. The state market director shall make and submit to the governor, on or before the first day of December of each year, a report containing a full and complete account of the transactions and proceedings of the state fish exchange, for the preceding fiscal year, together with such facts, suggestions and recommendations as may be deemed of value to the people of the state.

§ 30. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

§ 31. Repealed. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

TITLE 541a.

STEAM BOILERS.

ACT 3890.

An act to provide for the periodical inspection of steam boilers, with certain exceptions, operated in this state; requiring a permit, to be issued by the industrial accident commission, for the operation of such boilers; making it a misdemeanor to operate such boilers without such permit; and allowing an injunction against such operation without such permit where dangerous to the life or safety of employees; providing for a hearing before the industrial accident commission prior to refusal of a permit; providing for the determination of competency of inspectors making such inspections and requiring reports of inspections; and prescribing maximum fees for such inspections.

[Approved May 9, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 297. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Permit required to operate steam boiler. Violation. Injunction restraining operation. No steam boiler, unless exempted in the following section, shall be operated in the state of California unless there shall have been issued for the operation of such boiler a permit as hereinafter provided, and unless such permit shall remain in full force and effect. Such permit must be posted under glass in a conspicuous place on or near the boiler covered by it. The violation of this section by any person owning or having the custody, management or operation of such boiler without such permit shall be a misdemeanor and the operation of such boiler without such permit shall constitute a separate offense for each day that it shall be so operated; provided, that no prosecution shall be maintained where the issuance or renewal of such permit shall have been requested and shall remain unacted upon. If the operation of such boiler without such permit shall constitute a serious menace to the lives or safety of persons employed about it, the industrial accident commission, a commissioner or any safety inspector thereof, or any person affected thereby, may apply to the superior court of the county in which such boiler is situated for an injunction restraining the operation of said boiler until such condition shall be corrected or such permit secured. The certification of the industrial accident commission that no permit exists for the operation of such boiler, and the affidavit of any such inspector that its operation constitutes a menace to the life or safety of any person or persons employed about it, shall be sufficient proof to warrant the immediate granting of a temporary restraining order.

§ 2. Boilers exempt. The following boilers are exempt from the provisions of this act:

(1) Boilers under the jurisdiction or inspection of the United States government, and all other boilers operated by employers not subject to the workmen's compensation, insurance and safety act of 1917, and acts amendatory thereof.

(2) Boilers of twelve horse-power or less, on which the pressure does not exceed fifteen pounds per square inch.

(3) Automobile boilers and boilers on road motor vehicles.

§ 3. Inspection of steam boilers. Hearing. Temporary permits. The industrial accident commission shall cause to be inspected, internally and externally, not less frequently than once in each year, every steam boiler subject to the provisions of this act. If such boiler be found upon such inspection to be in a safe condition for operation, a permit shall be issued by the commission for its operation for not longer than one year, which shall be the permit referred to in section one of this act. If any such inspection shall show such boiler to be in an unsafe or dangerous condition, the commission, or a commissioner, may issue a preliminary order requiring such repairs or alterations to be made to such boiler as may be necessary to render it safe, and may order the use of such boiler discontinued until such repairs or alterations are made or such dangerous or unsafe conditions are remedied. Unless such preliminary order be complied with, a hearing before the commission, a commissioner or referee of such commission, shall be allowed, upon request, at which the owner, operator or other person in charge of said boiler shall have opportunity to appear and show cause why he should not comply with said order. If it shall thereafter appear to the commission that such boiler is unsafe and that the requirements contained in such preliminary order should be complied with, or that other things should be done to make said boiler safe, the commission may order or confirm the withholding of the permit to operate said boiler, and may make such requirements as it deems proper for the repair or alteration of said boiler, or the correction of such dangerous and unsafe conditions. Such order may thereafter be reheard by the commission, or reviewed by the courts, in the manner specified by the workmen's compensation, insurance and safety act of 1917 for safety orders, and not otherwise. It may also, in its discretion, issue and renew temporary permits for not to exceed thirty days each, pending the making of replacements or repairs. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to limit the authority of the commission to prescribe or enforce general or special safety orders.

§ 4. Who may inspect. Certificate of competency. The commission may cause the inspection herein provided for to be made either by its safety inspectors or by any qualified boiler inspector employed by any county, city and county, city, or insurance company, or by any boiler inspector employed by any person or corporation for the purpose of testing his own boilers only; provided, that such persons making inspections other than such safety inspectors shall first secure from the said industrial accident commission a certificate of competency to make such inspections. The industrial accident commission is hereby vested with full power and authority to determine the competency of any applicants for such certificate, either by examination or by other satisfactory proof of qualifications. The commission may rescind at any time, upon good cause being shown therefor, any certificate of competency issued by it to a boiler inspector, or may at any time, upon good cause being shown therefor, and after notice and an opportunity to be heard, revoke any permit to operate such steam boiler.

§ 5. Fees. The industrial accident commission shall fix and collect fees for the inspection of steam boilers covered by this act, not exceeding two dollars and fifty cents for each external inspection and seven dollars and fifty cents for each internal inspection per annum. Such fees must be paid before the issuance of any permit to operate the said boiler. No fee shall be charged by the industrial accident commission where an inspection, as herein provided, has been made by an inspector holding a certificate of competency from said commission and employed by any county, city and county, city, insurance company, or by any person or corporation for the purpose of testing his own boilers only. All fees collected by the commission under this act shall be paid into the accident prevention fund.

§ 6. Report of inspection. Every inspector so certified shall forward to the commission on the forms provided by it, within twenty-one days after such inspection is made, a report of such inspection, in default of which the certificate of competency may be canceled.

TITLE 547.

STREETS.

ACT 3932.

An act to provide a system of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost of street work and improvements within municipalities, and also for the payment of such bonds.

[Approved February 27, 1893. Stats. 1893, p. 33.]

Amended 1899, p. 40; 1911, p. 1201; 1913, pp. 351, 845; 1917, p. 160.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 4. Street superintendent to certify unpaid assessments. Sufficient description of land. Street improvement bonds. After the full expiration of thirty days from the date of the warrant, or if an appeal be taken to the city council, or an extension of time be granted the contractor in which to make his return as provided in section ten of said street work act, then five days after the final decision of said city council, or the expiration of the extension, or after the full expiration of thirty days from the recording of a reassessment in the event that such be made, and after the street superintendent shall have recorded the return, and in the event that a reassessment is ordered, after all previous payments have been credited on the reassessment, the street superintendent shall make and certify to the city treasurer a complete list of all assessments unpaid, which amount to twenty-five dollars or over upon any assessment or diagram number; and said treasurer shall thereupon make out, sign and issue to the contractor, or his assigns, payee of the warrant and assessment, a separate bond, representing upon each lot or parcel of land upon said list the total amount of the assessments or reassessments as the case may be, against the same as thereon shown. And if said lot or parcel of land is described upon said assessment and diagram by its number or block, or both, upon the official map of said municipality, or upon any map on file in the office of the county recorder of the county in which said municipality is situated, then it shall be in said bond a sufficient description of said lot or parcel of land to designate it by said number or block, or both, as it appears on said official or recorded map. Said bond shall be substantially in the following form:

STREET IMPROVEMENT BOND.

Series (designating it) in the city (or other form of municipality) of (naming it).

$—— No. ——.

Under and by virtue of an act of the legislature of the state of California (title of said act), I, out of the fund for the above designated street improvement bonds, series ——, will pay to ——, or order, the sum of —— dollars, ($——), with interest at the rate of —— per cent per annum, all as hereinafter specified, and at the office of the treasurer of the —— of ——, state of California.

This bond is issued to represent the cost of certain street work upon —— in the —— of——, as the same is more fully described in assessment No. ——, issued by the street superintendent of said ——, after acceptance of said work, and recorded in his office (or if there has been a reassessment then the reference shall be to such reassessment). Its amount is the amount assessed in said assessment (or reasessment if such be made) against the lot or parcel of land numbered therein, and in the diagram attached thereto, as No. ——, and which now remains unpaid, but until paid, with accrued interest, is a first lien upon the property affected thereby, as the same is described herein, and in said recorded assessment with its diagram, to wit:

That certain lot or parcel of land in said —— of —— county of —— and state of California, described as follows:

This bond is payable exclusively from said fund and neither the municipality nor any officer thereof is to be holden for payment otherwise for its principal or interest. The term of this bond is —— years from the second day of January next succeeding its date, and at the expiration of said time the whole sum then unpaid shall be due and payable; but on the second day of January of each year after its date an even annual proportion of its whole amount is due and payable upon presentation of the coupon therefor until the whole is paid (or if said bonds are to extend over a period exceeding ten years from their date, insert in place of the last statement the following: But on the second day of January of each of the last ten years of the term of this bond an even one-tenth part of the whole amount of the principal of said bond shall be due and payable upon presentation of the coupon therefor), with all accrued interest at the rate of —— per centum per annum. The interest is payable semi-annually, to wit: on the second days of January and July in each year hereafter, upon presentation of the coupons therefor, the first of which is for the interest from date to the next second day of ——, and thereafter the interest coupons are for semi-annual interest. Should default be made in the annual payment upon the principal, or in any payment of interest, by the owner of said lot or parcel of land, or anyone in his behalf, the holder of this bond is entitled to declare the whole unpaid amount to be due and payable and to have said lot or parcel of land advertised and sold forthwith, in the manner provided by law.

At said —— of ——, this —— day of ——, in the year one thousand nine hundred ——.

—— ——,

City treasurer of the —— of ——.

In case the amount of the unpaid assessment or reassessment upon any lot or parcel of land shall be less than twenty-five dollars, then the same shall be collected as is provided in said street work act. If any person, or his authorized agent, shall at any time before the issuance of the bond for said assessment or reassessment upon his lot or parcel of land present to the city treasurer his affidavit made before a competent officer, that he is the owner of a lot or parcel of land in said list, accompanied by the certificate of a searcher of records that he is such owner of record, and shall with such affidavit and certificate notify said treasurer in writing that he desires no bond to be issued for the assessment upon said lot or parcel of land, then no such bond shall be issued therefor and the payee of the warrant, or his assigns, shall retain his right for enforcing collection of said assessment or reassessment as if said lot or parcel of land had not been so listed by the street superintendent. The bonds so issued by said treasurer shall be payable to the party to whom they issue, or order, and shall be serial bonds, as is hereinbefore described, and shall bear interest at the rate specified in the resolution of intention to do said work. They shall have annual coupons attached thereto, payable in annual order on the second day of January in each year after the date of the bonds until all are paid, or if the term of said bonds be more than ten years, then said coupons shall be payable on the second day of January of each of the last ten years of the term of the bonds; and each coupon shall be for an even annual proportion of the principal of the bond. They shall have semi-annual interest coupons thereto attached, the first of which shall be payable upon the second day of January or July, as the case may be.

next after its date, and shall be for the interest accrued at that time, and the rest of which shall be for the semi-annual interest accruing from the second day of January or July, as the case may be. The owner of, or any person interested in, any lot or parcel of land upon which a bond has been issued, under the terms of this act, may at any time pay off such bond and discharge his land from the lien of the assessment, by paying to the city treasurer for the holder of such bond the amount then unpaid on the principal sum thereof, and all interest thereon which has accrued and is unpaid, together with the semi-annual installment of interest which will next become due thereafter, and in addition thereto, interest for six months at the rate specified in the bond upon the unpaid amount of the principal. The treasurer shall thereupon make an entry upon his bond register that such bond has been paid in full. When all the coupons of principal and interest are paid or the bond is surrendered or satisfied, the city treasurer shall report the fact to the street superintendent, who shall forthwith indorse the same on the margin of the record of the assessment to the credit of which the same is paid. The assessment upon which a bond is issued shall be a first lien upon the property affected thereby until the bond issued for the payment thereof and the accrued interest thereon shall be fully paid. Said bonds by their issuance shall be conclusive evidence of the regularity of all proceedings leading up thereto under said street work act and under this act, and of the validity of said lien. [Amendment approved April 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 160.]

An act to provide for the issuance of improvement bonds to represent and be secured by certain assessments made for the cost of certain work and improvements made in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, to provide for the collection of such assessments, the sale of the property affected thereby and for the payment of the bonds so issued.

§ 3. Bonds payable when and where. Interest. Redemption fund. Register. Said bonds shall be issued in series and an even annual proportion of the aggregate principal sum thereof shall be payable on the second day of July every year succeeding the first nine months after their date, until the whole is paid, and the said bonds shall bear interest at a rate of not to exceed eight per cent per annum from the date of filing with the clerk of the street superintendent's list of unpaid assessments, on all sums unpaid, until the whole of said principal sum and interest are paid, which interest shall be payable semi-annually by coupon, on the second days of January and July, respectively of each year; provided, that the first payment of interest shall not come due till six months before the maturity of the first series of bonds. The final series or installment of said bonds shall mature and be payable on a date which shall not exceed fourteen years from the second day of July next succeeding nine months from their date. Said bonds and interest shall be paid at the office of the city treasurer of said municipality who shall keep a redemption fund designated by the name of said bonds, into which he shall place all sums received by him from the collection of the assessments made for the payment of the cost of the work or improvements upon which the said bonds are issued, and of the interest and penalties thereon and from which fund he shall disburse and pay the said bonds and the interest due thereon upon presentation of the proper bonds and coupons; and under no circumstances shall said bonds or the interest thereon be paid out of any other fund. Said city treasurer shall keep a register in his office which shall show the series, number, date, amount, rate of interest, and last known holder of each bond, and the number and amount of each coupon of interest paid by him, and shall cancel and file each bond and coupon so paid. [Amendment approved May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 209.]

§ 4. Resolution of intention. When said city council shall determine that serial bonds shall be issued hereunder to represent the expense of any proposed work or improvement under said street work act it shall so declare in the resolution of intention to do said work and shall specify the rate of interest which they shall bear. The like description of said bonds shall be inserted in the resolution ordering the work, in the resolution of award and in all notices of said proceedings required by said act to be either posted or published, and also a like notice shall be entered in any warrant issued by the superintendent of streets to the contractor. Said bond declaration may be substantially in the following form: "Notice is hereby given that serial bonds to represent unpaid assessments, and bear interest at the rate of —— per cent per annum, will be issued hereunder in the manner provided by the improvement bond act of 1915, the last installment of which bonds shall mature —— years from the second day of July next succeeding nine months from their date." [Amendment approved May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 210.]

§ 5. Street superintendent to file list of unpaid assessments. Notice of hearing. Objections. Advertisement for bids. Award to highest bidder. After the full expiration of thirty (30) days from the date of the warrant, or if an appeal be taken to the city council as provided in said street work act, then five (5) days after the final decision of said council, and after the street superintendent shall have recorded the return, the street superintendent shall make and file with the clerk of the city council a complete list of all assessments unpaid, upon any assessment or diagram number. Said clerk shall then give notice of the filing of said list and of a time, to be therein fixed by said clerk, when interested persons may appear before the city council and show cause why bonds should not be issued upon the security of the unpaid assessments shown on said list, which time shall be that of some regular meeting of said council. Such notice shall be posted for not less than five days on or near the council chamber door and be published twice in a newspaper published in such city, if there be any, the first of which publications shall be not less than five days before the time fixed for such hearing. Reference shall therein be made to the resolution of intention and the date of its passage for a description of the work therein mentioned and no other description thereof shall be necessary. The council shall hear any objection presented and shall pass upon the same and shall thereupon determine the assessments which are unpaid and the aggregate amount of same. It may adjourn the hearing from time to time. Its decision shall be final. The city council shall then prescribe the denominations of such bonds, which shall be in convenient amounts not necessarily equal, and shall provide for issuance of same in annual series. Said bonds must be sold at a time to be fixed by the council, and to the highest bidder therefor, but for not less than par and accrued interest, and the proceeds of the sale shall be deposited in the city treasury. Before selling said bonds, or any part thereof, the city council must advertise for bids therefor, by publication once a week for at least two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the city, or if there is no such newspaper published in the city then by notice of sale, posted for at least two weeks on or near the council chamber door of said city. If satisfactory bids are received the bonds offered for sale must be awarded to the highest bidder. If no such bids are received or the council determines that the bids received are not satisfactory as to price or responsibility of the bidders the council may reject all bids received, if any, and either readvertise or deliver said bonds to the contractor in satisfaction of the sum due him upon his assessment and warrant. From the proceeds of any sale of said bonds, there shall be paid to such contractor the balance due him upon his assessment and warrant including interest upon the principal amount thereof at the rate specified in said bond declaration computed from the date of filing of said unpaid assessment list, and the surplus of such proceeds shall be credited to the redemption fund for the payment of such bonds. The cost of such publications shall be paid from such redemption fund. [Amendment approved May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 211.]

§ 6. Form of bond. Said bonds shall each be substantially in the following form:

IMPROVEMENT BOND.

City (or other form of municipality) of (naming it).

$—— No. ——

Under and by virtue of the act of the legislature of the state of California, entitled (title of this act) the —— of —— (a municipal corporation) will on the second day of July, 19—, out of the redemption fund for the payment of the bonds issued upon the assessments made for the work upon and improvements on certain streets (or on —— street, or in improvement district No. ——, or on certain rights of way owned by, or by other suitable description), more fully described in the certain resolution of intention passed by the city council (or other board) of said municipality on the —— day of ——, 19—, pay to bearer, the sum of —— dollars ($——) with interest thereon from the —— day of ——, 19— at the rate of —— per cent per annum, all as is hereinafter specified, and at the office of the treasurer of said municipality.

This bond is one of several annual series of bonds of like date, tenor and effect, but differing in amounts and maturities, issued by said municipality under said act for the purpose of providing means for paying for the work and improvements described in said resolution of intention, and is secured by the moneys in said redemption fund and by the unpaid assessments made for the payment of said work, and, including principal and interest, is payable exclusively out of said fund.

The interest is payable semi-annually, to wit: On the second days of January and July in each year hereafter, upon presentation of the proper coupons therefor; provided, that the first of said coupons is for the interest to the second day of January, 19—, and thereafter the interest coupons are for the semi-annual interest.

This bond will continue to bear interest after maturity at the rate above stated; provided, it is presented at maturity and payment thereof is refused upon the sole ground that there is not sufficient moneys in said redemption fund with which to pay same. If it is not presented at maturity interest thereon will run until maturity.

This bond may be redeemed and paid in advance of maturity upon the second day of July in any year by giving the notice provided in said act.

In witness whereof, said —— of —— has caused this bond to be signed by the treasurer of said —— and by its clerk and has caused its clerk to affix thereto its corporate seal all on the —— day of ——, 19—.

—— ——,
Treasurer.

—— ——,
(Seal) Clerk.

[Amendment approved May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 212.]

§ 7. The coupons affixed to said bonds shall be signed by the treasurer, and the city council may by order provided in its discretion for the use upon said coupons of an engraved, printed or lithographed signature of the treasurer in place of a signature by hand. The bonds shall have semi-annual coupons attached thereto, the first of which shall be payable upon the second day of January next before the maturity of the first series of bonds coming due, and shall be for the interest accrued at that time. [Amendment approved May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 213.]

§ 12. Assessments payable in installments. Sale of land on default of payment. Purchase by city. State to purchase when. Such unpaid assessments shall be payable in annual series, corresponding in number to the number of series of bonds issued and an even annual proportion of each assessment shall be payable in each year preceding the date of maturity of each of the several series of bonds so issued. Such annual proportion of each assessment coming due in any year, together with the annual interest on such assessment, shall in turn be payable in annual or semi-annual installments according as the general municipal taxes of such city on real property are payable in annual or semi-annual installments, and such installments and said annual interest shall be payable and become delinquent at the same times and in the same proportionate amounts and bear the same proportionate penalties and interest after delinquency as to the general municipal taxes on real property of said city. Upon default in payment, the lands securing such installments and assessments shall be sold in the same manner in which real property in such city is sold, for the nonpayment of general municipal taxes, and be subject to redemption in the same manner as such real property is redeemed from such delinquent sale, and upon failure of redemption shall in like manner pass to the purchaser. The city may be the purchaser at any delinquent sale in like manner in which it becomes or may become the purchaser of property sold for nonpayment of the general municipal property tax, and in the event of its so becoming the purchaser shall pay and transfer into said redemption fund the amount of the delinquent assessment and of the delinquent interest thereon upon which said sale is made. In cases where the municipal property tax is collected by county or city and county officials and sales for nonpayment of such taxes are made to the state, the state shall be the purchaser at any such sale hereunder, but shall hold the title acquired at such sale upon behalf of the city and shall account to the city for any moneys received upon redemption or from the sale of such property, the city for the purposes of this act being deemed the real purchaser. In other cases where under the law, the city is not always the purchaser at sales for delinquent municipal taxes, the city shall become such purchaser at any delinquent sale hereunder where there is no other purchaser. In the event of there being no available funds in the treasury with which to make such payment, the tax collector shall delay the entry of the certificate of sale until such funds are available, making demand in the meantime upon the city council that a suitable amount be included in the next tax levy for the purpose of providing funds with which to make such payment; provided, however, that the period of redemption from such tax sale shall not be extended thereby nor the rights or privileges of the property owner be thereby in any wise affected. In the event of such purchase being made by the city and of any succeeding installment of such assessment or of such interest not being paid in any future year, the property shall not be sold unless there has previously been a redemption from such sale or unless under the law it is being then sold for delinquent taxes. The city shall nevertheless from time to time when due pay and transfer into said redemption fund the amount of any such future delinquent assessment and interest pending redemption, and no redemption shall be made until any such subsequent payments, with interest and penalties, shall also be paid. [Amendment approved May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 213.]

ACT 3937c.

An act to provide for the establishment and change of grade of public streets, lands, alleys, courts, places and rights of ways in municipalities, and providing for the improvement thereof, in cases where any damage to private property would result from such improvement, and for the assessment of the costs, damages and expenses thereof upon the property benefited thereby, and to provide a system of local improvement bonds to represent the assessments for the costs, damages and expenses of such improvement, and for the payment and effect of such bonds.

Amended 1915, p. 1217; 1917, p. 970.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

The title of the act was amended to read as follows:

An act to provide for the establishment and change of grade of public streets, lanes, alleys, courts, places and rights of way, and of any of the following avenues of public travel, namely, tunnels, subways, viaducts, bridges or independent subterranean ways in municipalities and providing for the construction or improvement thereof, in cases where any damage to private property would result from such improvement, and for the assessment of the costs, damages and expenses thereof upon the property benefited thereby, and to provide a system of local improvement bonds to represent the assessments for the costs, damages and expenses of such improvement, and for the payment and effect of such bonds.

The balance of the amendment is as follows:

§ 1. City may establish and change street grade, etc. Official grade already established. Whenever the public interest or convenience may require, the legislative body of any city is hereby empowered to establish or change or modify the grade of any public street, avenue, lane, alley, court, place or right of way in said city, or any portion thereof, and also the grade of the roadway of any of the following avenues of public travel, namely, tunnels, subways, viaducts, bridges or independent subterranean ways, in, on, under, over or through any public street, avenue, lane, alley, court, place or other land of the city, or in, on, under, over or through any land in which and where the city may then have an easement or right of way therefor; and in any case when or where, in the opinion of said legislative body, any damage to private property would result from the improvement thereof, to order the whole or any part, either in length or width, of such public street, avenue, lane, alley, court, place or right of way or other land of the city, in which and where the city may then have an easement or right of way therefor, to be improved to conform to such official grade by grading or regrading, paving or repaving, planking or replanking, macadamizing or remacadamizing, piling or repiling, capping or recapping, graveling or regraveling, oiling or reoiling, sewering or resewering, sidewalking or residewalking, curbing or recurbing, guttering or reguttering, or by the construction, reconstruction or repair of manholes, culverts, cesspools, conduits, crosswalks, steps, parking or parkways. or by the construction, reconstruction or repair of poles, posts, wires, conduits, lamps and other appurtenances for the lighting thereof; and also in any case where, in the opinion of said legislative body, any damage to private property would result from the construction, reconstruction or repair thereof, to order the construction, reconstruction or repair of any of the following avenues of public travel, namely, tunnels, subways, viaducts, bridges or independent subterranean ways, together with approaches thereto, and all appurtenances therefor, in, on, under, over or through any public street, avenue, lane, alley, court, place or other land of the city, or in, on, under, over or through any land in which and where the city has an easement or right of way therefor, to the grade established for the roadway of such tunnel, subway, viaduct, bridge or independent subterranean way, and order the construction, reconstruction or repair of stormwater ditches or tunnels, or breakwaters, levees or walls of rock, or other materials, culverts, manholes, cesspools, conduits, subways, retaining walls, sewers, ditches, drains and channels for sanitary and drainage purposes, or either or both thereof, with necessary outlets, catch-basins, flush-tanks, septic tanks, connecting sewers and other appurtenances, to protect the streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places or rights of way, or any of the following avenues of public travel, namely, tunnels, subways, viaducts, bridges or independent subterranean ways which may be constructed as hereinabove provided, from overflow or injury by water or otherwise; and to order the doing of any other work which shall be necessary to improve the whole, or any portion of such street, avenue, lane, alley, court, place or other land of the city, or any of the following avenues of public travel, namely, tunnels, subways, viaducts, bridges or independent subterranean ways which may have been constructed, or which shall be constructed, under the proceedings provided in this act. This act shall apply equally in cases where the official grade of any public street, avenue, lane, alley, court, place or right of way, or of the roadway of any of the following avenues of public travel, namely, tunnels, subways, viaducts, bridges or independent subterranean ways, in, on, under, over or through any public street, avenue, lane, alley, court, place or other land of the city, or in, on, under, over or through any land in which and where the city may then have an easement or right of way therefor has previously been established or changed, and where such grade is established, modified or changed in whole or in part by the same proceedings by which the improvement is ordered, if in the opinion of the legislative body of the city, damage will result to private property from the making of the improvement contemplated by the proceedings. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 971.]

§ 2. Resolution of intention. Boundaries of district. Before ordering any establishment, change, or modification of grade, or any improvement described in section one hereof, the said legislative body shall pass an ordinance or resolution, declaring its intention so to do, and that, in its opinion, damage to private property would result from such improvement, designating the proposed grade, describing the proposed improvement, fixing the time and place for the hearing of protests in relation thereto by said legislative body, which shall be not less than thirty days from the date of the passage of said ordinance or resolution of intention, and specifying the exterior boundaries of the district of land to be benefited by said improvement, and to be specially assessed to pay the costs and expenses thereof, and the damages caused by said improvement, which shall be known as the assessment district. Such legislative body may include in one improvement, under one ordinance or resolution of intention and order and under one contract, the grade of all or any portion of one or more streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, rights of way or other land of the city, or land in which and where the city has an easement or right of way, established, changed, or modified, and the grade of the roadway of any of the following avenues of public travel, namely, tunnels, subways, viaducts, bridges or independent subterranean ways, in, on, under, over or through any portion of any of said streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, rights of way or other land of the city, or land in which and where the city has an easement or right of way, established, changed or modified, and the construction of any one or more or all of the different kinds of work enumerated in section one hereof, upon the same or any part or portion thereof, and may exclude therefrom any of such work already done. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 972.]

§ 3. Ordinance posted and published. Publication of notice. Notice mailed property owner. Form of notice. "Unknown owners." Clerk's affidavit. Said ordinance or resolution of intention shall be conspicuously posted for two days on or near the chamber door of said legislative body and published by two insertions in a daily or weekly newspaper published and circulated in said city, and designated by said legislative body for the purpose. If no such newspaper be so published and circulated in said city, such posting of said ordinance or resolution of intention shall be sufficient. The superintendent of streets shall thereupon cause to be conspicuously posted along all streets and parts of streets or other public places or rights of way, or along any land of the city or land in, on, under or over which the city has an easement or right of way where any work is to be done or improvement made, or in, on, under or over which any tunnel, subway, viaduct, bridge or independent subterranean way is to be constructed, at not more than three hundred feet apart, notices (not less than three in all) of the passage of such ordinance or resolution. Said notices shall be headed "Notice of street work" in letters not less than one inch in length, shall be in legible characters, and shall state the fact and date of the passage of said ordinance or resolution of intention, and the time and place fixed for the hearing of protests, and notify all persons interested to appear at said time and place with their objections to said improvement, if any they have, and briefly describe the proposed improvement in general terms, and refer to the ordinance or resolution of intention for further particulars. He shall also cause a notice of similar substance to be published by two insertions in a daily newspaper published and circulated in said city, or, if there be no such daily newspaper, then by two successive insertions in a weekly or semi-weekly newspaper so published and circulated. If no such newspaper be so published and circulated in said city such notice shall also be posted on or near the chamber door of the legislative body of said city, and in two other public places in said city. Such posting and publication shall be completed at least ten days before the day set for the hearing of protests. The city clerk shall immediately upon the passage of said ordinance or resolution of intention mail, postage prepaid, to each property owner in the district to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses of the improvement, at his last known address as the same appears on the tax-rolls of said city, or, where no address so appears, to the general delivery, a postal card, containing a notice, which shall be substantially in the following form (filling blanks):

You are hereby notified that on the —— day of ——, 19—, the legislative body of the city of ——, California, by virtue of the street improvement act of 1913, passed an ordinance (resolution) of intention numbered ——, for the improvement of —— street between —— and —— street. The time for filing protests will expire on the —— day of ——, 19—, and protests will be heard on the —— day of ——, 19—, at the hour of —— in the council chamber of said city.

Property belonging to you is within the assessment district for said improvement, and will be assessed therefor. For further information you are referred to said ordinance, and to the maps, profiles, plans and specifications on file in the office of the city engineer (or city clerk).

——, ——,

City Clerk.

If any lots or parcels of land in the assessment district be assessed to "unknown owners" on the tax-rolls of said city, no such postal cards need be mailed to the owners thereof.

The city clerk shall, upon the completion of the mailing of said postal cards, file in the office of the superintendent of streets an affidavit setting forth the time and manner of his compliance with this requirement; provided, that the failure of the city clerk to mail said cards, or the failure of the property owners, or any of them, to receive the same, or the failure of the superintendent of streets to post the said notices of street work, or to post proper notices thereof, shall in no wise affect the validity of the proceedings or prevent the legislative body from acquiring jurisdiction to order the said improvement; provided, however, that the city council may require affidavits to be filed showing the posting and mailing of said notices before it adopts the ordinance or resolution ordering the improvement. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 973.]

§ 5. Jurisdiction to order improvements. If no protests are filed at or before the time fixed for the hearing thereof by the ordinance or resolution of intention, or if protests are filed, and after hearing are denied, as above provided, the legislative body shall have jurisdiction to order the establishment, change or modification of grade or other improvement described in the ordinance or resolution of intention. Having acquired such jurisdiction, it shall by ordinance or resolution order the establishment, change or modification of grade or such other improvement to be made, and refer the same to the commission hereinafter provided for, to estimate the damages caused thereby, and report an assessment of said damages, and of all costs and expenses of the improvement, on the property benefited thereby. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 975.]

§ 46. Definitions. The following words and phrases shall, where used in this act, have the following meaning:

1. "Improvement." The term "improvement" includes all work, construction, reconstruction and improvements mentioned in section one of this act.

2. "City." The term "city" includes every incorporated city, city and county, or other corporation organized for municipal purposes.

3. "City treasurer." The term "city treasurer" includes any officer who has charge and makes payment of the city funds.

4. "Superintendent of streets." The term "superintendent of streets" includes any officer or board whose duty it is by law to have the care or charge of streets or the improvement thereof in any city. In any city where there is no superintendent of streets, or such board, the legislative body is hereby authorized to designate some other officer of the city, or other person, to perform the duties imposed by this act on the superintendent of streets, and all of the provisions hereof applicable to the superintendent of streets shall apply to the officer so designated.

5. "Owner." The term "owner" or the term "any person interested" is deemed to be the person owning the fee, or the person in whom on the day any protest is filed, the legal title to real property appears by deeds duly recorded in the county recorder's office of the county in which said city is situate; or any person in possession of real property as the executor, administrator, trustee under an express trust, guardian or other legal representative of the owner, or any person in possession of real property under written contract of purchase, duly recorded.

§ 6. "Incidental expenses." The term "incidental expenses" shall be held to mean and include all the necessary expenses and disbursements of the commission, the cost of making the assessment, and all expenses necessarily incurred by the city in connection with the proposed improvement for maps, diagrams, plans, surveys, the mailing of any notices, and other matters incident thereto.

7. "Delinquency." The term "delinquency" as herein used shall mean delinquency in the payment of an assessment made under the provisions of this act, and the expression "time of delinquency" shall mean the time in this act fixed when assessments become delinquent. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 975.]

TITLE 556.

SURVEYOR-GENERAL.

ACT 3988.

An act providing for the regulation of land titles, and giving the surveyor-general certain powers in respect thereto.

[Approved June 1, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1668.]

§ 1. Surveyor-general to investigate land titles. The surveyor-general, or a deputy of his department, may not more often than once in two years, visit the various counties of the state and inspect and investigate conditions in respect to land titles. He shall annually report to the governor and shall, prior to each regular session, report to the legislature, making such recommendations as he shall deem proper and necessary. He is hereby authorized to consult with and to advise county registrars of land titles and to make such suggestions and recommendations to the county registrars of land titles as he may deem desirable.

§ 2. Uniform blank forms. The surveyor-general or deputy may prepare and recommend for the use of the county registrars of land titles and applicants for registration of land titles and of the courts hearing such applications, uniform blank forms to be used throughout the state.

TITLE 563.

TAXATION.

ACT 4035b.

An act to establish a tax on gifts, legacies, inheritances, bequests, devises, successions and transfers, to provide for its collection and to direct the disposition of its proceeds; to provide for the enforcement of liens created by this act and by any act hereby repealed and for suits to quiet title against claims of liens arising hereunder or under an act hereby repealed, to be known as the "Inheritance Tax Act"; to repeal an act entitled "An act to establish a tax on gifts, legacies, inheritances, bequests, devises, successions and transfers, to provide for its collection, and to direct the disposition of its proceeds; to provide for the enforcement of liens created by this act and for suits to quiet title against claims of liens, arising hereunder; to repeal an act entitled 'An act to establish a tax on gifts, legacies, inheritances, bequests, devises, successions and transfers; to provide for its collection, and to direct the disposition of its proceeds; to provide for the enforcement of liens created by this act and for suits to quiet title against claims of liens arising hereunder'; to repeal an act entitled 'An act to establish a tax on collateral inheritances, bequests, and devises, to provide for the collection and to direct the disposition of its proceeds,' approved March 23, 1893, and all amendments thereto, and to repeal all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act, approved March 20, 1905, and all amendments thereto, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act," approved April 7, 1911. [Approved June 16, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 1066.]

Amended 1915, pp. 418, 435.

Repealed May 23, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 880. See next act.

ACT 4035c.

An act to establish a tax on gifts, legacies, inheritances, bequests, devises, successions and transfers, to provide for its collection and to direct the disposition of its proceeds; to provide for the enforcement of liens created by this act and by any act hereby repealed and for suits to quiet title against claims of liens arising hereunder, or under an act hereby repealed, to be known as the "inheritance tax act"; and to repeal chapter five hundred ninety-five of the laws of the session of the legislature of California of 1913, approved June 16, 1913, known as the "inheritance tax act," and all amendments thereto, and to repeal all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act.

[Approved May 23, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 880. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Title. (1) This act shall be known as the "inheritance tax act."

(2) "Estate" and "property." Wife's share of community property exempted. The words "estate" and "property" as used in this act shall be taken to mean the real and personal property or interest therein of the testator, intestate, grantor, bargainor, vendor, or donor passing or transferred to individual legatees, devisees, heir, next of kin, grantees, donees, vendees, or successors, and shall include all personal property within or without the state; provided, that for the purpose of this act the one-half of the community property which goes to the surviving wife on the death of the husband, under the provisions of section one thousand four hundred two of the Civil Code, shall not be deemed to pass to her as heir to her husband, but shall, for the purpose of this act, be deemed to go, pass, or be transferred to her for valuable and adequate consideration and her said one-half of the community shall not be subject to the provisions of this act; provided, further, that in case of a transfer of community property from the husband to the wife, within the meaning of subdivisions (3) or (5) of section two of this act, one-half of the community property so transferred shall not be subject to the provisions of this act; and provided, further, that the presumption that property acquired by either husband or wife after marriage is community property, shall not obtain for the purpose of this act as against any claim by the state for the tax hereby imposed; but the burden of proving such property to be community property shall rest upon the person claiming the same to be community property.

(3) "Transfer." The word "transfer" as used in this act shall be taken to include the passing of property or any interest therein, in possession or enjoyment, present or future, by inheritance, descent, devise, succession, bequest, grant, deed, bargin, sale, gift, or appointment in the manner herein described.

(4) "Decedent." The word "decedent" as used in this act shall include the testator, intestate, grantor, bargainor, vendor, or donor.

(5) "County treasurer" and "inheritance tax appraiser." The words "county treasurer" and "inheritance tax appraiser," as used in this act, shall be taken to mean the treasurer or the inheritance tax appraiser of the county of the superior court having jurisdiction as provided in section fifteen of this act.

§ 2. Tax on transfer of property, when. A tax shall be and is hereby imposed upon the transfer of any property, real, personal, or mixed, or of any interest therein or income therefrom in trust or otherwise, to persons, institutions or corporations, not hereinafter exempted, to be paid to the treasurer of the proper county, as hereinafter directed, for the use of the state, said taxes to be upon the market value of such property at the rates hereinafter prescribed and only upon the excess over the exemptions hereinafter granted, in the following cases:

(1) When the transfer is by will or by the intestate or homestead laws of this state, from any person dying seized or possessed of the property while a resident of the state, or by any order of court setting apart property pursuant to article one, chapter five, title eleven, part three of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(2) Tax on transfer of property, when. When the transfer is by will or intestate laws of property within this state and the decedent was a nonresident of the state at the time of his death, or by any order of court setting apart property pursuant to article one, chapter five, title eleven, part three of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(3) When the transfer is of property made by a resident, or by a nonresident when such nonresident's property is within this state, by deed, grant, bargain, sale, assignment or gift, made without valuable and adequate consideration (i. e., a consideration equal in money or in money's worth to the full value of the property transferred):

(a) Transfer in contemplation of death. In contemplation of the death of the grantor, vendor, assignor or donor, or,

(b) Intended to take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after such death.

When such person, institution or corporation becomes beneficially entitled in possession or expectancy to any property or the income therefrom, by any such transfer, whether made before or after the passage of this act.

(4) The words "contemplation of death," as used in this act, shall be taken to include that expectancy of death which actuates the mind of a person on the execution of his will, and in nowise shall said words be limited and restricted to that expectancy of death which actuates the mind of a person making a gift causa mortis; and it is hereby declared to be the intent and purpose of this act to tax any and all transfers which are made in lieu of or to avoid the passing of property transferred by testate or intestate laws.

(5) Property held in joint names. Whenever property, real or personal, is held in the joint names of two or more persons, or is deposited in banks or other institutions or depositaries in the joint names of two or more persons and payable to either or the survivor, upon the death of one of such persons, the right of the surviving joint tenant or joint tenants, person or persons to the immediate ownership or possession and enjoyment of such property shall be deemed a transfer taxable under the provisions of this act in the same manner as though the whole property to which such transfer relates belonged absolutely to the deceased joint tenant or joint depositor and had been devised or bequeathed to the surviving joint tenant or joint tenants, person or persons, by such deceased joint tenant or joint depositor by will, excepting therefrom such part thereof as may be proved by the surviving joint tenant or joint tenants to have originally belonged to him or them and never to have belonged to the decedent.

(6) Appointment deemed transfer. Whenever any person, trustee or corporation shall exercise a power of appointment derived from any disposition of property made either before or after the passage of this act, such appointment, when made, shall be deemed a transfer taxable under the provisions of this act, in the same manner as though the property to which such appointment relates belonged absolutely to the donee of such power, and had been bequeathed or devised by such donee by will; and whenever any person, trustee or corporation possessing such power of appointment so derived shall omit or fail to exercise the same within the time provided therefor, in whole or in part, a transfer taxable under the provisions of this act shall be deemed to take place to the extent of such omission or failure, in the same manner as though the persons, trustees or corporations thereby becoming entitled to the possession or enjoyment of the property to which such power related had succeeded thereto by a will of the donee of the power failing to exercise such power, taking effect at the time of such omission or failure.

(7) Bequest exceeding reasonable compensation. Whenever a decedent appoints or names one or more executors or trustees, and makes a bequest or devise of property to them in lieu of commissions or allowances, which otherwise would be liable to said tax, or appoints them his residuary legatees, and said bequest, devise, or residuary legacies exceeds what would be a reasonable compensation for their services, such excess over and above the exemptions herein provided for shall be liable to said tax; and the superior court in which the probate proceedings are pending shall fix the compensation.

(8) Property transferred subject to charge determined by death of person. Where any property shall, after the passage of this act, be transferred subject to any charge, estate or interest, determinable by the death of any person, or at any period ascertainable only by reference to death, the increase accruing to any person or corporation upon the extinction or determination of such charge, estate or interest, shall be deemed a transfer of property taxable under the provisions of this act in the same manner as though the person or corporation beneficially entitled thereto had then acquired such increase from the person from whom the title to their respective estates or interests is derived.

(9) Aggregate value of more than one transfer. When more than one transfer within the meaning of any of the preceding subdivisions of this section has been made, either before or after the passage of this act, by a decedent to one person, the tax shall be imposed upon the aggregate market value of all of the property so transferred to such person in the same manner and to the same extent as if all of the property so transferred were actually transferred by one transfer.

(10) No deductions of United States tax. In determining the market value of the property transferred, no deduction shall be made for any inheritance tax or estate tax paid to the government of the United States.

§ 3. Lien. Suit within five years. Such taxes shall be and remain a lien upon the property passed or transferred until paid; provided, that said lien shall be limited to the property chargeable therewith, and the person to whom the property passes or is transferred, and all administrators, executors and trustees of every estate so transferred or passed, shall be liable for any and all such taxes until the same shall have been paid as hereinafter directed. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relative to the limitation of time of enforcing a civil remedy shall not apply to any proceeding or action taken to levy, appraise, assess, determine, or enforce the collection of any tax or penalty prescribed by this article, and this section shall be construed as having been in effect as of date of the original enactment of the inheritance tax law; provided, that unless sued for within five years after they are due and legally demandable, such taxes, or any taxes accruing under any act herein repealed, shall cease to be a lien as against any bona fide purchaser of said property; and, provided, that no such lien shall cease within two years from the date of the passage of this act.

§ 4. Tax when property value not over twenty-five thousand dollars. When the property or any beneficial interest therein so passed or transferred exceeds in value the exemption hereinafter specified and shall not exceed in value twenty-five thousand dollars, the tax hereby imposed shall be:

(1) Where the person or persons entitled to any beneficial interest in such property shall be the husband, wife, lineal ancestor, lineal issue of the decedent or any child adopted as such in conformity with the laws of this state, or any child to whom such decedent for not less than ten years prior to such transfer stood in the mutually acknowledged relation of a parent (provided, however, such relationship began at or before the child's fifteenth birthday, and was continuous for said ten years thereafter), or any lineal issue of such adopted or mutually acknowledged child, at the rate of one per centum of the clear value of such interest in such property.

(2) Where the person or persons entitled to any beneficial interest in such property shall be the brother or sister or a descendent of a brother or sister of a decedent, a wife or widow of a son, or the husband of a daughter of the decedent at the rate of three per centum of the clear value of such interest in such property.

(3) Where the person or persons entitled to any beneficial interest in such property shall be the brother or sister of the father or mother, or a descendant of a brother or sister of the father or mother of the decedent, at the rate of four per centum of the clear value of such interest in such property.

(4) Where the person or persons entitled to any beneficial interest in such property shall be in any other degree of collateral consanguinity than is hereinbefore stated or shall be a stranger in blood to the decedent, or shall be a body politic or corporate, at the rate of five per centum of the clear value of such interest in such property.

§ 5. Tax when property value exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars. (1) When the market value of such property or interest passed or transferred to any of the persons mentioned in subdivision one of section four exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars, the rates of tax upon such excess shall be as follows:

(a) Upon all in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars and up to fifty thousand dollars, two per centum of such excess.

(b) Upon all in excess of fifty thousand dollars and up to one hundred thousand dollars, four per centum of such excess.

(c) Upon all in excess of one hundred thousand dollars and up to two hundred thousand dollars, seven per centum of such excess.

(d) Upon all in excess of two hundred thousand dollars and up to five hundred thousand dollars, ten per centum of such excess.

(e) Upon all in excess of five hundred thousand dollars and up to one million dollars, twelve per centum of such excess.

(f) Upon all in excess of one million dollars, fifteen per centum of such excess.

(2) When the market value of such property or interest passed or transferred to any of the persons mentioned in subdivision two of section four exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars, the rates of tax upon such excess shall be as follows:

(a) Upon all in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars and up to fifty thousand dollars, six per centum of such excess.

(b) Upon all in excess of fifty thousand dollars and up to one hundred thousand dollars, nine per centum of such excess.

(c) Upon all in excess of one hundred thousand dollars and up to two hundred thousand dollars, twelve per centum of such excess.

(d) Upon all in excess of two hundred thousand dollars and up to five hundred thousand dollars, fifteen per centum of such excess.

(e) Upon all in excess of five hundred thousand dollars and up to one million dollars, twenty per centum of such excess.

(f) Upon all in excess of one million dollars, twenty-five per centum of such excess.

(3) When the market value of such property or interest passed or transferred to any of the persons mentioned in subdivision three of section four exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars, the rates of tax upon such excess shall be as follows:

(a) Upon all in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars and up to fifty thousand dollars, eight per centum of such excess.

(b) Upon all in excess of fifty thousand dollars and up to one hundred thousand dollars, ten per centum of such excess.

(c) Upon all in excess of one hundred thousand dollars and up to two hundred thousand dollars, fifteen per centum of such excess.

(d) Upon all in excess of two hundred thousand dollars and up to five hundred thousand dollars, twenty per centum of such excess.

(e) Upon all in excess of five hundred thousand dollars and up to one million dollars, twenty-five per centum of such excess.

(f) Upon all in excess of one million dollars, thirty per centum of such excess.

(4) When the market value of such property or interest passed or transferred to any of the persons mentioned in subdivision four of section four exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars, the rates of tax upon such excess shall be as follows:

(a) Upon all in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars and up to fifty thousand dollars, ten per centum of such excess.

(b) Upon all in excess of fifty thousand dollars and up to one hundred thousand dollars, fifteen per centum of such excess.

(c) Upon all in excess of one hundred thousand dollars and up to two hundred thousand dollars, twenty per centum of such excess.

(d) Upon all in excess of two hundred thousand dollars and up to five hundred thousand dollars, twenty-five per centum of such excess.

(e) Upon all in excess of five hundred thousand dollars, thirty per centum of such excess:

§ 6. Exemptions allowed. The following exemptions from the tax are hereby allowed:

(1) All property transferred to societies, corporations, and institutions now or hereafter exempted by law from taxation, or to any public corporation, or to any society, corporation, institution, or association of persons engaged in or devoted to any charitable, benevolent, educational, public, or other like work (pecuniary profit not being its object or purpose), or to any person, society, corporation, institution, or association of persons in trust for or to be devoted to any charitable, benevolent, education, or public purpose, by reason whereof any such person or corporation shall become beneficially entitled, in possession or expectancy, to any such property or to the income thereof, shall be exempt; provided, however, that such society, corporation, institution or association be organized or existing under the laws of this state or that the property transferred be limited for use within this state.

(2) Property of the clear value of twenty-four thousand dollars, transferred to the widow or to a minor child of the decedent, and of ten thousand dollars transferred to each of the other persons described in the first subdivision of section four, shall be exempt.

(3) Property of the clear value of two thousand dollars, transferred to each of the persons described in the second subdivision of section four, shall be exempt.

(4) Property of the clear value of one thousand dollars, transferred to each of the persons described in the third subdivision of section four, shall be exempt.

(5) Property of the clear value of five hundred dollars, transferred to each of the persons and corporations described in the fourth subdivision of section four, shall be exempt.

§ 7. Time of payment. Discount. Bond. (1) All taxes imposed by this act, unless otherwise herein provided for, shall be due and payable at the death of the decedent, and if the same are paid within eighteen months, no interest shall be charged and collected thereon, but if not so paid, interest at the rate of ten per centum per annum shall be charged and collected from the time said tax accrued; provided, that if said tax is paid within six months from the accruing thereof a discount of five per centum shall be allowed and deducted from said tax. And in all cases where the executors, administrators, or trustees do not pay such tax within eighteen months from the death of the decedent, they shall be required to give a bond for the payment of said tax, together with interest.

(2) If estate not settled within eighteen months. The penalty of ten per cent per annum imposed by subdivision (1) of this section for the nonpayment of said tax, shall not be charged in cases where, in the judgment of the court, by reason of claims made upon the estate necessary litigation, or other unavoidable cause of delay, the estate of any decedent, or a part thereof, cannot be settled at the end of eighteen months from the death of the decedent; but in such cases seven per cent per annum shall be charged upon the said tax from the expiration of said eighteen months until the cause of such delay is removed, after which ten per cent interest per annum shall again be charged until the tax is paid; but litigation to defeat the payment of the tax shall not be considered necessary litigation.

§ 8. Immediate appraisement and payment. (1) When any grant, gift, legacy, devise or succession upon which a tax is imposed by section two of this act shall be an estate, income, or interest for a term of years, or for life, or determinable upon any future or contingent event, or shall be a remainder, reversion, or other expectancy, real or personal, the entire property or fund by which such estate, income, or interest is supported, or of which it is a part, shall be appraised immediately after the death of the decedent, and the market value thereof determined, in the manner provided in section sixteen or seventeen of this act, and the tax prescribed by this act shall be immediately due and payable to the treasurer of the proper county, and, together with the interest thereon, shall be and remain a lien on said property until the same is paid.

(2) Encumbrances. In estimating the value of any estate or interest in property, to the beneficial enjoyment or possession whereof there are persons or corporations presently entitled thereto, no allowance shall be made on account of any contingent encumbrance thereon, nor on account of any contingency upon the happening of which the estate or property or some part thereof or interest therein might be abridged, defeated or diminished; provided, however, that in the event of such encumbrance taking effect as an actual burden upon the interest of the beneficiary, or in the event of the abridgment, defeat or diminution of said estate or property or interest therein as aforesaid, a return shall be made to the person properly entitled thereto of a proportionate amount of such tax on account of the encumbrance when taking effect, or so much as will reduce the same to the amount which would have been assessed on account of the actual duration or extent of the estate or interest enjoyed. Such return of tax shall be made in the manner provided by section eleven hereof upon order of the court having jurisdiction.

(3) Property transferred in trust. Bond. Return of property filed. Recovery on bond if security not renewed. When property is transferred in trust or otherwise, and the rights, interest or estates of the transferees are dependent upon contingencies or conditions whereby they may be wholly or in part created, defeated, extended, or abridged, a tax shall be imposed upon said transfer at the highest rate which, on the happening of any of the said contingencies or conditions, would be possible under the provisions of this act, and such tax so imposed shall be due and payable forthwith by the executors or trustees out of the property transferred; provided, however, that on the happening of any contingency whereby the said property, or any part thereof, is transferred to a person or corporation exempt from taxation under the provisions of this act, or to any person taxable at a rate less than the rate imposed and paid, such person or corporation shall be entitled to a return of so much of the tax imposed and paid as the difference between the amount paid and the amount which said person or corporation should pay under the provisions of this act; such return of overpayment shall be made in the manner provided by section eleven of this act, upon order of the court having jurisdiction; provided, that the person or persons or body politic or corporate beneficially interested in the property chargeable with said tax or the trustees thereof may elect not to pay the same until such person or persons, or body politic or corporate beneficially interested in such property shall come into the actual possession or enjoyment thereof, and in that case such person or persons or body politic or corporate or trustees shall execute a bond to the people of the state of California in a penalty of twice the amount of said tax with such sureties as the said superior court may approve, conditioned for the payment of said tax and interest thereon at the rate of seven per cent per annum commencing at the expiration of eighteen months from the death of the decedent at such time or period as they or their representatives may come into the actual possession or enjoyment of such property, and conditioned further, that if said bond be not renewed and the returns made as herein provided, the amount of said tax and interest thereon shall immediately become due and payable. Said bond shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the proper county and a certified copy thereof shall be immediately transmitted to the state controller; provided, further, that such person or persons or body politic or corporate, or trustees, shall enter into such security within a period of ninety days after the entry of the order or decree fixing the inheritance tax charged against such transfer, or within such period thereafter as the court may in its discretion permit, and shall make a full and verified return of such property to said court and file the same in the office of the county clerk within one year from the date of such order or decree fixing tax, and at such times thereafter as the court on the application of the state controller may require, and renew such security every five years after the date of the approval thereof. Upon the approval of said bond as herein provided, said tax shall cease to be a lien upon the property so transferred. If such security shall not be renewed before the expiration of each five-year period, said bond shall immediately become due and payable and if the same be not paid forthwith, the attorney general shall file an action in the name of the people of the state on the relation of the controller, to recover the same and the penalties thereunder and no demand for payment shall be necessary before the institution of such suit. Whenever it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the court that any surety on such bond or undertaking has for any reason become insufficient, the court may on motion of the state controller, after such notice to such person or persons, body politic or corporate, or trustees as the court may require, order the giving of a new undertaking with sufficient sureties in lieu of such insufficient undertaking. In case such new undertaking so required shall not be given within the time required by such order, or in case the sureties thereon fail to justify thereon when required, all rights obtained by the filing of such original undertaking, or subsequent undertaking, shall cease and the amount of said tax and interest thereon shall immediately become due and payable.

(4) Estates in expectancy. Estates in expectancy which are contingent or defeasible and in which proceedings for the determination of the tax have not been taken or where the taxation thereof has been held in abeyance, shall be appraised at their full, undiminished value when the persons entitled thereto shall come into the beneficial enjoyment or possession thereof, without diminution for or on account of any valuation theretofore made of the particular estates for purposes of taxation, upon which said estates in expectancy may have been limited.

(5) Estate that can be divested by act of legatee or devisee. Where an estate or interest can be divested by the act or omission of the legatee or devisee it shall be taxed as if there were no possibility of such divesting.

(6) Future or contingent estate. Determination of value. The value of every future, or contingent or limited estate, income or interest, shall, for the purposes of this act be determined by the rule, methods and standards of mortality and of value that are set forth in the actuaries' combined experience tables of mortality for ascertaining the value of policies of life insurance and annuities and for the determination of the liabilities of life insurance companies, save that the rate of interest to be assessed in computing the present value of all future interest and contingencies shall be five (5) per cent per annum. The insurance commissioner shall without a fee on the application of any superior court or of any inheritance tax appraiser determine the value of any future or contingent estate, income or interest therein limited, contingent, dependent or determinable upon the life or lives of persons in being, upon the facts contained in any such appraiser's application or other facts to him submitted by said appraiser or said court and certify the same in duplicate to such court or appraiser, and his certificate thereof shall be conclusive evidence that the method of computation therein is correct. When an annuity or a life estate is terminated by the death of the annuitant or life tenant, and the tax upon such interest has not been fixed and determined, the value of said interest for the purpose of taxation under this act shall be the amount of the annuity or income actually paid or payable to the annuitant or life tenant during the period for which such annuitant or life tenant was entitled to the annuity or was in possession of the life estate.

§ 9. Collection of tax by administrator. (1) Any administrator, executor, or trustee having in charge or trust any legacy or property for distribution, subject to the said tax, shall deduct the tax therefrom, or if the legacy or property be not money he shall collect the tax thereon, upon the market value thereof, from the legatee or person entitled to such property, and he shall not deliver, or be compelled to deliver, any specific legacy or property subject to tax to any person until he shall have collected the tax thereon; and whenever any such legacy shall be charged upon or payable out of real estate, the executor, administrator, or trustee shall collect said tax from the distributee thereof, and the same shall remain a charge on such real estate until paid; if, however, such legacy be given in money to any person for a limited period, the executor, administrator, or trustee shall retain the tax upon the whole amount; but if it be not in money he shall make application to the superior court to make an apportionment, if the case require it, of the sum to be paid into his hands by such legatees, and for such further order relative thereto as the case may require.

(2) Sale of property to pay tax. All executors, administrators, and trustees shall have full power to sell so much of the property of the decedent as will enable them to pay said tax, in the same manner as they may be enabled by law to do for the payment of debts of the estate, and the amount of said tax shall be paid as hereinafter directed.

(3) Payment within thirty days. Every sum of money retained by an executor, administrator, or trustee, or paid into his hands, for any tax on property, shall be paid by him, within thirty days thereafter, to the treasurer of the county in which the probate proceedings are pending.

§ 10. Treasurer's receipt. Upon the payment to any county treasurer of any tax due under this act, such treasurer shall issue a receipt therefor, in triplicate, one copy of which he shall deliver to the person paying said tax, and the original and one copy thereof he shall immediately send to the controller of state, whose duty it shall be to charge the treasurer so receiving the tax with the amount thereof, and said controller shall retain one of said receipts and the other he shall countersign and seal with the seal of his office, and immediately transmit to the clerk of the court fixing such tax. And an executor, administrator, or trustee shall not be entitled to credits in his accounts, nor be discharged from liability for such tax, nor shall said estate be distributed, unless a receipt so sealed and countersigned by the controller, or a copy thereof, certified by him, shall have been filed with the court. Any person shall, upon payment to the county treasurer of the sum of fifty cents, be entitled to a duplicate, or copy, of any receipt that may have been given by said treasurer for the payment of any tax under this act.

§ 11. Refund of tax. (1) If any debts shall be proved against the estate of a decedent after the payment of any legacy or distributive share thereof, from which any such tax has been deducted or upon which it has been paid by the person entitled to such legacy or distributive share, and such person is required by order of the superior court having jurisdiction, on notice to the state controller, to refund the amount of such debts or any part thereof, an equitable proportion of the tax shall be repaid to him by the executor, administrator or trustee, if the tax has not been paid to the county treasurer; or if such tax has been paid to such county treasurer, such officer shall refund out of any inheritance tax moneys in his hands or custody such equitable proportion of the tax, and credit himself with the same in the account required to be rendered by him under this act.

(2) Assessing tax on amount wrongfully deducted. Where it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the superior court that deductions for debts were allowed upon the appraisal, since proved to have been erroneously allowed, it shall be lawful for such superior court to enter an order assessing the tax upon the amount wrongfully or erroneously deducted.

(3) Refund of tax when order modified or reversed. Application within one year. If, after the payment of any tax in pursuance of an order fixing such tax, made by the superior court having jurisdiction, such order be modified or reversed by the superior court having jurisdiction within two years from and after the date of entry of the order fixing the tax, or be modified or reversed at any time on an appeal taken therefrom within the time allowed by law on due notice to the state controller, the county treasurer shall refund to the executor, administrator, trustee, person or persons by whom such tax was paid, the amount of any moneys paid or deposited on account of such tax in excess of the amount of tax fixed by the order modified or reversed, out of any inheritance tax moneys in his hands or custody, and credit himself with the same in the account required to be rendered by him to the controller on his semi-annual settlement; but no application for such refund shall be made after one year from such reversal or modification, unless an appeal shall be taken therefrom, in which case no such application shall be made after one year from the final determination on such appeal or of an appeal taken therefrom, and the representatives of the estate, legatees, devisees or distributees entitled to any refund under this section shall not be entitled to any interest upon such refund, and the state controller shall deduct from the fees allowed by this act to the county treasurer the amount theretofore allowed him upon such overpayment.

(4) Refund of tax erroneously paid. When any amount of said tax shall have been erroneously paid, the superior court having jurisdiction, on application after notice to the state controller, and on satisfactory proof to it, shall by order require the county treasurer to refund and pay to the executor, administrator, trustee, person or persons who had paid any such tax in error the amount of such tax so erroneously paid; provided, that all applications for such repayment of such tax so erroneously paid shall be made within one year of the date of the entry of the order fixing tax or of the decree of final distribution of the estate. Such refund shall be made by said treasurer out of any inheritance tax moneys in his hands or custody and he shall credit himself with the same in the account required to be rendered by him to the controller on semi-annual settlement; and the state controller shall deduct from the fees allowed by this act to the county treasurer the amount theretofore allowed him upon such erroneous payment.

(5) Pending proceedings. This section, as amended, shall apply to appeals and proceedings now pending and taxes heretofore paid in relation to which the period of one year from such reversal or modification has not expired when this section, as amended, takes effect.

§ 12. Examination of books, etc. Penalty for divulging information. (1) Whenever the state controller shall have reasonable cause to believe that a tax is due under the provisions of this act, upon any transfer of any property, and that any person, firm, institution, company, association or corporation has possession, custody or control of any books, accounts, papers or documents relating to or evidencing such transfer, the state controller or inheritance tax attorney, or any assistant inheritance tax attorney of the inheritance tax department, is hereby authorized and empowered to inspect the books, records, accounts, papers and documents of any such person, firm, institution, company, association or corporation, including the stock transfer book of any corporation, for the purpose of acquiring any information deemed necessary or desirable by said state controller or such inheritance tax attorney or assistant inheritance tax attorneys, for the proper enforcement of this act, and for the collection of the full amount of tax which may be due the state hereunder. Any and all information acquired by said state controller or said inheritance tax attorney or assistant inheritance tax attorneys shall be deemed and held by said state controller and said inheritance tax attorney and assistant inheritance tax attorneys and each of them, as confidential, and shall not be divulged, disclosed or made known by them or any of them except in so far as may be necessary for the enforcement of the provisions of this act. Any controller or ex-controller, or inheritance tax attorney or ex-inheritance tax attorney, or assistant inheritance tax attorney or ex-assistant inheritance tax attorney, who shall divulge, disclose or make known any information acquired by such inspection and examination aforesaid, except in so far as the same may be necessary for the enforcement of the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than two hundred fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail for not more than ninety days, or both.

(2) Penalty for refusing to permit examination. Any officer or agent of any firm, institution, company, association or corporation having or keeping an office within this state, who has in his custody or under his control any book, record, account, paper or document of such firm, institution, company, association or corporation, and any person having in his custody or under his control such book, record, account, paper or document who refuses to give to the state controller, or said inheritance tax attorney, or any of said assistant inheritance tax attorneys, lawfully demanding, as provided in this section, during office hours to inspect or take a copy of the same, or any part thereof, for the purposes hereinabove provided, a reasonable opportunity so to do, shall be liable to a penalty of not less than one thousand dollars nor more than twenty thousand dollars, and in addition thereto shall be liable for the amount of the taxes, interest and penalties due under this act on such transfer, and the said penalties and liabilities for the violation of this section may be enforced in an action brought by the state controller in any court of competent jurisdiction.

§ 13. Consent of controller to transfer of decedent's stock. (1) No corporation organized or existing under the laws of this state, shall transfer on its books or issue a new certificate for any share or shares of its capital stock belonging to or standing in the name of a decedent or in trust for a decedent or belonging to or standing in the joint names of a decedent and one or more persons, without the written consent of the state controller or person by him in writing authorized to issue such consent.

(2) Trust companies, etc., to retain amount to pay tax. Notice of transfer. No safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank or other institution, person or persons having in possession or under control or custody or under partial control or partial custody securities, deposits, assets or property belonging to or standing in the name of a decedent who was a resident or nonresident, or belonging to, or standing in the joint names of such a decedent and one or more persons, including the shares of the capital stock of, or other interest in, the safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank or other institution making the delivery or transfer herein provided, shall deliver or transfer the same to the executors, administrators or legal representatives, agents, deputies, attorneys, trustees, legatees, heirs, successors in interest of said decedent or to any other person or persons, or to the survivor or survivors when held in the joint names of a decedent and one or more persons, or upon their order or request, without retaining a sufficient portion or amount thereof to pay any tax and interest which may thereafter be assessed thereon under this act and unless notice of the time and place of such delivery or transfer be served upon the state controller and county treasurer at least ten days prior to said delivery or transfer; provided, that the state controller, or person by him in writing authorized so to do, may consent in writing to said delivery or transfer, and such consent shall relieve said safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank or other institution, person or persons from the obligation hereunder to give such notice or to retain any portion of said securities, deposits or other assets in their possession or control. And it shall be lawful for the state controller or county treasurer, personally or by representatives, to examine said securities, deposits or assets at the time of said delivery or otherwise.

(3) Penalty for failure to comply. Failure to comply with the provisions of this section shall render such safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank or other institution, person or persons, liable to a penalty of not more than twenty thousand dollars, and in addition thereto said safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank or other institution, person or persons shall be liable for the amount of the taxes, interest and penalties due under this act on said securities, deposits, or other assets above mentioned, and said penalties and liabilities of said safe deposit company, corporation, bank or other institution, person or persons for the violation of this section may be enforced in an action brought by the state controller in any court of competent jurisdiction.

§ 14. Inheritance tax appraisers. Penalty for taking other than fee allowed. The state controller shall appoint, and may at his pleasure remove, one or more persons in each county of the state to act as inheritance tax appraisers therein. Every such inheritance tax appraiser (in addition to any fees paid him as appraiser under section one thousand four hundred forty-four of the Code of Civil Procedure) shall be paid for his services out of any inheritance tax moneys in the hands of the treasurer of the county in which he may be acting, a reasonable compensation, to be fixed by the superior court of said county, or a judge thereof, and, together with said compensation, said appraiser shall be allowed his actual and necessary traveling and other incidental expenses, and the fees paid such witnesses as he shall subpoena before him, said expenses and fees to be allowed by said superior court or a judge thereof; provided, that any claim for any such services or expenditure, must before payment, first receive the approval of the state controller; and provided, further, that in any probate proceeding in which the executor or administrator shall have failed to have had the inheritance tax appraiser act as one of the appraisers under section one thousand four hundred forty-four of the Code of Civil Procedure and to have paid him his fees therefor, the expense of making the inheritance tax appraisement in this act provided for shall be paid out of said estate, and the executor or administrator thereof shall be liable for said fee. Any such appraiser who shall take any fee or reward, other than such as may be allowed him by law, from any executor, administrator, trustee, legatee, next of kin, or heir of any decedent, or from any other person liable to pay said tax, or any portion thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than two hundred fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail ninety days or both, and in addition thereto the court shall dismiss him from such service.

§ 15. Jurisdiction of superior court. The superior court in the county in which is situate the real property of a decedent, who was not a resident of the state, or if there be no real property, then in the county in which any of the personal property of such nonresident is situate, or in the county of which the decedent was a resident at the time of his death, shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine all questions in relation to the tax arising under the provisions of this act; the court first acquiring jurisdiction hereunder shall retain the same, to the exclusion of every other; provided, that the superior court having acquired jurisdiction in probate of the estate of a decedent shall hear and determine in said probate proceedings all questions in relation to any tax arising under the provisions of this act: (a) Upon property passing in said probate proceedings. (b) Upon any other property transferred, within the meaning of subdivision three of section two or any other provisions of this act, to any person, institution or corporation taking any property under and by virtue of said probate proceedings.

§ 16. Appointment of inheritance tax appraisers in probate proceedings. Powers of referee. Witnesses. Evidence. Report to superior court. (1) When any superior court, having jurisdiction in probate of the estate of any decedent, or a judge of such court, shall, in accordance with section one thousand four hundred forty-four of the Code of Civil Procedure, appoint the appraiser or appraisers in said section provided for, said superior court or judge thereof shall also at the same time designate and appoint an inheritance tax appraiser (unless such designation and appointment be previously made) to ascertain and report to said superior court the amount of inheritance tax due upon any property passing in said probate proceeding, or a lien thereon, or upon any other property transferred within the meaning of subdivision (3) of section two of this act, or under any other provision of this act, to any person, institution or corporation taking property under and by virtue of said probate proceedings, together with such other or additional information as shall assist said court in the determination of said tax. Thereupon said inheritance tax appraiser shall have all the powers of a referee of said superior court, and shall have jurisdiction to require the attendance before him of the executor or administrator of said estate, or any person interested therein, or any other person whom he may have reason to believe possesses knowledge of the estate of said decedent, or knowledge of any property transferred by said decedent within the meaning of this act, or knowledge of any facts that will aid said appraiser or the court in the determination of said tax. For the purpose of compelling the attendance of such person or persons before him, and for the purpose of appraising any property or interest subject to, or liable for any inheritance tax hereunder, and for the purpose of determining the amount of tax due thereon, the said inheritance tax appraiser is hereby authorized to issue subpoenas compelling the attendance of witnesses before him. Any person or persons who shall be served with a subpoena, issued by said inheritance tax appraiser, to appear and testify or to produce books and papers, and who shall refuse and neglect to appear and testify or to produce books and papers relevant to such appraisement, as commanded in such subpoena, shall be guilty of a contempt of court. And he may examine and take the evidence of such witnesses or of such executor or administrator, or other person under oath concerning such property and the value thereof, and concerning the property or the estate of such decedent subject to probate, and concerning any transfer made by such decedent within the meaning of this act. Upon the completion of his inheritance tax appraisement in any probate proceeding, the inheritance tax appraiser shall make a report in writing to the superior court of the clear market value of the several interests in the estate of the decedent, and shall report the amount of inheritance or transfer tax chargeable against, or a lien upon such interests, acquired by virtue of said probate proceedings or by any transfer within the meaning of this act, to any person, institution or corporation acquiring any property by virtue of said probate proceedings together with such other facts as may advise the court in regard thereto, or which the court may require, and may return to said superior court such depositions as he may have had reduced to writing, exhibits, or other testimony or information taken before him, or submitted to him.

(2) Notice of filing report. Order confirming report. Hearing objections. Upon the filing of said report said appraiser shall mail a copy thereof to the state controller and the clerk of said superior court shall on said day or the next succeeding judicial day give notice of such filing to all persons interested in such proceedings by causing notices to be posted in at least three public places in the county, one of which must be the place where the court is held, and in addition thereto shall mail to the state controller and to all persons chargeable with any tax in said report who have appeared in such proceeding, a copy of said notice. At any time after the expiration of ten days thereafter, if no objection to said report be filed, the said superior court or a judge thereof, may, without further notice give and make its order confirming said report and fixing the tax in accordance therewith. At any time prior to the making of said order, any person interested in said proceeding (including the state controller) may file objections in writing to said report. Thereupon said superior court shall, by order, fix a time, not less than ten days thereafter, for the hearing thereof, and shall direct the clerk of said superior court to give such notice thereof as it shall deem necessary; provided, that a copy of such notice and of such objections shall be forthwith mailed to the state controller, county treasurer and inheritance tax appraiser. Upon the hearing of said objections, said court may make such order as to it may seem meet and proper in the premises.

(3) Order that no inheritance taxes due. If, upon examination of the executor or administrator of said estate or other persons familiar with the affairs of such decedent, or from other information before him, it shall appear to the inheritance tax appraiser that there is no inheritance tax due out of said estate or a lien upon any property or interest therein, said appraiser may so certify to the superior court, and at any time thereafter, if no objection to said certificate shall have been filed, said superior court or a judge thereof may, without further notice, make an order or decree that there are no inheritance taxes due out of said estate or upon any interest therein or may make such different order as may to it seem meet in the premises. Such order shall be conclusive only as to such property as may have been returned in the inventory or inventory and appraisement in said probate proceedings.

§ 17. Determination of taxability of transfer. Examination by appraiser. Report of findings. Service. Hearing by court. (1) If it shall appear to the superior court upon petition of the state controller that any transfer has been made within the meaning of this act, and the taxability thereof and the liability for such tax and the amount thereof have not been determined, and that no proceedings are pending in any court in this state wherein the taxability of such transfer and the liability therefor and the amount thereof may be determined, said court shall issue a citation ordering and directing the persons who may appear liable therefor or known to own any interest in or part of the property transferred, to appear before said court or before an inheritance tax appraiser to be designated by said order at a time and place in said order named, not less than ten days nor more than one year from the date of such order, to be examined, under oath by said court or by said appraiser as the case may be, concerning said transfer and all facts connected therewith, and concerning the property transferred and the character and value thereof.

If said person or persons shall be directed to appear before said appraiser said appraiser shall, at the time and place in said order named, or at such time and place to which said appraiser may adjourn said hearing, proceed to examine said person or persons and such witnesses as said appraiser may subpoena before him, and for the purpose of said hearing, and for the purpose of ascertaining any facts concerning the taxability of said transfer or any taxes due on account of such transfer, said appraiser shall have the powers of a referee of said court, and is hereby authorized to issue subpoenas compelling the attendance of witnesses before him, and to administer oath, and to take the evidence of such witnesses under oath concerning such property and the value thereof and concerning such transfer. Said appraiser shall report to said court his findings and conclusions in relation to said transfer and said tax, and may return to said court, any depositions, exhibits or other testimony or information taken before him or exhibited to him. The procedure subsequent to the filing of said report shall conform to subdivision (2) of section sixteen of this act.

Except as herein otherwise provided, the service of such citation and the time, manner and proof thereof, and the hearing and determination thereon, and the hearing and determination upon the facts returned in such report, and the enforcement of the determination or decree, shall conform to the provisions of chapter twelve, title eleven, part three of the Code of Civil Procedure, and the clerk of the court shall, upon the request of the state controller, furnish, without fee, one or more transcripts of such decree, and the same shall be docketed and filed by the county clerk of any county in the state, without fee, in the same manner and with the same effect as provided by section six hundred seventy-four of said Code of Civil Procedure for filing a transcript of an original docket.

The superior court may hear the said cause upon the relation of the parties and the testimony of witnesses, and evidence produced in open court, and, if the court shall find said property is not subject to any tax, as herein provided, the court shall, by order, so determine; but if it shall appear that said property, or any part thereof, is subject to any such tax, the same shall be appraised and taxed as in other cases.

(2) Petition to determine taxability. Compensation of appraiser. Verified petitions may be filed by any interested party with the superior court, alleging and admitting that a transfer within the meaning of this act has been made and the taxability thereof and the liability for such tax and the amount thereof have not been determined. and that no proceedings are pending in any court in this state wherein the taxability of such transfer and the liability therefor and the amount thereof, may be determined, and that the petitioner desires such determination and desires to pay said tax, if any be due. Upon the filing of such petition the superior court or a judge thereof shall by order designate and appoint an inheritance tax appraiser to ascertain and report to said court the amount of the inheritance tax, if any, due by said petitioner on account of such transfer, and shall fix a time and place, not less than ten days thereafter, for the hearing of said matter before said inheritance tax appraiser, a copy of which petition and order shall be forthwith mailed to the state controller, and shall refer to said petition and said matter to said inheritance tax appraiser who shall have all of the powers of a referee of said court, including the powers prescribed in subdivision (1) of section sixteen of this act. The procedure subsequent to said reference to said appraiser shall conform to the provisions of subdivisions (1) and (2) of section sixteen of this act.

In the event that final judgment is rendered in said proceeding, ascertaining and determining that no inheritance tax is due on account of said transfer or that the amount of the tax to which said transfer is liable, is less than twenty dollars the court shall, in addition to the amount of the tax, if any, include in such judgment and assess against the petitioner reasonable compensation for said inheritance tax appraiser, not exceeding the sum of ten dollars, and the necessary traveling and incidental expenses of said appraiser.

(3) Action to quiet title. Hearing by appraiser. Judgment in favor of state. Actions may be brought against the state by any interested person for the purpose of quieting the title to any property against the lien or claim of lien of any tax or taxes under this act, or for the purpose of having it determined that any property is not subject to any lien for taxes nor chargeable with any tax under this act. No such action shall be maintained where any proceedings are pending in any court in this state wherein the taxability of such transfer and the liability therefor and the amount thereof may be determined. All parties interested in said transfer and in the taxability thereof shall be made parties thereto and any interested person who refuses to join as plaintiff therein may be made a defendant. Summons for the state in said action shall be served upon the state controller.

At any time after issue is joined in such action the court, on its own motion, or upon the motion of any interested party, may by order appoint and designate an inheritance tax appraiser to hear said matter and report to the court thereon and shall in such order fix a time and place for the hearing of said matter before said inheritance tax appraiser, and direct notice of such time and place to be given in such manner as the court shall deem proper, and shall refer said matter to said inheritance tax appraiser who shall have all of the powers of a referee of said court, including the powers prescribed in subdivision (1) of section sixteen of this act. The procedure subsequent to said reference to said appraiser shall conform to the provisions of subdivisions (1) and (2) of section sixteen of this act.

Should the court determine that the property described in the complaint is subject to the lien of said tax and that said property has been transferred within the meaning of this act, the court shall award affirmative relief to the state in said action, and judgment shall be rendered therein in favor of the state, ascertaining and determining the amount of said tax, and the person or persons liable therefor, and the property chargeable therewith or subject to lien therefor, and shall assess against such person or persons reasonable compensation for said inheritance tax appraiser and his necessary traveling and incidental expenses.

(4) Actions commenced, where. Actions under this section shall be commenced in the superior court of the county in which is situated any part of any real property against which any lien is sought to be enforced, or to which title is sought to be quieted against any lien, or claim of lien; but if in said action no lien against real property is sought to be enforced, the action shall be brought in the superior court of the county which has or which had jurisdiction of the administration of the estate of the decedent mentioned herein.

(5) No fees charged. No fee shall be charged said state controller by any public officer in this state for the filing or recording of any petition, lis pendens, decree or order, or for the taking of oaths or acknowledgments in any proceeding taken under this act; nor shall any undertaking be required from or costs charged against the state controller or the state of California in any such proceeding.

§ 18. Orders have force of judgments in civil actions. The orders, decrees and judgments fixing tax or determining that no tax is due, mentioned in this act, shall have the force and effect of judgments in civil actions. Except as otherwise herein provided, the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relative to judgments, new trials, appeals, attachments and execution of judgments, so far as applicable, shall govern all proceedings taken under this act. Nothing in this section shall preclude the state from relief herein provided for, which may be inconsistent with the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure.

§ 19. Taxes paid to state treasurer. The treasurer of each county shall collect all taxes and moneys that may be due and payable under this act and pay the same to the state treasurer (excepting such moneys as he may pay out from time to time pursuant to the provisions of this act) and the state treasurer shall give him a receipt therefor; of which collection and payment he shall make a report, under oath, to the controller, between the first and fifteenth days of May and December of each year, stating for what estate paid, and in such form and containing such particulars as the controller may prescribe; and for all such taxes collected by him and not paid to the state treasurer by the first day of June and January of each year he shall pay interest at the rate of ten per centum per annum.

§ 20. Percentage of tax retained by county treasurer. The treasurer of each county shall be allowed to retain, on all taxes paid and accounted for by him each year under this act, in addition to his salary or fees now allowed by law, three per centum of the first fifty thousand dollars so paid and accounted for by him, one and one-half per centum on the next fifty thousand dollars so paid and accounted for by him, and one-half of one per centum on all additional sums so paid and accounted for by him; provided, that no county treasurer shall be entitled to retain to his own use more than the sum of two hundred dollars out of the inheritance taxes paid on account of any transfer or transfers made by, or resulting from the death of, any one decedent, nor more than five thousand dollars out of the total inheritance taxes accounted for in any one year.

§ 21. State controller may employ counsel. The state controller, whenever he shall be cited as a party in any proceeding or action to determine any tax under this act provided, or whenever he shall deem it necessary for the better enforcement of this act to make any special employment to secure evidence of evasion of said tax, or to commence or appear in any proceeding or action to determine any tax hereunder, may, by and with the consent and approval of the attorney-general, make such special employment or designate and employ counsel or attorney in or out of this state to represent him on behalf of the state, and, by and with such consent of the attorney-general, he is hereby authorized to incur the necessary expense for such employment and any reasonable and necessary expense incident thereto. And the county treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay out of any funds which may be in his hands on account of this tax, on presentation of a sworn itemized account and on certificate of the state controller and attorney general, all expenses incurred as in this section above provided, but no expense for such special employment or legal services, up to and including the entry of the order of the court fixing the tax and the same becoming final, shall exceed ten per centum of the tax and penalties collected; provided, that all reasonable and necessary expenses incurred, in any legal action or proceeding in any court of this state or on any appeal therefrom, other than attorney's fees, including expense of serving processes and printing and preparing of necessary legal papers, may be allowed and paid in the manner above provided, even though no tax be recovered in such action or proceeding, and the limitations herein made shall not apply thereto.

§ 22. Disposition of taxes collected. All taxes levied and collected under this act, up to the amount of two hundred fifty thousand dollars annually, shall be paid into the treasury of the state, for the uses of the state school fund, and all taxes levied and collected in excess of two hundred fifty thousand dollars annually shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the general fund thereof.

§ 23. Penalty for failure to perform duty. Every officer who fails or refuses to perform, within a reasonable time, any and every duty required by the provisions of this act, or who fails or refuses to make and deliver within a reasonable time any statement or record required by this act, shall forfeit to the state of California the sum of one thousand dollars, to be recovered in an action brought by the attorney general in the name of the people of the state on the relation of the controller.

§ 24. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

§ 25. Acts repealed. Pending suits, etc., not affected. An act entitled "An act to establish a tax on gifts, legacies, inheritances, bequests, devises, successions and transfers, to provide for its collection and to direct the disposition of its proceeds; to provide for the enforcement of liens created by this act and by any act hereby repealed and for suits to quiet title against claims of liens arising hereunder or under an act hereby repealed to be known as the 'inheritance tax act'; to repeal an act entitled 'An act to establish a tax on gifts, legacies, inheritances, bequests, devises, successions and transfers, to provide for its collection, and to direct the disposition of its proceeds; to provide for the enforcement of liens created by this act and for suits to quiet title against claims of liens, arising hereunder; to repeal an act entitled "An act to establish a tax on gifts, legacies, inheritances, bequests, devises, successions and transfers; to provide for its collection, and to direct the disposition of its proceeds; to provide for the enforcement of liens created by this act and for suits to quiet title against claims of liens arising hereunder"; to repeal an act entitled "An act to establish a tax on collateral inheritances, bequests and devises, to provide for the collection and to direct the disposition of its proceeds," approved March 23, 1893, and all amendments thereto, and to repeal all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act, approved March 20, 1905, and all amendments thereto, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act,' approved April 7, 1911"; approved June 16, 1913, and all amendments thereto, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby expressly repealed; provided, however, that such repeal shall in no wise affect any suit, prosecution or proceeding pending at the time this act shall take effect, or any right which the state of California may have at the time of the taking effect of this act, to claim a tax upon any property under the provisions of the act or acts hereby repealed, for which no proceeding has been commenced, and where no proceeding has been commenced to collect any tax arising under any act hereby repealed the procedure to collect such tax shall conform to the provisions hereof; nor shall such repeal affect any appeal, right of appeal in any suit pending, or orders fixing tax, existing in this state at the time of the taking effect of this act.

ACT 4065.

An act to carry into effect the provisions of section 14 of article XIII of the constitution of the state of California as said constitution was amended November 8, 1910, providing for the separation of state from local taxation, and providing for the taxation of public service and other corporations, banks and insurance companies for the benefit of the state, all relating to revenue and taxation.

[Approved April 1, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 530.]

Amended 1913, pp. 3, 615; 1915, pp. 3, 937.

This act was revised and a substitute passed for it in 1917.

The act of May 11, 1917, adding sections 3664a to 3671d to the Political Code, contained the following provision (Stats. 1917, p. 370):

§ 38. This act is a revision of and substitute for the act entitled "An act to carry into effect the provisions of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of the state of California as said constitution was amended November 8, 1910, providing for the separation of state from local taxation, and providing for the taxation of public service and other corporations, banks and insurance companies for the benefit of the state, all relating to revenue and taxation," approved April 1, 1911, and amendments thereof; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall affect any tax heretofore levied or assessed in accordance with the provisions of said act and amendments thereof; and provided, further, that all laws in force prior to the taking effect of this act and providing for the levy and collection of such taxes shall, for the purpose of the collection of such taxes, remain in full force and effect.

ACT 4066.

An act to carry into effect the provisions of subdivision (e) of section 14 of article XIII of the constitution of the state of California as the said article was amended on the eighth day of November in the year 1910, in so far as the same relates to the state university; and also to provide for the permanent support and improvement of the University of California; and to that end making a continuing appropriation and creating an annual fund therefor; and repealing an act entitled: "An act to provide for the permanent support and improvement of the University of California by the levy of a rate of taxation and the creation of a fund therefor, and to repeal an act approved February 14, 1887, entitled: 'An act to provide for the permanent support and improvement of the University of California by the levy of a rate of taxation and the creation of a fund therefor,' and also to repeal an act approved February 27, 1897, entitled 'An act to provide additional support and maintenance, and for the acquisition of necessary property and improvements of the University of California, by the levy of a rate of taxation, and the creation of a fund therefor,'" approved March 20, 1909.

[Approved April 25, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 1104.]

Amended 1915, p. 448; 1917, p. 534.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. State university fund created. In order to carry into effect the provisions of subdivision (e) of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of the state of California as the said article was amended on the eighth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred ten, in so far as the same relates to the state university, and to provide for the permanent support and improvement of the University of California, there is hereby created an annual fund to be called "the state university fund"; said fund for the sixty-third fiscal year shall be equal to, but not more than, seven per cent in excess of the amount received by the university under the provisions of chapter three hundred twenty-nine of the statutes of one thousand nine hundred nine for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth in the year one thousand nine hundred eleven; and provided, further, that such fund for each of the sixty-fourth, sixty-fifth, sixty-sixth, sixty-seventh, sixty-eighth, sixty-ninth, seventieth, seventy-first and seventy-second fiscal years shall be equal to, but not more than, seven per cent in excess of the amount received by the university under this act for the immediately preceding respective fiscal year. [Amendment approved May 15, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 534.]

ACT 4067d.

An act authorizing and providing for an investigation and report upon the matter of revenue and taxation, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved May 10, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 432.]

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 301.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 5. Duties of tax commission. The officers and appointees provided for in section two of this act shall perform such duties as the governor may deem necessary to further the objects of senate joint resolution number three, adopted by the legislature January 26, 1917, and chapter number thirty-two of the laws of one thousand nine hundred seventeen. [New section added May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 301.]

ACT 4067f.

An act to regulate and limit the amount that may be produced by tax levies in the aggregate by political subdivisions of this state, creating a state board of authorization, providing for the making and filing of budgets by such subdivisions, and repealing all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act.

[Approved May 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1402. In effect July 30, 1917.]

The operation of this statute has been suspended by a referendum petition filed in the office of the secretary of state July 26, 1917. The act will be voted on at any general election or at any special election that may be sooner called by the governor.

§ 1. Terms defined. (a) For the purposes of this act the term "political subdivision" shall mean, refer to and include counties, cities, towns, and all other subdivisions of this state which have or shall hereafter have power to make tax levies; the term "governing body" shall mean, refer to and include the body, board, commission or council, by whatever name the same may be designated in legislative act or local charter, which has and exercises the power of a political subdivision to levy taxes therein; and the term "estimate" shall mean, refer to and include any and all estimates, statements or calculations required by legislative act or local charter to be made or prepared and filed with or submitted to a governing body for the purpose of obtaining from such governing body a levy or levies of taxes to produce all or any part of the amount of money specified therein; and the term "year" shall mean and refer to fiscal year.

(b) Amount produced by tax levies. The amount produced in a preceding year or the amount to be produced in a current or ensuing year by tax levies by the governing body of any political subdivision shall be ascertained by multiplying the total assessed taxable value of each district within such subdivision by the total rate of tax levied or to be levied in such district, and the sum of these products shall be taken as the amount produced or to be produced in such political subdivision; provided, that from the amount produced, as so ascertained, there shall be deducted the amount by which the production of any interest or bond levy will be decreased in the current year by reason of the payment, in whole or in part, of bonds of a subdivision prior to the time of levying taxes therein for such current year, and the remainder shall be taken as the amount produced.

§ 2. Maximum limit on rate. In every case in which a maximum limit upon the rate of any tax levy permitted, directed or authorized to be made by the governing body of any political subdivision is now or may hereafter be prescribed by legislative act or charter, such maximum limit shall remain as so prescribed and shall not be construed to be increased by any of the provisions of this act.

§ 3. Statement by officer of estimated amount needed. Change by governing body. Not less than ninety days before the day prescribed by legislative act or charter for the governing body of a political subdivision to fix the rates of taxes to be levied therein, each officer thereof shall file with the governing body, in duplicate and upon a form or forms to be prescribed as hereinafter provided, a statement showing the income and expenditures of his office for the last two fiscal years immediately preceding, the estimated amount of money needed for his office for each and every purpose for the next fiscal year, and such other information as the said form or forms may call for. Such statements so filed as aforesaid shall be used by the governing body for the purpose of making up the budget of its political subdivision for the ensuing fiscal year.

The amount proposed to be produced by any special levy of taxes, and any estimate of the amount of money required or needed for any purpose filed with or submitted to the governing body of any political subdivision for the purpose of obtaining a levy or levies of taxes to produce the amount of money therein specified, may be revised and changed in whole or in part by the governing body with which the same is so filed or to which it so so submitted.

§ 4. State board of authorization created. A state board of authorization is hereby created for the purpose of determining whether an emergency or urgent necessity exists by reason of which any political subdivision may make tax levies that will produce an amount greater than the amount limited by section six; to prescribe the forms mentioned in section three; and to have such other powers and duties as are hereinafter vested therein. The members of the said board shall be the state controller, the chairman of the state board of control, the chairman of the state board of equalization and two other persons in the service of the state to be appointed by the governor, one of whom shall be a member of the state board of control. The members of the state board of authorization shall organize by electing a chairman and a secretary from their own number.

§ 5. Budget of political subdivision filed with board. Not less than sixty days prior to the time prescribed by legislative act or charter for the governing body of a political subdivision to determine upon and fix the rates of tax levies therein, such governing body shall file with the state board of authorization a copy of the statement theretofore filed with it by each officer as required by section three, and also, upon such form or forms as the state board of authorization may prescribe, the budget of such political subdivision for the ensuing fiscal year. Such budget shall show the income and expenditures of such political subdivision for the last two fiscal years immediately preceding, the estimated expenditures for each and every purpose for the ensuing fiscal year, an estimate of income for the ensuing fiscal year from sources other than taxation, the rate of each tax levy proposed to be made for such ensuing year, and such other facts and information as the state board of authorization may require.

§ 6. No increase in excess of five per cent. No governing body of any political subdivision shall in any year make tax levies which, in the aggregate, will produce an amount more than five per cent in excess of the amount produced by tax levies made thereby during the year immediately preceding, except as hereinafter provided.

§ 7. Approval by board. The state board of authorization shall examine such budgets, proposed tax levies and other matter filed as required by section five, and, after public hearing thereon, shall approve the proposed tax levies if the amount the same will produce will not exceed the amount limited by section six; otherwise it shall disapprove such proposed levies, giving its reasons therefor, and return them and the budget to the proper governing body to be corrected and revised by it in accordance with the reasons given, to the end that the amount that will be produced thereby shall not exceed the amount limited by section six. In correcting or revising any proposed levies or budget so returned for correction or revision the governing body shall make due provision in any event first for the principal and interest of bonded indebtedness and second for the support and maintenance of the public schools. No taxes shall be collected under any levy by the governing body of a political subdivision until after such levy shall have been approved or corrected and revised as in this section required.

§ 8. Request to make levies producing excess amount. In case of emergency or urgent necessity which, in the judgment of a governing body requires the making of tax levies which, in the aggregate, will produce an amount more than five per cent in excess of the amount produced by tax levies made thereby in the year immediately preceding, such fact shall be set forth in the form of a special request, containing a description of such emergency or urgent necessity and a statement of the amount in dollars of the desired excess, and filed with the state board of authorization. As soon as may be after receiving such special request the state board of authorization shall publicly hear and determine the same under such rules as it may prescribe. If the state board of authorization shall be of opinion that such emergency or urgent necessity exists it shall specifically authorize the making of tax levies, which, in the aggregate, will produce such excess amount; if it shall not be of such opinion it shall so state, giving its reasons therefor; and its decision shall be final unless changed by the voters as provided in section nine.

§ 9. Petition to call special election. Notice. Ballots. Three-fifths vote required. Within ten days after the date of the order or decision of the state board of authorization on any special request filed as required in the preceding section, a petition may be filed with the clerk or recording officer of the governing body of the political subdivision affected thereby, asking that a special election be called by such governing body to determine the question of whether such order or decision shall stand as final. If said petition is signed by not less than fifteen per cent of the electors of such subdivision resident therein for the period requisite to enable them to vote at a general election, the governing body with which the same is filed shall call the special election therein requested by publishing notice thereof in a daily paper, published in such subdivision, for five consecutive days before the same is held. If no daily paper is published therein, such notice shall be posted in at least fifty of the most public places in such subdivision for at least five consecutive days before the day of the election. Such notice must specify the time, place or places, and the purpose of said special election and the hours during which the polls will be kept open. Said election shall be conducted in accordance with the general election laws of this state, where applicable and not in conflict herewith. The ballots shall contain the question "Shall —— (naming the political subdivision) make tax levies in the year —— (naming the fiscal year) which will produce dollars (naming in words and figures the total sum desired to be produced, including the exact amount of increase requested of the board of authorization, in excess of the amount produced in the year immediately preceding) more than the amount produced by all tax levies in the year —— (naming the last preceding fiscal year)?" Under said question there shall be printed two squares, one above the other. Above the first square there shall be printed the word "yes," and above the second the word "no." Each voter shall indicate his vote by marking or stamping a cross (×) in the proper square. Every elector resident within the political subdivision for the period requisite to enable him to vote at a general election shall be entitled to vote at the election herein provided for. The votes cast shall be canvassed as expeditiously as is practicable and if not less than three-fifths of the votes cast shall be in the affirmative the governing body of the subdivision in which the election was held shall have power to make tax levies for the ensuing year which, in the aggregate, will produce the amount stated on the ballots in excess of the amount produced during the year preceding; but if the number of votes cast in the affirmative shall be less than three-fifths of all the votes cast at such election, the governing body shall not have such power. Such election must be held within fifteen days after the filing of a proper petition therefor. The result of such election, with a statement of the total number of votes cast and the total number of affirmative and negative votes, shall be forthwith recorded in the minutes of the governing body and certified to the board of authorization. Tax levies made pursuant to the decision of an election held as provided in this paragraph shall not require approval by the state board of authorization.

§ 10. When boundaries of political subdivision changed. During the first year after the boundaries of any political subdivision are changed to include or exclude in whole or in part property theretofore included in another political subdivision, no greater amount may be produced by tax levies upon property within such new boundaries than the amount produced by tax levies thereon in the year immediately preceding, plus five per cent, without special request and authorization as provided in section eight hereof.

§ 11. Excess amount excluded in estimate for ensuing year. The amount of any increase or excess, over the normal increase permitted by section six hereof, authorized by the state board of authorization after special request therefor, or by the voters as provided in section nine, shall be excluded in determining the amount that may be produced in an ensuing year without such special authorization or election.

§ 12. Procedure prescribed by board. The time, manner, form, contents of and procedure on special applications and requests to the state board of authorization under this act shall be prescribed by the said board, and all rules or orders prescribing the same may be modified or amended at any time. In the event any order is made by the state board of equalization under the provisions of section three thousand seven hundred five of the Political Code, the state board of authorization shall have power by order, in the event it deems it advisable so to do, to change any time requirement of this act so as to adjust the performance of duties under this act by governing bodies, and the petitioning for, publication of notice for, holding of, and certification of the results of elections held hereunder to meet any change of time so as aforesaid authorized by the state board of equalization.

§ 13. Application of percentage limitation. The percentage limitation provided for in sections six and eight shall apply to and restrict the amount produced or to be produced by the aggregate of all tax levies that the governing body of any political subdivision has or shall hereafter have power to make, or that it is its duty to make, for any purpose whatsoever.

In no event shall this act be construed, either in whole or in part, to permit the governing body of any political subdivision to make a levy of taxes for any purpose at a rate higher than the rates prescribed in section two.

§ 14. City, etc., may become subject to act. This act shall apply only to counties and to the governing bodies thereof; provided, any city, city and county or other political subdivision may by resolution of its governing body declaring its intention so to do, subject such political subdivision and such governing body to all the terms, conditions, limitations and requirements hereof by filing a certified copy of such resolution with the state board of authorization. From and after the filing with the state board of authorization of a certified copy of the resolution herein provided for, the governing body so passing the same and its political subdivision shall be subject in all respects and particulars to the provisions, conditions, requirements and limitations of this act.

§ 15. Minimum limits abolished. Repealed. In all cases in which levies of taxes by any political subdivision are permitted, authorized or directed to be made and the minimum limits thereof or the minimum amount or amounts that shall be raised thereby are expressed in terms of mills, cents, dollars, per cent of assessed value, or in dollars per capita or other unit, such minimum limits and each thereof are hereby expressly abrogated and abolished. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

ACT 4067g.

An act to provide for the payment into the county treasury of any moneys now held by county tax collectors which represent duplicate or excess payments of taxes on property in their respective counties, and to provide for the distribution and repayment of such moneys when so paid, and to provide for the payment, repayment and distribution of any duplicate or excess collections which may be made hereafter.

[Approved April 12, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 116. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. County tax collector to pay excess taxes to treasurer. It shall be the duty of every county tax collector, within thirty days after this act takes effect, to pay into the treasury of his county any moneys which said tax collector may have on hand, representing duplicate or excess payments of taxes on property within his county, including such as may have been collected during a previous term or terms, as well as during his present term of office. If the records of the tax collector show the fact, there shall be filed with the county auditor at the time of such payment a description of each piece of property for which such duplicate tax payments were collected and the amount of the tax collected for each such piece of property in excess of the tax regularly levied and collected on such property in any one year.

§ 2. Recovery of excess payments. Allowance of claim. Within five years from the time of such payment into the county treasury by the tax collector, any person holding a tax receipt showing the payment to a county tax collector of taxes in any one year on any given property in the county in excess of the taxes which have been regularly levied and collected upon said property for said year, may recover the excess over and above the tax regularly levied and collected on such property for such year, by filing with the board of supervisors a claim therefor, and surrendering with such claim the tax receipt for such excess payment. If the duplicate payment of taxes in excess of the regularly levied taxes shall have been paid by different persons, the party first filing such claim and receipt for the excess payment, shall be entitled to the refund. If, upon examination by the board of supervisors, it is found that such claim has been filed within the five years and represents a payment in excess of the taxes regularly levied and collected for any given piece of property in the county for any given year and the amount thereof has been paid into the county treasury by the tax collector as aforesaid, the board of supervisors shall allow the said claim for the excess payment to the person entitled thereto.

§ 3. Moneys credited to general fund. All moneys paid to the county treasurer by the county tax collector as herein provided, shall be placed to the credit of the general fund of the county.

§ 4. Duty of tax collector. Whenever any duplicate or excess payment of taxes is made hereafter, it shall be the duty of the tax collector to retain same for thirty days and if not refunded as hereinafter provided to pay the same into the county treasury on the first Monday of each month thereafter, and at the same time file with the county auditor a description of the property upon which said taxes have been collected, the excess amount collected for each piece so described and the name of the person to whom the property is assessed at the time such excess payment is made. Such duplicate or excess payment of taxes shall be placed to the credit of the general fund of the county and within five years the party making the same, or in the event the payments are made by different parties, the party first filing his claim therefor in the manner and form hereinbefore provided, may secure a refund of such duplicate or excess payment; provided, however, that during such thirty day period, the tax collector may adjust any mistakes in the payment of taxes by returning to the party or parties, making such duplicate or excess payments the amount thereof.

§ 5. Suit by district attorney. If any tax collector shall refuse to comply with the provisions of this act, the district attorney of the county is hereby authorized to begin suit against the county tax collector to recover any sums in the possession of said county tax collector representing said duplicate or excess payment of taxes, and the statute of limitations shall not be a defense to the maintenance of any such action.

ACT 4067h.

An act permitting daily payment into the county treasury of duplicate or excess payments of taxes made to the tax collector and providing for the refund of such payments.

[Approved May 5, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 248. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Daily payments of excess taxes. The county tax collector, notwithstanding the provisions of any other statute enacted at the forty-second session of the legislature of this state, may pay daily into the county treasury under the provisions of section four thousand one hundred one a of the Political Code all duplicate or excess payments of taxes hereafter made to him on property within the county; and all such duplicate and excess payments so paid into the county treasury shall be subject to refund under the provisions of section three thousand eight hundred four of the Political Code.

ACT 4067i.

An act to provide for the assessment, levy and collection of taxes for the support of the state government for the sixty-ninth and seventieth fiscal years.

[Approved May 14, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 470. In effect immediately.]

§ 1. Assessment and tax levy for support of state government. Sum to be raised for sixty-ninth fiscal year. Ad valorem rate to meet deficiency. The state board of equalization shall, between the first Monday in March and the first Monday in July in the year one thousand nine hundred seventeen, for the support of the state government assess and levy taxes upon the property in the manner and upon the rates of taxation as provided for in the subdivisions a, b, c, and d, of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of the state of California, or if any rate of taxation shall have been changed by the legislature pursuant to subdivision f of said section and article, then upon such rate of taxation as so changed and fixed, for the purpose of raising the sum of twenty million four hundred sixty thousand dollars for annual expenditure for the support of the state government for the sixty-ninth fiscal year, and in the event that the taxes so assessed and levied, together with all available revenues other than those revenues required by law to be used for special uses, shall not raise said sum of twenty million four hundred sixty thousand dollars, then said above-named revenues shall be deemed insufficient to meet the annual expenditures of the state for the sixty-ninth fiscal year, which deficiency is hereby declared to be the difference between the amount of taxes assessed and levied upon the property and in the manner and upon the rates of taxation hereinbefore specified, together with all other state revenues, other than those revenues required by law to be used for special uses, and said sum of twenty million four hundred sixty thousand dollars, then said state board of equalization, in accordance with the provisions of subdivision e of said section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of the state of California, at the time provided in section three thousand six hundred ninety-six of the Political Code, shall fix such an ad valorem rate of taxation for the said sixty-ninth fiscal year upon each one hundred dollars in value of taxable property, upon all the property in the state of California not exempt from taxation under the law and subject to taxation for state purposes on the seventh day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred ten, as, after allowing five per cent for delinquencies, will raise for said sixty-ninth fiscal year the amount of said deficiency.

§ 2. Sum to be raised for seventieth fiscal year. Ad valorem rate to meet deficiency. The state board of equalization shall, between the first Monday in March and the first Monday in July in the year one thousand nine hundred eighteen, for the support of the state government, assess and levy taxes upon the property in the manner and upon the rates of taxation as provided for in subdivisions a, b, c, and d, of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of the state of California, or if any rate of taxation shall have been changed by the legislature pursuant to subdivision f of said section and article, then upon such rate of taxation as so changed and fixed by the laws now in force, for the purpose of raising the sum of twenty-one million one hundred forty thousand dollars for annual expenditure for the support of the state government for the seventieth fiscal year; and in the event that the taxes so assessed and levied, together with all available revenues other than those revenues required by law to be used for special uses, shall not raise said sum of twenty-one million one hundred forty thousand dollars, then said above-named revenues shall be deemed insufficient to meet the annual expenditures of the state for the seventieth fiscal year, which deficiency is hereby declared to be the difference between the amount of taxes assessed and levied upon the property and in the manner and upon the rates of taxation as hereinbefore specified, together with all other state revenues, other than those revenues required by law to be used for special uses, and said sum of twenty-one million one hundred forty thousand dollars, then said state board of equalization, in accordance with the provisions of subdivision e of said section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of the state of California, at the time provided in section three thousand six hundred ninety-six of the Political Code, shall fix such an ad valorem rate of taxation for said seventieth fiscal year upon each one hundred dollars in value of taxable property, upon all the property of the state of California not exempt from taxation under the law and subject to taxation for state purposes on the seventh day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred ten, as, after allowing five per cent for delinquencies, will raise for said seventieth fiscal year, the amount of said deficiency.

§ 3. Tax to meet deficiency levied on what property. Any tax so levied and collected to meet a deficiency in state revenues for either of said fiscal years shall be assessed, levied and collected on all property in the state, not exempt from taxation, including the classes of property enumerated in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state, under the provisions of the Political Code relating to the assessment, levy and collection of state and county taxes as said provisions were in force on the seventh day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred ten.

§ 4. In effect immediately. This act, inasmuch as it provides for a tax levy for the usual current expenses of the state shall, under the provisions of section one of article four of the constitution of the state of California, take effect immediately.

TEHAMA COUNTY.

ACT 4067j.

Charter of. [Stats. 1917, p. 1877.]

TITLE 567.

TENEMENT HOUSES.

ACT 4098.

An act to regulate the building and occupancy of tenement houses in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof and repealing an act entitled, "An act to regulate the building and occupancy of tenement houses in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof," approved April 16, 1909, Statutes of California of 1909, page 948. [Approved April 10, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 860.]

The entire act was amended June 13, 1913; Stats. 1913, p. 737; and again May 29, 1915; Stats. 1915, p. 952. Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1473. See next act.

ACT 4098a.

An act to regulate the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration, maintenance, use and occupancy of tenement houses, and the maintenance, use and occupancy of the premises and land on which tenement houses are erected or located, in all parts of the state of California, including incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof; and repealing an act entitled "An act to regulate the building and occupancy of tenement houses in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof, and repealing an act entitled 'An act to regulate the building and occupancy of tenement houses in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof,' approved April 16, 1909, Statutes of California of 1909, page 948," approved April 10, 1911, Statutes of California of 1911, page 860, and approved June 13, 1913, Statutes of California, 1913, page 737, and approved May 29, 1915, Statutes of California, page 952, and all acts amendatory thereof.

[Approved May 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1473. In effect September 1, 1917.]

§ 1. Title. This act shall be known as the "state tenement house act" and its provisions shall apply to all parts of the state of California, including incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties.

§ 2. Duty of building department. Duty of housing department. In case no such departments. Enforcement. Power of commission of immigration and housing. It shall be the duty of the "building department" of every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, to enforce all the provisions of this act pertaining to the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, conversion, alteration and arrangement of tenement houses and to issue the certificate of "final completion" hereinafter provided.

It shall be the duty of the "housing department" or if there is no housing department the health department of every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county to enforce all of the provisions of this act pertaining to the maintenance, sanitation, ventilation, use and occupancy of tenement houses after said tenement houses have been erected, constructed, or altered, as the case may be, and the certificate of "final completion" has been issued by the building department, and to issue the "permit of occupancy" as hereinafter provided.

In the event that there is no building department or no housing department or health department in an incorporated town, incorporated city or incorporated city and county, it shall be the duty of the officer or officers who are charged with the enforcement of ordinances and laws regulating the erection, construction or alteration of buildings, or the maintenance, sanitation, ventilation or occupancy of buildings, or of the police, fire or health regulations in said incorporated town, incorporated city or incorporated city and county to enforce all of the provisions of this act.

In every county it shall be the duty of the officer or officers who are charged with the enforcement of ordinances or laws regulating the erection, construction or alteration of buildings, or of the maintenance, sanitation, occupancy and ventilation of buildings, or of the police, fire or health regulations in said county, to enforce all of the provisions of this act outside of the limits of any incorporated town or incorporated city.

Every incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county in the state of California shall have, and it is hereby empowered and given authority to designate and charge by ordinance any other department or officer than the department or officers mentioned herein, with the enforcement of this act, or any portion thereof.

The commission of immigration and housing of California shall have, and it is hereby empowered and given authority to enforce the provisions of this act, which do not pertain to the actual erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration or arrangement of tenement houses in all incorporated towns, incorporated cities and incorporated cities and counties, and counties in the state of California, whenever said commission finds or discovers a violation or violations of the provisions of this act and notifies the local department or officer, or departments or officers who are charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act, in writing, of such violation or violations, and the said local department or officer, or departments or officers, fail, neglect or refuse to enforce the provisions of the said act within thirty days thereafter; provided, however, that the said commission of immigration and housing of California shall enforce the provisions of this act only in the instances specified in said written notice.

§ 3. Unlawful to construct tenement house contrary to act. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, whether as owner, agent, contractor, builder, architect, engineer, superintendent, foreman, plumber, tenant, lessee, lessor, occupant, or in any other capacity whatsoever, to erect, construct, reconstruct, alter, build upon, move, convert, use, occupy or maintain, or to cause, permit or suffer to be erected, constructed, reconstructed, altered, built upon, moved, converted, used, occupied or maintained any tenement house or any portion thereof contrary to the provisions of this act, or to commit or maintain or cause or permit to be committed or maintained any nuisance in or upon any tenement house or any portion thereof, or any of the premises, yards or courts which are a part thereof, or which are required by the provisions of this act; or to do or cause to be done, or to use or cause to be used, any privy, sewer, cesspool, plumbing or house drainage affecting the sanitary condition of any tenement house or any portion thereof, or of the premises thereof, contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

§ 4. Alterations. It shall be unlawful for any person to make any alterations or changes, or reconstruction work of any kind whatsoever, to any tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act, or to any tenement house hereafter erected, or to increase the height or the percentage of the lot occupied, in any manner which would be inconsistent with any of the provisions of this act, or in violation of the said provisions of this act, or in any manner to diminish the size of the yards, courts or shafts or the size of windows or skylights, or to remove any stairway or fire escape, or to obstruct the egress from such building or from the hallways or stairways, or to do anything that would affect the ventilation and sanitation of the building, contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

§ 5. Building converted to use as tenement house. Building moved. Building reconstructed. A building not erected for, or which is not used as a tenement house at the time of the passage of this act, if hereafter converted to or altered for such use, shall thereupon become subject to all of the provisions of this act affecting tenement houses hereafter erected.

A building used as a tenement house at the time of the passage of this act, if moved, shall be made to conform to all of the provisions of this act affecting tenement houses hereafter erected, in so far as they pertain to the percentage of lot occupied and the size of outer courts, inner courts bounded by a lot line, and yards.

It shall be unlawful to reconstruct any tenement house which is hereafter damaged by fire or the elements to an extent in excess of fifty-one (51) per cent of its physical proportions, unless the said building is made to conform to all of the provisions of this act affecting tenement houses hereafter erected.

§ 6. Penalty for violation. Procedure. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and in addition to the penalty therefor, shall be liable for all costs, expense and disbursements paid or incurred by the department, by any of the officers thereof, or by any agent, employee or contractor of same, in the prosecution of such violation. The costs, expense and disbursements by this section provided shall be fixed by the court having jurisdiction of the matter.

Except as herein otherwise specified, the procedure for the prevention of violations of this act, for the vacation of tenement houses or premises unlawfully occupied, or for the abatement of a nuisance in connection with a tenement house or the premises thereof, shall be as set forth in the charter and ordinances of the municipality in which the procedure is instituted.

§ 7. Permit to erect tenement house. Application. Affidavit. Permit issued. Revocation. Plans kept on premises. Permit for nominal alterations. Expiration of permit. In every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, it shall be unlawful to commence or to proceed with the erection, construction, reconstruction, conversion, or alteration of a tenement house, or to move or to build upon a tenement house, or to convert a building or any portion thereof into use as a tenement house, without first obtaining a permit in writing so to do from the department charged with the enforcement of this act. Any person, firm or corporation desiring such a permit shall file an application therefor with the department charged with the enforcement of this act. Said application shall give a detailed statement in writing, verified under oath by the person making the same, of the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, conversion or alteration, as the case may be, upon blanks or forms to be furnished by the said department. The said application must be accompanied with a full, true and complete set of the plans of the tenement house or alteration, or work proposed, as the case may be, together with a set of specifications describing the materials proposed to enter into the construction of the proposed work, also a plan of the lot on which such building is proposed to be erected, constructed, reconstructed, converted, altered, or moved, as the case may be. Such statement shall give in full the name and address by street and number of the owner or owners, also the name and address of the architect and of the contractor, if there be such an architect or contractor; also shall give such other data and information as in the judgment of the department charged with the enforcement of this act is deemed necessary.

The affidavit to said application shall allege that the plans and specifications are true and contain a correct description of the proposed tenement house, lot and proposed work. If any person other than the owner makes such affidavit, such person shall not be recognized except that he allege in his affidavit that he is authorized and empowered by the said owner to act for him and to sign the required affidavit. Said department charged with the enforcement of this act shall cause all such plans, specifications and statements to be examined, and if it appears that they conform to the provisions of this act, shall then issue a permit to the person submitting the same. Said department may, from time to time, approve changes in any plans, specifications or statements previously approved by it; provided, that all changes when so made shall be in conformity with the provisions of this act. Said department shall have the power to revoke or cancel any permit or approval that it has previously issued in case of any refusal, failure or neglect of the person to whom such permit or approval has been issued to comply with any of the provisions of this act, or in case any false statement or misrepresentation is made in any of the said plans, specifications or statements submitted or filed for such permit or approval. The erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration or conversion of any such tenement house, as the case may be, shall be made in accordance with the plans, specifications and statements submitted or filed and for which the permit is issued.

A true copy of the plans, specifications and other information submitted or filed, upon which a permit is issued, with the approval of the department with which they are filed, stamped or written thereon shall be kept upon the premises of the tenement house or work for which the said permit is issued, from the commencement of the said building or work to the final completion of same, and shall be subject to inspection at all times by proper authorities.

The department charged with the enforcement of this act may, at its discretion, issue a permit in case of nominal alterations or repairs, when application is made therefor, in writing, by the owner or his agent, when the making of said nominal alterations and repairs do not affect any structural feature or the sanitation or the ventilation of the tenement house, without requiring the filing of plans or specifications.

The issuance or granting of a permit or approval by the department charged with the enforcement of this act under the authority of this section shall not be deemed or construed to be a permit or an approval of the violation of any of the provisions of this act.

Every permit or approval which is issued by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, but under which no work has been done within ninety days from the date of issuance, or where work has been suspended for a period of ninety days, shall expire by limitation and a new permit shall be obtained before the work may be done.

§ 8. "Certificate of final completion" and "permit of occupancy." Renewal of permit of occupancy. Certificate issued. Permit issued. Tenement house occupied without permit nuisance. In every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, it shall be unlawful to occupy or to permit to be occupied, any tenement house hereafter erected, constructed, reconstructed, altered, converted or moved, as the case may be, or any portion thereof, for human habitation until the issuance of a "certificate of final completion" and a "permit of occupancy" by the department or departments charged with the enforcement of this act.

It shall also be unlawful to occupy any existing tenement house until a permit of occupancy has been issued by the department designated to issue such permit.

Every permit of occupancy shall be renewed each calendar year by the department designated to issue the said permit; provided, that no structural alterations or changes have occurred since the issuance of the certificate of final completion; and provided, that all other provisions of this act have been complied with.

Any person desiring a certificate shall file a notice with the department charged with the enforcement of this act. Said department shall cause an inspection to be made of the said tenement house or portion thereof, or work described in the said notice, within ten days after written application therefor, and shall issue a "certificate of final completion" if it is found that all the provisions of this act, regulating the erection, construction, alteration or moving, as the case may be, have been complied with.

The department charged with the enforcement of this act and designated to issue the permit of occupancy shall issue the said "permit of occupancy" upon application, in writing, therefor by the owner or his agent, and upon the filing by the owner or his agent of such statements or records required by the department, after the "certificate of final completion" has been issued; provided, that no violations have occurred since the issuance of the certificate of final completion, or, in the case of a tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act, and for which no certificate of final completion has been issued, then after the said department has causd an inspection to have been made of the said tenement house and has found that all of the provisions of this act applying to such tenement house have been complied with.

All permits and certificates shall be made in duplicate and a copy shall remain on file in the department issuing them.

Any tenement house hereafter erected, altered, converted or moved, which is occupied, or any portion thereof which is occupied for human habitation, prior to a "certificate of final completion" or a "permit of occupancy" being issued, shall be deemed a nuisance, and the department or departments charged with the enforcement of this act may cause it to be vacated until the said certificate of completion and permit of occupancy have been obtained in accordance with the provisions of this act.

§ 9. Power to enter tenement house. The department or departments charged with the enforcement of this act in any incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county, and the authorized officers, agents or employees of such department or departments, may, whenever necessary, enter tenement houses or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, within the corporate limits of such towns, cities, cities and counties, or counties, for the purpose of inspecting such buildings, in order to secure compliance with the provisions of this act and to prevent violations thereof.

The members of the commission of immigration and housing of California and the agents, officers or employees of said commission may, whenever necessary, enter tenement houses or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, for the purpose of inspecting such buildings in order to secure compliance with the provisions of this act and to prevent violations thereof.

The owner or his authorized agent may, whenever necessary, enter tenement houses, or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, owned by him, to carry out any instructions or to perform any work required to be done by the provisions of this act.

§ 10. Definitions. For the purpose of this act, certain words and phrases are defined as follows, unless it shall be apparent from their context that they have a different meaning:

Words used in the singular include the plural, and the plural, the singular.

Words used in the present tense include the future.

Words used in the masculine gender include the feminine, and the feminine, the masculine.

Words "building department," "housing department," "health department," "department charged with the enforcement of this act," "fire commissioner," shall be construed as if followed by the words, "of the incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county," as the case may be, in which the tenement house is situated.

"Apartment" is a room or suite of rooms which is occupied, or is intended or designed to be occupied by one family for living and sleeping purposes.

"Approved" means whatever material, appliance, appurtenance, or other matter meets the requirements and approval of the department charged with the enforcement of this act, or which is approved by local ordinance of the municipality in which the building is situated, or any appliance, appurtenance, or other matter which conforms to the requirements of, and bears the approval of the "national board of fire underwriters"; provided, however, that no such material, appliance, appurtenance, or other matter shall be deemed "approved" for use where, or in such a manner as would be inconsistent with the intent, or specific provisions of this act.

"Basement" is any story or portion thereof partly below the level of the curb or the actual adjoining ground level, the ceiling of which in no part is less than seven feet above the curb level or actual adjoining ground levels. If the adjoining ground is excavated to or below the curb level, or to or below the adjoining natural ground level, such excavated space shall have not less than the minimum width and length required in this act for outer courts.

Every basement is a story.

"Building" is a tenement house.

"Building department" means the commissioner of buildings, superintendent of buildings, chief inspector of buildings, or any officer or department charged with the enforcement of ordinances and laws regulating the construction and alteration of buildings or structures.

"Cellar" is any story or portion thereof, the ceiling of which in any part is less than seven feet above the curb level and actual adjoining ground levels.

"Court" is an open, unoccupied space other than a yard on the lot on which is situated a tenement house. A court, one entire side or end of which is bounded by a front yard, a rear yard or a side yard, or by the front of lot, or by a street or a public alley, is an "outer court." Every court which is not an "outer court" is an "inner court."

Every court shall be open and unobstructed to the sky from a point not more than two feet above the floor line of the lowest story in the building in which there are windows from rooms or apartments abutting the said court, except that a cornice on the building may extend into an "outer court" two inches for each one foot in width of such court, and a cornice may extend into an "inner court" one inch for each one foot in width of such court.

"Curb level" is the curb level opposite the center of the "front of lot."

Wherever the word "department" is used it means the building department, the housing department, the health department or such other department or officer, or departments or officers, who are charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act.

"Family" is one person living alone or a group of two or more persons living together in an apartment, whether related to each other by birth or not.

"Fireproof tenement house" is a building wherein all the exterior and interior loads or strains are transmitted to the foundation by means of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone, or by means of a skeleton framework of steel or iron, the exterior walls, inner court walls and roof constructed of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone or hollow terra cotta tile; where all the structural steel or iron is thoroughly fireproofed by concrete, cement plaster, tile, brick or sandstone, not less than two inches thick; where all the interior partitions are constructed of either hollow terra cotta tile blocks, gypsum blocks, brick, concrete, reinforced concrete, or of metal studs lathed with metal lath and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath, or of metal studs lathed with approved plaster board and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the plaster board, or constructed of wire glass not less than one-fourth inch thick, set in metal frames and sash, and all other materials used in the said building are of approved incombustible material, except that the glass in windows, transoms, or doors may be plain glass, and except that doors, frames, sash and the usual trim of rooms, hallways, corridors and passageways may be of wood, and except that wood floors may be placed on top of the floors constructed of incombustible materials, except in the stairways and public hallways.

"Housing department" is any department or commission charged with the enforcement of ordinances or laws regulating the occupancy and maintenance of tenement houses, hotels or dwelling-house buildings; and where no such department is maintained, shall be deemed to be the health commissioner, the department of health, health officer, or similar department charged with the enforcement of laws and ordinances relating to the protection of the public health.

"Kitchen" is any room in any apartment used or intended or designed to be used for cooking purposes and for the preparation of food.

"Lot" is a parcel or area of land on which is situated a tenement house, together with the land, yards, courts and unoccupied spaces for such a tenement house as required by this act; all of which land shall be owned by or be under the absolute lawful control and in the lawful possession of the tenement house.

A lot situated at the junction of two or more intersecting streets, with a boundary line thereof bordering on each of the two streets, is a "corner lot." All parts of the width of such a corner lot which are distant more than seventy-five feet from the junction point of the two or more intersecting streets, shall be deemed to be an "interior lot." The owner or his authorized agent may designate either street frontage as being the front of such corner lot for the purpose of determining the width thereof.

A lot which has only one boundary line bordering on a public street is an "interior lot."

"Rear lot" is a parcel or area of land having no boundary line bordering on a street, or having less than one-half of its width as a boundary line bordering on a street.

"Front of lot" is the boundary line of lot bordering on the street. In case of a corner lot, either of such boundary lines may be the "front of lot."

"Rear of lot" is the boundary line of lot opposite the "front of lot."

"Depth of lot" is the mean distance from the "front of lot" to the "rear of lot."

"Nuisance" embraces public nuisance as known at common law or in equity jurisprudence, and whatever is dangerous to human life or detrimental to health, and shall also embrace the overcrowding with occupants of any room, insufficient ventilation, or illumination, or inadequate or insanitary sewerage or plumbing facilities, or uncleanliness, and whatever renders air, food or drink unwholesome or detrimental to the health of human beings.

"Occupied space" is all the space covered by a tenement house, including outside stairways, platforms, fire-escapes, balconies, fire-towers, chimneys, stacks, vent shafts, not exceeding thirty-two square feet in area, cornice, or any part thereof, which projects into an inner court more than one inch for each one foot in width of such court, or which projects into an outer court or yard more than two inches for each one foot in width of such outer court or a yard, except that outside stairways, platforms and balconies constructed of open metal work and fire-escapes may extend not exceeding four feet beyond the exterior walls of the building into a front or rear yard, and except that a retaining wall may extend not to exceed twelve inches into a yard or court. For the purpose of determining occupied space, the area of the building shall be taken at the lowest story or portion thereof used for living or sleeping purposes.

"Person" is a natural person, his heirs, executors, administrators or assigns; and also includes a firm, partnership or corporation, its or their successors or assigns.

"Public hallway" is a hallway, corridor, passageway or vestibule not within an apartment, and includes stairways, landings and platforms.

"Rear tenement house" is a tenement house on a "rear lot."

"Semi-fireproof tenement house" is a building with all exterior walls and walls of inner and outer courts constructed of brick, stone, concrete, reinforced concrete or hollow terra cotta tile; except that the walls of an inner court, which court is surrounded on four sides by the same building, may be constructed as provided in this act for such inner courts; interior partitions and floors constructed of approved incombustible materials or of wood, with all ceilings, partitions, soffits of stairways, and outside stringers of open stairways and stair wells metal lathed and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or lathed with an approved plaster board plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the plaster board; in which all finished floors, frames, doors and the usual trim of rooms and hallways may be built of wood and the roof of which shall be covered with at least a composition fire-retardant material.

"Shall." Whenever this word is used it shall be mandatory.

"Street" is any public street, alley, thoroughfare or park having a minimum width of sixteen feet, measured from the "front of lot" to the opposite "front of lot," and which shall have been dedicated or deeded to the public for public use.

"Tenement house" is any house or building, or portion thereof, more than one story in height, which is designed, built, rented, leased, let, or hired out to be occupied, or which is occupied as the home or residence of three or more families living independently of each other and doing their cooking in the said building; provided, however, that any building not more than two stories in height which is designed, built, rented, leased, let or hired out to be occupied, or is occupied, as the home or residence of not more than four families, and the said building is so arranged that each of the said families live independently of each other, and the building is constructed and arranged so that a separate section is, or may be, kept as a home or residence of a separate family, and each such section has an entirely independent and separate entrance, and if a stairway is required, one such stairway leading to each section from the street or from an outside vestibule on the level of the first floor of said building is a separate stairway, and with no room, hallway, bath-room, water-closet, or kitchen used in common by two or more families occupying the said building, shall be deemed not to come within the definition of a "tenement house."

"Wooden tenement house" is a building which does not fully comply with the requirements for a "fireproof" or a "semi-fireproof" tenement house as defined in this act, and shall include all frame and all veneered buildings.

In every such building all ceilings and walls and partitions of public hallways, soffits of interior stairways and the outside stringers of open stairways, and stair wells shall be metal lathed and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath, or lathed with an approved plaster board plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the plaster board.

"Yard" is a portion of a lot on which is situated a tenement-house and which is unoccupied by the building and extends from the ground up (except where otherwise provided by this act) open and unobstructed to the sky; except that outside stairways, platforms and balconies constructed of open metal work and fire-escapes may extend not more than four feet into such yards. If such yard is between the front line of the building and the front boundary line of the lot, it is a "front yard." If it is between the extreme rear line of the building and the rear of the lot, it is a "rear yard." If it extends from the rear yard to the front yard or front of the lot, it is a "side yard."

§ 11. Front yard. No tenement house shall hereafter be erected on, or moved on to, a rear lot. No building for any purpose shall hereafter be erected in front of any tenement house unless there shall be left unoccupied a front yard extending from the front of the rear tenement house to the front line of lot bordering on the street.

Such front yard shall not be in any part less in width than fifty per cent of the actual width of the rear tenement house.

§ 12. Height. No fireproof tenement house hereafter erected shall exceed one hundred fifty feet in height, nor more than one and one-half times the width of the widest street to which the lot on which it is situated abuts.

No semi-fireproof tenement house hereafter erected shall exceed six stories at any point, nor more than sixty-five feet in height (except as hereinafter provided), nor more than one and one-half times the width of the widest street to which the lot on which it is situated abuts.

No wooden tenement house hereafter erected shall exceed three stories at any point nor more than thirty-six feet in height (except as hereinafter provided), nor more than one and one-half times the width of the widest street to which the lot on which it is situated abuts.

The width of the street, for this purpose, shall be measured from the extreme front of the building to the front of lot opposite, across the street.

For the purposes of this section a basement is a story.

The height of a fireproof tenement house is the perpendicular distance from the curb level or adjoining ground levels to the highest point of the roof. The height of a semi-fireproof or of a wooden tenement house is the perpendicular distance from the curb level or adjoining ground levels to the lowest point of the finished ceiling of the top story; provided, that in the case of a semi-fireproof tenement house situated on a lot with the ground sloping downward from the facade at which the measurement is taken the height of the building shall not at any point exceed sixty-five feet above the curb level measured on the facade facing the street, nor shall the height of the building at any point of the grade exceed seventy-five feet above the adjoining curb in case of a corner lot, or above the level of the ground in the case of an interior lot, and in the case of a wooden tenement house situated on a lot with the ground sloping downward from the facade at which the measurement is taken the height of the building shall not at any point exceed thirty-six feet above the curb line measured on the facade facing the street, nor shall the height of the building at any point of the grade exceed forty-six feet above the adjoining curb in the case of a corner lot or above the level of the ground in the case of an interior lot.

§ 13. Per cent of lot left unoccupied. On every corner lot on which a tenement house is hereafter erected, at least ten per cent of such lot shall be left unoccupied; provided, however, that if such corner lot extends through from one street to another street, one-half of the narrowest street to which said lot abuts may be considered as a part of the lot in computing the percentage of lot to be left unoccupied; except that if such one-half of the narrowest street is greater than the rear yard required for such tenement house, then only as much of the said street as is required for the rear yard shall be considered as part of the lot for the purpose of computing the percentage of lot to be left unoccupied.

On every interior lot on which a tenement house is hereafter erected, at least twenty-five per cent of such lot shall be left unoccupied; provided, however, that if such interior lot extends through from one street to another street, one-half of the narrowest street to which such lot abuts may be considered as a part of the lot in computing the percentage of lot to be left unoccupied; except that if such one-half of the narrowest street is greater than the rear yard required for such tenement house, then only as much of the said street as is required for the rear yard shall be considered as part of the lot for the purpose of computing the percentage of lot to be left unoccupied.

§ 14. Rear yard. Immediately behind every tenement house hereafter erected there shall be a rear yard extending across the entire width of the lot.

§ 15. Yard serving two tenement houses. Distance between buildings. In no event shall any yard or court be made to serve the purpose of two tenement houses hereafter erected, or of an existing tenement house and a tenement house hereafter erected, unless such yard or court, as the case may be, is of the full size required for two tenement houses, and then only in the event that such yard or court, as the case may be, is located on the same lot and owned by or in the absolute lawful control and in the lawful possession of the tenement house it proposes to serve.

Where a tenement house, now or hereafter erected, stands upon a lot, no other building shall hereafter be placed upon the front or rear of that lot, unless the minimum distance between such buildings shall be at least ten feet, and two additional feet shall be added to such minimum distance of ten feet for every story more than one in height of the highest building on such lot.

§ 16. Depth of rear yard. The depth of a rear yard shall be measured at right angles from the extreme rear line of the building toward the rear lot line.

§ 17. Minimum depth of rear yard on interior lot. On every interior lot on which a tenement house is hereafter erected there shall be provided a rear yard. Such yard shall extend from the ground clear and unobstructed to the sky, and shall extend across the entire width of the lot; except that outside stairways, platforms and balconies constructed of open metal work and fire-escapes may extend not more than four feet into such yard. The minimum depth of such rear yard shall be as follows:

Height of building measured from top of wall to floor of yard at point abutting the rear yard	Depth of rear yard
Not exceeding 36 feet	10 feet
Not exceeding 48 feet	11 feet
Not exceeding 60 feet	12 feet
Not exceeding 72 feet	14 feet
Not exceeding 84 feet	16 feet
Not exceeding 96 feet	18 feet
Not exceeding 108 feet	20 feet
Not exceeding 120 feet	22 feet
Not exceeding 132 feet	24 feet
Not exceeding 150 feet	26 feet

Provided, however, that if such interior lot extends through from one street to another street or public alley, one-half of the narrowest street or public alley to which said lot abuts may be considered as a part of the lot in computing the rear yard required by this section.

§ 18. Minimum depth of rear yard on corner lot. On every corner lot on which a tenement house is hereafter erected there shall be provided a rear yard. Such yard shall extend from the lowest floor which is used for living or sleeping apartments, clear and unobstructed to the sky, and shall extend across the entire width of such lot; except that outside stairways, platforms and balconies constructed of open metal work and fire-escapes may be extended not more than four feet into such yard. The minimum depth of such rear yard shall be as follows:

Depth of corner lot	Depth of rear yard
Not exceeding 100 feet....	Not less than 10 per cent of the depth of the lot nor less than 5 feet, nor less than the mimimum width required for an outer court, based on the number of stories in such building.
Exceeding 100 feet.....	Not less than 10 feet nor less than the minimum width required for an outer court, based on the number of stories in such building.

Provided, however, if such corner lot extends through from one street to another street, or to a public alley, one-half of the narrowest street or public alley to which such lot abuts may be considered as a part of the lot in computing the rear yard required by this section.

§ 19. Passageway to street. Every rear yard required by this act and not bordering on a street or public alley and without direct access thereto shall have access to a street or public alley by means of an unobstructed passageway not less than three feet six inches in clear width, nor less than seven feet in clear height; and if such passageway or any portion thereof passes through a building, such portion thereof shall be built of approved incombustible materials, or shall be lathed with metal lath or approved plaster board and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or plaster board, or shall be lined with not less than number twenty-six (gauge) galvanized iron, and shall be drained and lighted.

§ 20. Excavated front yard. Every front yard which is excavated below the level of the curb or below the adjoining ground level for the purpose of furnishing light and ventilation to a basement shall in no part be less in width and length than required for outer courts.

§ 21. Width of side yard. The width of every side yard shall be not less than the width required for an outer court except that the provisions of this act regarding the maximum lengths of an outer court shall not apply to a side yard; provided, that if there is a side yard on both sides of the building, connected one with the other across the rear of the building by the rear yard, then the width of the side yards may be reduced twelve inches.

§ 22. Minimum size of outer court. The minimum size of every outer court for a tenement house hereafter erected shall be as follows:

Height of building based on the full number of stories in the building measured upward from and including the lowest story in which there is an apartment or apartments	Minimum width of court	Maximum length of court
1 or 2 stories	4 ft. 0 in.	16 ft. 0 in.
3 stories	4 ft. 6 in.	25 ft. 0 in.
4 stories	5 ft. 6 in.	30 ft. 0 in.
5 stories	6 ft. 0 in.	35 ft. 0 in.
6 stories	8 ft. 0 in.	35 ft. 0 in.
7 stories	10 ft. 0 in.	40 ft. 0 in.
8 stories	12 ft. 0 in.	40 ft. 0 in.
9 stories	13 ft. 0 in.	40 ft. 0 in.
10 or more stories	14 ft. 0 in.	40 ft. 0 in.

There shall be added to the minimum width of each such outer court six inches for each five feet or fractional part thereof in excess of the maximum length; provided, however, that the maximum lengths herein provided shall not apply when the outer court is bounded on one side for its entire length by a lot line; provided, further, that if an outer court is bounded by a public alley or public park, the width of such public alley or public park may be considered a part of the lot in determining the required width of the outer court.

§ 23. Minimum size of inner court. The minimum size of every inner court for tenement houses hereafter erected shall be as follows:

Height of building based on the full number of stories in the building measured upward from and including the lowest story in which there is an apartment or apartments.	Minimum width of court	Minimum area of court in square feet
1 or 2 stories	6 ft. 0 in.	75 square feet
3 stories	7 ft. 0 in.	120 square feet
4 stories	8 ft. 0 in.	160 square feet
5 stories	12 ft. 0 in.	250 square feet
6 stories	16 ft. 0 in.	400 square feet
7 stories	20 ft. 0 in.	625 square feet
8 stories and more	24 ft. 0 in.	840 square feet

Provided, however, that the minimum size of every inner court which is bounded on one side for its entire length by a lot line may be as follows:

Height of building based on the full number of stories in the building measured upward from and including the lowest story in which there is an apartment or apartments.	Minimum width of court	Minimum area of court
1 or 2 stories	5 ft. 0 in.	75 square feet
3 stories	6 ft. 0 in.	120 square feet
4 stories	7 ft. 0 in.	160 square feet
5 stories	9 ft. 0 in.	250 square feet
6 stories	16 ft. 0 in.	400 square feet
7 stories	20 ft. 0 in.	625 square feet
8 stories and more	24 ft. 0 in.	840 square feet

Every inner court hereafter constructed and every inner court or vent shaft now in any tenement house shall be provided with a door or window at or near the bottom thereof, giving sufficient access to such court or vent shaft as to enable it to be properly cleaned out.

§ 24. Recess. Every recess from a court, yard or street in a tenement house hereafter erected shall, unless it conforms to the requirements of this act for an inner court, or an outer court, be not less in width than its depth. Every such recess shall be open and unobstructed to the sky from a point not more than two feet above the floor line of the lowest story in the building in which there are rooms the said recess proposes to serve.

§ 25. Intakes for inner court. Construction. Every inner court in a tenement house hereafter erected shall be provided with one or more horizontal intakes at the bottom of the court, as follows:

Inner court areas	Minimum number of intakes	Net aggregate area of intakes
Each not exceeding 300 square feet	One	19½ square feet
Each not exceeding 800 square feet	Two	40 square feet
Each exceeding 800 square feet	Two	60 square feet

Every such intake shall always extend directly to the front of lot or front yard, or rear yard, or to a side yard, or to a street, or to a public alley or public park. Whenever more than one intake is required, one such intake shall extend to the front of lot or front yard, and one to the rear yard, public alley, public park, or to the other street, and the court ends of the air intakes shall be as far apart as possible.

Each such intake shall consist of an unobstructed duct or passageway having a minimum width of three feet in all its parts and a minimum height of six feet six inches.

Every such intake shall be constructed of approved incombustible materials, or shall be lined with at least number twenty-six (gauge) galvanized iron on the inside thereof. Such air intakes may be closed at each end with a gate or grill having not less than seventy-five per cent of open work.

In case the inner court does not extend below the second floor level, then each such air intake may consist of an unobstructed open duct, constructed of approved incombustible materials or lined with at least number twenty-six (gauge) galvanized iron on the inside thereof, having an interior area of not less than nineteen and one-half square feet, and in no dimension less than twelve inches, and covered at each end with a wire screen of not less than one inch mesh.

Every air intake shall be drained and so constructed and arranged as to be readily cleaned out.

§ 26. Cellars. In no tenement house shall any room in the cellar be constructed, altered, converted or occupied for living or sleeping purposes.

Every cellar shall be illuminated and ventilated. The walls and floor of every cellar hereafter constructed, which are below the ground level, shall be made waterproof and dampproof, and whenever deemed necessary, and so ordered by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, the walls and ceilings thereof shall be plastered.

§ 27. Basements. In no tenement house shall any room in the basement be constructed, altered, converted or occupied for living or sleeping purposes, unless such room conforms to all of the requirements of this act for rooms in other parts of the building and that the ceiling of each such room be in all parts not less than seven feet above the adjoining level.

Every basement shall be illuminated and ventilated. The walls and floors of every basement hereafter constructed, which are below the ground level, shall be made waterproof and dampproof, and whenever deemed necessary, and so ordered by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, the walls and ceilings thereof shall be plastered.

§ 28. Ventilation beneath floor. Floor made impervious to rats. In every tenement house hereafter erected, the lowest floor thereof shall be at least eighteen inches above the surface soil adjoining and under the floor, and the entire space under such floor shall be kept dry, drained, clean and free from any accumulation of rubbish, debris or filth.

Such space under the floor shall be inclosed and provided with a sufficient number of openings with removable screens or similar provisions of a size to insure ample ventilation; provided, however, that in any such building the lowest floor thereof may be less than eighteen inches above the surface soil, but in no case less than six inches, except where masonry floors are laid directly on the soil, if the said floor is made impervious to the ingress of rats or other vermin as follows:

(a) Foundation walls shall be constructed of concrete or of brick or stone or other masonry laid in a good mortar or constructed of some other equally rat-proof material.

(b) The said foundation walls shall be not less than six inches in thickness at the top nor less than twelve inches in thickness at the bottom, nor extend less than twelve inches below the surface soil, and, except where masonry floors are laid directly on the soil, shall extend not less than six inches above the surface soil.

(c) Every opening in the foundation walls, for ventilation or for other purposes, shall be made rat proof with suitable metal screens or with some other similar rat-proof material. Door or window openings in such walls shall have tight-fitting doors or windows.

(d) The said lowest floor or differing levels thereof, forming a complete floor between the outside walls of the building, shall be constructed either of masonry, or covered with concrete not less than one and one-half inches thick, or constructed of two layers of flooring with a layer of galvanized iron or galvanized iron wire cloth or other approved equally as rat-proof material placed between the two layers of flooring. Or, in lieu of the floor being constructed as herein prescribed, the entire ground area under the floor shall be covered with concrete not less than two inches thick, except where the surface of the soil is composed of rock. The rat-proofing material shall always extend under the plates of the exterior walls and supporting partitions.

(e) All openings throughout the said floor for chimneys, plumbing, water-pipes, or for any other purpose, shall be closed up tight in the same manner and with the same kind of materials as required under the plates of the exterior walls and supporting partitions, and if the rat-proofing material used for closing of openings is other than masonry, it shall extend beyond and underlap the flooring all around the opening, not less than two inches.

§ 29. Floor area of rooms. Width and height. Water-closets, etc. Curtains. In every apartment in every tenement house hereafter erected there shall be at least one room containing not less than one hundred twenty square feet of superficial floor area, and every other room shall contain at least ninety square feet of superficial floor area, except water-closet, bath or slop-sink compartments, and except kitchens, closets, recesses from rooms, or dressing-rooms.

Every kitchen shall contain not less than fifty square feet of superficial floor area.

Every room shall at every point be not less than seven feet in width, nor less than nine feet in height, measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling; except that attic rooms and rooms where sloping ceilings occur need be nine feet in height in but one-half the area of the room; provided, however, that the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to water-closet, bath or slop-sink compartments, nor to closets, nor to recesses from rooms, nor to dressing-rooms, nor shall the provisions of this paragraph as to minimum width apply to kitchens.

Every water-closet compartment shall be not less than thirty-six inches in clear width, and every such water-closet compartment, bath or slop-sink compartment, or closet, or recess from a room, or dressing-room, shall have a height of not less than seven feet six inches, measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling. Every closet, recess from a room, or dressing-room, which contains more than twenty-five square feet of superficial floor area (built-in dressers, clothes-presses and similar features which are a substantial part of the structure shall not be deemed to be a part of the floor area of a closet, recess from a room) or dressing-room shall conform to all of the provisions of this act as to rooms, and shall contain not less than ninety square feet of superficial floor area.

No part of any room in any tenement house shall hereafter be in closed or subdivided wholly, or in part, by a curtain, portiere, fixed or movable partition, or other contrivance or device, for any purpose contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

Entertainment, amusement or reception rooms hereafter constructed, altered or converted in any tenement house shall conform to the provisions of section thirty-three of this act.

§ 30. Windows. Opening into vent shaft. Opening through porch. In every tenement house hereafter erected every room, kitchen, and every water-closet compartment, toilet or shower-room, and bath or slop-sink room (except in the cellar), shall have at least one window of the area hereinafter required opening directly upon a street, or upon a yard or court, of the dimensions specified in this act and located on the same lot.

All windows required by this act shall be located so as to properly light all portions of the rooms, and shall be made so as to open in all parts and so arranged that at least one-half of each such window may be opened unobstructed; provided, however, that the windows required by this section in a water-closet compartment, toilet or shower-room, and bath or slop-sink room, may open directly into a vent shaft, such vent shaft to be of the minimum size and constructed of the materials and in the manner prescribed by section sixty-one of this act; provided, further, that windows required to open on to a street, yard, or an outer court, except windows from kitchens, may open through porches, provided that said porches do not exceed seven feet in depth measured at right angles to the windows and that at least seventy-five per cent of the entire side of the porch, bounded by the street, yard, or outer court, is left open except that the open space may be inclosed with mosquito screens.

§ 31. Window area. In every tenement house hereafter erected the total window area in each room except in a water-closet compartment, bath, toilet, slop-sink room or shower-room shall be at least one-eighth of the superficial floor area of the room.

The aggregate window area in each room shall be not less than twelve square feet, and no single window shall be less than six square feet in area.

All measurements for window area shall be taken to outside of sash.

§ 32. Windows. In every tenement house hereafter erected each window in a water-closet compartment or bath, toilet or slop-sink room, or shower-room, shall be not less than three square feet in area. The aggregate area of windows for each such compartment or room shall be not less than six square feet. In each such compartment or room containing more than one water-closet, bath, urinal, or slop-sink, the aggregate window area shall be equivalent to three square feet for each water-closet, bath, urinal or slop-sink therein, except that at no time need the aggregate window area exceed one-fourth of the superficial floor area of such compartment or room.

§ 33. Windows. Ventilation by fan exhaust system. Penalty for failing to maintain system. Height of amusement rooms. In every tenement house hereafter erected, the total window area in each room used for the purpose of amusement, entertainment or as a reception-room, or any room used for similar purposes, which room has a superficial floor area not exceeding one hundred eighty square feet, shall be at least one-eighth of the superficial floor area of such room.

Every such room which has a superficial floor area exceeding one hundred eighty square feet shall have an aggregate window area not less than that required for a room of one hundred eighty square feet of superficial floor area.

Amusement, entertainment or reception-rooms and rooms used for similar purposes, in lieu of being provided with windows, as in this section prescribed, may be provided with a fan exhaust system of ventilation. Such fan-exhaust system of ventilation shall consist of independent inlet ducts, extending from the outer air to each such room and exhaust ducts extending from each such room to the outer air above the highest roof of the building.

All of the inlet ducts and exhaust ducts shall be constructed of galvanized iron or other smooth-surfaced, nonabsorbent material and so arranged that they may be readily cleaned out.

The exhaust ducts shall always be connected to an exhaust fan mechanically operated, so designed and operated as to provide a complete change of air in not to exceed fifteen minutes for each such room.

Any person in charge of a building in which a system of fan-exhaust ventilation, as in this section is required, who fails, neglects or refuses to operate and maintain the said system of ventilation in good order and repair so that the ventilation (complete change of air) herein specified is provided in each such room at all times, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to all of the penalties fixed by this act.

Every amusement, entertainment or reception room, or any room used for similar purposes, shall have a minimum height between the finished floor and the finished ceiling of not less than nine feet. No such room or part thereof shall be used for living or sleeping apartments, except that said room or part thereof complies with all of the other provisions of this act, for living and sleeping apartments.

§ 34. Windows in public hallway. Skylight. French windows. In every tenement house hereafter erected, every public hallway on any floor where there are more than three apartments shall have at least one window opening directly upon a street, or upon a yard or a court of the dimensions specified in this act and located on the same lot; such windows shall be at the end of the public hallway and placed so as to secure the maximum light into the hallway; provided, however, that in tenement houses not exceeding two stories in height, the public hallway may, in lieu of such windows, be lighted and ventilated by one or more skylights constructed in accordance with the provisions of this act.

Every window required by this act in a public hallway shall be not less than twenty-nine inches in clear width, nor less than fifty-eight inches in height, and the finished sill of same shall not be more than thirty inches above the adjoining finished floor. Every such window shall be made so as to open and so arranged that at least one-half of the window may be opened unobstructed.

Every skylight provided for in this section shall have an effective horizontal area of glass of not less than fifteen square feet, and shall have ridge ventilators or fixed or movable louvres so as to provide a ventilating area of not less than five hundred square inches. Such skylights shall be so located that no portion of the hallway be distant more than twenty feet (measured from a vertical line), from a skylight opening.

Any part of a public hallway which is offset, recessed, or cut off from any other part of a hallway where such offset or recess is more in length than one and one-half times the width of the public hallway from which it offsets or recesses, shall be deemed a separate public hallway within the meaning of this section.

French windows or doors, if arranged to open and glazed to give the areas of opening and glass required by this act for windows in public hallways, may be used in lieu of windows therein.

§ 35. Ventilating skylight. In every tenement house two or more stories in height hereafter erected, where there are more than three apartments on any one floor, there shall be provided at the roof over each stairway a ventilating skylight, placed directly as practicable over same, having a minimum effective horizontal area of glass at least twenty square feet in area for buildings two stories in height, and the area of glass in such skylight shall be increased at a ratio of six square feet for each additional story in height. In every such skylight the ventilating area shall be not less than five hundred square inches.

Every such skylight and the ventilating openings and the shutters and the closing and opening devices for the ventilating openings shall be made of approved incombustible materials, and so arranged that the entire ventilating area may be readily opened from at least the topmost and first story levels, except that in tenement houses not exceeding four stories in height the ventilators may be arranged so as to open from at least the first story, or the ventilators may be fixed permanently in an open position.

Skylights as in this section prescribed may be omitted in case that windows are provided of the size fixed by section thirty-four hereof and located adjoining the stairways, and that each window adjoining the stairway be provided with an open louvre or ventilator providing a ventilating area of not less than one hundred square inches or such louvre or ventilator may be placed in the roof over the stairway, in which event the ventilating area shall be not less than five hundred square inches.

Whenever a skylight is required as in this section provided there shall be constructed a stair well, the clear open area of which shall be at each floor equal to one-third of the area of glass in the skylight.

§ 36. Water-closets. In every tenement house hereafter erected, every apartment shall be so arranged that access may be had to every livingroom, and to at least one water-closet compartment, without passing through a bedroom; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be so construed as to prohibit passing through a bedroom in going from a kitchen to a bathroom or water-closet compartment.

§ 37. Water-closet for each apartment. Waterproof floor. In every tenement house hereafter erected there shall be installed one water-closet within each apartment located in a separate compartment or located in a compartment with a bathtub, shower or lavatory, used exclusively by the occupants of the apartment.

No door or other opening to a water-closet compartment shall open from or into any room in which food is prepared or stored. The walls inclosing a water-closet compartment shall be well plastered or constructed of some nonabsorbent material, except that the ordinary wood trim of openings may be used in such compartment. Every such compartment shall be provided and equipped with a full door, properly hung, and provided with a lock or bolt to lock same.

The floor of every such water-closet compartment shall be made waterproof with asphalt, tile, marble, terrazzo, cement, or some other similar nonabsorbent material, and such waterproofing shall extend not less than six inches on the vertical walls of the room. No water-closet fixture shall be inclosed with woodwork.

§ 38. In tenement house already erected. Sewer connection required. In every tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act there shall be provided at least one water-closet in a separate compartment, located on the public hallway of the same floor, for every three apartments or fractional part thereof on such floor which are not provided with private water-closets. Where two or more water-closets are required by the provisions of this section to be located on a public hallway, one of such water-closets shall be distinctly marked "for men," and one of the water-closets distinctly marked "for women"; provided, however, that the housing department charged with the enforcement of this act may exempt any tenement house existing at the time of the passage of this act from fully complying with the provisions of this paragraph, when, in its discretion, such deviation will not be detrimental to the health of the occupants thereof or to the sanitation of the said tenement house or premises.

Nothing in this section shall be construed as permitting such exemptions to apply to any addition or extension to any tenement house.

Every water-closet hereafter placed in a tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act shall comply with every provision of this act relative to water-closets installed in tenement houses hereafter erected, except that if a water-closet is installed in the top story of any such building, the compartment in which it is installed may be ventilated by a skylight with fixed louvres in lieu of a window; provided, however, that a new water-closet may be installed to replace a defective or antiquated fixture in the same location.

Every tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act, or hereafter erected, where a connection with the sewer is possible, shall discontinue the use of any school sink, privy vault, or any similar receptacle used to receive fecal matter, urine or sewage, and every such receptacle shall be completely removed and the place where it was located be properly disinfected. All such receptacles shall be replaced by individual water-closets of durable nonabsorbent material, properly connected, trapped, vented and provided with flush tanks, the same as is required, by the provisions of this act, in tenement houses hereafter erected.

§ 39. Bathtub or shower. In every tenement house hereafter erected there shall be a bathtub or shower within each apartment, and such bathtub or shower shall be located in a separate compartment, or there may be provided one such bathtub or shower in a separate compartment for every three such apartments which are not provided with private baths or showers; provided, that said bathtub or shower is on the same floor and is accessible from each apartment through the public hallway.

In every tenement house hereafter erected there shall be at least one kitchen sink within each apartment.

The walls, floors and openings to every bath, shower or slop-sink room hereafter constructed shall conform to all of the provisions of this act relative to the waterproofing of the walls and floors, and of the construction of the doors of water-closet compartments in tenement houses hereafter erected.

§ 40. In tenement house already erected. In every tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act there shall be provided at least one bathtub or shower in a separate compartment, located on the same floor, for every five apartments, or fractional part thereof, which are not provided with private baths or showers, on each such floor, and there shall be provided at least one kitchen sink in each apartment; provided, however that the department charged with the enforcement of this act may exempt any tenement house existing at the time of the passage of this act from fully complying with the provisions of this section when, in its discretion, such deviation will not be detrimental to the health of the occupants thereof or to the sanitation of the said tenement house or premises; provided, further, that no such exemption shall apply to any addition or extension to a tenement house.

§ 41. Running water. Sewer connection. In every tenement house hereafter erected every plumbing fixture shall be provided with running water, and there shall be provided faucets, with running water, sufficient in number so that all of the yards, courts and passageways may be washed. Faucets shall be of the hose bibb type, not less than three-quarter inch size.

Every plumbing fixture affecting the sanitary drainage system in tenement houses hereafter erected, shall be properly connected with the street sewer, if a street sewer exists in the street abutting the lot on which the building is located and is ready to receive connections. When it is impracticable to connect such plumbing fixtures with a street sewer, then the plumbing fixtures shall be connected and drained into a cesspool constructed satisfactorily to the department charged with the enforcement of this act; or some other means of sewage disposal satisfactory to the department charged with the enforcement of this act may be made until such time as it may become practicable and possible to connect with the street sewer.

§ 42. In tenement house already erected. In every tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act, every plumbing fixture shall be provided with running water, and there shall be provided faucets, with running water, sufficient in number so that all of the yards, courts and passageways may be washed. Faucets shall be of the hose bibb type, not less than three-quarter inch size.

§ 43. In case no running water. Privy. Water-closets, baths, showers, sinks, slop-sinks, faucets and other plumbing fixtures required by this act need not be installed in the event that the tenement house hereafter erected or an existing tenement house, as the case may be, is situated where there is no running water and where there is no practical means of sewage disposal, until such time as it becomes practicable and possible to obtain running water and means of sewage disposal; provided, in every such case the department charged with the enforcement of this act shall decide whether or not it is practicable and possible to provide running water and proper means of sewage disposal. A special permit in writing shall be obtained in every such case from the department charged with the enforcement of this act, which permit shall be made in duplicate, and a copy thereof shall remain on file in the department issuing it; provided, further, that proper, separate toilet facilities for each sex shall be provided for the use of the occupants of such building. Such facilities shall be made sanitary. A privy, or toilet other than a water-closet, erected under the authority of this section shall consist of a pit at least three feet deep, with suitable shelter over the same to afford privacy, and protection from the elements. The openings of the shelter and pit shall be inclosed by mosquito screening, and the door to the shelter shall be made to close automatically by means of a spring or other device. No privy pit shall be allowed to become filled with excreta to nearer than one foot from the surface of the ground, and the excreta in the pit shall be covered with earth, ashes, lime or similar substances at regular intervals. All drainage water shall be conveyed from the premises by means of a covered drain to a covered cesspool.

§ 44. Plumbing fixtures made sanitary. In every tenement house hereafter erected all plumbing fixtures affecting the sanitary drainage system shall be properly trapped and vented and made sanitary in every particular. In any tenement house hereafter erected, and in any tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act no plumbing fixtures shall be inclosed with woodwork, but the space under and around same must be left entirely open. All woodwork inclosing a water-closet, sink, slop-sink, wash tray or lavatory shall be removed and the floor and wall surface beneath and around such water-closet, sink, slop-sink, wash-tray or lavatory shall be maintained in good repair, and if of wood, well painted with a light-colored paint of sufficient body to make it nonabsorbent. All wooden seats, attached to water-closet bowls, shall be varnished or enameled, or by some other method be made nonabsorbent.

In every tenement house hereafter erected water-closets shall have earthenware bowls and shall have earthenware seats integral with the bowls, or wooden seats varnished or enameled so as to be nonabsorbent, or seats made of some nonabsorbent material attached directly to the bowls. No wooden wash-trays or wooden kitchen sinks shall be permitted in such buildings. All plumbing connections hereafter made in buildings shall be of standard lead, iron, steel or brass; and every gas and water service connection hereafter made shall be of steel or iron, and shall be equipped with cut-off valves placed outside of the building and such cut-off valves shall be readily accessible.

Whenever any plumbing fixture becomes insanitary the department charged with the enforcement of this act is hereby empowered to order the same removed and to order that it be replaced by a fixture conforming to the provisions of this act.

§ 45. Two means of egress. Every tenement house hereafter erected, three or more stories in height and in which there are three or more apartments on any one floor, shall be so designed and constructed that every apartment in such building shall have not less than two means of egress, either by stairways or fire-escapes, constructed in accordance with the provisions of this act. Such means of egress shall be accessible from every apartment, either directly or through a public hallway, and so located that should one egress be or become blocked, the other egress shall be available.

§ 46. Stairways. Every tenement house hereafter erected shall have not less than two stairways.

Every fireproof tenement house hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway, not less than three feet six inches wide, for each six thousand square feet, or fractional part thereof, of floor area in any one floor above the first floor thereof.

Every semi-fireproof tenement house hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway, not less than three feet six inches wide, for each four thousand square feet, or fractional part thereof, of floor area in any one floor above the first floor thereof.

Every wooden tenement house hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway, not less than three feet six inches wide, for each three thousand square feet, or fractional part thereof, of floor area in any one floor above the first floor thereof.

Every tenement house hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway leading from the outside to every basement or cellar thereof.

§ 47. Computing number of stairways required. The largest floor area above the ground floor shall be used as the basis for computing the number of stairways required in every tenement house hereafter erected; provided, that if all floors above the largest floor area of the building are diminished in area, the stairway or stairways from that portion of the building containing a smaller area may be computed on the basis of the largest floor area in that portion of the building.

§ 48. Location of stairways. All stairways hereafter constructed shall be located so as to furnish the best means of egress from the building, and shall be as far removed from each other as practicable, and shall be as follows:

Access to stairways shall be provided at every floor by means of a public hallway, corridor, or passageway, and the public hallway, corridor, passageway and stairway from the ground exit level to the top story or roof shall be accessible at all times.

No stairway shall abut on more than one side of an elevator shaft, except on the lowest and topmost stories, provided that the stairway is so located that it can be approached from the street entrance without passing by or in front of the open side of the said elevator shaft.

No stairway shall be located over a steam boiler, gas meter or gas heater or furnace, unless such boiler, gas meter, gas heater, or furnace be located in a room, the walls and ceiling of which are constructed as required for a boiler-room by section sixty-three of this act. No stairway leading from any other portion of the building shall terminate in or pass through a boiler-room.

§ 49. Construction of stairways. Every stairway hereafter constructed shall be as follows: have a rise of not more than eight inches and a run of not less than nine inches, without change in the run or rise between floors; and shall be provided with head room of not less than six feet six inches measured from the nearest nosing of the stairway to the nearest soffit.

The depth of every landing in a stairway shall be not less than the width of the stairway, and all treads shall be of equal width for every run of stairs, and shall not vary in width in the width of the stairs.

Stairways required by this act shall be continuous from the ground floor level to the top story, i. e., the flights of such stairways shall be constructed one directly above the other, or shall be constructed so that each flight shall be in plain view of each succeeding flight; provided, however, that half of the stairways from the upper floors may terminate at the second floor, in the event that the stairways from the first to the second floor be increased in width not less than fifty per cent.

Every stairway shall have at least one handrail, and if the stairway be five feet or more in width, shall have a handrail on each side thereof.

The underside and soffits of wooden stairways and the outside stringers of open stairways except outside stairway, in semi-fireproof and wooden tenement houses shall be metal lathed and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath, or lathed with an approved plaster board and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the plaster board.

The width of stairways shall be measured in the clear of all projections except the baseboards, and except that handrails and newel posts may project not more than four inches.

§ 50. Space under stairway. No closet of any kind shall be constructed in any tenement house under any wooden stairway, but such space shall be kept entirely open, and be kept clean and free from all encumbrances; or such space shall be effectually closed with walls of studs, lathed and plastered, with no door or opening of any kind therein; provided, however, that the provisions of this section as to a closet under a stairway shall not apply to any tenement house not more than two stories in height, in which not more than two families live above the first floor thereof.

§ 51. Stairway to roof. In tenement house already erected. In every tenement house hereafter erected more than two stories in height, the stairway nearest to the main entrance of the building shall be carried to the roof level and shall give egress to the roof through a penthouse or roof structure.

In every such building not exceeding two stories in height there shall be constructed a scuttle in the public hallway near the stairway. Such scuttle shall be not less than two feet by three feet in area, and shall be cut through the ceiling and roof.

Penthouses over stairways shall be built either of fireproof materials or of wood studs, lathed with metal lath or approved plaster board and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or plaster board on the inside and outside thereof; or such penthouses may be covered in the same manner and with the same kind of materials as required by this act for the doors from such penthouses.

The door to the roof from a penthouse or roof structure shall be self-closing and shall open outward to the roof, and shall be covered on both sides and edges with tin or other metal.

The frames and trim of such door opening shall be similarly constructed and all glass in such door shall be wired glass not less than one-fourth inch thick.

Every tenement-house of more than two stories in height, erected prior to the passage of this act, shall have in the roof a penthouse or a scuttle, which scuttle shall be not less than two feet by three feet in area, located in the ceiling of a public hallway. There shall be provided a stairway or a stationary ladder, leading from the top floor of such tenement house to the roof thereof. Such stairway or stationary ladder shall be made readily accessible to all the tenants of the building. No scuttle or penthouse door shall at any time be locked with a key, but may be fastened on the inside by a movable bolt or lock.

§ 52. Hallways, etc., from stairways. Public hallways, landings and corridors from stairways shall be of the same width and measured in the same manner as the stairways, as provided in section fifty hereof.

§ 53. Fire-escapes. Types of fire-escapes. On every tenement house hereafter erected more than two stories in height, which contains more than three apartments, there shall be provided at least one fire-escape. If such tenement house exceeds three thousand square feet of floor area on any one floor above the second floor thereof, such building shall be provided with one additional fire-escape for each four thousand square feet of floor area or fractional part thereof.

Fire-escapes required by this act shall be of one of the following types:

Type 1. Metallic throughout and fastened securely to the exterior walls of the building, with a balcony at each story above the first story thereof, with inclined stairways connecting all balconies and a goose-neck ladder connecting the topmost balcony to the roof. The lowest balcony of such fire-escape to be not more than fourteen feet above the street or ground level directly under same.

All metallic balconies shall be not less than forty-four inches in width nor less than thirty-three square feet in area. The stairway openings therein shall be not less than twenty-one inches wide and forty inches in length. The balcony balustrade shall be not less than thirty-four inches high, with no opening in such balustrade greater than eight inches in horizontal dimension.

There shall be no opening greater than one inch in width in a fire-escape balcony platform, except the stair-well opening.

There shall be no opening greater than one inch in width in the lowest fire-escape balcony platform, except that there be attached a counter-balanced or permanent ladder reaching to the street or ground below.

Every balcony platform shall be fastened to the outside walls of the building by building in and anchoring to such walls the balcony platform and the balustrade framing, or by securely bolting same thereto. Every balcony shall be supported by brackets, braces, or struts fastened to or built in and anchored to the walls.

The inclined stairways shall be not less than eighteen inches in width and placed in no part nearer than twenty-one inches from the face of the wall. Such inclined stairways shall have an inclination of not less than four inches and not more than six inches horizontally to each twelve inches of vertical height. The treads shall be not less than four inches wide, placed not more than twelve inches apart. Each side of such stairways shall be provided with a handrail not less than one inch in diameter fastened to the stair stringers and continued around the well hole openings of balcony platform.

The gooseneck ladder shall be not less than fifteen inches wide and extend vertically from the topmost balcony to three feet above the fire wall or roof above, and then be brought down and fastened to the inside face of the fire wall or to the roof. The rungs of the gooseneck ladder shall be not less than five-eighths inch round iron or steel, placed not more than fourteen inches apart. The gooseneck ladder shall be securely braced and fastened to the outside wall, and in no case shall such ladder pass in front of any opening in the wall to the interior of the building. The cornice opening for the passage of such ladder shall be not less than twenty-four inches in width and twenty-four inches in the clear outside of the ladder.

Such fire-escape shall be framed and riveted or bolted together in a solid, substantial manner and properly supported, braced and fastened to the outside walls so as to be rigid, durable and secure and carry the loads imposed.

All metallic fire-escapes shall be painted with not less than two coats of good, durable paint; or such fire-escapes may be galvanized.

Type 2. Metallic ladders and stairways conforming to the provisions set forth for type one and with reinforced concrete or iron or steel fireproofed balconies, with fastenings of similar materials. Such balconies to measure the full size inside of balustrades. Floor openings and well holes provided and protected similarly to the requirements for metallic balconies.

Type 3. Any type of an inclosed approved metallic spiral fire-escape which consists of a rigid form of an inclined chute or chutes constructed entirely of incombustible material; securely attached to the outside walls of building; provided with proper means of ingress thereto from the building and egress therefrom at the bottom; having means enabling firemen to reach the roof thereby from the ground; equipped with standpipes; painted the same as provided for metallic fire-escapes; and satisfactory to the department charged with the enforcement of this act as being as solid, substantial and durable and as fireproof in construction, and providing at least as safe and efficient means of escape from the building for the occupants thereof, and furnishing all the protection and utility of the metallic fire-escapes described as "type one" in this act.

Type 4. Fire and smoke towers, consisting of a fire-escape stairway not less than twenty inches in width, constructed of reinforced concrete, iron or steel, or a combination of these materials; and in all other details as required in this act for metallic fire-escape stairways; said stairways being continuous the full height of the building from the first floor exit level to the roof, and with handrails on each side thereof the full length of same. Such stairways to be constructed at a point adjoining the exterior walls of the building and be entirely inclosed with walls of brick, terra cotta tile, concrete or reinforced concrete not less than twelve inches thick; such walls to be continuous from the basement up to and extending three feet above the roof of the building, with no covering of any kind over same, and with no openings in the walls of such tower into the building. The inclosing walls of such tower not to be used to carry or support any floor joist, beam, girder or other structural feature of the building, nor to be chased for any pipe, conduit or other purpose; to have an exit from the inclosure at the first floor line opening directly to a street or yard, and having an entrance by means of an outside balcony at each floor, such balconies to have a solid floor and in all other details and kind of materials to be as in this act required for metallic fire-escape balconies. The balconies to be located and arranged to connect with a door opening from a public hallway in the interior of the building and with a door opening leading from the balcony to the tower, such door opening from the building to the balcony and from the balcony to the tower to be not less than thirty inches wide by seventy-two inches high and be equipped with metal-lined doors and with a frame and threshold of such door openings constructed of fireproof materials.

Type 5. A fire and smoke tower in every way similar to "type four" of this section, except that instead of the outside balcony there be built a vestibule with inclosing walls continuous with and of the same kind of materials and of the same thickness as the inclosing walls of the fire tower; that the vestibule opening be direct from a public hallway and be equipped with metal-lined doors. The vestibule floor to be of masonry construction. The inclosure to have an opening at each floor through the exterior wall of the building, such opening to extend from the floor to the ceiling and be not less in width than three-fourths of the width of the tower, said opening to be protected with an open metallic balustrade similar to that specified for metallic fire-escape balconies.

§ 54. Stairway and fire-escape combined. In any tenement house hereafter erected in which there is constructed a fire escape of "type four" or "type five," as prescribed in this act, such fire-escape may be used and constructed as a stairway and a fire-escape combined; provided, that there is at least one other stairway or one other fire-escape constructed in accordance with the provisions of this act, in the said building.

§ 55. Location of fire-escapes. Every fire-escape required by this act shall be located on the building so as to furnish the best means of escape therefrom for the occupants, and at least one such fire-escape shall be located on a street front. Every fire-escape shall have egress thereto from a public hallway or passageway not less than three feet wide, or such fire-escapes in lieu of being located on a public hallway, shall be so located that each apartment has direct egress thereto without passing through another apartment, or if a public parlor, public lobby or similar room is connected directly with the public hall, corridor or passageway through a clear and unobstructed opening, without doors, then egress may be had thereby to a fire-escape. Signs both pointing toward and marking the locations of fire-escapes shall be placed on each floor.

§ 56. Computing number of fire-escapes required. The largest floor area above the second floor shall be used as a basis for computing the number of fire-escapes required by this act; provided, that if all floors above the largest floor area are diminished in size, the number of fire-escapes from that portion of the building containing the smaller area may be computed on the basis of the largest floor area in that portion of the building.

§ 57. Strength of platform, etc. All parts of each balcony platform of a fire-escape shall be designed to carry, in addition to the dead load thereof, a live load of one hundred pounds per square foot over the entire area thereof (using outside dimensions) and the live and dead loads from the ladders or stairs supported thereon.

Each ladder shall be designed to withstand a horizontal pressure of one hundred pounds per square foot.

Each stairway shall be designed to carry, in addition to the dead load thereof, a live load of one hundred fifty pounds per square foot of horizontal projection.

Top rails of balcony balustrades shall be designed to withstand a horizontal pressure of one hundred pounds per lineal foot of railing.

Each balcony shall be independently supported.

All fastenings of fire-escape balconies to the building shall be designed to carry twenty-five per cent greater load than the total dead and live loads carried by the balconies. The balcony anchorage shall be direct to the structural steel or iron members of the balustrades and platforms extended into the walls and anchored into the structural work of the building.

The level of the inside sill of the door or window giving access to a fire-escape balcony or the balcony floor shall be not more than thirty inches above the adjoining floor in the building. Every such door or window opening shall be not less than twenty-nine inches in clear width, nor less than fifty-eight inches in height.

Where double-hung windows are used in such openings, the lower sash shall be at least the size of the upper sash and shall slide to the top of such opening. Any lock used on any such window shall be of a type which can be readily opened from the interior of the building without the use of a key or other tool.

§ 58. Readily accessible. Every fire-escape in or on tenement houses hereafter erected, or in or on tenement houses erected prior to the passage of this act, shall at all times be maintaind in good order and repair, well painted and clear and unobstructed at all times, and be readily accessible.

§ 59. Standpipes. On every tenement house hereafter erected four or more stories in height, there shall be provided one or more metallic standpipes. Each such standpipe shall be not less than four inches in internal diameter, and shall have a Siamese inlet valve near the sidewalk or the ground directly under same, and an outlet valve at each story above the first story and on the roof.

One such standpipe shall be placed on or in the exterior walls of the building at one fire-escape on each street frontage, and the outlet valves shall be readily accessible from the balconies of the fire escape.

The inlet and outlet valves on every standpipe shall be threaded and brought to a size which will meet the standard connections of the local fire department of the municipality in which such tenement house is being erected.

The standpipes required by this section need not be installed in any tenement house which is situated where there is no running water and where it is not practicable or possible to obtain water for efficient use of such standpipes in case of fire, until such time as it is practicable and possible to obtain running water; and the department charged with the enforcement of this act shall decide whether or not it is possible or practicable to obtain running water.

§ 60. Elevator shafts inclosed. In every fireproof tenement house hereafter erected, every elevator shaft, dumb-waiter shaft or other interior shaft shall be inclosed in walls constructed of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, terra cotta tile or other similar hard incombustible materials, or shall be constructed of metal studs lathed either with metal lath or an approved plaster board and plastered on both sides so as to make a solid partition not less than two inches thick.

In every semi-fireproof or wooden tenement house hereafter erected, every such shaft shall be inclosed by walls constructed as provided by this act for fireproof tenement houses, or such walls may be constructed with wood studs, with wood firestops the same size as the studs, cut in between the studs at each floor and half way between each floor, lathed on both sides with metal lath or an approved plaster board and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or the plaster board.

Every opening from any shaft into the building shall be equipped with a metal door and with door frame and trim entirely of metal; or such door and door frame shall be constructed of wood covered with metal on the shaft side thereof and if there is any glass therein, such glass shall be wired glass not less than one-fourth (¼) inch thick. Every door or window therein shall be made to close tight, and every door except elevator doors therein shall be self-closing.

Every window in such shaft shall be of wired glass, not less than one-fourth (¼) inch thick, set in a metal sash or a sash metal covered on the shaft side thereof. At the roof over every elevator shaft there shall be constructed a ventilating skylight or a ventilator with open louvres.

§ 61. Vent shafts inclosed. In every tenement house hereafter erected every vent shaft shall be inclosed with walls constructed the same as required by this act for elevator shaft in the same class of building. Such vent shafts may, in a semi-fireproof or wooden tenement house, be lined on the outside thereof (weather side) with metal in lieu of metal lath and plaster; also, that portion of such shaft extending from the ceiling joists to the top thereof may be lined with metal in the same manner as is required for the weather side of such vent shaft.

Every opening from any vent shaft into the building or any window therein, shall be equipped in the same manner as required by this act for elevator shafts in the same class of building.

Plaster on the weather side of any such shaft shall be cement plaster.

Every vent shaft required by this act shall be not less than four feet in any direction and be at least sixteen square feet in area. If such vent shaft exceeds fifty feet in height, measured from the bottom to the top of the walls of such shaft, then such vent shaft shall throughout its entire height be increased in area three square feet for each additional ten feet or fractional part thereof above fifty feet.

Every such vent shaft shall be provided with an air intake or duct at or near the bottom thereof, communicating with the street or yard or a court. Such intake shall be not less than three square feet in total area, and may be divided into not more than three separate ducts running between the joists or otherwise, and shall in all cases be placed as nearly horizontal as possible. Every such intake or duct shall be constructed of approved fireproof material or shall be of metal or metal lined, and be provided with a wire screen of not less than one inch mesh at each end. Plumbing, gas, steam or other similar pipes may be placed in such vent shaft.

Every such vent shaft shall have a door or a window at or near the bottom of the shaft, so arranged as to permit of its being readily cleaned out.

§ 62. Walls of inner court. The walls of every inner court in a fireproof tenement house hereafter erected shall be constructed of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, terra cotta tile or other similar hard incombustible material. In a semi-fireproof or in a wooden tenement house such inner court walls, if surrounded on four sides by the walls of the same building, shall be constructed as provided for fireproof tenement houses, or may be of wood studs, with wood firestops the same sizes as the studs, cut in between the studs at each floor and halfway between each floor, lathed on both sides with metal lath, or an approved plaster board, and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or the plaster board. Plaster on the weather side of such inner court walls shall be cement plaster, or such inner court walls may be lined on the weather side with not less than the number twenty-six (gauge) metal, in lieu of metal lath and plaster.

§ 63. Boiler-room. Doors in boiler-room. In every tenement house hereafter erected, every boiler used for purposes of heating the building, using fuel other than gas, and every heating furnace or water-heating apparatus, using oil for fuel, shall be installed in a room, the walls of which room shall be built of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone or terra cotta tile, not less than six (6) inches thick, and such walls shall extend from the floor of the boiler-room to the ceiling over same. The entire ceiling of such room shall be built of similar materials as the walls, or shall be built with a double ceiling, with a space of not less than seven-eighths inch between the two ceilings; each ceiling shall be metal lathed or lathed with an approved plaster board and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick, including the lath or plaster board. The floor of a boiler-room shall be of concrete not less than two (2) inches thick.

Any door in the wall of such room shall be a fire-resisting door, constructed of three (3) thicknesses of seven-eighths (⅞) inch by not more than six (6) inches, tongued and grooved, matched redwood boards entirely covered on the sides and edges with lock-jointed tin; every such door shall be self-closing, so hung as to overlap the walls of the room at least three (3) inches, and any glass in any such door or any glass in any window or opening in the walls of a boiler-room shall be wired glass, not less than one-fourth (¼) inch thick, set in a metal or metal covered sash.

All such doors shall have hinges, hangers, latches and other hardware of wrought iron, bolted to the doors, and shall have steel tracks, when sliding doors are used, with wrought-iron stops and binders bolted through the wall. Swinging doors shall have wall eyes of wrought iron, built into or bolted through the wall.

Every such boiler-room shall have a sill across each door not less than four (4) inches high. Such sill shall be of masonry, and the doors shall overlap same at least three (3) inches, or in lieu of a masonry sill a steel or iron sill may be used, in which case the bottom of the door shall close tight on top of same. Every swinging door in a boiler-room shall open outward from the boiler-room.

Where oil or other fluid fuel is burned, the oil or other fluid fuel shall not be fed by a gravity flow.

§ 64. Garage. In every tenement house hereafter erected any portion of such building, in which there is kept or stored any automobile or automobiles, shall be a room, the inclosing partitions of which shall be built of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone or terra cotta tile, not less than six (6) inches thick, or may be of wood studs lined on the automobile storage room side with redwood boards not less than seven-eighths (⅞) of an inch thick covered with asbestos paper one-eighth (⅛) of an inch thick, and then covered with No. 26 (gauge) galvanized iron, and such inclosing partitions shall extend from the floor of the room to the ceiling of the same. The entire ceiling of such room shall be built of material similar to that used in the construction of its walls, or shall be either metal lathed and be well plastered or be lathed with an approved plaster board and be well plastered. The floor of every such room shall be of concrete not less than two (2) inches thick.

Every door, window or other opening in the walls of such room, opening to the interior of the building, shall be protected in the same manner as required by section sixty-three hereof for doors, windows and other openings in a boiler-room.

§ 65. Height of additional rooms in tenements erected prior to act. In any tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act, every additional room or hallway that is hereafter constructed or created, may be of the same height as the other rooms or hallways on the same story of such tenement house.

§ 66. Windows in tenement already erected. Every room in a tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act shall, if the said room be hereafter occupied for living or sleeping purposes, have a window of an area not less than eight square feet, opening directly upon a street, a yard, a court or upon a vent shaft not less than twenty-five square feet in area, which vent shaft shall in no part be less than four feet wide and open and unobstructed, without roof or skylight over same; except that if such room be located on the top floor of the building, such room may be ventilated by a skylight with fixed louvres directly to the outer air, or may have a window opening upon a vent shaft not less than ten square feet in area, if such window from the room be not more than three feet below the top of the wall of such vent shaft.

Every public hallway in every tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act, which does not conform to the provisions for public hallways in buildings hereafter erected, shall be provided with light and ventilation to the outer air. Such light and ventilation shall be provided by the placing of windows or skylights, or by making such alterations as in the judgment of the housing department may be deemed necessary to accomplish the result.

§ 67. Cooking in bath, etc., unlawful. Sleeping in cellar, etc., unlawful. Floor space for each occupant. It shall be unlawful for any person to cook or to prepare food, or to permit or suffer any person to cook or to prepare food in any bath, shower, slop-sink or toilet-room, water-closet compartment; or in any closet, or recess from a room, or dressing-room, which does not conform to all the provisions of this act as to size of kitchens and windows opening to a street, yard or court, or in any other place in such building which, in the judgment of the department charged with the enforcement of this act, is detrimental to the proper sanitation of such building.

It shall be unlawful for any person to live or sleep, or permit or suffer any person to live or sleep in any cellar, bath or shower compartment or slop-sink room, water-closet compartment, hallway, closet, kitchen, recess from a room or dressing-room, except when such recess from a room or dressing-room has not less than ninety square feet of superficial floor area and complies with every other requirement of this act for rooms, or in any other place which, in the judgment of the department charged with the enforcement of this act, would be dangerous or prejudicial to life or health by reason of want of light, windows, ventilation, drainage, or on account of dampness or offensive, obnoxious or poisonous odors, or in any room that shall be so overcrowded as to afford less than the following floor space for each occupant, in accordance with the age of the said occupant:

Number of persons over 12 years of age	Number of persons under 12 years of age	Superficial floor area required
1 or	2	60 square feet
2 or	4	120 square feet
3 or	6	180 square feet
4 or	8	240 square feet
5 or	10	300 square feet
6 or	12	360 square feet

Additional floor area in the same ratio shall be provided for additional persons.

§ 68. Lighting of hallways, etc. In every tenement house there shall be installed and kept burning from sunrise to sunset throughout the year artificial light sufficient in volume to properly illuminate every public hallway, stairway, fire-escape egress, elevator, passageway, public water-closet compartment, or toilet-room, whenever there is insufficient natural light to permit a person to read in any part thereof.

In every tenement house there shall be installed and kept burning from sunset to sunrise throughout the year artificial light sufficient in volume to properly illuminate every public hallway, stairway, fire-escape egress, elevator, public water-closet compartment, or toilet-room and exterior passageway on the lot.

§ 69. Light-colored material on walls. The walls and ceilings of every sleeping-room in every tenement house shall (except when there is sufficient natural light to permit a person to read in any part thereof during daytime) be calcimined or painted or papered with a light-colored material, and such calcimine, paint or paper, as the case may be, shall be renewed as often as is necessary to maintain the same of a light color and clean and free from vermin.

The walls of courts and shafts, unless built of light-colored materials, shall be painted of a light color or whitewashed, and such painting or whitewashing shall be renewed as often as is necessary to maintain the same of a light color.

§ 70. Repapering. No wall, partition or ceiling of any room in any tenement house shall be repapered, calcimined, or have any other covering placed thereupon unless the old wall paper or other covering shall have first been removed therefrom, and the said wall, partition or ceiling cleaned, disinfected and freed from bugs, insects or vermin.

§ 71. Repairs. Every tenement house shall be maintained in good repair. The roofs shall be kept waterproof and all storm or casual water properly drained and conveyed therefrom to the street sewer, storm drain or street gutter.

All portions of the lot about a tenement house, including the yards, areaways, vent shafts, courts and passageways, shall be properly graded and drained; and whenever the department charged with the enforcement of this act deems it necessary for the protection of the health of the occupants of such building, or for the proper sanitation of the premises, it may require that the said lot, yards, areaways, vent shafts, courts and passageways be graveled or properly paved and surfaced with concrete, asphalt or similar materials.

§ 72. Metal mosquito screening. There shall be provided, whenever it is deemed necessary for the health of the occupants of any tenement house or for the proper sanitation or cleanliness of any such building, metal mosquito screening of at least sixteen mesh, set in tight-fitting removable sash, for each exterior door, window or other opening in the exterior walls of the building.

§ 73. Garbage cans. In every tenement house there shall be provided by the occupants, or tenants, such number of tight metal receptacles with close-fitting metal covers for garbage, refuse, ashes and rubbish as may be deemed necessary by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, or in lieu of such metal receptacles there may be constructed a garbage chute or shaft approved by the housing department. Each of said receptacles shall be kept in a clean condition by the occupants, or tenants and in the case of a chute or shaft by the person in charge or in control of the building.

§ 74. Rooms, etc., to be kept clean. Swill, etc., not to be deposited in plumbing fixtures. Every room, hallway, passageway, stairway, wall, partition, ceiling, floor, skylight, glass window, door, carpet, rug, matting, window curtain, water-closet compartment or room, toilet-room, bathroom, slop-sink, or wash-room, plumbing fixture, drain, roof, closet, cellar, or basement in any tenement house or on the lot, yard, court or any of the premises thereof, shall be kept in every part clean and sanitary and free from all accumulation of debris, filth, rubbish, garbage or other offensive matter.

No person shall, or cause or permit any person to, deposit any swill, garbage, bottles, ashes, cans or other improper substances in any water-closet, sink, slop-hopper, bathtub, shower, catch-basin, or in any plumbing fixture connection or drain therefrom; or otherwise to obstruct the same; or to place or cause or permit to be placed any filth, urine or other foul matter in any place other than the place provided for same; or to keep or cause or permit to be kept any urine or filth or foul matter in any room or apartment in any tenement house, or in or about the said building or premises thereof, for such length of time as to create a nuisance.

§ 75. Beds kept clean. In every tenement house, every part of every bed, including the mattress, sheets, blankets and bedding, shall be kept in a clean, dry and sanitary condition, free from filth, urine or other foul matter, in or upon the same; and free from the infection of lice, bedbugs or other insects.

§ 76. Dangerous articles not to be kept. In no tenement house or any part thereof, or in the lot, yard, court or any portion thereof, shall there be kept, stored or handled any article dangerous or detrimental to life or to the health of the occupants thereof; nor shall there be stored, kept or handled any feed, hay, straw, excelsior, cotton (paper stock, rags or junk, except upon a written permit so to do, obtained from the fire commissioner or other department authorized to issue such permit. Every such permit shall be deemed to be a public record, made in duplicate, and a copy thereof shall remain on file in the office of the fire commissioner or department issuing same.

§ 77. Animals not to be kept. Bakery. No horse, cow, calf, swine, sheep, goat, rabbit, mule or other animal, chicken, pigeon, goose, duck or other poultry shall be kept in any tenement house or any part thereof; nor shall any such animal or poultry nor shall any stable be kept or maintained on the same lot, yard, court or premises of a tenement house or within twenty feet of any window or door or such building, nor shall there be hereafter constructed, altered, converted or maintained in any tenement house any public automobile garage or machine-shop, or automobile repair-shop.

No bakery or place of business in which fat is boiled shall be constructed or maintained in any tenement house, unless such bakery or place of business in which fat is boiled is constructed of approved fireproof materials, with no openings connecting into the tenement house, and so separated and arranged as to prevent odors from entering such building.

No tenement house shall be connected with or have any door, window or transom opening to any part of a building wherein spirituous liquors, drugs, paint or oil are stored or kept for the purpose of sale or otherwise.

§ 78. Housekeeper in charge. In every tenement house in which eight (8) or more families reside, and in which the owner does not live, there shall be a janitor, housekeeper or other responsible person, who shall reside in such tenement house or on the same lot or premises thereof and have charge of same.

§ 79. Action to abate nuisance. Authority to execute order. In case any tenement house, or any part thereof, is constructed, altered, converted or maintained in violation of any provisions of this act or of any order or notice of the department charged with its enforcement, or in case a nuisance exists in any such tenement house or building or structure, or upon the lot on which it is situated, said department may institute any appropriate action or proceeding to prevent such unlawful construction, alteration, conversion or maintenance, to restrain, correct or abate such violation or nuisance, to prevent the occupation of said tenement house, building or structure, to prevent any illegal act, conduct or business in or about such tenement house or lot. In any such action or proceeding said department may, by affidavit setting forth the facts, apply to the superior court, or to any judge thereof, for an order granting the relief for which said action or proceeding is brought, or for an order enjoining all persons from doing or permitting to be done any work in or about such tenement house, building, structure or lot, or from occupying or using the same for any purpose, until the entry of final judgment or order. In case any notice or order issued by said department is not complied with, said department may apply to the superior court or to any judge thereof, for an order authorizing said department to execute and carry out the provisions of said notice or order, to remove any violation specified in said order or notice, or to abate any nuisance in or about such tenement house, building or structure, or the lot upon which it is situated. The court, or any judge thereof, is hereby authorized to make any order specified in this section. In no case shall the said department or any officer thereof or the municipal corporation be liable for costs in any action or proceeding that may be commenced in pursuance of this act.

§ 80. Fine a lien. Every fine imposed by judgment under section six of this act upon a tenement house owner shall be a lien upon the house in relation to which the fine is imposed, from the time of the filing of a certified copy of said judgment in the office of the recorder of the county in which said tenement house is situated, subject only to taxes and assessments and water rates, and to such mortgage and mechanics' liens as may exist thereon prior to such filing; and it shall be the duty of the department charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act, upon the entry of such judgment, to file forthwith the copy as aforesaid, and such copy upon filing shall be forthwith indexed by the recorder in the index of mechanics' liens.

§ 81. Notice of pendency of action. In any action or proceeding instituted by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, the plaintiff or petitioner may file, in the county recorder's office of the county where the property affected by such action or proceeding is situated, a notice of the pendency of such action or proceeding. Said notice may be filed at the time of the commencement of the action or proceeding, or at any time afterwards before final judgment or order, or at any time after the service of any notice or order issued by said department. Such notice shall have the same force and effect as the notice of pendency of action provided for in the Code of Civil Procedure. Each county recorder with whom such notice is filed shall record it and shall index it in the name of each person specified in a direction subscribed by an officer of the department instituting such action or proceeding. Any such notice may be vacated upon the order of a judge of the court in which such action or proceeding was instituted or is pending. The recorder of the county where such notice is filed is hereby directed to mark such notice, and any record or docket thereof as canceled of record, upon the presentation and filing of a certified copy of such order.

§ 82. Name of owner, etc., filed. Every owner of a tenement house and every lessee of the whole house, or other person having control of a tenement house, shall file in the housing department a notice, containing his name and address, and also a description of the property, by street and number and otherwise, as the case may be, in such manner as will enable the department charged with the enforcement of this act easily to find the same; and also the number of apartments in each house, the number of rooms in each apartment, and the number of families occupying the apartments. In case of a transfer of any tenement house, it shall be the duty of the grantee of said tenement house to file in the housing department a notice of such transfer, stating the name of the new owner, within thirty days after such transfer. In case of the devolution of the said property by will, it shall be the duty of the executor and the devisee, if more than twenty-one years of age, and in the case of devolution of such property by inheritance without a will, it shall be the duty of the heirs, or in case all the heirs are under age, it shall be the duty of the administrator of the deceased owner of said property, to file in said department a notice, stating the death of said owner and the names of those who have succeeded to his interests, within thirty (30) days after the death of the decedent, in case he died intestate, and within thirty days after the probate of his will, if he died testate.

§ 83. Name of agent filed. Every owner, agent or lessee of a tenement house shall file in the housing department a notice containing the name and address of such agent of such house, for the purpose of receiving service of process, and also a description of the property, by street and number or otherwise, as the case may be, in such manner as will enable the department charged with the enforcement of this act easily to find the same. The name of the owner or lessee may be filed as agent for this purpose.

§ 84. Index of names. The names and addresses filed in accordance with sections eighty-two and eighty-three hereof shall be indexed by the housing department in such a manner that all of those filed in relation to each tenement house shall be together and readily ascertainable. Said indices shall be public records, open to public inspection during business hours.

§ 85. Time of service. Every notice or order in relation to a tenement house shall be served five days before the time for doing the thing in relation to which it shall have been issued.

§ 86. Manner of service. In any action brought by any department charged with the enforcement of this act in relation to a tenement house, for injunction, vacation of the premises or other abatement of nuisance, or to establish a lien thereon, it shall be sufficient service of summons to serve the same as notices and orders are served under the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure.

§ 87. Minimum requirements. Supplementary laws. Repeal of prior laws and ordinances. Powers of cities not abrogated. The provisions of this act shall be held to be the minimum requirements adopted for the protection, the health and the safety of the community, and for the protection, the health and the safety of the occupants of tenement houses. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as prohibiting the local legislative body of any incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county, from enacting, from time to time, supplementary ordinances or laws imposing further restrictions, or providing for fees to be charged for permits, certificates, or other papers required by this act; but no ordinance, law, regulation or ruling of any municipal department, authority, officer or officers, shall repeal, amend, modify or dispense with any of the provisions of this act.

All statutes of the state and all ordinances of incorporated towns, incorporated cities, incorporated cities and counties, and counties, as far as inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed; provided, that nothing in this act contained shall be construed as repealing or abrogating any present law or ordinance of any incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county in the state which further restricts the percentage of the lot to be covered by a tenement house, the number of stories or height of such tenement house or number of apartments therein, the occupation thereof, the materials to be used in its construction, or increasing the size of the yards or courts, the floor space to each person occupying a room, the requirements as to sanitation, ventilation, light and protection against fire.

Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as abrogating, diminishing, minimizing or denying the power of any incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county, by ordinance or law, to further restrict the percentage of the lot to be covered by a tenement house within said municipality, the number of stories or height of such tenement house or number of apartments therein, the occupation thereof, the materials to be used in its construction, or increasing the size of the yards or courts, the floor space to each person occupying a room, the requirements as to sanitation, ventilation, light and protection against fire.

§ 88. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

§ 89. In effect, when. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after September 1, 1917.

§ 90. Act of 1911 repealed. The act entitled "An act to regulate the building and occupancy of tenement houses in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof and repealing an act entitled 'An act to regulate the building and occupancy of tenement houses in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof' approved April 16, 1909, Statutes of California of 1909, page 948," approved April 10, 1911, Statutes of California, 1911, page 860, and approved June 13, 1913, Statutes of California, 1913, page 737, and approved May 29, 1915, Statutes of California page 952, and all acts amendatory thereof are hereby repealed.

TITLE 589.

UNITED STATES.

ACT 4219.

An act to accept from the United States government the cession of jurisdiction over a portion of the Presidio of the San Francisco military reservation.

[Approved May 17, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 626. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Cession of jurisdiction accepted. The state of California hereby accepts from the United States government the cession of jurisdiction over that portion of the Presidio of the San Francisco military reservation designated by the secretary of war for the use of the Panama-Pacific international exposition company and its successors in interest, pursuant to the act of congress making appropriations for the support of the army for the fiscal year one thousand nine hundred seventeen, approved August 29, 1916, subject to the conditions, reservations and stipulations contained in said act.

TITLE 593.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA.

ACT 4263h.

An act authorizing the construction of the unfinished portion of the library building of the University of California, and the construction of a building for general use as a recitation building, of a building for the use of the college of agriculture, and of a building for the use of the college of natural sciences as a chemistry building, upon the grounds of said University of California at Berkeley; providing for the issuance and sale of state bonds to meet the cost of the foregoing purposes; and providing the necessary moneys for the payment of the principal and interest to become due on said bonds. [Adopted as initiative measure by vote of the people November 3, 1914. Stats. 1915, p. 1923.]

Amended 1915, p. 15; 1917, p. 21.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 3. Sale of bonds on direction of governor. When the bonds authorized by this act to be issued shall have been signed, countersigned, indorsed and sealed, as in section one provided, the state treasurer shall, from time to time, sell such number thereof as the governor of the state may direct to the highest bidder for cash. The governor of the state shall, from time to time, issue to the state treasurer such direction immediately after being requested so to do through and by a resolution duly adopted and passed by a majority vote of the regents of the University of California. Such resolution shall specify the amount of money which, in the judgment of said the regents of the University of California, shall be required at such time, and the governor of the state shall direct the state treasurer to sell such number of bonds as will, at the par value thereof, equal said amount of money so required according to such resolution of the regents of the University of California. Said bonds shall be sold in consecutive numerical order, save and except that the state treasurer may sell two or more bonds at the same time in one lot, which lot, however, shall be made up of bonds consecutively numbered, the first of which in number shall be the first bond in number yet unsold. The state treasurer shall not accept any bid which is less than the par value of the bond or bonds bid for, and to the amount of the accepted bid there shall be added in each case, as a part of the purchase price to be paid by the bidder, the amount of interest which shall have accrued on the bonds bid for between the date of the payment for said bonds and the last preceding interest maturity date. Each bid shall be in writing and signed by the bidder and sealed, and shall be deposited with the state treasurer not later than the last business day preceding the date of sale. Each bid shall be accompanied by the deposit with the state treasurer, either in cash or by certified check on a reputable bank within the state of California, to the order of the state of California, of one-tenth of the amount of the par value of the bond or lot of bonds bid for. Such deposit of each unsuccessful bidder shall be returned to him immediately upon the nonacceptance of his bid, and such deposit of the successful bidder shall immediately upon the acceptance of his bid become and be the property of the state of California and be placed in the state treasury to the credit of the "University of California building fund" hereinafter mentioned, and shall be credited to the successful bidder upon the purchase price of the bonds bid for in case such price is paid in full by him within the time hereinafter prescribed. At the time of sale the state treasurer shall open said bids and accept the bid of the highest bidder for cash, save and except that no bid shall be accepted which is lower in amount than the par value of the bonds bid for, and that the state treasurer may, in his discretion, reject all bids. The purchase price of the bonds sold shall be payable within ten days after the acceptance of the bid therefor, and if not so paid the successful bidder shall have no right in or to said bonds or by reason of said bid, or to the recovery of said deposit accompanying said bid, or to any allowance or credit by reason of such deposit. In case the purchase price is not so paid, the bonds so sold but not paid for shall be resold by the state treasurer upon notice as hereinafter provided in case of original sale. Bonds sold shall be deliverable to the purchaser immediately upon, and not before, the payment of the purchase price therefor. Before delivering any of said bonds, the state treasurer shall detach therefrom all interest coupons which have matured before the date of the payment of the purchase price therefor. The state treasurer may, by public announcement at the time and place fixed by him for said sale, continue such sale to such time and place as he may at the time of said continuance designate. When a sale is so continued no notice thereof need be given, other than the public announcement of such continuance by the state treasurer as just hereinbefore provided. The state treasurer shall give notice of the time and place of sale by publication in two newspapers published in the city and county of San Francisco, in one newspaper published in the city of Los Angeles, in one newspaper published in the city of Oakland, and in one newspaper published in the city of Sacramento, once a week for four weeks next preceding the date fixed for such sale. In addition to the notice last above provided for, the state treasurer may give such further notice as he may deem advisable, but the expense and cost of such additional notice shall not exceed the sum of five hundred dollars for each sale so advertised.

There is hereby created in and for the state treasury a fund to be known and designated as the "University of California building fund," and immediately after such sale of bonds the treasurer of the state shall pay into the state treasury and cause to be placed in said "University of California building fund" the total amount received from the sale of said bonds, except such amount as may have been paid as accrued interest thereon. The amount that shall have been paid at such sale as accrued interest on the bonds sold shall be by the treasurer of the state, immediately after such sale, paid into the treasury of the state and placed in a fund to be known as the "interest and sinking fund of the University of California building bonds."

The moneys placed in the "University of California building fund," pursuant to the provisions of this section, shall be used under the direction of the regents of the University of California exclusively for the completion of the construction of said library building and the construction of the other buildings hereinbefore mentioned, the furnishing and equipping of said buildings, the construction and equipment of a power plant, and tunnels and subways for steam and electric lines in connection with said buildings and neighboring buildings of the University of California, the doing of necessary landscaping immediately surrounding said buildings, and for meeting the expenses of the sale of said bonds.

Moneys shall be drawn from said "University of California building fund" for the purposes of this act, upon warrants duly drawn by the controller of the state, upon claims made by the regents of the University of California and approved by the state board of control.

TITLE 595a.

VENICE.

ACT 4271.

An act granting to the city of Venice the tide-lands and submerged lands of the state of California within the boundaries of the said city.

[Approved April 10, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 89. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Tide-lands granted to Venice. There is hereby granted to the city of Venice, a municipal corporation of the state of California, and to its successors, all the right, title and interest of the state of California held by said state by virtue of its sovereignty, in and to all the tide-lands and submerged lands, whether filled or unfilled; provided, that nothing contained herein shall in any way affect any property held or claimed under, through or from a Mexican grant or patent therefor within the present boundaries and jurisdiction of said city, and situated below the line of mean high tide of the Pacific Ocean, or of any harbor, estuary, bay or inlet within said boundaries, to be forever held by said city, and by its successors, in trust for the uses and purposes and upon the express conditions following, to wit:

(a) Purposes for which land may be used. Term of franchises and leases. That said lands shall be used by said city and by its successors, solely for the establishment, improvement and conduct of a harbor, and for the construction, maintenance and operation thereon of wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays, and other utilities, structures and appliances necessary or convenient for the promotion and accommodation of commerce and navigation, and said city, or its successors, shall not, at any time, grant, convey, give or alien said lands, or any part thereof, to any individual, firm or corporation for any purpose whatsoever; provided, that said city, or its successors, may grant franchises thereon, for a period not exceeding twenty-five years, for wharves and other public uses and purposes, and may lease said lands, or any part thereof, for a period not exceeding twenty-five years, for purposes consistent with the trusts upon which said lands are held by the state of California and with the requirements of commerce or navigation at said harbor;

(b) Harbor improved without expense to state. That said harbor shall be improved by said city without expense to the state, and shall always remain a public harbor for all purposes of commerce and navigation, and the state of California shall have, at all times, the right to use, without charge, all wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays and other improvements constructed on said lands, or any part thereof, for any vessel or other water craft, or railroad, owned or operated by the state of California;

(c) No discrimination in rates. Right to fish reserved to people. That in the management, conduct or operation of said harbor, or of any of the utilities, structures or appliances mentioned in paragraph (a), no discrimination in rates, tolls, or charges, or in facilities, for any use or service in connection therewith shall ever be made, authorized or permitted by said city or by its successors;

Reserving, however, in the people of the state of California the absolute right to fish in the waters of said harbor, with the right of convenient access to said waters over said lands for said purpose.

TITLE 600.

VITAL STATISTICS.

ACT 4302.

An act to provide a central bureau for the preservation of records of marriages, births and deaths, and to provide for the registration of all births and deaths, the establishment of registration districts under the superintendence of the state bureau of vital statistics; the issuance and registration of burial and disinterment permits and certificates of births and deaths; the appointment of state and local registrars of vital statistics; to prescribe the powers and duties of registrars, coroners, physicians, undertakers, sextons and other persons in relation to such registration and to fix penalties for violation of this act; to create the offices of state and local registrars of vital statistics, to provide for the salary and fees of same; to repeal all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith.

[Approved May 19, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 575.]

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 717.

§ 1. Bureau of vital statistics. State registrar. Salary. Deputy. Other assistants. The state board of health shall maintain a bureau of vital statistics which shall have charge of such matters and shall have such powers as may from time to time be referred and delegated to it by the state board of health. The board shall appoint a state registrar who, by virtue of his office, shall be director of the bureau of vital statistics. His salary shall be two thousand four hundred dollars per annum. The state registrar shall be a competent vital statistician. He shall have general supervision and control over the bureau of vital statistics. He shall devote his entire time to the duties of his office and shall not engage in any other occupation or business. The board shall appoint also a deputy statistician, whose salary shall be one thousand six hundred dollars per annum, and two copyists, each of whom shall receive a salary of nine hundred dollars per annum. All such salaries shall be paid in the same manner and at the same time as the salaries of state officers. The state board of health may appoint and fix the compensation of such other additional professional and clerical assistants as may be necessary for the purposes of this act, but such compensation shall be paid from its fund for contingent expenses, as provided in the general appropriation act. As soon as practicable the custodian of the capitol shall provide for the bureau of vital statistics in the state capitol at Sacramento, suitable offices, which shall be properly equipped with fireproof vault and filing cases for the permanent and safe preservation of all official records made and returned under this act. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 717.]

§ 2. Duties of state registrar. The state registrar shall under the direction of the state board of health have charge of the registration of births, deaths, and marriages, shall prepare forms and blanks with instructions for obtaining and preserving such records and shall procure the faithful registration of the same in each primary registration district as constituted in section three of this act, and in the bureau of vital statistics of the state board of health at the capitol of the state. The said board shall be charged with the uniform and thorough enforcement of the law throughout the state, and shall promulgate any additional regulations. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 718.]

§ 3. Registration districts. For the purposes of this act the state shall be divided into registration districts as follows: Each city and county, city and incorporated town, shall constitute a primary registration district; and each county, exclusive of the cities and incorporated towns therein, may be subdivided by the state registrar into a sufficient number of primary rural registration districts, the boundaries of which he shall define and which he may alter, combine, or subdivide from time to time as may be necessary to promote efficient and convenient registration of all births and deaths. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 718.]

§ 4. Local registrars. Local registrar for each primary rural district. Registrar for marriages. Deputy. Subregistrars. The clerk of each city and county, city and incorporated town, shall be the local registrar in and for such primary registration district and shall perform all such duties of local registrar as hereinafter provided; provided, however, that in cities having a freeholders' charter, the health officer may act as local registrar and perform all the duties thereof. The state registrar, subject to the approval of the state board of health or its secretary, shall appoint a local registrar for each primary rural district whose term of office shall be four years, and whom the state registrar may remove forthwith for failure or neglect to perform his duty as prescribed by this act. Each local registrar for a primary rural district, besides transmitting to the state registrar each original birth and death certificate registered by him and besides retaining a complete and accurate copy of each such birth and death certificate for the local record of the primary rural district as required by section nineteen of this act, shall also transmit to the recorder of the county for a special county record a complete and accurate copy of each original birth and death certificate transmitted by said local registrar to the state registrar; provided, further, that in accordance with sections three thousand seventy-six, three thousand seventy-eight, and three thousand seventy-nine of the Political Code, the county recorder shall be the sole local registrar for marriages performed anywhere in the county. Each local registrar shall immediately appoint a deputy in writing, whose duty it shall be to act in his stead in case of his absence or disability; and such deputy shall in writing accept such appointment, and be subject to all rules and regulations governing local registrars. And when it appears necessary for the convenience of the people in any registration district, the local registrar is hereby authorized, with the approval of the state registrar, to appoint one or more suitable persons to act as subregistrars, who shall be authorized to receive certificates and to issue burial or removal permits in and for such portions of the district as may be designated; and each subregistrar shall note, on each certificate, over his signature, the date of filing, and shall forthwith forward all certificates to the local registrar of the district, and in all cases before the third day of the following month; provided, that each subregistrar shall be subject to the supervision and control of the state registrar, and may be by him removed for neglect or failure to perform his duty in accordance with the provisions of this act or the rules and regulations of the state registrar, and shall be subject to the same penalties for neglect of duty as the local registrar. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 719.]

§ 5. Burial permits. Removal permit. Body brought into state for burial. The body of any person whose death occurs in this state, or which shall be found dead therein or which shall be brought in from outside the state, shall not be interred, deposited in a vault or tomb, cremated, disinterred or otherwise disposed of, or removed from or into any registration district, or be temporarily held pending further disposition more than seventy-two hours after death, unless a permit for burial, removal, or other disposition thereof shall have been properly issued by the local registrar of the registration district in which the death occurred or the body was found; provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent an undertaker from removing a body from the registration district where the death occurred or the body was found to a contiguous registration district in the same or an adjoining county in an undertaker's conveyance for the purpose of preparing said body for burial or shipment. A removal permit must be secured within forty-eight hours and before embalming the body. No body where death occurred from any disease held by the state board of health to be infectious, contagious or communicable and dangerous to the public health shall be removed without first securing a removal permit in the manner provided in section nineteen of this act. And no such burial or removal permit shall be issued by any registrar until, wherever practicable, a complete and satisfactory certificate of death has been filed with him as hereinafter provided; provided, that when a dead body is transported from outside the state into a registration district in California for burial, the transit or removal permit, issued in accordance with the law and health regulations of the place where the death occurred, shall be accepted by the local registrar of the district into which the body has been transported for burial or other disposition, as a basis upon which he may issue a local burial permit, noting upon the face of the burial permit the fact that it was a body shipped in for interment, and giving the actual place of death; and no local registrar shall receive any fee for the issuance of burial or removal permits under this act other than the compensation provided in section twenty. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 720.]

§ 7. Certificate of death. Medical certificate. The certificate of death shall contain the following items, which are hereby declared to be necessary for the legal, social, and sanitary purposes subserved by registration records:

(1) Place of death, including state, county, township, village or city. If in a city, the ward, street, and house number; if in a hospital or other institution, the name of the same to be given instead of the street and house number. If in an industrial camp, the name of the camp to be given.

(2) Full name of decedent. If an unnamed child, the surname preceded by "unnamed."

(3) Sex.

(4) Color or race—as white, black, mulatto (or other negro descent), Indian, Chinese, Japanese, or other.

(5b) Wife of ——.

(6) Date of birth, including the year, month, and day.

(7) Age, in years, months and days. If less than one day, the hours or minutes.

(8) Occupation. The occupation to be reported of any person, male or female, who had any remunerative employment with the statement of (a) trade, profession or particular kind of work; (b) general nature of industry, business or establishment in which employed (or employer).

(9) Birthplace; at least state or foreign country, if known.

(10) Name of father.

(11) Birthplace of father; at least state or foreign country, if known.

(12) Maiden name of mother.

(13) Birthplace of mother; at least state or foreign country, if known.

(14) Signature and address of informant.

(15) Official signature of registrar, with the date when certificate was filed, and registered number.

(16) Date of death, year, month, and day.

(17) Certification as to medical attendance on decedent, fact and time of death, time last seen alive, and the cause of death, with contributory (secondary) cause of complication, if any, and duration of each, and whether attributed to dangerous or insanitary conditions of employment; signature and address of physician or official making the medical certificate.

(18) Length of residence (for inmates of hospitals and other institutions; transients or recent residents) at place of death and in California, together with the place where disease was contracted if not at the place of death, and former or usual place of residence (giving city and state of residence).

(19) Place of burial or removal; date of burial.

(20) Signature and address of undertaker or person acting as such and license number of embalmer.

The personal and statistical particulars (items one to thirteen) shall be authenticated by the signature of the informant who may be any competent person acquainted with the facts.

The statement of facts relating to the disposition of the body shall be signed by the undertaker or person acting as such.

The medical certificate shall be made and signed by the physician, if any, last in attendance on the deceased, and said physician shall within fifteen hours after the death deposit the certificate at the place of death, or deliver it to the attending undertaker at his place of business or at the office of said physician. Said physician shall specify in the certificate the time in attendance, the time he last saw the deceased alive and the hour of the day at which death occurred. And he shall further state the cause of death, so as to show the course of disease or sequence of causes resulting in the death, giving first the name of the disease causing death (primary cause) and the contributory (secondary) cause, if any, and the duration of each. Indefinite and unsatisfactory terms, denoting only symptoms of disease or conditions resulting from disease, will not be held sufficient for the issuance of a burial or removal permit; and any certificate containing only such terms, as defined by the state resigtrar, shall be returned to the physician or person making the medical certificate for correction and more definite statement. Causes of death which may be the result of either disease or violence shall be carefully defined; and if from violence, the means of injury shall be stated, and whether (probably) accidental, suicidal, or homicidal. And for deaths of nonresidents, transients or recent residents in hospitals or institutions, the physician shall supply the information required under this head (item eighteen) if he is able to do so, and shall state where, in his opinion, the disease was contracted. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 720.]

§ 10. Wording of burial permit in case of burial within state. If the interment, or other disposition of the body is to be made within the state, the wording of the burial or removal permit may be limited to a statement by the registrar, and over his signature, that a satisfactory certificate of death having been filed with him, as required by law, permission is granted to inter, remove, or dispose otherwise of the body, stating the name, age, sex, cause of death, and other necessary details upon the form prescribed by the state registrar; provided, that the transit permit prescribed by the state board of embalmers may be used in lieu of said burial or removal permit. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 722.]

§ 13. Certificate of birth. Duty of father, mother, etc. Within thirty-six hours after the date of each birth, there shall be filed with the local registrar of the district in which the birth occurred a certificate of such birth, which certificate shall be upon the form adopted by the state board of health with a view to procuring a full and accurate report with respect to each item of information enumerated in section fourteen of this act.

In sparsely-settled districts or where there is no direct mail communication with the county seat a reasonable time shall be fixed by the local registrar.

In each case where a physician, or midwife, or person acting as midwife, was in attendance upon the birth, it shall be the duty of such physisian to file in accordance herewith the certificate herein contemplated.

In case no physician was in attendance it shall be the duty of the midwife or person acting as midwife to file such certificate.

In every case it shall be the duty of the father or mother of the child, the householder or owner of the premises where the birth occurred or th manager or superintendent of the public or private institution where the birth occurred, each in the order named, within ten days after the date of such birth, to report to the local registrar the fact of such birth. In such case and in case the physician, midwife, or person acting as midwife, in attendance upon the birth is unable, by diligent inquiry, to obtain any item or items of information contemplated in section fourteen of this act, it shall then be the duty of the local registrar to secure from the person so reporting, or from any other person having the required knowledge, such information as will enable him to prepare the certificate of birth herein contemplated, and it shall be the duty of the person reporting the birth or who may be interrogated in relation thereto to answer correctly and to the best of his knowledge all questions put to him by the local registrar which may be calculated to elicit any information needed to make a complete record of the birth as contemplated by said section fourteen, and it shall be the duty of the informant as to any statement made in accordance herewith to verify such statement by his signature, when requested so to do by the local registrar. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 722.]

§ 14. Items in certificate of birth. Certificate of physician or midwife. The certificate of birth shall contain the following items, which are hereby declared necessary for the legal, social, and sanitary purposes subserved by registration records:

(1) Place of birth, including state, county, township or town, village or city. If in a city, the ward, street and house number; if in a hosiptal or other institution, the name of the same to be given, instead of the street and house number.

(2) Full name of child. If the child dies without a name, before the certificate is filed, enter the words "died unnamed." If the living child has not yet been named at the date of filing certificate of birth, the space for "full name of child" is to be left blank, to be filled out subsequently by a supplemental report, as hereinafter provided.

(3) Sex of child.

(4) Whether a twin, triplet, or other plural birth. A separate certificate shall be required for each child in case of plural births.

(5) For plural births, number of each child in order of birth.

(6) Date of birth, including the year, month, and day.

(7) Full name of father.

(8) Residence of father (giving city and state of residence).

(9) Color or race of father.

(10) Age of father at last birthday, in years.

(11) Birthplace of father; at least state or foreign country, if known.

(12) Occupation of father. The occupation to be reported if engaged in any remunerative employment, with the statement of (a) trade, profession, or particular kind of work; (b) general nature of industry, business or establishment in which employed (or employer).

(13) Maiden name of mother.

(14) Residence of mother (giving city and state of residence).

(15) Color or race of mother.

(16) Age of mother at least birthday, in years.

(17) Birthplace of mother; at least state or foreign country, if known.

(18) Occupation of mother. The occupation to be reported if engaged in any remunerative employment, with the statement of (a) trade, profession, or particular kind of work; (b) general nature of industry, business or establishment in which employed (or employer).

(19) Number of children born to this mother, including present birth.

(20) Number of children of this mother living.

(21) The certification of attending physician or midwife as to attendance at birth, including statement of year, month, day (as given in item seven), and hour of birth, and whether the child was born alive or stillborn. This certification shall be signed by the attending physician or midwife, with date of signature and address; if there is no physician or midwife in attendance, then by the father or mother of the child, householder, owner of the premises, or manager or superintendent of public or private institution where the birth occurred, or other competent person, whose duty it shall be to notify the local registrar of such birth, as required by section thirteen of this act.

(22) Exact date of filing in office of local registrar, attested by his official signature, and registered number of birth, as hereinafter provided. [Amendment approved May 8, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 722.]

§ 18. Forms and blanks. Records not to be changed. The state registrar shall prepare and distribute all forms and blanks for use in registering, recording and preserving the returns, or in otherwise carrying out the purposes of this act; and shall prepare and issue such detailed instructions as may be required to procure the uniform observance of its provisions and the maintenance of a perfect system of registration; and no other forms or blanks shall be used than those prepared by the state registrar. He shall carefully examine the certificates received monthly from the local registrars, and if any such are incomplete or unsatisfactory he shall require such further information to be supplied as may be necessary to make the record complete and satisfactory. Whenever a certificate is returned by a local registrar other than the registrar of the district in which the deceased resided, in the case of a death, or in which the father and mother of a child reside, in the case of a birth certificate, if the place of residence is a city within this state and having at least two thousand five hundred inhabitants at the last federal census, the state registrar shall mail to the local registrar of such city of residence, a complete copy of the certificate. And all physicians, midwives, informants, undertakers, clergymen, or judges, and all other persons having knowledge of the facts, are hereby required to supply, upon the forms provided or upon the original certificate, such information as they may possess regarding any birth or death or marriage upon demand of the state registrar, in person, by mail, or through the local registrar; provided, that no certificate of birth or death or marriage, after its acceptance for registration by the local registrar, and no other record made in pursuance of this act, shall be altered or changed in any respect, except where supplemental information required for statistical purposes is furnished.

(a) When facts not correctly stated. Preservation of certificates. Infectious diseases. Records of church associations, etc. Whenever it may be alleged that the facts are not correctly stated in any certificate of birth, death, or marriage, already registered, the local registrar shall require an affidavit under oath to be made by the person asserting the fact, setting forth the changes necessary to make the record correct, and supported by the affidavit of one other credible person having knowledge of the facts. Having received such affidavits, the local registrar shall file them together with an amended certificate and he shall note the fact of the amendment with its date on the margin of the otherwise unaltered original certificate. He shall transmit the original certificate with the affidavits and amended certificate attached when making his regular monthly returns to the state registrar. He shall also retain copies for his files. If the correction relates to a certificate previously returned to the state registrar the local registrar shall forthwith transmit the affidavits to the state registrar. If the correction is first made in the state bureau of vital statistics the state registrar shall transmit a certified copy of the amended certificate to the local registrar.

The state registrar shall further arrange, bind and permanently preserve the certificates in a systematic manner and shall prepare and maintain a comprehensive and continuous card index of all births and deaths registered; said index to be arranged alphabetically, in the case of deaths, by the names of decedents, and in the case of births, by the names of fathers and maiden names of mothers, and in the case of marriages by the names of both grooms and brides. He shall inform all registrars what diseases are to be considered infectious, contagious, or communicable and dangerous to the public health, as decided by the state board of health, in order that when deaths occur from such diseases proper precautions may be taken to prevent their spread. If any cemetery company or association, or any church or historical society or association, or any other company, society or association, or any individual, is in possession of any record of births or deaths which may be of value in establishing the genealogy of any resident of his state, such company, society, association or individual, may file such record or a duly authenticated transcript thereof with the state registrar, and it shall be the duty of the state registrar to preserve such record or transcript and to make a record and index thereof in such form as to facilitate the finding of any information contained therein. Such record and index shall be open to inspection by the public, subject to such reasonable conditions as the state registrar may prescribe. If any person desires a transcript of any record filed in accordance herewith, the state registrar shall furnish the same upon application, together with a certificate that it is a true copy of such record, as filed in his office. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 724.]

§ 21. Certified copies of records. Fee for searching files. The state or local registrar shall forthwith upon request supply to any applicant a certified copy of the record of any birth or death or marriage registered under provisions of this act, for the making and certification of which he shall be entitled to a fee of fifty cents, to be paid by the applicant. And any such copy of the record of a birth or death or marriage when properly certified by the state or local registrar, shall be prima facie evidence in all courts and places of the facts therein stated. For any search of the files and records when no certified copy is made the state registrar or local registrar shall be entitled to a fee of fifty cents for each hour or fractional hour of time of search, such fee to be paid by the applicant. The state registrar shall keep a true and correct account of all fees by him received under these provisions, and such money so received by the state registrar shall be deposited with the state treasurer, who shall credit the amount to the fund provided and to be used for the payment of the traveling and contingent expenses of the state board of health, and the money so collected by the local registrar shall be paid by him into the county or city treasury, as the case may be; provided, that the local registrar shall, upon request of any parent or guardian, supply, without fee, a certificate limited to a statement as to the date of birth of any child when the same shall be necessary for admission to school, or for the purpose of securing employment; and provided, further, that the United States census bureau may obtain, without expense to the state, transcripts of births and deaths without payment of the fees herein prescribed.

(b) Petition to court to establish record. Order of court. Form. If, upon such search it shall develop that for any cause any birth or death, or marriage, occurring in this state was not registered in conformity with the provisions of law in effect at the time when such birth or death or marriage occurred by the filing of the certificate therefor with the local registrar within a period of one year from the date of the event, any person beneficially interested in establishing of record the fact of such birth or death or marriage may petition the superior court of the county in which such birth or death or marriage is alleged to have occurred for an order judicially establishing the fact of such birth or death or marriage. Such petition shall be verified and shall contain all the data necessary to enable the court, upon hearing the same, to determine the fact of such birth or death or marriage upon the proofs adduced in behalf of the petitioner at the hearing thereof. A copy of such petition shall be served upon the local registrar of vital statistics, and also upon the district attorney of the county in which such birth or death or marriage is alleged to have occurred, and either of said officials shall have the right in his discretion to appear at such hearing and oppose the making of such order. Such hearing shall be had at such time as the court may appoint, not less than ten days subsequent to the date of filing such petition, and notice thereof must be given by publication for the same time and in the same manner required by law to be given prior to the hearing of the petition for the admission to probate of any will, or the issuance of letters testamentary or of administration thereon.

If, upon such hearing, the proofs of the allegations of the petition are established, to the satisfaction of the court, the court may make an order determining that such birth, death or marriage did in fact occur in such county and at the time shown by the proofs adduced upon such hearing.

Such order must be made in the form and upon the blank prescribed and furnished by the state registrar and but one birth, death or marriage may be included therein. And said order shall become effective upon the filing of a certified copy thereof with the local registrar of vital statistics, and the delivery therewith for transmittal to the state registrar of a standard certificate containing such facts and signatures as are obtainable, and upon the filing of a certified copy of said order with the state registrar. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 726.]

§ 23. Local registrars to enforce act. Duty of state registrar. Under the supervision and direction of the state registrar, each local registrar is hereby charged with the strict and thorough enforcement of the provisions of this act in his registration district. He shall make an immediate report to the state registrar of any violation of this law coming to his knowledge, by observation or upon complaint of any person, or otherwise.

The state registrar is hereby charged with the thorough and efficient execution of the provisions of this act in every part of the state, and is hereby granted supervisory power over local registrars, deputy local registrars, and subregistrars, to the end that all of its requirements shall be uniformly complied with. The state registrar, either personally or by an accredited representative, shall have authority to investigate cases of irregularity or violation of law. When the state board of health or its secretary shall deem it necessary, it or he shall report cases of violation of any of the provisions of this act to the prosecuting attorney of the county, with a statement of the facts and circumstances; and when any such case is reported to him by the state board of health or its secretary, the prosecuting attorney shall forthwith initiate and promptly follow up the necessary court proceedings against the person or corporation responsible for the alleged violation of law. And upon request of the state board of health or its secretary, the attorney general shall assist in the enforcement of the provisions of this act. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 727.]

TITLE 602a.

WAR.

ACT 4314.

An act to create a state council of defense to make investigations into the effect of the occurrence of war upon the civil and economical life of the people of the state of California; to recommend to the governor measures to provide for the public security, the better protection of public health, a fuller development of the economic resources of the state and the encouragement of military training; to impose upon public officers certain duties in connection herewith; and to make appropriation for the purposes of this act.

[Approved March 29, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 24. In effect immediately.]

§ 1. State council of defense created. There is hereby created a council, known as the state council of defense to consist of not more than thirty-three members who shall be appointed by the governor, to serve at his pleasure, from among those holding public office under the state of California, from among the personnel of the army and navy of the United States and other branches of the national administration with the consent of federal authority, from members of the staff of the University of California and from qualified citizens of the state and nation.

§ 2. Duties. It shall be the duty of the state council of defense at once to take under consideration the effects of the occurrence of war upon the people of the state of California; to consider measures for public defense and security, for the protection of routes of communication, for the betterment and protection of public health, for the public care and assistance of individuals and classes upon whom the hardships occasioned by war would fall most heavily, for the fuller development of the resources of the state, particularly those from which are derived the supplies of food and other commodities upon which the conduct of war makes especial drain; to encourage the military training of the citizens of the state; to examine into measures to increase the public revenue to meet war demands and to effect the elimination of waste and extravagance; and to consider measures to be taken to meet the exigencies of all situations occasioned by war.

§ 3. Officers. The governor shall be ex-officio chairman of the state council of defense. He shall designate the vice chairman, and shall appoint an executive committee and such subcommittees as he shall deem advisable. He shall have power to employ such assistance and to make such expenditures as he may deem necessary to carry out the purposes of this act. He may, when he deems it expedient, dissolve the state council of defense or cause its activities to be suspended or terminated.

§ 4. Compensation. Members of the state council of defense shall serve without pay, but shall be reimbursed for their actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties hereunder; provided, however, that the vice-chairman shall devote his entire time to the work of the state council of defense and shall receive such compensation as the governor may determine.

§ 5. Headquarters. The headquarters of said council shall be in the state capitol, but the governor may establish branch offices elsewhere and may call meetings to be held at such times and places as he may deem expedient. It shall be the duty of every public officer, board, or commission of the state of California to render to the governor and to the state council of defense, at the request of the governor, all possible assistance and to make such investigations and supply such data as the governor may at any time require.

§ 6. Appropriation. The sum of one hundred thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, to carry out the purposes of this act. The state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrants in favor of the governor from time to time in such sums as the governor may designate, and the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay the same. This appropriation is hereby exempted from the operation of the provisions of section six hundred seventy-two of the Political Code; provided, however, that no liability in excess of one hundred dollars shall be incurred without the approval of the governor; and provided, further, that the state council of defense shall submit to the legislature, through the governor, a report including as full a statement of the activities of the council as is consistent with the public interest, together with an account of the expenditures made by the council, or authorized by it, in as full detail as the public interest will permit.

§ 7. Urgency measure. Inasmuch as the President of the United States has called the congress to meet in special session to consider measures for the national defense and has summoned the national guard of the state of California, it is hereby declared that this act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace and safety, and that under the provisions of section one of article four of the constitution an urgency exists, and this act shall take effect immediately.

TITLE 607.

WATER COMMISSIONERS.

ACT 4340.

An act to regulate the use of water which is subject to such control by the state of California, and in that behalf creating a state water commission; specifying and providing for the appointment of the members of said commissions; fixing the terms of office and compensation of the members of said commission; fixing the powers, duties and authority of said commission and its members; providing for the filling of vacancies in the membership of said commission; providing for the removal from office of the appointed members of said commission; providing for the co-operation of courts with said commission; providing that certain courts shall take judicial notice of certain acts of the state water commission; specifying the duties of all persons summoned as witnesses before said commission or any of its members; appropriating money for carrying out the provisions of this act; providing for the payment of the indebtedness and expenses of said commission, its members and employees; declaring what water is unappropriated; providing for the utilization of water and the works necessary to such utilization to the full capacity of streams or of such portion or portions of such capacity as the public good may require, declaring what water may be appropriated; declaring that the nonapplication for ten consecutive years of any portion of the waters of any stream to lands riparian to such stream shall be conclusive presumption that the use of such nonapplied water is not needed on said riparian lands for a useful or beneficial purpose; declaring that such nonapplied water shall be deemed to be in the use of the state and subject to appropriation; declaring the duties of those who desire to appropriate water; declaring the periods for which water may be appropriated and the conditions under which water may be appropriated; providing for the payment of fees and charges by the applicants for permission to appropriate water and by the appropriators of water; providing for the ascertainment and adjudication of water rights; providing for the bringing of actions by certain persons, or, upon the direction of the state water commission, by the attorney general, for the quieting of title to water rights; specifying certain duties of the claimants, possessors or users of water or water rights; declaring water rights forfeited under certain conditions; regulating the appropriation of water; excepting cities, cities and counties, municipal water districts, irrigation districts and lighting districts from certain provisions of this act; defining certain words and terms used in this act; repealing all acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act; declaring how this act shall be known; making legislative declaration concerning those parts of this act which may not be declared unconstitutional.

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, pp. 194, 195, 231, 284, 746.

The amendments of 1917 follow:

§ 15. Use of unappropriated water. The state water commission shall allow, under the provisions of this act, the appropriation for beneficial purposes of unappropriated water unless, in the opinion of the said commission, such appropriation would be detrimental to the public welfare. [Amendment approved April 25, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 194.]

§ 15a. Appropriation of water for use in another state. The state water commission shall allow the appropriation of water in this state for beneficial use in another state only when, under the laws of the latter, water may be lawfully diverted therein for beneficial use in the state of California. Upon any stream flowing across the state boundary a right of appropriation having the point of diversion and the place of use in another state and recognized by the laws of that state, shall have the same force and effect as if the point of diversion and the place of use were in this state; provided, that the laws of that state give like force and effect to similar rights acquired in this state; provided, that nothing in this act be so construed as to apply to interstate lakes, or streams flowing in or out of such lakes. [New section added May 7, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 284.]

§ 20. Terms and conditions of permits and licenses. City, etc., may purchase works. Determination of price. Grounds for revoking license. Findings of commission prima facie correct. Conditions of accepting permit. Cities first in right. City may become public utility. All permits and licenses for the appropriation of water shall be under the terms and conditions of this act, and shall be effective for such time as the water actually appropriated under such permits and licenses shall actually be used for the useful and beneficial purpose for which said water was appropriated, but no longer; and every such permit or license shall include the enumeration of conditions therein which in substance shall include all of the provisions of this section and likewise the statement that any appropriator of water, to whom said permit or license may be issued, shall take the same subject to such conditions as therein expressed; provided, that at any time after the expiration of twenty years after the granting of a license, the state or any city, city and county, municipal water district, irrigation district, lighting district, or any political subdivision of the state shall have the right to purchase the works and property occupied and used under said license and the works built or constructed for the enjoyment of the rights granted under said license; and in the event that the said state, city, city and county, municipal water district, irrigation district, lighting district or political subdivision of the state so desiring to purchase and the said owner of said works and property cannot agree upon said purchase price, said price shall be determined in such manner as is now or may hereafter be determined in eminent domain proceedings. If it shall appear to the state water commission at any time after a permit or license is issued as in this act provided that the permittee, or licensee, or the heirs, successors, or assigns, of said permittee or licensee, has not put the water granted under said permit or license to the useful or beneficial purpose for which the permit or license was granted, or that the permittee or licensee, or the heirs, successors, or assigns of said permittee or licensee, has ceased to put said water to such useful or beneficial purpose, or that the permittee or licensee, or the heirs, successors or assigns of said permittee or licensee, has failed to observe any of the terms and conditions in the permit or license as issued, then and in that case the said commission, after due notice to the permittee, licensee, or the heirs, successors or assigns of such permittee or licensee, and a hearing thereon, may revoke said permit or license and declare the water to be unappropriated and open to further appropriation in accordance with the terms of this act. The findings and declaration of said commission shall be deemed to be prima facie correct until modified or set aside by a court of competent jurisdiction; provided, that any action brought so to modify or set aside such finding or declaration must be commenced within thirty days after the service of notice of said revocation on said permittee or licensee, his heirs, successors or assigns. And every licensee or permittee under the provisions of this act if he accepts such permit or license shall accept the same under the conditions precedent that no value whatsoever in excess of the actual amount paid to the state therefor shall at any time be assigned to or claimed for any permit or license granted or issued under the provisions of this act, or for any rights granted or acquired under the provisions of this act, in respect to the regulation by any competent public authority of the services or the price of the services to be rendered by any permittee or licensee, his heirs, successors or assigns or by the holder of any rights granted or acquired under the provisions of this act, or in respect to any valuation for purposes of sale to or purchase, whether through condemnation proceedings or otherwise, by the state or any city, city and county, municipal water district, irrigation district, lighting district or any political subdivision of the state, of the rights and property of any permittee or licensee, or the possessor of any rights granted, issued, or acquired under the provisions of this act. The application for a permit by municipalities for the use of water for said municipalities or the inhabitants thereof for domestic purposes shall be considered first in right, irrespective of whether they are first in time; provided, however, that such application for a permit or the granting thereafter of permission to any municipality to appropriate waters, shall not authorize the appropriation of any water for other than municipal purposes; and providing, further, that where permission to appropriate is granted by the state water commission to any municipality for any quantity of water in excess of the existing municipal needs therefor, that pending the application of the entire appropriation permitted, the state water commission shall have the power to issue permits for the temporary appropriation of the excess of such permitted appropriation over and above the quantity being applied from time to time by such municipality; and providing further, that in lieu of the granting of such temporary permits for appropriation, the state water commission may authorize such municipality to become as to such surplus a public utility, subject to the jurisdiction and control of the railroad commission of the state of California for such period or periods from and after the date of the issuance of such permission to appropriate, as may be allowed for the application to municipal uses of the entire appropriation permitted; and provided, further, that when such municipality shall desire to use the additional water granted in its said application it may do so upon making just compensation for the facilities for taking, conveying and storing such additional water rendered valueless for said purposes, to the person, firm or corporation which constructed said facilities for the temporary use of said excess waters, and which compensation, if not agreed upon between the municipality and said person, firm or corporation, may be determined in the manner provided by law for determining the value of property taken by and through eminent domain proceedings. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 746.]

§ 20a. Water not used for three years. When the party entitled to the use of water fails to beneficially use all or any part of the water claimed by him, for which a right of use has vested, for the purpose for which it was appropriated or adjudicated, for a period of three years, such unused water shall revert to the public and shall be regarded as unappropriated public water. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 746.]

§ 23. Fee. For electrical power. For agricultural purposes. Every person, firm, association or corporation making application for a permit to appropriate water or the use of water under this act shall pay to the state water commission, at the time of filing said application, a filing fee in the sum of five dollars, and, upon the issue of a permit, the additional fee, if the purpose or use is for the generation of electricity or electrical or other power, of ten cents for each theoretical horse-power capable of being developed by the works up to and including one hundred theoretical horse-power, of five cents for each horse-power in excess of one hundred theoretical horse-power up to and including one thousand theoretical horse-power, and of one cent for each theoretical horse-power in excess of one thousand theoretical horse-power; also, if for agricultural purposes, of five cents for each acre of land to be irrigated by means of said appropriation to and including one hundred acres, of three cents per acre for each acre in excess of one hundred acres up to and including one thousand acres, and of two cents for each acre over one thousand acres. All fees shall forthwith be paid into the state treasury by the state water commission. No fee shall be required from any person, firm, association, or corporation exempt by any law of the state of California from the payment of such fee. [Amendment approved April 25, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 195.]

§ 24. Water commission may act as referee. In case suit is brought in the superior court for determination of rights to water or the use of water, the case may, in the discretion of the court, be transferred to the state water commission for investigation, as referee. [Amendment Approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 231.]

§ 25. Determination of water rights by commission. Upon its own initiative or upon petition signed by one or more claimants to water or the use of water upon any stream, stream system, lake, or other body of water, all of which sources of supply are hereinafter referred to as "stream system," requesting the determination of rights, based upon prior appropriation, of the various claimants to the water of that stream system, it shall be the duty of the state water commission, if, upon investigation, it finds the facts and conditions are such as to justify, to enter an order granting said petition and to make proper arrangements to proceed with such determination. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 231.]

§ 26. Notice of order. Publication. As soon as practicable after the state water commission shall make and enter the order granting the said petition or selecting the stream system upon which the determination of water rights by appropriation is to begin, it shall prepare a notice setting forth the fact of the entry of said order and of the pendency of the said proceedings, the date when the state water commission shall begin said examination, and that all claimants to rights by appropriation of the waters of said stream system are required, as in this act provided, to make proof of their claims. The notice shall be published for a period of four consecutive weeks in one or more newspapers of general circulation published in each county in which any part of said stream system is situated. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 231.]

§ 27. Investigation of flow of stream system, etc. Surveys and maps. At the time set in said notice, the state water commission shall begin an investigation of the flow of the stream system and of the conduits diverting water, and of the lands irrigated or irrigable therefrom, and shall gather such other data and information as may be essential to the proper determination of the water rights by appropriation. It shall reduce its observations, data, information and measurements to writing. It shall execute surveys and shall prepare maps from the observations of such surveys in accordance with such uniform rules and regulations as it may adopt; which surveys and maps shall show with substantial accuracy the course of the stream or streams; the location of each conduit diverting water therefrom, land irrigated and capable of being irrigated by each conduit, and the kind of culture upon the irrigated land. The maps shall be prepared as the surveys and observations progress, and, when completed, it shall be filed and made of record in the office of the state water commission. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 232.]

§ 28. Notice of time for filing proofs. Publication. Upon the completion of such measurements and maps, and the filing of said observations, data, information and measurements, the state water commission shall prepare a notice setting forth the date, prior to which the proofs, to be furnished by claimants upon forms supplied by the state water commission and more specifically referred to in the next section hereof, as to the rights by appropriation of the waters of said stream system, shall be filed; provided, however, that the date set, prior to which said proofs must be filed, shall not be less than sixty days from the date of the last publication of said notice as hereinafter provided. The notice shall be deemed to be an order of the state water commission as to its contents, and it shall be published by the state water commission for a period of four consecutive weeks in one or more newspapers of general circulation published in each county in which any part of said stream system is situated. At or near the time of the first publication of said notice it shall be the duty of the state water commission to send by registered mail to each claimant to rights by appropriation of the waters of said stream system, in so far as such claimant can be reasonably ascertained at his last known place of address, a notice equivalent in terms to the said published notice. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 232.

§ 29. Forms to be sent claimant. The state water commission shall, in addition, inclose with the notice to be mailed as aforesaid, blank forms, proofs of appropriation, upon which said claimant shall present in writing all particulars necessary for the determination of his right by appropriation of the waters of said stream system, the said statement to include the following:

(a) The name and postoffice address of the claimant.

(b) The nature of the right or use on which the claim for appropriation is based.

(c) The date of the initiation of such right and a description of works of diversion and distribution.

(d) The date of beginning of construction.

(e) The date when completed.

(f) The dates of beginning and completion of enlargements.

(g) The dimensions of the ditch as originally constructed and enlarged.

(h) The date when water was first used for irrigation or other beneficial purposes, and if used for irrigation, the amount of land irrigated the first year, the amount in subsequent years, with the dates of irrigation and the area and the location of the lands which are intended to be irrigated.

(i) The character of the soil and the kind of crops cultivated, and such other facts as will show the extent and nature of the right and a compliance with the law in acquiring the same, as may be required by the state water commission. Each claimant shall be required to certify to his statements, under oath. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 232.]

§ 30. Determination of right on failure to make proof. After the date fixed for the filing of proofs, no proofs shall be received or filed with the state water commission; provided, however, that the state water commission may, for cause shown, in its discretion, extend the time in which proofs may be filed. Upon neglect or refusal of any person to make proof of his claim to rights by appropriation of the waters of such stream system, as required by this act, prior to the expiration of the period fixed by the state water commission, during which proofs may be filed, the state water commission shall determine the right by appropriation of such person on such evidence as it may obtain or may have on file in its office in the way of maps, plats, surveys and transcripts; and exceptions to such determination may be filed in court as hereinafter provided. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 233.]

§ 31. Petition to intervene in proceedings. Any claimant of a right by appropriation of the water of any stream system upon whom no service of notice shall have been had of the pendency of proceedings for the determination of the rights by appropriation of the waters of said stream system, and who shall have had no actual knowledge or notice of the pendency of said proceedings, may at any time prior to the expiration of three months after the entry of the determination of the state water commission, as provided in section thirteen of this act, file a petition to intervene in said proceedings. Such petition shall be under oath and shall contain, among other things, all matters required by this act of claimants who have been duly served with notice of said proceedings, and also a statement that the intervener had no actual knowledge or notice of the pendency of said proceedings. Upon the filing of said petition in intervention, the petitioner shall be allowed to intervene and thereafter shall have all the rights and be subject to all the duties of the claimants who have been duly served. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 233.]

§ 32. Fees collected from claimants. At the time of submission of proof of appropriation, the state water commission shall collect from such claimants, on the basis of the statements in the proofs, a fee of fifteen cents for each acre of irrigated or irrigable lands up to and including one hundred acres, ten cents for each acre in excess of one hundred acres and up to and including one thousand acres, and five cents per acre for each acre in excess of one thousand acres; also twenty-five cents for each theoretical horse-power up to and including one hundred horse-power, fifteen cents for each theoretical horse-power in excess of one hundred horse-power and up to and including one thousand horse-power, and five cents for each theoretical horse-power in excess of one thousand horse-power; also five (5) dollars for each cubic foot per second, or fraction thereof, claimed for any purpose other than irrigation or power; the minimum fee, however, for any claimant to be five (5) dollars. All fees charged and collected under this section shall be paid, at least once each month, accompanied by a detailed statement thereof, into the treasury of the state. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 234.]

§ 33. Printed abstract of proofs. Inspection. As soon as practicable after the expiration of the period fixed in which proofs may be filed, the state water commission shall assemble all proofs which have been filed, and prepare and certify an abstract of all of the said proofs, which shall be printed in the state printing office. As soon as practicable the state water commission shall prepare a notice fixing and setting a time and place, reasonably convenient to the claimants, when and where the evidence taken by or filed with it shall be open to the inspection of all interested persons, said period of inspection to be not less than ten (10) days, which notice shall be deemed to be an order of the state water commission as to the matters contained therein. A copy of said notice, together with a printed copy of the said abstract of proofs, shall be sent by registered mail, at least fifteen (15) days prior to the first day of such period of inspection, to each claimant who has appeared and filed proof as herein provided. A representative of the state water commission shall be present at the time and place designated in said notice, and allow, during said period, any person interested to inspect such evidence and proofs as have been filed in accordance with this act. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 234.]

§ 34. Contest of statements and proofs of claims. Should any claimant desire to contest any of the statements and proofs of claims filed with the state water commission by any other claimant to the waters of the stream system, he shall, within fifteen (15) days after said evidence and proofs shall have been opened to public inspection, or within such further time as for good cause shown may be allowed by the state water commission upon application made prior to the expiration of said fifteen (15) days, in writing, notify the state water commission, stating with reasonable certainty the grounds of the proposed contest, which statement shall be verified by the affidavit of the contestant, his agent or attorney. The statements or proofs of the person whose rights are contested and the verified statement of the contestant shall be deemed sufficient to constitute a proper cause for such contest. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 234.]

§ 35. Hearing of contest. Costs. Within ten (10) days after the receipt of the notice of contest the state water commission shall notify by registered mail the contestant and the claimant whose rights are contested to appear before it at a time and place specified in said notice, and that at said time and place said contest will be heard; provided, that said time shall not be less than fifteen (15) days nor more than sixy (60) days from the date of the mailing of the notice of the commission. The state water commission shall have power to adjourn hearings of contests from time to time upon reasonable notice to all parties in interest, and to issue subpoenas for and compel the attendance of witnesses to testify before it and to produce papers, books, maps, and other documents. The costs of taking testimony at a hearing shall be borne by the parties thereto as follows: each party shall pay for the direct examination of his own witness and the cross-examination of opponent's witness and shall share equally for that part of the examination directed by the representative of the commission. One copy of the transcript of testimony taken at the hearing shall be furnished to the commission and the cost thereof borne equally by the parties. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 235.]

§ 36. Order of determination. As soon as practicable after the hearing of contests, it shall be the duty of the state water commission to make, and cause to be entered of record in its office, an order determining and establishing the several rights by appropriation of the waters of said stream; provided, however, that within sixty (60) days after the entry of an order establishing water rights, the state water commission may, for good cause shown, reopen the proceedings and grant a rehearing. Such order and determination shall be prepared, and after certification by the state water commission, printed in the state printing office. A copy of said order of determination shall be sent by registered mail to each person who has filed proof of claim, and to each person who has become interested through intervention or as a contestant under the provisions of section eight or section eleven of this act. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 235.]

§ 36a. Filing of order, etc., with clerk of superior court. Order setting time for hearing. As soon as practicable, after the entry of the order of determination, a certified copy thereof, together with the original evidence and transcript of testimony filed with, or taken before the state water commission, as aforesaid, duly certified by it, shall be filed with the clerk of the superior court of the county in which said stream system, or any part thereof, is situated. Upon the filing of the certified copy of said order, evidence, and transcript with the clerk of the court in which the proceedings are to be had, the state water commission shall procure an order from said court setting a time for hearing. The clerk of such court shall immediately furnish the state water commission with a certified copy of said order. It shall be the duty of the state water commission immediately thereupon to mail a copy of such certified order of the court, by registered mail, addressed to each known party in interest at his last known place of residence, and to cause the same to be published at least once a week for four consecutive weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in each county in which such stream system or any part thereof is located, and the state water commission shall file with the clerk of the court proof of such service by registered mail and by publication. Such service by registered mail and by publication shall be deemed full and sufficient notice to all parties in interest of the date and purpose of such hearing. [New section added May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 236.]

§ 36b. Filing of notice of exceptions. Decree affirming order. Hearing of exceptions. When state a party. At least ten days prior to the day set for hearing, all parties in interest who are aggrieved or dissatisfied with the order of determination of the state water commission shall file with the clerk of said court notice of exceptions to the order of determination of the state water commission, which notice shall state briefly the exceptions taken, the reasons therefor, and the prayer for relief, and a copy thereof shall be transmitted by registered mail at least ten (10) days prior to such hearing, to the state water commission and to each claimant, who was an adverse party to any contest wherein such exceptor was a party in the proceedings. The order of determination by the state water commission and the statements or claims of claimants and exceptions made to the order of determination shall constitute the pleadings but the court may allow such additional or amended pleadings as may be necessary to a final determination of the proceeding. If no exceptions shall have been filed with the clerk of the court as aforesaid, then on the day set for the hearing, on motion of the state water commission, or its attorney, the court shall enter a decree affirming said order of determination. On the day set for hearing all parties in interest who have filed notices of exceptions as aforesaid shall appear in person, or by counsel, and it shall be the duty of the court to hear the same or set the time for hearing, until such exceptions are disposed of, and all proceedings thereunder shall be as nearly as may be in accordance with the rules governing civil actions. Whenever in the judgment of the court the state is a necessary party to the action, the court shall make an order to that effect and thereupon a copy of all pleadings and proceedings on file with the court in said matter shall be served upon the attorney general who shall represent the state therein. [New section added May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 236.]

§ 36c. Decree determining right of all persons involved. Appeals. For further information on any subject in controversy, the court may employ one or more qualified persons to investigate and report thereon under oath, subject to examination by any party in interest as to his competency to give expert testimony thereon. The court may take additional evidence on any issue and may, if necessary, refer the case for such further evidence to be taken by the state water commission as it may direct, and may require a further determination by it. After the hearing, the court shall enter a decree determining the right of all persons involved in such proceeding. Said decree shall in every case declare as to the water right by appropriation adjudged to each party, the extent, priority, amount, purpose of use, point of diversion, and place of use of said water; and as to water used for irrigation, such decree shall also declare the specific tracts of land to which it shall be appurtenant, together with such other conditions as may be necessary to define the right and its priority. Upon the hearing the court may assess and adjudge against any party such costs as it may deem just. Appeals from such decree may be taken to the supreme court by the state water commission or any party in interest, in the same manner and with the same effect as in civil cases. [New section added May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 236.]

§ 36d. Decree filed with county recorder. Certificate to claimant. A certified copy of the decree of the superior court shall be prepared by the clerk thereof, without charge, and filed for record in the office of the county recorder of each county in which any part of the stream system is situated and also in the office of the state water commission. It shall be the duty of the state water commission to issue to each claimant represented in such determination a certificate to be signed by the president of the state water commission, and attested under seal of the secretary of said commission, setting forth the name and postoffice address of the owner of the right; the priority of the date, extent and purpose of such right; and, if such water be for irrigation purposes, a description of the legal subdivisions of land to which said water is appurtenant. [New section added May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 236.]

§ 36e. Claimant failing to appear forfeits rights. Whenever proceedings shall be instituted for the determination of rights by appropriation of water, it shall be the duty of all claimants interested therein and having notice thereof as in this act provided, to appear and submit proof of their respective claims at the time and in the manner required by law; and any such claimant who shall fail to appear in such proceedings and submit proof of his claim shall be barred and estopped from subsequently asserting any rights theretofore acquired upon the stream system, embraced in such proceedings, and shall be held to have forfeited all rights by appropriation to said water theretofore claimed by him on such stream system, unless entitled to relief under the laws of this state; provided, that such proceedings shall result in a determination by the state water commission and a decree by the superior court determining the rights on such stream. Such decree shall be conclusive as to the rights by appropriation of all existing claimants upon the stream system lawfully embraced in the determination. [New section added May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 236.]

§ 36f. Determination of rights initiated prior to December 19, 1914. Review of findings. The state water commission shall have authority and power in making a determination as to the rights by appropriation of the waters of any stream system, to fix a time limit for the completion of all appropriations of water from such stream, where such rights of appropriations were initiated prior to December 19, 1914, and since prosecuted with reasonable diligence, and such appropriators having been duly notified as provided in this act, must appear and submit their proofs of claim, in accordance with section twenty-eight of this act, or they shall be deemed and held to be in default, and to have abandoned or to have no right, title or interest in or to the waters of such stream. In determining rights of such appropriators, the state water commission shall prescribe such a reasonable time for the completion of such appropriations, and the application of the water appropriated to a beneficial use, as will enable such appropriators acting in good faith and with due diligence to complete the same. The findings of the state water commission shall provide for the submission of proof or evidence as to the completion of such appropriation and the amount of water actually applied to beneficial use upon the expiration of such time limit, and shall, in accordance with such proof, enter supplemental findings, establishing and determining such rights of appropriation, in so far as the same shall have been completed; and certificates of water right shall be issued in accordance with such supplemental findings and order of determination of said commission; but this section shall not be construed to confer any rights of appropriation upon parties who shall have abandoned their said appropriations or failed to use due diligence in the application of the water to a beneficial use and in the completion of their appropriations; and all such appropriators, who shall fail to complete their said appropriations within the limit of time fixed by the state water commission in said findings, or such further time granted upon application made prior to the expiration of such time limit, as the state water commission shall find equitable and just, shall be deemed to have abandoned their rights of appropriation, and rights acquired by virtue thereof waived, and such appropriators shall be deemed and held to have no right, title or interest in or to the waters of such stream by virtue of their said appropriations. The findings and determination of the state water commission made under the provisions of this section may be reviewed in the manner prescribed by section thirty-six b of this act. [New section added May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 236.]

TITLE 608.

WATER COMPANIES.

ACT 4348b.

An act to prevent the supply of water dangerous to health for domestic purposes and to provide for the installation of sanitary water systems.

Amended 1915, p. 1282; 1917, p. 1562.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Unlawful to supply polluted water. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, corporation, public utility, municipality or other public body or institution to furnish or supply or to continue to furnish or supply water used or intended to be used for human consumption or for domestic uses or purposes which is impure, unwholesome, unpotable, polluted, or dangerous to health, to any person in any county, city and county, municipal corporation, village, district, community, hotel, temporary or permanent resort, institution or industrial camp. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1562.]

§ 2. Persons desiring to furnish water to file petition. Investigation of works. Exemption. Hearing. Whenever any person, firm, corporation, public utility, municipality or other public body or institution shall desire to furnish or supply or to continue to furnish or supply water for domestic uses or purposes to any person in any county, city and county, municipal corporation, village, district, community, hotel, temporary or permanent resort, institution or industrial camp, or shall desire to install, add to, modify or alter any of the plant, works, system or sources of supply, it or he shall file as herein provided with the state board of health a petition for permission so to do, together with complete plans and specifications and a statement containing a general description and history of the existing or proposed water supply system of proposed changes therein showing the geographical location thereof with relation to the source of the water supply and all the sanitary and health conditions surrounding and affecting said supply and the works, system and plant, such plans, specifications and general statement to be in such form and to cover such matters as the state board of health shall prescribe. Thereupon a thorough investigation of the proposed or existing works, system, plant, water supply and all other circumstances and conditions by it deemed to be material must be made by the state board of health; and provided, however, that no person, firm or corporation supplying water for domestic purposes or use on his or its private property upon which there is no industrial camp, hotel, temporary or permanent resort using said water, or supplying less than two hundred service connections, shall be required to apply for a permit under the provisions of this section, except upon formal complaint filed with the state board of health.

As a part of such investigation, and after ten days' notice by mail to the petitioner, a hearing or hearings may be had before said board or an examiner appointed by it for the purpose. At such hearing or hearings witnesses who testify shall be sworn by the person conducting the hearing, and evidence, oral and documentary, may be received, a record of which shall be made and filed with said board. Upon the completion of such investigation, said board:

(a) When petition shall be denied. Appointment of person to take charge of plant. Temporary permit. If it shall determine, as a fact, that the water being furnished or to be furnished or supplied is such that under all the circumstances and conditions it is impure, unwholesome or unpotable, or may constitute a menace or danger to the health or lives of human beings, or that under all the circumstances and conditions the existing or proposed works, system, plant or water supply, or proposed modifications therein, are unhealthful or insanitary, or not suited to the production and delivery of healthful, pure and wholesome water at all times, it shall deny the prayer of such petitioner, and said board shall order the petitioner to make such changes as it deems necessary to secure a continuous supply of pure, wholesome, potable and healthful water. Said board may order the appointing of a competent person, to be approved by the state board of health and paid by said petitioner, who shall take charge of and operate such plant or system so as to secure the results demanded by the state board of health; and it may order such repair, alteration or addition to the existing system, plant and works that the water furnished or supplied shall at all times be pure, wholesome, potable and shall not endanger the lives or health of human beings; and said board may order such changes of source of the water supply or installation of purification and refining works and such other measures as shall insure a continuous supply of pure, wholesome and potable water which shall not endanger the lives and health of human beings; which orders shall designate the period within which the required changes are to be made; provided, however, that a temporary permit may be issued by the state board of health for said period to permit the petitioner to comply with such order or orders.

(b) When petition shall be granted. Permits revocable. Report may be required. Persons without permit may be enjoined. Public nuisance. Penalty for violation. If it shall determine, as a fact, that the water being furnished or supplied to such human beings is such, that under all the circumstances and conditions, it is pure, wholesome and potable and does not endanger the lives or health of human beings, it shall grant to petitioner a permit authorizing petitioner to furnish or continue to furnish or supply such water to such human beings; provided, however, that all permits issued hereunder shall be revocable or subject to suspension by said board at any time that it shall determine, as a fact, that the water being supplied or furnished is or may become impure, unwholesome or unpotable or does or will endanger the lives or health of human beings. The state board of health and its inspectors shall at any and all reasonable times have full power and authority to, and shall be permitted to, enter into and upon any and all places, property, inclosures and structures for the purpose of making and to make examinations and investigations to determine whether any provision of this act is being violated. The holder of any permit granted by said board under the provisions of this act may at any time by order of said board be required to furnish to said board, upon demand, a complete report upon the condition and operation of the water supply, plant, works or system owned, operated or controlled by it, which report shall be made by some competent person designated for the purpose by said board, and at the sole cost and expense of the holder of the permit. Any person, firm, corporation, public utility, municipality or other public body or institution who shall furnish or supply or continue to furnish or supply water used or intended to be used for human consumption or for domestic uses or purposes, or shall install additions to, modifications or alterations in, any of the existing plant, works, system, or sources of supply without having an unrevoked permit from the state board of health so to do, as in this act provided, may be enjoined from so doing by any court of competent jurisdiction, at the suit of any person or persons, firm, corporation, municipal or other public corporation whose supply of water for human consumption or for domestic uses or purposes is taken, or received from, or supplied or furnished by any such water furnishing or distributing person, firm, corporation, public utility or municipality or other public body or institution, or it or he may be enjoined at the suit of the state board of health in the same manner. Anything done, maintained or suffered in violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed to be a public nuisance dangerous to health and may be summarily abated in the manner provided by law and it shall be the duty of all and every public officer or officers, body or bodies lawfully empowered so to do to immediately abate the same.

Every person, firm, corporation, public utility, municipality, or other public body or institution, or officer, employee or agent thereof upon whom the duty to act is cast, and every person who shall violate any provision or part thereof of this act, or who shall fail to obey, observe or comply with any direction, order, requirement or demand or any part or provision thereof of the state board of health, or who procures, aids, or abets any such person, firm, corporation, public utility, municipality, or other public body or institution, or officer or employee or agent thereof, in any failure to obey or comply with the provisions of this act or the orders of the state board of health as provided in this act, shall become liable for and forfeit to the state of California the penal sum of not more than one thousand dollars for each separate offense. The continued existence of any violation of this act for each and every day beyond the time stipulated for compliance with any of its provisions or of any order of the state board of health as provided herein shall constitute a separate and distinct offense. All penalties are to be recovered by the state in civil action brought by the state of California and such penalties when collected shall be paid into the general fund of the state treasury.

Every officer, agent or employee of any person, firm, corporation, public utility, municipality, or other public body or institution or person who shall violate or fail to comply with any of the provisions of this act or the order of the state board of health or any part thereof, or who procures, aids or abets in any failure to observe and comply with any such provision, order, or part thereof, is guilty of a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year or by both such fine or imprisonment, for each offense. Each day's violation of this provision shall constitute a separate and distinct offense.

TITLE 609.

WATER DISTRICTS.

ACT 4349.

An act to provide for the incorporation and organization and management of county water districts, and to provide for the acquisition of water rights or construction thereby of waterworks and for the acquisition of all property necessary therefor, and also to provide for the distribution and sale of water by said districts.

[Approved June 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 1049.]

Amended 1915, p. 26; 1917, p. 225.

§ 28. Exclusion of territory. Petition. Contents. Duties of secretary. Hearing. Order excluding lands. Directors may institute proceedings for exclusion. Hearing. Referendum. Any territory, included within any county water district formed under the provisions of this act, and not benefited in any manner by such district, or its continued inclusion therein, may be excluded therefrom by order of the board of directors of such district upon the verified petition of the owner or owners in fee of lands whose assessed value, with improvements, is in excess of one-half of the assessed value of all the lands, with improvements, held in private ownership in such territory. Said petition shall describe the territory sought to be excluded and shall set forth that such territory is not benefited in any manner by said county water district or its continued inclusion therein, and shall pray that such territory may be excluded and taken from said district. Such petition shall be filed with the secretary of the water district and shall be accompanied by a deposit with such secretary of the sum of one hundred dollars, to meet the expenses of advertising and other costs incident to the proceedings for the exclusion of such territory, including the cost of recording a certified copy of the order hereinafter provided for, any unconsumed balance to be returned to the petitioner. Upon the filing of such petition with the secretary of the water district he shall call a meeting of the board of directors of the district at a time not less than twenty-five days nor more than fifty days after the filing of the petition and cause a notice of the filing of such petition to be published for at least two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation within said district, if there be one, and if not, in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county in which the district is situated. Such notice shall also state the date of the filing of such petition and that the same will come on for hearing before the board of directors of the district and shall state the time of the hearing and the place thereof, which shall be the regular meeting place of the board of directors of the district; provided, that the board may adjourn the hearing to a more convenient meeting place within the district. Any land owner or taxpayer within the district shall have the right to appear at said hearing, either in behalf of or in opposition to the granting of said petition. Said petition shall come on for hearing before the board of directors of the district at the time and place specified in the notice of hearing. If upon such hearing the board of directors determines that it is for the best interests of the district that the lands mentioned in the petition, or some portion thereof, be excluded from the district, or if it appears that such lands, or some portion thereof, will not be benefited by their continued inclusion in the district, then the board of directors shall make an order that such lands, or such portion thereof, be excluded from the district, such order to describe specifically the lands so excluded. From the time of the making of such order the lands so excluded shall be deemed to be no longer included in the district, but such order of exclusion shall not be taken to invalidate in any manner any taxes or assessments theretofore levied or assessed against the lands so excluded. A copy of such order of exclusion, certified to by the secretary of the district, shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the district is situated and the record of such certified copy shall be deemed prima facie evidence of the exclusion from the district of the lands purporting to be excluded thereby.

The board of directors of any county water district formed under the provisions of this act may itself initiate the proceedings for the exclusion from the district of any land or lands which it may not be for the best interests of the district to be included, or which may not be benefited in any manner by their continued inclusion therein. Such proceedings shall be initiated by the board of directors by the passage of a resolution requiring all persons interested to appear and show cause before the board of directors, at a time and place specified, why such lands, describing them, should not be excluded from the district and fixing a time and place for such hearing and directing the secretary of the district to give notice of the passage of such resolution and of such hearing. Upon the passage of such resolution the secretary of the district shall give notice thereof and of the time and place of such hearing in the manner hereinbefore prescribed for notice of hearing upon petition by a land owner or land owners, and thereafter all proceedings shall be had in the manner and with the effect herein provided for proceedings upon a petition by a land owner or land owners. The time of hearing fixed by the board of directors by its resolution hereinbefore mentioned shall be not less than twenty-five days nor more than fifty days after the passage of such resolution and the place of hearing so fixed shall be a convenient place within the district; provided, that the final action of the board of directors under this section shall be subject to the referendum by the electors of the water district according to section twenty-four of this act. [New section added May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 225.]

ACT 4349a.

An act providing for the organization of water districts by the board of supervisors of the different counties of the state upon petition therefor by the land owners; providing for the joint government and control thereof by the land owners thereof and the board of supervisors of the county in which the same are formed; providing for the duties in connection therewith of the county officials of each county in which any of the lands contained in said district are located; providing for the acquisition and construction by said district of irrigation works, for the irrigation of the lands embraced therein and for the distribution thereby of water for irrigation purposes; providing for the payment of the debts thereof by a tax levied on the lands embraced therein; providing for the issuance and sale of bonds thereby; providing that said bonds may be investigated by an appointive board of three hydraulic engineers; providing for the approval of said bonds by the state superintendent of banks in case said investigation is favorably reported and that thereafter said bonds may be lawfully purchased, or received in pledge as security for any money or deposits or for the performance of any act, by banks, banking institutions, insurance companies, trust companies, guardians, executors, administrators and special administrators; providing in certain cases for the transfer of districts from the supervision of one county board of supervisors to another; and providing for the dissolution of said districts for non-user of corporate power.

Amended 1917, p. 1408.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 35. County assessment-roll may be adopted. The board of directors of any district hereafter organized hereunder may at their option adopt the assessment-roll of the county or counties in which the land of the district is contained in so far as said assessment-roll affects the lands in the district; and file with the clerk of the board of supervisors a certified copy of such assessment-roll, in lieu of the assessment-book mentioned in section eight of this act. [New section added May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1409.]

§ 36. Sale of water. The board of directors of any district hereafter organized hereunder shall have the power to sell water to owners of land in the district and to fix rates for the sale of water, and such rates may vary in different months and in different localities of the district to correspond to the cost and value of the service, and to collect for all water sold and to use so much of the proceeds of the sale of water as may be necessary to defray the ordinary operating expenses of the district and any funds derived from the sale of water, in excess of the amount necessary for operating expenses, shall be paid to the treasurer of the county in which said district is located and applied upon the payment of interest on bonds or to create a sinking fund. [New section added May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1409.]

TITLE 610.

WATERING RESORTS.

ACT 4349e.

An act providing for the sanitation, healthfulnes and cleanliness and safety of swimming-pools, public bathhouses, swimming and bathing places; regulating the granting and revocation of permits therefor from the state board of health; providing for the inspection of such places; declaring places and things in violation of this act to be nuisances dangerous to health and providing for the abatement of the same; making violations of this act misdemeanors; and providing for the punishment of the same.

[Approved April 6, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 70. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Swimming-pools under supervision of state board of health. The state board of health shall have supervision over the sanitation, healthfulness and cleanliness and safety of swimming-pools, bathhouses, public swimming and bathing places and all related appurtenances and is hereby empowered to make and enforce such rules and regulations pertaining thereto as it shall deem proper.

§ 2. Permit to construct or operate swimming pool. It shall be unlawful for any person, persons, firm, corporation, institution or municipality in any district, town, city, county, or city and county, to construct or to add to or modify, or to operate or to continue to operate any swimming-pool, public bathhouse, bathing or swimming place, or any structure intended to be used for swimming or bathing purposes without an unrevoked permit so to do from the state board of health. This permit shall be obtained in the following manner: any person, persons, firm, corporation, institution or municipality desiring to construct, add to or modify, or to operate and maintain any swimming-pool, public bathhouse, bathing or swimming places or structures intended to be used for swimming or bathing purposes within the state of California shall file application for permission so to do with the state board of health, which application shall be accompanied by detailed maps, drawings, specifications and description of the structure, its appurtenances and operation, description of the source or sources of water supply, amount and quality of water available and intended to be used, method and manner of water purification, treatment, disinfection, heating, regulating and cleaning; life-saving apparatus, and measures to insure safety of bathers; measures to insure personal cleanliness of bathers; method and manner of washing, disinfecting, drying and storing bathing apparel and towels, and all other information and statistics that may be required by the state board of health; whereupon, the state board of health shall cause an investigation to be made of the proposed or existing pool or public bathing places and if it shall determine as a fact that the same is or may reasonably be expected to become unclean or insanitary or may constitute a menace to public health, it shall deny the application for permit; if it shall determine as a fact that the same is or may reasonably be expected to be conducted continuously in a clean and sanitary manner and will not constitute a menace to public health, it shall grant the application for permit under such restrictions as it shall deem proper.

§ 3. Authority to inspect. For the purpose of this act the state board of health or its inspectors shall at any and all reasonable times have full power and authority to, and shall be permitted to enter upon any and all parts of the premises of such bathing and swimming places to make examination and investigation to determine the sanitary condition of such places and whether the provisions of this act or the rules and regulations of the state board of health pertaining thereto are being violated. The state board of health may from time to time at its discretion publish the reports of such inspections in its monthly bulletin.

§ 4. Revocation of permit. Any permit granted by the state board of health as provided in this act shall be revocable or subject to suspension at any time by formal action of the state board of health if it shall determine as a fact that the swimming or bathing place or places are being conducted in a manner insanitary, unclean or dangerous to public health.

§ 5. Swimming-pools operated contrary to act nuisances. Any swimming-pool, public swimming or bathing place or places, constructed, operated or maintained contrary to the provisions of this act are hereby declared to be public nuisances, dangerous to health. Such nuisances may be abated or enjoined in an action brought by the local or state board of health or they may be summarily abated in the manner provided by law for the summary abatement of public nuisances dangerous to health.

§ 6. Penalty. Any person, firm or corporation, whether as principal or agent, employer or employee, who violates any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and each day that conditions or actions, in violation of this act, shall continue, shall be deemed to be a separate and distinct offense, and for each offense, upon conviction, he shall be punishable by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or shall be imprisoned in the county jail for a term not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

TITLE 611.

WATERS.

ACT 4351.

An act to preserve and maintain the lakes, ponds, brooks, creeks, rivers, and streams of this state, and to prevent the waters thereof from being carried by pipes, conduits, ditches, tunnels or canals into other states, for use therein. [Approved March 3, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 271.]

Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 284.

TITLE 614.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

ACT 4385.

An act to establish a standard of weights and measures in the state of California; to regulate weights and measures and weighing and measuring instruments and devices and providing for the inspection and sealing thereof; to prevent the use and sale of false weights and measures and weighing and measuring instruments and devices; providing for the inspection, measurement and weighing of goods, commodities, wares, packages and amounts of commodities kept for sale or in process of delivery; to prevent the sale of goods, wares and merchandise by false weights and measures; to provide penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act; for the admission in evidence of copies of the state's standard of weights and measures; providing for the appointment of officers to enforce and carry into effect the provisions of this act, including a state superintendent of weights and measures and his deputy, sealers of weights and measures and their deputies; defining the powers and duties of such officers; and making an appropriation to carry this act into effect.

Amended 1915, p. 1312; 1917, p. 1647.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 2. Term, etc., of state superintendent of weights and measures. The term of office of state superintendent of weights and measures shall be four years, or until his successor shall have been appointed and qualified, but he shall always be subject to removal at the pleasure of the governor. The salary of state superintendent of weights and measures shall be four thousand dollars per annum, payable in the same manner as other state officers are paid. Before entering upon his duties he shall execute a bond to the state in the sum of five thousand dollars, conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1648.]

§ 6. Standards. The standards referred to in the preceding section shall be kept by the state superintendent in a safe and suitable place in his office from which they shall not be removed except for repairs or certification. He shall maintain such standards in good order and shall submit them at least once in ten years to the national bureau of standards for certification. Upon demand the secretary of state shall deliver to the state superintendent all standards now under the control and in the possession of the secretary of state in his capacity of ex-officio state sealer of weights and measures. The state superintendent shall thereupon submit such standards received from the secretary of the state to the national bureau of standards for certification, and he shall replace such standards as are incorrect and purchase such additional standards as shall be necessary to complete and make up a complete standard of weights and measures as required by this act. He shall also purchase such apparatus as shall be found necessary to a proper prosecution of the work of the office. The state superintendent of weights and measures may establish tolerances and specifications for commercial weighing and measuring apparatus for use in the state of California similar to the tolerances and specifications recommended by the national bureau of standards, and he may establish a standard net weight, or net measure, or net count of any commodity, produce or article except any manufactured commodity consisting of four or more staple ingredients, and prescribe such tolerances for same as he may in his best judgment deem necessary for the proper protection of the public. Any person violating such standards or tolerances shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1648.]

§ 17. Appointment of sealers. In counties of second class. Counties in which deputies appointed by state superintendent. The legislative body of any county or consolidated city and county of the first to the thirty-fifth classes, both inclusive, and the legislative body of any city or town may appoint a sealer of weights and measures, fix his compensation and provide for the appointment by the sealer of such number of deputies as the said legislative bodies may deem necessary and expedient. Such sealer shall receive as compensation the sum of one hundrd fifty dollars per month, or at the rate of one hundred fifty dollars per month for each month or part thereof actually employed in the service of such county, or city and county, or city and town. He shall be allowed his traveling expenses actually and necessarily incurred in the performance of his duties; and such deputies shall each receive as compensation the sum of five dollars per day for each day actually employed in the service of such county, or city and county, or city and town. They shall be allowed their traveling expenses actually and necessarily incurred in the performance of their duties. The term of office of sealer of weights and measures appointed under the provisions of this section shall be four years. He shall be subject to removal by the power appointing him. Deputies appointed under the provisions of this section by a sealer of a county, city and county, or city, or town, shall be subject to removal by the sealer.

In counties of the second class whose charters provide for a department of weights and measures, the appointment of a sealer and deputies, the number of such deputies and the term of office thereof shall be as provided in said charter; provided, that the sealer shall receive for compensation the sum of three thousand dollars per annum, and one deputy, to be known as chief deputy, shall receive as compensation the sum of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum. Deputies shall receive as compensation the sum of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, each payable in the same manner as the salaries of other county officers are paid. In counties of the third class the sealer shall receive as compensation the sum of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, and deputies shall each receive as compensation the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, payable in the same manner as the salaries of other county officers are paid.

In all counties other than those of the first to the thirty-fifth classes, both inclusive, no county sealer or deputies shall be appointed by the legislative body thereof, but the state superintendent of weights and measures shall assign to such counties, or groups of such counties, such deputy superintendents as may be necessary, but not more than one to each of such counties. Such deputies shall have jurisdiction over such county, or group of counties, as the state superintendent may designate, except within the territorial limits of those cities and towns within which sealers have been appointed under the provisions of this act. They shall have all the powers and perform the duties of a sealer of weights and measures. They shall be paid by the county wherein employed, five dollars a day for each day employed therein, which shall not exceed one hundred twenty days in any one county in any one year, and they shall also receive from such county their actual traveling expenses. The terms of office of all sealers and deputy sealers in all counties other than those of the first to the thirty-fifth classes, both inclusive, shall terminate when this section becomes effective. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1649.]

§ 32. Penalty for using false weights and measures. Any person who, by himself, or his employee or agent, or as the employee or agent of another, shall use, in the buying or selling of any commodity, or retain in his possession a false weight or measure or weighing or measuring instrument, or shall offer or expose for sale, or sell, except as heretofore specifically allowed in section twenty-seven of this act, or use or retain in his possession any weight or measure or weighing or measuring instrument in any county, city town, or city and county in which there has been appointed a sealer of weights and measures in accordance with the provisions of this act, which has not been sealed by a sealer within one year, or who shall use or dispose of any condemned weight or measure, or weighing or measuring instrument contrary to law, or any person who, by himself, or his employee or agent, or as the employee or agent of another, shall sell or offer or expose for sale or use or have in his possession for the purpose of selling or using any device or instrument to be used or calculated to falsify any weight or measure, and any person who, by himself, or his employee or agent, or as the employee or agent of another, shall sell or offer, or expose for sale any commodity, produce, article or thing in a less quantity than he represents it to be or contain, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Possession of any false weight or measure or weighing or measuring instruments or records thereof shall be prima facie evidence of the fact that they were intended to be used in the violation of law. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1650.]

§ 32a. Penalty for selling commodity at other than true net weight. No person shall by himself or his employee or agent, or as the employee or agent of another sell or offer or expose for sale any commodity, produce, article or thing at, by, or according to gross weight or measure, or at, by, as, of, or according to any weight, measure or count which is greater than the true net weight, measure or count thereof, or which is less than the standard net weight, standard net measure or standard net count, including tolerances, as such standards and tolerances are now or may hereafter be established pursuant to the provisions of this act. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [New section added June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1650.]

§ 43. Title. This act when cited or amended may be designated as the "weights and measures act." [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1650.]

TITLE 619.

WHITTIER STATE SCHOOL.

ACT 4414.

An act authorizing the board of trustees of the Whittier State School to maintain a department for the clinical diagnosis of inmates of the school and other state institutions, and to inquire into the causes and consequences of delinquency and mental deficiency, and related problems.

[Approved May 11, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 422. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Department of clinical diagnosis at Whittier State School. The board of trustees of the Whittier State School is hereby authorized and empowered to maintain on the property of the school, a department for the clinical diagnosis of the inmates of the school, and of such other state institutions as may, from time to time, request assistance from said department, such request to be approved by the state board of control. This department shall also carry on research into the causes and consequences of delinquency and mental deficiency, and shall inquire into social, education and psychological problems relating thereto, and for that purpose may make such investigations and inquiries in the said institutions, when so requested, and elsewhere as may be deemed advantageous. The state board of control may apportion the expenses of the said department, among the different institutions receiving the benefit of the work of the department, in such manner as it may deem proper.

§ 2. Clinical psychologist and assistants. The said department shall be under the direction of a clinical psychologist, subject to the control of the superintendent of the said school. The said psychologist shall be given a sufficient staff of trained assistants that the intelligence level of each inmate may be established through the standardized psychological tests, supplemented by personal and family history and data from such other lines of investigation as may seem advisable, and that such other work may be done as may be undertaken by the department. The said psychologist and assistants shall be employed by the said superintendent, with the approval of the said board of trustees and at compensation satisfactory to it.
